7 And he made tenne candlesticks of gold, according to their forme: and put them in the Temple, five on the right hand, and five on the left.

8 And hee made tenne tables, and put them in the Temple, five on the right hand, and five on the left: and he made an hundred basins of gold.

9 And he made the court of the Priests, and the great Court, and doores for the Court, and overlaid the doores thereof with brass.

10 And hee set the Sea on the right side Eastward toward the South.

11 And Hiram made poles and besoms, and basins, and Hiram finished the worke, that hee should make for king Salomon for the house of God.

12 To wit, two pillars, and the boteles, and the chapters on the top of the two pillars, & two grates, to cover the two bowles of the chapters, which were upon the top of the pillars.

13 And four hundred pomegranates for the two grates, two rows of pomegranates for every grate to cover the two bowles of the chapters, that were upon the pillars.

14 He made also bales, and made calyxons upon the bales.

15 And a Sea, and twelve buls under it: 16 Pots also and besoms, and fleshhooks, and all these vessels made Hiram his father to king Salomon for the house of the Lord, of shining brass.

17 In the plaine of Jordan did the king call them in clay betweene Succoth and Zeredathah.

18 And Salomon made all these vessels in great abundance: for the weight of brass could not be reckoned.

19 And Salomon made all the vessels that were for the house of God: the golden altar also, and the tables wherupon the shewbread stood.

20 And for the candlesticks with their lamps to burne them after the manner, before the Diacle of pure gold:

21 And the flowers, and the lampes, and the shuffers of gold, which was fine gold:

22 And the hooks, and the basins, and the spoones, and the aspsans of pure gold: the entry also of the house and doores thereof within, even of the most holy place: and the doores of the house, to wit, of the Temple, were of gold.

So was all the worke finished that Salomon made for the house of the Lord: and Salomon brought in the things that David his father had dedicated, with the silver and the gold, and all the vessels, and put them among the treasures of the house of God.

2 Then Salomon assembled the Elders of Israel, and all the heads of the tribes, the chiefe fathers of the children of Israel, unto Jerusalem, to bring up the Ark of the Covenant of the Lord from the citie of David, which is Zion:

Were prepared to serve the Lord.

They agreed all in one tune.

This was the effect of their songs, as Psal. 118. 1. and Psal. 136. 1.

And all the Elders of Israel came, and the Levites stood up the Ark.

And they carried by the Ark, and the Tabernacle of the Congregation: and all the holy vessels that were in the Tabernacle, took into the Pillars and Levites being up.

And King Salomon and all the Congregation of Israel that were assembled unto him; were before the Ark, offering sheep and bullocks, which could not be sold nor muzzled for multitude.

So the Priests brought the Ark of the Covenant of the Lord unto his place, into the Oracle of the house, into the most Holy place, even under the wings of the Cherubims.

For the Cherubims stretched out their wings over the place of the Ark, and the Cherubims covered the Ark, & the barriers thereof above.

And they came out the barriers, that the ends of the barriers might be seen out of the Ark before the Oracle, but they were not seen without: and there they were unto this day.

Nothing was in the Ark, save the two Tables, which Moses gave at Horeb, where the Lord made a Covenant with the children of Israel, when they came out of Egypt.

And when the Pillars were come out of the Sanctuary (for all the Priests that were present, were sanctified and did not want by court.)

And the Levites the fingers of all sorts, as of Sapph, of Herman, of Jeonathan, and of their sons and their brethren, being clad in fine linen, stood with cymbals, and with viols and harpes at the East end of the altar, and with them an hundred and twenty Priests blowing with trumpets.

And they were as one blowing trumpets, and singing, and made one sound to be heard in praising and thanking the Lord, and when they lift up their voice with trumpets, and with cymbals, and with instruments of musick, and when they played the Lord, singing, for he is good, because his mercy lasteth for ever: then the house, even the house of the Lord was filled with a cloud.

So that the Priests could not stand to minister, because of the cloud: for the glory of the Lord had filled the house of God.

CHAP. VI.

Salomon blest the people, & the praise the Lord, & the prayer unto God for these that shall pray in the Temple.

Then Salomon said: The Lord hath said, that he would dwell in the dark clouds.

And I have built thee an house to dwell in, an habitation for thee to dwell in for ever.

And the King turned his face, and blessed the Congregation of Israel, (for all the Congregation of Israel stood there.)

And he said, Blessed be the Lord God of Israel, who speaketh with his mouth unto Dauid my father, and hath with his hand fulfilled it, saying,

Said the Lord that I should bring my people out of the land of Egypt, I shall not cite of all the benefits of Israel to build an house, that my name might be there, neither shall I say man to be a ruler over my people Israel.

But I have chosen Jerusalem, that my name might be there, and have chosen Dauid to be over my people Israel.

And it was in the heart of Dauid my father to build an house unto the name of the Lord God of Israel.

But the Lord said to Dauid my father, Whereas it was in thine heart to build an house unto my name, thou didst well that thou wast in mind.

For thou standest upon what thou shalt build the house, but the Son to which shall come out of thy loynes, he shall build an house unto my name.

And the Lord hath performed his word that he spake: & I am risen up in the rooms of Dauid my father, and am set on the throne of Israel, as the Lord hath said, and have built an house to the name of the Lord God of Israel.

And I have let the Ark there, wherein is the Covenant of the Lord, that he made with the children of Israel.

And the King stood before the altar of the Lord in the presence of all the Congregation of Israel, and stretched out his hands.

For Salomon had made a brazen scaffold, and set it in the mids of the court, of five cubits long, and five cubits broad, and three cubits of height, and upon it he stood, and knelt down upon his knees before all the Congregation of Israel, and stretched out his hands toward heaven.

And said, O Lord God of Israel, there is no God like thee in heaven nor in earth, which keepeth covenant, and mercy unto thy servants, that walke before thee with all their heart.

Thou that hast kept with thy servant Dauid my father, that thou hast promised him: for thou spakest with thy mouth, and hast fulfilled it with thine hand, as appeared this day.

Therefore now Lord God of Israel, keep with thy servant Dauid my father, that thou hast promised him, saying, Thou shalt not want a man in my sight, that shall sit upon the throne of Israel: so that thy sonnes shall be to thy waies, to walke in my Law, as thou hast walked before mee.

And now, O Lord God of Israel, let thy word be verified, which thou spakest unto thy servant Dauid.

For it is true indeed that God will dwell with man on earth: Bedols, the heavens, and the heavens of heavens are not able to contain thee: how much more unable is this house, which I have built.

But have thou respect to the prayer of thy servant, and to his supplication, O Lord my God, to heare the cry and prayer which Sacrifices before the Lord.

1 And king Salomon offered a sacrifice of peace and plenty, of man and bullock, and of burnt offering, and plenty of sheep, for the king and all the people dedicated the house of God.

6 And the priests waited on their offices, and the Levites with the instruments of musicke of the Lord, which king David had made to praise the Lord. Because his mercy lasted for ever: when David played God 7. by them, the priests also blest amongst over against them: and all they of Israel stood by.

7 Moreover, Salomon hallowed the middle of the court that was before the house of the Lord: for there hee had prepared burnt offerings, and the fat of the peace offerings, because the heaven altar which Salomon had made, was not able to receive the burnt offering and the meat offering and the fat.

8 And Salomon made a feast at that time of seven dayes, and all Israel with him, a very great congregation, from the entering in of Hamath, unto the river of Egypt.

9 And in the eight day they made a solemn assembly: for they had made the dedication of the Altar seven dayes, and the feast seven dayes.

10 And the three and twentieth day of the seventh month, he sent the people away into their tents, joyous and with glad heart, because of the goodness that the Lord had done for David, and for Salomon, and for Israel his people.

11 So Salomon finished the house of the Lord, and the kings house, and all that came into Salomons heart, to make in the house of the Lord: and hee prospered in his house.

12 ¶ And the Lord appeared to Salomon by night, and said to him, I have heard thy prayer, and have chosen this place for my selfe, to be an house of sacrifice.

13 If I shut the heaven that there bee no rain, or if I command the grasshopper to devour the land, or if I send pestilence among my people,

14 If my people among whom my Name is called upon, doe humble themselves, and pray: and seek my presence, and turne from their wicked wayes, then will I heare in heaven, and be mercifull to their sinne, and will heale their land:

15 ¶ Then mine eyes shall be open, and mine ears attend unto the prayer made in this place.

16 For I have now chosen and sanctified this house, that my Name may be there for ever: and mine eyes and mine heart shall be there perpetually.

17 And if thou wilt walke before me, as David thy father walked, to doe according unto all that I have commanded thee, and shalt observe my Statutes, and my Judgements,

18 Then will I stablish the throne of thy kingdom, according as I made the covenant with David thy father, saying, Thou shalt not want a man to be ruler in Israel.

19 But if ye turne away, and forsake my Statutes and my commandments which I have commanded you, and shall not and leave your gods, and worship them,

20 Then will I plucke them out of my land, which I have given them, and this house which I have sanctified by my Name will I cast out of my sight, and will make it to be a plover and a common place among all people.

21 And this house which is most high, shall bring about to every one that passeth by it, so that hee shall say, Altho' hath the Lord done thus to this land, and to this house:

22 And they shall answer, Because they forsooke the Lord God of their Fathers, which brought them out of the land of Egypt, and have taken hold on other gods, and have worshipped them, and served them: therefore hath he brought all this evil upon them.

1 The cities that Salomon built. 7 People that were made tributaries unto him. 22 His sacrifice. 27 His journey to Ophir.

1 And after twenty yeere, when Salomon had built the house of the Lord, and his owne house,

2 Then Salomon built the cities that Huram gave to Salomon, and caused the children of Israel to dwell there.

3 And Salomon went to Hamath Zobab, and overcame it.

4 And hee built Tadmoz in the wilderness, and repaired all the cities of store which hee built in Hamath.

5 And hee built Beerozon the upper, and Beerozon the nether, cities fenced with walles, gates, and barres:

6 Also Baalath, and all the cities of Asie that Salomon had, and all the chariot cities, and the cities of the horsemen, and every pleasant place that Salomon had a minde to build in Jerusalem, and in Lebanon, and throughout all the land of his dominion,

7 And all the people that were left of the Hittites, and the Amorites, and Perizzites, and the Hivites, and the Jebusites, which were not of Israel,

8 But of their children which were left after them in the land, whom the children of Israel had not consumed, even them did Salomon make tributaries untill this day.

9 But of the children of Israel did Salomon make no servants for his worke: for they were men of warre, and his chiefe princes, and the captaynes of his charres, and of his horsemen.

10 So these were the chiefe of the officers which Salomon had, even two hundred, and thirte that bare rule over the people.

11 ¶ Then Salomon brought up the daughter of Pharaoh out of the cite of David, into the house that hee had built for her: for hee said, My wife shall not dwell in the house of David king of Israel: for it is holy, because that the Arke of the Lord came unto it.

14 And he set the courses of the Priests to their officers, according to the order of David his father, and the Levites in their watchs, for to praise and minister before the Priests every day, and the porters by their courses, at every gate: for so was the commandment of David the man of God.

18 And Huram sent him by the hands of his servants, ships, and servants that had knowledge of the sea: and they went with the servants of Salomon to Ophir, and brought thence four hundred and fiftie talents of gold, and brought them to King Salomon.

CHAP. IX.

1. 9 The Queene of Sheba commeth to see Salomon, and bringeth gifts. 13 His yearly revenues. 30 The time of his reigne. 31 His death.

And when the Queene of Sheba heard of the fame of Salomon, she came to prove Salomon with hard questions at Ierusalem, with a very great traine, and camels that bare sweete odours, and much golde, and precious stones: and when she came to Salomon, he communed with him of all that was in her heart.

2 And Salomon declared her all her questions, and there was nothing hid from Salomon, which she declared not unto her.

3 Then the Queene of Sheba sawe the wisdom of Salomon, and the house that he had built.

4 And the meate of his table, and the sitting of his servants, and the order of his waiters, and their apparell, and his butlers, and their apparell, and his sweet offerings, which he offered in the house of the Lord, and she was greatly allieced.

5 And she said to the King, It was a true word which I heard in mine owne land of thy sayings and of thy wisdom:

6 Howbeit I believed not their report, untill I came, and mine eyes had seene it: and behold, the one halfe of thy great wisdom was not tolde mee: for thou exceedest the same that I heard.

7 Happie are thy men, and happie are these thy servants which stand before thee alway and hear thy wisdom.

8 Blessed be the Lord thy God, which hath thee, so for thy wisdom, as thou art King, in the eyes of the Lord thy God: because thy God wisely taught thee, to establish thee for this: therefore hath he made thee King over them, to execute judgement and justice.

9 Then she gave the King twelve talents of gold, and of sweet odours exceeding much, and precious stones: neither was there such sweet odours since, as the Queene of Sheba gave unto King Salomon.

10 And the servants also of Huram, and the servants of Salomon which brought gold from Ophir, brought Agammim wood and precious stones.

11 And the king made of the Agammim wood staires in the house of the Lord, and in the Kings house, and harpes and muses for singers, and there was no such staires before in the land of Iudah.

12 And King Salomon gave to the Queene of Sheba, every pleasant thing that she asked, besides that which she had brought unto the King: so she returned and went to her owne country, both she and her servants.

13 ¶ Also the weight of gold that came to Salomon in one yeere, was six hundred threecore and fixe talents of gold.

14 Besides that which chapmen and merchants brought: and all the kings of Arabia, and the princes of the country brought gold and silver to Salomon.

15 And King Salomon made two hundred targets of beaten gold, and six hundred shekels of beaten golde went to one target.

16 And three hundred shekels of beaten gold: three hundred shekels of golde went to one shield, and the King put them in the house of the wood of Lebanon.

17 And the king made a great throne of ivory, and overlaid it with pure gold.

18 And the throne had six steps, with a footstool of gold fastened to the throne, and stapes on either side on the place of the feet, and two Lyons standing by the sides.

19 And twelve Lyons stood there on the six steps on either side: there was not the like made in any kingdom.

20 And all King Salomons drinking vessels were of gold, and all the vessels of the house of the wood of Lebanon were of pure gold: for silver was nothing esteemed in the dayes of Salomon.

21 For the kings ships went to Tarshish with the servants of Huram, every three yeere once came the ships of Tarshish, and brought golde, and silver, and ivory, and apes and peacocks.

22 So King Salomon excelled all the kings of the earth in riches and wisdom.

23 And all the kings of the earth sought the presence of Salomon, to hear his wisdom that God had put in his heart.

24 And they brought every man his present, vessels of silver, and vessels of gold, and raiment, armour, and sweet odours, horses, and mules from yeere to yeere.

CHAP. X.

4. 14 The rigor of Rehoboam. 13 His followers leaue counsell. 16 The people rebell.

Then Rehoboam went to Shechem: for to Shechem came all Israel to make him king.

2 And when Ieroboam the sonne of Ne-bat heard it, (which was in Egypt, whither hee had fled from the presence of Salomon
the king) he returned out of Egypt.

3 And they sent and called him: so came Ieroboam and all Israel, and communed
with Rehoboam, saying,

4 Thy father made our yoke grievous:
now therefore make thou the grievous serui-
tude of thy father, and his sore yoke that hee put vpon vs, lighter, and we will serue thee.

5 And hee layd to them, Depart yet three dayes, then come againe vnto mee. And the people departed.

6 And King Rehoboam tooke counsell with the old men that had stood before Salomon his father, while hee yet liued, saying,
What counsell giue yee that I may answere
this people?

7 And they spake vnto him, saying, If thou be kind to this people, and please them, and speake louing words to them, they will be thy seruants for euer.

8 But hee left the counsell of the ancient men that hee had giuen him, and tooke counsell of the yong men that were brought vp with him, and waited on him.

9 And hee said vnto them, What counsell
giue yee, that wee may answere this people, which haue spoken to me, saying, Make the yoke which thy father ad put vpon vs, lighter?

10 And the yong men that were brought vp with him, spake vnto him, saying, Thus shalt thou answere the people that spake to thee, saying, Thy father made our yoke heauy, but make thou it lighter for vs: thus shalt thou say vnto them, My father part shall bee bigger then my fathers yoke.

11 Now whereas my father did burthen you with a grievous yoke, I will yet increase your yoke: my father hath chastised
you with rodde, but I will correct you with // scourges.

12 Then Ieroboam and all the people came to Rehoboam the third day as the king had appointed, saying, Come againe to me
the third day.

13 And the king answered them sharply:
and king Rehoboam left the counsell of the ancient men,

14 And spake to them after the counsell of the yong men, saying, My father made your yoke grievous, but I will increase it: my father chastised you with rods, but I will correct you with scourges.

15 So the king hearkened not vnto the people: for it was the ordinance of God,
that the Lord might performe his saying,
which hee had spoken by // A. I. Iahiah the Shilonite to Ieroboam the sonne of Nebat.

16 So when all Israel saw that the king would not heare them, the people answered the king, saying, What portion haue we in Dauid? for wee haue no inheritance in the sonne of Ithai. O Israel, every man to your rents: now see to thine owne house, Dauid.
So all Israel departed to their tents.

17 Howbeit Rehoboam reigned ouer the children of Israel, that dwelt in the cities of Iudah.

18 Then king Rehoboam sent Baazaiam that was // ouer the tribute, and the children of Israel stoned him with stones, that he died: then king Rehoboam made speeche to get him vp to his chariot, to flee to Jerusalem.

19 And Israel rebelled against the house of Dauid vnto this day.

CHAP. XI.

4 Rehoboam is forbidden to fight against Ierobo-

And when Rehoboam was come to Jerusalem, hee gathered of the house of Judah and Benjamin nine score thousand chosen men of warre to fight against Israel, and to bring the kingdome againe to Rebobam.

2 But the worde of the Lord came to Shemaiah the man of God, saying,

3 Speake vnto Rehoboam the sonne of Salomon king of Iudah, and to all Israel, that are in Iudah and Benjamin, saying,

4 Thus saith the Lord, Ye shall not goe vp, nor fight against your brethren: returne
every man to his house: for this thing is done of me. They obeyed therefore the word of the Lord, and returned from going against Jeroboam.

f Lo long as they feared God

17 So they strengthened the kingdome of Judah, and made Rehoboam the sonne of Salomon mighty, three yere long: for three yere they walked in the way of Dauid and Salomon.

18 And Rehoboam tooke him Basha-

Dauid to wife, and Abihah the daughter of Eliab the sonne of Israh.

19 Which bare him sonnes, Ierem, and Schemariah, and Sabam.

20 And after hee tooke Baakah the daughter of Abisalom, which bare him Abiiah, and Achah, and Iya, and Shalomith.

21 And Rehoboam loued Baakah the daughter of Abisalom above all his wiues
and his concubines: for hee tooke eightene

humbleth himselfe. 7 God sendeth him succour.
9 Shishak taketh his treasures. 13 He reigne and

¶ Or, when the Lord had established Rehoboams
kingdome.

And when Rehoboam had established the kingdome and made it strong, hee forgotte the Law of the Lord, and all Israel with him.

a For such is the inconstancie
of the people,
that for the most part they follow
the vices of their gouernours,

2 Therefore in the sixth yere of king Rehoboam, Shishak the king of Egypt came up against Jerusalem (because they had transgressed against the Lord.)

3 Which twelue hundred chariots, and the thousand footmen, and the people were without number: that came with him from Egypt, euen the Libyans, and the Ethiopians.

4 And hee tooke the strong cities which were of Judah, and came vnto Jerusalem.

5 Then came Schemariah the Prophet to Rehoboam, and to the princes of Judah,
that were gathered together in Jerusalem,
because of Shishak, and sayd vnto them,
Thus saith the Lord, Ye haue forsaken mee, therefore haue I also left you in the hands of Shishak.

6 Then the princes of Israel, and the king humbled themselves, and sayd, The Lord is iust.

7 And when the Lord saw that they humbled themselves, the word of the Lord came to Schemariah, saying, They haue humbled themselves, therefore I will not destroy them,
but I will lend them deliuerance shortly,
and my wrath shal not be powred out vpon
Jerusalem by the hand of Shishak.

8 Neuertheless they shalbe his seruants:
to shal they know my seruice, and the seruice of the kingdomes of the earth.

9 Then Shishak king of Egypt came up against Jerusalem, and tooke the treasures of the house of the Lord, and the treasures of the kings house: hee tooke euen all,
and hee carryed away the shieldes of golde,
which Salomon had made.

10 In stead whereof King Rehoboam made shieldes of brasse, and committed them to the hands of the chiefe of the guard, that waited at the doore of the kings house.

11 And when the king entered into the house of the Lord, the guard came and bare them, & brought them againe vnto the guard chamber.

12 And because he humbled himselfe, the wrath of the Lord turned from him, that hee would not destroy all together. And also in Judah the things prospered.

13 So king Rehoboam was strong in Jerusalem, and reigned: for Rehoboam was one and fortie yere olde, when hee began to reigne, and reigned seuentene yeres in Jerusalem, the cite which the Lord had chosen out of all the tribes of Israel to put his name there. And his mothers name was Naamah an Ammonitess.

14 And hee did euill: for he prepared not his heart to seeke the Lord.

15 The actes also of Rehoboam first and last, are they not written in the booke of Schemariah the Prophet, and Ido the So-er, in rehearsing the genealogie: and there was warre alway betwene Rehoboam and

and was buried in the cite of Dauid, and Abiah his sonne reigned in his stead.

13 the thirtieth year of king Jeroboam, began Abiah to reign over Judah.

14 The reign of these years in Jerusalem:
(his mothers name also was Abiah) the daughter of: (trial of Gibe) and there was warre betweene Abiah and Jeroboam.

15 And Abiah set the battell in array with the army of vallant men of warre, even foure hundred thousand chosen men. Jeroboam also set the battell in array against him with eight hundred thousand chosen men which were strong and vallant.

16 And Abiah stood up upon mount Se-meraim, which is in mount Ephraim, & said,
O Jeroboam, and all Israel, heare you me.

17 Dight you not to know that the Lord
God of Israel hath given the kingdom over Israel to: David for ever, even to him and to his sonnes by a covenant for ever?

18 And Jeroboam the sonne of Nebat the servant of Salomon the sonne of David is risen up, & hath rebelled against his lord.

19 And there are gathered to him valie men and wicked, & made themselves strong against Jeroboam the sonne of Salomon:
for Jeroboam was a base childe, and a tender hearted, and could not resist them.

20 Now therefore ye thinke that ye be able to resist against the kingdom of the Lord which is in the hands of the sonnes of David, and yet be great multitude, and the golden calves are with you which Jeroboam made you for gods.

21 I have yet not dislaine away the Priests of the Lord the sonnes of Aaron, and the Le-uites, and have made you priests like the people of other countries: whosoever cometh to consecrate with a young bullocke and seven lammes, the same may bee a priest of them that are no gods.

22 But we went unto the Lord our God, and have not forsaken him, and the Priests the sonnes of Aaron minister unto the Lord, and the Leuites in their office.

23 And they burne unto the Lord every morning, & every evening: burnt offerings and sweet incense, and the bread is set in order upon the pure table, and the candlestick of golde with the lampes thereof, to burne every evening: for we keepe the watch of the Lord our God: but yet haue forsaken him.

24 And behold, this God with vs as a captaine, and his Priests with the sounding trumpets, to cry an alarme against you. O ye children of Israel, fight not against the Lord God of your Fathers: for ye shall not prosper.

25 But Jeroboam called an ambush-ment to compass, & came behinde them, when they were before Judah, and the ambushment behinde them.

26 Then Judah looked, and behold, the battell was before and behinde them, and they cried unto the Lord, and the Priests blew
with the trumpets,

15 And the men of Judah gave a shout:
and even as the men of Judah shouted, God smote Jeroboam and all Israel before Abiah and Judah.

16 And the children of Israel fled before Judah, & God delivered them into their hands.

17 And Abiah & his people slew a great slaugther of them, so that three fell before wounded of Israel five hundred thousand chosen men.

18 So the children of Israel were brought under at that time: and the children of Judah prospered, because they stayed upon the Lord God of their Fathers.

19 And Abiah pursued after Jeroboam, and took cities from him, even Beth-el, and the villages thereof, and Jericho with her villages, and Ephron with her villages.

20 And Jeroboam recovered no strength again in the dayes of Abiah, but the Lord plagued him and he died.

21 So Abiah waxed mighty, and married fourteen wives, and begate two and twenty sones, and threene daughters.

22 The rest of the acts of Abiah, and his manners, and his sayings are written in the bookes of the Prophet Ido.

12 So the Lord smote the Ethiopians before Ala, and before Judah, and the Ethiopians fled.

13 And Ala and the people that was with him, pursued them unto Gerar. And the Ethiopians host was overthrowen, so that there was no life in them: for they were destroyed before the Lord, and before his hoste: and they carped away a mighty great spoile.

6 For nation was destroyed of nation, and cite of cite: for God troubled them with all adversitie.

7 Be ye strong therefore, and let not your hands be weak: for your work shall haue a reward.

8 And when Ala heard these wordes, and the prophete of Obed the Prophet, hee was encouraged, and tooke away the abominations out of all the land of Judah, and Benjamin, and out of the cities which hee had raken of mount Ephraim, and he renewed the Altar of the Lord, that was before the porch of the Lord.

9 And he gathered al Judah and Benjamin, and the strangers with them out of Ephraim, and Manasse, and out of Simeon: for there sel many to him out of Israel, when they saw that the Lord his God was in him.

10 So they attempted to Jerusalem in the third moneth, in the thirtieth yeere of the reigne of Ala.

11 And they offered unto the Lord the same time of the people, which they had brought, seven hundred bullocks, and seven thousand sheepe.

12 And they made a covenant to seke the Lord God of their fathers, with all their heart and with all their soule.

13 And whosoever will not seke the Lord God of Israel, shall be slaine, whether he were small or great man or woman.

14 And they sware unto the Lord with a loud voice, and with shouting and with trumpets and with cornets.

15 And al Judah rejoiced at the oath: for they had sworn unto the Lord with all their heart, and sought him with a whole desire, and he was found of them. And the Lord gave them rest round about.

16 And king Ala depose^d his mother from her regencie, because shee had sworne in a gowne: And Ala brake downe her idols, and stamped it, and burnt it at the doore Kidon.

17 But the high places were not taken away out of Israel: yet the heart of Ala was^d p^ritise all his dayes.

18 Also hee brought into the house of God the things that his father had dedicate, and that hee had dedicate, silver, and golde, and vessels.

19 And there was no warre unto the first and thirtieth yeere of the reigne of Ala.

Law. k Which partly came through lacke of zeale in him, partly through the negligence of his officers, and partly by the superstition of the people, that all were not taken away. l Because that God was called the God of Israel by reason of his promise to Iakob: therefore Israel is sometimes taken for Judah, because Judah was his chiefs people. m In respect of his predecessors.

CHAP. XVI.

3 Ala for feare of Baasba king of Israel, maketh a covenant with Benhadad king of Aram. 9 Hee is reproved by the Prophet. 10 whom hee putteth in prison. 12 He putteth his trust in the Physician. 13 His death.

12 The first and thirtieth yeere of the reigne of Ala came. Baasba king of Israel vs against Judah, and built Ramah, to let none passe out, or goe into Ala king of Judah.

2 Then Ala brought out silver and gold out of the treasures of the house of the Lord, and of the kings house, and sent to Benhadad king of Aram that dwelt at Damascus, saying,

3 There is a covenant betweene me and thee, and betwene my father, and thy father: behold, I haue sent thee silver and gold: come, breake thy league with Baasba king of Israel, that hee may depart from mee.

4 And Benhadad bearkened unto king Ala, and sent the captains of his armies which hee had, against the cities of Israel. And they smote Iion, and Dan, and Abelmain, and all the strong cities of Naphtali.

5 And when Baasba heard it, hee left building of Ramah, and let his work cease.

6 Then Ala the king tooke all Judah, and carped away the stones of Ramah, and

7 And at that same time Hanani the seer came to Afsa king of Iudah, and said unto him, Because thou hast rested upon the king of Aram, and not rested in the Lord thy God, therefore is the host of the king of Aram escaped out of thine hand.

8 The Ethiopians, and the Lubims, were they a great host with charers, and horsemen exceeding many; yet because thou didst rest upon the Lord, he delivered them into thine hand.

9 For the eyes of the Lord behold all the earth to shew himself strong with them that are of perfect heart toward him: thou hast then done foolishly in this; therefore from henceforth thou shalt have warres.

10 Then Afsa was wroth with the seer, and put him into a prison: for he was displeased with him, because of this thing. And Afsa oppressed certain of the people at the same time.

11 And behold, the actes of Afsa first and last, lo, they are written in the booke of the kings of Iudah and Israel.

12 And Afsa in the nine and thirtieth yeere of his reigne was diseased in his feet, and his disease was extreme: yet he sought not the Lord in his disease, but to the Physicians.

13 So Afsa slept with his fathers, and died in the one and fourtieth yeere of his reigne.

14 And they buried him in one of his sepulchres, which he had made for himselfe in the cite of David, and layd him in the bed, which they had filled with sweet odours and divers kinds of spices made by the art of the Apothecary: and they burnt odours for him with an exceeding great fire.

CHAP. XVII.

5 Iehoshaphat trusting in the Lord, prospereth in riches and honour. 6 He aboliseth idolatry, 7 and causeth the people to be taught. 11 He receiveth tribute of strangers, 13 He maintaineth, and men of warre,

And Iehoshaphat his sonne reigned in his stead, and perished against Israel.

2 And hee put garisons in all the strong cities of Iudah, and set bands in the land of Iudah, and in the cities of Ephraim, which Afsa his father had taken.

3 And the Lord was with Iehoshaphat, because he walked in the first wayes of his father David, and sought not Baalam.

4 But sought the Lord God of his father, and walked in his commandments, and not after the trade of Israel.

5 Therefore the Lord established the kingdom in his hand, and all Iudah brought presents to Iehoshaphat, so that he had of riches and honour in abundance.

6 And hee left up his heart unto the wayes of the Lord, and heeooke away

moreover the high places and the groues out of Iudah.

7 And in the third yeere of his reigne he sent his princes, Ben-hail, and Obadiab, and Zechariah, and Bethamel, and Hichabab, that they should teach in the cities of Iudah.

8 And with them Leuites, Shemaiab, and Azariah, and Zebadiah, and Adabel, and Shemiramoth, and Iehonathan, and Adoniasab, and Tobiah, and Tob-adonias, Leuites, and with them Elisama and Iehozabab Dauides.

9 And they taught in Iudah, and had the booke of the law of the Lord with them, and went about throughout all the cities of Iudah, and taught the people.

10 And the feare of the Lord fell upon all the kingdoms of the lands that were round about Iudah, and they sought not against Iehoshaphat.

11 Also some of the Philistines brought Iehoshaphat gifts, and tribute silver, and the Arabians brought him flockes, seven thousand and seven hundred cammers, and seven thousand and seven hundred hee goats.

12 So Iehoshaphat prospered and grew up on high: and hee built in Iudah palaces and cities of store.

13 And he had great workes in the cities of Iudah, and meret of warre, and balliant men in Ierusalem.

14 And these are the numbers of them after the house of their fathers. In Iudah were captaine of thousandes, Adnah the captaine, and with him of balliant men three hundred thousand.

15 And at his hand Iehozabab a captaine, and with him two hundred and fourescore thousand.

16 And at his hand Amasiah the sonne of Zichai, which willingly offered himselfe unto the Lord, and with him two hundred thousand balliant men.

17 And of Beniamin, Elisada a balliant man, and with him armed men with bowe and sheld two hundred thousand.

18 And at his hand Iehozabab, and with him an hundred and fourescore thousand armen to be warre.

19 These waited on the King, besides those which the king put in the strong cities throughout all Iudah.

4 And Iehoshaphat said vnto the king of Israel, Alas the counsell, I pray thee, at the word of the Lord this day.

5 Therefore the king of Israel gathered of prophets foure hundred men, and said vnto them, Shall we go to Ramoth Gilead to battell, or shall I cease? And they said, Go vp: for God shall deliuer it into the Kings hand.

6 But Iehoshaphat said, Is there here neuer a Prophet more of the Lord, that wee might enquire of him?

7 And the king of Israel said vnto Iehoshaphat, There is yet one man, by whom we may aske counsell of the Lord, but I hate him: for hee doeth not prophesie good vnto me, but alway euill: it is Michaiab the son of Imila. Then Iehoshaphat said, Let not the king say so.

8 And the King of Israel called an Eumuch, and said, Call quickly Michaiab the sonne of Imila.

9 And the King of Israel, and Iehoshaphat king of Iudah satte either of them on his hyorne clothed in their apparell: they late euery in the thriseing floore, at the entering in of the gate of Samaria: and all the prophets prophesied before them.

10 And Zidkiah the sonne of Chenaanah made him hornes of yron, and said, Thus sayeth the Lord, Which these shalt thou push the Aramites, untill thou hast consumed them.

11 And all the prophets prophesied so, saying, Go vp to Ramoth Gilead, a prosper: for the Lord shall deliuer it into the hand of the king.

12 And the messenger, that went to call Michaiab, spake to him, saying, Behold, the words of the Prophets declare good to the King with one accord: let thy word therefore, I pray thee, be like one of theirs, and speake thou good.

13 And Michaiab said, As the Lord liueth, whatsoever my God saith, that will I speake.

14 So hee came to the King, and the King said vnto him, Michaiab, shall we go to Ramoth Gilead to battell, or shall I leaue off? And hee said, Go ye vp, and prosper, and they shall be deliuered into your hand.

15 And the king said to him, How oft shal I charge thee, that thou tell me nothing but the truth in the name of the Lord?

16 Then he said, I saw all Israel scattered in the mountains, as sheepe that haue no shepheard: And the Lord said, These haue no matter: let them returne euery man to his house in peace.

17 And the king of Israel said to Iehoshaphat, Did I not tell thee, that he would not prophesie good vnto me, but euill?

18 Again he said, Therefore heare ye the word of the Lord: I saw the Lord sit vpon his throne, and all the hoste of heauen standing at his right hand, and at his left.

19 And the Lord said, Alas shall I persewade Ahab King of Israel, that hee may goe vp and fall at Ramoth Gilead: And one spake and said thus, and another said thus.

20 Then there came forth a spirit, and stood before the Lord, and said, I will persewade him. And the Lord said vnto him, Wherein?

21 And he said, I will goe out, and be a false spirit in the mouth of all his prophets. And he said, Thou shalt persewade, & shalt also persuade: goe forth and doe so.

22 Now therefore behold, the Lord hath put a false spirit in the mouth of these thy prophets, and the Lord hath determined euill against thee.

23 Then Zidkiah the sonne of Chenaanah came neere, and smote Michaiab vpon the cheeke, and said, By what way went the Spirit of the Lord from me to speake with thee?

24 And Michaiab said, Behold, thou shalt see that day, when thou shalt goe from chamber to chamber to bide thee.

25 And the King of Israel sayd, Take ye Michaiab, and carie him to Amon the gouernour of the cite, and to Iosiah the Kings sonne.

26 And say, Thus saith the King, But this man in the prison house, and feede him with bread of affliction, and with water of affliction, untill I returne in peace.

27 And Michaiab said, If thou returne in peace, the Lord hath not spoken by mee. And he said, I heare all ye people.

28 So the king of Israel, and Iehoshaphat the king of Iudah went vp to Ramoth Gilead.

29 And the king of Israel said vnto Iehoshaphat, I will change my selfe, and enter into the battell: but put thou on thine apparell. So the king of Israel changed himselfe, and they went into the battell.

30 And the king of Aram had commanded the Captaines of the charrets that were with him, saying, Fight you not with small nor great, but against the king of Israel onely.

31 And when the Captaines of the charrets saw Iehoshaphat, they said, He is the King of Israel: and they compassed about him to fight. But Iehoshaphat cried, and the Lord helped him, and mooned them to depart from him.

32 For when the captains of the charrets saw that he was not the king of Israel, they turned backe from him.

33 Then a certaine man diew a bowe mightily, and smote the King of Israel betwene the ioynts: || of his biggandine: therefore he said to his charret man, Turne thine hand, and cary me out of the hoste: for I am hurt.

34 And the battell increased that day: and the king of Israel stood still in his charret against the Aramites untill euening, and died at the time of the Sunne going downe.

18 ¶ When Iehoshaphat ¹between downe with his father to the earth, and all Iudah and the inhabitants of Ierusalem fell downe before the Lord, ²whispering the Lord.

19 And the euntes of the children of the Kobabites, and of the children of the Kobabites stood up to praise the Lord God of Israel with a loud voyce on high.

20 And when they arose early in the morning, they went forth to the wilderness of Tekoa: and as they departed, Iehoshaphat stood and said, Heare ye me, O Iudah, and ye inhabitants of Ierusalem: put your trust in the Lord your God, and ye shall be assured: hearken his Prophets, and ye shall prosper.

21 And when hee had consulted with the people, and appointed fingers unto the Lord, and them that should passe him that is in the beautifull Sanctuary, in going forth before the men of armes, and saying, ¹Praise ye the Lord, for his mercy lacketh for ever.

22 And when they began to shout and to praise, the Lord layed ambushments against the children of Ammon, Moab, and mount Seir, which were come against Iudah, and they slew one another.

23 For the children of Ammon, & Moab rose against the inhabitants of mount Seir, to slay and to destroy them: and when they had made an end of the inhabitants of Seir, every one helped ²to destroy another.

24 And when Iudah came toward Geshay in the wilderness, they looked unto the multitude: and behold, the carkeles were fallen to the earth, and none escaped.

25 And when Iehoshaphat and his people came to take away the spoile of them, they found among them in abundance both of substance and also of bodies laden with precious Jewels, which they tooke for themselves, till they could carry no more: they were three dayes in gathering of the spoile: for it was much.

26 And in the fourth day they assembled themselves in the valley of Berachab: for there they blessed the Lord: therefore they called the name of that place, The valley of Berachab unto this day.

27 Then every man of Iudah and Ierusalem, returned with Iehoshaphat their head, to goe againe to Ierusalem with joy: for the Lord had made them to reioyce over their enemies.

28 And they came to Ierusalem with viols, and with harpes, and with trumpets, even unto the house of the Lord.

29 And the fear of God was upon all the kingdomes of the earth, when they had heard that the Lord had fought against the enemies of Israel.

30 So the kingdome of Iehoshaphat was quiet, and his God gaue him rest on every side.

31 ¶ And Iehoshaphat reigned ouer Iudah, and was five and thirtie yere olde, when he began to reigne: and reigned five and twentie yere in Ierusalem, and his mothers name was Azubah the daughter of Shishhi.

32 And he walked in the way of Asa his father, and departed not therefrom: doing that which was right in the sight of the Lord.

33 Howbeit the high places were not taken away: for the people had not yet prepared their hearts unto the God of their fathers.

34 Concerning the rest of the acts of Iehoshaphat first & last, behold, they are written in the booke of Ieha the sonne of Hanani, which is mentioned in the booke of the kings of Israel.

35 ¶ Yet after this did Iehoshaphat king of Iudah loyne himselfe with Ahasiah king of Israel, who was given to doe euill.

36 And he loyned with him to make things to goe to Tarshish: and they made the ships in Ezion Gaber.

37 Then Eliezer the son of Dodanah of Ahasiah prophesied against Iehoshaphat, saying, Because thou hast loyned thy selfe with Ahasiah, the Lord hath broken thy workes: and the ships were broken, that they were not able to goe to Tarshish.

rose up by night, and smote EDOM, which had compassed him in, and the captains of the chariots.

10 But EDOM rebelled from under the hand of Judah unto this day. Then did Ahab rebel at the same time from under his hand, because hee had forsaken the Lord God of his fathers.

11 E Hophorah, he made high places in the mountaines of Judah, and caused the inhabitants of Jerusalem to commit fornication, and compelled Judah thereto.

12 And there came a writing to him from Elishah the Prophet, saying, Thus saith the Lord God of David thy father, Because thou hast not walked in the wayes of Jehoshaphat thy father, nor in the wayes of Asa King of Judah:

13 But hast walked in the way of the kings of Israel, and hast made Judah and the inhabitants of Jerusalem to goe a whooring, as the house of Ahab went a whooring, and hast also slaine thy brethren of thy fathers house, which were better then thou.

14 Behold, with a great plague will the Lord visite thy people, and thy children, and thy wives, and all thy substance.

15 And thou shalt bee in great diseases in the disease of thy bowels, untill thy bowels fall out for the disease day by day.

16 So the Lord stirred up against Jehoram the spirit of the Philistines, and the Arabians that were beside the Ethiopians.

17 And they came by into Judah, and brake into it, and carried away all the substance that was found in the Kings house, and his finnes also, and his wives, so that there was not a sonne left him, save Jechonahaz the youngest of his sonnes.

18 And after all this, the Lord smote him in his bowels with an incurable disease.

19 And in process of time, euen after the end of two yeeres, his guts fell out with his disease: so hee died of sore diseases: and his people made no burning for him like the burning of his fathers.

20 When he began to reign, he was two and thirtie yeere old, and reigned in Jerusalem eight yeere, and liued without being desired: yet they buried him in the cite of David, but not among the sepulchres of the Kings.

CHAP. XXII.

1 Ahaziah reigneth after Ithoram. 2 Iehu king of Israel killeth Ahaziah. 10 Athaliah putteth to death all the kings issue. 12 Iosiah escapeth.

AND the inhabitants of Jerusalem made Ahabaz his youngest sonne king in his stead: for the armie that came with the Arabians to the campe, had slaine all the eldest: therefore Ahaziah the sonne of Jehoram king of Judah reigned.

2 Two and fourtie yeere old was Ahaziah when hee began to reign, and hee reigned four yeere in Jerusalem: and his mothers name was Athaliah the daughter of Omri.

3 Hee walked also in the wayes of the house of Ahab: for his mother counselled him to doe wickedly.

4 Therefore hee dyed in the sight of the Lord, like the house of Ahab: for they were his counsellors after the death of his father, to his destruction.

5 And he walked after their counsell, and went with Jehoram the sonne of Ahab king of Israel to fight against Hazael king of Aram at Ramoth Gilead: and the Aramites smote Jehoram.

6 And he returned to be healed in Israel, because of the wounds wherewith they had wounded him at Ramoth, when hee fought with Hazael king of Aram. Now Azariah the sonne of Jehoram king of Judah went downe to see Jehoram the sonne of Ahab at Israel, because he was diseased.

7 And the destruction of Ahaziah came of God in that he went to Jezrahel: for when he was come, he went forth with Jehoram against Iehu the sonne of Shimeah, whom the Lord had anointed to destroy the house of Ahab.

8 Therefore when Iehu executed iudgement vpon the house of Ahab, and found the princes of Judah and the sonnes of the brethren of Ahaziah that waited on Ahaziah, he slew them also.

9 And hee sought Ahaziah, and they caught him where he was hid in Samaria, and brought him to Iehu, and slew him, and buried him, because, said they, hee is the sonne of a Jehoshaphat, which sought the Lord with all his heart. So the house of Ahaziah was not able to retaine the kingdom.

10 Therefore when Athaliah the mother of Ahaziah sawe that her sonne was dead, she arose and destroyed all the kinges seed of the house of Judah.

11 But Jehoshabeath the daughter of the king, tooke Iosiah the sonne of Ahaziah, and stole him from among the Kings sonnes, that should bee slaine, and put him and his nurse in the bed-chamber: so Jehoshabeath the daughter of king Jehoram the wife of Jehoiada the Priest (for shee was the sister of Ahaziah) hid him from Athaliah: so hee slew him not.

12 And hee was with them hid in the house of God six yeeres, whiles Athaliah reigned over the land.

2 And they went about in Judah, and gathered the Levites out of all the cities of Judah, and the chiefe fathers of Israel: and they came to Jerusalem.

3 And all the Congregation made a covenant with the king in the house of God:

Hee sheweth that it must need follow that the rulers as such as their counsellors be, and that there cannot bee a good king that suffereth wicked counsellors.

and he said unto them, Behold, the Kings sonne must reigne, as the Lord hath said of the sonnes of David.

4 This is it that ye shall doe, The third part of you that come on the Sabbath of the Priests and the Levites, shall bee porters of the doores.

5 And another third part toward the Kings house, and another third part at the gate of the foundation, and all the people shall bee in the courts of the house of the Lord.

6 But let none come into the house of the Lord, save the Priests and the Levites that minister: they shall goe in, for they are holy: but all the people shall keepe the watch of the Lord.

7 And the Levites shall compasse the King round about, and every man with his weapon in his hand, and he that encreth into the house shall bee slaine, and he you with the King, when he cometh in, and when he goeth out.

8 ¶ So the Levites and all Judah did according to all things that Jehoiada the Priest had commanded, and rooke every man his men that came on the Sabbath: wch them that went out on the Sabbath: for Jehoiada the Priest did not discharge the courses.

9 And Jehoiada the Priest delivered to the captaines of hundredes, speares, and shields, and bucklers which had bene King Davids, and were in the house of God.

10 And hee caused all the people to stand (every man with his weapon in his hand) from the right side of the house, to the left side of the house by the Altar & by the house round about the King.

11 Then they brought out the kings son, and put upon him the crowne, and gave him the Testament, and made him King. And Jehoiada & his sonnes anointed him, and said, God save the King.

12 ¶ But when Athaliah heard the noise of the people running and praising the king, she came to the people into the house of the Lord.

13 And when she looked, behold, the King stood by the pillar at the entering in, and the princes and the trumpets by the king, and all the people of the land rejoyced, and blew the trumpets, and the singers were with instruments of musike. and they that could sing praise: then Athaliah rent her clothes, and said, Treason, treason.

14 Then Jehoiada the Priest brought out the captaines of hundredes that were gouvornours of the host, and said unto them, Have her forth of the ranges, and he that followeth her, let him bee by the sword: for the Priest had said, Slay her not in the house of the Lord.

15 So they laid hands on her: and when she was come to the entering of the doore-gate by the Kings house, they slew her there.

16 ¶ And Jehoiada made a covenant betweene him, and all the people, and the King, that they would bee the Lords people.

17 And all the people went to the house of Baal, and destroyed it, and brake his altars and his images, and cleve Mattan

the pitest of Baal before the altars.

18 And Jehoiada appointed officers for the house of the Lord, under the hands of the Priests and Levites, whom David had distributed for the house of the Lord, to offer burnt offerings unto the Lord, as it is written in the Law of Moses, with rejoycing and singing by the appointment of David.

19 And he set porters by the gates of the house of the Lord, that none that was unclean in anything, should enter in.

20 And hee tooke the captaines of hundredes, and the noble men, and the gouvornours of the people, and all the people of the land, and he caused the King to come downe out of the house of the Lord, and they went through the high gate of the Kings house, and set the king upon the throne of the kingdom.

21 Then all the people of the land rejoyced, and the cite was quiet, after that they had slaine Athaliah with the sword.

CHAP. XXIII.

4 Ioash repaireth the house of the Lord. 17 After the death of Jehoiada his father he doeth: 21 He slayeth to death Zachariah the Prophet. 25 Ioash is killed of his owne servants. 27 After him reigneth Amaziah.

1 Dauid was seven yeere olde, when hee began to reigne, and he reigned sonne yeere in Jerusalem, and his mothers name was Zibiah of Beer-sheba.

2 And Ioash did brightlie in the sight of the Lord, all the dayes of Jehoiada the Priest.

3 And Jehoiada tooke him two wives, and he begate sonnes and daughters.

4 And afterward it came into Ioashs minde to reueto the house of the Lord.

5 And hee assembled the Priests and the Levites, and said to them, Come out vnto the cities of Judah, and gather of all Israel money to repara the house of your God, from yeere to yeere, and baste the chime: but the Levites halted not.

6 Therefore the King called Jehoiada the chiefe, and said vnto him, Why hast thou not required of the Levites to bring in out of Judah and Jerusalem the tax of Moses the servant of the Lord, and of the Congregation of Israel, for the Tabernacle of the Testament?

7 For wicked Athaliah, and her children brake by the house of God: and all the things that were dedicate for the house of the Lord, did they bestow vpon Baalim.

8 Therefore the king commanded, and they made a chest, and set it at the gate of the house of the Lord without.

9 And they made proclamation through Judah and Jerusalem, to bring vnto the Lord the tax of Moses the servant of God, layd vpon Israel in the wilderness.

10 And all the princes and all the people rejoyced, and brought in, and cast into the chest, untill they had finished.

11 And when it was time, they brought the chest vnto the Kings officer by the hand of the Levites: and when they saw had appointed that there was much silver, then the 12 And the king and Jehoiada gave it to such as did the labour and work in the house of the Lord. & hired masons and carpenters to repair the house of the Lord: they gave it also to workers of silver & brass, to repair the house of the Lord.

13 So the workmen wrought, and the work was amended through their hands: and they repaired the house of God to his state, and strengthened it.

14 And when they had finished it, they brought the rest of the silver before the king, and Jehoiada, and he made thereof vessels for the house of the Lord, even vessels to minister, both molten and incense cups, and vessels of gold and of silver: and they offered burnt offerings in the house of the Lord continually all the days of Jehoiada.

15 ¶ But Jehoiada waxed old, and was full of days, and died. An hundred and thirty yeere old was he when he died.

16 And they buried him in the city of David with the kings, because he had done good in Israel, and toward God and his house.

17 ¶ And after the death of Jehoiada, came the princes of Judah, and did reverence to the king, and the king hearkened unto them.

18 And they left the house of the Lord God of their fathers, and served groves and idols: and wrath came upon Judah and Jerusalem, because of this their trespass.

19 And God sent Prophets among them, to bring them againe unto the Lord: and they made provocation among them, but they would not heare.

20 And the Spirit of God came upon Zechariah the sonne of Jehoiada the Priest, which stood before the people, and said unto them, Thus saith God, Why transgresse ye the commandments of the Lord? I desire ye shall not prosper: because ye have forsaken the Lord, he also hath forsaken you.

21 Then they conspired against him, and stoned him with stones at the commandment of the king, in the court of the house of the Lord.

22 ¶ Thus Ioash the king remembered not the kindness which Jehoiada his father had done to him, but slew his sonne. And when he died, he said, The Lord ^{will} look upon it and requite it.

23 ¶ And when the yeere was out, the host of Aram came up against him, and they came against Judah and Jerusalem, and destroyed all the princes of the people from among the people, and sent all the spoyle of them unto the king of Damascus.

24 ¶ And when the yeere was out, the host of Aram came up against him, and they came against Judah and Jerusalem, and destroyed all the princes of the people from among the people, and sent all the spoyle of them unto the king of Damascus.

24 ¶ Though the army of Aram came with a small company of men, yet the Lord delivered a very great army into their hand, because they had forsaken the Lord God of their fathers, and they gave sentence against Ioash.

25 And when they were departed from him, (for they left him in great diseases) his owne servants conspired against him for the blood of the children of Jehoiada the Priest, and slew him on his bed, and he died, and they buried him in the city of David: but they buried him not in the sepulchres of the kings.

26 And these are they that conspired against him, Zabad the sonne of Shimeath an Ammonitess, and Jehoyadab the sonne of Shimeath a Moabitess.

27 But his sonnes, and the summe of the tape gathered by him, and the foundation of the house of God, behold, they are written in the story of the booke of the Kings. And Amaziah his sonne reigned in his stead.

CHAP. XXV.

1 Amaziah putteth them to death which slew his father. 10 He studieth backe them of Israel. 11 He overcometh the Edomites. 14 He fulfilleth idolatry. 17 And Ioash king of Israel overcometh Amaziah. 27 He is slaine by a conspiracy.

Amaziah was nine and twenty yeere old, when he began to reigne, and he reigned nine and twenty yeere in Jerusalem: and his mothers name was Jehoaddan, of Jerusalem.

2 And he did uprightly in the eyes of the Lord, but not with a perfect heart.

3 And when the kingdome was established unto him, he slew his servants that had slaine the king his father.

4 But he slew not their children, but did as it is written in the Law, and in the booke of Moses, where the Lord commanded, saying, The fathers shall not die for the children, neither shall the children die for the fathers, but every man shall die for his owne sinne.

5 ¶ And Amaziah assembled Judah, and made them captaines over thousands, and captaines over hundreds, according to the houses of their fathers, throughout all Judah and Benjamin: and he numbered them from twenty yeere olde and above, and found among them three hundred thousand chosim men to go forth to the warre, and to handle speare and shield.

6 He hired also an hundred thousand valiant men out of Israel for an hundred talents of silver.

7 But a man of God came to him, saying, King, let not the army of Israel goe with thee: for the Lord is not with Israel, neither with all the house of Ephraim.

8 If not, go thou on, do it, make thy selfe strong to the battell, but God shall make thee fall before the enemy: for God hath power to helpe, and to cast downe.

10 So Amaziah separated them, to wit, the armie that was come to him out of Ephraim, to returne to their place: wherefore their way was hindered greatly against Iudah, and they returned to their places with great anger.

11 Then Amaziah was encouraged, and ledde forth his people, and went to the salt valley, and smote of the children of Edom ten thousand.

12 And other ten thousand did the children of Iudah take aliue, and carried them to the top of a rocke, and cast them downe from the top of the rocke, and they all burst to pieces.

13 But the men of the armie, which Amaziah sent away, that they should not goe with his people to batell, fell vpon the cities of Iudah, from Samaria vnto Beth-bozon, and smote thre thousand of them, and tooke much spoyle.

14 Now after that Amaziah had come from the slaughter of the Edornites, hee brought the gods of the children of Seir, and set them vp to be his gods, and worshipped them, and burned incense vnto them.

15 Wherefore the Lord was wroth with Amaziah, and sent vnto him a Prophet, which said vnto him, Why hast thou sought the gods of the people, which were not able to deliuer their owne people out of thine hand?

16 And as hee talked with him, he said vnto him, Vvane they made thee the Kings Counsellour? craie thou: why should they smite thee? And the Prophet craied, but sayd, I know that God hath determined to destroy thee, because thou hast done this, and hast not obeyed my counsell.

17 Then Amaziah king of Iudah tooke counsell, and sent to Iosiah the sonne of Iehobab, the sonne of Iehu King of Israel, saying, Come, let vs see one another in the face.

18 But Iosiah king of Israel sent to Amaziah king of Iudah, saying, Thee thinke that is in Lebanon, sent to the Cedar that is in Lebanon, saying, * Giue thy daughter to my sonne to wife: and the wilder beast that was in Lebanon, went and trode downe thee thisle.

19 Thou thinkest: for, thou hast smitten Edom, and thine heart lifted thee up to bragge: abide now at home: why dost thou prouoke to thine hurt, that thou shouldest sal and Iudah with thee?

20 But Amaziah would not heare: for it was of God, that he might deliuer them into his hand, because they had sought the gods of Edom.

21 So Iosiah the king of Israel went by:

and he, and Amaziah king of Iudah saw one another in the face at Bethbemech, which is in Iudah.

22 And Iudab was put to the worse before Israel, and they slew euery man to his tents.

23 But Iosiah the King of Israel tooke Amaziah king of Iudah, the sonne of Iosiah, the sonne of Iehobab in Bethbemech, and brought him to Ierusalem, and brake downe the wall of Ierusalem, from the gate of Ephraim vnto the corner gate, foure hundred cubits.

24 And hee tooke all the gold and the silver, and all the vessels: that were found in the house of God with Edom, and in the treasures of the kings house, and the children that were in hostage, and returned to Samaria.

25 And Amaziah the sonne of Iosiah king of Iudah liued after the death of Iosiah sonne of Iehobab King of Israel, fiftene yeere.

26 Concerning the rest of the actes of Amaziah first and last, are they not written in the Booke of the Kings of Iudah and Israel?

27 Now after the time that Amaziah did turne away from the Lord, he wrought treason against him in Ierusalem: and when he was sick to Lachish, they sent to Lachish after him, and slew him there.

28 And they brought him vpon horses, and buried him with his fathers in the cite of Iudah.

CHAP. XXVI.

1 Vzziah obeying the Lord, prospereth in his enterprises. 16 Hee waxeth proude and vsurpeth the Priestes office. 19 The Lord plagueth him. 20 The Priestes drive him out of the Temple, and exclude him out of the Lords house. 23 His buriall, and his succession.

Then all the people of Iudah tooke Vzziah, which was fiftene yeere olde, and made him king in the stead of his father Amaziah.

2 Hee built Cloth, and restored it to Iudab, after that the king slept with his fathers.

3 Sixtene yeere olde was Vzziah when he began to reigne, and he reigned two and fiftene yeere in Ierusalem, and his mothers name was Iecoliah of Ierusalem.

4 And he did vprightly in the sight of the Lord, according to all that his father Amaziah did.

5 And hee sought God in the dayes of Zechariah (which understood the visions of God) and when as he sought the Lord, God made him to prosper.

6 For he went forth and fought against the Philistims, and brake downe the wall of Gath, and the wall of Jabneh, and the wall of Ashdod, and built cities in Ashdod, and among the Philistims.

7 And God helped him against the Philistims, and against the Arabians that dwelt in Gur-baal, and Hammeunim.

8 And the Ammonites gaue gifts to Vzziah, and his name spread to the entering in of Egypt: for hee did most valiantly.

9 Moreover, Azziah built towers in Jerusalem at the corner gate, and at the bulwark, and at the turning, and made them strong.

10 And hee built towres in the wilderness, and digged many cisternes : for hee had much cattell both in the valleys and plaines, plowmen and dyers of vines in the mountains, and in Carmel : for he loved husbandry.

11 Azziah had also an hoste of fighting men, that went out to war by bands, according to the count of their number under the hand of Azekel the scribe, and Opaalchab the ruler, and under the hand of Hananiah, one of the kings captains.

12 The whole number of the chiefs of the families of the ballant men were two thousand and five hundred.

13 And under their hand was the armie for war, three hundred and seven thousand, and five hundred that fought ballantly to helpe the king against the enemy.

14 And Azziah prepared them thorowout all the botts, shields, and speares, and helmets, and brigandines, and bows, and stones to sling.

15 He made also very artificiall engines in Jerusalem, to be upon the towres and upon the corners, to shoot arrows and great stones : and his name spread farre abroad, because God did helpe him marvellously, till he was mighty.

16 ¶ But when he was strong, his heart was lifted up to his destruction : for hee transgressed against the Lord his God, and went into the Temple of the Lord to burne incense upon the altar of the incense.

17 And Azariah the Priest went in after him, and with him fourscore Priests of the Lord, ballant men.

18 And they withstood Azziah the king, and sayd unto him, * It percerieth not to thee, Azziah, to burne incense unto the Lord, but to the Priests, the sonnes of Aaron, that are consecrated for to offer incense : go forth of the Sanctuary : for thou hast transgressed, and thou shalt haue none labour of the Lord God.

19 Then Azziah was wroth, and had incense in his hand to burne it : and while hee was wroth with the Priests, the leprosie rose up in his forehead before the Priests in the house of the Lord beside the incense Altar.

20 And when Azariah the chief Priest with all the Priests looked upon him, behold hee was leproious in his forehead, and they caused him hastily to depart thence : and he was euen compelled to goe out, because the Lord had smitten him.

21 ¶ And Azziah the King was a leper unto the day of his death, and dwelt as a leper in an house apart, because hee was cut off from the house of the Lord : and Iotham his sonne ruled ouer the kings house, & iudged the people of the land.

22 Concerning the rest of the acts of Azziah, first and last, did Azziah the Prophet the sonne of Amos write.

23 So Azziah slept with his fathers, and they buried him with his fathers in the field of the buriall, which pertained to the kings : for they said, He is a leper. And Iotham his sonne reigned in his stead.

CHAP. XXVII.

1 Iotham reigned, and overcame the Ammonites. 8 His rage and death. 9 Abaz, his sonne reigned in his stead.

Iotham was six and twenty yeere olde when he began to reigne, and reigned sixteene yeere in Jerusalem, and his mothers name was Jerubab the daughter of Zadok.

2 And he did wisely in the sight of the Lord, according to all that his father Azziah did, save that hee entered not into the Temple of the Lord, and the people did yet corrupt their wayes.

3 Hee built the high gate of the house of the Lord, and hee built very much on the wall of the castle.

4 Moreover, hee built cities in the mountaynes of Iudah, and in the forests hee built palaces and towres.

5 And hee fought with the king of the children of Ammon, and persecuted against them. And the children of Ammon gaue him the same yeere an hundred talens of silver, and ten thousand measures of wheate, and ten thousand bushels of barley : this did the children of Ammon giue him both in the second yeere and the third.

6 So Iotham became mighty, because hee directed his way before the Lord his God.

7 Concerning the rest of the acts of Iotham, and all his warres and his wayes, loe they are written in the booke of the kings of Israel and Iudah.

8 Hee was six and twenty yeere olde when he began to reigne, and reigned sixteene yeere in Jerusalem.

9 And Iotham slept with his fathers, and they buried him in the citie of David : and Abaz his sonne reigned in his stead.

3 Moreover, hee burnt incense in the bulwark of Ben-hinnom, and hee burnt his sonnes with fire, after the abominations of the heathen whom the Lord had cast out before the children of Israel.

6 For Iehakim the sonne of Remaliah slew in Iudah threescore thousand in one day, all † valiant men, because they had forsaken the Lord God of their fathers.

7 And Iehoiashim mightie man of Ephraim slew Iehakim the kings son, and Ashtan the gouernor of the house, and Ekanah the second after the king.

8 And the children of Israel tooke prisoners of their brethren, a two hundred thousand of women, sonnes and daughters, and carried away much spoile of them, & brought the spoile to Samaria.

9 ¶ But there was a Prophet of the Lords, whose name was Obed, and he went out before the hoste that came to Samaria, and layd vnto them, Beholde, because the Lord God of your fathers is with you, Iudah, he hath deliuered them into your hand, and yee haue slaine them in a rage, that reacheth vnto heauen.

10 And now yee purpose to keepe vnder the children of Iudah and Ierusalem as seruants, and bandmaides vnto you: but are not you such, as are with you before the Lord your God?

11 Now therefore heare me, and deliuer the captiues againe, which yee haue taken prisoners of your brethren: for the fierce wrath of the Lord is toward you.

12 ¶ After this certaine of the chiefe of the children of Ephraim, Asariah the sonne of Iehobanan, Berechiah the sonne of Iehiel, and Iehizkiah the son of Shallum, and Amasa the sonne of Iadai, stood vp against them that came from the warre, 13 And layd vnto them, Why not in the captiues hither: for this shalbe a sinne vpon vs against the Lord: ye intend to adde moze to our finnes and to our trespasses, though our trespasses be great and the fierce wrath of God is against Israel.

14 So they away led the captiues and the spoile before the princes and all the Congregation.

15 And the men that were named by name, rose vp and tooke the prisoners, and with the spoile clothed all that were naked among them, and arrayed them, and shodde them, and gave them meat and gave them drinke, and a noised them, and carried all that were feeble of them vpon asses, and brought them to Iericho the city of palm-trees to their brethren: so they returned to Samaria.

16 ¶ At that time did king Ahaz send vnto the kings of Asshur to helpe him.

17 ¶ For the Edomites came moreover, and slew of Iudah a carried away captiues, 18 The Philistines also invaded the cities in the low country, and toward the South of Iudah, and tooke Beeth-shean, and Aalon, and Gerozoth, & Socho, with the villages therof, and Timnah, with her villages, and Gath with her villages: and they dwelt there.

19 For the Lord had humbled Iudah, because of Ahaz king of Israel: for he had brought vengeance vpon Iudah, and had grievously transgressed against the Lord, 20 And Tiglath Pileaser king of Asshur came vnto him, who troubled him, and did not strengthen him.

21 For Ahaz tooke a portion out of the house of the Lord, and out of the kings house and of the princes, and gave vnto the king of Asshur: yet it helped him not.

22 And in the time of his tribulation did he yet trespass more against the Lord, (this is king Ahaz.)

23 For he sacrificed vnto the gods of Damascus, which plagued him, and hee sayd, Because the gods of the kings of Asshur helpe them, I will sacrifice vnto them, & they will helpe me: yet they were his ruine, and of all // Israel.

24 And Ahaz gathered the vessels of the house of God, and brake the vessels of the house of God, and shut vp the doores of the house of the Lord, and made him altars in every corner of Ierusalem.

25 And in every cite of Iudah hee made his places to burne incense vnto other gods, and provoked to anger the Lord God of his fathers.

26 Concerning the rest of his actes, and all his wayes first and last, behold, they are written in the booke of the kings of Iudah and Israel.

27 And Ahaz slept with his fathers, and they buried him in the cite // of Ierusalem, but brought him not vnto the sepulchres of the kings of Israel: and Hezekiah his sonne reigned in his stead.

8 ¶ Therefore the wrath of the Lord hath been on Judah and Jerusalem: and he hath made them a scurrilous, a desolation, and an hissing, as you see with your eyes.

9 For loe, our fathers are fallen by the sword, and our sonnes, and our daughters, and our wives are in captivity for the same cause.

10 Now I purpose to make a covenant with the Lord God of Israel, that he may turn away his fierce wrath from us.

11 Now my sonnes, be not deceived: for the Lord hath chosen you to stand before him, to serve him, and to be his ministers, and to burn incense.

12 ¶ Then the Levites arose, Biahah
the sonne of Amasai, and Joel the sonne of Azariah the sonnes of the Kobathites;
and of the sonnes of Merari, Kish the sonne
of Abdi, and Azariah the sonne of Jedelei;
and of the Gerishonites, Joah the sonne of Zimnah, and Eden the sonne of Joab:

13 And of the sons of Elizaphan, Shime-
i, and Jehiel: and of the sonnes of Alaph, Serchariah, and Bactanah:

14 And of the sonnes of Geman, Jehiel, and Shimei: and of the sonnes of Jeduthun, Shemalah, and Uzziel.

15 And they gathered their brethren, and sanctified themselves, and came according to the commandment of the King, and by the words of the Lord, for to cleanse the house of the Lord.

16 And the Priests went into the inner parts of the house of the Lord, to cleanse it, and brought out all the uncleanness that they found in the Temple of the Lord, into the court of the house of the Lord: and the Levites took it, to carrie it out unto the brooke Kidron.

17 They began the first day of the first moneth to sanctifie it, and the eight day of the moneth, came they to the porch of the Lord: so they sanctified the house of the Lord in eight days, and in the sixteenth day of the first moneth they made an end.

18 ¶ Then they went in to Hezekiah the king, and said, We have cleansed all the house of the Lord, and the altar of burnt offering, with all the vessels thereof, and the shewbread table, with all the vessels thereof:

19 And all the vessels which king Ahaz had cast aside when he reigned, and transgressed, have we prepared and sanctified:
and behold, they are before the altar of the Lord.

20 ¶ And Hezekiah the King rose early and gathered the Princes of the citie, and went up to the house of the Lord.

21 And they brought seven bullocks, and seven rammes, and seven lambs, and seven he goats, for a flame offering for the kingdome, and for the Sanctuary, and for Judah. And he commanded the Priests the sonnes of Aaron, to offer them on the altar of the Lord.

22 So they slew the bullocks, and the Priests received the blood, and sprinkled

it upon the altar: they slew also the rammes, and sprinkled the blood upon the altar, and they slew the lambs, and they sprinkled the blood upon the altar.

23 ¶ Then they brought the hee goats for the flame offering before the King and the Congregation, and they layd their hands upon them,

24 And the Priests slew them, and with the blood of them they cleaned the altar to reconcile all Israel: for the King had commanded for all Israel the burnt offering and the flame offering.

25 ¶ He appointed also the Levites in the house of the Lord with cymbals, with vi-ols, and with harpes, according to the commandment of David, and Gad the Kings Seer, and Nathan the Prophet:

for the commandment was by the hand of the Lord, and by the hand of his Prophets.

26 And the Levites stood with the instruments of David, and the Priests with the trumpets.

27 And Hezekiah commanded to offer the burnt offering upon the Altar: and when the burnt offering began, the song of the Lord began with the trumpets, and the instruments of David King of Israel.

28 And all the Congregation worshipped, singing a song, and they blew the trumpets: all this continued untill the burnt offering was finished.

29 And when they had made an end of offering, the King and all that were present with him, bowed themselves and worshipped.

30 ¶ Then Hezekiah the King and the Princes commanded the Levites to praise
the Lord with the words of David, and of Asaph the Seer: so they played with joy, and they bowed themselves and worshipped.

31 And Hezekiah spake, and said, Now ye have consecrated your selves to the Lord: come neere and bring the sacrifices and offerings of praise into the house of the Lord. And the Congregation brought sacrifices, and offerings of prayles, and every man that was willing in heart, offered burnt offerings.

32 And the number of the burnt offerings, which the Congregation brought, was seven bullocks, an hundred rams, and two hundred lambs: all these were for a burnt offering to the Lord:

33 And for a sanctification five hundred bullocks, and three thousand sheeps.

34 But the Priests were too few, and were not able to slay all the burnt offerings, therefore their brethren the Levites did help them, till they had ended the works, and untill other Priests were sanctified: for the Levites were a more wise heart to sanc-tifie themselves, then the Priests.

35 And also the burnt offerings were many with the fat of the peace offerings, and the drink offerings for the burnt offering:
so the service of the house of the Lord was set in order.

And Hezekiah sent to all Israel, and Judah, & also wrote letters to Ephraim and Manasseh, that they should come to the house of the Lord at Jerusalem, to keep the Passover unto the Lord God of Israel.

2 And the king and his princes, and all the Congregation had taken counsel in Jerusalem to keep the Passover in the second month.

3 For they could not keep it at this time,
because there were not priests enough sanctified, neither was the people gathered to Jerusalem.

4 And the thing pleased the King, and all the Congregation.

5 And they decreed to make proclamation throughout all Israel from Beer-sheba even to Dan, that they should come to keep the Passover unto the Lord God of Israel at Jerusalem: for they had not done it of a great time, as it was written.

6 So the posts went with letters by the commission of the king and his princes, throughout all Israel and Judah, and with the commandment of the king, saying, Precious children of Israel, turne againe unto the Lord God of Abraham, Isaac, and Israel, and he will returne to the remnant that are escaped of you out of the hands of the kings of Assur.

7 And be not ye like your fathers, and like your brethren, which trespassed against the Lord God of their fathers: and therefore he made them desolate as ye see.

8 Be not ye now stiffnecked like your fathers, but give the hand to the Lord, and come into his Sanctuary, which he hath sanctified for ever, and serve the Lord your God, and the fierceness of his wrath shall turne away from you.

9 For if ye returne unto the Lord, your brethren and your children shall finde mercy before them that led them captives, and they shall returne unto this land: for the Lord your God is gracious and merciful, and will not turne away his face from you, if ye convert unto him.

10 So the posts went from city to city
through the land of Ephraim & Manasseh, even unto Zabulon: but they laughed them
to scorn, and mocked them.

11 However, Shiloh, Shimeon, and Manasseh, and Zabulon submitted themselves, and came to Jerusalem.

12 And the hand of God was in Judah, so that he gave them one heart to doe the commandment of the King, and of the rulers, according to the word of the Lord.

13 And there assembled to Jerusalem much people, to keep the feast of the unleaven bread in the second month, a very great assembly.

14 And they arose, and took away the altars that were in Jerusalem: & all those for incense took they away, and cast them into the brooke Kidron.

15 Afterward they slew the Passover
the fourteenth day of the second month:
and the priests and Levites were ashamed, and sanctified themselves, and brought the burnt offerings into the house of the Lord.

16 And they stood in their place after their manner, according to the Law of Moses the man of God: and the priests spink-ed with blood, received of the hands of the Levites.

17 Because there were many in the Congregation that were not sanctified, therefore the Levites had the charge of the killing of the Passover for all that were not clean, to sanctify it to the Lord.

18 For a multitude of the people, even a multitude of Ephraim, and Manasseh, Is-sachar and Zabulon had not cleansed themselves, yet did eat the Passover, but not as it was written: wherefore Hezekiah prayed for them, saying, The good Lord be merci-full toward him.

19 That prepareth his whole heart to seek the Lord God, the God of his fathers, though hee be not cleansed, according to the purification of the Sanctuary.

20 And the Lord heard Hezekiah, and healed the people.

21 And the children of Israel that were present at Jerusalem, kept the feast of the unleavened bread seven days with great joy, and the Levites and the priests praised the Lord day by day, singing with loud instruments unto the Lord.

22 And Hezekiah spake comfortably unto all the Levites that had good knowledge to sing unto the Lord: and they did eat in that feast seven days, and offered peace offerings, and praised the Lord God of their fathers.

23 And the whole assembly took counsel to keep it other seven dayes. So they kept it seven dayes with joy.

24 For Hezekiah King of Judah had given to the Congregation a thousand bul-locks, and seven thousand sheepe. And the princes had given to the Congregation a thousand bullocks, and ten thousand sheepe:
and many priests were sanctified.

25 And all the Congregation of Judah rejoiced with the priests and the Levites, and all the Congregation that came out of Israel, and the strangers that came out of the land of Israel, and that dwelt in Judah.

26 So there was great joy in Jerusalem:
for since the time of Solomon the sonne of David King of Israel, there was not the like thing in Jerusalem.

27 Then the priests and the Levites arose, and blessed the people, and their voice was heard, and their prayer came up unto heaven to his holy habitation.

CHAP. XXXI.

1 The people destroyed idolatry. 2 Hezekiah appointed Priests and Levites, 4 and provided for their living. 13 Hee ordaineth ourfelfe to distribute to euery one his portion.

And when all these things were finished, all Israel that were found in the cities of Iudah, went out and brake the Images, and cut downe the groves, and brake downe the high places, and the altars throughout all Iudah and Benjamin, in Ephraim also and Danialah, untill they had made an end: afterward all the children of Israel returned euery man to his possession, into their owne cities.

2 And Hezekiah appointed the courses of the Priests and Levites, by which turnes euery man according to his office, both Priests and Levites, for the burnt offering and peace offerings, to minister and to giue thanks, and to praye in the gates of the cities of the Lord.

3 (And the Kings portion was of his owne substance for the burnt offerings, even for the burnt offerings of the morning and of the evening, and the burnt offerings for the Sabbathes, and for the new moones, and for the solemne feastes, as it is written in the Law of the Lord.)

4 Hee commaunded also the people that dwelt in Ierusalem, to giue a part to the Priests, and Levites, that they might bee encouraged in the Law of the Lord.

5 And when the commaundment was fulfilled, the children of Israel brought abundance of first frutes of come, wine, and oyle, and honey, and of all the increase of the field, and the riches of all things brought they abundantly.

6 And the children of Israel and Iudah that dwelt in the cities of Iudah, they also brought the tithes of bullockes and sheepe, and the holy tithes which were consecrate unto the Lord their God, and laid them on many heapes.

7 In the third moneth they began to lay the foundation of the heapes, and finished them in the seventh moneth.

8 And when Hezekiah and the Princes came and saw the heapes, they blessed the Lord and his people Israel.

9 And Hezekiah questioned with the Priests and the Levites concerning the heapes.

10 And Azariah the chiefe Priest of the house of Zadok answered him, and sayde, Since the people began to bring the offerings into the house of the Lord, wee haue eaten and haue bene satisfied, and there is left in abundance: for the Lord hath blessed his people, and this abundance that is left.

11 And Hezekiah commaunded to prepare chambers in the house of the Lord: and they prepared them.

12 And caried in the first frutes, and the tithes, and the dedicate things faithfully, and ouer them was Sonaniah the Levite, the chiefe, and Shimi his brother the second.

13 And Iehiel, and Azariah, and Pa-

hab, and Iehiel, and Jerimoth, and Jezabab, and Eliel, and Shimechiah, and Zabab, and Benaiab were ouersers for the appointment of Sonaniah, and Shimi his brother, and by the commaundment of Hezekiah the King, and of Azariah the chiefe of the house of God.

14 And Koz the sonne of Imnah the Levite, porter toward the East, was ouer the things that were offered vnto God, to distribute the oblations of the Lord, and the holy things that were consecrate.

15 And at his hand were Eden, and Shilamin, and Iehua, and Shemaiah, Amariah, and Sebachiah, in the cities of the Priests, to distribute with fidelitie to their brethren by courses both to the great and small.

16 Their daylie portion: besidetheir generation being males from three yeere old and about, even to all that entered into the house of the Lord to their office in their charge, according to their courses:

17 Both to the generation of the Priests after the house of their fathers, and to the Levites, from twentie yeere old and about, according to their charge in their courses:

18 And to the generation of all their children, their wiues, and their sonnes, and their daughters, throughout all the Congregation: for by their fidelitie are they partakers of the holy things.

19 Also to the sonnes of Aaron, the Priests which were in the fields and inburds of their cities, in euery cite the men that were appointed by names, should giue portions to all the males of the Priests, and to all the generation of the Levites.

20 And thus did Hezekiah throughout all Iudah, and did well and prosper, and truly before the Lord his God.

21 And in all the workes that hee began for the seruice of the house of God, both in the Law and in the Commandments, to seeke his God, hee did it with all his heart, and prospered.

CHAP. XXXII.

1 Saneherib imadeth Iudah. 3 Hezekiah prepared for the waies. 7 Hezekiah rebueth the people to put their trust in the Lord. 30 Saneherib blasphemeth God. 30 Hezekiah prayeth. 31 The Angel destroyeth the Assyrians, and the King is slaine. 35 Hezekiah is not thankfull toward the Lord. 33 His death.

AFTER these things faithfully described, Saneherib King of Assur came and entered into Iudah, and besieged the strong cities, and thought to winne them for himselfe.

2 When Hezekiah saw that Saneherib was come and that his purpose was to fight against Ierusalem.

3 Then hee tooke counsell with his princes and his nobles, to stop the water of the fountaines without the cite: and they did helpe him.

4 So many of the people assembled themselves, and stopp all the fountaines, and the

the river that ranne through the midst of the country, saying, Why should the Kings of Asshur come, and finde much water?

5 And he rooke courage, and buile all the broken wall, and made vp the towres,
and another wall without, and repaired
the bulwark in the citie of Dauid, and made many darts and shields.

6 And he set captaynes of warre ouer the people, and assembled them to him in the broad place of the gate of the city, & spake comfortably vnto them, saying,

7 Be strong and courageous: feare not,
neither bee afraide for the King of Asshur, neither for all the multitude that is with him: for there be more with vs, then is with him.

8 With him is an arme of flesh, but with vs is the Lord our God for to helpe vs, and to fight our battels. Then the people were confirmed by the wordes of Hezekiah king of Iudah.

9 After this did Saneherib king of As-sur send his seruants to Ierusalem (while he was against Lachish, and all his dominion with him) vnto Hezekiah king of Judah, and vnto all Iudah that were at Jerusalem, saying,

10 Thus saith Saneherib the King of Asshur, Wherein doe ye trust, that ye will remaine in Ierusalem, during the siege?

11 Doth not Hezekiah entice you to giue ouer your selues vnto death by famine and by thirst, saying, The Lord our God shall deliuer vs out of the hand of the king of As-sur?

12 Hath not the same Hezekiah taken away his high places & his altars, and commanded Iudah and Ierusalem, saying, Pee shall worship before one altar, and burne incense vpon it?

13 Know ye not what I and my fathers
haue done vnto all the people of other coun-treys? Where the gods of the nations of other lands are able to deliuer their land out of mine hand?

14 Altho is hee of all the gods of those nations (that my fathers haue destroyed)
that could deliuer his people out of mine hand, that your hand should bee able to deli-uer you out of mine hand?

15 Now therefore let not Hezekiah deceive you, nor seduce you after this sort, neither beleue ye him: for none of all the gods of any nation or kingdome was able to de-liuer his people out of mine hand, and out of the hand of my fathers: how much lesse shall your gods deliuer you out of mine hand?

16 And his seruants spake yet more against the Lord God, and against his seruant Hezekiah.

17 Hee wrote also letters, blaspheming
the Lord God of Israel, and speaking against him, saying, As the gods of the nations of other countreys could not deliuer their people out of mine hand, so shall not the God of Hezekiah deliuer his people out of mine hand.

18 Then they cryed with a loud voyce

in the Iewes speech vnto the people of Jerusalem that were on the wall, to feare them and to altonth them, that they might take the citie.

19 Thus they spake against the God of Ierusalem, as against the gods of the people of the earth: euen the works of mans hands.

20 But Hezekiah the king, and the Prophet Isaiah the sonne of Amoz, prayed against this, and cried to heauen,

21 And the Lord sent an Angel which destroyed all the valiant men, and the princes and captaynes of the hoste of the King of Asshur: so hee returned with shame to his owne land. And when hee was come into the house of his god, they that came forth of his owne bowels, slew him there with the sword.

22 So the Lord saved Hezekiah and the inhabitantes of Ierusalem from the hand of Saneherib King of Asshur, and from the hand of all other, and maintained them on euery side.

23 And many brought offerings vnto
the Lord to Ierusalem, and presents to Hezekiah king of Iudah, so that hee was ma-gnified in the sight of all nations from thence forth.

24 In those dayes Hezekiah was sicke
vnto the death, and prayed vnto the Lord who spake vnto him, and gaue him a signe.

25 But Hezekiah did not render according to the reward bellowed vpon him:
for his heart was lifted vp, and wrath came vpon him, and vpon Iudah and Ierusa-
lem.

26 Notwithstanding Hezekiah humbled himselfe (after that his heart was lifted vp) hee and the inhabitantes of Ierusalem, and the wrath of the Lord came not vpon them in the dayes of Hezekiah.

27 Hezekiah also had exceeding much riches and honour, and hee gaue him treasures of silver & of gold, and of precious stones, and of sweet odours, and of spices, and of all pleasant bests:

28 And of storehouses for the increase of wheate and wine, and oyle, and stables for all beasts, and for rows for the stables.

29 And hee made him cities, and had possession of sheepe and oxen in abundance:
for God had giuen him substance exceeding much.

30 This same Hezekiah also stopped the hyper water springs of Gihon, and ledde them straight vnderneath toward the citie
of Dauid Eastward. So Hezekiah prospered
in all his workes.

31 But because of the ambassadors of the princes of Babel, which sent vnto him to enquire of the wonder that was done in the land, God left him to try him, and to know
all that was in his heart.

32 Concerning the rest of the actes of Hezekiah, and his goodnesse, behold, they

Manasseh was twelve yeere old, when he beganne to reigne, and hee reigned five and sixtie yeere in Ierusalem:

2 And he did euill in the sight of the Lord like the abominations of the heathen, whom the Lord had cast out before the children of Israel.

3 For he went backe and builde the high places, which Jerzekiah his father had broken downe: and he set up altars for Baalim, and made groves, and worshipped all the hoste of the heauen, and serued them.

5 And hee builde Altars for all the hoste of the heauen, in the two courts of the house of the Lord.

6 And hee caused his sonnes to passe thorow the fire in the valley of Ben-hinnom: hee gaue himselfe to worldecraft, and to charming, and to soothsaying, and hee bled them that had familiar spirits, and soothsayers: hee did very much euill in the sight of the Lord to anger him.

7 He put also the carved images, which he had made, in the house of God, whereof God had said to David, and to Salomon his son, "In this house, and in Ierusalem which I haue chosen before all the tribes of Israel, will I put my name for euer."

8 Neither will I make the foot of Israel to remove any more out of the land which I haue appointed for your fathers, so that they take heed, and doe all that I haue commanded them, according to the Lawe and statutes, and ingements by the hand of Moyses.

9 So Manasseh made Iudah and the inhabitants of Ierusalem to erre, and to doe worse then the heathen, whom the Lord had destroyed before the children of Israel.

10 ¶ And the Lord spake to Manasseh and to his people, but they would not regard.

11 Wherefore the Lord brought vpon them the captaines of the hoste of the king of Asshur, which tooke Manasseh, and put him in fetters, and bound him in chaines, and caried him to Babel.

12 And when he was in tribulation, hee prayed to the Lord his God, & humbled himselfe greatly before the God of his fathers,

13 And prayed vnto him: and God was mercifull vnto him, and heard his prayer, and brought him againe to Ierusalem into his kingdome: then Manasseh knew that the Lord was God.

14 Now after this, he builde a wall without the cite of David, on the East side of Sion in the valley,auen at the entry of the fish gate, and compassed about Dylael, and railed it very high, & put captaines of warre in all the strong cities of Iudah.

15 And hee tooke away the strange gods, and the image out of the house of the Lord, and all the Altars that hee had builde in the mounes of the house of the Lord, and in Ierusalem, and cast them out of the cite.

16 Also hee prepared the Altar of the Lord, and sacrificed thereon peace offerings, and of thankes, and commanded Iudah to serue the Lord God of Israel.

17 Heeretherselfe, the people did sacrifice still in the high places, but vnto the Lord their God.

18 ¶ Concerning the rest of the actes of Manasseh, & his prayer vnto his God, and the words of the Seers, that spake to him in the name of the Lord God of Israel, behold, they are written in the booke of the Kings of Israel.

19 And his prayer, and how God was mercifull vnto him, and all his sin, and his trespass, and the places wherein hee builde high places, and set groves and images (before he was humbled) behold, they are written in the booke of the Seers.

20 So Manasseh slepe with his fathers, and they buried him in his own house, and Amon his sonne reigned in his stead.

21 ¶ Amon was two and twenty yeere old when he began to reigne, and reigned two yeere in Ierusalem.

22 But hee did euill in the sight of the Lord, as did Manasseh his father: for Amon sacrificed to all the images, which Manasseh his father had made, & serued them.

23 And hee humbled not himselfe before the Lord, as Manasseh his father had humbled himselfe: but this Amon trespassed more and more.

24 And his servants conspired against him, and slew him in his owne house.

25 But the people of the land slew all them that had conspired against King Amon, and the people of the land made Josiah his sonne king in his stead.

4 And they brake downe in his sight the altars of Baalim, and hee caused to cut downe the images that were on high upon them: he brake also the grones, and the carved images, and the molten images, and stamp'them to powder, and strowed it upon the graves of them that had sacrificed unto them.

5 Also he burnt the bones of the priests upon their altars, and purged Iudah and Ierusalem.

7 And when he had destroyed the altars and the grones, and had broken and stamped to powder the images, and had cut downe all the idoles throughout all the land of Israel, he returned to Ierusalem.

8 ¶ Then in the eighteenth yere of his reigne when he had purged the land and the Temple, hee sent Shaphan the sonne of Azaliah, and Baasabab the Governour of the citie, and Ioshah the sonne of Iohaz the Recorder, to repaire the house of the Lord his God.

9 And when they came to Ithikiah the high Priest, they delivered the money that was brought into the house of God, which the Levites that kept the doore had gathered at the hand of Manasseh and Ephraim, and of all the residue of Israel, and of all Iudah and Benjamin, and of the inhabitants of Ierusalem.

10 And they put it in the hands of them that should doe the worke, and had the oversight in the house of the Lord: and they gave it to the workmen that wrought in the house of the Lord, to repaire and amend the house.

11 Even to the workmen and to the builders gave they it, to buy hewed stone and timber for couples and for beames of the houses, which the kings of Iudah had destroyed.

12 And the men did the worke faithfully, and the overscers of them were Iahaz and Zababab the Levites, of the children of Bezari, and Zerahiah, and Gedullam, of the children of the Kohathites to set it forward: and of the Levites, all that could kill of instruments of musick.

13 And they were over the bearers of burdens, & them that set forward all the workmen in every worke, and of the Levites were scribes, and officers, and porters.

14 ¶ And when they brought out the money that was brought into the house of the Lord, Ithikiah the Priest found the booke of the Law of the Lord given by the hand of Moses.

15 Therefore Ithikiah answered, and said to Shaphan the chancelour, I have found the Booke of the Lawe in the house of the Lord: and Ithikiah gave the booke to Shaphan.

16 And Shaphan caried the booke to the king, and brought the king word again, saying, All that is committed to the hand of thy servants, that doe they.

17 For they have gathered the money that was found in the house of the Lord, and have delivered it into the hands of the overscers, and to the hands of the workmen.

18 Also Shaphan the chancelor declared to the king, saying, Ithikiah the Priest hath given mee a booke: and Shaphan read it before the king.

19 And when the King had heard the words of the Law, he tare his clothy.

20 And the King commaunded Ithikiah and Ahikam the sonne of Shaphan, and Abdon the sonne of Nibad, and Shaphan the chancelour, and Asaiab the Kings servant, saying,

21 Go and enquire of the Lord for me, and for the people of Israel and Iudah, concerning the word of this booke that is found: for great is the wrath of the Lord that is fallen upon vs, because our fathers have not kept the word of the Lord, to doe after all that is written in this booke.

22 Then Ithikiah and they that the king had appointed, went to Huldah the Prophetesse the wife of Shallum, the son of Ithobab, the sonne of Ithakab keeper of the wardrobe (and she dwelt in Ierusalem within the college) and they commaunded her of with her.

23 And he answered them, Thus saith the Lord God of Israel, Tell ye the man that sent you to me,

24 Thus saith the Lord, Behold, I will bring euill upon this place, and upon the inhabitants thereof, even all the curses that are written in the booke which they have read before the king of Iudah:

25 Because they have forsaken mee, and burnt incense unto other gods, to anger mee with all the workes of their hands, therefore shall my wrath fall upon this place, and shall not be quenched.

26 But to the king of Iudah, who sent you to enquire of the Lord, so shall ye say unto him, Thus saith the Lord God of Israel, The words which thou hast heard shal come to passe.

27 Because thine heart was not true, and thou didst humble thy selfe before God, when thou heardest his wordes against this place, and against the inhabitants thereof, & humbledst thy selfe before mee, and rarest thy clothes, and wepest before mee, I have also heard it, saith the Lord.

28 Behold, I will gather thee to thy fathers, and thou shalt be as one of the dead in peace, and thine eyes shall not see all the euill which I will bring upon this place, and upon the inhabitants of the same. Thus they brought the King word againe.

Jerusalem and Benjamin to stand to it: and the inhabitants of Jerusalem did according to the covenant of God, even y^e God of their nations out of all the countries that pertained to the children of Israel, and compiled all that were found in Israel, to serve the Lord their God: so all his daies they turned not backe from the Lord God of their fa-

CHAP. XXXV.

1 Iosiah keepeth the Passover. 2 He setteth forth Gods service. 30 He fighteth against the king of Egypt, and dieth. 24 The people beare aile him.

Moreover, Iosiah kept a Passover unto the Lord in Jerusalem, and they flew the Passover in the fourteenth day of the first month.

2 And he appointed the Priests to their charge, and encouraged them to the service of the house of the Lord.

3 And hee sayde unto the Levites that taught all Israel, and were sanctified unto the Lord. But the holy Ark in the house which Salomon the sonne of David king of Israel did build: it shalbe no more: burden upon your shoulders: serve now the Lord your God, and his people Israel.

4 And prepare your selves by the houses of your fathers according to your courses, as David the King of Israel hath written, and according to the writing of Salomon
his sonne.

5 And stand in the Sanctuary according to the division of the families of your brethren: & the children of the people, and after the division of the family of the Levites:

6 So kill the Passover, and sanctifie your selves, and prepare your brethren, that they may doe according to the word of the Lord
by the hand of Moses.

7 Iosiah also gave to the people sheepe, lambs, and kids, all for the Passover, even to all that were present, to the number of thirty thousand, and three thousand bul-locks: these were of the kings substance.

8 And his Princes offered willingly unto the people, to the Priests, and to the Levites: Wilkiah, and Zechariah, and Jehiel, rulers of the house of God, gave unto the Priests for the Passover, even two thousand and five hundred sheepe, and three hundred bullocks.

9 Conaniah also and Shemaiah, and Jerahmeel his brethren, and Pashabab and Jehiel, and Joazabab, chiefes of the Levites gave unto the Levites for the Passover, five thousand sheepe, and five hundred bul-locks.

10 Thus the service was prepared, and the Priests stood in their places, also the Levites in their orders, according to the kings commandment:

11 And they flew the Passover, and the Priests sprinkled the blood with their hands, and the Levites slayed them.

12 And they tooke away from the burnt offering to give it according to the divisions of the families of the children of the people, to offer unto the Lord, as it is written in the booke of Moses, and so of the bullocks.

13 And they roasted the Passover with fire, according to the custome, but the sanctified things they sod in pots, pannes, and cal-drons, and distributed them quickly to all the people.

14 Afterward also they prepared for themselves, and for the Priests: for the Priests
the sonnes of Aaron were occupied in offering of burnt offerings, and the fat untill night: therefore the Levites prepared for themselves, and for the Priests the sonnes of Aaron.

15 And the Singers the sonnes of Asaph stood in their standing: according to the commandment of David, and Asaph, and Heman, and Jeduthun the Kings Servants: and y^e porters at every gate, who might not depart from their service: their brethren
the Levites prepared for them.

16 So all the service of the Lord was prepared the same day to keepe the Passover, and to offer burnt offerings upon the altar of the Lord, according to the commandment of King Iosiah.

17 And the children of Israel that were present, kept the Passover the same time, and the feast of the unleavened bread seven daies.

18 And there was no Passover kept like that in Israel, from the daies of Samuel the Prophet: neither did all the kings of Israel keepe such a Passover as Iosiah kept, and the Priests and the Levites, and all Judah and Israel that were present, and the inhabitants of Jerusalem.

19 This Passover was kept in the eighteenth yeere of the reigne of Iosiah.

20 After all this, when Iosiah had prepared the Temple, Necho king of Egypt came by to fight against Carchemish by Berach, and Iosiah went out against him.

21 But he sent messengers to him, saying,
What have I to doe with thee, thou king of Judah? I come not against thee this day, but against the house of mine enemy, and God commanded me to make haste: leave off to come against God, which is with me, lest he destroy thee.

22 But Iosiah would not turne his face from him, but changed his apparel to fight with him, and hearkened not unto the words of Archo, which were of the mouth of God, but came to fight in the valley of Megiddo.

m The people so much lamented the loss of this good king, that after when there was any great lamentation, this was spoken of as a proverb, read Zech. 12. 11. n Which some thinke Ieremy made, wherein he lamenteth the state of the Church after this kings death,

23 And the shooters shot at the king Iosiah: then the king saide to his servants, Carry me away, for I am very sicke.

24 So his servantsooke him out of that charret, & put him in the second charret which hee had, and when they had brought him to Jerusalem, hee died, and was buried in the sepulchres of his fathers: and all Iudah and Jerusalem mourned for Iosiah.

25 And Ieremiah lamented Iosiah, and all singing men and singing women mourned for Iosiah in their lamentations to this day, and made the same for an ordinance unto Israel: and behold, they be written in the Lamentations.

Then the people of the land tooke Ichoahaz the sonne of Iosiah, and made him king in his fathers stead in Jerusalem.

2 Ichoahaz was thre and twentie yeere old when he began to reigne, and he reigned thre moneths in Jerusalem.

a For three months after the death of Iosiah, came Necho to Jerusalem, and so the plagues began which Huldah and the Prophets forewarned should come upon Ierusalem.

3 And the king of Egypt came Necho to Jerusalem, and so the plagues began which Huldah and the Prophets forewarned should come upon Ierusalem.

b To pay this as a yearly tribute, c Because he and the people turned not to God by his first plague, hee brought a new upon him, and at length rooted them out.

4 And the king of Egypt made Eliakim his brother king over Iudah and Jerusalem, and turned his name to Iehoiakim: and Necho tooke Ichoahaz his brother, and carried him to Egypt.

d. King. 24. 3. d He meant superstitious marks, which were found upon his body when he was dead:

5 Iehoiakim was fine and twenty yeere old when he began to reigne, and he reigned eleven yeere in Jerusalem, and did euill in the sight of the Lord his God.

e Which thing declared how deeply idolatry was rooted in his heart, seeing hee bore the marks in his flesh.

6 Against him came up Nebuchad-nezzar king of Babel, and bound him with chaines, to carry him to Babel.

7 Nebuchad-nezzar also carried the vessels of the house of the Lord to Babel, and put them in his Temple at Babel.

f That is, he began his reigne at eight yeere old, and reigned ten yeeres when his father was alive, and after his fathers death, which was the eighteenth yeere of his age, he reigned alone three months and ten dayes.

8 Concerning the rest of the acts of Iehoiakim, and his abominations which hee did, and that which was found upon him, behold, they are written in the booke of the kings of Israel and Iudah: and Iehoiachin his sonne reigned in his stead.

9 Iehoiachin was eight yeere old when he began to reigne, and he reigned three months and ten dayes in Jerusalem, and did euill in the sight of the Lord.

10 And when the yeere was out, King Nebuchad-nezzar first and brought him to Babel, with the precious vessels of the house of the Lord, and he made Zedekiah his brother king over Iudah and Jerusalem.

11 Zedekiah was one and twenty yeere old when he began to reigne, and reigned eleven yeeres in Jerusalem.

12 And he did euill in the sight of the Lord his God, and humbled not himselfe before Ieremiah the Prophet at the commandment of the Lord.

13 But he rebelled moreouer against Nebuchad-nezzar, which had caused him to swear by God: and he hardened his necke, and made his heart obstinate, that he might not returne to the Lord God of Israel.

14 All the chiefs of the Priestes also, and of the people trespassed wonderfully, according to all the abominations of the heathen, and polluted the house of the Lord which he had sanctified in Jerusalem.

15 Therefore the Lord God of their fathers sent to them by his messengers, rising early and sending: for he had compassion on his people, and on his habitation.

16 But they mocked the messengers of God, and despised his wordes, and mistold his Prophets, vntill the word of the Lord arose against his people, and till there was no remedy.

17 For hee brought vpon them the King of the Caldeans, who slew their young men with the sword in the house of their Sanctuary, and spared neither young man nor virgin, ancient nor aged: God gaue all into his hand.

18 And all the vessels of the house of God great and small, and the treasures of the house of the Lord, and the treasures of the king, and of his princes: all these carried hee to Babel.

19 And they burnt the house of God, and brake downe the wall of Jerusalem, burnt all the palaces thereof with fire, and all the precious vessels thereof to destroy all.

20 And they that were left by the sword, carried he away to Babel, and they were seruants to him: and to his sonnes, vntill the kingdome of the Persians had rule.

21 To fulfill the word of the Lord by the mouth of Ieremiah, vntill the land had her fill of her Sabbaths: for all the dayes that shee lay desolate, she kept Sabbath, to fulfill seventy yeeres.

22 ¶ But in the first yeere of Cyrus King of Persia, (when y word of the Lord spoken by the mouth of Ieremiah, was fulfilled) the Lord stirred by the spirit of Cyrus king of Persia, and he made a Proclamation to shew all his kingdome, and also by writing, saying,

23 Thus saith Cyrus king of Persia, All the kingdomes of the earth hath the Lord God of heauen giuen me, and he hath commanded me to build him an house in Jerusalem that is in Iudah. Who is among you of all his people, with whom the Lord his God is? let him goe up.

24. 1. God had so forewarned by his Prophet about an hundred yeres before Cyrus was borne, that Ierusalem and the Temple should bee buile againe by Cyrus his anointed: so called because God vied his seruice for a time to deliver his Church.

The prayer of Manasseh, king of the Iewes.

This prayer is not in the Hebrew, but is translated out of the Greek.

O Lord Almighty, God of our fathers Abraham, Iſhak, and Jacob, and of these righteous seed, which hast made heauen and earth with all their ornament, which hast bound the sea by the word of thy commandement, which hast shut vp the deepe, and sealed it by thy terrible and glorious flame, whom all doe feare, and reuerence before thy power: for the might of thy power cannot be borne, and thine anger threatening toward sinners is importable, but thy mercifull promise is unmeasurable & vnsearchable. For thou art the most high Lord, of great compassion, long suffering, and most mercifull and repentest for mans miseries. Thou, O Lord, according to thy great goodnesse hast promised repentance and forgiveness to them that sinne against thee, and for thine infinite mercies hast appointed repentance vnto sinners, that they may bee saued. Thou therefore O Lord, that art the God of the iust, hast not appointed repentance to the iust, as to Abraham, and Isaac, and Jacob, which haue not sinned against thee, but thou hast appointed repentance vnto me, that am a sinner: for I haue sinned aboue the number of the sand of the sea. My transgressions, O Lord, are multiplied: my transgressions are exceeding many: and I am not worthy to behold and see the height of the heauens, for the multitude of mine vniustice. I am bound downe with many yron bands, that I cannot lift vp mine head, neither haue any release. For I haue prouoked thy wrath, and done euill before thee. I did not thy will, neither kept I thy commandements. I haue set by abominations, and haue multiplied offences. Now therefore I bow the knee of mine heart, beseeching thee of grace. I haue sinned, O Lord, I haue sinned, and I acknowledge my transgressions: but I humbly beseech thee, forgive me, O Lord, forgive me, and destroy me not with my transgressions. Be not angry with me for ever by refusing euill for me, neither condemne mee into the lower parts of the earth. For thou art the God, even the God of them that repent: and in me thou wilt shew all thy goodness: for thou wilt saue me that am vniust, according to thy great mercy: therefore I will praise thee for ever all the dayes of my life. For all the powers of the heauens praise thee, and thine is the glory for ever and euer. Amen.

a Thou hast promised that repentance shall be the way for them to returne to thee.
b He speaketh this in comparison of himselfe, and those holy Fathers which haue their commendation in the Scriptures, to that in respect of him selfe he collecteth their finnes nothing, but attributeth vnto them righteousness.

Ezra.

THE ARGUMENT.

As the Lord is mercifull vnto his Church, and doeth not punish them, but to the intent they should see their owne miseries, and bee exercised vnder the crosse, that they might contemne the world, and aspire vnto the heauens: so after that he had visited the Iewes, and kept them now in bondage fcutie yeeres in a strange country, among infidels and idolaters, he remembered his tender mercies and their infirmities, and therefore for his owne sake raised them vp a Deliuerer, and moued both the heart of the chiefe ruler to pittie them, and also by him punished such which had kept them in seruitude. Notwithstanding lest they should grow into a contempt of Gods great benefit, he keepeth them still in exercise, and raiseth domesticall enemies, which endeavour as much as they can to hinder their most worthy enterprises: yet by the exhortation of the Prophets they went forward by little and little till their worke was finished. The author of this booke was Ezra, who was Priest and Scribe of the Law, as Chap. 7. 6. He returned to Ierusalem the six yeere of Darius, who succeeded Cyrus, that is, about fcutie yeeres after the returne of the first vnder Zerubbabel, when the Temple was built. He brought with him a great company, and much treasures, with letters to the Kings officers for all such things as should be necessary for the Temple: and at his coming hee redressed that which was amisse, and set the things in good order.

CHAP. I.

1 Cyrus sendeth against the people that was in captiuitie, & restoreth them their holy vessels.

Now in the first yere of Cyrus King of Persia (that the word of the Lord, spoken by the mouth of Ieremias, might be accomplished) the Lord stirred up the spirit of Cyrus King of Persia, and hee made a proclamation throughout all his kingdomes, and also by writing, saying,

2 Thus saith Cyrus king of Persia, The Lord God of heauen hath giuen me all the kingdomes of the earth, and hee hath commanded me to build him an house in Ierusalem, which is in Iudah.

3 Who is he among you of all his people with whom his God is: let him goe vp to Ierusalem, which is in Iudah, and build the house of the Lord God of Israel: hee is the God which is in Ierusalem.

4 And eueryone that remaineth in any place (where hee so louerneth) let the men of his place relieve him with silver and with golde, and with habdasher, and with cagell, and with a willing offering, for the house of God that is in Ierusalem.

5 Then the chiefe fathers of Iudah and Benjamin, and the Priests and Leuites rose vp, with all them whose spirit God had raised to goe vp to build the house of the Lord which is in Ierusalem.

e If any through poverty werenot able to returne, the Kings commission was that he should be furnished with necessities, f Which they themselves should send toward the reparacion of the Temple.

And ¹ when the ² twentieth month was come, and the children of Israel were in their cities, the people ascribed themselves
as one man unto Jerusalem.

2 Then stood up Iehua the sonne of Jozadak, and his brethren the Priestes, and Zerubbabel the sonne of Shealtiel, and his brethren, and builded the Altar of the God of Israel, to offer burnt offerings thereon, as it is written in the Lawe of Moyses, the man of God.

3 And they set the Altar upon ³ his bases (for feare was among them, because of the people of those countreys) therefore they offered burnt offerings thereon unto the Lord, even burnt offerings in the morning, and at even.

4 They kept also the feast of the Tabernacles, as it is written, and the burnt offering ⁴ daily, by number according to the cus-tome day by day,

5 And afterward ⁵ the continuall burnt offering, both in the new monthes and in all the feast dayes that were consecrate unto the Lord, and in all the oblations willingly offered unto the Lord.

6 From the first day of the twentieth mo-neth began they to offer burnt offerings unto the Lord: but the foundation of the Temple of the Lord was not layd.

7 They gaue money also unto the masons, and to the workemen, and meate and drinke and oyle unto them of Shilon and of Tyus to bring them Cedar wood from Lebanon to the sea vnto Japho, according to the graunt that they had of Cyrus King of Persia.

8 And in the second yeeare of their com-ming unto the house of God in Jerusalem in the second month began Zerubbabel the sonne of Shealtiel, and Iehua the sonne of Jozadak, and the remnant of their brethren the Priestes and the Levites, and all they that were come out of the captivity vnto Jerusalem, and appointed the Levites from twenty yere olde and above, to set forward
the worke of the house of the Lord.

9 And Iehua ⁶ stood with his sonnes, and his brethren, and Rabinel with his sonnes, and the sonnes of Judah together to set forward the workemen in y⁷ house of God, and the sonnes of Benadab with their sons,
and their brethren the Levites.

10 And when the builders layd the foundation of the Temple of the Lord, they appointed the Priestes in their apparell with trumpets, and the Levites the sonnes of Alaph with Cymbals, to praye the Lord, after the ordinance of David King of Israel.

11 Thus they sang when they gaue praise,
and when they gaue thanks unto the Lord,
For hee is good, for his mercy endureth foreuer toward Israel. And all the people shouted with a great shout, when they prayd
the Lord, because the foundation of the house of the Lord was layd.

2 The building of the Temple was hindered, and how.
11 Letters to Artaxerxes, and the answers.

11 UNTO the adversaries of Judah and Benjamin heard, that the children of the captivity builded the Temple unto the Lord God of Israel.

2 And they came to Zerubbabel, & to the chiefe fathers, and said unto them, Wee will build with you: for wee seeke the Lord your God, as ye doe, and wee have sacrificed unto him, since the time of Aharabaddon King of Assur, which brought vs by hither.

3 Then Zerubbabel, and Jeshua, and the rest of the chiefe fathers of Israel, layd unto them, It is not for you, but for vs to builde the house unto our God: for wee our selves together will build it unto the Lord God of Israel, as King Cyrus the King of Persia hath commanded vs.

4 Therefore the people of the land & discouraged the people of Judah, and troubled them in building,

5 And they hired counsellors against them, to hinder their deuter, all the dayes of Cyrus king of Persia, even untill the reigne of Darius King of Persia.

6 And in the reigne of Ahasuerus (in the beginning of his reigne) wrote they an accusation against the inhabitants of Judah and Jerusalem.

7 And in the dayes of Artabastate, Mithredath, Tabeel, & the rest of their companions wrote when it was peace, unto Artabastate King of Persia, and the writing of the letter was the Aramites writing, and the thing declared was in the language of the Aramites.

8 Rehums the chanceller, and Shimshai the Scribe wrote a letter against Jerusalem to Artabastate the King, in this sort.

9 Then wrote Rehums the chanceller, and Shimshai the Scribe, and their companions, Dinaith, and Appharabate, Tarpasait, Appharait, Archate, Babelait, Shushanchate, Debaire, Elimate,

10 And the rest of the people whome the great and noble Ahasuerus brought over and set in the cities of Samaria, and other that are beyond the River and Cheeneth.

11 This is the copie of the letter that they sent unto King Artabastate, THE SERVANTS the men beyond the River and Cheeneth, salute thee.

g Some think it was Saneherib, but rather Salmassar, h To wit, Euphrates, & he meant in respect of Babel, i They dwelt beyond it, i Which were a certain people & envied the Jewes.

12 Be it knowne unto the King, that the Jewes which came up from thee to vs, are come unto Jerusalem (a citie rebellious and wicked) and build, and lay the foundations of the wallles, and have toryed the foundations.

13 Be it knowne now unto the king, that if this citie be built, and the foundations of the wallles layd, they will not give tolle, tribute, nor custome: so shalt thou hinder the Kings tribute.

14 Now therefore because we have bin brought up in the Kings palace, it was not meete for vs to see the Kings dishonour: for this cause have wee sent and certified the King,

15 That one may search in the booke of the Chyonicles of thy fathers, and thou shalt finde in the booke of the Chyonicles, and percieve that this citie is rebellious and noysome unto Kings and provinces, and that they have moved sedition of olde time, for the which cause this citie was destroyed.

16 We certifie the King therefore, that if this citie bee builded, and the foundation of the wallles layd, by this means the portion beyond the River shall not be thine.

17 The King sent an answer unto Rehums the Chanceller, and Shimshai the Scribe, and to the rest of their companions that dwelt in Samaria, and unto the other beyond the River, Shelam, and Chereb.

18 The letter which yee sent unto vs, hath bene openly read before me, 19 And I have commanded and they have searched, and founde, that this citie of olde time hath made insurrection against Kings, and hath rebelled, and rebellion hath bene committed therein.

20 These have bene mighty Kings also over Jerusalem, which have ruled over all beyond the River, and tolle, tribute, and custome was given unto them.

21 Make ye now a decree, that those men may cease, and that the citie be not built till I have given another commandement.

22 Take heed now that ye faile not to do this: why should damage grow to hurt the King?

23 When the copie of King Artabastates letter was read before Rehums & Shimshai the Scribe, and their companions, they went up in all the haste to Jerusalem unto the Jewes, and caused them to cease by force and power.

24 Then ceased the worke of the house of God, which was in Jerusalem, and did stay unto the second yeere of Darius King of Persia.

arose, and began to build the house of God at Jerusalem; & with them were the Prophets of God, which helped them.

3 ¶ At the same time came to them Tatnai, which was captaine beyond the river, and Serberboznai and their companions, and sayde thus unto them, Altho hath given you commandement to build this house, and to lay the foundations of these wals?

4 ¶ Then sayd wee unto them after this manner, What are the names of the men that build this building?

5 But the eye of their God was upon the Elders of the Jewes, that they could not cause them to cease, till the matter came to Darius; and then they answered by letters thereunto.

6 The copie of the letter, that Tatnai captaine beyond the River, and Serberboznai and his companions, Apharhache, (which were beyond the River) sent unto king Darius.

7 They sent a letter unto him wherein it was written thus, VNTO DARIUS the king, all peace.

8 We it knowen unto the king, that wee went into the Prouince of Iudea, to the house of the great God, which is builded with great stones, and beames are layde in the wals, and this worke is wrought speedily, and prospereth in their hands.

9 Then asked we those Elders, and said unto them thus, Altho hath given you commandement to build this house, and to lay the foundation of these wals?

10 Wee asked their names also, that wee might certifie thee, and that wee might write the names of the men that were their rulers.

11 But they answered vs thus, and sayde, Wee are the seruants of the God of heauen and earth, and builde the house that was built of old and many yeeres agoe, which a great king of Israel builded, and founded it.

12 But after that our fathers had prouoked the God of heauen unto wrath, he gaue them ouer into the hand of Nebuchadnezar king of Babel the Caldean, and he destroyed this house, and caried the people away captiue unto Babel.

13 But in the first yeece of Cyrus king of Babel, king Cyrus made a decree to build this house of God.

14 And the vessels of golde and siluer of the house of God, which Nebuchadnezar tooke out of the Temple that was in Jerusalem, and brought them into the Temple of Babel, those did Cyrus the king take out of the Temple of Babel, and they gaue them unto one Shefthazzar by his name, whom he had made captaine.

15 And he sayd vnto him, Take these vessels & go thy way, and put them in the Temple that is in Jerusalem, and let the house of God be built in his place.

16 Then came the same Shefthazzar, and layde the foundation of the house of God, which is in Jerusalem, and since that time euen until now, hath it bene in building, yet is it not finished.

17 Nowe therefore if it please the king, let there bee search made in the house of the kings treasures, which is therein Babel, whether a decree hath bene made by king Cyrus, to build this house of God in Jerusalem, and let the king send his intnde concerning this.

CHAP. VI.

At the commandement of Darius king of Persia, after the Temple was builded and dedicated, the children of Israel kept the feast of unleavened bread.

Then king Darius gaue commandement, and they made search in the library of the treasures, which were there layd up in Babel.

2 And there was found in a coffer (in the palace that was in the prouince of the Medes) a volume, and therein was it thus written, as a memoriall.

3 IN THE FIRST yeece of King Cyrus, King Cyrus made a decree for the house of God in Jerusalem, Let the house be built, euen the place where they offered sacrifices, and let the wals thereof be ioyned together: let the height thereof be threescor cubites, and the breadth thereof threescor cubites.

4 There be orders of great stones, and one order of timber, and let the expenles bee giuen of the Kings house.

5 And also let them render the vessels of the house of God (of golde and siluer, which Nebuchadnezar tooke out of the Temple which was in Jerusalem, and brought vnto Babel) and let him goe into the Temple that is in Jerusalem to his place, & put them in the house of God.

6 Therefore Tatnai captaine beyond the river, and Serberboznai, (and their companions Apharhache, which are beyond the river) be ye farre from thence.

7 Suffer yee the worke of this house of God, that the captaine of the Jewes and the Elders of the Jewes may build this house of God in his place.

8 For I haue giuen a commandement what yeshall do to the Elders of these Jewes for the building of this house of God, that of the reuenues of the king, which is of the tribute beyond the river, there bee continually expenles giuen vnto these men that they cease not.

9 And that which they shall haue neede of, let it bee giuen vnto them day by day, whether it bee young bullockes, or rammes, or lambs for the burnt offerings of the God of heauen, wheate, salt, wine and oyle, according to the appointment of the Priestes that are in Jerusalem, that there bee no fault.

10 That they may haue to offer sweete odours vnto the God of heauen, and pray for the kings life, and for his sonnes.

11 And I haue made a decree, that whosoener shall alter this sentence, the wood shall bee pulled downe from his house, and shall bee set vp, and hee shall bee hanged thereon.

8 And hee came to Ieruſalem in the fiſt moneth, which was in the ſeuenth yeere of the king.

9 For vpon the fiſt day of the fiſt moneth began hee to goe vp from Babel, and on the fiſt day of the fiſt moneth came hee to Ieruſalem, according to the good hande of his God that was vpon him.

10 For Ezra had prepared his heart to ſerke the Lawe of the Lord, and to doe it, and to teach the precepts and iudgements in Iſrael.

11 ¶ And this is the copie of the letter that king Artabhaſte gaue vnto Ezra the Prieſt and ſcribe, euen a writer of the wordes of the commandements of the Lord, and of his ſtatutes ouer Iſrael.

14 And of the sonnes of Bigvai, Uthai, and Zabbud, and with them twenty males.

15 And I gathered them to the River that goeth toward Ahava, and there abode wee three dayes: then I blessed the people, and the Priests, and found there none of the sonnes of Lem.

16 Therefore sent I to Elizer, to Arid, to Shemariah, and to Elnathan, and to Jarib, and to Elnathan, and to Sarban, and to Zechariah, and to Meshullam the chiefe and to Zechariah, and to Elnathan, men of understanding,

18 So by the good hand of our God, which was upon us, they brought us a man of understanding of the sonnes of Zabai the sonne of Luit the sonne of Israel, and Sherebia with his sonnes and his brethren, even eightene.

19 Also Vashabiah, and with him Jeshalah of the sonnes of Serai, with his brethren and their sonnes twenty.

CHAP. IX.

¶ Ezra complaineth on the people that had turned themselves from God, and married with the Gentiles.
5 He prayeth vnto God.

W^Hen^e as these things were done, the rulers came to mee, saying, The people of Israel, and the Priests and the Le-uites are not separated from the people of the lands (as touching their abominations) to wit, of the Canaanites, the Hittites, the Perizzites, the Jebusites, the Ammonites, the Moabites, the Egyptians, and the Amoorites.

2 For they haue taken their daughters to themselves, and to their sonnes, and they haue mixed the holy seed with the people of the lands, and the hand of the^e princes and rulers haue bene chiefe in this trespass.

3 But when I heard this saying, I rent
my clothes and my garment, and I plucked off the haire of mine head, and of my beard, and late downe^e astonished.

4 And there assembled vnto mee all that feared the words of the God of Israel, because of the transgression of them of the cap-tiuitie. And I late downe astonished until the evening sacrifice.

5 And at the evening sacrifice I arose vp from mine heavinesse, and when I had rent
my clothes and my garment, I fell vpon my knees, and I spread our mine hands vnto the Lord my God,

6 And said, O my God, I am confounded and ashamed to lift vp mine eyes vnto thee, my God: for our iniquities are increased ouer^e our head, and our trespass is grow-en vp vnto^e the heauen.

7 From the dayes of our fathers haue
we bene in a great trespass vnto this day,
and for our iniquities haue wee, our kings,
and our priests bene deliuered into the hand of the kings of the lands, vnto the sword, into captiuitie, into a yoke, and into confusion of face, as appeareth this day.

8 And now for a little space, grace hath bene shewed from the Lord our God, in cau-ting a remnant to escape, and in giuing vs a

but hath inclined mercy vnto vs in the sight of the kings of Persia, to giue vs life, and to erect the house of our God, and to redresse the desolate places thereof, and to giue vs a wall

10 And now, our God, what shall wee say after this? for wee haue forsaken thy Com-mandements,

11 Which thou hast commanded by thy seruants the Prophets, saying, The^e land whereunto ye goe to possesse it, is an vncleane land, because of the filthinesse of the people of the lands, which by their abominations, and by their uncleannesse haue filled it from corner to corner.

12 Now therefore shall yee not giue your daughters vnto their sonnes, neither shall yee take their daughters vnto your sonnes, nor seeke their peace: as I was for ever, that ye may be strong and eat the goodnesse of the land, and leaue it for an inheritance to your sonnes for ever.

13 And after all that is come vpon vs for our enill deeds, and for our great trespasses, (seeing that thou our God hast staied vs from being beneath^e for our iniquities, and hast giuen vs such deliurance.)

14 Should we returne to breake thy com-mandements, and to yne in assistance with the people of such abominations? wouldst not thou be angry towards vs till thou hadst consumed vs, so that there should bee no remnant

^a He sheweth that God is just in punishing his people, and yet mercifull in referring a residue to whom he sheweth favour.

we have been^a referred to escape, as appeareth this day: behold, we are before thee in our trespass: therefore we cannot stand before thee because of it.

C H A P. X.

^a The people repent and turne, and put away their fringe wines.

^a Esdr. 8. 90. ^a He confessed his finnes and the finnes of the people.

Wiles^a Ezra prayed thus, and^a confessed himselfe weeping, and falling downe before the house of God, there assembled unto him of Israel a very great Congregation of men and women, and children: for the people wept with a great lamentation.

^b Meaning, that God would receive them to mercy.

2 Then Shebaniab the sonne of Iehiel one of the sonnes of Elam, answered, and saide to Ezra, We have trespassed against our God, and have taken strange wines of the people of the land, yet now there is^b hope in Israel concerning this.

3 Now therefore let vs make a covenant with our God, to put away^c all the wines, (and such as are borne of them) according to the counsell of the Lord, and of those that feare the commandments of our God, and let it be done according to the Law.

^d Because God hath given thee authority, and learning to persuade the people hither, and to command them,

4 Arise: for the matter^d is longerth unto thee: we also will be with thee: bee of comfort, and doe it.

5 Then arose Ezra, and caused the chiefe Priests, the Levites, and all Israel to swear, that they would doe according to this word. So they sware.

6 And Ezra rose up from before^e the house of God, and went into the chamber of Jobanan the sonne of Elashib: hee went thither, but hee did eat neither bread, nor drinke water: for hee mourned because of the transgression of them of the captivitie.

^f Iste, sonnes of the captivitie.

7 And they caused a proclamation to goe throughout Iudah and Ierusalem, unto^f all them of the captivitie, that they should assemble themselves unto Ierusalem.

^g Or, condemned.

8 And whosoever would not come with-in these dayes according to the counsell of the Princes and Elders, all his substance should bee^g forfeit, and hee should bee separate from the Congregation of them of the captivitie.

9 Then all the men of Iudah & Benjamin assembled themselves unto Ierusalem within three dayes, which was the twentieth day of the ninth month, and all the people late in the street of the house of God, trembling for this matter, and for the^h raine.

ⁱ For the season was given to raine, and so the weather was more sharpe and colde, and also their conscience touched them.

10 And Ezra the Priest stood up and said unto them, We have transgressed, and have taken strange wines, to increase the trespass of Israel.

^j Ye have laid one sinne vpon another.

11 Now therefore^j give praye unto the Lord God of your fathers, and doe his will, and separate your selves from the people of the land, and from the strange wines.

^k Reads Iosha. 7. 14.

12 And all the Congregation answered, and said with a loud voyce, So will we doe according to thy words unto vs.

13 But the people are many, and it is a rairie weather, and we are not able to stand without, neither is it the worke of one day or two: for we are many that have offended in this thing.

14 Let our rulers stand thereforeⁱ before all the Congregation, and let all them which have taken strange wines in our cities, come at the time appointed, and with them the Elders of every citie, and the Iudges thereof, till the fierce wrath of our God for this matter turne away from vs.

15 Then were appointed Jonathan the sonne of Abih-el, and Jahaziah the sonne of Tiknah over this matter, and Bethullam, and Sabberthai the Levites helped them.

16 And they of the captivitie did so, and departed, even Ezra the Priest, and the men that were chiefe fathers to the familie of their fathers by name, and late downe in the first day of the tenth month to examine the matter.

17 And untill the first day of the first month they were finishing the businesse with all the men that had taken strange wines.

18 And of the sonnes of the Priests there were men found, that had taken strange wines: to wit, of the sonnes of Iesua, the sonne of Iozabad, and of his brethren, Maasiah, Alishzer, and Jarib, and Gedaliah.

19 And they gave^k their hands that they would put away their wines, and they that had trespassed, gave a examine for their trespass.

20 And of the sonnes of Immer, Donan, and Jehadiah.

23 And of the Levites, Iozabad, & Shimeel, and Kelalah (which is Keliah) Perabiah, Judah, and Elizer.

24 And of the singers, Elashib. And of the porters, Shalum, and Talem, and Uri.

25 And of^l Israel of the sonnes of Baruch, Ramtah, and Iestiah, and Balchiah, and Hamin, and Eleazar, and Balchiah, and Benaiab.

26 And of the sonnes of Elam, Mattaniah, Zechariah, and Iehiel, and Abdi, and Jeremoth, and Eliab.

27 And of the sonnes of Zattu, Elionai, Elashib, Mattaniah, and Jeremoth, and Zabad, and Aiza.

28 And of the sonnes of Bebai, Iehobanan, Hananiah, Zabbai, Aithai.

29 And of the sonnes of Bani, Meshulam, Baluch, and Adajah, Iahub, and Sheel, Jeremoth.

30 And of the sonnes of^m Pahath Moab, Adna, and Chelab, Bmaiah, Baasiah, Mattaniah, Bezaleel, and Binnui, and Manasseh.

31 And of the sonnes of Harim, Elizer, Ithiah, Balchiah, Shemaiab, Shimon, and Beniamin, Baluch, Shamariah.

32 Of the sonnes of Bashaer, Mattaniah, Mattataab, Zabad, Eliphelet, Jeremai, Manasseh, Shemei.

^k They went to the chiefe cities, to sit on this matter, which was three months in finishing.

Nehemiah.

THE ARGUMENT.

God doth in all ages and at all times set up worthy persons for the commoditie and profit of his Church, as now within the compasse of leuentic yeeres he raised up diuers excellent men for the preferuation of his people, after the returne from Babylon : as Zerubbabel, Ezra, and Nehemiah. Whereof the first was their captaine to bring them home, and provided that the Temple was builded: the second reformed their manners, and planted religion : and the third builded up the wals, deliuered the people from oppression, and provided that the Lawe of God was put in execution among them. He was a godly man and in great authoritie with the King, so that the King fauoured him greatly, and gaue him most ample letters for the accomplishment of all things which he could desire. This booke is also called of the Latines the second of Ezra, because he was the writer thereof.

CHAP. I.

4 Nehemiah bewaileth the calamitie of Ierusalem,
5 Hee confesse the finnes of the people, and prayeth God for them.

He wordes of Nehemiah, the sonne of Hachaniab. In the month of Chislen, in the twentieth yeere, as I was in the palace of Shushan,

2 Came Hanani one of my brethren, hee and the men of Iudah: and I asked them concerning the Iewes that were deliuered, which were of the residue of the captiuitie, and concerning Ierusalem.

3 And they saide vnto mee, The residue that are left of the captiuitie thre in the province, are in great affliction and in reproch, and the wall of Ierusalem is broken downe, and the gates thereof are burnt with fire.

4 And when I heard these wordes, I sate downe and wept, and mourned certaine dayes, and I fasted and prayed before the God of heauen,

5 And said, O Lord God of heauen, the great and terrible God, that keepeth covenant and mercy for them that loue him, and obserue his Commandements,

6 I pray thee, let thine eares bee attent, and thine eyes open, to heare the prayer of thy seruant, which I pray before thee dayly, day and night for the children of Israel thy seruantes, and confesse the finnes of the children of Israel, which we haue sinned against thee, both I and my fathers house haue sinned:

7 Wee haue grievously sinned against thee, we haue not kept the commandements, nor the statutes, nor the iudgements which thou commandest thy seruant Moses.

8 I beseech thee remember the word that thou commandest thy seruant Moses, saying, Be thou diligent, and thou shalt prosper, and thou shalt prosper, and thou shalt prosper.

9 But if ye turne vnto me, and keepe my commandements, and doe them, though your scattering were to the uttermost part of the heauen, yet will I gather you from thence, and will bring you vnto the place that I haue chosen to place my Name there.

10 Now these are thy seruants and thy people, whom thou hast redeemed by thy great power, and by thy mighty hand.

11 O Lord, I beseech thee, let thine eare now hearken to the prayer of thy seruant, and to the prayer of thy seruants who desire to feare thy Name, and I pray thee, cause thy seruant to prosper this day, and giue him fauour in the presence of this man: for I was the kings butler.

CHAP. II.

1 After Nehemiah had obtained letters of Artaxerxes, he came to Ierusalem, and builded the wals.

Now in the month of Nissan, the twentieth yeere of King Artaxerxes, the wine flood befell him, and I tooke by the wine, and gaue it vnto the King. Now I was not before time sad in his presence.

2 And the king said vnto me, Why is thy countenance sad, seeing thou art not sick? this is nothing but sorrowe of heart. Then was I sad againe,

3 And I saide to the King, God saue the King for ever: why should not my countenance bee sad, when the city and boult of the sepulchres of my fathers lieth wast, and the gates thereof are deuoured with fire?

4 And the King saide vnto me, For what thing dost thou requite? Then I prayed to the God of heauen,

5 And saide vnto the King, If it please the King, and if thy seruant haue found fauour in thy sight, I desire that thou wouldest send me to Iudah vnto the cite of the sepulchres of my fathers, that I may build it.

6 And the king laide vnto me, The queen also sitting by him, How long shall thy iourney be? and when wilt thou come againe? So it pleased the king, and hee sent mee, and I let him a time.

7 After, I saide vnto the king, If it please the king, let them giue me letters to the captaynes beyond the River, that they may conuey me ouer, till I come into Iudah.

That the wicked when they will burden the children of God, ouer lay treason vnto their charge, both because it maketh them most odious to the world, and also stirreth the hatred of Princes most against them.

Neither are ye of the number of the children of God: to whom he hath appointed this Crie only: neither did any of your predecessors euer loue God.

8 And letters vnto Alaph the keeper of the Kings || parkes that hee may giue me timber to build the gates of the palace (which appertained to the house) and for the walles of the City, and for the house that I shall enter into. And the King gaue mee according to the good hand of my God vpon me.

9 Then came I to the capitaines beyond the Riuer, and gaue them the Kings letters. And the King lent them captaines of the army and hoisemen with me.

10 But Sanballat the Hozonite, and Tobiah a seruant an Ammonite heard it, and it grieved them sore, that there was come a man which sought the wealth of the children of Israel.

11 So I came to Ierusalem, and was there three dayes.

12 And I arose in the night, & a few men with mee: for I told no man what God had put in my heart to doe at Ierusalem, and there was not a beast with me, save the beast whercon I rode.

13 And I went out by night by the gate of the valley, and came before the Dragon well, and to the dung port, and viewed the walles of Ierusalem, how they were broken downe, and the pores thereof dismoured with the fire.

14 Then I went forth vnto the gate of the fountaine, vnto the Kings fishpools, and there was no roume for the beast that was vnder me, to passe.

15 Then went I vp in the night by the hooke, and viewed the wall, and turned backe, and coming backe, I entered by the gate of the valley and returned.

16 And the rulers knew not whither I was gone, nor what I did, neither did I as yet tell it vnto the Iewes, nor to the Priests, nor to the noblemen, nor to the rulers, nor to the rest that laboured in the worke.

17 Afterward I said vnto them, See see the misery that wee are in, how Ierusalem lieth waste, and the gates thereof are burnt with fire: come and let vs build the wall of Ierusalem, that we be no more a reproch.

18 Then I told them of the hand of my God (which was good ouer mee) and also of the Kings words, that hee had spoken vnto mee. And they saide, Let vs rise, and build. So they strengthenedes their hands to good.

19 But when Sanballat the Hozonite, and Tobiah the seruant an Ammonite, and Gersien the Arabian heard it, they mocked vs, and despised vs, and said, What a thing is this that ye doe? Will ye rebell against the King?

20 Then answered I them, and said to them, The God of heauen, he will prosper vs, and wee his seruantes will rise vp and build: but as for you, ye haue no portion nor right, nor memorie in Ierusalem.

15 But the gate of the fountaine fortified Shallum, the sonne of Col-bozeh, the ruler of the fourth part of Mishab: hee builded it, and covered it, and set on the doores thereof, the lockes thereof, and the barres thereof, and the wall vnto the fishpools of || Bethab by the Kings garden, and vnto the steps that goe downe from the Cite of Danto.

CHAP. III.

⁷ The building of Jerusalem is hindered, ¹⁵ But God breaketh their enterprise, ¹⁷ The Levites build with one hand, and hold their weapons in the other.

But when Sanballat heard that we build the wall, then was he wroth and foregriued, and mocked the Jewes,

2 And said before his brethren and the arme of Samaria, thus he said, What doe these breake Jewes : will they fortifie themselves : will they sacrifice : will they finish it in a day : will they make the stones whole as a game out of the heapes of dust, seeing they are burnt :

3 And Tobiah the Ammonite was beside him, and said, Although they build, yet if a force goe up, he shall euen breake downe their stony wall.

4 Heare, O our God, (for we are despised) and turne their shame vpon their owne head, and giue them vnto a praye in the land of their captivity,

5 And couer not their iniquitie, neither let their sinne be put out in thy presence : for they haue provoked vs before the builders.

6 So we built the wall, and all the wall was layned vnto the halfe thereof, and the heart of the people was to worke.

7 But when Sanballat, and Tobiah, and the Arabians, and the Ammonites, and the Ashdodites heard that the walles of Jerusalem were repaired, (for the breaches began to bee stopped) then they were very wroth,

8 And conspired altogether to come and to fight against Jerusalem, and to hinder them.

9 Then wee prayed vnto our God, and set watchmen by them day and night, because of them.

10 And Iudah said, The strength of the bearers is weakened, and there is much eare, so that wee are not able to build the wall.

11 Also our aduersaries had said, They shall not know, neither see, till wee come into the middes of them, and slay them, and cause the worke to cease.

12 But when the Jewes (which dwelt beside them) came and tolde vs ten times, from all places whence yet shall returne, they will be vpon vs.

13 Therefore set I in the lower places behind the wall vpon the tops of the stones, and placed the people by their families with their swords, their speares and their bowes.

14 Then I beheld, and rose vp, and said vnto the Princes, and to the rulers, and to the rest of the people, Bee not afraid of them : remember the great Lord and fearefull, and fight for your brethren, your sonnes, and your daughters, your wives, and your houses.

15 And when our enemies heard that it was knowne vnto vs, then God brought their counsell to nought, and wee turned all againe to the wall, euerie one vnto his worke,

16 And from that day, halfe of the yong men did the labour, and the other halfe part of them held the speares, and shields, and bowes, and habergeins : and the rulers stood behind all the house of Iudah.

that bare burdens, and they that labored, did the worke with one hand, and with the other held the sword.

18 For every one of the builders had his sword girt on his loynes, and so builded: and he that blew the trumpet was beside me.

19 Then said I vnto the Princes, and to the rulers, and to the rest of the people, The worke is great and large, and we are separated vpon the wall, one farre from another.

20 In what place therefore yee heare the sound of the trumpet, & rest ye thither vnto vs: our God shall fight for vs.

21 So we laboured in the worke, and halfe of them held the speares from the appearing of the morning, till the starres came forth.

22 And at the same time said I vnto the people, Let euery one with his seruant lodge within Ierusalem, that they may be a watch for vs in the night, and labour in the day.

23 So neither I, nor my brethren, nor my seruants, nor the men of the ward, (which followed me) none of vs did put off our clothes, save euery one put them off for washing.

CHAP. V.

1 The people are oppressed and in necessity. 6 Nehemiah remembreth vs. 14 Hee took not the portion of others that had ruled before, & if he should graue the people.

Now there was a great cry of the people and of their wiues against their brethren the Jewes.

2 For there were that said, Wee our sons and our daughters are many, therefore wee take vp corn, that we may eat and liue.

3 And there were that said, Wee must gage our lands, and our vineyards, and our houses, and take vp corne for the famine.

4 There were also that said, Wee haue borrowed money for the kings tribute vpon our lands and our vineyards.

5 And now our flesh is as the flesh of our brethren, and our sonnes as their sonnes and lor, we bring into subiection our sonnes, and our daughters, as seruants, and there be of our daughters now in subiection, and there is no power in our handes: for other men haue our lands and our vineyards.

6 Then was I very angry when I heard their cry and their words.

7 And I thought in my minde, and I re- buked the Princes, and the rulers, and sayde vnto them, You say burdens euery one vpon his brethren: and I set a great assembly against them.

8 And I said vnto them, Wee (according to our ability) haue redeemed our brethren the Jewes, which were solde vnto the heathen: and will you sell your brethren againe, as shall they be solde vnto vs? Then helde they their peace, and could not answer.

Against the rich which oppressed them, b This is the complaint of the people, shewing to what extremities they were brought vnto. c To pay our tribute to the King of the Persians, which was exacted yearly of vs, d By nature the rich is no better than the poore, e We are not able to redeeme them, but for powerie are constrained to hire them to others, f You presse them with vsury, and seeke how to bring all things into your handes, g Both because they should be moued with pittie seeing how many were by them oppressed, and also because the iudgement of others, which should be as it were witnesses of their dealing toward their brethren. h Seeing God hath once deliuered them from the bondage of the heathen, shall we make them our slaves?

9 I (saide also, That which yee doe, is not good. Might ye not to walke in the feare of our God, for the reproch of the heathen our enemies?

10 For euery I, my brethren, and my seruants doe lend them money and corne: I pray you, let vs leaue off this burden.

11 Restore, I pray you, vnto them this day their landes, & their vineyards, their oliues and their houses, and reuie the hundredth part of the siluer and of the corne, of the wine, and of the oyle that yee exact of them.

12 Then said they, Wee will restore it, and will not require it of them: we will doe as thou hast sayde. Then I called the Princes, and caused them to sweare, that they should doe according to this promise.

13 So Iooke my lappe, and said, So let God shake out euery man that will not performe this promise, from his house, and from his labour: euen thus let him bee taken out and emptied. And all the Congregation said, Amen, and praised the Lord: and the people did according to this promise.

14 And from the time that the King gaue mee charge to bee gouernour in the land of Iudah from the twentieth yeere, euen vnto the two and thirtieth yeere of King Artahastate, that is, twelue yeere, I, and my brethren haue not eaten the bread of the gouernour.

15 For the former gouernours that were before mee, had bene chargeable vnto the people, and had taken of them bread and wine, beside fouerty shekels of siluer: yea, and their seruants bare rule over the people, but to did not I, because of the feare of God.

16 But rather I fortified a portion in the worke of this wall, and we bought no land, and all my seruants came thither together vnto the worke.

17 Moreover, there were at my table an hundred and fiftie of the Jewes, and rulers which came vnto vs from among the heathen that are about vs.

18 And there was prepared dayly an oxe and fise chosen sheepe, and birds were prepared for me, and within ten dayes wine for all in abundance. Yet, for all this I required not the bread of the gouernour: for the bondage was grievous vnto this people.

19 Remember mee, O my God, in goodnesse, according to all that I haue done for this people.

CHAP. VI.

8 Nehemiah answereth with great wisdom and zeale to his adversary. 11 Hee was not discouraged by the false prophets.

As when Sanballat and Tobiah, and Geshem the Arabian, and the rest of our enemies heard that I had build the wall, and that there were no more breaches therein, (though at that time I had not set vp the doores vpon the gates.)

2 Then sent Sanballat and Geshem vnto mee, saying, Come thou that we may meeete together in the villages in the plaine of:

of Ono: and they thought to doe me enill.

3 Therefore I sent messengers vnto them, saying, I haue a great worke to doe, and I cannot come downe: ^b Why should the worke cease, whiles I leave it, and come downe to you.

4 Yet they sent vnto mee foure times after this sort. And I answered them after the same maner.

5 Then sent Sanballat his seruant after this sort vnto me the fift time, with an open letter in his hand.

6 Wherein was written, It is reported among the heathen, and || Sathum hath said it, that thou and the Iewes thinke to rebell, for the which cause thou buildest the wall, and thou wilt bre the king according to these wordes.

7 And thou hast also ordeined ^d the Prophets to preach of thee at Ierusalem, saying, There is a king in Iudah: and now according to these wordes it shall come to y kings eares: come now therefore, and let vs take counsell together.

8 Then I sent vnto him, saying, It is not done according to these wordes that thou sayest: for thou sainest them of thine owne heart.

9 For all they afayed vs, saying, Their hands shall be weakened from the worke, and it shall not bee done: now therefore I encourage thou me.

10 ¶ And I came to the house of Shearnias, the sonne of Delaiab the sonne of Shebubab, and her was ^e shut up, and hee sat. Let vs come together into the house of God in the middes of the Temple, and shut the doores of the Temple: for they will come to slay thee: yea in the night will they come to kill thee.

11 Then I said, ^f Should such a man as I, flee? Who to her, being as I am, that would goe into the Temple to liue? I will not get in.

12 And for, I precluded, that God had not sent him, but that he: pronounced this prophete against me: for Tobiah and Sanballat had hired him.

13 Therefore was he hired, that I might be afraid, and doe thus, and sinne, and that they might haue an euill report that they might reioyce in.

14 ¶ By God, remember thou Tobiah and Sanballat according vnto these their wordes, and Gadiah the Prophetesse also, and the rest of the prophets that would haue put me in feare.

15 ¶ Notwithstanding the wall was finished on the fife and twentieth day of ^g Chelal, in two and ^h fiftie dayes.

16 And when all our enemies heard thereof, even all the heathen that were about vs, they were afraide, and their courage failed them: for they knewe that this worke was wrought by our God.

17 And in these dayes were there many of the Princes of Iudah, whose ^k letters went vnto Tobiah, and whose of Tobiah came vnto them.

18 For there were many in Iudah, that were ioynt vnto him: for he was the sonne in law of Shebaniab, the sonne of Arab: and his sonne Iedenuhan had the daughter of Shebaniab the sonne of Berechiah.

19 ¶ For, they spake in his place before me, and told him my wordes, and Tobiah sent letters to put me in feare.

1 After this wall once builded, is the watch appointed. 6 They that returned from the captiuitie are numbered.

Now ^a when the wall was builded, and I had set vp the doores, and the porters and the singers and the Levites were appointed,

2 Then I commanded my brother Hanani and Hananiah the prince of the palace in Ierusalem (for he was doubtlesse a faithfull man, and feared God about many.)

3 And I said vnto them, Let not the gates of Ierusalem bee opened, untill the heat of the Sunne: and while ^a they stand by, let them shut the doores, and I make them fast: and I appointed wardes of the inhabitants of Ierusalem, every one in his ward, and every one ouer against his house.

4 Now the cite was large and great, but the people were few therein, and the houses were not builded.

5 And my God put into mine heart, and I gathered the princes, and the rulers, and the people to count their genealogies: and I found a booke of the genealogies of them, ^b which came vp at the first, and found written therein.

CHAP. VIII.

1 Ezra gathereth together the people, and readeth to them the Law. 12 They rejoice in Israel for the knowledge of the word of God. 15 They keep the feast of Tabernacles or booths.

And all the people assembled themselves together, in the street that was before the water gate, and they spake unto Ezra the Scribe, that he would bring the booke of the Law of Moses, which the Lord had commanded to Israel.

2 And Ezra the Priest brought the Law before the Congregation both of men and women, and of all that could hear and understand it, in the first day of the seventh month.

3 And he read therein in the street that was before the water gate (from the morning untill the midday) before men and women, and them that understood it, and the eares of all the people hearkened unto the booke of the Law.

4 And Ezra the Scribe stood upon a pulpit of wood, which he had made for the preaching, and beside him stood Mattithiah, and Shema, and Ananiah, and Uriah, and Mattathiah, and Baasiah on his right hand, and on his left hand Jeshua, and Nehemiah, and Zebadiah, and Shabbethai, and Hodiah, and Maasiah, and Banaiah, and Zebadiah, and Shabbethai, and Hodiah, and Maasiah, and Banaiah.

5 And Ezra opened the booke before all the people: for he was above all the people: and when he opened it, all the people stood up.

6 And Ezra prayed the Lord the great God, and all the people answered, Amen, Amen, with lifting up their hands: and they bowed themselves, and worshipped the Lord with their faces toward the ground.

7 And Jeshua, and Bani, and Sherebiah, Jamin, Akkub, Shabbethai, Hodiah, Maasiah, Kelita, Azariah, Jozabab, Hanan, Delaiah, and the Levites caused the people to understand the Law, and the people stood in their place.

8 And they read in the booke of the Law of God distinctly, and gave the sense, and caused them to understand the reading.

9 Then Nehemiah (which is Esdras) and Ezra the Priest and Scribe, and the Levites that instructed the people, said unto all the people, This day is holy unto the Lord your God: mourn not, neither weep: for all the people wept, when they heard the words of the Law.

10 He said also unto them, Go and eat of the fat, and drinke the sweet, and send part unto them, for whom none is prepared: for this day is holy unto our Lord: be ye not sorrowful therefore: for the joy of the Lord is your strength.

11 And the Levites made silence throughout all the people, saying, Hold ye your peace: for the day is holy, be not sad therefore.

12 Then all the people went to eat and to drinke, and to send away part, & to make great joy, because they had understood the words that they had taught them.

13 And on the second day, the chief fathers of all the people, the Priests and the Levites were gathered unto Ezra the Scribe, that he also might instruct them in the words of the Law.

14 And they found written in the Law, (that the Lord had commanded by Moses) that the children of Israel should dwell in booths in the feast of the seventh month.

15 And that they should cause to be declared and proclaimed in all their cities, and in Jerusalem, saying, Go forth unto the mount, and bring olive branches, and pine branches, and branches of hyssop, & palm branches, & branches of thick trees, to make booths, as it is written.

16 So the people went forth and brought them and made them booths, every one upon the roof of his house, & in their courts, and in the courts of the house of God, and in the street by the water gate, & in the street of the gate of Ephraim.

17 And all the Congregation of them that were come againe out of the captivity, made booths, and late under the booths: for since the time of Joshua the sonne of Nun unto this day, had not the children of Israel done so, and there was very great joy.

18 And he read in the booke of the Law of God every day, from the first day unto the last day. And they kept the feast seven days, and on the eighth day a solemn assembly, according unto the manner.

CHAP. IX.

1 The people repent, and forsake their strange wives. 5 The Levites exhort them to praise God. 6 Declaring his wonders. 26 And their ingratitude. 30 And Gods great mercies toward them.

1 In the four & twentieth day of this month, the children of Israel were assembled with fasting, and with sackcloth, and earth upon them.

2 (And they that were of the seed of Israel were separated from all the strangers) and they stood and confessed their sinnes and the iniquities of their fathers.

3 And they stood up in their place and read in the booke of the Law of the Lord their God fourtimes on the day, and they confessed and worshipped the Lord their God fourtimes.

4 Then stood upon the stairs of the Levites, Jeshua, and Bani, Radmiel, Sherebiah, Bunni, Sherebiah, Bani and Chenani, and cried with a loud voice unto the Lord their God.

5 And the Levites said, even Jeshua and Radmiel, Bani, Qadhban, Sherebiah, Hodiah, Sherebiah and Jerchabiah, stand up, and praye the Lord your God for for euer and euer, and let them praise thy glorious Name, O God, which excelleth above all thanksgiving and praise.

6 Thou art Lord alone: thou hast made heauen, and the heauen of all heauens, with all their hoste, the earth, and all things that are therein, the seas, & all that are in them, and thou preservest them all, and the hoste of the heauen worshippeth thee.

7 Thou art, O Lord, the God that hast chosen Abram, and broughtest him out of Ur in Chaldea, * and madest his name Abraham,

8 And foundest his heart fakhfull before thee, * and madest a covenant with him, to giue vnto his seede the lande of the Canaanites, Isteites, Amoitites, and Perizites, and Iebusites, and Gergasites, and hast performed thy wordes, because thou art iust.

9 * Thou hast also considered the affliction of our fathers in Egypt, and heard their crye by the red Sea,

10 And shewed tokens and wonders vpon Pharaoh, and on all his seruantes, and on all the people of his land: for thou knewest that they dealt proudly against thee: therefore thou madest thee a name, as appeareth this day.

11 * For thou didst breake vp the sea before them, and they went thorow the mids of the sea on dry land: and those that pursued them, hast thou cast into the bottomes as a stone, in the mighty waters:

12 And * leddest them in the day with a pillar of a cloud, and in the night with a pillar of fire, to giue them light in the way that they went.

13 * Thou camest down also vpon mount Sinai, and spakest vnto them from heauen, and gauest them right iudgements, and true lawes, ordinances, and good commaundements,

14 And declaredst vnto them thine holy Sabbath, and commandedst them precepts, and ordinances, and lawes, by the hand of Moses thy seruant:

15 * And gauest them bread from heauen for their hunger, * and broughtest forth water for them out of the rocke for their thirst: and * promisedst them that they should goe in, and take possession of the lande, for the which thou haddest lift vp thine hand for to giue them.

16 But they and our fathers behaue themselves proudly, & hardened their necke, so that they hearkened not vnto thy commaundements,

17 But refused to obey, and would not remember thy marvellous workes that thou haddest done for them, but hardened their neckes, and had in their heads to returne to their bondage by their rebellion: but thou, O God of mercies, gracious and full of compassion, of long suffering and of great mercy, yet forsookest them not.

18 Moreover, when they made them a molten calfe (and saie, This is thy God that brought thee vp out of the lande of Egypt) and committed great blasphemies,

19 Yet thou for thy great mercies forlookest them not in the wilderness: * the pillar of the cloude departed not from them by day to leade them the way, neither the pillar of fire by night, to shew them light, and the way whereby they should go.

20 Thou gauest also thy good Spirit to instruct them, & withheldst not thy MA N from their mouth, and gauest them water for their thirst.

21 Thou didst also feed them forty yeeres in the wilderness: they lacked nothing: * their clothes waxed not olde, and their feet * swelled not.

22 And thou gauest them kingdomes and people, and * scatteredst them into corners: so they possessed * the land of Sihon and the land of the king of vsbbon, and the land of Og king of Bashan.

23 And thou diddest multiply their children like the starres of the heauen, broughtest them into the land, whereof thou hadst spoken vnto their fathers, that they should go, and possesse it.

24 So the children went in, and possessed the land, and thou subduidst before them the inhabitants of the land, euen the Canaanites, and gauest them into their hands, with their kings and the people of the land, that they might doe with them what they would.

25 And they tooke their strong cities and the fat land, and possessed houses, full of all goods, cisternes digged out, vineyards and olives, and trees for food in abundance, and they did eate, and were filled, and became fat, and liued in pleasure though thy great goodness.

26 Yet they were disobedient, & rebelled against thee, and cast thy law behinde their backs, and slew thy Prophets (which * protested among them to turne them vnto thee) and committed great blasphemies.

27 Therefore thou deliueredst them into the hande of their enemies that bered them: yet in the time of their affliction, when they cried vnto thee, thou heardest them from the heauen, and through thy great mercies thou gauest them saviours, who saued them out of the hand of their aduersaries.

28 But when they had rest, they returned to doe euill before thee: therefore ledest thou them in the hande of their enemies, so that they had the dominion ouer them, yet when they conuerter, and cried vnto thee, thou heardest them from heauen, and deliueredst them according to thy great mercies many times,

29 And protested among them that thou mightest bring them againe vnto thy lawe: but they heaued themselves proudly, and hearkened not vnto thy commaundements, but sinned against thy iudgements (* which a man should do and sine in them) and * pulled away the shoulder, & were stiff-necked, and would not ^h heare.

CHAP. XI.

1 Who dwell in Ierusalem after it was builded,

21 And who in the cities of Iudah,

And the rulers of the people dwell in Ierusalem: the other people also cast lots, to bring one out of ten, to dwell in Ierusalem the holy cite, and nine parts to be in the cities.

2 And the people thanked all the men that were willing to dwell in Ierusalem.

3 These now are the chiefs of the province, that dwell in Ierusalem, but in the cities of Iudah, every one dwell in his owne possession in their cities of Israel, the priests and the Levites and the Archpriests, and the sonnes of Salomons servants.

4 And in Ierusalem dwell certaine of the children of Iudah, & of the children of Benjamin. Of the sonnes of Iudah, Arbach, the sonne of Asijah, the sonne of Zechariah, the sonne of Amariah, the sonne of Shephaniah, the sonne of Zababel of the sonnes of Perez.

5 And Banaiab the sonne of Barnet, the sonne of Col Poroth, the sonne of Hazaiab, the sonne of Abaiab, the sonne of Iohab, the sonne of Zichariah, the sonne of Shilon.

6 All the sonnes of Perez that dwell at Ierusalem, were foure hundred threescore and eight balsam men.

7 These also are the sonnes of Benjamin Shallu the sonne of Geshullam, the sonne of Joab, the sonne of Gedaliah, the sonne of Iohab, the sonne of Shephaniah, the sonne of Iachiel, the sonne of Iehabab.

8 And after him Gabai, Balsai, nine hundred and twenty and eight.

9 And Joel the sonne of Zichai was gouernour ouer them: and Iudah the sonne of Semuah was the second ouer the cite.

10 Of the priests, Gedaliah, the sonne of Ioichib, Iachin.

11 Seraiah the sonne of Helkiah, the sonne of Geshullam, the sonne of Zadok, the sonne of Beraioth, the sonne of Ahinub was chefe of the house of God.

12 And their brethren that did the work in the Temple, were eight hundred threentie and two: and Abaiab the sonne of Ieroham, the sonne of Gedaliah, the sonne of Ami, the sonne of Zechariah, the sonne of Pasbur, the sonne of Ghalchiah.

13 And his brethren, chiefs of the fathers two hundred and two and fourtie: and Amasiah, the sonne of Azazel, the sonne of Abazai, the sonne of Beshilemoth, the sonne of Ammer.

14 And their brethren, balsam men, an hundred & eight and twenty: and their ouer-see was Ziddiel the sonne of Jhagedothin.

15 And of the Levites, Semaiab the sonne of Pasbur, the sonne of Azrikam, the sonne of Ghalchiah, the sonne of Dimni.

16 And Shabbethai, and Josabab of the chiefs of the Levites were ouer the works of the house of God without.

17 And Mattaniah the sonne of Micah, the sonne of Sabdi, the son of Iahab was the chefe so to begin the thanksgiving and prayer: and Babbukiah the second of his brethren and Abda the sonne of Shephumia, the sonne of Salai, the sonne of Jerubhim.

18 All the Levites in the holy cite were two hundred threescore and foure.

19 And the porters Akkub, Talmon and their brethren that kept the gates, were an hundred twenty and two.

20 And the residue of Israel of the priests, and of the Levites dwell in all the cities of Iudah, every one in his inheritance.

21 And the Archpriests dwell in the fortress, and Siba, and Gijah was ouer the Archpriests.

22 And the ouersee of the Levites in Ierusalem was Uzzi the sonne of Bani, the son of Abiab, the sonne of Beraioth, the son of Michah of the sonnes of Asaph singers were ouer the works of the house of God.

23 For it was the kings commandement concerning them, that faithfull promise should be for the singers every day.

24 And Shabbathai the sonne of Ghezeab, chief of the sonnes of Zerab, the sonne of Iudab was at the kings hand in all matters concerning the people.

25 And in the villages in their lands, some of the children of Iudah dwell in Kiriat-arba, and in the villages thereof, and in Dibon, and in the villages thereof, and in Jekabzeel, and in the villages thereof,

26 And in Ieshua, and in Boladab, and in Beth-pater,

27 And in Vazer-hual, and in Beer-sheba, and in the villages thereof,

28 And in Ziklag, and in Bechonah, and in the villages thereof,

29 And in En-timon, and in Satah, and in Iarmuth,

30 Semoah, Adullam, & in their villages, in Lachish, & in the fields thereof, at Azekah, and in the villages thereof: and they dwell from Beer-sheba vnto the valley of Winnom.

31 And the sonnes of Benjamin from Geba, in Michmah, and Aia, and Beth-el, and in the villages thereof,

19 Under Ioiarib, Mattaniah, under Jedajah, Gizi,

20 Under Shallai, Kallai, under Amok, Eber,

21 Under Hikkiah, Habbabiah, under Jedajah, Serbanai,

22 In the dayes of Eliashib, Joiada, and Johanan, & Jaddua were the chiefes fathers of the Levites written, and the Priests in the reignes of Darius the Persian.

23 The sonnes of Levi the chiefes fathers were written in the booke of the Chronicles even unto the dayes of Johanan the sonne of Eliashib.

24 And the chiefes of the Levites were Shabbabiah, Sherebiath, and Iehua the sonne of Radmuel, and their brethren about them to give praise and thanks, according to the ordinance of David the man of God, ward over against ward.

25 Mattaniah and Bakkubiah, Shadiah, Shephullam, Talmon, and Akkub were porters keeping the ward at the thresholds of the gates.

26 These were in the dayes of Ioiakim the sonne of Iehua, the sonne of Josadak, and in the dayes of Nehemiah the captain, and of Ezra the Priest and Scribe.

27 And in the dedication of the wall at Jerusalem they sought the Levites out of all their places to bring them to Jerusalem to keep the dedication and gladness, both with shanksgivings and with songs, cymbals, viols, and with harpes.

28 Then the fingers gathered themselves together both from the plaine country about Jerusalem, and from the villages of Artophathy, 29 And from the house of Gilgal, and out of the countreyes of Geba, & Azmaveth: for the fingers had built them villages round about Jerusalem.

30 And the Priests and Levites were purified, and cleansed the people, and the gates, and the wall.

31 And I brought up the princes of Judah upon the wall, and appoynted two great companies to give thanks, and the one went on the right hand of the wall toward the dung gate.

32 And after them went Hoshabab, and halfe of the princes of Judah,

33 And Azariah, Ezra, and Shephullam,

34 Judah, Benjamin, and Shemalah, and Jeremiah,

36 And his brethren, Shemalah, and Azareel, Shephallai, Gilgal, Gash, Serbanai, and Judah, Hanani, with the musical instruments of David the man of God: and Ezra the Scribe went before them.

37 And to the gate of the fountain, even over against them went they up by the stairs of the cite of David, at the going up of the wall beyond the house of David, even unto the water gate Eastward.

38 And the second company of them that gave thanks, went on the other side, and I after them, and the halfe of the people was upon the wall, and upon the towre of the fountaines even unto the broad wall.

39 And upon the gate of Ephraim, and upon the old gate, and upon the fish gate, and the tower of Hananeel, and the cower of Sheah, even unto the sheepe gate: and they stood in the gate of the ward.

40 So stood the two companies of them that gave thanks in the house of God, and I and the halfe of the rulers with me.

41 The Priests also, Eliahim, Bakkiah, Miniamin, Hikkiah, Elitornai, Sechariah, Hananiah, with trumpets, 42 And Shabbabiah, and Shemalah, and Eleazar, and Gizi, and Ichobanan, and Hikkiah, and Elam, and Ezer, and the fingers: sang loud, having Itabiah which was the ourfetter.

43 And the same day they offered great sacrifices and rejoyced: for God had given them great joy, so that both the women and the children were joyfull: and the joy of Jerusalem was heard far off.

44 Also at the same time were men appointed over the chambers of the store for the offerings, for the first fruits, and for the tithes, to gather into them out of the fieldes of the cities the portions of the Law, for the Priests and the Levites: for Judah rejoyced for the Priests and for the Levites, that served.

CHAP. XLIIII.

1 The Lawe is read, 3 They separate from them all strangers. 15 Nehemiah reprehendeth them that breake the Sabbath. 30 An ordinance to serue God.

And on that day did they reade in the booke of Moyses, in the audience of the people, and it was found written therein, that the Ammonite and the Moabite should not enter into the Congregation of God.

2 Because they met not the children of Israel with bread and with water, but hired Balaam against them, that he should curse them: and our God turned the curse into a blessing.

3 Now when they had heard the Lawe, they separated from Israel: all those that were mixed.

4 And before this had the Priest Eliashib the oversight of the chamber of the house of our God, being kinsman to Tobiah:

5 And he had made him a great chamber, and there had they sometime laid the offerings, the incense, and the vessels, and the riches of coine, of wine, and of oyle (appointed for the Leuites, and the fingers, and the powers) and the offerings of the Priestis.

6 But in all this time was not I in Jerusalem: for in the two and thirtieth yere of Artaxabazter king of Babel, came I vnto the king, and I after certaine dayes I obtained of the king.

7 And when I was come to Jerusalem, I understood the: euill that Eliashib had done for Tobiah, in that he had made him a chamber in the court of the house of God.

8 And it grieved me sore: therefore I cast forth all the vessels of the house of Tobiah out of the chamber.

9 And I commanded them to cleanse the chambers: and thither brought I againe the vessels of the house of God with the meat offering and the incense.

10 And I perceived that the portions of the Leuites had bene giuen, and that euery one was fiedde to his land, euen the Leuites and fingers that executed the worke.

11 Then reprimoued I the rulers, and said, Why is the house of God forsaken? And I assembled them, and set them in their place.

12 Then brought all Iudab the riches of coine, and of wine, and of oyle vnto the treasures.

13 And I made treasurers ouer the treasures, Shethniar the Priest, and Zadok the Scribe, and of the Leuites, Bedalah, and vnder their hand I gave the sonne of Zachur the sonne of Baranah: for they were counted faithfull, and their office was to distribute vnto their brethren.

14 Remember mee, O my God, herein, and wipe not out my kindness that I haue shewed on the house of my God, and on the offices thereof.

15 In those dayes saw I in Iudab, them that rode winepresses on the Sabbath, and that brought in sheares, and which labored also with wine, grapes and figges, and all buttens, and brought them into Jerusalem vpon the Sabbath day: and I protested to them in the day that they sold victuals.

16 There dwelt men of Tyris also therein, which brought fish and all waters, and sold on the Sabbath vnto the children of Iudab euen in Jerusalem.

17 Then reprimoued I the Rulers of Iudab, and layd vnto them, What euill thing is this that ye doe, and breake the Sabbath day?

18 Did not your fathers thus, and our God brought all this plague vpon vs, & vpon this citie: yet ye increase the wrath vpon Israel, in breakeing the Sabbath.

19 And when the gates of Jerusalem began to be dark before the Sabbath, I commanded to shut the gates, and charged, that they should not be opened till after the Sabbath, and some of my seruants stood at the gates, & there should no burthen be brought in on the Sabbath day.

20 So the chapmen and merchants of all merchandise remained once or twice all night without Jerusalem.

21 And I protested among them and said vnto them, Why tary ye all night about the wall? If ye doe it once againe, I will lay hands vpon you. From that time came they no more on the Sabbath.

22 And I saide vnto the Leuites that they should cleanse themselves, and that they should come and keepe the gates, to sanctifie the Sabbath day. Remember mee, O my God, concerning this, and pardon mee according to thy great mercy.

23 In those dayes also I saw Iewes that married wines of Ahdod, of Ammon, and of Moab.

24 And their children spake halfe in the speech of Ahdod, and could not speake in the Iewes language, and according to the language of the one people, and of the other people.

25 Then I reprimoued them, and cursed them, and smote certain of them, and pulled off their haire, and tooke an othe of them by God, I shall not giue your daughters vnto their sonnes, neither shall ye take of their daughters vnto your sonnes, nor for your selves.

26 Did not Salomon the king of Israel Anne by these things: yet among many nations was there no king like him: for he was beloved of his God, and God had made him king ouer Israel: yet strange women caused him to sinne.

27 Shall we then obey vnto you, to do all this great euill, and to transgresse against our God, euen to marry strange wines?

28 And one of the sonnes of Joiada the sonne of Eliashib the high Priest was the sonne in lawe of Sanballat the Mozoniter: but I chased him from mee.

29 Remember them, O my God, & deale with them according to their

THE ARGUMENT.

Because of the diuersitie of names, whereby they vied to name their kings, and the suppuration of Byears wherein the Ebrewes and the Grecians doe varie, diuers authours write diuersly as touching this Ahasuerus, but it seemeth, Dam. 6. 1. & 9. 1. that hee was Darius king of the Medes, and sonne of Astyages, called also Ahasuerus, which was a name of honour, and signified great and chiefe, as chiefe head. Herein is declared the great mercies of God toward his Church, who neuer faileth them in their greatest dangers, but when all hope of worldly helpe faileth, hee euer stretcheth vp some by whom he lendeth comfort and deliuerance. Herein also is described the ambition, pride, and crueltie of the wicked when they come to honour, and their sudden fall when they are at the height: and how God preferreth and preferreth them which are zealous of his glorie, and haue a care and loue toward their brethren.

CHAP. I.

3 King Ahasuerus maketh a royall feast, 13 Whereinto the Queen Vashti will not come. 19 For which cause she is dined. 20 The Kings decree touching the prebeminence of men.

In the dayes of Ahasuerus (this is Ahasuerus that reigned from India euen vnto Ethiopia, ouer an hundred and seven and twentie prouinces)

2 In those dayes when the king Ahasuerus sat on his throne, which was in the palace of Shulhan,

3 In the third yeere of his reigne he made a feast vnto all his princes and his seruants, euen the power of Persia and Media, and to the capitaines and gouernours of the prouinces which were before him,

4 That he might shew the riches & glorie of his kingdome, and the honour of his great maiestie many dayes, euen an hundred and fourscore dayes.

5 And when these dayes were expired, the king made a feast to all the people that were found in the palace of Shulhan, both vnto the great and small, seven dayes, in the court of the garden of the Kings palace.

6 Vnder an hanging of white, Greene, and blew clothes, fastened with cords of fine linnen and purple, in siluer rings and pillars of marble: the beds were of gold, and of siluer vpon a pavement of Porphyre, and marble, and alabastrer, and blew colour.

7 And they gave them drinke in vessels of gold, and changed vessel after vessel, and to all wine in abundance according to the power of the king.

8 And the drinke was by an order, none might compell: for to the king had appointed vnto all the officers of his house, that they should do according to every mans pleasure.

9 The Queene Vashti made a feast also for the women in the royall house of king Ahasuerus.

10 Vpon the seventh day, when the king was merry with wine, hee commanded Bebigman, Bigtha, Barbona, Bigtha, and Abagth, Zerhar, and Carcas, the seven Eunuchs, (that serued in the presence of King Ahasuerus)

11 To bring Queene Vashti before the king with the crowne royall, that hee might shew the people and the princes her beautie: for she was faire to looke vpon.

12 But the Queene Vashti refused to come at the Kings word, which hee had giuen in charge to the Eunuchs: therefore the king was very angry, and his wrath kindled in him.

13 Then the king saide to the wise men, that knew the times (for so was the kings manner toward all that knew the lawe and the iudgement):

14 And the next vnto him was Carshena, Shetar, Admartha, Tarshish, Meres, Harfena and Benecan the seven princes of Persia and Media, which sawe the Kings face, and sat the first in the kingdome)

15 What shall we doe vnto the Queene Vashti, according to the lawe, because she hath not according to the word of the king Ahasuerus by the commission of the Eunuchs?

16 Then Benecan answered before the king and the princes, The Queene Vashti hath not onely done euill against the king, but against all the princes, and against all the people that are in all the prouinces of king Ahasuerus.

17 For the act of the Queene shall come abroad vnto all women, so that they shall despise their husbands in their owne eyes, and shall say, The king Ahasuerus hath commanded Vashti the Queene to be brought in before him, but she came not.

18 So that the princes of Persia and Media this day lay vnto all the kings princes, when they heare of the act of the queene: thus shall there be much despitefullnesse and wrath.

19 If it please the king, let a royall decree proceed from him, & let it be written among the statutes of Persia and Media (and let it not be transgressed) that Vashti come no more before king Ahasuerus: and let the king giue her royall estate vnto her companion that is better then she.

20 And when the decree of the king which shall be made, shall be published throughout all his kingdome (though it be great) all the women shall giue their husbands honour both great and small.

17 And the King loued Ester about all the women and shee found grace and fauour in his sight more then all the virgins: so that hee set the crowne of the kingdom vpon her head, and made her Queene in stead of Castri.

18 Then the king made a great feast vnto all his princes, and his seruantes, which was the feast of Ester, and gaue rest vnto the provinces, and gaue gifts according to the power of a king.

i That is made for her sake. k Hee released their tribute.

19 And when the virgins were gathered the second time, then Mordecai came in the Kings gate.

n Meaning, to kill him.

22 And the thing was knowne to Mordecai, and hee told it vnto Queene Ester, and Ester certified the king thereof in Mordecais name: and when inquisition was made, it was found so: therefore they were hanged on a tree: and it was written in the booke of the Chronicles before the king.

1 Haman after hee was exalted, obtained of the King that all the Iewes should be put to death, because Mordecai had not done him worship as other had.

After these things did king Ahasuerus promote Haman the sonne of Hammedatha the Agagite, and exalted him, and set his seat above all the princes that were with him.

reuerenced Haman : for the king had so com-

* bowed not the knee, neither did reverence.

3 When the kings seruants which were at the kings gate, layd vnto Mordecai, Why tranfgrest thou the kings commandement ?

4 And albeit they spake dayly vnto him, yet he would not heare them : therefore they told Haman, that they might see how Mordecai would stand : for he had told them that he was a Jew.

5 And when Haman saw that Mordecai bowed not the knee vnto him, nor did reue-rence vnto him, then Haman was full of wrath.

6 Now hee thought it too little to lay hands on Mordecai : and because they had shewed him the people of Mordecai, Haman sought to destroy all the Jewes, that were throughout the whole kingdome of A-bassuerod, euen the people of Mordecai.

7 In the first moneth (that is the moneth of Nissan) in the twelfth yere of King Ahas-uerus, they call Pur (that is a lot) before Haman from day to day, and from moneth to moneth, vnto the twelfth moneth, that is the moneth of Adar.

8 Then Haman said vnto King Ahas-uerus, There is a people scattered and dispersed among the people in all the prouinces of thy kingdome, and their lawes are diuers from all people, and they doe not obserue the kings lawes : therefore it is not the kings profite to suffer them.

9 If it please the king, let it bee written that they may be destroyed, and I will pay ten thousand talents of siluer by the hands of them that haue the charge of this busines
to bring it into the kings treasury.

10 Then the King tooke his ring from his hand, and gaue it vnto Haman the sonne of Hammedatha the Agagite, the Jewes ad-uerysary.

11 And the King layd vnto Haman Let the siluer be thine, and the people to do with them as it pleased thee.

12 Then were the Kings || Scribes called on the thirteenth day of the first moneth, and there was written (according to all that Haman commanded) vnto the kings officers, and to the Captaines that were ouer
euery prouince, and to the rulers of euery people, and to euery prouince, according to the writing thereof, and to euery people according to their language : in the name of King Ahasuerus was it written, and sealed with the Kings ring.

13 And the letters were sent by † postes,
into all the Kings prouinces, to root out,
to kill and to destroy all the Jewes, both yong
and old, children and women, in one day vpon
the thirteenth day of the twelfth moneth (which is the moneth Adar) and to spoile them as a pray.

14 The contents of the writing was, that there should bee giuen a commandement in all prouinces, and published vnto all people, that they should bee ready against the same day.

15 And the postes compelled by the kings commandement went forth, and the commandement was giuen in † palace at Shushan : and the King and Haman late dym-ing, but the title of Shushan was in perpetuete.

CHAP. II.

5 Mordecai giueth the Queen knowledge of the cruell decrees of the King against the Jewes, 16 She willeth that they pray for her.

NOW when Mordecai perceived all that was done, Mordecai rent his clothes and put on sackcloth and ashes, and went out into the middes of the cite, and cried with a great cry, and a bitter.

2 And hee came euen before the Kings gate, but hee might not enter within the kings gate, being clothed with sackcloth.

3 And in euery prouince, and place, wher
the Kings charge and his Commission came, there was great sorrow among the Jewes, and fasting, and weeping, and mourning, and many lay in sackcloth, & in ashes.

4 ¶ Then Ester made, & her eunuches came and told it her : therefore the Quene was very heavy, & shee sent raiment to clothe Mordecai, and to take away his sackcloth from him, but hee received it not.

5 Then called Ester Vatach, one of the kings Eunuches, whom hee had appointed to serue her, and gaue him a commandement vnto Mordecai, to know what it was, and why it was.

6 So Vatach went forth to Mordecai, vnto the streete of the city which was before the kings gate.

7 And Mordecai tolde him of all that which had come vnto him, and of the summe of the siluer that Haman had promised to pay vnto the kings treasures, because of the Jewes for to destroy them.

8 Also hee gaue him the copy of the writing & commission that was giuen at Shushan to destroy them, that hee might shew it vnto Ester, and declare it vnto her, and to charge her, that shee should goe in to the king and make petition and supplication before him for her people.

9 ¶ So when Vatach came, he tolde Ester the words of Mordecai.

10 Then Ester layd vnto Vatach, and commanded him to say vnto Mordecai.

11 All the kings seruants and the people of the kings prouinces doe know, that whosoever, man or woman, that cometh to the king into the inner court, which is not called, there is a law of this, that hee shall die, except him to whom the king holdeth out the golden rod, that hee may liue. Now I haue not bene called to come vnto the king these thirty dayes.

12 And they certified Mordecai of Esters
words.

13 And Mordecai said, that they should answer Ester thus, I thinke not with thy selfe, that thou shalt escape in the Kings house, more then all the Jewes.

14 For if thou holdest thy peace at this time, † comfort and deliuerance shall ap-

and who knoweth whether thou wilt come to the kingdome for such a time?

15 Then Ester commaunded to answer Mordecai.

16 And, and assemble all the Iewes that are found in Shushan, and fast ye for mee, and eat not, nor drinke in three dayes, day nor night. I also and my mayden will fast likewise, and so will goe in to the king, which is not according to the law: and if I perish, I perish.

17 So Mordecai went his way, and did according to all that Ester had commanded him.

CHAP. V.

¹ Ester eneth in to the king, and biddeth him and Haman to a feast. ¹⁴ Haman prepareth a gallies for Mordecai.

AND on the third day Ester put on her royall apparell, and stood in the coute of the Kings palace within, out against the Kings house: and the King fate upon his royall throne in the Kings palace over against the gate of the house.

2 And when the King sawe Ester the Quene standing in the court, shee found favour in his sight: and the King^b helde out the golden scepter that was in his hand: so Ester drew neere, and touched the top of the scepter.

3 Then saide the King vnto her, What wilt thou Quene Ester? and what is thy request? it shall bee euen given^c thee to the halfe of the kingdome.

4 Then said Ester, If it please the King, let the king and Haman come this day vnto the banke: that I haue prepared for him.

5 And the King saide, Cause Haman to make halfe that hee may doe as Ester hath said. So the King and Haman came to the banke, that Ester had prepared.

6 And the King saide vnto Ester, at the banke of wine, What is thy petition, that it may bee giuen thee? and what is thy request? it shall euen bee performed vnto the halfe of the kingdome.

7 Then answered Ester, and saide, My petition and my request is,

8 If I haue found favour in the sight of the King, and if it please the King to giue mee my petition, and to performe my request, let the king and Haman come to the banke that I shall prepare for them, and I will doe to morrow according to the kings saying.

9 Then went Haman forth the same day joyfull and with a glad heart. But when Haman sawe Mordecai in the Kings gate, that hee stood by, not moued for him, then was Haman full of indignation at Mordecai.

10 Wherefore Haman restrained himselfe: and when hee came home, hee sent and called for his friends, and Zeresh his wife.

11 And Haman tolde them of the glory of his riches, and the multitude of his children, and all the things wherein the King had promoted him, and how that he had let him above the princes and seruants of the king.

12 Haman said moreover, Pea, Ester the Quene did let no man come in with the king to the banke that hee had prepared, saue mee: and to morrow am I bidden vnto her also with the King.

13 But all this notwithstanding answere me, as long as I see Mordecai the Iew sitting at the Kings gate.

14 Then said Zeresh his wife and all his friends vnto him, Let them make a tree of fiftie cubits high, and to morrow speake thou vnto the King, that Mordecai may be hanged thereon: then shalt thou goe joyfully with the King vnto the banke. And the thing pleased Haman, and hee caused to make the tree.

CHAP. VI.

¹ The King turneth over the Chronicles, and findeth the fidelitie of Mordecai. ¹⁰ And commaundeth Haman to cause Mordecai to be had in honour.

THE SAME NIGHT the king slept not, and hee commanded to bring the booke of the Records and the Chronicles: and they were read before the King.

2 Then it was found writtten that Mordecai had tolde of Bigtana, and Teresh, two of the Kings Cunniches, keepers of the doore, who sought to lay hands on the king Ahasuerus.

3 Then the king saide, What honour and dignitie hath bene giuen to Mordecai: for this? And the kings seruants that ministered vnto him, saide, There is nothing done for him.

4 And the king saide, Who is in the court? (Howe Haman was come into the inner court of the Kings house, that hee might speake vnto the King to hang Mordecai on the tree that he had prepared for him.)

5 And the kings seruants saide vnto him, Behold, Haman standeth in the court. And the king saide, Let him come in.

6 And when Haman came in, the King saide vnto him, What shall bee done vnto the man, whome the King will honour? Then Haman thought in his heart, To whome would the king doe honour more than to me?

7 And Haman answered the King, The man whom the king would honour,

8 Let them bring for him royall apparell, which the king useth to weare, and the horse that the king rideth vpon, & that the crowne royall may be set vpon his head.

9 And let the rayment and the horse be deliuered by the hand of one of the Kings most noble princes, and let them apparell the man (whom the king will honour) and cause him to ride vpon the horse thorow the streete of the cite, and proclaim before him, Thus shall it be done vnto the man whom the king will honour.

10 Then the king saide to Haman, Make halfe, take the rayment and the horse as thou hast said, and do so vnto Mordecai the Iew, that sitteth at the Kings gate: let nothing faile of all that thou hast spoken.

11 So Haman toke the rayment and the horse, and arrayed Mordecai, and brought him on horsebacke thorow the streete of the cite, and proclaimed before him, Thus shall it be done to the man whome the king will honour.

CHAP. VIII.

1 After the death of Haman, was Mordecai exalted. 14 Comfortable letters are sent unto the Jewes.

The same day did King Abasuerus give the house of Haman the adversary of the Jewes unto the Queene Ester. And Mordecai came before the King: for Ester told what he was ^b unto her.

2 And the Kingooke off his ring, which he had taken from Haman, and gave it unto Mordecai: and Ester let Mordecai ouer the house of Haman.

3 And Ester spake yet more before the King, and fell downe at his feete werping, and besought him that he would put away the wickednesse of Haman the Agagite, and his deuice that he had imagined against the Jewes.

4 And the King helde out the golden scepter toward Ester. Then arose Ester, and stood before the King.

5 And said, If it please the king, and if I haue found fauour in his sight, and the thing be acceptable before the King, and I please him, let it be written, that the letters of the deuice of Haman the sonne of Ammedatha the Agagite, may be called againe, which he wrote to destroy the Jewes, that are in all the Kings prouinces.

6 For how can I suffer and see the enill, that shall come vnto my people? or how can I suffer and see the destruction of my kindred?

7 And the King Abasuerus said vnto the Queene Ester, & to Mordecai the Jew, Behold, I haue given Ester the house of Haman, whom they haue hanged vpon the tree, because he layd hand vpon the Jewes.

9 Then were the Kings scribes called at the same time, euen in the third moneth, that is the moneth Sivan, on the three and twentieth day thereof: and it was written, according to all as Mordecai commaunded vnto the Jewes, and to the princes, and capitaines, and rulers of the prouinces, which were from India euen vnto Ethiopia, an hundred and seuen and twentie prouinces, vnto every prouince, according to the writing thereof, and to every people after their speech, and to the Jewes, according to their writing, and according to their language.

10 And he wrote in the king Abasuerus name, and sealed it with the kings ring: and hee sent letters by postes on horsebacke, and that rode on beaſts of pice, as promedaries, and of colts of mares.

11 Wherein the king granted the Jewes (in what cities soeuer they were) to gather themselves together, and to stand for their life, and to reuer out, to day, and to destroy all the power of the people and of the prouince that wered them, both children and women, and to spoile their goods:

12 Vpon one day in all the prouinces of King Abasuerus, euen in the thirteenth day,

12 And Mordecai came againe to the kings gate, but Haman had home mourning, and his head covered.

13 And Haman told Zeresh his wife, and all his friends all that had befallen him. Then said his wisemen, and Zeresh his wife vnto him, If Mordecai be of the seed of the Jewes, whose whom thou hast begun to fall, thou shalt not perswade against him, but shalt surely fall before him.

14 And while they were yet talking with him, came the Kings eunuches, and hasted to bring Haman vnto the banquet that Ester had prepared.

CHAP. VII.

3 The Queene biddeth the King and Haman againe, and prayeth for her selfe and her people. 6 She accuseth Haman, and hee is hanged on the gallies which he had prepared for Mordecai.

5 The King and Haman came to banquet with the Queene Ester.

2 And the King saide againe vnto Ester on the second day at the banquet of wine, What is thy petition, Queene Ester, that it may be giuen thee? and what is thy request? It shall bee euen performed vnto the halfe of the kingdome.

3 And Ester the Queene answered, and said, If I haue found fauour in thy sight, O King, and if it please the King, let my life be giuen mee at my petition, and my people at my request.

4 For wee are sold, I, and my people to be destroyed, to be slaine and to perish: but if wee were sold for seruants, and for hand-maydes, I would haue held my tongue: although the aduersary could not recompense the Kings losse.

5 Then King Abasuerus answered and saide vnto the Queene Ester, What is hee said where is he that presumeth to doe thus?

6 And Ester saide, The aduersary and enemy is this wicked Haman. Then Haman was afrayde before the King and the Queene.

7 And the King arose from the banquet of wine in his wrath, and went into the palace garden: But Haman stood up to make request for his life to the Queene Ester: for he saw that there was a mischief prepared for him of the King.

8 And when the King came againe out of the palace garden, into the house where they dranke wine, Haman was fallen vpon the bed whereon Ester lay: therefore the King laid, Will hee force the Queene also before me in the house? as the word went out of the Kings mouth, they covered Hamans face.

9 And Harbonah one of the eunuches said in the presence of the King, Beholde, there standeth yet the tree in Hamans house fittie cubites high, which Haman had prepared for Mordecai, that spake good for the King. Then the King said, Hang him thereon.

10 So they hanged Haman on the tree that hee had prepared for Mordecai: then was the Kings wrath pacified.

13 The copy of the writing was, howe there should bee a commandment giuen in all and euery prouince, published among all the people, and that the Jewes should be ready against that day to auenge themselves on their enemies.

14 So the posts rode vpon beastes of price and of merchandise, and went forth with speed, to recure the Kings commandement, and the decree was giuen at Shushan the palace.

15 And Mordecai went out from the King in royall apparell of blue and white, and with a great crowne of gold, and with a garment of fine linnen and purple, and the City of Shushan reioyced and was glad.

16 And vnto the Jewes was come light and ioy and gladnesse, and honour.

17 Also in all and euery prouince, and in all and euery city and place where the Kings commandement and his decree came, there was ioy and gladnesse to the Jewes, a feast and good day, and many of the people of the land became Jewes: for the feare of the Jewes fell vpon them.

CHAP. IX.

At the commandment of the King the Jewes put their aduersaries to death. 14 The ten sonnes of Haman are hanged. 17 The Jewes keepe a feast in remembrance of their deliuerance.

IN the twelfth moneth, which is the moneth Adar, vpon the thirteenth day of the same, when the Kings commandement and his decree were to be put in execution, in the day that the enemies of the Jewes hoped to haue power ouer them, (but it turned contrary: for the Jewes had rule ouer them that hated them.)

2 The Jewes gathered themselves together into their cities, throughout all the prouinces of the King Ahasuerus, to lay hands on such as sought their hurt, and no man could withstand them: for the feare of them fell vpon all people.

3 And all the rulers of the prouinces, and the Princes and the Captaines, and the Officers of the King, called the Jewes: for the feare of Mordecai fell vpon them.

4 For Mordecai was great in the Kings house, and the report of him went thorow all the prouinces: for this man Mordecai waxed greater and greater.

5 Thus the Jewes smote all their enemies with strokes of the sword and slaughter, and destruction, and did what they would vnto those that hated them.

6 And at Shushan the palace slew the Jewes and destroyed a hunderd men.

7 And Parthandatha, and Dalphon, and Abatha.

8 And Bophtas, and Adaisa, and Ardantha.

9 And Parmashta, and Arisai, and Aridai, and Vathatha.

10 The ten sonnes of Haman, the sonne of Ammedatha, the aduersary of the Jewes slew them: but they layd not their hands on the spoile.

11 On the same day came the number of those that were slaine, vnto the palace of Shushan before the King.

12 And the King saide vnto the Queene Ester, The Jewes haue slaine in Shushan the palace, and destroyed five hundred men, and the ten sonnes of Haman: what haue they done in the rest of the Kings prouinces? and what is thy petition, that it may bee giuen thee? or what is thy request moreover, that it may be bestowed?

13 Then saide Ester, If it please the King, let it bee granted also to morrow to the Jewes that are in Shushan, to doe according vnto this dayes decree, that they may hang vpon the tree, Hamans tenne sonnes.

14 And the King charged to doe so, and the decree was giuen at Shushan, and they hanged Hamans ten sonnes.

15 So the Jewes that were in Shushan assembled themselves vpon the fourteenth day of the moneth Adar, and slew three hundred men in Shushan, but on the spoile they layd not their hand.

16 And the rest of the Jewes that were in the Kings prouinces, assembled themselves and stood for their liues, and had rest from their enemies, and slew of them that hated them, seventy and five thousand: but they layd not their hand on the spoile.

17 This they did on the thirteenth day of the moneth Adar, and rested the fourteenth day thereof, and kept it a day of feasting and ioy.

18 But the Jewes that were in Shushan assembled themselves on the thirteenth day, and on the fourteenth thereof, and they rested on the fifteenth of the same, and kept it a day of feasting and ioy.

19 Therefore the Jewes of the bislages that dwelt in the walled cities, kept the fourteenth day of the moneth Adar with ioy and feasting, euen a ioyfull day, and euery one sent presents vnto his neighbour.

20 And Mordecai wrote these words, and sent letters vnto all the Jewes that were thorough all the prouinces of the King Ahasuerus, both nere and farr,

21 Inuoynting them that they should keepe the fourteenth day of the moneth Adar, and the fifteenth day of the same, euery yeer,

22 According to the dayes wherein the Jewes rested from their enemies, and the moneth, which was turned vnto them from sorrow vnto ioy, and from mourning into a ioyfull day, to keepe them the dayes of feasting and ioy, and to send presents euery man to his neighbour, and gifts to the poore.

23 And the Jewes promised to doe as they had begun, and as Mordecai had written vnto them, 24 Because Haman the sonne of Hammedatha the Agagite all the Jewes aduersary, had imagined against the Jewes, to destroy them, and had cast out (that is, a lot) to consume and destroy them.

Iob.

THE ARGVMENT.

IN this history is set before our eyes the example of a singular patience. For this holy man Iob was not only extremely afflicted in outward things, and in his body, but also in his minde and conscience, by the sharpe tentations of his wife and chiefe friends: which by their vehement words and subtil disputations, brought him almost to despair: for they set loorth God as a seuerer Iudge, and mortall enemy vnto him which had cast him off, therefore in vaine he should seeke vnto him for succour. These friends came vnto him vnder pretence of consolation, and yet they tormented him more then did all his afflictions. Notwithstanding he did constantly resist them, and at length had good successe. In this history we haue to marke that Iob maintaineth a good cause, but handleth it euil: againe, his aduersaries haue an euil matter, but they defend it craftily. For Iob held that God did not a way punish men according to their sinnes, but that he had secret iudgements, wherof man knew not the cause, and therefore man could not reason against God therein, but hee should be conuicted. Moreouer, he was assured that God had not reiected him, yet though his great torments and affliction he burste h loorth into many inconueniences both of wordes and sentences, and sheweth himselfe as a desperate man in many things, and as one that would resist God: and this is his good cause which hee doeth not handle well. Againe, the aduersaries maintaine with many goodly arguments, that God punisheth continually according to the trespass, grounding vpon Gods prouidence, his iustice, and mans sinnes: yet their intention is euill: for they labour to bring Iob into despair, and so they maintaine an euil cause. Ezekiel commendeth Iob as a iust man, Exek. 1. 4. and Iames setteth out his patience for an example, Iames 5. 11.

CHAP. I.

1 The holmess, riches, and care of Iob for his children. 10 Satan hath permission to tempt him. 13 He tempteth him by taking away his sustenance, and his children. 20 His faith and patience.

that feared God, and eschewed euill.

a That is, of the country of Idumea, as Lamen. 4. 1. or bordering thereupon: for the land was called by the name of Uz the sonne of Dishan the sonne of Seir, Gene. 36. 28. b Forasmuch as he was a Gentile and not a Jew, and yet is pronounced vpright, and without hypocrisy, it declareth, that among the heathen God hath his.

c Hereby is declared what is meant by an vpright and iust man.

i As destitute of all other helpe and meanes and wonderfully afflicted with the sorrow of his disease.

k Satan vseth the same instrument against Iob, as he did against Adam.

l Meaning, what gainest thou to serue God, seeing he thus plagueth thee, as though he werethine enemy?

This is the most grievous temptation of the faithfull, when their faith is assailed, and when Satan goeth about to perwade them, that they trull in God in vaine.

m For death was appointed to the blasphemers, and so hee meant that he should be soone rid out of his paine. n That is, to be patient in aduersity, as we reioyce when hee sendeth prosperitie, and so to acknowledge him to be both mercifull and iust. o He lo briddled his affections, that his tongue thorow impatience did not murmur against God. p Which were men of authority, wise and learned, and as the Septuagint write, kings, and came to comfort him, but when they law how he was visited, they conceived an euill opinion of him as though he had bin but an hypocrite, and so iustly plagued of God for his finnes. q This was also a ceremony which they vsed in those countries, as the renting of their clothes in signe of sorrow, &c. r And therefore thought that he would not haue hearkened to their counsell.

CHAP. III.

1 Iob complaineth and curseth the day of his birth, 2 He desireth to die, as though death were the ende of all mans misery.

a These ten dayes ended. Chap. 1. 3. b Here Iob beginneth to feele his great imperfection in this battell betwene the spirit and the flesh, Rom 7. 18. and after a manner yeeldeth, yett in the end he getteth victory, though he was in the meane time greatly wounded.

c Men ought not to be weary of their life, and curseth, because of the infirmities that it is subiect vnto, but because they are giuen to sinne and rebellion against God. d Let it bee put out of the number of dayes, and let it not haue the light of the sinne to separate it from the night. e That is, most obscure darkenes, which maketh them afraid of death that are in it.

from the sole of his foote vnto his crowne. 8 And hee tooke a postheard to scape him, and hee laye downe among the ashes.

9 Then said his wife vnto him, Dost thou continue yett in thine vspergithnesse? m Blaspheeme God, and die.

10 But hee laid vnto her, Thou speakest like a foolish woman: what? shal we receiue good at the hand of God, and not receiue euill? In all this did not Iob sinne with his lips.

11 Nowe when Iob's three friends heard of all this euill that was come vpon him, they came euery one from his owne place, to wit, Eliphaz the Temanite, and Bildad the Shubite, and Sophar the Naamathite: for they were agreed together to come to lament with him, and to comfort him.

12 So when they lift vp their eyes a farr off, they knew him not: therefore they lift vp their voyces and wept, and euery one of them rent his garment, and sprinkled dust vpon their heads toward the heauen.

13 So they sat by him vpon the ground thre dayes, and seuen nightes, and none spake a word vnto him: for they law that the griefe was very great.

A fterward Iob opened his mouth, and 2 And Iob cuffed out, and said,

3 Let the day perish wherein I was borne, & the night when it was said, There is a man child conceived.

4 Let that day be darknesse, let not God regard it from aboue, neither let the light shine vpon it.

5 But let darknesse & the shadow of death shine it: let it be the cloud remaine vpon it, and let them make it fearefull as a bitter day.

6 Let darknesse possess that night, let it not be layned vnto the dayes of the yere, nor let it come into the count of the moneths.

7 Pea, desolate be that night, and let no toy be in it.

8 Let them that curse the day bring it againe to mine ear, that I may curse it.

9 Let the stars of that twilight be dimme through darknesse of it: let it looke for light, but haue none: neither let it see the dawning of the day.

10 Because it shut not vp the wombe of my mothers wombe: nor hid sorrow from mine eyes.

11 Why did I not in the birth? or why did not I die when I came out of the wombe?

12 Why did the knees peruent mee? and why did I sucke the breasts?

13 For so should I now haue a lier and bene quiet, I should haue slepe then, and bene at rest.

14 Why did the kings and counsellors of the earth, which haue builded themselves a desolate place?

15 Why did the princes that had gold, and haue filled their houses with siluer.

16 Why was I not bidden as an vntimely birch, either as an infant, which haue not scene the light?

17 The wicked haue there ceased from their tyrannie, and there they that labour'd valiantly, are at rest.

18 The prisoners rest together, and heare not the voyce of the oppressor.

19 There are small and great, and the seruant is free from his master.

20 Wherefore is the light giuen to him that is in misery? and life vnto them that haue heavy hearts?

21 Which long for death, and if it come not, they would enen search it more then treasures.

22 Which loy for gladnesse, and reioyce when they can finde the graue.

23 Why is the light giuen to the man whose way is hidde, and whom God hath yegged in?

24 For my sighing cometh before I eare, and my tearings are powred out like the water.

25 For the thing I feared is come vnto me, and the thing that I was afraid of, is come vnto me.

26 I had no peace, neither had I quietnes, neither had I rest, yet trouble is come.

Whereas the wicked lament in their troubles, thou shalt have occasion to reioyce.

When we are in Gods favour, all creatures shall serve vs.

God shall blesse thee, that thou shalt have occasion to reioyce in all things, and not to be offended.

Though the children of God haue not alwayes this promise performed, yet God doeth recompense it otherwise to their advantage. We haue learned these points by experience, that God punisheth not the innocent, that man cannot compare in justice with him, that the hypocrites shall not long prosper, and that the affliction which man susteineth, cometh for his owne sinne.

But thou shalt laugh at destruction and death, and shalt not be afraid of the beast of the earth.

For the stones of the field shall bee in league with thee, and the beasts of the field shall be at peace with thee.

And thou shalt know that peace shall be in thy tabernacle, and thou shalt visite thine habitation, and shalt not sinne.

Thou shalt perceive also, that thy seed shall be great, and thy posteritie as the grasse of the earth.

Thou shalt goe to thy graue in a full age, as a rick of come cometh in due season into the barn.

For, thus haue we enquired of it, and so it is: heare this, and know it for thy selfe.

CHAP. VI.

Job answereth, that his paine is more grievous then his fault. He wisheth death. Hee complaineth of his friends.

Job answered, and said, O that my griefe were well weighed, and my miseries were laide together in the balance!

For it would bee now heavier then the sand of the sea: or therfore my words are swallowed up.

For the arrows of the Almighty are in me, the venime whereof doeth drinke up my spirit, and the terrors of God fight against mee.

Doeth the wilde asse bray when he hath grasse? or lowereth he ore when he hath fodder?

That which is vnflauour, shall he eate without salt? or is there any taste in the white of an egge?

Such things as my soule refused to touch, as were sorrowes, are my meate.

O that I might haue my desire, and that God would graunt me the thing that I long for!

For that is, that God would bestow mee: that he would let his hand goe, and cut mee off.

Then should I yet haue comfort, (though I burne with sorrow, let him not spare) because I haue not denied the words of the holy One.

What power haue I that I should endure? or what is mine end, if I should prolong my life?

Is my strength the strength of stones?

To know whether I complain without iust cause.

My griefe is so great that I lack words to express it.

Which declareth that he was not only afflicted in body, but wounded in conscience, which is the greatest battle that the faithfull can haue.

Think you that I cry without cause, seeing the bruite beasts doe not complain when they haue what they would?

Can a mans taste delight in that that hath no flavour? meaning, that none take pleasure in affliction, seeing they cannot away with things that are vnflauoris to the mouth.

Herein he sinneth double, both in withing thorough impatience to die, and also in desiring of God a thing which was not agreeable to his will. That is, let me die at once before I come to distrust in Gods promise through mine impatience. He saith, he should be brought to inconveniences, if his sorrowes should continue.

Job

or is my flesh of brasse?

Is it not so, there is in me no helper, and that strength is taken from mee?

What is it in misery ought to bee comforted of his neighbour: but men haue forsaken the feare of the Almighty.

Why brethren haue deceiued mee as a brooke, and as the rising of the rivers they passe away.

Which are blackish with ice, and when in the snow is bin.

But in time they are dyed vp with heat, and are consumed: and when it is hot, they faile out of their places.

Or they depart from their way and course, yea, they vanish and perish.

They that goe to Senna, considered them, and they that goe to Sheba, waited for them.

But they were confounded: when they hoped, they came thither and were ashamed.

Surely now are yee like vnto it: yee haue seene my fearfull plague, and are afraid.

Was it because I sayde, Bring comfort mee: or giue a reward to mee of your substance?

And deliuer me from the enemies hand, or ransom me out of the hand of tyrant?

Teach me, I will hold my tongue: and causeth me to understand wherein I haue erred.

How steadfast are the words of righteousness: and what can any of you iustly reprove?

Do ye imagine to reprove a word, that the talke of the afflicted should be as the wind?

Yee make your wrath to fall vpon the fatherlesse, and dig a pit for your friends.

How therefore be content to looke vpon me: for I will not lie before your face.

Turne, I pray you, let there bee none iniquitie: returne, I say, and yee shall see yet my righteousness in that behalfe. Is there iniquitie in my tongue? doeth not my mouth feele sorrowes?

Shew me wherein I haue erred, and I will correct my fault. Hee hath a good conscience, doeth not sinne at the sharpe words or reasonings of others, except they be shew perillable by reason. Q Doe you censure at my words, because I should be thought to speake foolishly, which am now in misery? Consider whether I speake as one that is driuen to this impatience through very sorrow, or as an hypocrite as you condemn me.

CHAP. VII.

Job bewaileth the shortnes and misery of mans life. Is there not an appointed time to man by the dayes, as are his dayes as the dayes of an beeling?

As a seruant longeth for the shadow, and as a beeling looketh for the ende of his worke,

So haue I had as an inheritance the monethes of vanitie, and painefull nightes haue bene appointed vnto me.

If I layd mee downe, I say, when from moneth to moneth, and I haue looked for hope in vain, shall Have I not sought to helpe my selfe as much as was possible? Or yea, or no.

Hee compares thos friends which comfort vs not in misery, to a brooke which in summer is dried, and in winter is hard frozen, and in time of storme when we need no need, cometh with water.

They that goe thereby to get into the house, contrary to Arabias thinking find water there to quench their thirst, but they are deceived. That is, like to this brooke which deceiveth them that come to have water there in need, as I have for consolation at your hands.

Herein he bewaileth the worldling which for necessity will part of their goods, and more they will which will give him comfort.

Hee hath a good conscience, doeth not sinne at the sharpe words or reasonings of others, except they be shew perillable by reason. Q Doe you censure at my words, because I should be thought to speake foolishly, which am now in misery? Consider whether I speake as one that is driuen to this impatience through very sorrow, or as an hypocrite as you condemn me.

Hath not hired I some some rest & then in duty continual labourment I am when an hireling? My seruants hath comforted me.

c This signifieth that his dispute was rare and most horrible.

d Thus he speaketh in respect of the brevitye of mans life, which passeth without hope of returninge in consideration whereof, he desireth God to have compassion on him.

e I thus beholde mee in mine angrie, I shall not be able to stand in thy presence.

f I shall no more stay this mortall life.

shall I aske: and measuring the evening, I am curren full with rolling to and fro unto the dawning of the day.

5 My flesh is clothed with thornes and prickles of the dust, my skinned is rent, and become horrible.

6 My dayes are swifter then a weaners spittle, and they are spent without hope.

7 Remember that my life is but a wind, and that mine eye shall not returne to see pleasure.

8 The eye that hath seene me, shall see me no more: thine eyes are upon mee, and I shall be no longer.

9 As the cloud vanishes and goeth away, so hee that goeth downe to the grave shall come up no more.

10 Wee shall returne no more to his house, neither shall his place know him any more.

11 Therefore I will not spare my mouth, but will speake in the trouble of my spirit, and muse in the bitterness of my minde.

12 Am I a sea? or a whale fish, that thou keepst me in ward?

13 When I say, my couch shall relieve me, and my bed shall bring comfort in my meditation,

14 Then fearest thou me with dreames, and astonishest me with visions.

15 Therefore my soule chuseth rather to bee strangled: and to bee, then to bee in my bones.

16 I abhorre it, I shall not live alway: spare me then, for my dayes are but vanity.

17 What is man that thou dost magnifie him, and that thou settest thine heart upon him?

18 And dost visite him every morning, and reuelst him every moment?

19 How long wilt thou be? yet thou depart from mee: thou wilt not let me alone to please I may swallow my spittle.

20 I have sinned, what shall I doe unto thee? thou predestiner of men, why hast thou set mee as a make against thee, so that I am a burden unto my selfe?

21 And why dost thou put parson my treasure? and take away mine iniquity: for now shall I sleepe in the dust, and if thou feelest me in the morning, I shall not be found.

5 Yet if thou wilt early seeke unto God, and pray to the Almighty,

6 If thou be pure and byright, then surely hee will awake up unto thee, and hee will make the habitation of thy righteousness prosperous.

7 And though thy beginninge be small, yet thy latter end shall greatly increase.

8 Enquire therefore, I pray thee, of the former age, and prepare thy selfe to search of their fathers.

9 For we are but of yesterday, and are ignorant: for our dayes upon earth are but a shadow.

10 Shall not they teach thee, and tell thee, and utter the words of their heart?

11 Can a rush grow without mire? or can the grass grow without water?

12 Though it were in greenes and not cut downe, yet shall it wither before any other herbe.

13 So are the paths of all that forget God, and the hypocrites hope shall perish.

14 His confidence also shall be cut off, and his trust shall be as the house of a spider.

15 Hee shall lean upon his house, but it shall not stand: hee shall hold him fast by it, yet shall it not endure.

16 The tree is green before the sunne, and the branches spread over the garden thereof.

17 The roots thereof are wrapped about the fountain, and are folded about the house of stones.

18 If any plucke it from his place, and it deny, saying, I have not sene thee,

19 Behold, it will rejoyce by this meanes, that it may grow in another mold.

20 Behold, it will not call away an byright man, neither will hee take the wicked by the hand, 21 Till hee have filled thy mouth with laughter, and thy lips with ioy.

22 They that hate thee shall bee clothed with shame, and the dwelling of the wicked shall not remaine.

h Which is to day and to morrow swept away.

i He compareth the iust to a tree, which although it be removed out of one place unto another, yet flourisheth: so the affliction of the godly runneth to their profit.

k That is, so that there remaine nothinge there to prove whether the tree had growen there or no.

l To be planted in another place, where it may grow at pleasure.

m If thou bee godly hee will give thee occasion to rejoyce, and if not, thine affliction shall increase.

b That is, hath rewarded them according to their iniquitie: meaning, that Iob ought to be warned by the example of his children, that he offend not God.

c That is, if thou turne beime, whiles God calleth thee to repentance.

d Though the beginninge be not to pleasure as thou wouldest desire, yet in the end thou shalt have sufficient occasion to comfort thy selfe.

e He willeth Iob to examine all antiquity, and he shall finde it true which he here saith.

f Meaning, that it is not enough to have the experience of our selves, but to be confirmed by the examples of them that went before us.

g As a rush cannot grow without moisture, so cannot the hypocrite become iust.

h He hath not faith which is moynted with Gods Spirit.

CHAP. VIII.

1 Eldad sheweth that Iob is a sinner, because God purgeth the wicked, and preferreth the good.

I then answered Eldad the Shubite, and sayd,

2 How long wilt thou talke of these things: and how long shall the words of thy mouth be as a mighty wind?

3 Dost God pervert iudgement? dost thou the Almighty subvert iustice?

4 If thy comen have sinned against him,

CHAP. IX.

1 Iob declareth the mighty power of God, and that mans righteousness is nothing.

I then Iob answered and sayd,

2 I knowe surely that it is so: for how should man be righteous before God?

3 For he hath heard me, and now he will heare me: for he will see that I am righteous, and he will see that I am not.

4 For he hath heard me, and now he will heare me: for he will see that I am righteous, and he will see that I am not.

5 For he hath heard me, and now he will heare me: for he will see that I am righteous, and he will see that I am not.

c Iob here answereth to that which he said in the last chapter.

d Iob here answereth to that which he said in the last chapter.

e Iob here answereth to that which he said in the last chapter.

f Iob here answereth to that which he said in the last chapter.

4 Hee is wise in heart, and mightie in strength: who hath bene fierce against him and hard prospered?

5 Hee remooueth the mountaines, and they feele not when he ouerthroweth them in his wrath.

6 Hee remooueth the earth out of her place, that the pillars thereof doe shake.

7 Hee commandeth the flume, and it is dried: he closeth up the fountaines as vnder a figuer.

8 Hee himselfe alone spreadeth out the heauens, and walketh vpon the height of the sea.

9 Hee maketh the fountaines: Arcturus, Orion, and Pleiades, and the clymares of the South.

10 Hee doeth great things and vnsearchable: yea, marvellous things without number.

11 Lo, when he goeth by me, I see him not: and when he passeth by, I perceiue him not.

12 Behold, when he taketh a prey, I who can make him to reioyce: hee who shall say vnto him, what doest thou?

13 God will not withdraw his anger, and the most mighty helpe: doe thoue vnder him?

14 How much lesse shall I answer him: or how should I finde out my wordes with him?

15 For though I were iust, yet could I not answer, but I would make supplication to my Iudge.

16 If I cry, and hee answer mee, yet would I not believe that he heard my voice.

17 For he destroyed mee with a tempest, and wounded me without cause.

18 Hee will not suffer mee to take my breath, but filleth me with bitterness.

19 If we speake of strength, behold, he is strong: if we speake of iudgement, who shall bring me in to plead.

20 If I would iustifie my selfe, mine own mouth shall condemne me: if I would be perfect, he shall iudge me wicked.

21 Though I were perfect, yet I know not my soule: therefore abhorre I my life.

22 This is one point: therefore I say, He destroyeth the perfect and the wicked.

23 If the scourge should suddenly I say, should God laugh at the punishment of the innocent?

24 The earth is giuen into the hand of the wicked: hee couereth the faces of the Iudges thereof: if not, where is hee? or who is hee?

25 My dayes haue bene more swift then a poste: they haue fled, and haue seene no good thing.

26 They are passed as with the most swift ships, and as the Eagle that flieth to the prey.

27 If I say, I will forget my complaint, I will cease from my wrath, and comfort mee.

28 Then I am afraid of all my foretellers, knowing that thou wilt not iudge me innocent.

29 If I be wicked, why labour I thus in vaine?

30 If I wrong my selfe with shew water, and purge mine hands most cleane, 31 Yet shalt thou plunge mee in the pit, and mine stone will clothes thee with filth.

32 For hee is not a man as I am, that I should answer thee, if we come together to iudgement.

33 Neither is there anyumpire: that might lay his hand vpon be both.

34 Let him take his rod away from mee, and let not his feare awaken me.

35 Then will I speake, and cease him not: but because I am not so, I hold me still.

1 That they can not see to doe iustice.

2 That can they the contrary? u I thinke not to fall into these sections, but my sorrows bring me to these manifold infirmities, and my conscience condemne me.

3 Why doth not God destroy me at once? thus he speaketh according to the minde of the fish y. Though I seeme neuer so pure in mine owne eyes, yet all is but corruption before God.

4 Whomoeuer I would visit, my sinnes which shall close up mine eyes, will make me more a Which might make an accord betwene God and me, speaking of impatience, and yet confessing God to be iust in punishing him, b Signifying that Gods iudgements keepe him in awe.

1 Job is vniuersally reprehended of Zophar. 7 God is incomprehensible. 2 He is mercifull to the repentant. 3 His assurance that liue godly.

Then answered Zophar the Naamathite,
and sayd,

2 Should not the multitude of wordes be answered? or should a great talker bee justified?

3 Should men holde their peace at thy likes? and when thou mockest others, shall none make thee ashamed?

4 For thou hast said, My doctrine is pure, and I am cleane in thine eyes.

5 But oh, that God would speake and open his lips against thee!

6 That he might shew thee the secrets

hath forgotten thee for thine iniquity.

7 Canst thou by searching find out God?
canst thou finde out the Almighty by thy perfection?

8 The heauens are his, which canst thou thou know it?

9 The measure thereof is longer then

1 Job accuseth his friends of ignorance. 7 He declareth the might and power of God, 17 and how he changeeth the course of things.

Then Job answered and sayd,

2 In verbe because that yet are the people onely, wisdom must die with you.

3 But I haue vnderstanding as well as you, and am not inferior vnto you: yea, who knoweth not such things?

4 I am as one mocked of his neighbour, who calleth vpon God, and he heareth him: the lust and the vpright is laughed to scorne.

despised in the opinion of the rich.

Pro. 14. 3. b He reproveth these his friends of two faults: the one, that they thought they had better knowledge then indeed they had and, the other, that in stead of true consolation, they did deride and despise their friend in his aduersitie. c The which might beeing

8 O, speake to the earth and it shall teach thee: of the fishes of the sea, and they shall declare unto thee.

9 Who is ignorant of all these, but that the hand of the Lord hath made these?

10 In whose hand is the soule of every living thing, and the breath of all mankind.

11 Doth not the eares discern words, and the mouth taste meate for it selfe?

12 Among the ancient is wisdom, and in the length of dayes is understanding.

13 With him is wisdom and strength, he hath counsell and understanding.

14 Behold, he will breake downe, and it cannot be built: he will smite a man yve, and hee cannot be looked.

15 Behold, he withholerh the waters, and they die yve: but when hee senderh them out, they destroy the earth.

16 With him is strength and wisdom, he that is deceived, and that deceiveth are his.

17 Hee causeth the counsellors to goe as spoiled, and maketh the iudges fooles.

18 Hee looserh the collar of kings, and giveth their loynes with a girdle.

19 Hee leaderh away the princes, as a pray and overthwerth the mighty.

20 Hee taketh away the speech from the faithfull counsellors, and taketh away the iudgement of the ancient.

21 Hee powerth contempt upon princes, & maketh the strength of the mighty weak.

22 Hee discovereth the deepe places from their darknes, and bringeth forth the shadow of death to light.

24 Hee taketh away the hearts of them that are the chiefe our the people of the earth, and maketh them to wander in the wilderness out of the way.

25 They grope in the darke without light: and he maketh them to stagger like a drunken man.

¶ He causeth that their words have no credit, which is, when he will punish him. m In this discourse of Gods wonderfull works, Job sheweth that whatsoever is done in this world both in the order, and change of things, is by Gods will and appointment: wherein he declarerh that he thinketh well of God, and is as able to set forth his power in words, as they that reasoned against, were.

CHAP. XIII.

¶ Job comparerh his knowledge with the experience of his friends. 16 The penitent shalbe saved, and the hypocrite condemned. 20 He prayeth unto God, that he would not handle him rigorously.

¶ De, mine eye hath scene all this: mine eare hath heard and understood it.

2 I knoweth as much as you know: I am not inferior unto you.

3 But I will reverence the Almighty:

and I desire to dispute with God.

4 For indeed ye say lies, and all you are physicians of no value.

5 O, that you would hold your tongue, that it might bee imputed to you for wisdom.

6 Now heare my disputation, and give eare to the arguments of my lips.

7 Will ye speake wickedly for Gods defence, and talke deceitfully for his cause?

8 Will ye accept his person? or will ye contend for God?

9 Is it well that he should seeke of you? will you make a lie for him, as one lieth for a man?

10 We will surely reprove you, if ye doe secretly accept any person.

11 Shall not his excellencie make you afraid: and his feare fall upon you?

12 Your memories may bee compared unto ashes, and your bodies to bodys of clay.

13 Holde your tongues in my presence, that I may speake, and let come upon what will.

14 Wherefore do I take my flesh in my teeth, and put my soule in mine hand?

15 Loe, though he slay me, yet will I trust in him, and I will reprove my wayes in his sight.

16 He shall be my salvation also: for the hypocrite shall not come before him.

17 Heare diligently my wordes, and make me talke.

18 Behold now: if I prepare me to iudgement, I know that I shall be justified.

19 Who is he that will pleade with me? so I will holde my tongue I die.

20 But do not these two things unto me; then will I not hide my selfe from thee:

21 I will shew thee mine hand from me, and let thy feare make me afraid.

22 Then call thou, and I will answer: or let me speake, and I will answer thee.

23 How many are mine iniquities, and sinnes: how mee my rebellion, and my iniquities.

24 Wherefore hidest thou thy face, and takest me for thine enemy?

25 Will thou breake a lease of suert to and fro: and wilt thou pursue the dyce stubble?

26 For thou wilt bid bitter things against me, and makest mee to possesse the iniquities of my youth.

27 Thou puttest my feete also in the stocks, and lookest narrowly unto all my pathes, and makest the print thereof in the beams of my feete.

28 Such one consumeth like a rotten thing, and as a garment that is moth-eaten.

¶ I defend not my cause, every man will condemne me. k Hee sheweth what these two things are.

l His pangs thus move him to reason with God, not denying that he had sinned, but desiring to understand what were his sinnes, that had deserved such rigour, wherein he offended, that would know a cause of God why hee did punish him.

m Thou punishst mee now for the faults that I committed in my youth. n Thou makest me thy prisoner, & dost so presse me that I cannot stirre hand nor foot. † Ebr. posses.

a For although he knows that God had a iustice which was manifest in his ordinary working, another in his secret counsell, yet would hee yetter his affliction to God, because he was not able to understand the cause why he did thus punish him.

b You doe not well apply your medicine to the disease.

c Hee condemneth their zeal which had no knowledge, neither regarded they to comfort him, but way grated on Gods iustice, although it was not evidently scene in Job, except they had undertaken the probation thereof.

d Your faith shall come to nothing.

e Is not this manifest signe of mine affliction, and that I doe not complain without cause, seeing that I am thus tormented as though I should tear mine owne flesh, and put my life in danger?

f Whereby hee declarerh that he is not a hypocrite, as they charged him.

g That is, cleared, and not offered for my fault, as you reason.

h To prove that God doth not punish me for my sinnes.

i If I defend not my cause, every man will condemne me.

k Hee sheweth what these two things are.

l His pangs thus move him to reason with God, not denying that he had sinned, but desiring to understand what were his sinnes, that had deserved such rigour, wherein he offended, that would know a cause of God why hee did punish him.

m Thou punishst mee now for the faults that I committed in my youth.

n Thou makest me thy prisoner, & dost so presse me that I cannot stirre hand nor foot. † Ebr. posses.

1 Job describes the shortness and misery of the life of man. 2. 4 Hope sustains the godly. 3 The condition of man lijs.

a Taking occasion of his adversaries words, he describeth the flane of mans life from his birth to his death.

Chap. 3. 9.

Psal. 144. 4.

all out of my sinnes

vponididit, k He murmureth through the im-

Man that is borne of a woman, is of short continuance, and full of trouble.

2 Hee shooteth forth as a flower, and is cut downe: hee vanissheth also as a shadow, and continueth not.

3 And yet thou openest thine eyes vpon such a one, and callest me to enter into iudgement with thee.

4 Why canst thou bring a cleane thing out of filthinesse? there is not one.

5 Are not his dayes determined? the number of his monthes is with thee: thou hast appointed his bounds, which he cannot passe.

6 Turne from him that he may cease vntill his desired day, as an hircing.

7 For there is hope of a tree, if it be cut downe, that it will yet sprout, and the branches thereof will not cease.

8 Though the roote of it waer old in the earth, and the stocke thereof be dead in the ground,

9 Yet by the sent of water it will bud, and bring forth boughes like a plant.

10 But man is like, and dieth, and man perissheth, and where is he?

11 As the waters passe from the sea, and as the flood decayeth and drieth vp,

12 So man slepeth and riseth not: for he shall not wake againe, nor be raised from his sleepe till the heauen be no more.

13 Wh that thou wouldest hide me in the grave, and keepe me secret, vntill thy wrath were past, and wouldest giue mee trespasse, and I remember me:

14 If a man die, shall hee liue againe? All the daies of mine appointed time will I wait, till my changing shall come.

15 Thou shalt call me, and I shall answer thee: thou louest the worke of thine owne hands, 16 But now thou countest my steps, and dost not delay my finnes.

17 Mine iniquitie is sealed vp, as in a bagge, and thou addest vnto my wickednesse.

18 And surely as the mountaine that falleth, commonly to nought, and the rocke that is remoued from his place:

19 As the water breaketh the stones, when thou ouerflowest the things which growe in the bush of the earth: so thou destroyest the hope of man.

20 Thou menailest alway against him, for that he passeth away: hee changeth his face when thou callest him away.

21 And he knoweth not if his finnes shall be honourable, neither shall hee vnderstand concerning them, whether they shall bee of low degree,

22 But while his flesh is vpon him, hee shall bee sorrowfull, and while his soule is in him, it shall mourne.

C H A P. XV.

1 Eliphaz reprehendeth Iob, because hee ascribeth wisdom and purpasse to himselfe. 16 He describeth the curse that falleth on the wicked, reckning Iob to bee one of the number.

Thou answeredst Eliphaz the Temanite, and sayd,

2 Shall a wise man speake words of the wind, and fill his belly with the East wind?

3 Shall he dispute with words not comely? or will hee talke that is not profitable?

4 Surely thou hast cast off feare, and restrainest prayer before God.

5 For thy mouth declarerh thine iniquitie, seeing thou hast chosen the tongue of the craftie.

6 Thine owne mouth condemnerh thee, and not I, and thy lips reuile against thee.

7 Art thou the first man that was borne? and wilt thou make before the billes?

8 Hast thou heard the secret counsell of God, and dost thou restraine wisdom to thyselfe?

9 What knowest thou that we know not, and understandest that is not in vs?

10 Which vs are both ancient and verie aged men, farre older then thy father.

11 Seeme the consolations of God small vnto thee? is this thing strange vnto thee?

12 Why dost thou chide heart? take thee away, and let the eyes see meane.

13 What thou answerest to God at thy pleasure, and bringest such words out of thy mouth?

14 What is man, that he should be cleane? and he that is borne of woman, that he should be iust?

15 Behold, hee found no stedfastnesse in his laintes: yea the heauens are not cleane in his sight.

16 How much more is man abominable, and filthy, which hath iniquitie like water?

17 I will tell thee: heare me, and I will declare that which I haue seene:

18 Which wilt men haue tolde, as they haue heard of their fathers, and haue not kept it secret.

19 To whom alone the land was giuen, and no stranger passed thorow them.

20 The wicked man is continually as one that rauallith of child, and the number of his yeeres is hid from the tyrant.

21 A loud of feare is in his cares, and in his prosperitie the destroyer shall come vpon him.

22 Hee willingly not to requite out of darkness: for he seeth the sword before him.

23 Hee wandereth to and fro for byrd as he that is thirstie to drinke. I When by their wisdom in gouerned, that no stranger inuaded them, and for the land seemed to be giuen to them alone. In the cruel man is euer in danger of death, and is neuer quiet in conscience. O Out of the misery of the wicked he once falleth. O God doeth not natally impoverish the wicked oftentimes: but when in their prosperitie he punisheth them with a greedinesse euer more to gather: which is a curse.

1 Yet while hee liueth, he shall be in paine and miserie.

a That is, vaine words, and without consolation.

b Meaning, with matters that are of none importance, which are forgotten as soon as they are vttered, as the East wind drieth vp the moisture alsoone as it is felleth.

c He chargeth Iob as though his talke caused men to call off the feare of God and prayer.

d I how speakest as doe the mockers & contemptners of God.

e That is, the most ancient and so by reason the most wise?

f Art thou onely wise?

g He accuseth Iobs pride and ingratitude, that will not be comforted by God, nor by their counsell.

h Why dost thou stand in thine owne conceit?

i For in thy words, I his purpose is to prove that Iob as an vnjust man and an hypocrite is punished for his finnes, like as he did before, Chap. 4. 18.

k What hee had desired to finne, p He sheweth what weapons God vieth against the wicked which lieth vp themselves against him, to wit, terror of conscience, and outward afflictions.

q That is, he was so puffed up with great prosperity and abundance of all things that he forgate God: noting that Iob in his felicitie had not the true feare of God.

r Though he build and repaire ruinous places to get him fame, yet God shal bring all to nought, & turne his great prosperitie into extreme misery.

f Meaning that his sumptuous buildings should neuer come to perfection.

g He leaneth so in his owne conceit, that he will giue no place to good counsel therefore his owne pride shal bring him to destruction u As one that gathereth grapes before they be ripe. x Which were built or maintained by pawning and bribery y And therefore all their vaine deuices shall turne to their owne destruction.

a Which serueth for vain ostentation, and for no true comfort.

b For Eliphaz did reply against Iobs answer.

c I would you felt that which I doe.

d That is, knocke at your miserie, as you doe at mine.

e Which were in my power yet would comfort you, and now doe as yet doe to mee.

f If they would say, why doe thou not then comfort thy selfe the answereth that the miserie of God are more heauie, then hee is able to as-

g Meaning God. h That is, where hee may: hee knoweth that the day of darkenes is prepared at hand.

24 Affliction and p anguish shall make him afraid: they shall pynnele against him as a king ready to the battell.

25 For hee hath stretched out his hand against God, and made himselfe strong against the Almighty.

26 Therefore God shall runne vpon him, even vpon his necke, and against the most thicke part of his shield.

27 Because he hath covered his face with his farnesse, and hath collops in his flanke.

28 Though hee dwell in desolate cities and in houses which no man inhabiteth, but are become heapes.

29 Hee shall not bee rich, neither shall his substance continue, neither shall hee possesse the perfection thereof in the earth.

30 Ioe shall neuer depart out of darkenes: the flame shall drie vp his branches, and hee shall goe away with the breath of his mouth.

31 Hee shall neuer depart out of darkenes: the flame shall drie vp his branches, and hee shall goe away with the breath of his mouth.

32 His branch shall not be green, but shall be cut off before his day.

33 God shall destroy him as the vine hee sower grapes, and shall cast him off, as the olive doeth her flower.

34 For the congregation of the hypocrite shall bee desolate, and fire shall demoure the boules of babies.

35 For they conceale mischiefe, and bring forth banittes, and their belly hath prepared deceit.

g He leaneth so in his owne conceit, that he will giue no place to good counsel therefore his owne pride shal bring him to destruction u As one that gathereth grapes before they be ripe. x Which were built or maintained by pawning and bribery y And therefore all their vaine deuices shall turne to their owne destruction.

CHAP. XVI.

1 Iob moued by the importunacie of his friends, y Cometh in what extremie hee is, 19 And taketh God to witness of his innocencie.

B At Iob answered, and sayd, 2 I haue oft times heard such things: miserable comforters are ye all.

3 Shall there bee none end of wordes of winder? or what manner shal I hold to to be answered?

4 I could also speake as ye doe: (but would God your soules were in my soles stead) I could keepe you companie in speaking, and could shake mine head at you.

5 But I would strengthen you with my mouth, and the comfort of my lips should all waite your sorrow.

6 Though I speake, my sorrow cannot bee still waged: though I cease, what releafe haue I?

7 But now hee maketh mee wearie: O God, thou hast made all my congregation desolate,

8 And hast made mee full of wincles, which is a witness thereof, and my leannes riseth vp in mee, testifying the same in my face.

9 His wrath hath torne mee, and hee hath mer, and gnaweth vpon mee with his teeth: mine enemy hath sharpened his eyes against mee.

10 They haue opened their mouthes vpon mee, and smitten mee on the cheekes in reproch: they gather themselves together against mee.

11 God hath deliuered mee to the vnliust, and hath made mee to turne out of the way by the hands of the wicked.

12 I was in wealt, but hee hath brought me to nought: hee hath taken me by the necke, and beaten mee, and set mee as a market for himselfe.

13 His archers compass me round about: hee cutteth my reines, and doeth not spare, and powreth my gall vpon the ground.

14 Hee hath broken mee with one breacking vpon another, and runneth vpon mee like a grant.

15 I haue sowed a sackcloth vpon my skinned, and haue abased mine voyce vnto the dust.

16 My face is withered with weeping, and the shadow of death is vpon mine eyes.

17 Though there bee no wickednesse in mine hands, and my prayer be pure.

18 O earth, couer not thou my blood, and let my crying finde no place.

19 For loe, now my witness is in the heauen, and my record is on hie.

20 My friends speake eloquently against mee: but mine eye poureth out teares vnto God.

21 O that a man might plead with God, as a man with his neighbour!

22 For the peeres accounted com, and I shall goe the way, whence I shall not returne.

condemne mee, yet God is witness of my cause. u Vile paines words in stead of true consolation. x Thus by his great torment hee is caried away, and brasteth out into passions, and speaketh vnauisedly, as though God should increate man more gently, seeing hee hath but a short time here to liue.

CHAP. XVII.

1 Iob saith that hee consumeth away, and yet doeth patiently abide it. 10 Hee exhorteth his friends to repentance, 13 shewing that hee looketh but for death.

My breath is corrupt: my dayes are cutt off, and the graue is ready for me.

2 There are none but mockers with me, and mine eye continueth in their bitterness.

3 Lay downe now and put mee in surety for thee: who is hee, that will touch mine hand?

4 For thou hast bled their heart from vnderstanding: therefore shalt thou not let them vp on hie.

vexe me. c Hereafter with God as a man beside himselfe, to the intent that his cause might be brought to light. d And answer for thee? e That the mine afflictions are thy iust iudgement, though man know not the cause.

i In token of sorrow and griefe. k That is, God by his wrath, and in this diuersion of words and his stile, hee expresseth how grieuous the hand of God was vpon him.

l That is, hath handled me most contemptuously for so smiting on the cheekes signified, 1 King. 12. 24. mar. 14. 65. m They haue led me whither they would, in his manifold afflictions.

o I am wounded to the heart.

p Meaning, his glory was brought low.

q Signifying, that hee is not able to comprehend the cause of this his grieuous punishment.

r That is, vnseene, and without hypocric.

s Let my friends be knowne if I be such a sinner as mine aduersaries accuse me, and let me find no fauour.

t Though man as Iob pained himselfe to be such a sinner as mine aduersaries accuse me, and let me find no fauour.

u Vile paines words in stead of true consolation.

x Thus by his great torment hee is caried away, and brasteth out into passions, and speaketh vnauisedly, as though God should increate man more gently, seeing hee hath but a short time here to liue.

z Signifying, that hee is not able to comprehend the cause of this his grieuous punishment.

aa That is, vnseene, and without hypocric.

bb Let my friends be knowne if I be such a sinner as mine aduersaries accuse me, and let me find no fauour.

cc Though man as Iob pained himselfe to be such a sinner as mine aduersaries accuse me, and let me find no fauour.

dd Vile paines words in stead of true consolation.

ee Thus by his great torment hee is caried away, and brasteth out into passions, and speaketh vnauisedly, as though God should increate man more gently, seeing hee hath but a short time here to liue.

ff Meaning, his glory was brought low.

gg Signifying, that hee is not able to comprehend the cause of this his grieuous punishment.

hh That is, vnseene, and without hypocric.

f He that flattereth a man, and overlyudgeth him happye in his prosperitie, shall not himselfe only, but in his posteritie be punished.

g God hath made all the world to speake of me, because of mine afflictions.

h That is, as a continual sound in their eares.

i To wit, when they see the godly punished: bein the end they shall come to understanding, and know what shall be the reward of the hypocrite.

k That is, will not be discouraged, considering that the godly are punished as well as the wicked.

l Which count your felices iust, as Chap. 1. 2. 4.

m Whom you take to be beasts, as Chap. 1. 2. 7.

n That is, like a mad man.

o Shall God change the order of nature for thy sake, by dealing with thee otherwise than he doeth with all men?

p When the wicked is in his prosperitie, then God changeth his state, and this is his ordinary working for their finnes.

q Meaning here the wicked are in continual danger

1 For the eyes of his children shall faile, that speake thus flatter to his friends.

2 Iee hath also made mee a by-word of the people, and I am as a target before them.

3 Mine eye therefore is dimme for griefe, and all my strength is like a shadow.

4 The righteous shall be astonished at this, and the innocent shall be moued against the hypocrite.

5 But the righteous will hold his way, and he whose hands are pure, shall increase his strength.

6 All you therefore turne you and come now, and I shall not finde one wise among you.

7 My dayes are past, mine enterprises are broken, and the thoughts of mine heart,

8 I have changed the night for the day, and the light that apperched for darknesse.

9 Though I hope, yet the grane shall bee mine house, and I shall make my bed in the darke.

10 I shall say to corruption, Thou art my father, and to the womne, Thou art my mother and my sister.

11 Where is then now my hope? or who shall consider the thing that I hoped for?

12 They shall goe downe into the bottom of the pit: surely it shall lie together in the dust.

1 Iob speaketh to them there that come to comfort him. m That is, haue brought mee sorrow in stead of comfort. n Though I should hope to come from aduersitie to prosperitie, as your discourse pretendeth. o I haue no more hope in father, mother, sister, or any worldly thing: for the dust and wormes shall be mee in stead of them. p All worldly hope and prosperitie faile, which you say, are only finnes of Gods fauour: but seeing that these things perish, I set my hope in God, and in the life euermouing.

CHAP. XVIIII.

1 Bildad reuerfeth the paines of the vnfaithfull and wicked.

2 When answered Bildad the Shubite, and sayd,

3 When wilt thou make an end of thy words? cause vs to vnderstand, and then we will speake.

4 Therefore are wee counted as beasts, and are vile in your sight?

5 Thou art as one that reareth his foale in his anger. Shall the earth bee forsaken for thy sake? or the rocke remoued out of his place?

6 Pea, the light of the wicked shall bee quenched, and the sparke of his fire shall not shine.

7 The light shall bee darke in his dwelling, and his candle shall be put out with him.

8 The steps of his strength shall bee restrained, and his owne counsell shall cast him downe.

9 For hee is taken in the net by his feete, and he shall walke vpon the snares.

10 The grete shall take him by the heele, and the chiefe shall come vpon him.

11 A snare is laid for him in the ground, and a trap for him in the way.

12 Fearfullnesse shall make him afraid on every side, and shall drine him to his feet.

12 His strength shall be as famine: and destruction shall be ready at his side.

13 He shall deuoure the inner parts of his kinne, and the first borne of death shall deuoure his strength.

14 His hope shall be rooted out of his dwelling, and shall cause him to goe to the King of feare.

15 Feare shall dwell in his house (because it is not his) and by him shall be scattered vpon his habitation.

16 His rootes shall bee dried by beneath, and aboue shall his branch be cut downe.

17 His remembrance shall perish from the earth, and hee shall haue no name in the streets.

18 They shall drine him out of the light vnto darkenesse, and chase him out of the world.

19 Hee shall neither haue sonne nor nephew among his people, nor any posterity in his dwellings.

20 The posteritie shall bee astonished as his day, and feare shall come vpon the ancient.

21 Surely such are the habitations of the wicked, and this is the place of him that knoweth not God.

CHAP. XIX.

2 Iob reuerfeth his friends. 15 And reueth his miserie: and grievous paines: 25 Hee iurath him selfe of the gentler correction.

3 He Iob answered, and sayd,

4 How long wilt thou vex my soule, and torment me with words?

5 Per haue now reme times reproched me, and are not ashamed: yet are ingudent toward me.

6 And though I had indeed erred, mine error remaineth with me.

7 But indeed if you will aduance your felices against mee, and rebuke me for my reproch,

8 Know now, that God hath overchawen mee, and hath compassed mee with his net.

9 Behold, I cry out of violence, but I haue none answer: I cry, but there is no iudgement.

10 Iee hath hedged by my way that I cannot passe, and hee hath set darknesse in my pathes.

11 Iee hath spoiled mee of mine honour, and taken the crowne away from mine head.

12 Iee hath destroyed mee on euery side, and I am gone: and hee hath remoued mine hope like a tree.

13 And he hath kindled his wrath against me, and counted mee as one of his enemies.

14 His armies came together, and made their way vpon mee, and camped about my tabernacle.

15 Iee hath remoued my brethren farre from mee, and also mine acquaintance were strangers vnto me.

16 My neighbours haue forsaken me, and my familiar haue forgotten me.

17 They that dwell in mine house, and my maybes rooke mee for a stranger: for I was a stranger in their sight.

18 I called my seruants, but they would not answer.

^l My heart was strange vnto my wife, though I prayed for the childrens sake of mine owne body.

^m The wicked also despised mee, and when I rose, they spake against me.

ⁿ All my secret friends abhorred me, and they whom I loued, are turned against me.

^o My bone cleaueth to my skinned, and to my flesh, and I haue escaped with the skinned of my teeth.

^p Haue pittie vpon me: haue pittie vpon me, (O yee my friends) for the hand of God hath touched me.

^q Why doe yee persecute mee as God? and are not satisfied with my flesh?

^r Oh that my wordes were now written: Oh that they were written euen in a booke,

^s And grauen with an yron pen in lead, or in stone for euer!

^t For I am sure that my Redeemer lieth, and he shall stand the last on the earth.

^u And though after my skinned wormes destroy this body, yet shall I see God in my flesh.

^v Whom I my selfe shall see, and mine eyes shall behold, and none other for mee, though my crimes are confirmed with in me.

^w But yee said, Why is hee persecuted? And there was a deepe matter in me.

^x Bee yee afrayde of the sword: for the sword will be reuenged of wickednesse, that ye may know that there is a iudgement.

So that the eye which had seene him, shall see him no more.

^y His children shall flatter the poore, and his hands shall restore his substance.

^z His bones are full of the sinne of his youth, and it shall lie downe with him in the dust.

^a When wickednesse was sweet in his mouth, and he hid it vnder his tongue,

^b And fauoured it, and would not forsake it, but kept it close in his mouth:

^c Then his meat in his bowels was turned: the gall of Aspes was in the middes of him.

^d Yee hath deuoured substance, and hee shall bouit it: for God shall braue it out of his belly.

^e Yee shall sucke the gall of Aspes, and the vipers tongue shall slay him.

^f Yee shall not see the rivers, nor the floods and streames of honey and butter.

^g Yee shall restore the labour, and shall deuoure no more: euen according to the substance shall bee his exchange, and hee shall enioy it no more.

^h For hee hath vndone many: hee hath solaken the poore, and hath spoiled houses which hee builded not.

ⁱ Surely hee shall see no quietnesse in his body, neither shall hee be secure of that which hee desired.

^j There shall none of his meat be left: therefore none shall hope for his goods.

^k When hee shall be filled with his abundance, hee shall be in paine, and the hand of all the wicked shall stayle him.

^l Yee shall be about to fill his belly, but God shall send vpon him his fierce wrath, and shall cause to raine vpon him, euen vpon his meate.

^m Yee shall flee from the yron weapons, and the bow of Steele shall strike him through.

ⁿ The arrow is drawen out, and cometh forth of the body, and shinerh of his gall, so fear commeth vpon him.

^o All darkenesse shall be hid in his secret places: the fire that is not blown, shall deuoure him, and that which remaineth in his tabernacle, shall be destroyed.

^p The heauen shall declare his wickednes, and the earth shall rise vp against him.

^q The increase of his house shall goe away: it shall flowe away in the day of his wrath.

^r This is the portion of the wicked man from God, and the heritage that hee shall haue of God for his wordes.

after God will take it from them, and cause them to make restitution, for that it is but an exchange.

^k Hee shall leave nothing to his posteritie. ^l The wicked shall neuer be at rest: for one wicked man shall seeke to destroy another. ^m Some read, vpon his flesh, alluding to Iob, whose flesh was smitten with a scab. ⁿ Some read, of the quier. ^o All feare and sorrow shall light vpon him, when hee thinketh to escape. ^p That is, fire from heauen, or the fire of Gods wrath. ^q Meaning the children of the wicked shall flow away, like rivers, and be dispersed in diuers places. ^r That God will plague the wicked, if against God, thinking to escape himselfe, and so escape Gods hand.

CHAP. XXI.

7 Iob declareth how the prosperitie of the wicked maketh them proud: 15 I smatch that they blaspheme God, 16 Their destruction is at hand, 23 None ought to be iudged wicked for affliction, neither good for prosperitie.

B At Iob answered, and sayd, 2 Heare diligently my wordes, and this shall be in stead of your consolations.

3 Suffer mee that I may speake, and when I haue spoken, meeke on.

4 Doe I direct my talke to man? If it were so, how should not my spirit be troubled?

5 Marke me, and be abashed, and lay your hand vpon your mouth.

6 Euen when I remember, I am afrayde, and feare taketh hold on my flesh.

7 Wherefore doe the wicked liue, and waite olde, and grow in wealth?

8 Their seede is established in their sight with time, and their generation before their eyes.

9 Their houses are peaceable without feare, and the rod of God is not vpon them.

10 Their bullocke gendereth, and calueth not: their cow calueth, and calueth not her calf.

11 They send forth their children like sheepe, and their sonnes daunce.

12 They take the tabret and harpe, and reioyce in the sound of the Organs.

13 They spend their dayes in wealth, and suddenly they goe downe to the graue.

14 They lay also vnto God, Depart from vs: for we desire not thy knowledge of thy wayes.

15 Who is the Almighty, that we should serue him? and what profit should we haue, if we should pray vnto him?

16 For, their wealth is not in their hands, therefore let the counsell of the wicked bee farre from me.

17 How oft shall the candle of the wicked bee put out? and their destruction come vpon them? hee will bruite their liues in his wrath.

18 They shall bee as stubble before the winde, and as chaffe that the storme carrieth away.

19 God will lay vp the sorow of the father for his children: when hee rewardeth him, hee shall know it.

20 His eyes shall see his destruction, and hee shall drinke of the wrath of the Almighty.

21 For what pleasure hath he in his house after him, when the number of his moneths is cut off?

22 Shall any teach God knowledge, who iudgeth the highest things?

23 One dieth in his full strength, bring in all ease and prosperitie:

if that they reason onely by that which is seene by common experience, the wicked that hate God, are better dealt withall, then they that loue him. h It is not their owne, but God only lendeth it vnto them. i God keepe mee from their prosperitie. k When God recompenseth his wickednes, hee shall know that his prosperitie was but vanitie. l Who sendeth to the wicked prosperitie, and punisheth the godly. m Meaning, the wicked,

25 And another dieth in the bitterness of his soule, and neuer eateth with pleasure.

26 They shall sleepe both in the dust, and the wormes shall couer them.

27 Behold, I know your thoughts, and the enterprises wherewith yee doe me wrong.

28 For yee say, Where is the Prince of house? and where is the Tabernacle of the wicked dwelling?

29 Say yee not? aske them that goe by the way? and yee cannot denie their signes.

30 But the wicked is kept vnto the day of destruction, and they shall bee brought forth to the day of wrath.

31 Who shall declare his way to his face, and who shall reward him for that hee hath done?

32 Yet shall he be brought to the graue, and remaine in the heape.

33 The slimie valley shall sweete vnto him, and euery man shall draw after him, as before him there were innumerable.

34 How then comfort yee mee in baينه, seeing in your answers there remaine but lies?

Iob exhorted to repentance:

h That so much the more by that excellent worke thou mayest feare God, and reuerence him. i He reproveth Iob as though he denied Gods providence, and that he could not see the things that were done in this world. k How God hath punished them from the beginning. l He proueth Gods providence by the punishment of the wicked, whom he taketh away before they can bring their wicked purposes to passe. m He answereth to that which Iob had said, Chap. 3. 7. that the wicked have prospered in this world: desiring that he might not be partaker of the like. n The iust reuoyce at the destruction of the wicked for two causes: first because God sheweth him life. 7 There the righteous might reason with him, so I should bee deliuered for ever from my Iudge.

8 Behold, if I goe to the East, he is not there: if to the West, yet I cannot perceiue him.

9 If to the South where he worketh, yet I cannot see him: he will hide himselfe in the South, and I cannot behold him.

1 Job complaineth of the prosperitie of the time past.
2 His authority, 12 Justice and equity.

3 Job proceeded and continued his parable, saying,
2 Oh chate I were as I in times past,
when God persecuted me!

3 When his light shined upon mine
head: and when by his light I walked throw the darkness.

4 As I was in the dayes of my youth,
when Gods providence was upon my tabernacle:

5 When the Almighty was yet with me,
and my children round about me:

6 When I washed my paths with butter, and when the rocke powred mee out rivers of oyle:

7 When I went out to the gate, men to the iudgement seat, and when I caused them to prepare my seat in the street.

8 The young men saw me, and bld chemselfes, and the aged arose, and stood up.

9 The princes stayed talke, and laid their hand on their mouth.

10 The voyce of princes was hid, & their tongue cleaved to the roofof their mouth.

11 And when the care heard me, it bled mee; and when the eye saw mee, it gave witness to me.

12 For I desired the poore that cryed, and the fatherlesse, and him that had none to helpe him.

13 The blessing of him that was ready to perish, came upon me, and I caused the widowes heart to reioyce.

14 I put on Iustice, and it covered mee,
my iudgement was as a robe, and a crowne.

15 I was the eyes to the blind, and I was the feet to the lame.

16 I was a father unto the poore, and when I knewe not the cause, I sought it out diligently.

17 I brake also the chawes of the unrighteous man, and plucked the pray out of his teeth.

18 Then I saide, I shall die in my nest,
and I shall multiply my dayes as the sand.

19 For my roote is spread out by the water, and the dry shall lie upon my branch.

20 My glory shall renew toward me, and my bow shall be restored in mine hand.

21 Unto me men came aye, and waited,
and held their tongue at my counsell.

22 After my words they replied not, and my talke dropped upon them.

23 And they wayred for mee, as for the raine, and they opened their mouth as for the latter raie.

24 If I laughed on them, they belieued it not: neither did they cause the light of my countenance to fall.

They thought not that I would condescend vnto them.
They were afraid to offend me, and cause me to be angry.

25 I appointed out their way, and bld I had them
as an eagle, it dwelt as a king in the armie,
and like him that comforteth the mourning.

CHAP. XXX.

1 Job complaineth that he is wearied of his most contemptible, 1. 2. 3. because of his adversitie and affliction, 23 Death is the house of all flesh.

2 Now they that are younger then I, mocke mee: yea, they whole fathers I have refused to sit with the dogges of my flocks.

3 For whereto should the strength of their hand have served me, seeing age is perished in them?

4 For powerie and famine they were soliary, fleeing into the wilderness, which is barke, desolate and waste.

5 They cut up I nettles by the bushes,
and the unripe rootes was their meat.

6 They were chased forth from among men: they shouted at them, as at a thiefe.

7 Therefore they dwelt in the clefts of rivers, in the bolcs of the earth and rocks.

8 They roared among the bushes, and under the thistles they gathered themselves.

9 They were the children of foolcs, and the children of villaines, which were more bile then the earth.

10 And now am I their song, and I am their talke.

11 They abhorre me, and flee farre from

CHAP. XXXI.

1 Iob ſaith in the innocencie of his living, and number of his vertues, which declareth what ought to bee the life of the faithfull.

I made a covenant with mine eyes: why ſhould I thinke on a mayd?

2 For what portion ſhould I haue of God from above? and what inheritance of the Almighty from on high?

3 Is not deſtruction to the wicked, and ſtrange puniſhment to the workers of iniquitie?

4 Doeth not hee behold my wayes, and tell all my ſecrets?

5 If I haue walked in vanitie, or if my foot hath made haſte to deſire,

6 Let God weigh me in the juſt balace, and he ſhall know mine vprightneſſe.

7 If my ſtep hath turned out of the way, or if mine heart hath walked after mine eye, or if any blot hath cleaue to mine hands,

8 Let mee looſe, and let another eat: yea, let my plaints be rooted out.

9 If mine heart hath bene deceiued by a woman, or if I haue laid wait at the doore of my neighbour,

10 Let my wiſe grind vnto another man, and let other men bow downe vpon her:

11 For this is a wickedneſſe, and iniquitie to be condemned:

12 Yea, this is a fire that ſhall deuoure to deſtruction, and which ſhall roote out all mine increaſe.

13 If I did contemne the iudgement of my ſeruant, and of my maſter when they diſdained with me,

14 What then ſhall I doe when God ſtandeth by? and when he ſhall viſite mee, what ſhall I anſwer?

15 Ife that hath made me in the wombe, hath bee not made him: hath not hee alone fashioned me in the wombe?

16 If I reſtrained the poore of their deſire, or haue cauſed the eyes of the widow to fail,

17 Or haue eaten my morsels alone, and the fatherleſſe hath not eaten thereof,

18 (For from my youth he hath grown by with me, as with a father, and from my mothers wombe I haue borne a guide vnto her.)

19 If I haue ſeene any perſon for want of clothing, or any poore without couering,

23 For Gods puniſhment was a fearefull vnto mee, and I could not be deliuered from his rightneſſe.

24 If I made gold mine hope, or haue ſaid to the wedge of gold, Thou art my confidence,

25 If I reioyced becauſe my ſubſtance was great, or becauſe mine hand had gotten much,

26 If I did behold the Sunne, when it ſhined, or the Moone walking in her brightneſſe,

27 If mine heart did flatter me in ſecret, or if my mouth did keſſe mine hand,

35 Wh, that I had ſome to heare me! behold my ſigne: that the Almighty will witneſſe for mee: though mine aduerſary ſhould write a booke againſt me.

36 Would not I take it vpon my ſhoulder, and binde it as a crowne vnto me?

37 I will tell him the number of my goings, and goe vnto him as to a prince.

38 If my land cry againſt mee, or the furrows thereof complaine together,

THE WORDS OF IOB ARE ENDED.

CHAP. XXXII.

1 Elihu reprooveth them of folly. 8 Age maketh not a man wise, but the Spirit of God.

2 These three men ceased to answer Job, because he esteemed himselfe just.

3 Then the word of Elihu the sonne of Barachel the Buzite, of the family of Ram, was kindled: his wrath, I say, was kindled against Job, because hee justified himselfe more then God.

4 Also his anger was kindled against his three friends, because they could not finde an answer, and yet condemned Job.

5 (Now Elihu had waited till Job had spoken: for they were more ancient in yeeres then hee)

6 So when Elihu sawe that there was none answer in the mouth of the three men, his wrath was kindled.

7 Therefore Elihu the sonne of Barachel the Buzite, answered and sayd, I am young in yeeres, and yete are ancient: therefore I doubted, and was afraide to shew you mine opinion.

8 For I sayde, The dayes shall speake, and the multitude of yeeres shall teach wisdom.

9 Surely there is a spirit in man, but the inspiration of the Almighty giueth understanding.

10 Great men are not alway wise, neither doe the aged alway understand iudgement.

11 Therefore I say, heare me, and I will shew also mine opinion.

12 Behold, I did wait vpon your words, and hearkened vnto your knowledge, whiles you sought out reasons.

13 Pea, when I had considered you, loe, there was none of you that reprooued Job, nor answered his words:

14 Let yee should say, Wee haue found wisedome: for God hath cast him downe, and no man.

15 Per hach hee not directed his wordes to me, neither will I answer him by your wordes.

16 Then they fearing, answered no more, but left off their talke.

17 When I had waited (for they spake nor, but stood still, and answered no more)

18 Then answered I in my turne, and I shewed mine opinion.

19 For I am full of matter, and the spirit within me compelleth me.

20 Behold, my belly is as the wine, which hath no vent, and like the new bottles that burst.

21 Therefore will I speake, that I may take breath: I will open my lippes, and will answere.

22 For I will not now accept the person of man, neither will I giue titles to man.

23 For I may not giue titles, lest my speaker should take me away suddenly.

CHAP. XXXIII.

5 Elihu accuseth Job of ignorance. 14 He sheweth that God hath done more to instruct man, and to draw him from sinne. 19. 29 He afflieth man, and suddenly delivereth him. 26 Man being delivered groweth stronger to God.

Wherefore, Job, I pray thee, heare my talke, and hearken vnto all my wordes.

2 Behold now, I haue opened my mouth: my tongue hath spoken in my moud.

3 My wordes are in the vprightnesse of mine heart, and my lips shall speake pure knowledge.

4 The spirit of God hath made mee, and the breath of the Almighty hath giuen me life.

5 If thou canst giue me answer, prepare thy selfe, and stand before me.

6 Behold, I am according to thy wish in Gods stead: I am also sinned of the clay.

7 Beholde, my terrour shall not feare thee, neither shall mine hand be because vpon thee.

8 Doubtlesse thou hast spoken in mine eares, and I haue heard the voyce of thy wordes.

9 I am a cleane, without sinne: I am innocent, and there is none iniquity in me.

10 Loe, he hath found occasions against me, and counted me for his enemy.

11 Hee hath put my feete in the stocks, and looketh narrowly vnto all my pathes.

12 Beholde, in this hast thou not done right: I will answer thee, that God is greater then man.

13 Why dost thou stricke against him: for hee doeth not giue account of all his matters.

14 For God speaketh once or twice, and one seeth it not.

15 In dreames and visions of the night, when sleepe falleth vpon men, and they sleepe vpon their beds.

16 When hee openeth the eares of men, run by their corrections, which hee hath sealed.

d I will not handle thee so roughly, as these others haue done.

f The cause of his iudgement is not alway declared to man.

C H A P. XXXIII.

5 Elihu chargeth Iob, that hee called himselfe righteous. 13 He sheweth that God is iust in his iudgements. 24 God desireth the mighty. 30 By him the hypocrite reioyseth.

Moreouer Elihu answered, and said, 2 Heare my wordes, yee wise men, and hearken vnto me, yee that haue knowledge.

3 For the caretrieth the wordes, as the mouth talketh meate.

4 Let vs seeke iudgment among vs, and let vs know among our selues what is good.

5 For Iob hath saide, I am righteous, and God hath taken away my iudgement.

6 Should I lie in my right? my wound of the arrow is grievous without my sinne.

7 What man is like Iob, that drinketh scornefulnesse like water?

8 Which goeth in the company of them that worke iniquitie, and walketh with wicked men?

9 For he hath saide, It profiteth a man nothing, that he should walke with God.

g Meaning that Iob was like to the wicked, because hee seemed not to glorifie God, and subiect himselfe to his iudgements.

h He wresteth Iobs words, who said that Gods children are oft times punished in this world, and the wicked goe free.

i That is, liue godly, as Gene. 5. 22.

10 Therefore hearken vnto mee, yee men of wisdom, God forbid that wickednesse should be in God, and iniquitie in the Almighty.

11 For he will render vnto man according to his worke, and cause every one to finde according to his way.

12 And certainly God will not doe wickedly, neither will the Almighty pervert iudgement.

13 Eliphaz hath appointed ouer the earth beide himselfe, or who hath placed the whole world?

14 If hee let his heart vpon man, and gather vnto himselfe his spirit, and his breath.

15 All flesh shall perish together, and man shall returne vnto dust.

16 And if thou hast understanding, heare this, and hearken to the voyce of my wordes.

17 Shall be that hateth iudgement, gouerne? and wilt thou iudge him wicked that is most iust?

18 While thou say vnto a King, Thou art wicked? or to princes, Ye are vngodly?

19 How much lesse to him that accepteth not the persons of princes, and regardeth not the rich, more then the poore? for they be all the worke of his hands.

20 They shall die suddenly, and the people shall be troubled at midnight, and they shall passe forth and take away the mighty without hand.

21 For his eyes are vpon the wayes of man, and hee seeth all his goings.

22 There is no darknesse nor shadow of death, that the workers of iniquity might be hid there in.

23 For hee will not lay on man so much, that hee should enter into iudgement with God.

24 Hee shall breake the mighty without seeking, and shall set vp other in their stead.

25 Therefore shall he declare their workes: he shall turne the night, and they shall bee destroyed.

26 Hee striketh them as wicked men in the places of the secretes,

27 Because they haue turned backe from him, and would not consider all his wayes:

28 So that they haue caused the voyce of the poore to come vnto him, and hee hath heard the cry of the afflicted.

29 And when hee giueth quietnesse, who can make trouble? and when hee hideth his face, who can behold him, to whether it be vpon nations, or vpon a man onely?

30 Because the hypocrite doth reigne, and because the people are feared.

31 Surely it apperaineth vnto God to say, I haue pardoned.

32 But if I see not, teach thou me, if I haue done wickedly, I will do no more.

33 Will hee performe the thing throughly? or for thou hast reproued it, because geth to God to moderate his corrections, & not vnto man, as Thus Elihu speakeb in the person of God, as it were mocking Iob, because he would be wiser then God.

hold the clouds which are higher then thou.

6 If thou sinnest, what dost thou a-

what dost thou vnto him?

7 If thou be righteous, what giueth thee

12 When they cry because of the violence of the wicked, but he answereth not.

ther will the Almighty regard it.

wilt not regard it, yet iudgement is before him: reuelt thou in him.

and commandeth them that they returne
from iniquity.

11 If they obey and serue him, they shall ende their dayes in prosperitie, and their yeeres in pleasures.

12 But if they will not obey, they shall paye by the sword, and perish without knowledge.

13 But the hypocrites of heart increase the wrath: for they call not when hee bindeth
them.

14 Their soule dieth in youth, and their life among the whomongers.

15 He deliuereth the poore in his affliction,
and openeth their eare in trouble.

16 Euen so would he haue taken thee out of the strait place into a broad place and not shut up beneath: and that which resteth vpon thy table, had bene full of fat.

17 But thou art full of the iudgement of the wicked, though iudgement and equite maintaine all things.

18 For Gods wrath is, lest he should take thee away in thine abundance: for no multitude of gifts can deliuer thee.

19 All will he regard thy riches: hee regardeth not golde, nor all them that ex-cell in strength.

20 Be not carefull in the night, how he destroyeth the people out of their place.

21 Take thou heede: looke not to in-iquitie: for thou hast chosen it rather then af-liction.

22 Behold, God exalteth by his power:
what teacher is like him?

23 Who hath appointed to him his way? or who can say, Thou hast done wickedly?

24 Remember that thou magnifie his worke, which men behold.

25 All men see it, and men behold it a farre off.

26 Behold, God is excellent, and wee know him not, neither can the number of his yeeres be searched out.

b Thou shalt perceiue that I am a faithfull instructor, and that I speake to thee
in the name of God.

c Strong & constant, and of vnderstanding: for these are the gifts
of God, & he lo-
ueth the in man:

but forasmuch
as God punished
now Job, it is a signe that these are not in him.

d Therefore hee
will not preferre
the wicked: but to the humble & afflicted heart he will shew grace.

e Hee preferreth
the godly to honour.

f He will moue
their hearts to feele their sinnes,
that they may come to him by repentance, as hee
did Manasseh.

Isa. 19.

g That is, in their follie or obstinacy, and so shall own destruction.

h Which are maliciously bent against God, and flatter themselves

in their vices.

i When they are in affliction, they seek not to God:

for leccour, as Aia, 2. Chro. 16.

k They die of
some vile death,
and that before
they come to age.

l If thou hadst
bene obedient to God, he would haue brought thee to liber-
tie and wealth.

m Thou art altogether after the maner of the wicked: for thou dost murmur against the iustice of God, n God doth punish thee, lest thou shouldst forget God in thy wealth, and so perish. o Be not thou-curious in fe, king the causes of Gods iudgements, when he destroyeth any. p And so murmure against God through impatience.

q The workes of God are so manifest, that a man may fee them a farre off, and know God by the same. r Our iniquities hindereth vs
so, that we cannot attaine to the perfect knowledge of God.

f That is, the raine cometh of thole dropes of water, which hee keepeth in the clouds.
e Meaning of the clouds, which hee calleth the Tabernacle of God.
u Vpon the cloud.
x That men can not come to the knowledge of the springs thereof.

y He sheweth that the raine hath double vse: the one that it declareth Gods iudgements, when it doeth ouerflow any places, and the other that it maketh the land fruitfull. z That is, one cloud to dash against another. a The cold vapour sheweth him: that is, the cloud of the hote exhalation, which being taken in the cold cloud, mounteth vp toward the place where the fire is, and so anger is ingendred: that is, noise and thunder-claps.

CHAP. XXXVII.

3 Elisha praeneth that the unspeakable wisdoms of God is manifest by his work; 4 as by the thunders, 6 the snow, 9 the whirlewinde, 11 and the raine.

a At the maruelling of the thunder and lightnings: whereby he declareth that the faithfull are liuely pouched with the maiestie of God, when they behold his works.

b That is, the thunder, whereby he speaketh to men to waken their dulnesse, & to bring them to the consideration of his workes.
c Meaning, the raines and thunders.

d So that neither small raine nor great snow nor any thing els cometh without Gods appointment.
e By raines and thunders God chauneth men to keepe themselves within their houses.

f In Hebrew it is called the scattering winde, because it driueth away the clouds, and purgeth the aire. g That is, frozen vp and dried. h Gather the vapours and moue to and fro to water the earth. i That is, the cloud that hath lightning inke. k Raine, cold, heate, tempests and such like are sent of God, either to punish man or to profit the earth, or to declare his fauour toward man, as Chap. 36. 11.

27 When he restraineth the drops of water, the raine poureth downe by the vapour thereof.

28 Which raine the cloudes doe drop and let fall abundantly vpon man.

29 Vpon can knowe the dimensions of the cloudes, and the thunders of his tabernacle.

30 Behold, hee spreadeth his light vpon it, and couereth the bottomes of the sea.

31 For thereby hee iudgeth the people, and giueth meate abundantly.

32 He couereth the light with the clouds, and commandeth them to goe against it.

33 His companion sheweth him thereof, and there is anger in rising vp.

15 Didst thou know when God disposed them, and caused the light of his cloud to shine?

16 Hast thou knowen the variety of the cloud, and the wonderous works of him that is perfit in knowledge?

17 Or how thy clothes are warme, when hee maketh the earth quiet through the Southwinde?

18 Hast thou stretched out the heauens, which are strong, and as a molten glasse?

19 Tell vs what wee shall say vnto him: for wee cannot dispose our matter because of darknesse.

20 Shall it be told him when I speake: or shall man speake when hee shall bee destroyed?

21 And now men see not the light, which shineth in the cloudes, but the wind passeth and cleareth them.

22 The brightnesse cometh out of the North: the peace thereof is to God, which is terrible.

23 It is the Almighty: wee cannot find him out: hee is excellent in power and iudgement, and abundant in iustice: hee afflicteth men.

24 Let men therefore feare him: for hee will not regard any that are wise in their owne conceit.

when man murmureth against him? r If God would destroy a man, should hee repine? i The cloudes floppeth the shining of the sunne, that man cannot see: till the winde haue chased away the cloud: and if man be not able to attaine to the knowledge of such things, how much lesse of Gods iudgements? t In Hebrew, gedi: meaning, faire weather and cleare as golde. u Meaning, without cause.

CHAP. XXXVIII.

God speaketh to Iob, and declareth the weakenesse of man in the consideration of his creatures, by whose excellencie the power, iustice, and providence of the Creator is known.

T Ven answered the Lord vnto Iob out of the whirlewind, and said,

2 Who is this that darkeneth the counsel by words without knowledge?

3 Gird vp now thy loynes like a man: I will demand of thee, and declare thou vnto me.

4 Where wast thou when I layed the foundations of the earth? declare, if thou hast vnderstanding.

5 Who hath layed the measures thereof, if thou knowest: or who hath stretched the line ouer it?

6 Whereupon are the foundations thereof set: or who layed the corner stone thereof?

7 When the stars of the morning prayed mee together, and all the children of God reioyced?

8 Who hath shut by the sea with doores, when it fished and came forth as out of the wombe?

9 When I made the clouds as a couering

not iudge of those things, which were done so long before he was borne, he was not able to comprehend all Gods workes: much lesse the secret causes of his iudgements. e The sturres and dumbe creatures are said to praise God, because his power, wisdom, and goodness is manifest and known therein. f Meaning, the Angels thereof, l That is, the lightning to breake forth in the cloudes: m Which is sometime changed into raine, or snow, or hail, or such like.

n Why thinke ignorants should keepe their warme, when the Southwinde bloweth, rather then when any other winde bloweth? o For their clearenesse.

p That is, our ignorance signifying that Iob was so presumptuous that hee would controll the workes of God.

q Hath God needed that any should tell him what hee would do? r If God would destroy a man, should hee repine? i The cloudes floppeth the shining of the sunne, that man cannot see: till the winde haue chased away the cloud: and if man be not able to attaine to the knowledge of such things, how much lesse of Gods iudgements? t In Hebrew, gedi: meaning, faire weather and cleare as golde. u Meaning, without cause.

a That his words might haue greater maiestie, and that Iob might know with whom he had to doe.

b Which by speaking out the secret counsel of God by mans reason, maketh it more obliuious, and sheweth his owne folly.

c Because hee had wished to dispute with God, Chap. 13. 3. God reuolunt with him to declare his reasonnesse.

d Seeing he could not iudge of those things, which were done so long before he was borne, he was not able to comprehend all Gods workes: much lesse the secret causes of his iudgements. e The sturres and dumbe creatures are said to praise God, because his power, wisdom, and goodness is manifest and known therein. f Meaning, the Angels thereof,

g As though the great sea were but as a little babe in the hands of God to turne to and fro.

h That is, Gods decree and commandments, as verse 10.

i To wit, to rise since thou wast borne?

k Who hauing in the night bene giuen to wickednes, cannot abide the light, but hide themselves.

l The earth which seemed in the night to haue no forme, by the rising of the Sun is as it were created anew, and all things therein clad with new beauty.

m If thou art not able to seeke out the depth of the sea, how much less art thou able to comprehend the counsell of God?

n That thou mightest appoint in his way and limits.

o To punish mine enemies with them, as Exod. 9. 18. Ioh. 10. 11.

p The yce couereth it, as though it were paved with stone.

q Which starres arise when the same is in Taurus, which is the spring time, and bring flowers.

r Which starre bringeth in winter.

s Certaine starres so call'd: some thinke they were chetwelue signes: The North star, with those that are about him.

t Canst thou cause the heauenly bodies to haue any power ouer the earthly bodies? x In the secret parts of man?

thereof, and darkness as the swadling bandes thereof:

10 When I established my commandment vpon it, and let barres and doores,

11 And said, Whither shalt thou come, but no farther, and decree shalt it stay thy proud waues.

12 Hast thou commaunded the morning since thy daies: hast thou caused the morning to know his place?

13 That it might take hold of the corners of the earth, and that the wicked might be shaken out of it.

14 It is turned as clay to fashion, and shall stand vp as a garment.

15 And from the wicked their light shall be taken away, & the sic arme shall be broken.

16 Hast thou entred into the bottomes of the sea? or hast thou walked to seeke out the depth?

17 Hast thou opened the gates of death vnto thee, or hast thou scene the gates of the shadow of death?

18 Hast thou perceived the breadth of the earth: tell if thou knowest all this.

19 Where is the way where light dwelleth: and where is the place of darkness,

20 That thou shouldst recline it in the bounds thereof, and that thou shouldst know the pathes to the house thereof?

21 Knowest thou it, because thou wast thyn boye, & because the number of thy daies is great?

22 Hast thou entred into the treasures of the snow: or hast thou scene the treasures of the haille.

23 Which I haue hid against the time of trouble, against the day of war and battell?

24 By what way is the light parted, which scattereth the East wind vpon the earth?

25 Who hath diuided the spowes for the raine: or the way for the lightning of the thunders,

26 To cause it to raine on the earth where no man is, and in the wilderness where there is no man?

27 To fulfill the wilde and waste place, and to cause the budde of the herbe to spring forth?

28 Who is the father of the raine: or who hath begotten the drops of the dew?

29 Out of whose wombe came the yce: who hath ingendred the frost of the heauen?

30 The waters are hid as with a stone: and the face of the depth is frozen.

31 Canst thou restrain the sweete influences of the Pleiades, or loose the bandes of Orion?

32 Canst thou bring forth Whizzards in their time: canst thou also guide Arcturus with his sonnes?

33 Knowest thou the course of heauen, or canst thou let the rife thereof in the earth?

34 Canst thou lift vp thy voyce to the clouds, that the abundance of water may couer thee?

35 Canst thou send the lightnings: or they may walke as a ymnor ther, Doe, here we are?

36 Who hath put wisdom in y retires:

or who hath giuen the heart vnderstanding?

37 Who can number cloudes by wisdom: or who can cause to cease the botrels of heauen, 38 When the earth groweth into hardnes, and the clots are fast together?

open these bottels, the earth commeth to this inconuenience.

CHAP. XXXIX.

1 The bounty and prouidence of God, which extendeth euen to the yong rauens, giueth man full occasion to put his confidence in God.

2 When he hunteth the pray for the Lyons whelpes,

3 When they couch in their places, and remaine in the covert to lie in wait?

4 Who prepareth for the rauens his meat, when his birds cry vnto God, wandering for lacke of meate?

5 Knowest thou the time when the wilde goates bring forth young: or dost thou marke whither the bindes do calue?

6 Canst thou number the moneths that they fulfill: or knowest thou the time when they bring forth?

7 They know themselves: they knowe their young, and call out their lowdes.

8 Yet their young waite far, and grow vp with colme: they goe forth and returne not vnto them.

9 Who hath let the wilde ass at liberty: or who hath loosed the bonds of the wilde ass?

10 Is it I which haue made the wilderness his house, and the salt places his dwelling: forth with great difficulty?

11 Hee seeketh out the mountaine for his pasture, and searcheth after curry greene thing.

12 Will the Unicornee see thee: or will hee say by thy cry?

13 Canst thou binde the Unicornee with his hand to labour in the furrow: or will hee plow the valleys after thee?

14 Wilt thou trust in him, because his strength is great, and cast off thy labour vnto him?

15 Wilt thou beleuee him, & he will bring home thy seed, and gather it vnto thy barn?

16 Hast thou giuen the pleasant wings vnto the peacocks: or wings and feathers vnto the ostrich?

17 Which leaneeth his egges in the earth, and maketh them hote in the dust,

18 And forgetteth that the foote might scatter them, or that the wilde beast might breake them.

19 He stretcheth himselfe cruell vnto his yong ones, as they were not his, and is without feare, as if hee traualle in baine.

20 For God hath depriued him of wisdom, and hath giuen him no part of vnderstanding.

21 When time is, he mounteth on his backe, he mocketh the horse and his rider, 22 Hast thou giuen the horse strength, or natural affection toward his yong?

23 When the yong which is grown vp, hee outstretcheth the horse,

24 That is, the clouds wherein the water is contained as in bottles.

25 After he had declared Gods workes in the heauens, hee sheweth his mercie in earth, euen toward the brute beasts.

26 Reade Psalme 147. 9.

27 He chiefly maketh mention of wilde goates and bindes, because they bring forth their young with most difficulty.

28 That is, how long they goe with yong?

29 They bring forth their young with great difficulty.

30 That is, the barren ground, where no good fruit grow.

31 Is it possible to make the Vnicornee to come tame? signifying, that if man cannot rule a creature, that it is much more impossible that he should appoint the wisdom of God, whereby he governeth all the world.

32 Hee write that the ostrich couereth her egges in the sand and because the countrey is hote, and the Sun still keepeth them warme they are hatched.

couered his necke with = nying? 23 Vast thou made him afraid as the grailopper? his strong nying is fearefull. 24 He diggeth in the valley, and reioycesth in his strength: he goeth forth to meete the harneled man. 25 He mocketh at feare, and is not afraid, and turneth not backe from the sword. 26 Though the quier rattle against him, the glittering speare and the shield. 27 He swalloweth the ground for keene-nesse and rage, and he beleueth not that it is the noyle of the trumpit. 28 He saith among the trumpets, Ha, ha: he himselfe the battell a farr off, and the noyle of the captiues, and the shouting. 29 Shall the haire tip by thy wisdom, stretching out his wings toward the south? 30 Dost the eagle mount vp at thy commandment, or make his nest on hye? 31 He abideth and remaineth in the rock, euen vpon the top of the rock and the tower. 32 From thence he spitteth foie meate, and his eyes behold a farr off. 33 His young ones also sucke vp bloud: and where the flaine are, there is he. 34 Wherever the Lord spake vnto Iob, and said, 35 Is this to learne to strue with the Almighty: be that reproveth God, let him answere to it. 36 When Iob answered the Lord, saying, 37 Behold, I am vile: what shall I answere thee? I will lay mine hand vpon my mouth. 38 Once haue I spoken, but I will answere no more, yea twise, but I will pproceed no further.

CHAP. XL.

2 How weakemust power is: being compared to the workes of God: 10 Whos power appeareth in the creation, and governing of the great beasts. Aaine, the Lord answered Iob out of Arche^a whirlwind, and said, 2 Sit vp now thy loynes like a man: I will demand of thee, & declare thou vnto me. 3 Tellst thou dissimulation^b my iudgement, or wilt thou condemne me that thou mayest bee iustified. 4 Dost thou an arme like God? or dost thou thunder with a voyce like him. 5 Decke thy selfe now with maiestie and excellency, and aray thy selfe with beauty and glory. 6 Galt abroad the indignation of thy wrath, and behold curie one that is proud, and abase him. 7 Looke on euery one that is arrogant, and bying him low: and destroy the wicked in thy place. 8 Hide them in the dust together, and binde their faces in a secret place. 9 Then wilt I confesse vnto thee also, that thy right hand can do such thee. 10 Behold now Behemoth, (whom I made^c with thee) which eateth grass like an oxe.

11 Behold now, his strength is in his loynes, and his force is in the naill of his belly. 12 When he taketh pleasure, his tail is like a Cedar: the sinewes of his loynes are wrapped together. 13 His bones are like staves of brasse, and his innel bones like staves of yron. 14 He is the chiefe of the wayes of God: hee that made him, will make his sword to approach vnto him. 15 Surely the mountains bying him forth graile, where all the beasts of the field play. 16 Leth he vnder the trees in the covert of the reede and fennes? 17 Can the trees couer him with their shadow: or can the willows of the riuer compass him about? 18 Behold, he spoyleth the riuer, and bastereth not: he ruttereth that hee can draw vp Iordan into his mouth. 19 He taketh it with his eyes, & thrusteth his nose through whatsoeuer meeteth him. 20 Canst thou draw out Leviathan with an hook, and with a line which thou shalt cast downe vnto his tongue? 21 Canst thou cast an hook into his nose: canst thou pierce his lawes with an angle? 22 Will hee make many prayers vnto thee, or speake thee false? 23 Will hee make a covenant with thee, & wilt thou take him as a seruant for euer? 24 Tellst thou play with him as with a bird? or wilt thou bind him for thy maides? 25 Shall the companions banquet with him: shall they diuine him among the merchants? 26 Canst thou fill the basket with his skinne: or the fish panier with his head? 27 Lay thine hand vpon him: remember the battell, and do no more so. 28 Behold, his hope is in vaine, for shall not one perishe euen at the sight of him?

CHAP. XLI.

1 By the greatness of the monster Leviathan, God sheweth his greatness, and his power, which nothing can resist. NOne is so fierce that dare stirre him vp, neither is hee euen that can stand a while before me? 2 Who hath prevented me that I should make an end? All vnder heauen is mine. 3 I will not keepe silence concerning his parts, nor his power, nor his comely proportion. 4 Who can discouer the face of his garment? or who shall come to him with a double bridle? 5 Who shall open the doozes of his face: his teeth are fearefull round about. 6 The matter of his scales is like strong shielles, and are sure sealed. 7 One is set to another, that no winde can come betweene them. 8 One is ioyned to another: they stick together, that they cannot be sundered. 9 His needles make the sight to shiner, & his eyes are like the eyes of the morning. 10 Out of his mouth goe lampes, and sparkes of fire leape out. 11 Out of his nostrils cometh out smoke, h He is one of the chiefe workes of God among the beasts. i Though man dare not come neere him, yet God can kill him. k He drinketh leisure and feareth no body.

m Because he feareth lest thou shouldst take him. n To doo thy business, and be at thy commandment. o If thou onely consider the danger, thou wilt not meddle with him. p To wit, that trusteth to take him.

a If none dare stand against a whale which is but a creature, who is able to compare with God the creator? b Who hath taught me to accomplish my worke? c The parts and members of the whale. d That is, who dare pull off his skine? e Who dare put a bridle in his mouth? f Who dare look in his mouth? g That is, call out himselfe.

as out of a boyling pot or caldron.

12 His breath maketh the coales burne: for a flame goeth out of his mouth.

13 In his necke remaineth strength, and labour is reſerued before his face.

14 The members of his body are loyued: they are ſtrong in themſelues and cannot bee moued.

15 His heart is as ſtrong as a ſtone, and as hard as the ſther millſtone.

16 He mightie are afraid of his maieſty, and for feare they ſaint in themſelues.

17 When the word north touch him, hee will not ſticken, nor for the ſpeare, dart nor habergeon.

18 He ſtiffeneth yon as ſtraw, and braſſe as rotten wood.

19 The archer cannot make him ſlee: the ſtones of the ſling are returned into ſcubble vnto him.

20 The darts are counted as ſtraw: and he laugheth at the ſhaking of the ſpeare.

21 Sharpe ſtones are vnder him, and he ſpreadeth ſharpe things vpon the mire.

22 He maketh the depth to be like a poe, and maketh yea like a poe of oyntment.

23 He maketh a path to yſhine after him: one would thinke the depth as an honore head.

24 In the earth there is none like him: he is made without feare.

25 He beholdeth all high things: hee is a King ouer all the children of pride.

CHAP. XLII.

6 The repentance of Iob. 9 He prayeth for his friends. 12 His goods are reſtored double vnto him.

13 His childrens age and death.

Then Iob answered the Lord, and ſayd,
2 I know that thou canſt doe all things, and that there is no thought hid from thee.

3 Who is he that hideth counſel without knowledge? therefore haue I ſpoken that I vnderſtood not, euent things too wonderfull for me, and which I knew not.

4 Heare I beſeech thee, and I will ſpeak: I will demaund of thee, and declare thou vnto me.

5 I haue heard of thee by the hearing of mine eare, and that I ſpoke I wiſt not what, d Hee ſheweth that hee will be Gods ſcholler to learne of him. e I knew thee only before by heare ſay: but now thou haſt cauſed me to feele what thou art to me: that I may reſigne my ſelfe ouer vnto thee.

of the eare, but now mine eye ſeeeth thee.

6 Therefore I abhorre my ſelfe, and repent in duſt and aſhes.

7 Now after that the Lord had ſpoken theſe wordes vnto Iob, the Lord alſo ſaid vnto Eliphaz the Temanite, My wrath is kindled againſt thee, and againſt thy two friends: for ye haue not ſpoken of mee the thing that is right, like my ſeruant Iob.

8 Therefore take vnto you now ſeven bullockes, and ſeven rammes, and goe to my ſeruant Iob, and offer vp for your ſelues a burnt offering, and my ſeruant Iob ſhall pray for you: for I will accept him, ſee I ſhould put you to ſhame, becauſe ye haue not ſpoken of me the thing which is right, like my ſeruant Iob.

9 So Eliphaz the Temanite, and Bildad the Shuhite, and Zophar the Naamathite went, and did according as the Lord had ſayd vnto them, and the Lord accepted Iob.

10 Then the Lord turned the captivity of Iob, when he prayed for his friends, alſo the Lord gaue Iob twice ſo much as hee had before.

11 Then came vnto him all his brethren and all his ſiſters, and all they that had bene of his acquaintance before, and did eat bread with him in his houſe, and had compaſſion of him, and comforted him for all the euill that the Lord had brought vpon him, and euery man gaue him a piece of money, and euery one an earring of gold.

12 So the Lord bleſſed the laſt dayes of Iob more then the firſt: for hee had foureſcore thouſand ſheepe, and ſixe thouſand camels, and a thouſand yoke of oxen, and a thouſand ſeaſſes.

13 Hee had alſo ſeven ſonnes, and three daughters.

14 And hee called the name of one * Jemimah, and the name of the ſecond * Keziah, and the name of the third * Keren-happuch.

15 In all the land were no women found ſo faire as the daughters of Iob, and their father gaue them inheritance among their brethren.

16 And after this liued Iob an hundredth and foureſcore, and ſaw his ſonnes and his ſonnes ſonnes, euen foure generations.

17 So Iob dyed, being olde and full of dayes.

THE ARGUMENT.

This booke of Pſalmes is ſet forth vnto vs by the holy Ghoſt, to be eſteemed as a moſt precious treaſure: wherein all things are contained that appertaine to true felicitie as well in this life preſent as in the life to come. For the riches of true knowledge and heavenly wiſdome are here ſet open for vs to take thereof moſt abundantly. If we would know the great and high maieſtie of God here we may ſee the brightneſſe thereof ſhine moſt clearly. If we would ſeeke his incomprehenſible wiſdome, here is the ſchool of the ſame profeſſion. If we would comprehend his inſeſtimable bounty and approach neere therunto, and fill our hands with that treaſure; here may we haue a moſt liuely and comfortable taſte thereof. If we would know wherein ſtandeth our ſaluation, & how to attaine to life euerlaſting, here is Chriſt our onely Redeemer and Mediatour moſt euidently deſcribed. The rich man may learne the true vie of his riches. The poore man may find full comſolation. Hee that will reioyce, ſhall know the true ioy, and how to keepe meſure therein. They that are afflicted, & op-

The blessed state of the godly.

Psalmes.

Deliverance is of the Lord.

preſiſd, ſhall ſee wherein ſtandeth their comfort, and how they ought to praiſe God when he ſendeth them deliverance. The wicked and the perſecutors of the children of God ſhall ſee how the hand of God is ever againſt them: and though he ſuffer them to proſper for a while, yet he bridleth them, in ſomuch as they cannot touch a haire of ones head, except he permit them, and how in the end their deſtruction is moſt miſerable. Briefly, here we may have moſt preſent remedies againſt all temptations and troubles of minde and conſcience, ſo that being well practiſed herein, we may be aſſured againſt all dangers in this life, live in the true love and love of God, and at length attaine to that incorruptible crowne of glory, which is laid up for all them that love the cōmending of our Lord Jeſus Chriſt.

PSAL. I.

Whether it was Eſdras, or any other that gathered the Pſalmes into a booke, it ſeemeth he did ſet this Pſalme firſt in manner of a preface, to exhort all godly men to ſtudy and meditate the heavenly wiſdomes. For the effect hereof, 1. That they be bleſſed, which give themſelves wholly all their liſe to the holy Scriptures. And that the wicked contempters of God though they ſeeme for a while happy, yet at length ſhall come to miſerable deſtruction.

Bleſſed is the man that doth not walke in the counſell of the wicked, nor ſtand in the way of ſinners, nor liſe in the ſeat of the ſcofffull.

2 But his delight is in the Law of the Lord, and in his Law doth hee meditate day and night.

3 For hee ſhall bee like a tree planted by the riſers of waters: that will bring forth her fruit in due ſeaſon: whoſe leafe ſhall not fade, ſo whatſoever he ſhall do, ſhall proſper.

4 The wicked are not ſo, but as the chaffe, which the winde diſtincth away.

5 Therefore the wicked ſhall not ſtand in the judgement, nor ſinners in the aſſembly of the righteous.

6 For the Lord knoweth the way of the righteous, and the way of the wicked ſhall periſh.

a When a man hath giuen once place to euill counſell, or to his owne concupiſcence, he beginneth to forget himſelfe in his ſinne, and ſo falleth into contempt of God, which contempt is called the ſeat of the ſcoffers. Deut. 6. 15b. 1. 8. 17. 6. 10.
b In the holy Scriptures. 1. 17. 8.
c Gods children are ſo moſtened euer with his grace, that whatſoever cometh to them tendeth in their ſaluation. And though the wicked ſeeme to beare the ſwing to this world, yet the Lord driueth them downe that they ſhall not riſe nor ſtand in the company of the righteous
e But grieve when they feele Gods wrath
f Doth approve and proſper, like as not to know, is to reprove and reiect.

PSAL. II.

1 The Prophet Dauid reioyceeth that notwithstanding his enemies rage, yet God will continue his kingdom for euer, and aduance it euen to the end of the world. 10 And then ſerue exhorteth kings and rulers, that they would humbly ſubmit themſelves vnder Gods yoke, becauſe it is in vaine to reſiſt God. Herein is figured Chriſts kingdom.

Why doe the heathen rage, and the people murmure in vaine?

2 The Kings of the earth band themſelves, & the princes are aſſembled together againſt the Lord, and againſt his Chriſt.

3 Let vs brake their bandes, and caſt their cords from vs.

4 But he that dwelleth in the heauen, ſhall laugh: the Lord ſhall haue them in deriſion.

5 Then ſhall he ſpeake vnto them in his wrath, and vexe them in his ſore diſpleaſure, ſaying, PSAL. III.

1 Dauid driven forth of his kingdom, was greatly tormented in minde for his ſinnes againſt God: 4 And therefore calleth vpon God, and waxeth bold through his promiſes againſt the great railings and terrors of his enemies, yet againſt death it ſelfe, which he ſaw preſent before his eyes. 7 Finally he reioyceeth for the good ſuccesſe that God gaue him, and all the Church.

A Pſalme of Dauid, when he fled from his ſonne Abſalon.

Lord, how are mine aduerſaries increaſed: how in many riſe againſt me?

2 Many ſay to my ſoule, There is no helpe for him in God. Selah.

3 But thou Lord art a buckler for mee: my glory and the liſter vpon my head.

4 I did call vnto the Lord with my voice, and hee heard me out of his holy mountaine. Selah.

5 I laid me downe and ſlept, and roſe vp againe: for the Lord ſuſtained me.

6 I will not be afraid for ten thouſand of the people that ſhould beſet me round about.

7 I ſaid, ariſe: helpe me, my God: for thou haſt ſmitten all mine enemies vpon the cheeke bone: thou haſt broken the teeth of the wicked.

8 Saluation belongeth vnto the Lord, and thy bleſſing is vpon thy people. Selah.

9 Thou ſhalt cruſh them with a ſcepter of yron, and breake them in pieces like a potters veſſell.

10 Be wiſe now therefore ye kings: be learned ye iudges of the earth.

11 Serue the Lord in feare, and reioyce in trembling.

12 Kiſſe the Sonne, leſt he be angry & ye periſh in the way, when his wrath ſhall kindlely burne: bleſſed are all that truſt in him.

f Not onely the lewes, but the Gentile alſo. Reuel. 2. 27. g He exhorted all rulers to repent in time. h In ſigne of homage. i When the wicked ſhall ſay, Peace and ſilencing yet to be but in the midway of their purpoſe, then ſhall deſtruction ſuddenly come, 1. Theſſ. 5. 3.

c When he conſidered the treaſure of Gods promiſe and tried the ſame, his faith increaſed maruelliouſly. d Be the dangers neuer ſo great or many yet God hath euer meanes to deliuer his.

PSAL. IIIII.

1 When Saul perſecuted him, he called vpon God truſting moſt aſſuredly in his promiſe, and therefore boldly reprobeth his enemies, who wiſely reſiſted his dominion, 7 and finally preſerues the ſanctuary of God before all worldly treaſures.

a Among them that were appointed to sing the Psalmes, and to play on the instruments, one was appointed chiefe to set the tune, and to begin: who had the charge because he was most excellent, & he began this Psalm on the instrument called Negonoth, or in a tune so called. b Thou that art the defender of my iust cause, c Both of mind and body. d Yet that thinke your felis: a noble in this world. e Though your mercies please you neuer so much, yet God will bring them to naught. f A King that walketh in his vocation. g For feare of Gods iudgements. h Cease your rage. i Serue God purely and not with outward ceremonies. k The multitude seeke worldly wealth, but David seeth his felicity in Gods fauour. l This word in shew may be referred to God, as it is here translated, or to David, signifying, that he should dwell as joyfully alone, as if he had many about him, because the Lord is with him.

C To him that excelleth on Negonoth.

A Psalm of David.

Hear me when I call, O God of my righteousness: thou hast set me at liberty, when I was in distress: haue mercy vpon me, and hearken vnto my prayer.

2 O ye fountaines of liue, how long will ye tyme my glory into shame, louing vanitie, and seeking lies? Selah.

3 For bee ye sure that the Lord hath chosen to himselfe: a godly man: the Lord will heare when I call vnto him.

4 I will be trouble, and time not: examine your owne heart vpon your bed, and be still. Selah.

5 Offer the sacrifices of righteousness, and trust in the Lord.

6 Many say, who will helpe vs any good: but the Lord lift up the light of thy countenance vpon vs.

7 Thou hast giuen me more ioy of heart, then they haue had, when their wheat and their wine did abound.

8 I will lay me downe, and also sleepe in peace: for thou Lord, only makest me dwell in safety.

PSAL. VI.

1 David oppressed with the crueltie of his enemies and seeing great dangers, calleth to God for succour, shewing how requisite it is that God should punish the malice of his aduersaries. 2 After being assured of prosperous successe, he cometh to comfort. 12 Concluding that when God shall deliuer him, others also shall partakers of the same mercie.

C To him that excelleth vpon Negonoth.

A Psalm of David.

Hear my voyces, O Lord: vnderstand my meditation.

2 Hearken vnto the voyce of my crye, my King and my God: for vnto thee doe I pray.

3 Heare my voyce in the morning, O Lord: for in the morning will I direct me vnto thee, and I will wait.

4 For thou art not a God that louest wickednesse, neither shall euill dwell with thee.

5 The foolish shall not stand in thy sight: for thou hast all them that make iniquitie.

6 Thou shalt destroy them that speake lies: the Lord will abhorre the bloody man and detestfull.

7 But I will come into thyne house in the multitude of thy mercy: and in thy feare will I worship towards thyne holy Temple.

8 Lead me, O Lord, in thy righteousness, because of mine enemies: make thy way plaine before my face.

9 For no constancie is in their mouth: Rem. 9. 12. within they are very captiuous: their throat is an open sepulchre, and they flatter with their tongue.

10 Destroy them, O God: let them fall from their counsels: cast them out for the multitude of their iniquities, because they haue rebelled against thee.

11 And let all them that trust in thee, reioyce and triumph for euer, and couer thou them: and let them that loue thy Name, reioyce in thee.

12 For thou Lord wilt bless the righteous, and with fauour wilt compass the afflicted.

PSAL. VI.

1 When David by his sinnes had provoked Gods wrath, and now felt not only his hand against him but also concerned the horrors of death threatening, he despatch forgiuenesse. 6 Bidding that if God took him away in his indignation, he should lacke occasion to praise him as he was wont to doe, while he was among men. 9 Then suddenly feeling Gods mercy he sheweth rebuke to his enemies, which respecteth his affliction.

C To him that excelleth on Negonoth vpon the right tune. A Psalm of David.

O Lord, rebuke me not in thine anger, neither chastise me in thy wrath.

2 Haue mercy vpon mee, O Lord, for I am weak: O Lord heale me, for my bones are vexed.

3 My soule is also sore troubled: but Lord, how long wilt thou delay?

4 Reuerie, O Lord: deliuer my soule: saue me for thy mercies sake.

5 For in death there is no remembrance of thee: in the grave, who shall praise thee?

6 I fainte in my mourning: I cause my bed every night to twine, and water my couch with my teares.

7 Mine eye is dimmed for weeping, and sunke in because of all mine enemies.

8 Away from mee all ye workers of iniquitie: for the Lord hath heard the voyce of my weeping.

9 The Lord hath heard my petition: the Lord will receive my prayer.

10 All mine enemies shall be confounded, and shamed: they shall bee turned backe, and put to shame suddenly.

PSAL. VII.

1 Being fully assured by Christs one of Sauls kindness, he calleth to God to be his sinder. 3 To whom he commendeth his innocencie. 9 First shewing that his conscience did not accuse him of any euill towards Saul: 10 Next, that it touched Gods glory to a word sentence against the wicked. 12 And so coming into the consideration of Gods mercie, he protesteth himselfe bold, and denieth the vaine enterprise of his enemies, 16 threatening that that shall fall on their own necks which they haue purposed for others.

and fatherly providence of God toward man, whom ration of the same, as one nothing able to compasse such great mercie.

O To him that excelleth in strength.
A Psalm of Dauid.

O Lord our Lord, how excellent is thy Name in all the world: which hast set thy glory above the heavens.

2 Out of the mouth of babes and sucklings hast thou ^a ordained strength, because of thine enemies, that thou mightest ^b kill
the enemy and the avenger.

3 When I behold thine heavens, even the workes of thy fingers, the moone and the starres which thou hast ordained.

4 What is man, say I, that thou art mindfull of him: and the sonne of man, that thou visitest him?

5 For thou hast made him a little lower then God, and crowned him with glory and worship.

6 Thou hast made him to haue dominion
in the workes of thine hands: thou hast put all things vnder his feet:

7 All ^c sheepe and oxen: yea, and the brats of the field;

PSAL. XI.

1 This Psalm containeth two parts: In the first David sheweth how hard assaults of temptations hee sustained, and in how great anguish of minde hee was when Saul did persecute him. 4 Then next he reprobeth that God sent him succour in his necessities, declaring his iustice as well in governing the good, as the wicked men as the whole world.

¶ To him that excelleth, A Psalm of David.

IN the Lord put I my trust: how say yee then to my soule, Flye to your mountaine as a bird?

2 For loe, the wicked bend their bow, and make ready their arrowes vpon the string: that they may secretly shooe at them which are vpright in heart.

3 For the foundations are cast downe: what hath the righteous done?

4 The Lord is in his holy palace: the Lords throne is in the heauen: his eyes will consider: his eyes will trye the children of men.

5 The Lord will trye the righteous: but the wicked and him that loueth iniquitie, doth his soule hate.

6 Vpon the wicked he shall raine snares, fire, and brimstone, and stormie tempest: this is the portion of their cup.

7 For the righteous Lord loueth righteousnesse: his countenance doth beholde the iust.

8 He shall come downe from dome and Gomorra. f Which they shall drinke euen to the dregs, Ezek. 23: 34.

PSAL. XII.

1 The Prophet lamenting the miserable estate of the people, and the decay of all good order, desireth God speedily to send succour to his children. 7 Then comforting himselfe and others with the assurance of Gods helpe, he commendeth the constant verities that God serueth in keeping his promises.

PSAL. XIII.

1 David as he were overcome with sundry and very afflictions, sheweth to God as his only refuge, 3 and so as the length being encouraged the more Gods promises, hee ever continueth most sure confidence against his extreme torments of death.

¶ To him that exelleth. A Psalm of David.

H ow long wilt thou forget mee, O Lord, how long wilt thou forget mee, how long wilt thou hide thy face from me?

2 How long shall I take * counsel with myselfe, having wearinesse daily in mine heart: how long shall mine enemy be exalted above me?

3 Behold, and heare mee, O Lord my God: lighten mine eyes, that I sleepe not in death.

4 Lett mine enemy say, I have * prevailed against him: and they that afflict mee, rejoyce when I sleepe.

5 But I trust in thy * mercy: mine heart shall rejoyce in thy saluation: I will sing to the Lord, because hee hath * dealt lovingly with me.

PSAL. XIII.

1 He describeth the perverser nature of men, which were so given to licentiousness, that God was brought to utter contempt. 7 For the which thing although he was greatly grieved, yet being persuaded that God would send some preface remedy, hee comforteth himselfe and others.

¶ To him that exelleth. A Psalm of David.

The * fool hath said in his heart, * There is no God: they have * corrupted, and done an abominable worke: there is none that doeth good.

2 The Lord looked downe from heaven upon the children of men, to see if there were any that would understand and feele God.

3 All are gone out of the way, they are all corrupt: there is none that doeth good, no one.

4 Doe not all the workers of iniquitie know that they eat up my people, as they cate herbe: they call not upon the Lord.

5 Where they shall be taken with feare

Psal. 53.

a He sheweth that the cause of all wickedness is to forget God, b There something too disorder and wickedness among them c David here maketh comparison betweene the faithfull and the rebellious: but Saint Paul speaketh the same of all men naturally, Rom. 3. 10. d Where they think themselves most free.

because God is in the generation of the just.

6 Thou have made * a mocker at the counsel of the poore, because the Lord is in his trust.

7 Oh give saluation unto * Israel out of Zion: when the Lord turneth the captivity of his people, then Jacob shall exult, and Israel shall be glad.

¶ Note that of this 14. Psalm, the 5. & 7. verses which are put into the common translation, and may seeme unto some to be left out in this, are not in the same Psalm in the Hebrew text, but are rather put in, more fully to express the manner of the wicked: and gathered out of the 5. 140 & 100. Psalms, the 59 of the Prophet Isaiah, and the 36 Psalm, and are added by S. Paul, and placed together in the third to the Romans.

PSAL. XV.

1 This Psalm teacheth on what condition God did chuse the Levites for his peculiar people, and wherefore hee placed his Temple among them, which was to the intent that they by living uprightly and godly, might witness that they were his speciall and holy people.

¶ A Psalm of David.

Lord, who shall dwell in thy Tabernacle? who shall rest in thyne holy mountain?

2 Hee that * walketh uprightly, and worketh righteousness, and * keepeth the truest in his heart.

3 Hee that standeth not with his tongue, nor doeth euill to his neighbour, nor receiveth a false report against his neighbour.

4 In whose eyes a vile person is contemned, but hee honoureth them that feare the Lord: hee that sweareth to his owne hindrance, and changeth not.

5 Hee that * giveth not his money unto usurie, nor taketh reward against the innocent: hee that doeth these things, * shall never be moved.

PSAL. XVII.

1 Here he complaineth to God of the cruel pride and arrogance of Sam, and his rest of his enemies, who thus rage without any cause given on his part. 6 Therefore he desires God to revenge his wrongs,
and deliver him.

The prayer of Dauid.

Hear, O Lord, consider my cry: hearken unto my prayer of lips without.

2 Let my sentence come forth from thy presence: and let thine eyes behold equity.

3 Thou hast promised and visited mine heart in the night: thou hast cried me, and foundest nothing: for I was perplexed that my mouth should not offend.

4 Concerning the works of men by the mouths of thy lips I kept me from the paths
of the cruel man.

5 Stay my steps in thy paths, that my feet doe not slide.

6 I have called upon thee:
thou hast
heard me, O God: incline thine ear to me, and hearken unto my words.

7 When thy marvellous

thou art the Saviour of them that trust in thee, from such as resist thy right hand.

8 Keep me as the apple of the eye: hide me under the shadow of thy wings.

9 From the wicked that oppress me,
from mine enemies, which compass me
round about for my soule.

10 They are inclosed in their owne lat,
and they have spoken proudly with their mouth.

11 They have compassed me now in our reproach: they have let their eyes to lying downe to the ground:

12 Like as a Lion that is greedy of prey,
and as it were a Lions whelp lurking in secret places.

13 Thy Lord, withypoint him:
cast him
downe: deliver my soule from the wicked
with thy sword.

14 From men by thine hand,
O Lord,
from men of the world, who have their position in this life, whose bellies thou fillest with thine hid treasure: their children have enough, and leave the rest of their substance for their children.

m And seek not the smart
of Gods children oft times doe.

15 But I will behold thy face in right-
ousness, and when I awake,
I shall satisfie my soul with thy loving-kindness.

16 For thou wilt not leave
my soule in the grave: neither wilt thou
suffer thine
holp one to see corruption.

17 Thou wilt shew me the path of life: in
thy presence is the fulness
of joy: and at thy
right hand there are pleasures
for evermore.

18 For thou wilt not leave
my soule in the
grave: neither wilt thou
suffer thine
holp one to see corruption.

19 Thou wilt shew me the
path of life: in
thy presence is the fulness
of joy: and at thy
right hand there are pleasures
for evermore.

20 For thou wilt not leave
my soule in the
grave: neither wilt thou
suffer thine
holp one to see corruption.

21 Thou wilt shew me the
path of life: in

47 Thou wilt shew me the path of life: in
thy presence is the fulness
of joy: and at thy
right hand there are pleasures
for evermore.

PSAL. XVIII.

1 This Psalm is the first beginning of his gratitude and Thanksgiving in the evening unto his Kingdom, wherein he expresseth his marvellous mercies and grace of God, who hath thus preserved and defended him. 32 As he saith thus: the Image of Christ Kingdome, that the faithful may be assured that Christ shall always conquer and overcome by the irresistible power of his Father, though all the world should join there against.

2 To him that exalted. A Psalm of Dauid the servants of the Lord, which he spake unto the Lord the words of this Song (in the day when the Lord delivered him from the hand of all his enemies, and from the hand of Saul) and said.

I will praise thee heartily, O Lord
my strength.

2 The Lord is my rock, and my stronghold, and hee that delivereth me, my God, and my strength:
in him will I trust, my high tower, the hope of my salvation, and my refuge.

3 I will call upon the Lord, which is my stronghold: to save me from mine enemies.

4 The sorrows of death compassed
me,
and the floods of wickedness
made me afraid.

5 The sorrows of death compassed
me about: the inarrest of death surrounded me.

6 But in my trouble did I call upon the Lord, and cried unto my God: hee heard my voice,
and came before him, even into his ears.

7 Then the earth trembled, and quaked: the foundations also of the mountains moved, and shook, because he was angry.

8 Smoke went out at his nostrils, and a consuming fire out of his mouth: coales were kindled thereat.

9 He bowed the heavens also and came downe, and darkened was under his feet.

10 And he rode upon Cherub and was lifted up, and hee came flying upon the wings of the wind.

11 He made darkness his secret place, and his pavilion round about him, as back-ness of waters, and clouds of the air.

12 At the brightness of his presence his clouds passed, his lightnings and coales of fire.

13 The Lord also thundered in the heavens, and the highest gave his voice, he broke down the towers, and cast down the high fort.

14 Then hee shot out his arrows, and scattered them,
and he increased lightnings
and destroyed them.

x He attributeth it to God that he both gate the victory in the field, and also destroyed the cities of his enemies.

y Be the dangers neuer so many or great, yet Gods promise must take effect.

z He giueth good successe to all mine enterprises.

a As towers and forts which he rooke out of the hands of Gods enemies.

b To defend me from dangers.

c He increaseth the beginning, continuance, and increase in well doing onely to Gods fauour.

d David declareth that he did nothing besides his vocation, but was stirred vp by Gods Spirit to execute his iudgements.

15 And the channels of waters were seene, and the foundations of the world were discouered at thy rebuking, O Lord, at the blasting of the breath of thy noistrels.

16 Hec hath sent downe from about, and taken me: hec hath drawen mee out of many waters.

17 He hath deliuered me from my strong enemy, and from them which hate mee: for they were too strong for me.

18 They persecuted mee in the day of my calamitie: but the Lord was my stay.

19 Hec brought me forth also into a large place, he deliuered mee because he fauoured mee.

20 The Lord rewarded me according to my righteousness: according to the purenesse of mine hands he recompensed me:

21 Because I kept the wordes of the Lord, and did not wickedly against my God.

22 For all his Lawes were before me, and I did not cast away his Commandements from me.

23 I was vpright also with him, & haue kept me from my wickednes.

24 Therefore the Lord rewarded me according to my righteousness, and according to the purenesse of mine hands in his sight.

25 Blessed be God: godly thou wilt them thy selfe godly: with the vpright man thou wilt shew thy selfe vpright.

26 Blessed be pure: thou wilt shew thy selfe pure, and with the froward thou wilt shew thy selfe froward.

27 Thus thou wilt saue the poore people, and wilt cast downe the proud lookes.

28 Surely thou wilt light my candle: the Lord my God will lighten my darkenesse.

29 For by thee I haue broken through an host, and by my God I haue leaped ouer a wall.

30 The way of God is incorrupt: the word of the Lord is tried in the fire: hec is a shield to all that trust in him.

31 For who is God besides the Lord: and who is mighty like our God?

32 God giued me with strength, and maketh my way vpright.

33 He maketh my feete like Hindes feete, and setteth me vpon mine high places.

34 Hec teacheth mine handes to fight: so that a bow of brass is broken with mine armes.

35 Thou hast also giuen mee the shield of the saluation, and thy right hand hath stayed mee, and thy louing kindnesse hath caused me to increase.

36 Thou hast enlarged my steps vnder me, and mine heeles haue not slid.

37 I haue pursued mine enemies, and taken them, and haue not turned againe till I had consumed them.

38 I haue wounded them, that they were not able to rise: they are fallen vnder my feete.

39 For thou hast giued me with strength to battell: them that rose against me, thou hast subduen vnder me.

40 And thou hast giuen mee the neckes of mine enemies, that I might destroy them that hate me.

41 They cryed, but there was none to saue them, euen vnto the Lord, but he answered them not.

42 Then I did beate them small as the dust before the winde: I did tread them flat as the clay in the streetes.

43 Thou hast deliuered me from the contentions of the people: thou hast made me the head of the heathen: a people, whom I haue not knowne, shall serue me.

44 As soon as they heare, they shall obey me: the strangers shall be in subiection to mee.

45 Strangers shall thinke away, and feare in their priuie chambers.

46 Let the Lord line, and blessed bee my strength, and the God of my saluation be exalted.

47 It is God that giueth mee power to avenge me, and subdueth the people vnder me.

48 O my deliuerer from mine enemies, euen thou hast let me up from them that rose against me: thou hast deliuered me from the cruell man.

49 Therefore I will praye thee, O Lord, among the nations, and will sing vnto thy Name.

11 Whosoever by them is thy servant made circumciser, and in keeping of them there is great reward.

12 Who can understand his faults? cleanse me from secret fautes.

13 Keepe thy servant also from presumptuous finnes: let them not reigne over mee: so shall I bee wysight, and made cleane from much wickednesse.

14 Let the word of my mouth, and the meditation of mine heart, bee acceptable in thy sight, O Lord, my strength, and my redeemer.

15 Where are done purposely and of malice. n If thou suppress my wicked affections by thine holy Spirit.

A prayer of the people unto God, that it would please him to heare their King, and receive his sacrifice which hee offered before hee went to battell against the Ammonites.

To him that excelleth. A Psalm of David.

The Lord heare thee in the day of trouble: the Name of the God of Iakob defend thee:

2 Send thee helpe from the Sanctuary, and strengthen thee out of Zion.

3 Let him remember all thine offerings, and turne thy burnt offerings into ashes.

4 And graunt thee according to thine heart, and fulfill all thy purpose.

5 That we may rejoyce in thy salvation, and set by the banner in the Name of our God, when the Lord shall performe all thy petitions.

6 Now know I that the Lord will helpe his anointed, and will heare him from his Sanctuary by the mighty helpe of his right hand.

7 Some trust in chariots, and some in horses: but we will remember the Name of the Lord our God.

8 They are brought downe and fallen, but we are risen, and stand upright.

9 Nowe the Lord: let the King heare vs in the daye that we call.

10 The worldlings that put not their onely trust in God.

11 Let the king bee able to deliver vs by thy strength when we shall cry vnto him for succour.

P S A L. XXI.

David in the person of the people praised God for the victorie, attributing it to God, and not to the strength of man: Wherein the holy Ghost describeth the faithfull to Christ, who is the possessor of this Kingdom.

To him that excelleth. A Psalm of David.

The King shall rejoyce in thy strength, O Lord: yea, how greatly shall he rejoyce in thy salvation!

2 Thou hast given him his hearts desire, and hast not denied him the request of his lips. Selah.

3 For thou hast desired him with liberrall blessings, and hast set a crowne of pure gold vpon his head.

4 We asked life of thee, and thou gavest him a long life for ever and ever.

5 His glory is great in thy salvation: dignity and honour hast thou laid vpon him.

6 For thou hast set him as blessings for ever: thou hast made him glad with the joy of thy countenance.

7 Because the King trusted in the Lord, and in the mercy of the most High hee shall not slide.

8 Thine hand shall finde out all thine enemies, and thy right hand shall smite out them that hate thee.

9 Thou shalt make them like a fiery oven in time of thine anger: the Lord shall destroy them in his wrath, and the fire shall devour them.

10 Their kraite shalt thou destroy from the earth, and their seed from the children of men.

11 For they intended ruill against thee, and imagined mischief, but thy shall not prevaille.

12 Therefore shalt thou put them apart, and the strings of thy bow shalt thou make ready against their faces.

13 Bee thou exalted, O Lord, in thy strength: so will we sing & praise thy power.

h As a mark to shoot at. i Maintaine thy Church against thine adversaries, that we may have ample occasion to praise thy Name.

P S A L. XXII.

David complained because hee was brought into such extremities, that he was past all hope: but after hee had rehearsed the sorrows and griefes wherewith hee was vexed, he recovereth himselfe from the bottomlesse pit of temptation, and groweth in hope. And hereunder his conversion hee setteth forth the figure of Christ, whom hee did forsake by the Spirit of prophesie, that hee should immortally and gloriously be crucified, and abased before his Father should raise and exalt him againe.

To him that excelleth vpon Affliction. A Psalm of David.

My God, my God, why hast thou forsaken me; and art so far from my death, and from the wordes of my roaring?

A prophesie of Christ.

c He meaneth the place of praying, even the Tabernacle: or els it is so called, because he gave the people continually occasion to praise him.
d And seeming most miserable of all creatures, which was meant of Christ. And herein appeared the unspeakable love of God toward man: he would thus abate his Son for our sakes: John, 14. 28.
e Even from my birth thou hast given me occasion to trust in thee.
f For except Gods providence praise me the infants, they should perish a thousand times in the mothers wombs.
g He meaneth, that his enemies were so false, proud and cruel, that they were rather beasts than men.
h Before he spake of the crucifixion of his enemies, and now he declareth the inward griefes of the minde, so that Christ was tormented both in soule and body.
i Thou hast suffered me to be without all hope of life.
k Thus David complaineth so though he were nailed by his enemies both hands and feet: but this was accomplished in Christ.
l My life that is solitary left alone, and forsaken of all. Psal. 25. 17. and 25. 16. m Christ is delivered with a more mighty deliverance by overcoming death, then if he had not tasted death at all. Heb. 2. 12. n He pleaseth to comfort the Church that they by his example might praise the Lord. o The poore afflicted are comforted by this example of David, or Christ.

the praises of Israel.
4 Our fathers trusted in thee: they trusted, and thou didst deliver them.
5 They called upon thee, and were delivered: they trusted in thee, and were not confounded.
6 But I am a worme, and not a man: a shame of men, and the contempt of the people.
7 All they that see mee, have mee in derision: they make a moine and nod the head, saying,
8 Hee trusted in the Lord, let him deliver him: let him save him, seeing he loveth him.
9 But thou diddest raine me out of the wombe: thou gavest mee hope, even at my mothers breasts.
10 I was cast upon thee, even from my mothers wombe: thou art my God from my mothers belly.
11 Be not farre from me, because trouble is neere: for there is none to helpe me.
12 Many young buls have compassed me: mighty bulles of Bashan have closed me about.
13 They gape upon me with their mouths as a ramping and roaring lion.
14 I am like water poured out, and all my bones are out of ioynt: mine heart is like waxe: it is molten in the middes of my bowels.
15 My strength is dried up like a portered, and my tongue cleaveth to my lawes, and thou hast brought mee into the dust of death.
16 For dogges have compassed mee, and the assembly of the wicked have enclosed mee: they have searched mine hands and my feet.
17 I may tell all my bones: yet they bebold and looke upon me.
18 They part my garments among them, and cast lots upon my vesture.
19 But be not thou farre off, O Lord, my strength: hasten to helpe me.
20 Deliver my soule from the sword: my desolate soule from the power of the dog.
21 Save me from the lions mouth, and answer mee in saving mee from the bowels of the unicorne.
22 I will declare thy name unto my brethren: in the mids of the Congregation will I praise thee saying,
23 Praise the Lord, ye that feare him, magnifie ye him, all the seede of Jacob, and feare ye him, all the seede of Israel.

A Psalme of Dauid.

Vnto thee, O Lord, lift I vp my soule.

2 My God, I trust in thee: let me not bee confounded: let not mine enemies reioyce ouer me.

3 So all that hope in thee, shall not be ashamed: but let them bee confounded, that transgresse without cause.

4 Shewe mee thy wayes, O Lord, and teach mee thy pathes.

5 Leade me forth in thy truth, and teach mee: for thou art the God of my saluation: in thee do I trust: all the day.

6 Remember, O Lord, thy tender mercies and thy louing kindnesse: for they haue bene for me.

7 Remember not the sinnes of my youth nor my rebellions, but according to thy kindnesse remember thou me, even for thy goodnesse sake, O Lord.

8 Gracious and righteous is the Lord: therefore will hee teach sinners in the way.

9 Them that bee mecke, will hee guide in iudgement: and teach the humble his way.

10 All the pathes of the Lord are mercie and truth vnto such as keepe his couenant and his testimonies.

g He will gouerne and comfort them that are truly humbled for their sinnes.

PSAL XXX.

1 When David was deliuered from great danger, he rendered thanks to God, exhorting others to do the like, and to learne by his example, that God is rather mercifull then severe and rigorous towards his children, 7 And also that he shall prosper to aduersitie in sudden. 8 This done he returneth to prayer, promising to praise God for euer.

C A Psalm of or long of the^a dedication of the^b house of David.

I will magnifie thee, O Lord: for thou hast exalted me, and hast not made my foes to reioyce ouer me.

2 O Lord my God, I cried vnto thee, and thou hast^c reloued me.

3 O Lord, thou hast brought vp my soule out of the graue: thou hast reuiued me from them that go downe into the pit.

4 Sing praises vnto the Lord, yee^d his Saints, and giue thanks^e before the remembrance of his holiesse.

5 For he endureth but a while in his anger:
but in his fauour is life, weeping may abide at euening, but ioy cometh in the morning.

6 And in my^f prosperitie I said, I shall neuer be moued.

7 For thou Lord of thy goodnesse haddest made my^g mountaine to stand strong: but thou diddest hide thy face, and I^h was troubled.

8 Then cryed I vnto thee, O Lord, and prayed to my Lord.

9 What profite is there in my blood, when I goe downe to the pit: shall the dustⁱ giue thanks vnto thee, or shall it declare thy truth?

10 Heare, O Lord, and haue mercy vpon me: Lord, be thou mine helper.

11 Thou hast turned my mourning into my quiet state: for thou hast loosed my sacke and giued me with gladnesse.

12 Therefore shall my^j tongue praise thee
and not cease: O Lord my God, I will giue
thanks vnto thee for euer.

17 Therefore shall my^o tongue praise thee
and not cease: O Lord my God, I will giue
thanks vnto thee for euer.

18 Therefore shall my^p tongue praise thee
and not cease: O Lord my God, I will giue
thanks vnto thee for euer.

19 Therefore shall my^q tongue praise thee
and not cease: O Lord my God, I will giue
thanks vnto thee for euer.

20 Therefore shall my^r tongue praise thee
and not cease: O Lord my God, I will giue
thanks vnto thee for euer.

21 Therefore shall my^s tongue praise thee

C To him that excelleth. A Psalm
of David.

I^a me neuer be confounded: deliuer me in thy^b rightconlines.

2 Bows dothene thine eare to mee: make haste to deliuer mee: bee vnto mee a strong rooke, and a house of defence to saue me.

3 For thou art my rooke and my strength:
therefore for thy^c Names sake direct mee and guide me.

4 Draw mee out of the^d net, that they haue layd priuily for mee: for thou art my strength.

5 Vnto^e thine hand I commend my spirit: for thou hast redeemed me, O Lord God of truth.

6 I haue hated them that giue themselues to deceitfull banckes: for I^f trust in
the Lord.

7 I will bee glad and reioyce in thy mercie: for thou hast scene my trouble: thou hast known my soule in aduersities.

8 And thou hast not shew me vp in^g hand of the enemy, but hast set my feete at^h large.

9 Haue mercie vpon mee, O Lord, for I am in trouble: mineⁱ eye, my soule, and my belly are continued with griefe.

10 For my life is wasted with heauinesse,
and my yeeres with mourning: my strength faileth for my paine, and my bones are consumed.

11 I was a reproch among all mine enemies, but especially among my neighbours:
and a feare to mine acquaintance, who seeing mee in the street, fled from me.

12 I am forgotten as a dead man out of minde: I am like a broken vessell.

13 For I haue heard the rayling of^j great men: feare was on euery side, while they conspired together against mee, and conspired to take my life.

14 But I trusted in thee, O Lord, I said,
I^k thou art my God.

15 My^l times are in thine hand: deliuer me from the hand of mine enemies, and from them that persecute me.

16 Make thy face to shine vpon thy seruant, and saue me through thy mercy.

17 Let mee not be confounded, O Lord:
for I haue called vpon thee: let the wicked be put to confusion, and^m to silence in the graue.

18 Let the lying lips be made dumbe,
which cruelly, proudly, and spitefully speake
against the righteous.

19 How great is thy goodnes, which thouⁿ
hast layd vp for them that feare thee, & done to them that trust in thee, even before the sonnes of men!

PSAL. XXXII.

1 David punished with grievous sickness for his sinnes, comforteth himselfe to whom God doeth not impute their transgressions. 5 And after that he had confessed his finnes, and obtained pardon, 6 He exhorteth the wicked men to lue godly, 11 And the good to prayse.

¶ A Psalm of David to giue instruction.

Blessed is he whose wickednesse is forgiven, and whose sinne is covered.

2 Blessed is the man vnto whom the Lord imputeth not iniquitie, and in whose spirit there is no guile.

3 When I held my tongue, my bones consumed, or when I roared all the day.

4 (For thine hand is heavy vpon me, day and night: and my moysture is turned into the drouth of Summer. Selah.)

5 Then I acknowledged my sinne vnto thee, neither hidde I mine iniquitie: for I thought, I will confesse againt my selfe my wickednesse vnto the Lord, and thou forgavest the punishment of my sinne. Selah.

6 Therefore shal every one that is godly, make his prayer vnto thee in a time when thou mayest bee found: surely in the flood of great waters: they shall not come nere him.

7 Thou art my secret place: thou preferrest me from trouble: thou compassedst mee about with thy full deliverance. Selah.

8 I will instruct thee, and teach thee in the way that thou shalt goe, and I will guide thee with mine eye.

9 Be ye not like an horse, or like a mule, which understand not: whose mouthes thou dost bind with bit and bitole, lest they come nere thee.

10 Many sorowes shall come to the wicked: but he that trusteth in the Lord, mercy shall compass him.

11 Be glade righteous, and reioyce in the Lord, and be ioyfull all ye that are by right in heart.

PSAL. XXXIII.

1 He exhorteth good men to praise God, for that he hath not only created all things, and by his providence

governeth the same, but also is faithful in his promises. 10 Hee understandeth mans heart, and scattereth in the counsell of the wicked, 16 So that no man can be preferred by any creature or mans strength: but they that put their confidence in his mercie, shall bee preferred from all adversaries.

R Etioyce in the Lord, & verighteous: for it becometh ioyfull to be thankfull.

2 Praise ye the Lord with harping vnto him with viole, and instrument of ten strings.

3 Sing vnto him a new song: sing everlastingly with a loud voyce.

4 For the word of the Lord is righteous, and all his workes are faithfully.

5 Hee longeth righteousness: iudgement: the earth is full of the goodnesse of the Lord.

6 By the word of the Lord were the heavens made, and all the hoste of them by the breath of his mouth.

7 Hee gathereth the waters of the sea together as vpon an heape, and layeth by the depths in his treasures.

8 Let all the earth feare the Lord: let all them that dwell in the world, feare him.

9 For he spake, and it was done: he commanded, and it stood.

10 The Lord breaketh the counsell of the heathen, and bringeth to nought the devices of the people.

11 The counsell of the Lord shall stand for ever, & the thoughts of his heart shal stand out all ages.

12 Blessed is that nation, whose God is the Lord: cuse the people that hee hath chosen for his inheritance.

13 The Lord looketh downe from heaven, and beholdeth all the children of men.

14 From the habitation of his dwelling he beholdeth all them that dwell in the earth.

15 Hee fashioneth their hearts euerie one, and understandeth all their wayes.

16 The King is not feared by the multitude of an holke, neither is the mightie man deliuered by great strength.

17 A holke is a vaine helpe, and shall not deliuer any by his great strength.

18 Behold, the eye of the Lord is vpon them that feare him, and vpon them that trust in his mercie,

19 To deliuer their soules from death, and to preserve them in famine.

20 Our soule waiteth for the Lord: for he is our helpe and our shield.

21 Surely our heart shall reioyce in him, because we trusted in his holy Name.

1 After David had escaped Achish, according as it is written in the 1. Sa. 21. 11. where in this title he callth himselfe, (which was a general name to all the kings of the Philistines) hee prayeth God for his deliuerance, 3 Praise ye him: by ¶ A Psalm of David, when hee changed his behaviour before Achimelech, who drove him away, and he departed.

1 I will alway give thanks unto the Lord: his praise shall be in my mouth continually.

2 My soule shall glorie in the Lord: the humble shall hear it, and be glad.

3 Praise ye the Lord with me, and let vs magnifie his Name together.

4 I forgott the Lord, and hee heard me: yea, he delivred me out of all my feare.

5 They shall looke vnto him, and runne to him, and their faces shall not be ashamed, saying,

6 This poore man cryed, and the Lord heard him, and saved him out of all his troubles.

7 The Angel of the Lord pitcheth round about them that feare him, and delivureth them.

8 After ye see how gracious the Lord is: blessed is the man that trusteth in him.

9 Feare the Lord, ye his Saints: for nothing wanteth to them that feare him.

10 The Lions doe lacke, and suffer hunger, but they which seeke the Lord, shall want nothing that is good.

11 Come children, hearken vnto me: I will teach you the feare of the Lord.

12 What man is hee that desireth life, and fourty long dayes for to see good?

13 Keepe thy tongue from euill, and thy lips, that they speake no guile.

14 Fetch euill, and doe good: seeke peace, and follow after it.

15 The eyes of the Lord are vpon the righteous, and his eares are euen vnto their cry.

19 Great are the troubles of the righteous: but the Lord delivureth him out of them all.

20 Hee keepeth all his bones: not one of them is broken.

21 But malice shall slay the wicked: and they that hate the righteous, shall perish.

22 The Lord redeemed the soules of his seruants: and none that trust in him, shall perish.

¶ When they seeme to bee swallowed vp with afflictions, then God is at hand to deliuer them. m And as Christ hath the haire of his head. n Their wicked enterprises shall become their owne destruction. o For when they seeme to bee overcome with great dangers and death it selfe, then God sheweth himselfe their redeemer.

P S A L. XXXV.

1 So long as Saul was enemy to David, all that had any authority vnder him, to flatter their king (as in the court of the world) did also most cruelly persecute him.

¶ David: against whom hee prayeth God to please and so, avenge himselfe, & that they may be taken in their net and snare, which they laide for him, that his innocencie may be declared, & that the moment, which taketh part with him, may reioyce & praise the Name of the Lord, that thus deliuereth his seruants, & so hee promisseth to shake forth the iudgement of the Lord, and to magnifie his Name all the dayes of his life.

¶ A Psalm of David.

1 Leadeth thou my cause, O Lord, with them that strine with me: fight thou against them that fight against me.

2 Lay hand vpon the shield and buckler, and stand vp for mine helpe.

3 Wing out also the spear, and say the way against them that persecute me: I say vnto my soule, I am by deliuation.

4 Let them be confounded and put to shame, that seeke after my soule: let them bee turned backe and brought to confusion, that imagine mine hurt.

5 Let them be as chaffe before the winde, and let the Angel of the Lord scatter them.

6 Let their way be darke & slippery: and let the Angel of the Lord persecute them.

7 For without cause they haue bit the pit and their net for mee: without cause haue they digged a pit for my soule.

8 Let destruction come vpon him at vnawares, and let his net that hee hath laide vniuilly, take him: let him fall into the same destruction.

9 When my soule shall bee toyfall in the Lord: it shall reioyce in his saluation.

10 All my bones shall say, Lord, who is like vnto thee, which delivureth the poore from him that is too strong for him, yea, the poore, and him that is in miserie, from him that spoiled him!

11 Cruell wickednesse did rise by: they asked of me things that I knew not.

12 They rewarded mee euill for good, to haue spoiled my soule.

13 Yet I, when they were sicke, I was clothed with a sacke, I humbled my soule with fasting: and my prayer was turned vpon my bolson.

14 I belomed my selfe as to my friend, or as to my mother: I humbled my selfe mourning as one that bewaileth his mother.

15 But in mine adversity they reioyced, and gathered themselves together: the abjects assembled themselves against mee, and I knew not: they care not, and care not.

16 With the false tongues at bankers, gnashing their teeth against me:

17 Lord, how long wilt thou behold this? deliuer my soule from the tunnell, even my desolate soule from the Lyons.

18 So wilt I give thee thanks in a great Congregation: I will praise thee among much people.

19 Let not them that are mine enemies, into despair.

¶ I prayed for them with inward affection, as I would haue done for my selfe: or, I declared mine affection, with bowing down mine head. n When they saw me ready to slip, and as one that halted for infirmities. n With the railing word, o The word signifyeth cakes: meaning, that the proud courtiers at their dainties feasts, costs, ryle, and cooipre his death.

The nature of the wicked.

Psalms.

The wicked's prosperitie.

p In token of contempt and mocking.

q They reioyced as though they had now seene David overthrowen.

r It is the iustice of God to giue to the oppressed affliction and torment, and to the oppressed aide and reliefe.

s Because which we fought for, seeing he is destroyed.

t That is, at once, were they neuer so many or mighty.

u This prayer shall alwayes be verified against them that persecute the faithfull.

x That as least fauour my right, though they be not able to helpe me.

y He exhorteth the Church to praise God for the deliuerance of his seruants, and for the destruction of his aduersaries.

z The Prophet grievously vexed by the wicked, doth complaine of their malicious wickedness.

a I see evidently by his deeds that sin putteth forward the reprobate from wickedness to wickedness, albeit he goe about to cover his impiety.

b Though all other detest his villenies, yet hee himselfe leeth is not.

c The reprobate mockes at whole some doctrine, & putteth no difference between good and euill.

d By defebiting at large the nature of the reprobate, he admonisheth the godly to beware of these vices.

e Though wickednes seemeth to ouerflow all the world, yet by chine heavenly prouidence thou governest heauen and earth.

f The depth of thy prouidence governeeth all things and disposeth them, albeit he wicked seeme to ouerwhelme the world.

And they reioyced ouer mee, neither let them wink with the eye, that haue me without a cause.

For they speake not as friends: but they imagine deceitfull words against the quiet of the land.

And they gaped on mee with their mouthes, saying, Aha, aha, our eye hath seene.

Thou hast seene it, O Lord: keepe not silence: be not farre from me, O Lord.

Arise and wake to my iudgement, euen to my cause, my God, and my Lord.

Judge mee, O Lord my God, according to thy righteousness, and let them not reioyce ouer mee.

Let them not say in their hearts, Our soule reioyced: neither let them say, We haue deuoured him.

Let them be confounded, and put to shame together: that reioyce at mine hurt: let them be clothed with confusion and shame, that lift vp themselves against mee.

But let them be despayled and glad, that loue my righteousness: yea, let them say alway, Let the Lord be magnified, which loueth the prosperity of his seruant.

And my tongue shall utter thy righteousness, and thy praise euer day.

PSAL. XXXVI.

The Prophet grievously vexed by the wicked, doth complaine of their malicious wickedness. 6 Then hee turneth to consider the unspeakable goodness of God toward all creatures: 9 But specially toward his children, that by the faith thereof he may be comforted and assured of his deliuerance by the ordinary course of Gods worke. 13 Who in the end destroyeth the wicked, and saue the iust.

To him that excelleth. A Psalm of Dauid the seruant of the Lord.

Wickednesse hath to the wicked man, euen in mine heart, that there is no feare of God before his eyes.

For hee flattereth himselfe in his own eyes, while his iniquitie is found worthy to be hated.

The words of his mouth are iniquitie and deceit, hee hath left off to vnderstand, and to doe good.

Hee imagineth mischiefes vpon his bed: hee setteth himselfe vpon a way, that is not good, and doeth not abhorre euill.

By mercy, O Lord, reach thou vnto the heauens, & thy faithfullnes vnto the cloudes.

Thy righteousness is like the mightie mountaines: by iudgements are like a great deepe: thou, Lord, dost saue man & beast.

How excellent is thy mercy, O God!

therefore the children of men trust vnder the shadow of thy wings.

They haue beene fastidied with the fatnesse of thine house: thou shalt giue them by the oute of the river of thy pleasures.

For which thing is the well of life, and in thy light shall we see light.

Extend thy louing kindnes vnto them that know thee, and thy righteousness vnto them that are vpright in heart.

Let not the foot of pride come against mee, and let not the hand of the wicked man inuolue me.

Where they are fallen that worke iniquitie: they are cast downe, and shall not be able to rise.

Where they are fallen that worke iniquitie against mee, neither the power of the wicked drive mee away. k That is, in their pride, wherein they flatter themselves.

PSAL. XXXVII.

This Psalm containeth exhortation and consolation for the weake, that are grieved at the prosperitie of the wicked, and the affliction of the godly. 7 For how prosperously flourish the wicked doe line for the time, he doth assure their felicity to be vaine and transitory, because they are not in the favour of God, but in the end they are destroyed as his enemies. 11 and how miserably that the righteous seemeth to liue in the world, yet he end in peace, and he is in the favour of God, he is deliuered from the wicked, and persecuted.

A Psalm of Dauid.

Let not thy selfe because of the wicked men, neither be enuious for the euill doers.

For they shall (soone be) cut downe like grasse, and shall wither as the Greene herbe.

Trust thou in the Lord: do good: dwell in the land, and thou shalt be fed abundantly.

And delight thy selfe in the Lord, and he shall giue thee thine heart desire.

Commit thy way vnto the Lord, and trust in him, and he shall bring it to passe.

And he shall bring forth thy righteousness as the light, and thy iudgement as the noone day.

Wait patiently vpon the Lord, & hope in him: fret not thy selfe for him: which prospereth in his way: nor for the man that bringeth his enterprises to passe.

Take heed from anger, and leaue off wrath: fret not thy selfe: also to doe euill.

For euill doers shall be cut off, and they that wait vpon the Lord, they shall inherite the land.

Therefore weepe a little while, and the wicked shall not appeare, and thou shalt looke after his place, and he shall not be found.

But merke men shall possesse the earth, and shall haue their delight in the multitude of peace.

The wicked practiseth against the offended with the darkenesse of the night: so ought we patiently to trust that God will cleare our cause, and restore vs to our right.

When God suffereth the wicked to prosper, it seemeth to the godly that he fauoureth their doings, Job 21. 7 &c. g Meaning, can he moderate his afflictions, he should led to doe as they doe. h It correcteth the impatience of our nature, which cannot abide the fulnes of Gods time to come. Mar. 5. 1 The godly are assured that the power and craft of the wicked shall not preuaile against them, but fall on their owne neckes, and therefore ought patiently to abide Gods time, and in the meane while be walle their sinnes, and offer vp their tearmes as a sacrifice of their obedience.

Only Gods children haue enough of all things both concerning this life, and the life to come.

He sheweth who are Gods children, to wit, they that know him and leade their liues rightly.

Let not the proud aduance himselfe against mee, neither the power of the wicked drive mee away.

Let not the wicked man inuolue me.

Let not the wicked man inuolue me.

Let not the wicked man inuolue me.

Let not the wicked man inuolue me.

Let not the wicked man inuolue me.

Let not the wicked man inuolue me.

Let not the wicked man inuolue me.

Let not the wicked man inuolue me.

Let not the wicked man inuolue me.

Let not the wicked man inuolue me.

Let not the wicked man inuolue me.

Let not the wicked man inuolue me.

Let not the wicked man inuolue me.

Let not the wicked man inuolue me.

Let not the wicked man inuolue me.

Let not the wicked man inuolue me.

Let not the wicked man inuolue me.

Let not the wicked man inuolue me.

Let not the wicked man inuolue me.

Let not the wicked man inuolue me.

Let not the wicked man inuolue me.

For they are daily led as with Manna from heaven, and have the wicked have starved enough,

but never hunger.
God knoweth
what dangers hang over his,
and by what names to deliver them.

For God will give them continued minde,
and that which shall be necessary.

They shall va-
unt away suddenly: for they are fed for the day of laughter.

God so turn-eth him with his blessing, that he is able to helpe
others.

God pro-
specteth the faithfull,

way with an unspotted confidence.

When God
shall exercise
his faith with divers temptations.

Though the iust man die, yet Gods blessings are extended to his posterity, and

fer some iust man

rall benefits, yet
he recompenseth
him with spiri-
tuelle treasures.

They that continually be preferred vnder Gods wings, and have at least iu-ward rest.

These three points are requisite of the faith-
full, that their talk be godly,
that Gods Law
be in their heart,
and that their life be vpright.

For though it be sometime so expensive both for Gods glory and their saluation, yet he will approve their cause and reuenge their wrong. x So that the prosperity of the wicked is but as a cloud, which vapouris away in a moment.

lust, and gnashed his teeth against him.
13 But the Lord shall laugh them to scorn:
for he seeth that his day is coming.

14 The wicked haue broken their sword, and haue bent their bowe, to cast downe the poore and needy, and to slay such as be of vpright conuersation.

15 But their sword shall enter into their owne heart, and their bowes shall be broken.

16 A small thing vnto the iust man, is better then great riches to the wicked and mightie.

17 For the armes of the wicked shall be broken, but the Lord upholdeth the iust men.

18 The Lord knoweth the dayes of vpright men, and their inheritance shall be perpetuall.

19 They shall not be confounded in the perilous time, and in the dayes of famine
they shall haue enough.

20 But the wicked shall perish, and the enemies of the Lord shall be continued, as the fat of lambs: euen with the smoke shall they consume away.

21 The wicked borroweth and payeth not againe: but the righteous is mercifull, and giueth.

22 For such as be blessed of God, shall inherite the land, and they that be cursed of him shall be cut off.

23 The parts of man are directed by the Lord: hee will loue his way.

24 Though he fall, he shall not be cast off: for the Lord putteth vnder his hand.

25 I haue been yong, and am old: yet I haue neuer the righteous forsaken, nor his seed begging bread.

26 But he is euer mercifull, and tender,
and his seed enioyeth the blessing.

27 flee from euill and do good, and dwell
for euer.

28 For the Lord loueth iudgement, and forsaketh not his Saints: they shall be preferred for euermore: but the seed of the wicked shall be cut off.

29 The righteous men shall inherite the land, and dwell therein for euer.

30 The mouth of the righteous will spake of wisdom, and his tongue will talke of iudgement.

31 For the Law of his God is in his heart,
and his steps shall not slide.

32 The wicked watcheth the righteous,
and seeketh to slay him.

33 But the Lord will not leaue him in his hand, nor condemn him, when he is iudged.

34 What thou on the Lord, and keepe his way, and he shall exalt thee, that thou shalt inherite the land: when the wicked men shall perish, thou shalt live.

35 I haue seene the wicked strong, and spreading himselfe like a greene bay tree.

36 Per hee passed away, and loe, hee was gone, and I sought him, but he could not be found.

For though it be sometime so expensive both for Gods glory and their saluation, yet he will approve their cause and reuenge their wrong. x So that the prosperity of the wicked is but as a cloud, which vapouris away in a moment.

37 Marke the mightie man, and behold
the iust: for the end of that man is peace.

38 But the transgressors shall be deli-uered together, and the end of the wicked shall be cut off.

39 But the saluation of the righteous man shall be of the Lord: hee shall be their strength in the time of trouble.

40 For the Lord shall helpe them, and de-liuer them: hee shall deliuer them from the wicked, and shall saue them, because they trust in him.

ende hath good success, though for a time God proueth them by sundry temptations.

PSAL XXXVIII.

1 Dauid being sicke of some grievous distemper, knoweth himselfe to be chastised of the Lord for his sinnes, and therefore prayeth God to turne away his wrath. 5 He reuereth the greatness of his griefe by many words and circumstances, as wounded with the arrows of Gods ire, forsaken of his friends, contempted of his enemies: 22 That in the end with firme confidence, he commendeth his cause to God, and beseecheth for speedy helpe at his hand.

1 I beseech of Dauid for remembrance.
O Lord, rebuke mee not in thine anger,
neither chastise me in thy wrath.

2 For thine arrows haue light vpon me, and thine hand lieth vpon me.

3 There is nothing found in my flesh, because of thine anger, neither is there rell in my bones, because of thy fume.

4 For mine iniquities are gone ouer mine head, and as a weighty burden, they are too heauy for me.

5 My wounds are puttred and corrupt because of my foolishnesse.

6 I am bowed, and crooked very sore, I goe mourning all the day.

7 For my reins are full of burning, and there is nothing found in my flesh.

8 I am weakened and sore broken: I roare for the very griefe of mine heart.

9 Lord, I poure mine whole desire before thee, and my sighing is not hid from thee.

10 Mine hearte is panted: my strength
faileth me, and the light of mine eyes, euen
they are not mine owne.

11 My louers and my friends stand aside from my plague, and my kinsmen stand af-
farre off.

12 They also that seeke after my life lay snare, and they that goe about to doe me euill, calke the wicked things, and imagine deceit continually.

13 But I as a dumbe man, which openeth not his mouth.

14 Thus am I as a man, that heareth not, in whose mouth are no speeches.

15 For on thee, O Lord, do I wait: thou wilt heare me, my Lord, my God.

16 For I sayd, I heare mee, I & they reioyce me for very sorrow. 9 Partly for feare, and partly for pride they despised all dutie and friendship. 10 For I can haue no audience before men, and therefore patiently waite for the helpe of God.

PSAL. XXXIX.

1 David uttereth with what great griefe and bitterness of minde he was drawn to this outrageous complaint of his infirmities.

2 For he confesseth that when he had determined silence, he breake forth yet into words that he would not, through the greatness of his griefe.

4 Then he rehearseth certaine requests which sigle of the infirmity of man, 8 and moueth with them many prayers, but all doe shew a mind wonderfully troubled, that it may plainly appeare how he did strine mightily against death and desperation.

10 The excellent musician. I. Iudith. A Psalm of David.

I thought, I will take heed to my waies that I sinne not with my tongue. I will keepe my mouth hidde, while the wicked is in my sight.

2 I was dumbe, and spake nothing: I kept silence euen from good, and my sorrow was more stirred.

3 My heart was hott within mee, and while I was musing, the fire kindled, and I spake with my tongue, saying,

4 Lord, let mee know mine end, and the measure of my dayes, what it is: let mee know how long I haue to liue.

5 Behold, thou hast made my dayes as an hane bread, and mine age is nothing in respect of thee: surely euery man in his best stage is altogether banefic. Delah.

6 Doubtlesse man walketh in a shadow, and disquieteth himselfe in vaine: he heapech by riches, and cannot tell who shall gather them.

7 And now Lord, what waite I for? mine hope is euen in thee.

8 Deliuere mee from all my transgressions, and make mee not a rebuke vnto the foolish.

9 I should haue bene dumbe, & not haue opened my mouth, because I thou dost it.

10 Take thy plague away from mee: for I am consumed by the stroke of thine hand.

11 When thou with rebukes dost chastise man for iniquity, thou as a moth makest his beauty to consume: surely euery man is vauity. Delah.

12 Heare my prayer, O Lord, and hearken vnto my cry: keepe not silence at my teares, for I am a stranger vnto thee, and a sojourner as all my fathers.

13 Stay thine anger from mee, that I may recover my strength, before I go hence, and be not.

14 Keepe away all that is desired in this world, caused him to thinke that God would destroy him vnto: where by wee see how hard it is for the very Saints to keepe a measure in their words, when death and despair assaile them.

PSAL. XL.

1 David deliuered from great danger, doth magnify and praise the grace of God for his deliuerance, and commendeth his prouidence toward all mankind.

2 Then doeth he promise to geue himselfe wholly to Gods seruice, and so declareth how God is truly worshipped.

3 A Afterward he is giueth thanks and praise to God, and hauing complained of his enemies, with good courage he calleth for ayde and succour.

4 To him excelleth. A Psalm of David. I praised partly for the Lord, and hee inclined vnto me, and heard my cry:

2 Hee brought me also out of the horrible pit, out of the mirie clay, and let my feett vpon the rock, and ordered my going.

3 And hee hath put in my mouth: a new song of praise vnto our God: many shall tell it and feare, and shall trust in the Lord.

4 Blessed is the man that maketh the Lord his trust, & regardeth not the proud, nor such as turne aside to lies.

5 O Lord my God, thou hast made thy wonderfull wayes so many, that none can count in order to thee thy thoughts toward vs: I would declare, and speake of them, but they are more then I am able to expresse.

6 Sacrifice offering thou didst not desire: for mine eares hast thou prepared: burnt offering I sin offering hast thou not required.

7 When said I, Lo, I come: for in the roll of the booke it is written of me.

8 I desired to doe thy good will, O my God: yea, thy Law is within my heart.

9 I haue declared thy righteousness in the great Congregation: for, I will not restraime my lips, O Lord, thou knowest.

10 I haue not hid thy righteousness within mine heart, but I haue declared thy truth and thy saluation: I haue not concealed thy mercie and thy truth from the great Congregation.

11 Withstand not thou thy tender mercie from mee, O Lord: let thy mercie and thy truth alwayes presterue me.

12 For innumerable troubles haue compassed mee: my sinnes haue taken such hold vpon mee, that I am not able to looke vp: yea, they are more in number that his case, 9 and complaineth of the treason of his own friends and familiars, as came to passe in Iudas, Ioh. 13. 18. After, beseeching the great mercies of God gently chastising him, and not suffering his enemies to triumph against him, 13 Giveth in his heart

To him that excelleth. A Psalm of Dauid.

Blessed is hee that indurgeth wisely of the trouble: the Lord shall deliuer him in the time of trouble.

2 The Lord will keepe him, and preserve him alway: he shall be blessed vpon the earth, and thou wilt not deliuer him vnto the will of his enemies.

3 The Lord will strengthen him vpon
the bed of sorrow: thou hast turned all his bed in his sickness.

4 Therefore I said, Lord haue mercy vpon mee: heale my soule, for I haue sinned against thee.

5 Mine enemies speake euill of me, saying, When shall hee die, and his name perish?

6 And if hee come to see mee, hee speaketh lies, but his heart heareth iniquitie wth him
him, and when hee conuenerh forth, he telleth it.

1 The Prophet grievously complaineth, that being lotted by his persecutors, he could not be present in the congregation of Gods people, protesting that although he was separated in body from them, yet his heart was thitherward affixed. 7 And last of all, he sheweth that he was not so farre overcome with these sorrows and thoughts, 8 but that hee continually put his confidence in the Lord.

instruction, committed to the singers of Korah.

the brooke, so pants my soule after thee,
O God.

2 My soule thirsteth for God, euen for the living God: when shall I come and appeare before the presence of God?

3 My teares haue bene my meate day and night: while they daily say vnto me,
Where is thy God?

4 When I remember these things, I poured out my very hart, because I had gone with the multitude, and led them into the house of God with the voice of singing, and psallie, as a multitude that keepeth a feast.

5 Why art thou cast downe my soule, and disquiet within me? write on God: for I will yet giue him thanks for the helpe of his presence.

toward his people. 2 After, they complain, because they see it no more. 3 Also they allege the com-mants made with Abraham, for the keeping whereof they shew what grievous things they suffered. 4 Especially, they pray vnto God not to commove their afflic-tion, seeing the same redoundeth to the contempt of his honour.

C O him that excelleth. A Psalm to giue instruction, committed to the sonnes of Kozab.

W E haue heard with our eares, O God: our fathers haue tolde vs the workes that thou hast done in their dayes, in the old time:

2 How thou hast turned out the heathen with thine hand, and planted them: how thou hast destroyed the people, and caused them to grow.

3 For they inherited not the land by their owne sword, neither did their owne arme saue them: but thy right hand, and thine arme, and the light of thy countenance, because thou diddest fauour them.

4 Thou art my King, O God: send help
vnto me, I beseech thee.

5 Though thee haue wee thrust backe
our aduersaries: by thy name haue wee tro-den downe them that rose vp against vs.

6 For I doe not trust in my bow, neither can my sword saue me.

7 But thou hast saved vs from our ad-uersaries, and hast put them to confusion that hate vs.

8 Therefore will we praise God continually,
and will confesse thy name for euer. Selah.

9 But now thou art farre off, and puttest vs to confusion, and goest not forth with our armies.

the aduersarie, and they, which hate vs,
spotteth for themselves.

3 Sted thy sword upon thy thigh, O most mighty, to win the worship and the glory.
4 And prosper with thy glory; ride upon the word of truth and of meekness and of righteousness to the right hand shall reach thee terrible things.

5 Thine arrows are sharp to pierce the heart of the kings enemies; therefore the people shall fall under thee.
6 Thy thrones, O God, is for ever and ever: the scepter of thy kingdom is a scepter of righteousness.

7 Thou lovest righteousness, and hatest wickedness, because God owneth thy God hath anointed thee with the oil of gladness above thy fellows.

8 All thy garments smell of myrrour and aloes, and Cassia, when thou comest out of the people palaces, where they have made thee glad.

9 Kings daughters were among thine honourable wives; upon thy right hand did stand the Queen in a vestment of gold of Ophir.

10 Hearken, O daughter, and consider,
and incline thine ear; forget also thine own people, and thy fathers house.

11 So shall the king have pleasure in thy beauty: for he is thy Lord, and reuerence thou him.

12 And the daughter of Tyre, with the rich of the people shall do homage before thy face with presents.

13 The kings daughter is all glorious within: her clothing is of broidered gold.
14 She shall thought unto the king in payment of needle work: the virgins that follow after her, and her companions shall be brought unto thee.

15 With joy and gladness shall they see thee, and shall enter into the kings palace.

16 In stead of the fathers shall thy children be: thou shalt make them princes throughout all the earth.

17 I will make thy name to be remembered through all generations: therefore shall the people give thanks unto thee world without end.

PSAL. XLVI.

1 A song of triumph thanksgiving for the deliverance of Jerusalem, after Sennacherib with his army was driven away, or some other like sudden and marvellous deliverance by the mightie hand of God. 8 Whereby the Prophet commending this great benefite, dorth exhort the faithful to give themselves wholly into the hand of God, doubting nothing but that under his protection they shall be safe against all the assaults of their enemies, because this is his delight to as-sauge the rage of the wicked, when they are most busie against the just.

To him that excelleth upon Alamoth. A song committed to the sonnes of Korah.
G D is our hope and strength, and helpe

2 Therefore will not we be afraid, though the earth be moued, and though the moun-taines fall into the midst of the sea.

3 Though the waters thereof rage and be

5 God is in the midst of it: therefore shall it not be moued: God shall helpe it: heery early,
not be overcome.

6 When the nations rage, and the king-domes were moued, God is thundred, and the earth melted.

7 The Lord of hostes is with vs: the God of Jacob is our refuge. Selah.

8 Come, and behold the workes of the Lord, what desolations hee hath made in the earth.

9 Hee maketh warres to cease vnto the ends of the world: hee breaketh the bow and curbeth the spear, and burneth the chariots with fire.

10 Be still, and know that I am God:
I will be exalted among the heathen, and I will be exalted in the earth.

PSAL. XLVIII.

A notable deliuerance of Ierusalem from the hand of many kings is mentioned, for the which thanks are giuen to God, and the state of that citie is praised that hath God so presently at all times ready to defend them. The Psalm seemeth to be made in the time of Abaz, Iosaphat, Asa, or Ezechiah: for in their times chiefly was the citie by forraigne princes assailed.

A song or Psalm committed to the sonnes of Kohab.

a Some put this difference betweene a song & Psalm, saying, that it is called a song, when there is no instrument, but the voice: & the Psalm, the contrary. The song of the Psalm is when the instruments begin, and the voice, followeth: the Psalm of the song, & contrary.

b Albeit God shew his wonders through all the world, yet he will be chiefly prayed in his Church.

c Because the word of saluacion came thence to all them that should beleue, d Except God werethe defence thereof, neither situation, nor munition could pruaile.

e They conspired and went against Gods people. f The enemies were afraid at the sight of the citie, g That is, of Cilicia, or of the sea called Mediterraneum. h To wit, of our fathers, so haue we proued: or, God hath performed his promise. i In all places where thy Name shall be heard of, men shall praise thee, when they heare of thy marvellous works. k Let Ierusalem and the cities of Iudea reioyce for thy iust iudgements against thine enemies. l For in this our ward defence and strength Gods blessings did also appeare, but the chief is to be referred to Gods fauour and secret defence, who neuer lea-eth his.

Great is the Lord, and greatly to be prayed in the City of our God, even vpon his holy mountaine.

3 In the palaces thereof God is knownen for a refuge.

4 For loe the kings were gathered and went together.

5 When they saw it, they marvelled: they were astonied, and suddenly diuinen backe.

6 Feare came there vpon them, and sorrow, as vpon a woman in travail.

8 As we haue heard, so haue we seene in the citie of the Lord of hostes, in the citie of our God: God will stablish it for euer.

9 Wee waite for thy louing kindnesse, O God, in the midst of thy Temple.

10 O God, according vnto thy Name, so is thy praise vnto the worlds end: thy right hand is full of righteousness.

11 Let mount Zion reioyce, & the daughters of Iudah bee glad because of thy iudgements.

PSALM II.

1 When David was rebuked by the Prophet Nathan for his great offences, he did not only acknowledge the same to God with protestation of his naturall corruption and misquise, but also left a memoriall thereof to his posteritie 7 Th. resist first he desired God to forgive his sinne, 10 and to renew in him his holy Spirit: 13 With promise, that hee wil not be unkindfull of these great graces, 18 Finally, fearing lest God would punish the whole Church for his sinne, hee requesteth that hee would rather increase his graces toward the same.

To him that excelleth. A Psalm of David, when the Prophet Nathan came vnto him, after hee had gone in to Bathsheba.

Have mercy vpon me, O God, according to thy loving kindness: according to the multitude of thy compassions put away mine iniquities.

2 Wash mee thoroughly from mine iniquities, and cleanse me from my sinne.

3 For I know mine iniquities, and my sinne is euer before me.

4 Against thee, against thee onely haue I sinned, and done euill in thy sight, that thou mayest be iust when thou speakest, and pure when thou iudget.

5 Behold, I was borne in iniquitie, and in sinne hath my mother conceived me.

6 Wherefore, thou truest truth in the inward affections: therefore hast thou taught mee wisdom in the secret of mine heart.

7 Mine heart is prepared, O God, mine heart is prepared: I will sing and giue praise.

8 Awake my tongue, awake vial and harpe: I will awake early.

9 I will praise thee, O Lord, among the people, and I will sing vnto thee among the nations.

PSAL. LXIX.

1 The complaints, prayers, lament and great anguish of David is set forth as a figure of Christ and all his members: 21 The malicious cruelty of the enemies, 22 and their punishment also, 26 where Iudas and such traitours are accused, 30 Hee gathereth courage in his affliction, and offereth prayer vnto God, 32 which are more acceptable than all sacrifices: wherof the afflicted may take comfort, 35 Finally he doth promise all exultation to prayer, praecifying of the kingdom of Christ, and the preservation of the Church, where all the faithfull, 37 and their seed shall dwell for ever.

¶ To him that excelleth vpon a Shoshanim. A Psalm of David.

1 Salue me, O God: for the waters are entered euery to my soule.

2 I sticke fast in the deepe myre, where no stay is: I am come into deepe waters, and the streames ruine ouer me.

3 I am weary of crying: my throat is drye: mine eyes faile, whiles I waite for my God.

4 They that hate mee without a cause, are more then the haire of mine head: they that would destroy mee, are mine enemies: falsly, are mightie, so that I restoyen that which I tooke not.

5 O God, thou knowest my foolishnes, and my faults are not hid from thee.

6 Let not them that trust in thee, O Lord God of hostes, be ashamed for mee: let not those that seeke thee, be confounded through me, O God of Israel.

7 For thy sake haue I suffered reproofe: shame hath covered my face.

8 I am become a stranger vnto my brethren, euery an aliene vnto my mothers sonnes.

9 For the zeale of thine house hath eaten me, and the rebukes of them that rebuked thee, are fallen vpon me.

10 I kept, and my soule fasted, but that was to my reproofe.

11 I put on a sacke also: and I became a prouerbe vnto them.

12 They that late in the gate, spake of me, and the drunkards sang of me.

13 But Lord, I make my prayer vnto thee in an acceptable time, euery in the multitude of the mercy: O God, heare me in the trueth of thy saluation.

14 Deliuer mee out of the mire, that I sinke not: let mee bee deliuered from them that hate mee, and out of the deepe waters.

15 Let not the water flood downe mee, neither let the deepe swallowe me vp: and let not the pit shut her mouth vpon me.

16 Heare mee, O Lord, for thy louing kindnesse is good: turne vnto mee according to the multitude of thy tender mercies.

17 And hide not thy face from thy seruuant, for I am in trouble: make haste and heare mee.

18 Draw mee vnto my soule, & redeeme me: deliuer me, because of mine enemies.

19 Thou hast knowne my reproofe and my shame, and my dishonour: all mine aduersaries are before thee.

20 Rebuke harsh broken mine heart, and I am full of beautie, and I looked for some to haue pity on me, but there was none: and for comforters, but I found none.

21 For they gaue me gall in my meat, and in my thirst they gaue mee vinegar to drinke.

22 Let their table be a snare before them, and their prosperitie their ruine.

23 Let their eyes bee blinded, that they see not: and make their loynes alway to tremble.

24 Bowe out thine anger vpon them, and let thy wrathfull displeasure take them.

25 Let their habitation be voyd, and let none dwell in their tents.

26 For they persecute him, whom thou hast smitten: and they adde vnto the sorrow of them, whom thou hast wounded.

27 Lay iniquitie vpon their iniquitie, & let them not come into thy righteousness.

28 Let them bee put out of the booke of life, neither let them bee written with the righteous.

29 When I am poore, and in beautie, thine helpe, O God, shall exalt me.

30 I will praise the Name of God with a song, and magnifie him with thanksgiving.

31 This also shall please the Lord better then a yong bullocke, that hath hoines and hoofes.

32 The humble shall see this, and they that seeke God, shall be glad, and your heart shall liue.

33 For the Lord heareth the poore, and despised not his prisoners.

34 Let heauen and earth praise him: the seas and all that moveth therein.

35 For God will save Zion, and build the cities of Iudah, that men may dwell there, and haue it in possession.

36 Thee seeke also of his seruants shall inherit it: and they that loue his Name, shall dwell therein.

PSAL. LXXIII.

a The Prophet teacheth by his example that neither the worldly prosperitie of the vngodly, 14 Nor yet the affliction of the good, ought to discourage Gods children: but rather ought to moue vs to consider our Fathers providence, and to confesse vs to reuerence Gods iudgements. b Forasmuch as the wicked vanishes away, 24 And the godly enter into life euerslasting. 28 In hope when of bereftness himselfe into Gods hands.

A Psalm committed to Asaph.

YETⁱ God is good to Israel: euen to the pure in heart.

2 My foes for me, mine ferte were almost gone: my steps had welnether slip.

a As it were between hope and despair hebraised forth into this affection, being assured that God would continue his fauour toward such as were godly indeede, and not hypocrites.

3 For I fretted at the foolish, when I saw the prosperitie of the wicked.

4 For there are no bands in their death, but they are lustie and strong.

5 They are not in trouble as other men, neither are they plagued with other men.

6 Therefore I pise is as a chaine vnto them, and a cruelitie couereth them as a garment.

7 Their eyes stand out for fatnes: yet they haue more then heart can with.

8 They are licentious, and speake wickedly of their oppression: they talke presumptuously.

9 Theyⁱ set their mouth against heauen, and their tongue walketh thowow the earth.

10 Therefore hisⁱ people curse him: for waters of a full cup are wring out to them.

11 And theyⁱ say, How doeth God know it: or is there knowledge in the most hie.

12 Lo, these are the wicked, yet prosper they alway, and increase in riches.

13 Certainly I haue cleansed my heart in blame, and washed mine handes in innocencie.

14 For dayly haue I borne punishment, and chastenⁱ d every morning.

15 If I say, I will iudge thus, behold, the generation of thy children: I haue trespassed.

16 Then thought I to know this, but it was too painefull for me.

17 Until I went into theⁱ Sanctuaries of God: then understood I their end.

18 Surely thou hast let them in slippery places, and castest them down into destruction.

19 How suddenly are they destroyed, perished andⁱ pourbly consumed.

20 As a dreame when one waketh! O Lord, whenⁱ thou raisest vs vp, thou shalt make their image despisid.

21 Certainly mine heart was verie, and I was picked in mine reines:

22 So foolishly was I and ignorant: I was aⁱ beast before thee.

23 Yet I was asuayⁱ with thee: thou hast holden me by my right hand.

24 Thou wilt guide mee by thy counsell, and afterwards receive me to glory.

25 Whome haue I inⁱ heauen but thee? and I haue desired none in the earth with thee.

26 My flesh faileth, and mine heart also: but God is the strength of mine heart, and myⁱ position for euer.

27 For so they that withdraw themselves from thee, shall perish: thou destroyest all them thatⁱ goe a whooping from thee.

most wisely, and preterme thy children in their greatest dangers, h Vntill I entered into thy schoole, and learned by thy word and holy spirit, that thou orderest all things most wisely & iustly. i By thy learefull iudgement. k When thou openest our eyes to consider thy heauenly felicitie, wee condemne all their vaine pompe. l For the more that man goeth about by his owne reason to seeke out Gods iudgements, the more doeth he declare himselfe a beast. m By faith I was assured that thy providence did watch alwayes ouer me to preterme me. n He thought neither helpe nor comfort of any faue God only. o Hee teacheth vs to denie our felues, to haue God our whole iusticiencie, and onely contentment. p That is, forsake thee to seeke others.

Psalmes.

The cup of Gods wrath.

q Though all the world shrinke from God, yet bee prometh to trust in him, and to magnifie his workes.

28 As for me, it is good for mee to draw nere to God: therefore I haue put my trust in the Lord God, that I may declare all thy workes.

PSAL. LXXIII.

1 The faithfull complaint of the destruction of the Church and true religion, 2 Under the name of Zion, and the Temple destroyed: 31 And trusting in the might and free mercies of God, 30 By his covenant, 21 They require helpe and succour for the glorie of Gods holy Name, for the saluation of his poore afflicted seruants. 23 And the confusion of his proud enemies.

A Psalm to give instruction, committed to Asaph.

a The Church of God being oppressed by the tyrannie either of the Babylonians, or of Antiochus, prayeth to God, by whose hand this yoke was layd vpon them for their sinnes.

O God, why hast thou put vs away for euer: why is thy wrath kindled against the sheepe of thy pasture?

2 Thinke vpon thy Congregation, which thou hast possessed of old, and on the rod of thine inheritance which thou hast redeemed, and on this mount Zion, wherein thou hast dwelt.

3 Lift vp thy strokes, that thou mayest for euer destroy euery enemy that doeth euill to the Sanctuary.

4 Thine aduersaries roare in the mids of thy Congregation, and set vp their banners for signes.

5 He that lifted the axes vpon the thicke trees, was renowned, as one that brought a thing to perfection:

6 But now they breake downe the carved worke thereof with axes and hammers.

7 They haue cast thy Sanctuary into the fire, and rased it to the ground, and haue defiled the dwelling place of thy Name.

8 They said in their hearts, Let vs destroy them all together: they haue burnt all the Synagogues of God in the land.

9 Tell see not our signes: there is not one Propheet more, nor any with vs that knoweth how long.

10 O God, how long shall the aduersarie reproach thee? shall the enemy blasphemeth thy Name for euer?

11 Why with drawest thou thy hand, euen thy right hand? draw it out of thy bosome, and consume them.

12 Euen God is my king of old, working saluation in the mids of the earth.

13 Thou diddest diuide the sea by thy power: thou brakest the heads of the dragons in the waters.

14 Then brakest the head of Leviathan in pieces, and gauest him to be meate for the people in wilderness.

15 Thou brakest vp the fountaine, and ruler: thou diddest by mighty armers.

16 The day is thine: and the night is thine: thou hast prepared the light & the sun.

g They ioyne their deueraice with Gods glory and power, knowing that the punishment of the enemy should be their deliuerance. h Meaning in the sight of all the world. i To wit, Pharaohs armie. k Which was a great monster of the sea, or whale, meaning Pharaoh. l His destruction did reioyce them as meate refresheth the body. m Seeing that God by his prouidence governeth and disposeth all things, he gathereth that he will take care chiefly for his children.

17 Thou hast set all the borders of the earth: thou hast made summer and winter.

18 Remember this, that the enemy hath reproched the Lord, and the foolish people hath blasphemed thy Name.

19 Give not the soule of thy turtle dove into the beak, and forget not the Congregation of the poore for euer.

20 Consider thy covenant: for the darke places of the earth are full of the habitation of the cruell.

21 Do let not the oppressed retorne ashamed, but let the poore and needy praye thy Name.

22 Arise, O God: maintain thine owne cause: remember thy dayly reproch by the foolish man.

23 Forget not the hope of thine enemies: for the tumult of them, that rise against thee, ascendeth continually.

PSAL. LXXV.

1 The faithfull doo praise the Name of the Lord, 2 Which shall come to iudge at the time appointed, 8 When the wicked shall put to confusion, and drinke of the cuppe of his wrath. 10 Their pride shall be abased, and the righteous shall exulted to honour.

To him that exallesh: Destroy not. A Psalm or song committed to Asaph.

WE will praye thee, O God, we will praye thee, for thy Name is nere: therefore they will declare thy wondrous workes.

2 When I shall take a conuenient time, I will iudge righteously.

3 The earth and all the inhabitants thereof are dissolved: but I will establish the pillars of it. Selah.

4 I sayd vnto the foolish, Be not so foolish, and to the wicked, Lift not vp the borne.

5 Lift not vp your borne on be, neither speake with a stiffe necke.

6 For to come to preferment is neither from the East, nor from the West, nor from the South.

7 But God is the Iudge: he maketh low and he maketh high.

8 For in the hand of the Lord is a cup, and the wine is red: it is full mixture, and hee powreth out of the same: surely all the wicked of the earth shall wring out and drinke the dregs thereof.

9 But I will declare for euer, and sing praises vnto the God of Israel.

10 All the hopes of the wicked also will I breake: but the hopes of the righteous shall be exalted.

Gods people, seeing that God at this time destroyed them that rule wickedly. f Gods wrath is compared to a cup of strong and delicate wine, wherewith the wicked are made to drunke, that by drinking ill they come to the very dregs. es. they are utterly destroyed. g The godly shall better prosper by their innocent simplicitie, than the wicked shall by all their craft and subtilty.

PSAL. LXXVI.

1 This Psalm setteth forth the power of God and care for the deliuerance of his people in Ierusalem, in the destruction of the armie of Sennacherib: 11 And exhorteth the faithfull to be thankfull for the same.

PSAL. LXXXVII.

1 The Prophet in the name of the Church reheraseth the greatness of his affliction, & his grievous temptations, whereby he was drawn to this end, to consider his former conversion, 21 and the continuall course of Gods works in the preformation of his servants, and so be comforted his faith against these temptations.

5 How he established a testimony in Jacob, and ordered a law in Israel, which he commanded our fathers, that they should teach their children: 6 That the posteritie might know it, and the children which should be born, should stand up, and declare it to their children: 7 That they might set their hope on God, and not forget the works of God, but keepe his commandments: 8 And not to be as their fathers, a disobedient and rebellious generation: a generation that set not their heart aright, and whose spirit was not faithfull unto God. 9 The children of Ephraim being armed, and flourishing with the bow, turned backe in the day of battell. 10 They kept not the covenant of God, but refused to walke in his Law. 11 And forgot his acts, and his wonderfull works that he had shewed them. 12 He did marvellous things in the sight of their fathers in the land of Egypt: even in the field of Zoan. 13 He divided the sea, and led them thither: he made also the waters to stand as an braye. 14 In the day time also he led them with a cloud, and all the night with a light of fire. 15 He clave the rocks in the wilderness, and gave them drinke as of the great depths. 16 He brought floods also out of the stony rocks, so that he made the waters to descend like the rivers. 17 Yet they sinned still against him, and provoked the highest in the wilderness. 18 And tempted God in their hearts, in requiring meat for their lust. 19 They spake against God also, saying, Can God prepare a table in the wilderness? 20 Behold, he smote the rocks, that the water gushed out, and the streames overflowed: can he give bread also, or prepare flesh for his people? 21 Therefore the Lord heard and was angry, and the fire was kindled in Jacob, and also wrath came upon Israel. 22 Because they believed not in God, and trusted not in his helpe. 23 Yet he had commanded the cloudes about, and had opened the doores of heaven. 24 And had rained downe Manna upon them for to eat, and had given them of the wheate of heaven. 25 Spain had eate the bread of Angels: yetent them meat enough.

26 He caused the East wind to passe in the heaven, & through his power he brought in the South wind. 27 He rained flesh also upon them as dust, and feathered fowle as the land of the sea. 28 And he made it fall in the midst of their campe, even round about their habitations. 29 So they did eat, and were well filled: for he gave them their desire. 30 They were not turned from their lust, but the meat was yet in their mouths. 31 When the wrath of God came even upon them, and slew the strongest of them, and smote downe the chosen men in Israel. 32 For all this they sinned still, and believed not his wondrous works. 33 Therefore their dayes did be consume in vanitie, and their yeeres in haughtie. 34 And when he slew them, they sought him, and they returned, and sought God early. 35 And they remembered that God was their strength, and the most high God their Redeemer. 36 But they flattered him with their mouth, and dissembled with him with their tongue. 37 For their heart was not bright with him: neither were they faithfull in his covenant. 38 Yet he being mercifull, forgave their iniquities, & diskeped them not, but oft times called backe his anger, and did not sterve up all his wrath. 39 For he remembered that they were flesh: yea, a wind that passeth, and cometh not againe. 40 How oft did they provoke him in the wilderness, and grieve him in the desert? 41 Yea, they returned & tempted God, and limited the Holy one of Israel. 42 They remembered not his hand, nor the day when he delivered them from the enemy. 43 Nor him that set his signes in Egypt, and his wonders in the field of Zoan. 44 And turned their rivers into blood, and their floods that they could not drinke. 45 He sent a swarme of flies among them, which devoured them, & frogs which destroyed them. 46 Hee gave also their fruites unto the caterpiller, and their labour unto the grasshopper. 47 Hee destroyed their vines with haille, and their wilde figgers with the haille stone. 48 Hee gave their cattell also to the haille, and their flocks to the thunderbolts. 49 We call upon them the fiercenes of his anger, indignation and wrath, and vexation by the sending out of euill angels. 50 He made a way to his anger: he spared p God vsed the meanes of the wind to teach them, that all elements were at his commandment, and the more it lusted. q Such is the nature of concupiscence, that the more it hath, the more it lusted. r Though others were not spared, yet chiefly they suffered, which trusted in their strength against God. s Thus since by continuance much men inensible, so that by no plagues they can be amended. t Such was their hypocricie, that they sought unto God for feare of punishment, though in their heart they loued him not. u What cometh from the pure fountaine of the heart, is hypocricie. x Because he would ever have some remnant of a Church to praise his Name in earth, he suffered not their finnes to overcome their graces. y That is, they tempted him at times. z As they all doe that measure the power of God by their capacitie. A The forgetfulness of Gods benefits, is the root of rebellion and all vice. b This word significth a confused mixture of flies and venomous worms. Some take it for all sorts of serpents: some for all wilde beasts. c Hee repeateth not here all the miracles that God did in Egypt, but etaine, which might be sufficient to convince the people of malice and ingratitude. d So called either of the effect, that is, of punishing the wicked, or else because they were wicked spirits, whom God permitted to vex men.

Psalmes.

Israels obstinacie.

a This Psalme was made as a prayer, for to desire God to be mercifull to the ten tribes, b Mouer their hearts that they may returne to worship God aright, that is, in the place where thou hast appointed, c Ioyne thy whole people & all thy tribes together againe. d The faithfull feare Gods anger when they perceive that their prayers are not forthwith heard, e Our neighbors have continuall strife and warre against vs, f Because that repentance only cometh of God, they most inkinly and oft times call to God for it, as a means whereby they shall be saved, g Seeing that of thy mercy thou hast made vs a most deare possession to thee, & we through our finnes are made open for wilde beasts to deuour vs, declare againe thy loue & finish the worke that thou hast begun, h To wit, Euphrates, i That is, as well they that hate our religion, as they that hate our persons, k They gaue no place to temptation, knowing that albeit there were no helpe in earth, yet God was able to succour them from heauen, l So that no power can preuaile against it, & which as a yong bud thou raisest vp againe as out of the burne ashes, m Ouely when thou art angry, and not with the sword of the enemy, n That is, vpon this vine, or people, whom thou hast planted with thy right hand, that they should be as one man, or one body, o For none can call vpon God, but such as are raised vp, as it were from death to life, and regenerate by the holy Spirit.

a An instrument of musick brought from Geth.

Hear, O thou sheeheard of Israel, heu thou that ledest Ioseph like sheepe: shew thy brightnesse, thou that sittest betwene the Cherubims.
2 Before Ephraim and Benjamin and Manasse stirre vp thy strength, and come to helpe vs.
3 Turne vs againe O God, and cause thy face to shine, that we may be saved.
4 O Lord God of hostes, how long wilt thou bee angry against the prayer of thy people?
5 Thou hast fed them with the bread of teares, and giuen them teares to drinke with great measure.
6 Thou hast made vs as a strife vnto our neighbours, and our enemies laugh at vs among themselves.
7 Turne vs againe, O God of hostes: cause thy face to shine, and we shalbe saved.
8 Thou hast brought a vine out of Egypt: thou hast cast out the heathen, and planted it.
9 Thou madest room for it, and diddest cause it to take roote, and it filled the land.
10 The mountains were couered with the shadow of it: and the boughes thereof were like the goodly cedars.
11 Shee stretched out her branches vnto the sea, and her boughes vnto the River.
12 Why hast thou then broken downe her hedges, so that all they, which passe by the way, haue plucked her?
13 The wilde beere out of the wood hath destroyed it, and the wilde beasts of the field haue eaten it vp.
14 Returne now beseeth thee, O God of hostes: looke downe from heauen and behold and visite this vine,
15 And the vineyard, that thy right hand hath planted, and the young vine, which thou madest strong for thy selfe.
16 It is burnt with fire, and cut downe: and they perishe at the rebuke of thy countenance.
17 Let thine hand bee vpon the man of thy right hand, and vpon the sonne of man, whom thou madest strong for thine owne selfe.
18 So will not we go back from thee, O reuine thou vs, & we shall call vpon thy Name.
16 Turn vs againe, O Lord God of hostes: cause thy face to shine, and we shalbe saved.

To him that exelleth vpon a Gitteth. A Psalme committed to Asaph.

Sing vs joyfully vnto God our strength: sing loud vnto the God of Israel.
2 Take the song, and bring forth the timbrel, the pleasant harpe with the viol.
3 Blow the trumpet in the new moon, even in the time appointed, at our feast day.
4 For this is a statute for Israel, and a Law of the God of Israel.
5 Seekest thou this? I Ioseph for a testimony, when he came out of the land of Egypt, where I heard a language, that I understood not.
6 I haue withdrawen his shoulder from the burden, & his hands haue left the yoke.
7 Thou calledst in affliction, and I deliuered thee, and I answered thee in the secret of the bunder: I pouered thee at the waters of Berith, Selah.
8 Heare, O my people, and I will protest vnto thee: O Israel, if thou wilt hearken vnto me,
9 And wilt haue no strange god in thee, neither worship any strange god,
10 (For I am the Lord thy God, which brought thee out of the land of Egypt) I open thy mouth wide, and I will fill it.
11 But my people would not heare my voice, and Israel would none of me.
12 So I gaue them vp vnto the hardnes of their heart, and they haue walked in their owne counsels.
13 O that my people had hearkened vnto me, & Israel had walked in my wayes!
14 I would haue some humbled their enemies, and turned mine hand against their abusers.
15 The haters of the Lord should haue bene subiect vnto him, and their time should haue endured for euer.
16 And God would haue fed them with the face of wheat, and with hony out of the rocks would I haue satisfied thee.

|| Or, conuenient, Exo. 17. h He condemneth all assemblies, when the people are not attentive to heare Gods voice, and to giue obedience to the same. i God accuseth their incredulitie, because they opened not their mouths to receiue Gods benefits in such abundance as he powreth them out, k God by his word called ill, but his secret election appointeth who shall heare with fruit, l If their fins had not letted, m If the Israelites had not broken couenant with God he would haue giuen them victory against their enemies, n That is, with most fine wheat, and abundance of hony.

PSAL. LXXXVIII.

A grievous complaint of the faithfull sore afflicted by sickness, persecutions, and adversities. 7 Being as it were left of God without any consolation: 13 Yet he calleth on God by faith, and strength against desperation, 18 Commending himselfe to bee forsaken of all earthly helpe.

A Song or Psalm of Hermon the Ezrahite, to give instruction, committed to the sonnes of Korah for him that excelleth by on Balath & Leannoth.

Lord God of my salvation, I crye day and night before thee.

Let my prayer enter into thy presence: encline thine ear vnto my cry.

For my soule is filled with rills, and my life draweth neere to the graue.

I am counted among them that goe downe vnto the pit, and am as a man without strength.

Free among the dead, like the flaine lying in the graue, whom thou rememberest no more, and they are cut off from thine hand.

Thou hast laid me in the lowest pit, in darkness, and in the deepe.

Thine indignation lieth vpon me, and thou hast vexed mee with all thy waues. Selah.

Thou hast put away mine acquaintance farre from me, and made mee to be abhorred of them: I am shut vp, and cannot get forth.

Mine eye is sorrowfull through mine affliction: Lord, I call dayly vpon thee: I stretch out mine hands vnto thee.

Wilt thou shewe a miracle to the dead? or shall the dead rise and praye thee? Selah.

Shall thy louing kindnesse bee declared in the grave? or thy faithfullnesse in destruction?

Shall thy wondrous works be knowne in the darke? and thy righteousness in the land of obliuion?

But vnto thee haue I cryed, O Lord, and early shall my prayer come before thee.

Lord, why doest thou reiect my soule, and hiddest thy face from me?

I am afflicted, and at the point of death: from my youth I suffer thy terrors, providence, whereby he partly punisheth and partly tryeth his, g I he none end of my sorrowes. h Mine eyes and face declare my sorrowes. i Hee sheweth that the time is more conuenient for God to helpe, when men call vnto him in their dangers then to cal-

PSAL. LXXXIX.

With many wordes doeth the Prophet praise the goodness of God, 23 for his Testament and covenant that he had made betwene him and his elect by Iesus Christ the sonne of David, 38 Then doeth hee complain of the great ruine & desolation of the kingdome of David, so that to the outward appearance the promise was broken, 46 Finally hee prayeth to be deliuered from his afflictions, making mention of the stoutnes of mans life, and confirming himselfe by Gods promises.

A Psalm to give instruction, of Ethan the Ezrahite.

Will sing the mercies of the Lord for euer: with my mouth will I declare thy truth from generation to generation.

For I haue said, Thy mercy shall be set vp for euer: thy truth shall thou establish in the very heauens.

I haue made a covenant with my chosen: I haue sworne to David my seruant, Thy seed will I establish for euer, and set vp thy throne from generation to generation. Selah.

O Lord, euen the heauens shall praise thy wondrous works: yea, thy truth in the Congregation of the Saints.

For who is equal to the Lord in the heauen? and who is like the Lord among the sonnes of the gods?

God is very terrible in the assembly of the Saints, and to be reuerenced aboue all that are about him.

O Lord God of hosts, who is like vnto thee, which are a mighty Lord, and thy truth is about thee?

Thou rulest the raging of the sea: when the waues thereof arise, thou stillest them.

Thou hast beaten downe Rahab as a man slaine: thou hast scattered thine enemies with thy mighty arme.

The heauens are thine, the earth also is thine: thou hast laid the foundation of the world, and all that therein is.

Thou hast created the North and the South: ^k Tabor and Hermon shall reioyce in thy Name.

Thou hast a mighty arme: strong is thine hand, and high is thy right hand.

Righteousnes and equitie are thy sta-

a Though the horrible confusion of things might cause thee to despise of Gods fauour, yet the manifold examples of his mercies cause them to trust in God, though to mans iudgement they saw none occasion.

b As hee that surely beleued in heare:

c As thine inuifible heauen is not subiect to any alteration and change: so shall the truth of thy promise be vnchangeable.

d The Prophet sheweth what was the promise of God, whereon he grounded his faith.

e The Angels shall praise thy power and faithfulness in deliuering thy Church.

f That is, in the heauens.

g Meaning, the infinite iustice, what earthly creature by oppressing the Church, dare set himselfe against God?

i For as he deliuered the Church by the red sea, and by destroying Rahab, that is, the Egyptians: so will hee esteeme deliuer it, when the dangers bee great.

k Tabor is a mountaine Westward from Ierusalem, and Hermon Eastward: so the Prophet signifieth that all parts and places of the world shall obey Gods power for the deliuerance of his Church.

l For here-by he iudgeth the world, and sheweth himselfe a mercifull Father, and faithfull protectour vnto his.

The truth of Gods promise.

a Though the faithfull answered not in all points to their profession, yet God will not break his covenant with them.

b For God in promising hath respect to his mercy, and not to mans power in performing.

c As long as the sunne and moone endure they shall be witness to me of this promise. d Because of the horrible confusion of things, the prophet complaineth to God, as though he saw not the performance of his promise. And thus discharging his cares on God, he resisteth doubt and impatience.

blissment of thy throne: mercy and truth go before thy face.

15 Blessed is the people that can enjoy thee: they shall walk in the light of thy countenance. Psalm.

16 They shall restore continually in thy name: and in thy righteousness shall they exalt themselves.

17 For thou art y^e glory of thy strength, and by thy favour our homes shall be exalted.

18 For our shield apperaineth to the Lord, and our King to the Holy one of Israel.

19 Thou spakest then in a vision unto thine holy one, and saidst, I have layd help upon one that is mighty: I have exalted one chosen out of the people.

20 I have found David my servant: with mine holy oyle have I anointed him.

21 Therefore mine hand shall be established with him: and mine arme shall strengthen him.

22 The enemy shall not oppress him, neither shall the wicked hurt him.

23 But I will destroy them foes before his face, and plague them that hate him.

24 By truth also and my mercy shall be with him, and in my name shall his home be exalted.

25 I will set his hand also in the sea, and his right hand in the floods.

26 Yet shall cry unto me, Thou art my Father, my God, and the rock of my salvation.

27 Also I will make him my first borne, higher then the kings of the earth.

28 My mercie will I keepe for him for evermore, and my covenant shall stand fast with him.

29 His seed also will I make to endure for ever, and his throne as the dayes of heauen.

30 But if his children forsake my law, and walke not in my judgements:

31 If they breake my statutes, and keepe not my commandments:

32 Then will I visite their transgression with the rod, & their iniquitie with strokes.

33 Yet my loving kindness will I not take from him, neither will I forsake my truth.

34 My covenant will I not breake, nor alter the thing that is gone out of my lips.

35 I have sware once by my holinesse, that I will not faile David, saying,

36 His seed shall endure for ever, and his throne shall be as the sunne before me.

37 He shall be established for evermore as the moone, and as a faithful witness in the heauen. Selah.

38 But thou hast rejected and abhorred, thou hast bene angry with thine anointed.

39 Thou hast broken the covenant of thy servant, and profaned his crown, calling it on the ground.

40 Thou hast broken down all his walls: thou hast laid his fortresses in ruine.

41 All that goe by the way, spoile him: he is as robbers unto his neighbours.

42 Thou hast set up the right hand of his enemies, and made all his aduersaries to rejoyce.

43 Thou hast also turned the edge of his sword, and hast not made him to stand in the battell.

44 Thou hast caused his dignitie to decay, and cast his throne to the ground.

45 The dayes of his youth hast thou shortened, and covered him with shame. Selah.

46 O Lord, how long wilt thou hide thy face, for ever shall thy wrath burne like fire?

47 Remember: of what time I am: therefore shewest thou create in baine all the children of men?

48 What man trusteth, and shall not see death? shall hee deliver his soule from the hand of the graue? Selah.

49 Lord, where are thy former mercies, which thou wast wont to do unto David in thy truth?

50 Remember, O Lord, the rebuke of thy servants, which I beare in my bosome of all the mightie people.

51 For thine enemies have reproched thee, O Lord, because they have reproched thy footsteps of thine anointed.

52 Blessed be the Lord for evermore. So be it, even so be it.

PSAL XCIII.

1 Hee preſerues the power of God in the creation of the world, and beateſt downe all people which liſt themſelves up againſt his Maieſty. 2 And promiſeth to conſider his promiſes.

The Lord reigneth, and is clothed with maiesty: the Lord is clothed and girded with power: the world alſo ſhall bee eſtabliſhed, that it cannot be moued.

2 The throne is eſtabliſhed of old: thou art from eueralſting.

3 The floods haue liſted up. O Lord: the floods haue liſted by their voyce: the floods liſt by their waues.

4 The waues of the ſea are marvellous through the noyſe of many waters, yet the Lord on high is more mighty.

5 Thy reſtitutions are very ſure: holines becommeth thyne houſe, O Lord, for ever.

O Lord God: the auenger. O God, the auenger, ſhew thy ſelfe clearly.

2 Exalt thy ſelfe, O Judge of the world, and tender a reward to the wound.

3 Lord, how long ſhall the wicked, how long ſhall the wicked triumph?

4 They hate and ſpake ſcurrily: all the workers of iniquitie haunt themſelves.

5 They ſmoke downe thy people, O Lord, and trouble thyne heritage.

6 They ſlay the widow and the ſtranger, and murder the fatherleſſe.

7 Per they ſay, The Lord ſhall not ſee: neither will the God of Iſaack regard it.

8 And ſtand ye buſſie among the people: and ye fooles, when will ye be wiſe?

a Whole office it is to take vengeance on the wicked. b Shew by effect that thou art iudge of the world to puniſh the wicked. c That is, bragge of their cruelty and oppreſſion: or, eſtimate theſelves aboue all others. d Seeing the Church was then ſo ſore oppreſſed, it ought not to ſeeme ſtrange to vs, if wee ſee it ſo now, and therefore we muſt call to God to take our cauſe in hand. e Hee ſheweth that they are deperate in malice, for as much as they feared not God, but gaue themſelves wholly to doe wickedly.

9 He that planted the eare, ſhall hee not heare? or he that formed the eye, ſhall hee not ſee?

10 Hee that chaſtiſeth the nations, ſhall hee not correct? hee that teacheth man knowledge, ſhall hee not know?

11 The Lord knoweth the thoughts of man, that they are vanities.

12 Bleſſed is the man whom thou chaſtiſeſt, O Lord, and teacheſt him in thy Law.

13 That thou mayeſt giue him reſt from the dayes of euill, whileſt the pit is digged for the wicked.

14 Surely the Lord will not ſaſſe his people, neither will hee forſake his inheritance.

15 For iudgement ſhall returne to iuſtice, and all the bright in heart ſhall follow after it.

16 Altho will riſe up with mee againſt the wicked, or who will take my part againſt the workers of iniquitie?

17 If the Lord had not holpen mee, my ſoule had almoſt dwelt in ſilence.

18 When I ſay, My foot ſliddeth, thy mercy, O Lord, ſhew me.

19 In the multitude of my thoughts in mine heart, thy conſolations haue reſcued my ſoule.

20 Hath thee the throne of iniquitie fellowſhip with thee, which forgett wong for a law?

21 They gather them together againſt the ſoule of the righteous, and condemne the innocent blood.

22 But the Lord is my refuge, and my God is the rocke of mine hope.

23 And hee will recompence them their wickednes, and deſtroy them in their owne malice: yea, the Lord our God ſhall deſtroy them.

24 Hee ſheweth that it is impoſſible but God ſhould heare, ſee and vnderſtand their wickednes, g If God puniſh whole nations for their finnes, it is moere folly for any one man, or elſe a fewe to thinke that God will ſpare them. h God hath care ouer his, and chaſtiſeth them for their wealth, that they ſhould not periſh for euer with the wicked. i God will reſtore the ſtate and government of the righteous to their right vie, and then the godly ſhall follow him cheerfully. k Hee complemeth them of them, which would not helpe him to reſiſt the enemies: yet was affured that Gods helpe would not fail. l When I thought thee was no way but death. m In my trouble and diſtreſſe I ſeeked thee for preſent helpe. n Though the wicked Iudges pretend iuſtice in oppreſſing the Church, yet they haue not that authoritie of God. o It is a great token of Gods iudgement, when the purpoſe of the wicked is broken, but moſt, when they are deſtroyed in their owne malice.

1 An exhortation both to the Iewes and Gentiles to praise God for his mercies. And this specially ought to be referred to the kingdom of Christ.

Sing vnto the Lord a new song: sing vnto the Lord, all the earth.

2 Sing vnto the Lord, and prayse his name: declare his saluation from day to day.

3 Declare his glory among all nations, and his wonders among all people.

4 For the Lord is great and much to be praised: he is to be feared about all gods.

5 For all the gods of the people are idols: but the Lord made the heavens.

6 Strength and glory are before him: power and beauty are in his Sanctuary.

7 Give vnto the Lord, yee families of the people: give vnto the Lord glory and power.

8 Give vnto the Lord the glory of his name: bring an offering, and enter into his courts.

9 Worship the Lord in the glorious Sanctuary: tremble before him all the earth.

10 Say among the nations, The Lord reigneth: surely the world shall be stable, and not moue, and he shall iudge the people in righteousness.

11 Let the heavens reioyce, and let the earth be glad: let the sea roar, and all that therein is.

12 Let the field be full, and all that is in it: let all the trees of the wood then reioyce.

13 Thou wilt arise, and haue mercy vpon Zion: for the time to haue mercy thereon, for the appointed time is come.

14 For thy seruants delight in the stones thereof, and haue pitie on the dust thereof.

15 Then the heathen shall feare the name of the Lord, and all the kings of the earth thy glory.

16 When the Lord shall build vp Zion:
and shall appeare in his glory.

17 And shall turne vnto the prayer of the desolate, and not despise their prayer:

18 This shall bee written for the generation to come: and the people which shall bee created, shall praise the Lord.

19 For hee hath looked downe from the height of his Sanctuary: out of the heauen
did the Lord beholde the earth:

20 That hee might heare the moaning of the prisoner, and deliuer the children of death:

21 That they may declare the Name of the Lord in Zion, & his praise in Ierusalem.

22 When the people shall be gathered together, and the Kingdoms to serue the Lord.

23 Hee abated my strength in the way, &

dure from generation to generation.

25 Thou hast for sometime laid the foundation of the earth, and the heauens are the workes of thyne hands.

26 They shall perish, but thou shalt endure: turn they all shall worke vnder as doeth a

and they shall be changed.

27 But thou art the same, and thy yeeres shall not faile.

28 The children of thy seruants shall continue, and their seede shall stand fast in thy sight.

4 Which redeemeth thy life from the

5 Which satisfieth thy mouth with good things: and thy youth is renewed like the eagles.

6 The Lord executeth righteousness and indgement to all that are oppressed.

7 He made his wayes known vnto Mo-

8 The Lord is full of compassion and mercie, slow to anger and of great kindnes.

9 He will not alwaye chide, neither keep his anger for euer.

10 He hath not dealt with vs after our sinnes, nor rewarded vs according to our iniquities.

11 For as high as the heauen is above the earth, so great is his mercie toward them that feare him.

12 As farre as the East is from the West: so farre hath he remooued our sinnes
from vs.

13 As a father hath compassion on his children, so hath the Lord compassion on them that feare him.

14 For he knoweth whereof we be made:
he remembereth that we are but dust.

15 The dayes of man are as grasse: as a flower of the field, so flourisheth he.

16 For the winde goeth ouer it, and it is gone, and the place thereof shall know it no more.

17 But the louing kindnesse of the Lord endureth for euer: and curer vpon them that feare him, and his righteousness vpon childrens children.

P A L. CIIII.

1 An excellent Psalm to praise God for the creation of the world, and the gouernment of the same by his marvellous providence, 35 wherein the Prophet prayeth against the wicked, who are occasions that God demonstrateth his blessings.

M P soule, praise thou the Lord: O Lord
my God, thou art exceeding great: thou art clothed with glory and honour.

2 Which covereth himselfe with light as with a garment, and spreadeth the heauens like a curtaine.

as much as all the order of nature, with the proprietie and placing of the elements, are most lively mirrors to see his maiestie in, c For before that wee haue

remission of our sinnes, we are as dead men in the grave.

d As the eagle

ouer growth,
lucketh blood,
and so he renew
in strength, euen
so God miraculously giueth strength to his

all mans expectation.

e Asto his chiefest minister,
and next to his people,
f He sheweth
first his seuer iudgement, but to soone as the sinners is humbled he receiueth
him to mercy.

b As the Prophet here sheweth that all visible powers are ready to serue God: so the Apostle to the Heb. 1.7. beholdeth in this glasse, how the very Angels also are obedient to his commandement.

c Thou makest the seas to be an ornament vnto the earth.

d If by thy power thou diddest not bridle the rage of the waters, it were not possible but the whole world should bee destroyed.

e If God provide for the very beasts, much more will he extend his provident care to man.

f There is no part of the world so barren, where most evident signes of Gods blessings appeare not.

g From y clouds. h He describeth Gods provident care ouer man, who doeth not onely provide necessary things for him, as herbe and other meate: but also things to reioice, and comfort him, as wine and oyle, or ointments.

i Or, dost, goes, and such like.

k As to separate the night from the day, and to note dayes, moones and yeeres.

l That is, by his course either far or neere, in noeth summer, winter & other seasons.

m That is, they onely finde meate according to Gods providence, who careth euen for the brute beastes.

n Hee conuileth that no tongue is able to expresse Gods workes, nor minde to comprehend the n.

3 Which layeth the beames of his chambers in the waters, and maketh the cloudes his chariot, and walketh vpon the wings of the wind.

4 Which maketh the spirits his messengers, and a flaming fire his rainniers.

5 He set the earth vpon her foundations, so that it shall neuer moue.

6 Thou coveredst it with the deepe, as with a garment: the waters would stand about the mountaines.

7 But at thy rebuke they flee: at the voyce of thy thunder they haire away.

8 And the mountaines ascend, and the valleys descend to the place which thou hast established for them.

9 But thou hast set them a bound which they shall not passe: they shall not returne to couer the earth.

10 Hee sendeth the springs into the valleys, which run betweene the mountaines.

11 They shall giue drinke to all the beasts of the field, and the wilde asses shall quench their thirst.

12 By these springs shall the fowles of the heauen dwell, and sing among the branches.

13 He watereth the mountaines from his chambers, and the earth is filled with the fruit of thy workes.

14 He causeth grasse to grow for the cattell, and herbe for the vse of man, that hee may bring forth bread out of the earth.

15 And wine that maketh glad the heart of man, & oyle to make the face to shine, and bread that strengtheneth mans heart.

16 The high trees are satisfied, euen the cedars of Lebanon, which be hath planted.

17 That the birds may make their nests there: the storkes dwell in the firre trees:

18 The high mountaines: are for the goats, the rocks are a refuge for the conies.

19 He appointed the moone for certaine seasons: the Sunne knoweth his going downe.

20 Thou makest darkenesse, and it is night, wherein all the beasts of the forest creepe forth.

21 The tyons roare after their pray, and seeke their meat at God.

22 When the Sunne riseth, they retire, and couch in the denes.

23 Then goeth man forth to his worke, and to his labour vntill the evening.

24 O Lord, how manifold are thy workes, in wisdom hast thou made them all: the earth is full of thy riches.

25 So is this sea great and wilde: for therein are things creeping innumerable, both small beasts and great.

26 There goe the ships, yea that Leviathan, whom thou hast made to play therein.

27 All these wait vpon thee, that thou mayest giue them food in due season.

28 Thou givest it to them, and they gather it: thou openest thine hand, and they are filled with good things.

29 But if thou withdraw thy face: they are troubled: if thou take away their breath, they die, and returne to their dust:

30 Again, if thou command forth thy Spirit, they are created, and thou renewest the face of the earth.

31 Glorifie to the Lord for ever: let the Lord reioice in his workes.

32 Hee looketh on the earth, and it trembleth: hee toucheth the mountaines, and they smoke.

33 I will sing vnto the Lord all my life: I will praise my God while I liue.

34 Let my wordes be acceptable vnto him: I will reioice in the Lord.

35 Let the sinners bee consumed out of the earth, and the wicked till there bee no more. O my soule, praise thou the Lord, praise ye the Lord.

PSAL. CV.

1 Hee praiseth the singular grace of God, who hath of all the people of the world chosen a pious people to himselfe, and hauing chosen them, neuer ceaseth to doe them good, euen for his promise sake.

2 Praise the Lord, and call vpon his name: declare his workes among the people.

3 Sing vnto him, sing praise vnto him: and talke of all his wondrous workes.

4 Reioice in his holy name: let the heart of them that seeke the Lord, reioice.

5 Seek the Lord and his strength: seek his face continually.

6 Remember his marvellous workes, that hee hath done: his wonders and the iudgements of his mouth.

7 Hee led of Abraham his seruant, yee children of Jacob, which are his elect.

8 He is the Lord our God: his iudgements are thorough all the earth.

9 Hee hath alway remembered his covenant and promise, that he made to a thousand generations.

11 And since hath confirmed it to Iacob for a law, and to Israel for an everlasting covenant.

12 Saying, I vnto thee will I giue the land of Canaan: the lot of your inheritance.

13 Which they were fewe in number, yea, very few and strangers in the land,

14 And walked about from nation to another people, from one kingdome to another people.

15 Yet suffered hee no man to doe them wrong, but rejoyced: Kings for their sakes, saying,

16 Touch not mine Anointed, and doe

which God made Abraham to bee his God and the God of his seed after him: hee renewed and repeated it againe to his seed after him.

f Hee sheweth that they should not enioy the land of Canaan by any other meane, but by reason of his covenant made with their Fathers.

g That is, the King of Egypt and the King of Canaan.

h Those whom I haue sanctified to be my people.

p As by the presence all things haue life: so, if thou withdraw thy blessings, they all perish.

q As the death of creatures sheweth that we are nothing of our selues: so their generation declareth that we receive all things of our Creator.

was sold for a slave.

18 They held his feete in the stocks, and he was sold in yrons,

19 Untill his appointed time came, and the counsell of the Lord had tried him.

20 He King sent and looked him: even the ruler of the people desired him.

21 He made him Lord of his house, and

23 Then Israel came to Egypt, and Jacob was a stranger in the land of Ham.

24 And he increased his people exceedingly, and made them stronger then their oppressours.

25 = Hee turned their heart to hate his people, and to deale craftily with his servants.

26 Then sent hee Moses his servant, and Aaron whom he had chosen.

CHAP. CVI.

1 The people dispersed under Antiochus, doe magnifie the goodness of God among the iust and repentant:
4 desiring to bee brought againe into the land by Gods
mercifull visitation. 8 And after the manifold mar-uelous God wrought in their deliuerance forth of Egypt, and the great ingratitude of the people reha-sited. 47 They doe pray and desire to be gathered from among the heathen, to the intent they may praise the Name of the God of Israel.

2 Praise ye the Lord.

Praise ye the Lord, because he is good,

4 Remember me, O Lord, with thy fa-uour of thy people: visite me with thy salu-ation,

5 = That I may see the felicity of thy chosen, and reioyce in the joy of thy people, and glory with thine inheritance.

6 = We haue = sinned with our fathers: we haue committed iniquity, & done wickedly.

7 Our fathers understood not thy wonders in Egypt, neither remembered thy merits, but rebelled at the sea, even at the red sea.

8 = Remember this, = hee saued them for his names sake, that he might make his power to be knowne.

9 And he rebuked the red sea, and it was dried vp, and he led them in the deepe, as in the wilderness.

10 And he saued them from the aduer-saries hands, and deliuered them from the hand of the enemy.

11 = And their waters covered the oppressours, not one of them was left.

12 = Then = belieued thy his wordes, and sang praise vnto him.

13 = But incontinently they forgate his workes: they waited not for his = counsell.

14 = But lusted with concupiscence in the wildernesse, and tempted God in the desert.

15 = Then he gaue them their desire: but he sent = leanness into their soules.

16 = They envied Moses also in the tents,
and Aaron the holy one of the Lord.

lowed up Dathan, and covered the company

k He sheweth that all idolaters renounce God to be their glory, when in stead of him they worship any creature, much more wood, stone, metall, or calices, l If Moses by his intercession had not obtained Gods fauour against their rebellions, m That is Canaan, which was as it were an earnest peny of the heavenly inheritance.

n That is, hee sware, sometime also it meaneth to punish, o Which was the idle of the Moabites, p Sacrifices offered to the dead idoles, q Signifying, that whatsoever man inuenteeth of himselfe to serue God by, is detestable and prouoketh his anger, r When all other neglected Gods glory, he in his zeale killed the adulterers, and prevented Gods wrath.

Numb. 25, 12, f This ad declare his lively faith, and for his faiths sake was accepted.

Numb. 30, 13, psal 95, 8.

t It is notable a Prophet of God escape not punishment, though others prouoked him to sin, how much more shall they be subiect to Gods iudgement, which cause Gods children to sinne? u He sheweth how monstrous a thing idolatrie is, which can win vs to things abhorring to nature, whereas Gods word cannot obtaine most small thing. x Then true chastitie is to cleaue wholly and onely vnto God.

18 And the fire was kindled in their assembly: the flame burnt by the wicked.

19 They made a calfe in Horeb, and worshipped the molten image.

20 Thus they turned their glory into the similitude of a bullocke, that eateth grasse.

21 They forgate God their Saviour: which had done great things in Egypt.

22 Clouderous waskes in the land of Ham, and ferefull things by the red Sea.

23 Therefore he minded to destroy them, had not Moses his chosen stood in y breach before him to turne away his wrath, lest hee should destroy them.

24 Also they contemned that pleasant land, and belerued not his word.

25 But murmured in their tents, and bearkend not vnto the soepe of the Lord.

26 Therefore hee lifted by his hand against them, to destroy them in the wilderness.

27 And to destroy their steede among the nations, and to scatter them throughout the countryes.

28 They loyned themselves also vnto Baal peor, and did eate the offerings of the dead.

29 Thus they prouoked him vnto anger with their owne inuentions, and the plague brake in vpon them.

30 But Iphur was stood by, and executed iudgment, and the plague was stayed.

31 And it was imputed vnto him for righteousness from generation to generation for euer.

32 They angered him also at the waters of Meribah, so that Moses was punished for their sakes.

33 Because they heerd his Spirit, so that he spake vnaduisedly with his lips.

34 He destroyed the people, as the Lord had commanded them.

35 But were mingled among the heathen, and learned their workes.

36 And serueth their idoles, which were their ruine.

37 Yea, they offered their sonnes, and their daughters vnto deuils,

38 And shed innocent blood, even the blood of their sonnes, & of their daughters, whom they offered vnto the idoles of Canaan, and the land was defiled with blood.

39 Thus were they sapped with their owne workes, and went awaying with their owne inuentions.

40 Therefore was the wrath of the Lord kindled against his people, and hee abhorred his owne inheritance.

41 And hee gaue them into the hand of the heathen: & they that hated them, were lordes ouer them.

42 Their enemies also oppressed them, and they were humbled vnder their hand.

43 Many a time did hee deliuer them, but they prouoked him by their countrie: therefore they were brought downe by their iniquitie.

44 Yet hee saw when they were in affliction, and hee heard their cry.

45 And hee remembered his covenant towards them, and repented according to the multitude of his mercies.

46 And gaue them fauour in the sight of all them that led them captiues.

47 Saues, O Lord our God, and gather vs from among the heathen, that wee may praise thine holy Name, and glory in thy praise.

48 Blessed be the Lord God of Israel for euer and euer, and let all the people say, So be it. Praise ye the Lord.

a Gather thy Church which is dispersed, and giue vs confluence vnder the crosse, that with one consent we may all praise thee.

PSAL. CVII.

1 The Prophet exhorteth all those that are redeemed by the Lord, & gathered vnto him to giue thanks.

2 For the mercifull providence of God, governing all things at his good pleasure, 30 sending good and euil, prosperitie and aduersitie to bring men vnto him. 42 Therefore as the righteous thereat reioyce, so shall the wicked haue their mouthes stopped.

Praise the Lord, because he is good: for his mercy endureth for euer.

2 Let them which haue bene redeemed of the Lord, shewe how hee hath deliuered them from the hand of the oppressour.

3 And gathered them out of the landes, from the East and from the West, from the North, and from the South.

4 When they wandered in the desert, and wandered out of the way, and found no citie to dwell in.

5 Both hungerie and thirstie, their soules fainted in them.

commandment: also hereby all are exhorted to defend into themselves, forasmuch as none are punished, but for their finnes. e He sheweth that the cause why God doth punish vs externally, is, because we can be brought vnto him by none other means.

y The Prophet sheweth that neither by menaces nor promises we can come to God except we be altogether newly reformed, & that his mercy ouercouer and hide our malice, z Not that God is changeable in himselfe, but that then hee seemeth to vs to repent when he altereth his punishment, and forgiueth vs.

a This notable sentence was in the beginning vied as the fouer or tenour of the song, which was oftentimes repeated. b As this was true in the leues so is there none of Gods elect, that feelee not his helpe in their necessitie.

|| Or, from this sea, meaning the red sea, which is vnto South parts of the land.

c Hee sheweth that there is none affliction so grieuous, out of the which God will not deliuer his, & all exhorteth them that are deliuered, to be mindfull of so great a benefite.

d Then the true way to obey God, is to follow his expresse

14 He bringeth them out of darkness, and out of the shadow of death, and brake their bands alundre.

15 Let them therefore confesse before the Lord his louing kindnesse, and his wonderfull works before the sonnes of men.

17 As for as of reason of their transgression, because of their iniquities are afflicted.

18 Their soule abhorreth all meat, and they are brought to drinke doore.

19 Then they cry vnto the Lord in their trouble, and hee deliuereth them from their distresse.

20 Hee sendeth his word and healeth them, and deliuereth them from their gaules.

21 Let them therefore confesse before the Lord his louing kindnesse, and his wonderfull works before the sonnes of men.

22 And let them offer sacrifices of praise, and declare his works with reioycing.

23 They that goe downe to the sea in ships, and occupie by great waters,

24 They see the works of the Lord, and his wonders in the deepe.

25 For hee commandeth and raiseth the souerie winde, and it lieth by the waues thereof.

26 They mount vp to the heauen, and descend to the deepe, so that their soule is meritteth for trouble.

27 They are tossed to and fro, and stagger like a drunken man, and all their cunnings is gone.

28 Then they cry vnto the Lord in their trouble, and hee bringeth them out of their distresse.

29 He turneth the storme to calme, so that the waues thereof are still.

30 When they are quieted they are glad, and hee bringeth them vnto the haven where they would be.

31 Let them therefore confesse before the Lord his louing kindnesse, and his wonderfull works before the sonnes of men.

32 And let them praise him in the Congregation of the people, and praise him in the assembly of the Elders.

33 Hee turneth the floods into a wilderness, and the springes of waters into drynesse.

34 And a fruitful land into barrennesse, for the wickednes of them that dwell therein.

35 Again hee turneth the wilderness into pools of water, and the dry land into water springs.

36 And there hee placeth the hungry, and they build a citie to dwell in.

37 And sowe the sibe, and plant vineyards which bring forth fruitfull increase.

38 For hee blesteth them, and they multiply exceedingly, and hee diminisheth not their cattell.

39 Again men are diminished, & brought low by oppression, rull, and sorrow.

40 He pouerish contempt vpon princes, and caueth them to erre in desert places out of the way.

41 Yet hee raiseth by the poore out of miseries, and maketh him families like a flocke of sheepe.

42 Hee righteous shall see it, and reioyce, and all iniquitie shall stop her mouth.

PSAL. CVIII.

This Psalm is composed of two other Psalms before, the sixth and seventh. The matter here continued, 1 That David giueth himselfe with heart and voice to praise the Lord, 2 And asseureth himselfe of the promise of God concerning his kingdomes our Israel, and his power of any other nation: 3 Who though he seeme to forsake vs for a time, yet hee alone will in the end cast downe our enemies.

1 A Song or Psalm of David.

God, mine heart is prepared, so is my tongue: I will sing and giue praise.

2 Awake vnto and harpe: I will awake rarely.

3 I will praise thee O Lord, among the people, and I will sing vnto thee among the nations.

4 For thy mercy is great above the heauens, and thy truth vnto the clouds.

5 Exalt thy selfe, O God, above the heauens, and let thy glory bee vpon all the earth.

6 That thy beloued may bee deliuered: helpe with thy right hand and heare me.

7 God hath spoken in his holines: therefore I will reioyce. I shall asinde & be him, and measure the eailly of Surooth.

8 Shalke thalbe mine, and I shall be his: Ephraim also shall be the strength of mine hand: Iudah is my law-giur.

9 Gad shall be my law-giur: euer Edom shall I cast out my foot vpon Palestina: I will triumph.

10 Who shall leade me into the strong citie: who shall bring me into Edom?

11 I will not shew O God, which haddest forsake u he, and did not goe forth, O God, with our aimes?

12 Ouse vs helpe against trouble: for vaine is the hope of man.

13 Through God we shal doe valiantly: for he shall tread downe our enemies.

14 He shall continue and finish his graces. As hee hath spoken to Samuel concerning mee, so will hee shew himselfe: constant and holy in his promise, so that these nations following shall be subiect vnto mee. Psal. 60. 8.

PSAL. CIX.

1 David being falsly accused by flatterers vnto Saul, prayeth God to helpe him, and to destroy his enemies. 2 And vnder them hee telleth of Iudas the traitor vnto Iesus Christ, and of all the like enemies of the children of God. 27 And desireth so to be deliuered, that his enemies may know the works to bee of God. 30 Then doth hee promise to giue praise vnto God.

¶ To him that excelleth. A Psalm
of David.

Hidest not thy tongue, O God of my praise.

2 For the mouth of the wicked, and the mouth full of deceit are opened upon mee:
they have spoken to mee with a lying tongue.

3 They compassed mee about also with word of hatred, and fought against mee without a cause.

4 For my friendship they were mine adversaries, but I gave my selfe to prayer.

5 And they have rewarded mee evil for good, and hated for my friendship.

6 For I was true wicked over him, and let the adversary stand at his right hand.

7 When he shall be judged, let him bee condemned, and let his prayer bee earned in sinne.

8 Let his dayes be few, and let another take his charge.

9 Let his children be fatherlesse, and his wife a widow.

10 Let his children bee vagabonds, and begge and sleeke bread, coming out of their places destroyed.

11 Let the extortioner catch all that hee
saith, and let the stranger spoile his labour.

12 Let there be none to extend mercy unto him, neither let there be any to shew mercy upon his fatherlesse children.

13 Let his posteritie be destroyed, and in the generation following let their name bee put out.

14 As let the iniquitie of his fathers bee had in remembrance unto the Lord: and let not the sinne of his mother bee done away.

15 But let them alway be before the Lord, that he may cut off their memory from the earth.

16 Because he remembered not to shew mercy, but persecuted the afflicted and poore man, and the sorrowfull hearted, so say him.

17 As hee loved cursing, so shall it come unto him, and as hee loved not blessing, so shall it be farre from him.

18 As hee clothed himselfe with cursing like a raiment, so shall it come into his bowels like water, and like oyle into his bones.

19 Let it be unto him as a garment to couer him, and for a girdle, wherewith hee shall be alway girded.

20 Let this be the reward of mine aduer-sarie from the Lord, and of them, that spake evil against my soule.

21 But thou, O Lord my God, deale with mee according to thy name: deli-uer me, (for thy mercy is good.)

22 Because I am poore and needie, and my mine heart is wounded with mine.

23 I depart like the shadow that decli-neth, and am shaken off as the greashepper.

24 My knees are weak through fasting,
and my flesh and hart hath lost all firmesse.

25 I became also a rebuke unto them:
they that looked upon mee, shaked their heads.

26 Helpe me, O Lord my God: so shall my according to thy mercy.

27 And they shall know, that this is thine hand, and that thou, Lord, hast done it.

28 Though they pericure, yet thou wilt bless: they shall arise and bee confounded,
but the servant shall reioyce.

29 Let mine aduersaries be clothed with shame, and let them cover themselves with their confusion, as with a cloake.

30 I will give thanks unto the Lord greatly with my mouth, and praise him among the multitude.

31 For hee will stand at the right hand of the poore, to save him from them that would condemne his soule.

the Congregation, r Hereby he sheweth that he had not to doe with them that were of little power, but with the iudges and princes of the world.

PSAL CX.

1 David prophesie of the power and everlasting kingdom given to Christ, 4 And of his Priesthood, which should put an end to the Priesthood of Levi.

¶ A Psalm of David.

The Lord said unto my Lord, Sit thou
at my right hand, until I make thine enemies thy footstool.

2 The Lord shall send the rod of thy power out of Zion: bee thou ruler in the midst of thine enemies.

3 Thy people shall come willingly at the time of assembling: thine armie in holie beautie
the power of thy wounds shall bee as the marking dew.

4 The Lord sweare, and will not repent, Thou art a Priest for ever after the order of Melchisedek.

5 The Lord that is at thy right hand, shall wound Kings in the day of his wrath.

6 He shall be Judge among the heathen:
hee shall fill all with dead bodies, and smite
the head over great countreys.

7 Hee shall drinke of the brooke in the way: therefore shall hee lift up his head.

be assembled in thy Church, whose increase shall bee abundant and wonderfull, as the drops of the dew, d As Melchisedek the figure of Christ was both King and Priest: so the effect cannot bee accomplished in any King, save only in Christ. Heb. 7. 26. e No power shall bee able to resist him, f Under this similitude of a captain, that is so greedy to destroy his enemies that hee will not cease drinke
by the way, he sheweth how God will destroy his enemies.

full works toward his Church, 10 And decla-sisteth.

nocence, and

cient praise to me.

reprobate, even those things that are good, turne
to their dama-tion.

e This was chiefly accomplished in Iudas,
Acts 1. 30.
f He declareth
that the curse of God lieth vpon
the extortioners:
who thinking to enrich their children by their vnlawfull gotten goods, are
by Gods iust
iudgement deprived of all.
g Thus punisheth
the Lord to the third and fourth generation the wickednesse of the parents in their wicked children.

h Hee sheweth that God accustometh to plague them after a strange sort, that shew themselves cruell toward others. i Thus giueth the Lord to euery man the thing wherein hee delighteth, that the reprobate cannot accuse God of wrong, when they are gi-uen vp to their lust, and reprobate mindes. k For being destitute of mans helpe, hee fully trusteth in the Lord, that hee would deliuer him. l As thou art named mercifull, gracious, and long suffering, iust and true in the governing of the same. e They only are wise that feare God, and none haue vnderstanding, but they that obey his word f To wit, his commandments, as verſe 7.

Praise the Lord.
In the assembly and Congregation of the saint.

2 The works of the Lord are great, and ought to be sought out of all them that loue
them.

3 His work is beautifull and glorious,
and his righteousness endureth for ever.

4 He hath made his wonderful works to be had in remembrance: the Lord is merciful and full of compassion.

5 Wee haue giuen a position vnto them that feare him: hee will euer be mindfull of his covenant.

6 He hath shewed to his people the power of his works, in giuing vnto them the heritage of the brethren.

7 The works of his hands are truth
and iudgement: all his statutes are true.

8 They are established for euer and euer,
and are done in truth and equitie.

9 He sent redemption vnto his people: he hath commanded his covenant for euer holy and fearefull is his name.

10 The beginning of wisdom is the feare of the Lord: all they that obserue them
haue good vnderstanding: his praise endureth
for euer.

f To wit, his commandments, as verſe 7.

PSAL CXII.

1 He praiseth the felicity of them that feare God,
10 And condemneth the causid state of the contemners of God.

Praise ye the Lord.

Blessed is the man that feareth the Lord,
and delighteth greatly in his commandments.

2 His seed shall be mighty upon earth, the generation of the righteous shall be blessed.

3 Riches & treasures shall be in his house,
and his righteousness endureth for euer.

4 Unto the righteous ariseth light in darkenes: he is merciful and full of compassion on and righteous.

5 A good man is merciful and lendeth,
and will measure by a staffe by iudgement.

6 Surely he shall neuer be moued: but the righteous shall be had in everlasting remembrance.

7 We will not be afraid of euill tidings:
for his heart is fixed, and belieueth in the Lord.

8 His heart is stablished: therefore he will not feare, until he see his desire vpon his enemies.

poore: his righteousness remaineth for euer:
his home shall be exulted with glory.

gry: he shall gnash with his teeth, and a consumption shall consume him: the wicked shall perish.

because their heart is satisfied in God only.
c The faithful in all their aduersities know that all shall goe well
with them: for God will be merciful and iust.
d He sheweth
what is the fruit
of mercy: to lend freely & not for gaine, and so to measure his doings,
y he may be able to help where need requireth, and not to bestow all on himselfe. e The godly pinch not rigar-dy, but distribute liberally, as the necessity of the poore requireth, and as his power is able. f His power and prosperous estate,

sumption shall consume him: the wicked shall

PSAL CXIII.

1 An exhortation to praise the Lord for his providences, 7 in that that contrary to the course of nature he worketh in his Church.

Praise ye the Lord.

Praise ye the servants of the Lord, praise
the name of the Lord.

2 Blessed be the name of the Lord, from henceforth and for euer.

3 The Lords name is praised from the rising of the sunne, vnto the going downe of the same.

4 The Lord is high above all nations,
and his glory above the heauens.

5 Who is like vnto the Lord our God,
that hath his dwelling on high?

6 Who abaseth himselfe to behold things in the brauen and in the earth.

7 Hee raised the meek out of the dust:
and lifted vp the poore out of the dung.

dren. Praise ye the Lord.

to high honour, and giuing the barren childre, he sheweth that God worketh not only in his Church by ordinary meanes, but also by miracles.

and of the wonderful miracles that God wrought at that time: Which put us in remembrance of Gods great mercy toward his Church, who when the course

1 A prayer of the just full of griefe by idolatrous tyrants, against whom they desire that God would succour them, 9 trusting most constantly that God will preserve them in this shewne, seeing that he hath adopted and redeemed them to his sin ne, 13 Promising finally that they will not be vnmindfull of so

P S A L. CXIX.

a The Prophet exhorteth the children of God to Godly meditation.

d When the powers of the world gaue false fence against me, thy word was a guide and counseller to teach me what to doe, and to comfort me.

a That is, it is almost brought to the graue, & with out thy word I cannot liue. b I haue confessed mine offences, and now depend wholly on thee. c If God did not maintaine vs by his word, our life would drop away like water. d Instruct me in thy word, whereby my mind may be purged from vanitie, and taught to obey thy will. e By this he sheweth that we can neither chuse good, cleaue to Gods word, nor runne forward in his way, except he make our hearts large to receiue his grace, and willing to obey.

a He sheweth that he cannot follow on to the end, except God teach him oftentimes, and leade him forward. b Not onely in outward conuersation, but also with inward affection. c Hereby meddling with other vices, because that couetousnes is the roote of all euill.

d Meaning, all his fences. e Let me not fall to thy dishonour, but let mine heart still delight in thy gracious word. f Give me strength to continue in thy word euen to the end.

a He sheweth that Gods mercy and loue is the first cause of our saluation. b By trusting in Gods word he affresh himselfe to be able to confute the slanderers of his aduersaries. c They that simply walke after Gods word, haue no lets to entangle them, whereas they that doe contrary, a few in nets and snares.

22 Remoue from me thy meere contempt: for I haue kept thy testimonies.
23 Princes also do so: & speake against me: but thy seruant did meditate in thy statutes.
24 Also thy testimonies are my delight, and my counsellors.

DALETH.

25 My soule cleaueth to the dust: quicken me according to thy word.
26 I haue declared thy wales, and thou heardest me: teach me thy statutes.
27 Make me to vnderstande the way of thy precepts, and I will meditate in thy wondrous wokes.
28 My soule melteth for brimstone: raise me by according vnto thy word.
29 Take from me the way of lying, and grant me graciously thy Law.
30 I haue chosen the way of truth, and thy iudgements haue I layd before me.
31 I haue cleaued to thy testimonies, O Lord: confound me not.
32 I will runne the way of thy commandments, when thou shalt enlarge mine heart.

a By this he sheweth that we can neither chuse good, cleaue to Gods word, nor runne forward in his way, except he make our hearts large to receiue his grace, and willing to obey.

HE.

33 Teach me, O Lord, the way of thy statutes, and I will keep it vnto the end.
34 Give me vnderstanding, and I will keepe thy Law: for I will keepe it with my whole heart.
35 Direct me in the path of thy commandments: for therein is my delight.
36 Encline mine heart vnto thy testimonies, and not to couetousnes.
37 Turne away mine eyes from regarding vanitie, and quicken me in thy way.

39 Take away my rebuke that I feare: for thy iudgements are goods.
40 Beholde, I desire thy commandments: quicken me in thy righteousness.

49 Remember the promise made to thy seruant, wherein thou hast caused mee to trust.
50 It is my comfort in my trouble: for thy promise hath quickened me.
51 The proud haue had me exceedingly in derision: yet haue I not declined from thy Law.
52 I remembered thy iudgements of old, O Lord, and haue bene comforted.
53 Feare is come vpon me for the wicked, that thou hast kept thy Law.
54 Thy statutes haue bene my songs in the house of my pilgrimage.
55 I haue remembered thy name, O Lord, in the night, and haue kept thy Law.
56 This I had because I kept thy precepts.

CHETH.

57 O Lord, that art my portion, I haue decreed to keepe thy word.
58 I made my supplication in thy presence with my whole heart: be mercifull vnto me according to thy promise.
59 I haue considered my wayes, and turned in to thy testimonies.
60 I made haste, and delayed not to keepe thy commandments.
61 The bands of the wicked haue robbed me: but I haue not forgotten thy Law.
62 As midnight will I rise to giue thanks vnto thee, because of thy righteous iudgements.
63 I am a companion of all them that feare thee, and keepe thy precepts.

a I am persuaded that I keepe thy law is an inheritance and gaine for me. b He sheweth that none can embrace the word of God, except he consider his owne imperfections and wayes. c They haue gone about to draw mee into their company. d Not onely in mutual consent but also with syde and succour. e For the knowledge of Gods word is a singular token of his fauour.

TETH.

65 O Lord, thou hast dealt graciously with thy seruant according vnto thy word.
66 Teach me good iudgement and knowledge: for I haue beleueed thy commandments.
67 Before I was afflicted, I went astray: but now I keepe thy word.
68 Thou art good and gracious: teach me thy statutes.
69 The proud haue imagined a lie against mee: but I will keepe thy precepts with my whole heart.

a Having proved by experience that God was true in his promise he desireth that he would increase in him knowledge and iudgement. b So Ieremie saith that when the Lord touched him, he 156 Great are thy tender mercies, O Lord: quicken me according to thy iudgements.

157 My persecuters and mine oppositors are many, yet doe I not swarne from thy testimonies.

158 I saw the transgressors and was grieved, because they kept not thy word.

159 Consider, O Lord, how I loue thy precepts: quicken me according to thy loving kindnesse.

160 The beginning of thy word is truth, and all the iudgements of thy righteousness endure for euer.

161 Princes haue persecuted me without cause, but mine heart stood in awe of thy word.

162 I repose at thy word, as one that findeth a great troope.

163 I hate falsehood and abhorre it, but thy Law doe I loue.

164 Seven times a day doe I praise thee, because of thy righteous iudgements.

1 The prayer of David being vexed by the false reports of Sams flatterers. 5 And therefore he lamenteth his long abode among the infidels, 7 Who were giuen to all kinds of wickednes and contention.

A Song of degrees.

1 Called vnto the Lord in my trouble, and he heard me.

2 Deliu-er my soule, O Lord, from lying lips, and from a deceitfull tongue.

3 What doeth thy deceitfull tongue bying vnto thee? or what doeth it auail thee?

4 It is as the sharpe arrowes of a mighty man, and as the coles of iuniper.

5 Aske is come that I remaine in Bed- deth, and dwell in the tents of Cedar.

6 My soule hath too long dwelt with him that hateth peace.

7 I seeke a peace, and when I speake thereof they are bent to warre.

a This is, of lifting up the tune and rising in singing. b Albeit the children of God ought to reioyce when they suffer for righteousness sake, yet it is a great griefe to the flesh to heare euill for well doing. c He assured himselfe that God would turne their craft to their owne destruction. d He sheweth that there is nothing so sharp to people, nor so hott to set on fire as a slanderous tongue. e These were people of Arabia, which came of Iaphet, Gen 10. 3. f That is, of the Ishmaelites. g He declareth what he meant by Metech and Kedar to wit, the Israelites which had degenerated from their godly fathers, and bared and contended against the faithful.

P S A L. CXXI.

1 This Psalm teacheth that the faithful ought onely to looke for help at God, 7 who onely doth main- taine, preserue, and prosper his Church.

A Song of degrees.

1 I will lift vp mine eyes // vnto the mount- taines, from whence mine helpe shall come.

2 Mine helpe cometh from the Lord, which hath made the heauen and the earth.

3 Hee will not suffer thy foot to slip: for he that keepeth thee will not slumber.

4 Behold, hee that keepeth Israel: will neither slumber nor sleepe.

5 The Lord is thy keeper: the Lord is thy shadow at thy right hand.

6 The Sunne shall not smite thee by day, nor the Moone by night.

7 The Lord shall preserve thee from all euill: he shall keepe thy soule.

8 The Lord shall preserve thy going out, and thy coming in, from hence forth and for euer.

ber thereof. c Neither heate nor colde, nor any incommodie- ty shall bee able to destroy Gods Church: albeit for a time they may molest it. d Whatsoeuer thou dost enterprise, shall haue good, successe.

1 David reioyceth in the name of the faithful, that God hath accomplished his promise, and placed his Arke in Zion. 5 For the which he giueth thanks, 8 and prayeth for the prosperitie of the Church.

A Song of degrees, or Psalm of David.

1 I will goe into the house of the Lord.

2 Our feet shall stand in thy gates, O Ierusalem.

3 Ierusalem is builded as a citie that is compact together in it selfe.

4 Wherunto the Tribes, even the Tribes of the Lord goe vp, according to the testimony of Israel, to praise the Name of the Lord.

5 For there are thrones set for iudgement, euen the thrones of the house of David.

6 Pray for the peace of Ierusalem: let them prosper that loue thee.

7 Peace be within thy walles, and prosperitie within thy palaces.

8 For my brethren and neighbors sake I will wish thee now prosperitie.

9 Because of the house of the Lord our God, I will procure thy wealth.

Gods Covenant shall come and pray thee. e In whose house God placed the throne of Iustice, and made it a figure of Christs king- dome. f The fauour of God prosper thee both within and with- out. g Not onely for mine owne sake, but for all the faithful.

1 A prayer of the faithful, which were afflicted either in Babylon, or under Antiochus by the wicked worldlings and contentions of God.

A Song of degrees.

1 I lift vp mine eyes to thee, that dwellest in the heauens.

2 Behold, as the eyes of seruants looke vnto the hand of their masters, and as the eyes of a mayden vnto the hand of her mistress: so our eyes waite vpon the Lord our God, vntill he haue mercie vpon vs.

a He compareth vnto the hand of their masters, and as the eyes of a mayden vnto the hand of her mistress: so our eyes waite vpon the Lord our God, vntill he haue mercie vpon vs.

f That is, Jerusalem, because that afterward his Ark should remoue to none other place, f Let the effect of thy grace both appeare in the Priests and in the people. g As thou first madest promise to David, so continue it to his posteritie, that whatsoever they shall ask for their people, it may be granted. h Because this cannot be accomplished but in Christ, it followeth that the promise was spirituall. i Meaning, for his own sake, and not for the plentifulness of the place:
for he promised to blisse it, declaring before, that it was barren.
k That is, with my protection, whereby they shall be safe. l Though his force for a time seemed to bee broken, yet he promised to restore it.

Libanus, as the olive branch, as the
cedars of Libanus,

6 As the olive branch, as the cedars of Libanus, as the olive branch, as the
cedars of Libanus,

a Because the greatest part were against David, though some favoured him, yet when he was established king, at length they joyined all together like brethren, and therefore hee sheweth by these similitudes the commodicie of brotherly love. b The ointment was a figure of the graces, which come from Christ the head vnto his Church. c By Hiermon and Zion hee meaneth the plentifull countrey about Ierusalem, d Where there is such concord.

PSAL. CXXXIII.

1. Hee exhorteth the Leuites, watching in the Temple, so praise the Lord.

A Long of degrees.

a Yethat are Leuites and chiefly appointed to this office.

b For their charge was not onely to keepe the Temple, but to pray there, and to giue God thanks.

c And therefore hath all power, blesthee with his fatherly love declared in Zion. Thus the Leuites vsed to praise the Lord, and blesthe the people.

PSAL. CXXXV.

1. Hee exhorteth all the faithful, of what state soeuer they be, to praise God for his manifold works, 13 and especially for his graces toward his people, whom he hath declared his mercie in, 15 to the confusion of all idolaters, and their idoles.

C Praise ye the Lord.

Praise the Name of the Lord: ye seruants of the Lord, praise him.

a Yee Leuites that are in his Sanctuary,

b Meaning, the people: for the people and Leuites had their course, which were places of the Temple separate,

c That is, hath freely loued the posterity of Abraham.

d Hei omneith Gods power with his will, to the intent that we should not separate them: and hereby he willett Gods people to depend on his power, which he confirmeth by examples.

11. As when King of the Amorites, and Og king of Basan, and all the kingdomes of Canaan:

12 And he gaue the land for an inheritance,

13. As when King of the Amorites, and Og king of Basan, and all the kingdomes of Canaan:

2. It is like to the precious ointment vpon the head, that runneth downe vpon the beards, even vnto Aarons beard, which went downe on the border of his garments:

3 And as the dew of Hermon, which falleth vpon the mountaines of Zion: for there the Lord appointed the blessing, and life for euer.

taunce, even an inheritance vnto Israel his people.

13 Thy name, O Lord, endureth for euer: O Lord, thy remembrance is from generation to generation.

14 For the Lord will iudge his people, and be pacified towards his seruants.

15 The idoles of the heathen are silver and gold, even the worke of mens hands.

16 They haue a mouth, and speake not: they haue eyes, and see not.

17 They haue eares, and heare not, neither is there any breath in their mouth.

18 They that make them are like vnto them, so are all that trust in them.

19 Praise the Lord ye house of Israel: praise the Lord, ye house of Aaron.

20 Praise the Lord ye house of Levi: ye that feare the Lord, praise the Lord.

21 Praised be the Lord out of Zion, which dwelleth in Ierusalem. Praise ye the Lord.

PSAL. CXXXVI.

1. A most earnest exhortation to giue thanks vnto God for the creation and governance of all things, which sheweth in confiding that hee giueth vs all of his more liberalitie.

Praise ye the Lord, because he is good: for his mercie endureth for euer.

2 Praise ye the God of gods: for his mercie endureth for euer.

3 Praise ye the Lord of Lords: for his mercie endureth for euer.

4 Which only doth great wonders: for his mercie endureth for euer.

5 Which by his wisdom made the heauens: for his mercie endureth for euer.

6 Which hath stretched out the earth vpon the waters: for his mercie endureth for euer.

7 Which made great lights: for his mercie endureth for euer.

8 As the Sunne to rule the day: for his mercie endureth for euer.

9 The Moone and starres to gouerne the night: for his mercie endureth for euer.

10 Which smote Egypt with their first borne: (for his mercie endureth for euer).

11 And brought out Israel from among them: (for his mercie endureth for euer).

12 Which with a mighty hand and stretched out arme: for his mercie endureth for euer.

13 Which diuided the red Sea in two parts: for his mercie endureth for euer.

14 And made Israel to passe thowt the midwes of it: for his mercie endureth for euer.

15 And ouerthrew Pharaoh and his host in the red Sea: for his mercie endureth for euer.

16 Which led his people through the wilderness: for his mercie endureth for euer.

17 Which smote great kings: for his mercie endureth for euer.

18 And slew mighty kings: for his mercie endureth for euer.

19. As when King of the Amorites, and Og king of Basan, and all the kingdomes of Canaan:

20 And he gaue the land for an inheritance,

21. As when King of the Amorites, and Og king of Basan, and all the kingdomes of Canaan:

22 And he gaue the land for an inheritance,

23. As when King of the Amorites, and Og king of Basan, and all the kingdomes of Canaan:

24 And he gaue the land for an inheritance,

25. As when King of the Amorites, and Og king of Basan, and all the kingdomes of Canaan:

26 And he gaue the land for an inheritance,

27. As when King of the Amorites, and Og king of Basan, and all the kingdomes of Canaan:

f That is, gouerning & defend his people.

g By shewing what punishment

ment God appointed for the heathen idolaters, he warneth

his people to be ware of the like offence, leste that idolaters

neither power nor life: and that their deliuerance came not by idols, but by the mighty power of God, reade Psal. 115. vers. 4.

a By this repetition he sheweth

that the least of Gods benefits

binde vs to thanksgiving:

but chiefly his mercie which is principally declared towards his Church.

b This was a common kinde

of thanksgiving, which the whole people vsed, when they had receiued any benefit of God, as

1. Chro. 6. 7. and 30. 31. meaning that God was not onely mercifull to their fathers, but also continued

the same to their posteritie.

c Gods merciful providence toward man appeareth

in all his creatures, but chiefly in that that he deliuered his Church from the thraldome of their enemies.

d In doing such a worke as was neuer done before, nor that any other could doe.

e Where for the space of forty yeeres he shewed infinite and most strange wonders. f Declaring thereby that no power nor authoritie

was so drare vnto him, as the love of his Church.

In our greatest affliction & sorrow, when we looked for nothing less than to have had any succour. Seeing that God provideth men for the heasts: much more hath he care over his. I seeing that all ages have had most plaine testimonies of Gods benefices.

19 As Shon king of the Amorites: for his merite endureth for euer:
20 And D the king of Balan: for his merite endureth for euer:
21 And gave the land for an inheritance: for his merite endureth for euer:
22 Euen an heritage vnto Israel his seruant: for his merite endureth for euer.
23 Which remembereth vs in our base estate: for his merite endureth for euer.
24 And hath rescued vs from our oppressours: for his merite endureth for euer.
25 Which giueth food to all flesh: for his merite endureth for euer.
26 Praise ye the God of heauen: for his merite endureth for euer.

1 The people of God in their transgression seeing Gods true religion decayed in great anguish and sorrow of heart: the which griefe the Caldeans did so little pity: that they rather increased the same daily with taunts, reproches and blasphemies against God. 7 Wherefore the Israelites desire God, first to punish the Edomites, who provoked the Babylonians against them, and moved by the spirit of God, prophesie the destruction of Babylon, where they were banished 19 years only a That is, we abode a long time & albeit that the country was pleasant, yet could it not stay our tears, nor turne vs from the true service of our God.

b To wit, of that country.
c The Babylonians spake thus in mocking vs, as though by our sinnes we should signifie that we hoped no more in God.

d Albeit the sinfull are troubled with their particular griefs, yet the common sorrow of the Church is most grievous vnto them, and is such as they cannot but remember and lament. e The decay of Gods religion in their country was so grievous, that no joy could make them glad, except it were restored. f According as Ezekiel 35. 13, and Jer 49. 7, verse prophesied: & Obadiah ver. 1, o. sheweth that the Edomites, which came of Esau conspired with the Babylonians against their brethren and kinsfolke. g When thou diddest visit Ierusalem. h He alludeth to Esaies prophesie, chap. 13, and 16, verse promising good successe to Cyrus and Darius, whom ambicion moved to fight against Babylon: but God vied them as his rods to punish his enemies.

PSAL. CXXXVIII.

1 Dauid with great courage praised the goodness of God toward him, the which was great, & that as is known to forerime princes, who shall praise the Lord together with him. 6 And he is assured to have like comfort of God in the time following, as he hath had heretofore.

I will praise thee with my whole heart: when before the gods will I praise thee.

2 I will worship toward thy holy Temple, and praise thy Name, because of thy loving kindnesse and for thy mercy: for thou hast magnified thy Name above all things by thy word.

3 When I called, then thou heardest me, and hast increased strength in my soule.

4 All the Kings of the earth shall praise thee, O Lord: for they have heard the words of thy mouth.

5 And they shall sing of the wayes of the Lord, because the glory of the Lord is great.

6 For the Lord is high: yet he beholdereth the lowly, but the proud he knoweth a farre off.

7 Though I walke in the midwes of trouble, yet wilt thou reuile me: thou wilt stretch forth thine hand upon the wrath of mine enemies, and thy right hand shall lince me.

8 The Lord will performe his worke toward me: O Lord, thy merite endureth for euer: forsaue not the workers of thine banes.

9 Distance of place cannot hinder God to shewe merite to his, and to iudge the wicked though they thinke that he is farre off. 10 Though mine enemies rage neuer so much, yet the Lord, which hath begunne his worke in me, will continue his grace to the end.

PSAL. CXXXIX.

1 Dauid to cleanse his heart from all hypocrisie, sheweth that there is nothing so bad, which God seeth not. 13 Which he confuteth by the creation of man. 14 After declaring his zeale and feare of God his protecter to be enemy to all them that contemne God.

¶ To him that excelleth. A Psalm of Dauid.

O Lord, thou hast tried me, & knowen me.

2 Thou knowest my sitting and my rising: thou understandest my thought a farre off.

3 Thou compassed my pathes, and my lying downe, and art accustomed to all my wayes.

Prayers against the wicked.

h Thou hast made mee in all parts, and therefore must needs know me.

i Considering thy wonderfull worke in forming me, I can not but praise thee, and feare thy mighty power.

k That is, in my mothers wombe: which he compareth to the inward parts of the earth.

l Seeing that thou dust know me before I was composed of either flesh or bone, much more now must thou know me when thou hast fashioned me.

m How ought wee to esteeme the excellent declaration of thy wisdom in the creation of man.

n I continually see new occasions to meditate in thy wisdom and to praise thee.

o Here teacheth vs boldly to contemne all the hatred of the wicked and friendship of the world, when they would let vs to serue God sincerely.

p Or any heinous way or rebellious: meaning that though he were subiect to sinne, yet was hee not giuen to wickednesse, and to prouoke God by rebellion.

q That is, continue thy fauour towards me to the end.

13 For thou hast possessed my reines: thou hast covered mee in my mothers wombe.

14 I will praise thee, for I am fearefully and wonderfully made: maruellous are thy workes, and my soule knoweth it well.

15 My bones are not hidde from thee, though I was made in a secret place, and fashioned beneath in the earth.

16 Thine eyes did see me, when I was without forme: for in thy booke were all things written, which in continuance were fashioned, when there was none of them before.

17 How deare therefore are thy thoughts vnto me! O God: how great is the lumme of them!

18 If I should count them, they are more then the sand: when I wake, I am still with thee.

19 O that thou wouldst slay, O God, the wicked and bloodie men, to whom I say, Depart ye from me:

20 Which speake wickedly of thee, and being thine enemies are lifted up in vaine.

21 Doe not I hate them, O Lord, that hate thee: and doe not I earnestly contend with those that rise up against thee?

22 I hate them with an unfeigned hatred, as they were mine vnder enemies.

23 Trye me, O God, and know mine heart: proue me and know my thoughts.

24 And consider if there be any way of wickednesse in me, and lead me in the way for euer.

1 David complaineth of the cruelty, falshood and iniuries of his enemies; 8 Against the which he prayeth vnto the Lord, and assureth himselfe of his help and succour. 12 Wherefore hee prouoketh the iust to praise the Lord, so as to assure themselves of his iustice.

C To him that excelleth. A Psalm of David.

Deliver me, O Lord, from the euill man: persecute me from the cruel man:

2 Which imagine euill things in their heart, and make warre continually.

3 They haue sharpened their tongues like a serpent: adders poison is vnder their lips. Selah.

4 Keepe mee, O Lord, from the hands of the wicked: persecute mee from the cruel man, which purposeth to cause my steppes to slide.

5 The proude haue layde a snare for mee, and spread a net with cords in my pathway, and set gremmes for me. Selah.

6 Therefore I said vnto the Lord, Thou art my God: he declareth what is the remedie of the godly, when they are oppressed by the worldlings.

art my God: heare, O Lord, the voyce of my prayers.

7 O Lord God the strength of my saluation, thou hast covered mine head in the day of battell.

8 Let not the wicked haue his desire, O Lord, performe not his wicked thought, lest they be proud. Selah.

9 As for the chief of them, that compass me about, let the mischiefe of their owne lips come vpon them.

10 Let coales fall vpon them: let him cast them into the fire, and into the deepe pits that they rise not.

11 For the backbiter shall not be established vpon the earth: euill shall hunt the cruel man to destruction.

12 I know that the Lord will auenge the afflicted, and iudge the proud.

13 Surely the righteous shall praise thy name, & the iust shall dwell in thy presence.

there was no hope of repentance in them, i Gods plague shall light vpon him in such sort, that hee shall not escape. k That is, shalbe defended and prelerued by thy fatherly prouidence and care,

1 David being grievously persecuted vnder Saul, such flight vnto God to haue succour, 3 desiring him to bridle his affections, that he may patiently abide till God take vengeance of his enemies.

A Psalm of David.

O Lord, I call vpon thee, haste thee vnto mee: heare my voice, when I cry vnto thee.

2 Let my prayer bee directed in thy sight as incense, and the lifting up of mine hands as an euening sacrifice.

3 Set a watch, O Lord, before my mouth, and keepe thee doore of my lips.

4 Incline not mine heart to euill, that I should commit wicked workes with men that worke iniquitie: and let me not eat of their delicacies.

5 Let the righteous smite me: for that is a benefit: and let him repproue me, and it shall be a precious oyle, that shall not breake mine head: for with him a while I shall euen pray in their miseries.

6 When their iudges shall be cast downe in stony places, they shall heare my words, for they are sweet.

7 Our bones lie scattered at the granes mouth, as he that beweth wood, or diggeth in the earth.

8 But mine eyes looke vnto thee, O Lord God: in thee is my trust: I leane not my soule destitute.

9 Keepe mee from the snare, which they haue layd for mee, and from the gremmes of the workers of iniquitie.

10 Let the wicked fall into his nets together, whiles I escape.

^a That is, as thou hast promised to be faithful in thy promise to all that trust in thee. ^b That is, according to thy free goodnes where-by thou defendest thine. ^c Hee knew that his afflictions were Gods messengers to call him to repentance for his sinnes, though toward his enemies hee was innocent, and that in Gods sight all men are sinners. ^d Hee acknowledged that God is the only and true Physician to heale him, and that he is able to raise him to life, though hee were dead long agoe and turned to ashes. ^e So that onely by faith and by the grace of Gods Spirit hee was vpholden. ^f To wit, thy great benefits of old, and the manifest examples of thy fauour toward thine.

i Though wicked kings be called Gods seruantes, as Cyrus, Isa. 45. 1, forasmuch as he vlieth them to execute his iudgements: yet David because of Gods promise, and they that rule godly, are properly so called, because they serue not their owne affections, but set forth Gods glory.

P S A L. CXLV.

This Psalm was composed, when the kingdome of David flourished. i Wherein he describeth the wonderful providence of God abroad in governing man, as in preserving all the rest of his creatures. 17 He praiseth God for his iustice and mercy. 18 But specially for his loving kindeesse toward those that call vpon him, that feare him, and love him: 21 For the which he promisseth to praise him for ever.

A Psalm of David of psalme.

a He sheweth what sacrifices are pleasant and acceptable vnto God: euen praise and thanksgiving, and seeing that God still continueth his benefits towards vs, we ought neuer to be weary in praising him for the same. b Hereby he declareth that all power is lubieft vnto God, and that no worldly promotion ought to obscure Gods glory. c Forasmuch as the end of mans creation, and of thy God, and King. i I will extoll thee, and will blesse thy name for euer and euer.

2 I will blesse thee daily, and praise thy name for euer and euer.

3 Great is the Lord, and most worthy to be prayed, and his greatnesse is incomprehensible.

4 Generation shall praise thy workes vnto generation, and declare thy power.

5 I will meditate of the beauty of thy glorious maiestie, and thy wonderfull workes.

6 And they shall speake of the power of thy fearefull actes, and I will declare thy greatnesse.

7 They shall breake out into the mention of thy great goodnesse, and shall sing aloud of thy righteousness.

he hath left to his Church, as a most precious treasure, n The cause of this difference is Gods free mercie, which hee haue elected his in his Sonne Christ Iesus to saluation: and his iust iudgement, whereby he hath appointed the reprobate to eternal damnation.

P S A L. CXLVIII.

1 Hee pronoketh all creatures to praise the Lord in heauen and earth, and all places, 14 Specially his Church for the power that hee hath giuen to the same after that hee had chosen them & joynd them vnto him.

Praise ye the Lord from the heauen:
praise ye him in the high places:

2 Praise ye him, all ye Angels: praise him all his armie.

3 Praise ye him, Sonne and moone:
praise ye him all bright starres.

4 Praise ye him, heauens of heauens,
and waters that be about the heauens.

5 Let them praise the name of the Lord:
for he commanded, and they were created.

and euer: hee hath made an ordinance, which shall not passe.

trees and all cedars:

and feathered foules:

11 Kings of the earth and all people,
princes, and all iudges of the world:

12 Strong men, and inuaders, also old men
and children:

13 Let them praise the name of the Lord:
for his name onely is to be exalted, and his praise about the earth and the heauens.

14 For hee hath exalted the home of his people, which is a praise for all his Saints, euens for the children of Israel, a people that is iust vnto him. Praise ye the Lord.

PSAL. CL.

1 Annotations to praise the Lord without ceasse by all manner of wayes, for all his mighty and wonderful workes.

I Praise ye the Lord.

Praise ye God in his Sanctuary: praise ye him in the firmament of his power.

2 Praise ye him in his mighty Aces: praise ye him according to his excellent greatness.

3 Praise ye him in the sound of the trumpet: praise ye him vpon the viose and the harpe.

4 Praise ye him with timbrell and flute: praise ye him with virginallies and organs.

5 Praise ye him with sounding cymbals: praise ye him with high sounding cymbals.

a That is in the heauen. b For his wonderful power appeareth in the firmament, which in Hebrew is called a stretching out, or spreading abroad, wherein the mightie worke of God shineth. c Exhorting the people onely to reioyce in praising God, hee

The * Prouerbes of Salomon.

THE ARGVMENT.

The wonderfull loue of God toward his Church is declared in this booke: forasmuch as the summe and effect of the whole Scripture is here set forth in these briefe sentences, which partly containe doctrine, and partly manners, and also exhortations to both. Whereof the nine first Chapters are as a Preface full of graue sentences, and deepe misteries, to allure the hearts of men to the diligent reading of the parables that follow: which are left as a most precious iewel to the Church of those three thousand parables mentioned, 1 Kings 4. 33. and were gathered and committed to writing by Salomons seruants, and indited by him.

CHAP. I.

1 The power and use of the word of God. 7 Of the feare of God and knowledge of his word. 10 Wee may not consent to the intifings of sinners. 20 Wisdom complaineeth that she is contemned. 24 The punishment of those that contemne her.

h The Parables of Salomon the Sonne of Dauid king of Israel.

2 To know wisdom, and instruction, to understand the words of knowledge.

2 To rectine instruction to doe wisely, by justice and iudgement and equitie.

4 To glorie vnto the simple sharpnesse of wit, and to the child knowledge and discretion.

5 A wise man shall heare and increase in learning, and a man of understanding shall attaine vnto wise counsels.

6 By liuing iustly, and rendring to every man that which apperaineth vnto him.

7 To such as haue no difference to the chiefties. f As he sheweth that these parables concerning the effect of religion as touching manners and doctrine, doe apperue vnto the simple people: so doth he declare, that the same is also necessary for them that are wise and learned.

6 To understand a parable, and the interpretation, the words of the wise, and their darke sayings.

7 The feare of the Lord is the beginning of knowledge: but foolles despise wisdom and instruction.

8 Whosome, heare thy fathers instruction, and forsake not thy mothers teaching.

9 For they shall bee as a comely ornament vnto thine head, as chaires to thy necke.

10 If thou sonne, if sinners: doe not forsake thy counsel, thou shalt not.

11 If they say, Come with vs, wee will lay waite for blood, and we will slay the innocent without a cause:

12 Wee will swallow them vp alive like a graine enen to hole, as those that goe downe into the pit:

13 Wee shall find all precious riches, and fill our houses with spoyle:

Psal. 119. 106. eccles. 1. 16. g He speaketh this in the Name of God, which is the vniuersall Father of all creatures, or in the Name of the Father of the Church: who is as a father. h That is, of the Church, wherein the faithfull are beguinen by the incorruptible seede of Gods word.

m He sheweth whereby the wicked are allied to joyne together, because they have every one part of the spoyle of the innocent.

n That is, have such a part of all to doe with them. o He sheweth that there is no cause to moune these wicked to spoile the innocent, but their auarice & cruelty. p Whereby he concludeth that the courteous man is a murderer.

q This wisdom is the eternal word of God. r So that none pretend ignorance.

s Wisdom reprooeth three kinds of men: the foolish or simple, which are of ignorance, and the mockers that cannot suffer to be taught, & the fools which are drowned in worldly lusts & have the knowledge of godliness.

t This is spoken according to our species signifying that the wicked which mocke and jest at Gods word, shall have the iust reward of their mocking. u That is, your destruction, which thing you feared. v Because they sought not with an affection to God, but for ease of their owne griefe. y Shewing that without faith and obedience we cannot call vpon God aright. z They shall feele what commodity their wicked life shall giue them. a That is, the prosperity and sensualitie wherein they delight.

14 Cast in thy lot among vs: we will all haue one purse:

15 My sonne, walke not thou in the way with them: reſtaine thy foote from their path.

16 For their feete run to euill, and make haste to shed blood.

17 Certainly as without cause the net is spread before the eyes of all that haue wising:

18 So they lay way for blood, and lie pitifully for their lines.

19 Such are the wayes of euery one that is greedy of gaine: hee would take away the life of the owners thereof.

20 Wisdom crieth without: she stretcheth her voyce in the streets.

21 She calleth in the hie street, among the pease in the entring of the gates, and uttereth her wordes in the citie, saying,

22 Yee foolish, how long will yee lose foolishnes: and the scornfull take their pleasure in scoffing: and the fooles haue knowledge.

23 (Turne you at my correction: for, I will poure out my mind vnto you, and make you vnderstand my wordes.)

24 Because I haue called, and yee refused: I haue stretcht out mine hand, and none would regard:

25 But yee haue despised all my counsell, and would none of my correction:

26 I will also laugh at your destruction, and mocke when your feare commeth:

27 When your feare commeth like sudden desolation, and your destruction shall come like a toilewind: when affliction and anguish shall come vpon you.

28 Then shall they call vpon mee, but I will not answere: they shall seeke me earnestly, but they shall not finde me.

29 Because they hated knowledge, and did not chuse the feare of the Lord:

30 They would none of my counsell, but despised all my correction.

31 Therefore shall they eate of the fruite of their owne way, and bee filled with their owne drunke.

32 For ease slayeth the foolish, and the prosperity of fooles destroyeth them.

33 But hee that obeyeth mee, shall dwell safely, and be quiet from feare of euill.

and crieth for vnderstanding:

4 If thou desirest her as silver, and searchest for her as for treasures,

5 Then shalt thou vnderstand the feare of the Lord, and finde the knowledge of God.

6 For the Lord giveth wisdom, out of his mouth commeth knowledge and vnderstanding.

7 He preserveth the state of the righteous, he is a shield to them that walke uprightly.

8 That they may keepe the wayes of indigement: and hee preserveth the way of his saints.)

9 Then shalt thou vnderstand righteousness, and indigement, and equitie, and euery good path.

10 When wisdom entrencheth into thine heart, and knowledge delighteth thy soule,

11 Then shall counsell preserve thee, and vnderstanding shall keepe thee.

12 And deliuer thee from the euill way, & from the man that speaketh froward things,

13 And from them that leaue the wayes of righteousness, to walke in the wayes of darkness:

14 Which reioyce in doing euill, and delight in the frowardnesse of the wicked,

15 Whose wayes are crooked, and they are lewd in their pathes.

16 And it shall deliuer thee from the strange woman, even from the stranger, which flattereth with her wordes,

17 Which forsaketh the guide of her youth, & forgetteth the covenant of her God.

18 Surely her house rendereth to death, and her pathes vnto the dead.

19 All they that goe vnto her, returne not againe, neither take they hold of the wayes of life.

20 Therefore walke thou in the way of good men, and keepe the wayes of the righteous.

21 For the iust shall dwell in the land, and the upright men shall remaine in it.

22 But the wicked shall be cut off from the earth, and the transgressors shall bee rooted out of it.

i Which bringeth forth such fruit that they that eat thereof, haue life: and he aludeth to the tree of life in Paradise.

k Hereby hee sheweth that this wisdom, whereof hee speaketh is euertlasting, be cause it was before all creatures, & that all things, euen the whole world were made by it.

l For when God destroyeth the wicked, he will cause his, as he did Lot in Sodome.

m Not onely from them to whom the possession belongeth, but also, that they shall not keepe it from them, which haue need of the same themselves. n That is, putteth his trust in thee.

4 So shalt thou find fauour & good vnderstanding in the sight of God and man.

5 Trust in the Lord with all thine heart, and lean not vnto thine owne wisdom.

6 In all thy wayes acknowledge him, and he shall direct thy wayes.

7 Bee not wise in thine owne eyes: but feare the Lord and depart from euill.

8 So health shall be vnto thy nauell, and marrow vnto thy bones.

9 Honour the Lord with thy riches, and with the first frutes of thine increase.

10 So shall thy barnes bee filled with abundance, and thy presses shall be burst with new wine.

11 O my sonne, refuse not the chastening of the Lord, neither bee grieved with his correction.

12 For the Lord correcteth him, whom he loueth, euen as the father doeth the childe in whom he delighteth.

13 Blessed is the man that findeth wisdom, and the man that getteth vnderstanding.

14 For the merchandize thereof is better then the mer chandize of siluer, and the gaine thereof is better then gold.

15 It is more precious then pearles: and all things that thou canst desire, are not to be compared vnto her.

16 Length of dayes is in her right hand, and in her left hand riches and glory.

17 Her wayes are wayes of pleasure, and all her pathes prosperitie.

18 Shee is a tree of life to them that lay hold on her, and blessed is hee that retaineth her.

19 The Lord by wisdom hath laid the foundation of the earth, & hath established the heauens through vnderstanding.

20 By his knowledge the depths are broken vp, and the clouds drop down the dew.

21 My sonne, let not these things depart from thine eyes, but obserue wisdom and counsell.

22 So they shall bee life to thy soule, and grace vnto thy necke.

23 When shalt thou walke safely by thy way: and thy foot shall not stumble.

24 If thou sleepest, thou shalt not bee afraid, and when thou sleepest, thy sleepe shall be sweete.

25 Thou shalt not feare for any sudden feare, neither for the destruction of the wicked, when it cometh.

26 For the Lord shall be for thine assurance, and shall preferre thy foote from taking.

27 Withholde not the good from the owners thereof, though there bee power in thine hand to doe it.

28 Say not vnto thy neighbour, Goe and come againe, and to morrow will I giue thee, if thou now haue it.

29 I Intend none hurt against thy neighbour, seeing he doeth euill without feare by thee.

30 Cease not with a man causeless,

when he hath done thee no harme.

31 Bee not enuious for the wicked man, neither chide any of his wayes.

32 For the treachery is abomination vnto the Lord: but his secret is with the righteous.

33 The curse of the Lord is in the house of the wicked: but he blesteth the habitation of the righteous.

34 With the scornfull he scornereth, but he giueth grace vnto the humble.

35 The wise shall inherit glory: but fooles dishonour, though they be exalted.

CHAP. IIIII.

1 Wisdom and her frutes ought to be searched.

2 The way of the wicked must be refused.

3 By the word of God, the heart, eyes, and compass of left, must be guided.

4 Heare, O ye children, the instruction of a father, and giue eare to learne vnderstanding.

5 For I doe giue you a good doctrine: therefore forsake ye not my Law.

6 For I was my fathers sonne, tender and deare in the sight of my mother.

7 When he taught me, & said vnto me, Let thine heart hold fast my wordes: keepe my commandments, and thou shalt liue.

8 Get wisdom, get vnderstanding: forget not, neither decline from the wordes of my mouth.

9 Forake her not, and she shall keepe thee: loue her, and she shall preserve thee.

10 Wisdom is the beginning: get wisdom therefore: and abound all thy possession get vnderstanding.

11 Exalt her, & she shall exalt thee: she shall bring thee to honour, if thou embrace her.

12 She shall giue a comely ornament vnto thine head, yea, shee shall giue thee a crowne of glory.

13 O my sonne, my sonne, and receiue my wordes, and the yeeres of thy life shall be many.

14 I haue taught thee in the way of wisdom, and led thee in the pathes of righteousness.

15 When thou goest, thy gate shall not be strait, and when thou runnest, thou shalt not fall.

16 Take hold of instruction, & learn not: keepe her, for she is thy life.

17 Enter not into the way of the wicked, and walke not in the way of euill men.

18 Avoid it, and goe not by it: turne from it, and passe by.

19 For they cannot sleepe, except they haue done euill, and their sleepe depaereth, except they cause some to fall.

20 For they eat the bread of wickednes, and drinke the wine of violence.

21 But the way of the righteous shinneth as the light, that shinneth more and more vnto the perfect day.

22 Meaning, that to doe euill is more proper and naturall to the wicked, then to sleepe, eate or drinke, h Comed by wicked meanes and cruel oppression, i Signifying, that the godly increase daily in knowledge and perfection, till they come to full perfection, which is, when they shall be ioyned to their head in the heauens.

c Meaning, Dauid his father.

d He sheweth that we must first begin in Gods word, if so be we will that other things prosper with vs, contrary to the iudgement of the world, which make it their last study, or else care not for him at all.

e Salomon declared what care his father had to bring him up in the true feare of God: for this was Dauids preoccupation, f That shall walke at liberty.

g Meaning, that to doe euill is more proper and naturall to the wicked, then to sleepe, eate or drinke, h Comed by wicked meanes and cruel oppression, i Signifying, that the godly increase daily in knowledge and perfection, till they come to full perfection, which is, when they shall be ioyned to their head in the heauens.

k That is, they shall have health of body, vnder the which all other blessings promised in the Law are contained. l For as the heart is either pure or corrupt, so is the whole course of mans life. m Kepe a measure in all thy doings.

19 The way of the wicked is as the darkness: they know not wherein they shall fall.
20 O my sonne, hearken vnto my wordes, incline thine eare to my sayings.
21 Let them not depart from thine eyes, but keepe them in the mids of thine heart.
22 For they are life vnto those that finde them, and health vnto all their flesh.
23 Keepe thine heart with all diligence: for thereof cometh life.
24 Put away from thee a froward mouth, and put wicked lips farre from thee.
25 Let thine eyes beholde the right, and let thine eye lids direct thy way before thee.
26 Ponder the path of thy feet, and let all thy wayes be ordered aright.
27 Turne not to the right hand, nor to the left, but remoue thy foote from euill.

CHAP. V.

3 Whoredome forbidden. 9 and prodigality.
15 Hee wildest a man to lase on his labours, and to helpe others. 18 To lase his wife. 22 The wicked taketh in his wickednesse.

M y sonne, hearken vnto my wisdom, and incline thine eare vnto my knowledge.

2 That thou mayest regard counsell, and thy lips obserue knowledge.

3 For the lips of a strange woman drop as an honey comb, and her mouth is more soft then oyle.

4 But the end of her is bitter as wormewood, and sharpe as a two edged sword.

5 Her feet goe downe to death, and her steps take hold on bell.

6 She weigheth not the way of life: her pathes are ^a moueable: thou canst not know them.

7 Heare ye mee now therefore, O children, and depart not from the wordes of my mouth.

8 Keepe thy way farre from her, and come not neere the doore of her house.

9 Lest thou giue thine honour vnto others, and thy riches to the cruel:

10 Lest the stranger should be filled with thy strength, and thy labours be in the house of a stranger.

11 And thou mourne at thine end, (when thou hast consumed thy flesh and thy body)

12 And say, why haue I hated instruction, and mine heart despised correction!

13 And haue not obeyed the voice of them that taught mee, nor inclined mine eare to them that instructed me!

14 I was almost brought into all euill in the mids of the Congregation a ssembly.

15 O Drinke the water of thy cistern, and of the riueres out of the mids of thine owne well.

16 Let thy fountaines flow forth, and the riueres of waters in the streets.

17 But let them be thine, euen thine owne, and not the strangers with thee.

a That is, an harlot which giueth herselfe to another then to her husband.
b By oyle and honey be meane such flattering and crafty enticements.
c All her doings lead to destruction.
d She hath euer bewitched to shew wickednesse.
e That is, thy strength and goods to her thou wilt haue no shew vpon thee: instead of Samson, and the prodigall sonne.
f The goods giuen by thy counsel.
g Although I willingly in sinne in the world, yet had I almost fallen to view shame and destruction, notwithstanding my good bringing up in the assembly of the godly. h He teacheth vs to be frugal, exhorting vs to use of our owne labours, and to be beneficial to the godly that want. i Distribute them not to the wicked and infidels, but reserve them for thy selfe, thy family, and them that are of the household of faith.

* 18 Let thy fountain be blessed, and reioyce with the wife of thy youth.

19 Let her be as the louing hind, and pleasant doe: let her bridle thee at all times, and delight in her loue continually.

20 For why shouldst thou delight, my sonne, in a strange woman, as in the bosome of a stranger?

21 For the wayes of man are before the eyes of the Lord, and he pondereth all his pathes.

22 His owne iniquities shall take the wicked himselfe, and he shall be holden with the cords of his owne sinne.

23 He shall die for fault of instruction, and shall goe astray through his great folly.

CHAP. VI.

1 Instruction for sureties 6 The slothfull and sluggish is stirred to worke. 22 Hee describeth the nature of the wicked. 26 The things that God hateth. 20 To obserue the word of God. 24 To see adultery.

M y sonne, if thou be a surety for thy neighbour, and hast stricken hands with the stranger,

2 Thou art ^a snared with the words of thy mouth: thou art euen taken with the words of thine owne mouth.

3 Doe this now, my sonne, and deliuer thy selfe, seeing thou art come into the hand of thy neighbour, got and humble thy selfe, and sollicite thy friends.

4 Slee no sleepe to thine eyes, nor slumber to thine eyelids.

5 Deliuer thy selfe as a Doe from the hand of the hunter, and as a bird from the hand of the fowler.

6 O goe to the ^b pismire, O sluggard: behold her wayes, and be wise.

7 For she hath no guide, gouernour, nor ruler.

8 She preparerth her meate in the summer, and gathereth her foode in harvest.

9 How long wilt thou sleepe, O sluggard? when wilt thou arise out of thy sleepe?

10 Yee a little sleepe, a little slumber, a little folding of the hands to sleepe.

11 Therefore thy powerie commeth as one that ^c traualleth by the way, and thy necessity like an armed man.

12 The bench like man, and the wicked man walketh with a froward mouth.

13 Hee maketh a signe with his eyes, hee signifieth with his feet: hee is instructed with his fingers.

14 Leueth things in his heart: hee imagineth euill at all times, and callet by contentions.

15 Therefore shall his destruction come speedily: he shall be destroyed suddenly without recovery.

16 O breke the things that the Lord hateth: yea, his house abhorreth them:

17 Hee haungeth eyes, a lying tongue, and the hands that shed innocent blood, vindicty, or the men of belied and slanderous. g. Thus all his gestures tendeth to wickednesse.

a Hee forbiddeth vs not to become surety one for another, according to the rule of charity, but that we consider first whom and after what sort, so that the creditor may not be defrauded. b If the word of God cannot instruct thee, yet learne as the pismire to labour for thy selfe, and not to burden others. Chap. 14. 33.

c Hee expecteth likely the nature of the sluggard, which though they sleepe some so long, yet haue neuer yoweth, but euer take occasions thereunto. d That is suddenly, and when thou lookest not for it.

declaration of the same, which is committed to the Church.

o He approacheth
not thee, but sheweth that it is not to be abominable as whoredome, forasmuch
as she might be redeemed:

but adultery was a perpetual infamie, and death
by the Law of God.

p Meaning, for
very necessitie.
q Or, faith in heart. r He sheweth that man by nature seeketh his death that hath abused his wife, and so conclude that neither Gods Law nor the law of nature admitteth any redemption for the adultery.

q That is, death appointed by the Law. r He sheweth that man by nature seeketh his death that hath abused his wife, and so conclude that neither Gods Law nor the law of nature admitteth any redemption for the adultery.

a By this disorder of words hee
meaneth that nothing ought to be so deare unto vs, as the word of God, nor that we looke on any thing more, nor mind any thing
so much.

18. An heart that imagineth wicked entreprises, feeleth that he walketh in running to mischief.

19. A false witness that speaketh lies, and him that raiseth by contentions among his neighbours.

20. ¶ By some, keepe thy fathers commandment, and forsake not thy mothers instruction.

21. Bind them alway upon thine heart, and tie them about thy neck.

22. It shall leade thee when thou walkest:
it shall watch for thee when thou sleepest,
and when thou wakest, it shall talke with thee.

23. For the commandment is a lantern, and instruction a light: and corrections for instruction are the way of life:

24. To keepe thee from the wicked woman, and from the flattery of the tongue of a strange woman.

25. Desire not her beauty in thine heart, neither let her take thee with her eye lids.

26. For because of the whoreish woman, a man is brought to a morsell of bread, & a woman will hunt for the precious life of a man.

27. ¶ Can a man take fire in his bosome,
and his clothes not be burnt?

28. Can a man go upon coales, and his feete not be burnt?

29. So he that goeth in to his neighbours wife, shall not be innocent, whosoever considereth.

30. When doe not despise a thief, when he stealeth to satiate his soule, because hee is hungry.

31. But if he be found, he shall restore seven-fold, or hee shall giue all the substance of his house.

32. But he that committeth adultery with a woman, he is desirous of understanding:
hee that doth it, destroyeth his owne soule.

33. He shall find a wound and dishonour, and his reproch shall neuer be put away.

34. For incontinencie is the rage of a man: therefore hee will not spare in the day of vengeance.

35. Hee cannot beare the sight of any ransome: neither will he be content, though thou augment the gifts.

a An exhortation to wisdom and to the word of God. b Which will preserve vs from the harlot. c
Whose manners are described.

commandments with thee.

2. Keepe my commandments, and thou shalt live, and mine instruction as the apple of thine eyes.

3. Bind them upon thy fingers, and write them upon the table of thine heart.

4. Say unto wisdom, Thou art my sister: & call understanding thy kinwoman.

5. That they may keepe thee from the strange woman, even from the stranger that is smooth in her words.

6. ¶ As I was by the window of mine house, I looked through my window,

7. And I saw among the foolcs, and considered among the children a young man destitute of understanding.

8. Also passed through the streets by her corner, and went toward her house.

9. In the twilight, in the evening, when the night began to be blacke and darke.

10. And behold, there met him a woman, with an harlots behaviour, and still in heart.

11. (Shee was babbling and loud: whose feet cannot abide in her house,

12. Now she is without, now in the streets, and lieth in wait at every corner.)

13. So she caught him and kissed him, and with an impudent face said unto him,

14. I haue peace-offerings: this day
haue I paid my vowes.

15. Therefore came I forth to meet thee, that I might seeke thy face: and I haue found thee.

16. I haue deckt my bed with ornaments,
¶ carpers and laces of Egypt.

17. I haue perfumed my bed with myrrour, aloes, and cymmon.

18. Come, let vs take our fill of loue untill the morning: let vs take our pleasure in ballance.

19. For mine husband is not at home: hee is gone a Iourney a farre off.

20. Her hath taken I with him a bag of siluer: & will come home at the day appointed.

21. She hath hid her great craft: shee caused him to perishe, and with her flattering lips she enticed him.

22. And he followed her straightwaies, as an ox that goeth to the slaughter, and as a foole to the stocks for correction.

23. Till a dart strike through his liver, as a bird halseth to the snare, not knowing that he is in danger.

24. ¶ I weare me now therefore, O children,
and hearken to the words of my mouth.

25. Let not thine heart decline to her wayes: wander thou not in her parties.

CHAP. X.

In this Chapter and all that follow vnto the thirtieth the wise man exhorteth by diuers sentences, which bee collectible, to follow vertue, and flee vice: and sheweth also what profit cometh of wisdom, and what hindrance proceedeth of foolishness.

THE PARABLES OF SOLOMON.

1 A foolish sonne makerd a glad father: but a foolish sonne is an heavinesse to his mother.

2 The treasures of wickednesse profite nothing: but righteousness deliuereth from death.

3 The Lord will not forsake the soule of the righteous: but hee casteth away the substance of the wicked.

4 A floureth full hand maketh poore: but the hand of the diligent maketh rich.

5 Hee that gathereth in summer, is the sonne of wisdom: but hee that sleepeeth in harvest, is the sonne of confusion.

6 Blessings are vpon the head of the righteous: but iniquitie shall couer the mouth of the wicked.

7 The memoriall of the iust shall be blessed: but the name of the wicked shall rot.

8 The wise in heart will receiue commandments: but the foolish in talke shall be beaten.

9 Hee that walketh uprightly, walketh honestly: but hee that peruerter his wayes, shall be knowne.

10 Hee that winketh with the eye, worketh sorrow, and hee that is foolish in talke shall be beaten.

11 The mouth of a righteous man is a wellspring of life: but iniquitie couereth the mouth of the wicked.

12 Hatred stirreth by contentious: but loue couereth all trespasses.

13 In the lippes of him that hath vnderstanding, wisdom is found, and a rodde shall bee for the backe of him that is destitute of wisdom.

14 Wise men lay by knowledge: but the mouth of the fool is a present destruction.

15 The rich mans goods are his strong citie: but the feare of the needy is their pouertie.

16 The labour of the righteous tendeth to life: but the reuerence of the wicked to sinne.

17 Hee that regardeth instruction, is in the way of life: but hee that despiseth it, shall be brought downe from his high place, and shall be brought lowe.

way of life: but hee that refuseth correction goeth out of the way.

18 Hee that dissembleth hatred with lying lips, and hee that inuener slander, is a fool.

19 In many wordes there cannot want iniquitie: but hee that refrained his lips, is wise.

20 The tongue of the iust man is as fined silver: but the heart of the wicked is little worth.

21 The lips of the righteous doe feede many: but foolcs shall die for want of wisdom.

22 The blessing of the Lord, it maketh rich, and hee doth add no sorrowes with it.

23 It is as a palliame to a soule to doe wickedly: but wisdom is vnderstanding to a man.

24 That which the wicked feareth, shall come vpon him: but God will grant the desire of the righteous.

25 As the whirlewinde passeth, so is the wicked no more: but the righteous is as an everlasting foundation.

26 As vinegar is to the teeth, and as smoke to the eyes, so is the flouthfull to them that send him.

27 The feare of the Lord increaseth the dayes: but the peeres of the wicked shall be diminished.

28 The patient abiding of the righteous shall be gladnes: but the hope of the wicked shall perish.

29 The way of the Lord is strength to the humble man: but feare shall bee for the workers of iniquitie.

30 The righteous shall neuer bee remoued: but the wicked shall not dwell in the land.

31 The mouth of the iust shall be fruitful in wisdom: but the tongue of the forward shall be cut out.

32 The lips of the righteous know what is acceptable: but the mouth of the wicked speaketh forward things.

CHAP. XI.

False balances are an abomination vnto the Lord: but a precise & weight pleaseth him.

2 When pride commeth, then cometh shame: but with the lowly is wisdom.

3 The brightness of the iust shall guide them: but the forwardnesse of the transgressors shall destroy them.

4 Riches shall not in the day of wrath: but righteousness deliuereth from death.

5 The righteousness of the bright shall direct his way: but the wicked shall fall in his owne wickednesse.

6 The righteousness of the iust shall deliuer them: but the transgressors shall be taken in their owne wickednesse.

7 When a wicked man dieth, his hope perisheth, and the hope of the vnjust shall perish.

8 The righteous escapeth out of trouble, and the wicked shall come in his stead.

9 An hypocrite with his mouth hurteth his neighbour: but the righteous shall be deliuered by knowledge.

citie = reioyeth, and when the wicked perish,
there is joy.

11 By the blessing of the righteous, the citie is exalted: but it is subverted by the mouth of the wicked.

12 He that despiseth his neighbour, is destitute of wisdom: but a man of understanding will keepe silence.

13 He that goeth about as a slanderer, discoureth a secret: but he that is of a faithfull heart, concealeth a matter.

14 Where no counsell is, the people fall:
but where many counsellors are, there is health.

15 He shal be sore vexed, that is surey for a stranger, and hee that hateth suretyship, is sure.

16 A gracious woman attaineth honour,
and the strong men attain riches.

17 He that is mercifull, = rewardeth his owne soule: but hee that troubleth his owne flesh, is cruell.

18 The wicked woorketh a deceitfull
woyke, but he that loveth righteousness, shal receive a sure reward.

19 A righteousnesse leadeth to life, so hee that followeth euill, seeketh his owne death.

20 They that are of a froward heart, are abomination to the Lord: but they that are upright in their way, are his delight.

21 Though hand laye in hand, the wicked shall not be unpunished: but the seede of the righteous shall escape.

22 As a twell of gold in a swines snout:

people will curse him: but blessing shal be upon the head of him that = scattereth.

27 Hee that seeketh good things, getteth favour: but he that seeketh euill, it shal come to him.

28 He that trusteth in his riches, shal fall:
but the righteous shal flourish as a tree.

29 Hee that troubleth his owne house, shall inherit the wind, and the foole shal be servant to the wise in heart.

30 The fruit of the righteous is as a tree

CHAP. XII.

He that loveth instruction, loveth knowledge: but he that hateth correction, is a foole.

2 A good man getteth favour of the Lord:
but the man of wicked imaginations will be condemned.

3 A man cannot be established by wickednesse: but the = roote of the righteous shal not be mooven.

4 A virtuous woman is the crowne of her husband: but shee that maketh him ashamed, is as corruption in his bones.

5 The thoughts of the iust are right: but the counsels of the wicked are deceitfull.

6 The talking of the wicked is to lie in waite for blood: but the mouth of the righteous will = deliver them.

7 God overthoweth the wicked, and they are not: but the house of the righteous shall stand.

8 A man shal be commended for his wise-dome: but the froward of heart shal be despised.

9 Hee that is despised, = and is his owne servant, is better then hee that boasteth himselfe, and lacketh bread.

10 A righteous man = regardeth the life of his beast: but the mercies of the wicked are cruell.

11 = Hee that tilleth his land, shal be satisfied with bread: but hee that followeth the fole, is destitute of understanding.

12 The wicked desireth the = net of =

CHAP. XIII.

A Wise sonne will obey the instruction of his father: but a scorner will heare no rebuke.

2 A man shall eat good things by the fruit of his mouth: but the soule of the trespassers shall suffer violence.

3 He that keepeth his mouth, keepeth his life: but he that openeth his lips, destruction shall be to him.

4 The sluggard desireth, but his soule hath nought: but the soule of the diligent shall haue plenty.

5 A righteous man hateth lying wordes: but the wicked cansteth slander and shame.

6 Righteousnesse preserueth the upright of life: but wickednesse overthroweth the sinner.

7 There is that maketh himselfe rich, and hath nothing, and that maketh himselfe poore, hauing great riches.

8 A man will giue his riches for the ransom of his life: but the poore cannot heare the reproch.

9 The light of the righteous reioyseth: but the candle of the wicked shall be put out.

10 Only by pride doth man make contention: but with the weak is wisdom.

11 The riches of vanity shall diminish: but he that gathereth with the hand, shall increase them.

12 The hope that is deferred, is the fainting of the heart: but when the desire cometh, it is as a tree of life.

13 He that despiseth the word, hee shall be destroyed: but hee that feareth the commandment, he shall be rewarded.

14 The instruction of a wise man is as the quickning of life, to turne away from the snares of death.

15 Good understanding maketh acceptable: but the way of the disobedient is hated.

16 Every wise man will worke by knowledge: but a foole will spread abroad folly.

17 A wicked messenger falleth into euill: but a faithfull ambassadour is preservation.

18 Poverty and shame is to him that refuseth instruction: but hee that regardeth correction, shall be honoured.

19 A desire accomplished delighteth the soule: but it is an abomination to fooles to depart from euill.

20 He that walketh with the wise, shall be wise: but a companion of fooles shall be afflicted.

21 Affliction followeth sinners: but vnto the righteous God will recompense good.

22 The good man shall giue inheritance vnto his childrens children: and the riches of the sinner is in yd by for the rust.

CHAP. XIII.

A Wise woman buildeth her house: but the foolishly despoyleth it with her owne hands.

2 Hee that walketh in his righteousness, feareth the Lord: but hee that is lewde in his wayes, despiseth him.

3 In the mouth of the foolish is the rod of pride: but the types of the wise preserue them.

4 Where none are, there the cribbe is empty: but much increase cometh by the strength of the ore.

5 A faithfull witness will not lie: but a false reuiler will speake lies.

6 A scorner seeketh wisdom, and findeth it not: but knowledge is calie to him that will vnderstand.

7 Depart from the foolish man, when thou percerst not in him the types of knowledge.

8 The wisdom of the prudent is to vnderstand his way: but the foolishnesse of the fool is deceipt.

9 The foole maketh a mocke of sinne: but among the righteous there is fauour.

10 The heart knoweth the bitterness of his soule, and the stranger shall not meddle with his top.

11 The house of the wicked shall be destroyed: but the tabernacle of the righteous shall flourish.

12 There is a way that seemeth right to a man: but the issues thereof are the wayes of death.

13 Euen in laughing the heart is sorrowfull, and the end of that mirth is heavinesse.

14 The heart that declineth, shall bee satiate with his owne wayes: but a good man shall depart from him.

15 The foolish will beleene every thing: but the prudent will consider his steps.

16 A wise man feareth, & departeth from euill: but a foole rageth, and is careless.

17 He that is halfe to anger, committeth folly, and a busie body is hated.

18 The foolish, doe inherite folly: but the prudent are crowned with knowledge.

27 The feare of the Lord is as a wellspring of life to auoid the snares of death.

28 In the multitude of the people is the honour of a king, and for the want of people cometh the destruction of the prince.

29 He that is slow to wrath, is of great wisdom: but he that is of an haile mind, exalteth folly.

30 A sound heart is the life of the flesh: but enuie is the rotting of the bones.

31 Hee that oppreseth the poore, reproo- ueth him that made him: but hee honoureth him that hath mercy on the poore.

32 The wicked shall be cast away for his malice: but the righteous hath hope in his death.

33 Wisdom dwelleth in the heart of him that hath understanding, and is knowen in the mids of foolen.

34 Iustice exalteth a nation, but shame is a shame to the people.

35 The pleasure of a king is in a wise ser- uant: but his wrath shall be toward him that is lewde.

CHAP. XV.

A soft answer turneth away wrath: but outrageous words stirre by anger.

2 The tongue of the wise breedeth knowledge aright: but the mouth of foolen breedeth enuie.

3 The eyes of the Lord in euery place behold the euill and the good.

4 A wholesome tongue is as a tree of life: but the frowardnesse thereof is the breaking of the minde.

5 A fool despiseth his fathers instruction: but he that regardeth correction, is prudent.

6 The house of the righteous hath much treasure: but in the reuenues of the wicked is trouble.

7 The lips of the wise doe spread abroad knowledge: but the heart of the foolish doth not so.

8 The sacrifice of the wicked is abomina- tion vnto the Lord: but the prayer of the righteous is acceptable vnto him.

9 The way of the wicked is an abomina- tion vnto the Lord: but hee loveth him that followeth right counsel.

10 Instruction is euill to him that forsaketh the way, and he that hateth correction, shall die.

11 A spell and destruction are before the Lord: how much more the hearts of the sonnes of men?

12 A scorner loveth not him that rebu- keth him, neither will hee goe vnto the wise.

13 A toylfull beere maketh a cheerefull countenance: but by the sorrow of the heart the minde is braute.

14 The heart of him that hath understand- ing, seeketh knowledge: but the mouth of the fool is fed with foolishnesse.

15 All the dayes of the afflicted are euill: but a good conscience is a continual feast.

16 Better is little with the feare of the Lord: then great treasure & trouble therewith.

17 Better is a dinner with green herbes where loue is, then a stalled oxe and hatred therewith.

18 An angry man stirreth by strife: but he that is slow to wrath, appeareth strife.

19 The way of a foolish man is as an hedge of thornes: but the way of the righte- ous is plaine.

20 A wise sonne reioyceth the father: but a foolish man despiseth his mother.

21 Foolishnesse is toy to him that is destitute of understanding: but a man of under- standing walketh wisely.

22 Without counsell thoughts come to nought: but in the multitude of counsell- ers there is stedfastnesse.

23 A toy cometh to a man by the answer of his mouth: but how good is a word in due season?

24 The way of life is on high to the puen- dent, to auoid from hell beneath.

25 The Lord will destroy the house of the proud men: but hee will stablish the borders of the widows.

26 The thoughts of the wicked are abomi- nation to the Lord: but the pure haue pleasant words.

27 He that is greedy of gaine, troubleth his owne house: but he that hateth gifts, shall liue.

28 The heart of the righteous standeth to answer: but the wicked mans mouth breedeth railings.

29 The Lord is far off from the wicked: but hee heareth the prayer of the righteous.

30 The light of the eyes reioyceth the heart: a good name maketh the bones fat.

31 The care that bearkeneth to the cor- rection of life, shall lodge among the wise.

32 He that refuseth instruction, despiseth his owne soule: but he that obeyeth correcti- on, getteth understanding.

21 The wise in heart shall bee called prudent: and the sweetnesse of the lippes shall increase doctrine.

22 Understanding is a wellspring of life vnto them that haue it: and the instruction of fooles is folly.

23 The heart of the wise guideth his mouth wisely, & adderth doctrine to his lips.

24 Faire words are as an hony combe, sweetnesse to the soule, & health to the bones.

25 * There is a way that seemeth right vnto man: but the issue thereof is as the wayes of death.

26 The person that transleth, transleth for himselfe: for his mouth y crauerth it of him.

27 A wicked man diggerh by euill, and in his lips is like a burning fire.

28 A forward person lowerh strife: and a talebearer maketh diuision among princes.

29 A wicked man deceiueh his neighbour, and leadeh him into the way that is not good.

30 * Hee shutteth his eyes to druffe wickednesse: hee mouerth his lips, and bringerth euill to passe.

31 Age is a crowne of gloiy, when it is found in the way of righte counselles.

32 Hee that is slow vnto anger, is better then the mighty man: and he that ruleth his owne minde, is better then he that winneth a citie.

33 The lot is cast into the lappe: but the whole disposition thereof is of the Lord.

Better is a drie morsell, if peace be with thee, then an boule full of sacrifices with strife.

2 * A discreet seruant shall haue rule ouer a few sonne, and he shall diuide the heritage among the brethren.

3 As is the lining talke for siluer, and the fornice for gold, so the Lord trieth the hearts.

4 The wicked giuerh heed to false lippes, and a liar hearkeneth to the naughty tongue.

5 * He that mocketh the poore, reprocherh him that made him: and hee that reioyceth at destruction, shall not be unpunished.

6 Childrens children are the crowne of the Elders: and the glory of the children are their fathers.

7 † High talke becommeth not a foole, much lesse a lying talke for a prince.

8 A reward is as a stone pleasant in the eyes of them that haue it: it prospereth whither soeuer it turneth.

9 Hee that couereth a transgression, seeketh loue: but he that repeateth a matter separateth the prince.

10 A reproofe entereth more into him that hath vnderstanding, then an hundred stripes into a foole.

11 A seditious person seeketh euery euill, and a cruell messenger shall be sent against him.

12 It is better for a man to meete a Beare robbed of her whelpes, then a foole in his folly.

13 * He that rewardeth euill for good, euill shall not depart from his house.

14 The beginning of strife is as one that openeth the waters: therefore of the contention be medled with, leaue off.

15 * He that insulteth the wicked, and hee that condemnerh the iust, euen they both are abomination to the Lord.

16 Wherefore is there a spicke in the hand of the foole to get wisdom, and he hath none heart?

17 A friend lonerh at all times: and a brother is borne for aduersitie.

18 A man destitute of vnderstanding, toucheth the hand, and becommerh curstie for his neighbour.

19 Hee lonerh transgression that lonerh strife: and hee that traileth his gate, seeketh destruction.

20 The forward heart findeth no good: and he that hath a naughty tongue, shall fall into euill.

21 He that begetterh a foole, getteth himselfe sorrow, and the father of a foole can haue no ioy.

22 * A loyfull heart canterh good health: but a sorrowfull minde dyeth the bones.

23 A wicked man taketh a gift out of the bolome to buye the wayes of iudgement.

24 * Wisdome is in the face of him that hath vnderstanding: but the eyes of a foole are in the corners of the world.

25 A foolish sonne is a griefe vnto his father, and a beauienesse to her that bare him.

26 Surely it is not good to condemne the iust, nor that the Princes should loose such for equitie.

a For wheres were many sacrifices, there were many portions given to the people, wherewith they lested.

CHAP. XVIII.

For the desire thereof hee will separate himselfe to seeke it, and occupie himselfe in all wisdom.

2 A foolke hath no delight in understanding, but that his heart may be discouraged.

3 When the wicked commeth, then commeth contempt, and with the vile man reproch.

4 The words of a mans mouth are like deepe waters, and the well spring of wisdom is like a flowing riuier.

5 It is not good to receiue the person of the wicked, to cause the righteous to fall in iudgement.

6 A foolcs lips come with strife, and his mouth calleth for stripes.

7 A foolcs mouth is his owne destruction, and his lips are a snare to his soule.

8 The words of a talebearer are as flatterings, and they goe downe into the bowels of the belly.

9 He also that is slothfull in his worke, is euen the brother of him that is a great waker.

10 The Name of the Lord is a strong tower: the righteous runneth vnto it, and is rescued.

11 The rich mans riches are his strong citie: and as an high wall in his imagination.

12 Before destruction the heart of a man his haunty, and before glooy goeth lowliness.

13 Hee that answerech a matter before he heareth it, is folly and shame vnto him.

14 The spirit of a man will sustaine his infirmities: but a wounded spirit, who can beare it?

15 A wise heart getteth knowledge, and the care of the wise seeketh learning.

16 A mans gift: enlargeth him, and leadech him before great men.

17 Hee that is first in his owne cause, is last: then commeth his neighbour, and maketh enquire of him.

18 The forer caller contention to cease, and maketh a partition among the mighty.

19 A brother offended is harder to winne then a strong citie, and their contentions are like the barre of a palace.

20 With the fruit of a mans mouth shall his belly be satisfied, and with the increas of his lips shall he be filled.

21 Death and life are in the power of the tongue, and they that loue it, shall eat the fruit thereof.

22 He that hath knowledge, spareth his words, and a man of understanding is of an excellent spirit. 23 When a fool (when hee holdeth his peace) is counted wise, and he that stoppeth his lips, prudent.

22 He that findeth a wife, findeth a good thing, and receiveth fauour of the Lord.

24 A man that hath friends, ought to shew himselfe friendly: for a friend is neerer then a brother.

found, which are most ready to doe pleasure then hee that is more bound by duty.

CHAP. XIX.

Better is the poore that walketh in his uprightness, then he that abuseth his lips, and is a fool.

2 For without knowledge the minde is not good, and hee that hasteth with his feet, sinnech.

3 The foolishnesse of a man prouerterch his way, and his heart stretcheth against the Lord.

4 Riches gather many friends: but the poore is separated from his neighbour.

5 A false witnesse shall not be unpunished: and hee that speaketh lies, shall not escape.

6 Many reuerence the face of the prince, and euerie man is friend to him that giueth gifts.

7 All the brethren of the poore doe hate him: how much more will his friends depart farre from him: though he be instant with words, yet they will not.

8 He that possideth understanding, lonerch his owne soule, and keepeth wisdom to find goodnesse.

9 A false witnesse shall not be unpunished: and he that speaketh lies, shall perish.

10 Pleasure is not comely for a fool, much lesse for a seruant to haue rule ouer princes.

11 The discretion of a man deferreth his anger: and his gloiy is to passe by an offence.

12 The Kings wrath is like the roaring of a Lion: but his fauour is like the dew vpon the grasle.

13 A foolish sonne is the calamitie of his father, and the contentions of a wife are like a continuall dropping.

14 House and riches are the inheritance of the fathers, but a prudent wife cometh of the Lord.

15 Slothfulnessse caueth to fall asleepe, and a deceitfull person shall be ashamed.

16 Hee that keepeth the commandment, keepeth his owne soule: but he that despiseth his wayes, shall die.

17 Hee that hath mercy vpon the poore, lendeth vnto the Lord: and the Lord will recompence him that which he hath giuen.

18 Chasten thy sonne while there is hope, and let not thy soule spare for his murmuring.

19 A man of much anger shall suffer punishment: and though thou deliuer him, yet will his anger come againe.

20 Heare counsell, and receiue instruction, that thou mayest be wise in thy latter end.

7 He that walketh in his integritie, is safe: and blessed shall his children bee after him.

22 Say not thou, * I will recompense euill: but wait vpon the Lord, and hee shall save thee.

23 * Diuers weights are an abomination vnto the Lord, and deceitfull ballances are not good.

24 * The steppes of man are ruled by the Lord: how can a man then vnderstand his owne way?

25 It is a destruction for a man to deuoure that which is sanctified, and after the vowes to enquire.

26 A wise king scattereth the wicked, and causeth the * wheele to turne ouer them.

27 The sight of the Lord is the breath of man, and searcheth all the bowels of the belly.

28 * Mercie and truth preſerue the King: for his throne shall be established with mercie.

29 The beautie of young men is their strength, and the glory of the aged is their gray head.

30 * The blewnesse of the wound serueth to purge the euill, and the stripes within the bowels of the belly.

k Sharpe punishment that pierceth euen the inward parts, is profitable for the wicked, to bring them to amendment.

CHAP. XXI.

The Kings heart is in the hand of the Lord, as the riuers of waters: hee turneth it whithersoever it pleaseth him.

2 Every way of a man is right in his owne eyes: but the Lord pondereth the hearts.

3 * To do iustice and iudgement, is more acceptable to the Lord then sacrifice.

4 A haury look, and a proud heart, which is the light of the wicked, is sinne.

5 The thoughts of the diligent do surely bring abundance: but whosoever is idle, cometh surely to pouertie.

6 * The gathering of treasures by a deceitfull tongue, is vanity tossed to and fro of them that becke death.

25 Thy father and thy Mother shall bee glad, and the that bare thee, shall reioyce.

26 My sonne, giue me thine heart, and let thine eyes delight in my wayes.

27 For a whore is as a deepe ditch, and a strange woman is as a narrow pit.

28 Also shee lieth in waite as for a pray, and shee increaseth the transgressours among men.

29 To whom is woe? to whom is sorrow? to whom is strife? to whom is murmuring? to whom are wounds without cause? and to whom is the rednesse of the eyes?

30 Euen to them that tary long at the wine, to them that go, and seeke mirt wine.

31 Looke not thou vpon the wine, when it is red, and when it sheweth his colour in the cup, or goeth downe pleasantly.

32 In the end thereof it will bite like a serpent, and hurt like a cockatrice.

33 Thine eyes shall looke vpon strange women, and thine heart shall speake lewde things.

34 And thou shalt be as on that sleepeth in the midst of the sea, and as hee that sleepeth in the top of the mast.

35 Thy haue striken mee, shalt thou say, but I was not sicke: thy haue bearen mee, but I knew not: when I awoke; therefore, will I seke it yet still.

CHAP. XXIII.

Be not thou enuious against euill men, neither desire to be with them.

2 For their heart imagineth destruction, and their lips speake mischief.

3 Through wisdom is an house builded: and with understanding it is established.

4 And by knowledge shall the chambers bee filled with all precious and pleasant riches.

5 A wise man is strong: for a man of vnderstanding increaseth his strength.

6 For with counsell thou shalt enterpise thy war, and in the multitude of them that can giue counsell, is health.

7 Wisdom is high to a foole: therefore he cannot open his mouth in the gate.

8 Hee that imagineth to doe euill, men shall call him an hour of wickednesse.

9 The wicked thought of a foole is sinne, and the scorn is an abomination vnto men.

10 If thou be faint in the way of aduersitie, thy strength is small.

11 Deliuer them that are drawen to death, and with thou not preserve them that are led to blame.

12 If thou say, Behold, we knew not of it: hee that pondereth the hearts, nor hee vnderstand it: and hee that keepeth thy soule, knoweth hee is not: will not hee also recompence euery man according to his workes?

13 My sonne, eate of honey, for it is good, and the honycombe, for it is sweet vnto thy mouth.

14 So shall the knowledge of wisdom be vnto thy soule, if thou finde it, and there shall be an end, and thine hope shall not be cut off.

15 Lay no waite, O wicked man, against the house of the righteous, and spoile not his resting place.

16 For a lust man falleth seven times, and riseth againe: but the wicked fall into mischief.

17 Bee thou not glad when thine enemy fallith,

21 Why sonne, feare the Lord, and the king, and meddle not with them: that are sitiditions.

22 For their destruction shall rise suddenly, and who knoweth the ruine of them both?

23 ALSO THESE THINGS PERTAIN TO THE WISE. It is not good to haue respect of any person in iudgement.

24 See that faith to the wicked. * Thou art righteous, him shall the people curse, and the multitude shall abhorre him.

25 But to them that rebuke him, shall bee pleasure, and vpon them shall come the blessing of goodnesse.

26 They shall kisse the lips of him that answerech vpright words.

8 Doe not stoop hastily to strife, lest thou know not what to doe in the end thereof, when thy neighbour hath put thee to shame.

10 The excellent that found all things, both rewardeth the foole and rewardeth the transgressor.

11 As a dog turneth againe to his owne
vomit, so a foole turneth to his foolishnesse.

12 Seek thou a man wise in his owne conceit: his hope is of a foole then of
him.

13 The foolishfull man sayth, A lyon is in the way: a lyon is in the streets.

14 As the dooie turneth vpon his hinges,
so doeth the foolishfull man vpon his bed.

15 The foolishfull hideth his hand in his bosome, and he greiveth him to put it againe to his mouth.

16 The sluggard is wiser in his owne conceit, then seven men that can render a reason.

17 See that passer by and medleth with the strife that belongeth not vnto him, is as one that taketh a dog by the eares.

18 As hee that saith himselfe madde, casteth firebrandes, arrowes, and moyle all things.

19 He dealeth the decreitfull man with his friend, and saith, Am not I in thout?

20 Without wood the fire is quenched,
and without a talebearer strife ceaseth.

21 As the cole maketh burning coles, and wood a fire, so the contentious man is apt to kindle strife.

22 The wordes of a talebearer are as flatterings, and they goe downe into the bowels of the belly.

23 As silver dissolue overlaid vpon a poesheard, so are burning lips, and an euill
heart.

24 He that hateth, will counterfeite with his lips, but in his heart he layeth by deceit.

25 Though he speake favourably, beloeue him not: for there are seven abominations
in his heart.

26 Hatred may be covered by deceit:
but the malice thereof shall be discouered in the congregation.

27 He that diggeth a pit, shall fall therein, and hee that collecth a stone, it shall returne vnto him.

28 A false tongue hateth the afflicted,
and a flattering mouth causeth enie.

Best not thy selfe of to morrow: for thou knowest not what a day may bring forth.

2 Let another man praise thee, and not thine owne mouth: a stranger, and not thine owne lips.

3 A stone is heauie, and the sand weighty: but a foolish wench is heavier then them both.

4 Anger is cruell, and wrath is raging:
but who can stand before enuie?

5 Open rebuke is better then secret loue.
6 The woundes of a louer are faithfull,
and the kisses of an enemy are pleasant.

7 A person that is full, despiseth an hony combe: but vnto the hungry soule enu-
ry bitter thing is sweet.

8 As a bird that wandereth from her nest:
so is a man that wandereth from his owne place.

9 As oynement and perfume reioyce the heart, so doeth the sweetness of a mans friend by hearty counsell.

10 Thine owne friend, and thy fathers friend forsake thou: neither enter into thy brothers house in the day of thy calamitie: for better is a neighbour that is neere, then a brother farre off.

11 My sonne, be wise, and reioyce mine heart, that I may answer him that reprocheth me.

12 A prudent man seeth the plague, and hideth himselfe: but the foolish goe on kill,
and are punished.

13 Take his garment that is surly for a stranger: and a pledge of him for the stranger.

14 Hee that passeth his friend with a lowde voyce, rising early in the morning, it shall be counted to him as a curse.

15 A continuall drooping in the day of raine, and a contentious woman are alike.

16 He that hideth her, hideth the winde, and there is as the oyle in his right hand, that breeth it selfe.

17 When sharpenest thou, so doeth a man
sharpen the face of his friend.

18 He that keepeth the fig tree, shall eate
the fruit thereof: so he that waiteth vpon his master, shall come to honour.

19 As in water face answereth to face, so
the heart of man to man.

20 The graue and destruction can neuer be full, so the eyes of man can neuer be satisfied.

21 As is the lining pot for silver, and the snaue for gold, so is every man according to his dignitie.

22 Though thou shouldst buy a foole in a market among wheat hayed with a pe-stell: yet will not his foolishnesse depart from him.

23 Be diligent to know the state of thy flocke, and take heed to the herds.

b The state of the common weale is often-

The wicked flee when none pursueth but the righteous are hold as a lion.

2 For the transgression of the land there are many princes thereof: but by a man of vnderstanding and knowledge, a realme likewise endureth long.

3 A poore man, if he oppresse the poore, is like a raging raine, that leaueh no food.

4 They that forsake the Law, praise the wicked: but they that keepe the Lawe, let themselves against them.

5 Wicked men vnderstand not iudge-ment: but they that seeke the Lord, vnder-stand all things.

6 Better is the poore that walketh in his vprightnesse, then hee that peruertereth his wayes, though he be rich.

7 He that keepeth the Law, is a childe of vnderstanding: but he that feedeth the gluo-tons, sheweth his father.

8 Hee that increaseth his riches by vsury and interest, gathereth them fall to him that will be mercifull vnto the poore.

9 Hee that turneth away his eare from hearing the Law, euen his prayer shall bee abominable.

10 Hee that causeth the righteous to goe astray by an euill way, shall fall into his owne pit, and the vpright shall inherite good things.

11 The rich man is wise in his owne conceit: but the poore that hath vnderstanding, can trie him.

12 When righteous men reioyce, there is great glory: but when the wicked come vp,
the man is tried.

13 He that hideth his sinnes, shall not prosper: but hee that confesseth, and forsakerh them, shall haue mercy.

14 Blessed is the man, that feareth al-way: but hee that hardeneth his heart, shall fall into euill.

15 As a roaring Lyon, and an hungry
Beare, so is a wicked ruler ouer the poore
people.

16 A Prince destitute of vnderstanding, is also a great oppressor: but he that hath conscience, shall prolong his dayes.

17 A man that doeth violence against the blood of a person, shall flee vnto the graue,
and they shall not stay him.

18 He that walketh vprightly, shall be saued: but hee that is stroward in his wayes, shall once fall.

19 He that tilleth his land, shall be satisfied with bread: but hee that followeth the idle, shall be filled with pouertie.

20 A faithfull man shall abound in blessings, and hee that maketh vaine to be rich, shall not be innocent.

21 To haue respect of persons is not good: for charman will transgresse for a piece of bread.

22 A man with a wicked eye hasteth to riches, and knoweth not that pouertie shall come vpon him.

23 Hee that rebuketh a man, shall finde more fauour at the length, then he that flatetereth with his tongue.

24 Hee that robbeth his father and mother, and saith, He is no transgression, is the companion of a man that destroyeth.

25 He that is of a proud heart, stirreth vp strife: but he that trusteth in the Lord, shall be safe.

26 He that trusteth in his owne heart, is a foole: but he that walketh in wisdom, shall be directed.

27 Hee that glorieth vnto the poore, shall not lacke: but hee that hideth his eyes shall haue many curles.

28 When the wicked rise vp, men hide themselves: but when they perish, the righteous increase.

CHAP. XXIX.

A man that hardeneth his necke, when he is rebuked, shall suddenly bee destroyed and cannot be cured.

2 When the righteous are in authori-tie, the people reioyce: but when the wicked beareth rule, the people sigh.

3 A man that souereth with dome, reioyceth his father: but he that feedeth barlots, waterh his substance.

4 A King by iudgement maintaineth the countrie: but a man receiuing gifts, destroyeth it.

5 A man that flattereth his neighbour,
spreadeth a net for his steps.

6 In the transgression of an euill man is his share: but the righteous doth sing and reioyce.

7 The righteous knoweth the cause of the poore: but the wicked regardeth not knowledge.

8 Scornefull men bying a citie into a share: but wise men turne away wrath.

9 If a wise man contend with a foolish man, whether he be angry or laugh, there is no rest.

10 Bloody men hate him that is vpright,
but the iust haue care of his soule.

11 A foole pouereth out all his minde: but a wise man keepeth it in till afterward.

12 Of a prince that hearkeneth to lies, all his seruants are wicked.

13 The poore and the vniuers merite together, and the Lord lighteneth both their eyes.

14 A King that iudgeth the poore in truth, his throne shall be established for euer.

15 The rodde and correction giue wis-dome: but a childe let at libertie, maketh his mother ashamed.

16 When the wicked are increased, transgression increaseth: but the righteous shall see their fall.

17 Correct thy sonne, and he will giue thee rest, and will giue pleasure to the soule.

attained to the knowledge of holy things.

4 Altho hath ascended vp to heauen, and descended: Altho hath gathered the wind in his fist: Altho hath bound the waters in a garment: Altho hath established all the ends of the world: What is his name, and what is his sonnes name, if thou canst tell?

5 Every word of God is pure: hee is a shield to those that trust in him.

6 But nothing vnto his words, lest hee
reprooue thee, and thou be found a liar.

7 Two things haue I required of thee:
denie me them not before I die.

8 Remove farre from mee vanitie and lies: giue me not poudertie, nor riches: ferde me with food conuenient for me.

9 Let I be full and benighted, and say, Altho is the Lord: or lest I be poore, and strale, and take the name of my God in vaine.

10 Accuse not a seruant vnto his master, lest hee curse thee, & when thou hast offended.

11 There is a generation that curseth their father, and doeth not blisse their mother.

12 There is a generation that are pure in their owne conceits, and yet are not washed from their filthines.

13 There is a generation, whose eyes are haunte, and their eye lids are lifted up.

14 There is a generation, whose teeth are up the afflicted out of the earth, and the poore from among men.

15 The foolish hath two daughters, which cry, Shame, shame. There be three things that will not be satisfied: yea, four that say not, It is enough.

earth that cannot be satisfied with water,
and the fire that saith not, It is enough.

17 The eye that mocketh his father, and despise the instruction of his mother, let the ravens of the valley picke it out, and the young eagles eate it.

18 There be three things hid from mee,
yea, four that I know not.

19 The way of an eagle in the nye, the way of a serpent vpon a stone, the way of a ship in the mids of the sea, and the way of a man with a maid.

20 Such is the way also of an adu-erous woman: shee eateth and twisteth her mouth, and saith, I haue not committed in-quitye.

21 For three things the earth is mooued:
yea, for foure it cannot sustaine it selfe:

22 For a seruant when hee reigneth, and a foole when hee is filled with meate,

23 For the barefull woman when there is married, and for a handmaid that is before to her mistresse.

24 These be foure small things in the earth, yet they are wise, and full of wis-dome:

25 The ptarmice, a peopie not strong, yet
prepare their meate in summer:

26 The conies a peopie not mightie, yet
make they their houses in the rocke:

27 The grasshopper hath no king, yet goe
they forth all by bandes:

28 The spider taketh hold with her bands, and is in kings palaces.

29 There be three things that order well their going: yea, foure are comely in going.

30 A lion which is strong among beastes,
and turneth not at the sight of any:

31 A lustie greyhound, and a goat, and a king against whom there is no rising up.

32 If thou hast bene foolish in lifting thy selfe up, and if thou hast thought wickedly,
lay thine hand vpon thy mouth,

33 When one churcheh miske, hee bringeth

causeth blood to come out: so he that forgetteth warth, bringeth forth strife.

Ecclesiastes, or the Preacher.

THE ARGUMENT.

Salomon, as a Preacher and one that desired to instruct all in the way of saluation, describeth the deceivable vanities of this world, that man should not bee addicted to any thing vnder the Sunne, but rather inflamed with the desire of the heavenly life: therefore he confesteth his opinions, which set their felicitie either in knowledge, or in pleasures, or in dignitie and riches, shewing that mans true felicitie consisteth in that that he is united with God, and shall enjoy his presence: so that all other things must be rejected, false in as much as they further vs to attaine to this heavenly treasure, which is sure and permanent, and cannot be found in any other false in God alone.

CHAP. I.

2 All things in this world are full of vanity, and of none enduranc. 3 All man wisdom is but folly and griefe.

4 The wordes of the Preacher, the sonne of David King in Jerusalem.

5 A little of vanities, saith the Preacher: vanities of vanities, all is vanity.

6 What remaineth unto man in all his travail, which he suffereth under the Sunne? 7 One generation passeth, and another generation succeedeth: but the earth remaineth for ever.

8 The Sunne riseth, and the Sunne goeth downe, and returneth to his place where he riseth.

9 The winde goeth toward the South, and compasseth toward the North: the winde goeth round about, and returneth by his circuits.

10 All the rivers goe into the sea, yet the sea is not full: so the rivers go into the place whence they returne and goe.

11 All things are full of labour: man cannot utter it: the eye is not satisfied with seeing, nor the ear filled with hearing.

12 What is it that hath bene? that that shall be: and what is it that hath bene done: that which shall be done: and there is no new thing under the Sunne.

13 Is there any thing, whereof one may spring, and Rivers into the Sea againe. g For speaketh of times past, so come they to passe againe.

o By the Sunne, winde and rivers, he sheweth that the greatest labour and longest hath an end, and therefore there can be no felicitie in this world.

h He shall not need to vie any unlawful meanes to gaine his living.

|| Or, matter, as Psal. 11. 5.

i She prepareth this meat before time.

k The purchase is with the gaines of her travail.

a Salomon is here called a Preacher, or one that assembled the people, because he teacheth the true knowledge of God, and sheweth one how to passe this life in this transitory world.

b He condemneth the opinions of all men that felicitie in any thing be in God alone, seeing that in this world all things are as vanity & nothing. c Salomon doth not condemne mans labor or diligence, but sheweth that there is no full contentation in any thing vnder the heauen, nor in any cacare, forasmuch as all things are transitory. d One man dieth after another, and the earth remaineth longest, even to the last day, which yet is subject to corruption.

h He proueth
that if any could haue attained to felicitie in this world by labour
and study, hee chiefly should
haue obtained it,
because he had gifts and aydes
of God thereto
about all other.

i Man, of nature
hath a desire to know, and yet is not able to come to the perfection
of knowledge,
which is the punishment of sin,
to humble man,
and to teach him
to depend onely
vpon God.

k Man is notable by all his diligence to cause
things to goe
otherwise then they doe: neither can he number
the fautes that are committed,

much lesse remedy them.
l That is, vaine things
which serued vnto pleasure,
wherein was no commodity,
but griefe
and trouble of conscience.

m Wisdom and knowledge cannot be come by without great paine of body and mind: for when a man
hath attained to the highest,
yet is his minde neuer
fully content:
therefore in this world is no true felicitie.

ay. Beholde this, it is true: It hath bene already in the olde time that was before
me.

11 There is no memorie of the former, neither shall there bee a remembrance of the latter that shall be, with them that shall come after.

12 ¶ The Preacher haue bene King ouer Israel in Ierusalem:

13 And I haue giuen mine heart to search and finde out wisdom by all things that are done vnder the heauen: (this forse prauel hath God giuen to the sonnes of men, to humble them thereby.)

14 I haue considered all the workes that are done vnder the Sunne: and behold, all is vanitie and vexation of the spirit.

15 That which is crooked, can none make straight: and that which falleth, can not be numbered.

16 I thought in mine heart, and said, Behold, I am become great, and excell in wis-dome: all that haue bene before mee in Ierusalem: and mine heart hath seene much wisdom and knowledge.

17 And I gaue mine heart to know wis-dome and knowledge, madnes and foolish-nesse: I knew also that this is a vexation of the spirit.

18 For in the multitude of wisdom is much griefe: and he that increaseth knowledge, increaseth sorrow.

1 That is, vaine things
which serued vnto pleasure,
wherein was no commodity,
but griefe
and trouble of conscience.

CHAP. II.

Pleasures, sumptuous buildings, riches and possessions are but vanitie. 15 The wise and the foole haue both an end, touching the bodily death.

I said in mine heart, See to now, I will prooue thee with toy: therefore take thou pleasure in pleasant things: and behold, this also is vanity.

2 I said of laughter, Thou art made: and of toy, What is this that thou doest?

3 I sought in mine heart to giue my selfe to wine, to leade mine heart in wis-dome, and to take hold of felicity, till I might see where is that goodnesse of the children of men, which they enjoy vnder the Sunne,
the whole number of the dayes of their liue.

4 I haue made my great workes: I haue built mee houses: I haue planted mee vineyards.

5 I haue made me gardens, & orchards,
and planted in them trees of all feult.

6 I haue made me cisternes of water, to water therewith the woods that grow with trees.

7 I haue gotten seruants and maydes, and had children borne in the house: also
I had great possession of beemes and sheepe about all that were before mee in Ierusa-
lem.

a Salomon maketh
this discourse with himselfe, as though he would try whether there were contentation in ease and pleasures.

b Ibr. draw my

c Albeit I gaue

same.

d Ibr. doe.

e Ibr. paradise.

f Meaning of the seruants, or slaves, which he had bought:

g So the children borne
in their seruitude,
were the masters.

8 I haue gathered vnto mee also silver,
and gold, and the chiefe treasures of Kings and prouinces: I haue powdered mee men-singers and women singers, and the delightes of the sonnes of men: as a woman taken captiue, and women taken captivities.

9 And I was great and increased about all that were before mee in Ierusalem: also my wisdom remained with me.

10 And what desired mine eyes desired,
I withheld it not from them: I withheld not mine heart from any toy: for mine heart reioyced in all my labour: and this was my portion of all my trauell.

11 Then I looked on all my workes that mine hands had wrought, and on the trauell that I had laboured to doe: and behold, all is vanitie and vexation of the spirit: and there is no profit vnder the Sunne.

12 ¶ And I turned to behold wisdom,
and madnesse, and folly: for who is the man that will come after the King in things which men now haue done?

13 When I saw that there is profit in wisdom more then in folly: as the light is more excellent then darkenesse.

14 ¶ For the wise mans eyes are in his head, but the foole walketh in darkenes: yet
I know also that the same condition falleth to them all.

15 ¶ Then I thought in mine heart, It be-fallerh vnto mee, as it befallerh to the foole:
why therefore doe I then labour to be more wise? And I said in mine heart, that this also is vanitie.

16 For there shall bee no remembrance of the wise, nee of the foole for ever: for that that now is, in the dayes to come shall all be forgotten. And how dieth the wise man, as doeth the foole?

17 Therefore I hated life: for the worke that is wrought vnder the Sunne is grie-uous vnto me: for all is vanitie, and vexation of the spirit.

18 I hated also all my labour, wherein I had trauailed vnder the Sunne, which I shall leaue to the man that shall bee after mee.

19 And who knoweth whether hee shall bee wise or foolish? yet shall hee haue rule ouer all my labour, wherein I haue tra-uailed, and wherein I haue shewed my selfe wise vnder the Sunne. This is also vanitie.

20 Therefore I went about to make mine heart to abhorre all the labour, wherein I had trauailed vnder the Sunne.

21 For there is a man to whose trauell is in wisdom, and in knowledge and in equitie:
yet to a man that hath not trauailed herein,
shall hee giue his portion: this also is vanitie
and a great griefe.

22 For what hath man of all his trauell and griefe of his heart, wherein hee hath tra-uailed vnder the Sunne?

23 For all his dayes are sorowes, and great trauell, to one that had taken no paine therefore, and whom he knew not whether he were a wise man or a foole.

g For all this,
God did not take his gift of wis-dome from mee.

h This was the fruit of all my labour, a certaine pleasure
mixt with care,
which he called vanitie in the next verse.

sures, which be

rest in the night: which also is vanitie.

24. There is no profit to man, but that he eate and drinke, and delight his soule with the profit of his labour: I saw also this, that it was the hand of God.

25. For who could eate, and who could drinke, without things more then I?

26. Surely to a man that is good in his light, God giueth wisdom, and knowledge, and joy: but to the sinner hee giueth paine to gather, and to heape to giue to him that is good before God: this is also vanitie and vexation of the spirit.

CHAP. IIL

1. All things haue their time, 14. The works of God are perfect, and cause vs to fear him. 17. God shall iudge both the iust and vniu.

a He speaketh of this diuersitie of time for two causes: first to declare that there is nothing
in this world perpetuall: next to teach vs not to be iudged if we haue not all things at once
according to our desires: neither to long as wee
would with,

T All things there is an appointed time,
and a time to every purpose vnder the heauen.

2. A time to bee borne, and a time to die:
a time to plant, and a time to plucke vp that which is planted.

3. A time to slay, and a time to heale:
a time to breake downe, and a time to build.

4. A time to weepe, and a time to laugh:
a time to mourne, and a time to dance.

5. A time to cast away stones, and a time to gather stones: a time to embrace, and a time to be farre from embracing.

6. A time to seeke, & a time to lose: a time to keepe, and a time to cast away.

7. A time to rent, and a time to sew:
a time to keepe silence, and a time to speake.

8. A time to loue, and a time to hate: a time of warre, and a time of peace.

9. What profit hath hee that woorkech of the thing wherein he trauaileth?

10. I haue seene the trauaile that God hath giuen to the sonnes of men: to humble
them thereby.

11. Wee hath made every thing beautifull in his time: also hee hath set the world in their heart, yet cannot man finde out the works that God hath wrought from the beginning euen to the end.

12. I knowe that there is nothing good in them, but to reioyce, and to doe good in his life.

13. And also that every man eateth and drinketh, and seeketh the commoditie of all his labour: this is the gift of God.

14. I knowe that whatsoeuer God shall doe, it shall bee for ever: to it can no man add, and from it can none diminish: for God hath bene, that they should feare before him.

15. What is that that hath bene? that is now: and that that shall bee, hath now bene: for God requirerth that which is past.

16. And moreover, I haue seene vnder the sunne the place of iudgement, where was wickednesse, and the place of iustice, where was iustitie.

17. I thought in mine heart, God will iudge the iust and the wicked: for time is there for every purpose and for every work.

18. I considered in mine heart the state of the children of men, that God hath purged them: yet to see to, they are in themselves as beasts:

19. For the condition of the children of men, and the condition of beasts, are euen as one: condition vnto them. As the one dieth, so dieth the other: for they haue all one breath,
and there is no excellencie of man about the beast: for all is vanitie.

20. All goe to one place, and all was of the dust, and all shall returne to the dust.

21. What knoweth whether the spirit of man ascend vpwarde, and the spirit of the beast descend downewards to the earth?

22. Therefore I see that there is nothing better then that a man should reioyce in his affaires, because that is his portion.
For who shall buy him to see what shall bee
after him?

and faith we easily know the diuersitie, as verse 21.
that reason cannot comprehend that which faith beleueth herein.

prehend nothing better in this life, then to vis the gifts of God so-

CHAP. I. III.

1. The innocent are oppressed, 4. Mens labours are full of abusi and vanitie, 9. Mans society is necessary, 13. A young man poore, and wife, is to be preferred to an old King that is a foole.

S O I turned, and considered all the oppressions that are wrought vnder the sunne, and behold, the teares of the oppressed, and none comforterth them: and loe, the strength is of the hand of them that oppresse them, and none comforterth them.

2. Therefore I praised the dead which now are dead, above the liuing which are yet aliue.

3. And I count him better then them both which hath not yet bene: for he hath not seene the euill works which are wrought
vnder the sunne.

4. Also I beheld all trauaile, and all perfection of works, that this is the ende of a man against his neighbour: this also is vani-
tie and vexation of spirit.

5. The foole solberth his hands, and caterth vp his owne flesh.

6. Better is an handfull with quietnesse, then two handfulls with labour and vexation of spirit.

7. Again I returned, and saw vanitie
vnder the sunne.

8. There is one alone, and there is not a second, which hath neither sonne nor brother, yet is there none ende of all his trauaile, neither can his eye see satisfaction with riches: neither doeth hee thinke, for whom doe I trauaile, and because my

4 Forasmuch as when man is alone, he can neither help himself nor others, he sheweth that man ought to live in mutual society, so the intent they may be profitable one to another, and that their things may increase.

g By this promise he declarereth how necessary it is, that men should live in society.

h That is, from a poore, and base estate, or out of trouble, and prison, as Joseph did, Gen. 41. 14.

i Meaning, that is borne a King, which follow, and flatter the kings sonne, or him that shall succeed, to enter into credit with them in hope of gaine.

1 They cease by all means to creep into favour: but when they obtaine not their greedie desires, they thinke themselves abused, as others have bene in time past, and so care no more for him. m That is, with what affection thou comest to hear the words of God, n Meaning of the wicked, which thinke to please God with ceremonies, and have neither faith nor repentance.

CHAP. V.

1 Not to speak lightly, chiefly in Gods matters. 9 The content can never be enough. 11 The labourer's sleep is sweete. 14 Man when he dieth, taketh nothing with him. 18 To live joyfully, and with a contented minde is the gift of God.

a Either is vowing or in praying, meaning, that we should use all reverence to Godward.

b He heareth thee not for thy many words sake, or often repetitions, but considereth thy faith and fervent minde.

c Dmt. 3. 21.

e Hypocrites, which are expressed by Gods word and service to his glory.

f Cautie not thy selfe to others by vowing rashly: as they doe which make a vow to live unmarried and such like. e That is, before Gods messenger, when hee shall examine thy doing: as though thy ignorance should be a just excuse.

2 Be not a vaine man with thy mouth, nor let thine heart be facile to utter a thing before God: for God is in the heavens, and thou art on the earth: therefore let thy words be few.

3 For as a dreamer commeth by the multitude of businesse: so the voyce of a foole is in the multitude of words.

4 When thou hast vowed a vow to God, deferre not to pay it: for hee delighteth not in fooles: pay therefore that thou hast vowed.

5 It is better that thou shouldst not vow, then that thou shouldst vow and not pay it.

6 Suffer not thy mouth to make thy neighbour to sinne: neither say before the Angel, that this is ignorance: wherefore shall God be angry by thy voyce, and destroy the workes of thine hands?

7 For in the multitude of dreams, and vanities are also many words: but feare thou God.

8 If in a country thou seek the oppression of the poore, and the defrauding of iudgement and justice, bee not ashamed at the matter: for hee that is higher then the highest, regardeth, and there be higher then they.

9 And the abundance of the earth is over all: the King also continueth by the fildes that is tilled.

10 If that louchy silver, shall not be satisfied with siluer, and hee that louchy riches, shall bee without the fruite thereof: this also is vaine.

11 When goods increase, they are increased that eat them: and what good cometh to the owners thereof, for the beholding thereof with their eyes?

12 The sleep of him that travelleth, is sweete, whether hee eat little or much: but the sacrifice of the rich will not suffer him to sleepe.

13 There is an euill sickness that I haue seene under the Sunne: to wit, riches refused to the owners thereof for their cruell.

14 And these riches perish by euill traffike, and hee getteth a sonne, and in his hand is nothing.

15 As hee came forth of his mothers belly, hee shall returne naked to goe as hee came, and shall beare away nothing of his labour, which hee hath caused to passe by his hand.

16 And this also is an euill sickness, that in all points as hee came, so shall hee goe, and what profit hath hee that hee hath trafficked for the world?

17 Also all his dayes hee entereth in darkness with much griefe, and in his sorrow and anger.

18 Behold then what I haue seene good, that it is comely to eat, and to drinke, and to take pleasure in all his labour, wherein hee trafficketh under the Sunne, the whole number of the dayes of his life, which God giueth him for this is his portion.

19 Also to every man to whom God hath giuen riches and treasures, and giueth him power to eat thereof and to take his part, and to enjoy his labour: this is the gift of God.

20 Surely hee will not much remember the dayes of his life, because God answereth to the lay of his heart.

CHAP. VI.

1 The miserable state of him to whom God hath giuen riches, and not the grace to use them.

2 There is an euill, which I saw under the Sunne, and it is much among men.

3 A man to whom God hath giuen riches and treasures and honour, and hee plague of God wanted nothing for his soule of all that when hee dieth he desireth: but God giueth him not his power to eat thereof, but a strange man shall eat it by: this is vaine, and this

f Meaning, that God will redresse these things, and therefore we must depend vpon him.

g The reuenty of the earth are to be preferred aboue all things which appertain to this life.

h Kings & Princes cannot maintain their estate without tillage, which thing commendeth the excellencie of tillage.

k When courteous men haue riches, which turne to their destruction.

l He doeth not enjoy his fathers riches.

m 2. 21, 22, 23, 24, 25, 26, 27, 28, 29, 30, 31, 32, 33, 34, 35, 36, 37, 38, 39, 40, 41, 42, 43, 44, 45, 46, 47, 48, 49, 50, 51, 52, 53, 54, 55, 56, 57, 58, 59, 60, 61, 62, 63, 64, 65, 66, 67, 68, 69, 70, 71, 72, 73, 74, 75, 76, 77, 78, 79, 80, 81, 82, 83, 84, 85, 86, 87, 88, 89, 90, 91, 92, 93, 94, 95, 96, 97, 98, 99, 100.

n In affliction and griefe of minde.

o Reade Chap. 3. 21.

p Hee will take great thought for the paines that hee hath endured in time past.

q Hee shall not be able to enjoy his riches.

this is an euill sicknesse.

3 If a man beget an hundred children, and liue many yeeres, and the dayes of his yeeres be multiplied, and his soule bee not satisfied with good things, and hee bee not buried. I say that an vniuersally fruit is better then hee.

4 For the cometh into vanitie, & goeth into darknesse: and his name shalbe covered with darknesse.

5 Alfo he hath not seene the Sunne, nor knowen it: therefore this hath more rest then the other.

6 And if he had liued a thousand yeeres twice told, and had seene no good, shal not all goe to one place?

7 All the labour of man is for his mouth: yet the soule is not filled.

8 For what hath the wise man more then the fool? what hath the poore that knoweth how to walke before the liuing?

9 The sight of the eye is better then to walke in the darknesse: this also is vanitie, and veneration of spirit.

10 What is that that hath bene? the name thereof is now named: & it is known that it is man: and he cannot strue with him that is stronger then he.

b If he can neuer have enough.
c As we see oftentimes, what the covetous man either falleth into crimes that deserve death, or is murdered, or drowned, or hanged himselfe, or such like, and do lacketh the honour of buriall, which is the last office of humanity.
d Meaning, the vocally fruite, whose life did neither profice or hurt any.
e His desire and affliction.
f That knoweth to use his goods well in the iudgement of men.
g To be content with that which God hath given, is better then to follow the desires that never can be satisfied.
h Meaning God, who will make him to seele that he is mortall.

CHAP. VII.

Diuerse precepts to follow that which is good, and to avoid the contrary.

Clearly there be many things that increase vanitie: and what availeth it a man?

2 For who knoweth what is good for man in the life, and in the number of the dayes of the life of his vanitie, seeing hee maketh them as a shadow? For who can shew unto man what shall be after him under the Sunne?

3 A good name is better then a good oymment, and the day of death, then the day that one is borne.

4 It is better to go to the house of mourning, then to go to the house of feasting, because this is the end of all men: and the liuing shall lay it to his heart.

5 Anger is better then laughter: for by a sad looke the heart is made better.

6 The heart of the wise is in the house of mourning: but the heart of foolles is in the house of mirth.

7 Better it is to heare the rebuke of a wise man, then that a man should heare the song of foolles.

8 For like the noyse of the thornes vnder the por, so is the laughter of the fool: this also is vanitie.

9 Surely oppression maketh a wise man madde: and the reward destroyeth the heart.

10 The end of a thing is better then the beginning thereof, and the patient in spirit is better then the proud in spirit.

a There is no floure wherein man can liue to have perfect quietnesse in this life.
b Psal. 144. 4.
c Prov. 3. 1.
d He speaketh thus after the iudgement of the flesh, which thinketh death to be the end of all evils: or els because that this corporal death is the entering into life everlasting.
e Where we may see the hand of God, and learne to examine our liues.
f Which crackle for a while, and profiting nothing.
g A man that is reformed wise, when he falleth to oppression, becometh like a beast.
h He noteth their lightnesse which enterprize a thing, and suddenly leave it off againe.

is better then the proud in spirit.

11 Bee not thou of an hasty spirit to be angry: for anger resteth in the bosome of foolles.

12 Say not thou, Why is it that the former dayes were better then these? for thou dost not enquire wisely of this thing.

13 Wisdome is good with an inheritance, and excellent is them that see the Sunne.

14 For man shal rest in the shadow of wisdom, & in the shadow of siluer: but the excellency of the knowledge of wile dom giueth life to the possessor thereof.

15 Behold the work of God: for who can make a weight that which hee hath made crooked?

16 In the day of wealth be of good comfort, and in the day of affliction consider, God also hath made this contrary to that, to the intent that man should finde nothing after him.

17 I haue seene all things in the dayes of my vanitie: there is a lust man that perissheth in his iustice, and there is a wicked man that continueth long in his malice.

18 We not thou lust? overmuch, nesthes make thy selfe ouer wile: wherefore shouldest thou be desolate?

19 Is not thou wicked? overmuch, neither be thou foolish: wherefore shouldest thou perissh not in thy time?

20 It is good that thou lay hold on this: but yet withdraw not thine hand from that: for hee that feareth God shall come forth of them all.

21 Wisdome shall strengthen the wise man more then ten mighty princes that are in the citie.

22 Surely there is no man lust in the earth, that doth good and sinneth not.

23 Eue not thine heart also to all the wordes that men speake, lest thou doe heare thy seruant cursing thee.

24 For often times also thine heart knoweth that thou likewise hast caused others.

25 All this haue I proued by wisdom: I thought, I will bee wise, but it went farre from mee.

26 It is farre off, what may it bee? and it is a profound deepnesse, who can finde it?

27 I haue compassed about, both I and mine heart to know, and to inquire, and to search wisdom, and reason, and to knowe the wickednesse of folly, and the foolishnesse of madnesse.

28 And I find more bitter then death, the woman whose heart is as nets and snares, and her hands as bands: hee that is good before God, shal be deliuered from her, but the sinner shal be taken by her.

29 Behold, saith the Seracher, this haue I found, seeking one by one to finde the count:

30 And yet my soule seeketh, but I finde it not: I haue found one man of a thousand: but a woman among them all haue I not found.

g Mixture not against God when he sendeth aduersities for mans finnes.
h He answereth to them that esteeme not wisdom, except riches be ioyned therewith, shewing that both are the gifts of God, but that wisdom is far more excellent, and may be without riches.
i Chap. 1. 15.

m Boast not too much of thine owne iustice and wisdom.
n Tary not long when thou art admonished to come out of the way of wickednesse.

s That is so come to a conclusion.

The wicked escape.

1 And so are cause of their owne destruction.

31 Only for this have I found, that God hath made man rigorous : but they have lough of many inventions.

CHAP. VIII.

1 To obey princes and Magistrates, 17 The works of God passe mans knowledge.

Who is as the wiseman ? & who knoweth the interpretation of a thing : the wisdom of a man doeth make his face to shine : and the strength of his face shall be changed.

2 If advertise thee to take heede to the counsell of the king, and to the word of the counsell of God.

3 Make not to goe forth of his sight :
stand not in an euill thing : for hee will doe whatsoever pleases him.

4 Where the word of the king is, there is power, and who shall say vnto him, What dost thou ?

5 Hee that keepeth the commandment, shall know none euill thing, and the heart of the wise shall know the time and iudge-ment.

6 For to every purpose there is a time and iudgement, because the misery of man is great vpon him.

7 For he knoweth not that which shalbe
for him : who can tell him when it shalbe ?

8 Man is not lord ouer the spirit to retaine the spirit : neither hath he power in the day of death, nor deliuerance in the barreil, neither shall wickednesse deliuer the possessors thereof.

9 All this haue I seene, and haue giuen mine heart to carry word which is wrought vnder the Sunne, and I saw a time that man ruleth our man to his owne hurt.

10 And likewise I saw the wicked buried, and they returned, and they that came from the holy place, were yet forgotten in the city where they had done right : this also is vanitie.

11 Because sentence against an euill work is not executed speedily, therefore the heart of the children of men is fully set in them to doe euill.

12 Though a sinner doe euill an hundred times, and God prolongeth his daies, yet I know that it shall bee well with them that fear the Lord, and do reuerence before him.

13 But it shall not be well to the wicked, neither shall he prolong his daies : he shall be like a shadow, because he feareth not before God.

14 There is a vanitie which is done vpon
the earth, that there bee righteous men to whom it cometh according to the work of the wicked : and there be wicked men to whom it cometh according to the work of the iust : I thought also that this is vanitie.

15 And I prayed for : for there is no goodnesse to man vnder the Sunne, save to eat and to drinke, and to reioyce : For this is assigned to his labour, the dayes of his life that God hath giuen him vnder the Sunne.

16 When I applyed mine heart to know

Ecclesiastes.

The state of good and bad.

willcome, and to be both the business that is done on earth : that neither day nor night
the eyes of man take sleepe,

17 Then I behelde the whole worke of God, that man cannot finde out the worke that is wrought vnder the Sunne : for the which man laboureth to seeke it, and cannot find it : yea, and though the wise man thinke
to know it, he cannot find it.

CHAP. IX.

1 By no outward thing can man know whom God
loatheth or hateth, 12 No man knoweth but end, 16
Wisdom excelleth strength.

I haue surely giuen mine heart to all this,
and to declare all this, that the iust, and the wise, and their workes are in the hand of God : and no man knoweth either loue or hate of all that is before them.

2 All things come alike to all : and the same condition is to the iust and to the wicked, to the good and to the pure, and to the polluted, and to him that sacrificeth, and to him that sacrificeth not : as is the good, so is the sinner, he that sweareth, as he that feareth an oath.

3 This is euill among all that is done
vnder the Sunne, that thereto is one condition to all, and also the heart of the sonnes of men is full of euill, and madnesse is in their hearts while they liue, and after that they goe to the dead.

4 Surely whosoener is toynd to all the liuing, there is hope : for it is better to be a liuing dogge, then to be a dead lion.

5 For the liuing know that they shal die,
but the dead know nothing at all : neither haue they any more a reward : for their remembrance is forgotten.

6 Also their loue, and their hatred, and their enuy is now perished, and they haue no more portion for euer, in all that is done vnder
the Sunne.

7 Soe, eat thy bread with ioy, and drinke thy wine with a cheerefull heart : for God
now accepteth thy workes.

8 At all times let thy garments be white,
and let not oyle be lacking vpon thine head.

9 Reioyce with the wife whom thou hast loued all the dayes of the life of thy vanitie, which God hath giuen thee vnder the Sunne all the dayes of thy banitie : for this is thy portion in the life, and in thy travaille wherein thou labourst vnder the Sunne.

10 All that thine hand shall finde to doe, doe it with all thy power : for there is neither work nor knowledge, nor knowledge, nor wisdom in the graue whither thou goest.

11 I returned, and I saw vnder the Sun-ne, that the race is not to the swift, nor the bat-tel to the strong, nor yet bread to the wise, nor also riches to men of vnderstanding, neither yet fauour to men of knowledge : but time and chance cometh to them all.

g That is, he doth not foresee

12 For neither hath man know his time, as the fishes which are taken in an en-net, and as the birds that are caught in the snare: so are the children of men snared in the cruel time when it falleth vpon them suddenly.

13 I haue also seene this wisdom vnder
the sunne, and it is great vnto me.

14 A little citie and few men in it, and a great king came against it, and compassed it about, and builded forre against it.

15 And there was found therein a poore and wise man, and he deliuered the citie by his wisdom: but none remembered this poore man.

16 When said I, Better is wisdom then strength: yet the wisdom of the poore is despised, and his words are not heard.

17 The words of the wise are more heard in quietnesse, then the cry of him that crieth among folles.

18 Better is wisdom then weapons of warre: but one sinner deileth forth much good.

CHAP. X.

1 The difference of foolishnes and wisdom. 12
A flaunderer is like a serpent that cannot be charmed.

16 Of foolish kings: and drunken priests: 17 And of good kings and princes.

God likes cause to sinke, and putrifie
the oymment of the Apothecarie: so doeth a little folly him that is in estimation for wisdom, and for glory.

2 The heart of a wise man is at his right hand: but the heart of a foole is at his left hand.

3 And also when the foole goeth by the way, his heart faileth, and he belitteth vnto
all that he is a foole.

4 If the spirit of him that ruleth rise vp against thee, leaue not thy place: for gentle-nesse pacifieth great sinnes.

5 There is an enill chanc I haue seene vnder
the sunne, as an eecrow that proceedeth
from the face of him that ruleth.

6 Folly is set in great excellencie, and the rich set in the low place.

7 I haue seene seruaunts on horses, and princes walking as seruaunts on the ground.

8 Hee that diggeth a pit, shall fall into it: he that breaketh the hedge, a serpent shall bite him.

9 We that remooueth stones, shall hurt
himselfe thereby, and he that cutteth wood,
shall be in danger thereof.

10 If the yon be blunt, and one hath not whet the edge, hee must chide him to more strength: but the excellencie to direct a thing, is wisdom.

11 If the serpent bite, when hee is not charmed: no better is a babler.

12 The words of the mouth of a wise man haue grace: but the lips of a foole despise himselfe.

13 The beginning of the words of his mouth is foolishnes, and the latter end of his mouth is wicked madnes.

14 For the foole multiplieth words, saying, I know knoweth not what shall bee: and who can tell him what shall be after him?

15 The laboure of the foolish doth weary him: for he knoweth not to go into the city,

16 And to the, O land, when thy king is a childe, and thy princes: eate in the moyning.

17 Blessed art thou, O land, when thy king is the sonne of nobles, and thy princes eate in time, for strength and not for hunkenesse.

18 By slouthfulnes the rooffe of the house
goeth to decay: and by the slothfulnes of the hands, the house decayeth choiow.

19 They prepare bread for laughter, and swereth to all.

20 Curst not the king, no not in thy thought, neither curse the rich in thy bed chamber: for the foule of the beehiue shall cary the voyce, and that which hath wings, shall declare the matter.

CHAP. XI.

1 To be liberal to the poore. 4 Not to doubt of Gods providence. 8 All worldly prosperitie is but vanitie. 9 God will iudge all.

Cast thy bread vpon the waters: for after many dayes thou shalt find it.

2 Giue a portion to seuen, and also to right: for thou knowest not what water shall be vpon the earth.

3 If the clouds be full, they will poure
foorth raine vpon the earth: and if the tree doe fall toward the South, so to watach the North, in the place that the tree falleth, there it shall be.

4 We that obserueth the wind, shall not sow, and he that regardeth the clouds, shall not reape.

5 As thou knowest not which is the way of the spirit, nor how the bones doe grow in the wombe of her that is with childe, so thou knowest not the worke of God that worketh
all.

6 In the morning sow thy seed, and in the evening let not thine hand rest: for thou knowest not whether shall prosper, this or that, or whether both shalbe alike good.

7 Surely the light is a pleasant thing:
and it is a good thing to the eyes to see the sunne.

8 Though a man liue many yeeres, and in them all be reioyce: yet hee shall remember the dayes of darkness: because they are many, all that conuerth is banicle.

9 Reioyce, O yong man, in thy youth,
and let thine heart cheer thee in the dayes of thy youth, and walke in the waves of thy heart, and in the sight of thine eyes: but know that for all these things God will bring thee to iudgement.

10 Therefore take away grieue out of thine heart, and cease euill: so depart from thy flesh: for childhoode and youth are vanities.

God would not call them to an account.

11 Meaning, carnall lusts whereunto youth is giuen.

CHAP. XII.

1 To thinke on God in youth, and not to deferre till age. 7 The soule returneth to God. 11. Wisdom is the gift of God, and cannot be obtained by keeping his commandments.

Remember thy Creator in the dayes of thy youth,
before the dayes of thine aduancement come:
before the dayes of thine aduancement come:
before the dayes of thine aduancement come:

a So that hee
doeth all things

trary.

mon things, and

cuss his matters.

cretly but it shal
be knowne.

berall to the poore & though it seeme to be as a thing ventured
on the sea, yet it shall bring thee
profite.

b As the clouds
that are full,
pouere out raine,
so the rich that
haue abundance,
must distribute it liberally.

c Hee that is carelesse
to bee liberal
while we liue:

d He that seareth
inconueniencies,

requireth, shall never doe his duty.

dition and trouble.

h Hee that cheereth that their delighe
in worldly pleasures, as though it were their duty.

i To wit, anger, and envie.

Remember now thy Creatour in the dayes of thy youth, whilst the rust dayes come not, nor the yeeres approach wherein thou shalt say, I have no pleasure
in them:

2 Whiles the sunne is not darker, nor the light, nor the moone, nor the stars, nor the clouds returne after the raine:

3 When the keepers of the house shall tremble, & the strong men shall bow themselves, and the grinders shall cease, because they are few, and they were dark that look out by the windows:

4 And the doopes shall be spout without by the hale sound of the grinding, and he shall rise up at the voyce of the bird: and all the daughters of singing shall be abash.

5 Also they shall be afraid of the high thing, and feare shall be in the way, and the almond tree shall flourish, and the grasshopper shall be a burden, and concupiscence shall be driven away: for man goeth to the house of his age, and the mourners go about in the street.

6 Whiles the silver cord is not loosed, and the golden ring is not broken, nor the pitcher broken at the well, nor the bottle broken at the cistern:

7 And dust returne to the earth, as it was, and the spirit returne to God that gave it.

8 Vanitie of vanities, sayth the Preacher, all is vanitie.

9 And the more wise the Preacher was,
the more hee taught the people knowledge,
and caused them to heare, and searched forth
and prepared many parables.

10 The Preacher sought to find out pleasant words, and an insight writing, even the words of truth.

11 The words of the wise are like goads, and like nails: fastened by the masters of the assemblies, which are given by one: Pamour.

12 And of other things besides these,
my sonne, take thou heed, for there is none ende in making many books, and much reading is a weariness of the flesh.

13 Let us heare the end of all: Feare God and keepe his commandments: for this is the whole duty of man.

14 For God will bring every worke unto judgement with every secret thing, whether it be good or euill.

'cannot be comprehended in bookes, or learned by study, but God must instruct thy heart, that thou mayest only know that wisdom is the usefulness, and the way thereunto is to feare God.

An excellent Song which was Salomons.

THE ARGUMENT.

IN this song Salomon by most sweet & comfortable allegories and parables describeth the perfect loue of Iesus Christ, the true Salomon & King of peace, and the faithfull soule or his Church, which he hath sanctified and appointed to be his spoule, holy, chaste, and without reprehension. So that here is declared the singular loue of the bridegrome toward the bride, and his great and excellent benefits wherewith he doth enrich her of his pure bounty and grace without any of her desertings. Also the earnest affection of the Church which is inflamed with the loue of Christ, desiring to bee more and more ioyned to him in loue, and not to be forsaken for any spot or blemish that is in her.

CHAP. I.

1 The familiar talks and myssicall communication of the spiritual loue betweene Iesus Christ and his Church. 2 The demysticall ennuies that persecute
the Church.

3 Let him kisse me with the kisses of his mouth: for thy loue is better then wine.

4 Because of the labour of the good oymments thy name is as an ointment pow-
red out: therefore the virgins loue thee.

5 Datt me: we will runne after thee:
the King hath brought mee into his chambers: we will reioyce and be glad in thee: we will remember thy loue more then wine: the righteous doe loue thee.

lem, but comely, as the tents of Kedar, and as the curtains of Salomon.

5 Regarde ye me not because I am blacke:

sonnes of my mother were angry against me: they made mee the keeper of the vines:

Christ speaketh to his Church, bidding them that are ignorant, to go to the pasture to learn.
For thy spiritual beauty and excellency, there was no worldly creature but was compared unto thee.
The Church rejoiceth that she is admitted to the company of Christ.
He shall be most dear unto me.
Christ accepteth his Church, and commendeth her beauty.
That is, the heart of the faithful wherein Christ dwelleth by his spirit.

7 If thou knowest not, O thou the fairest among women, get thee forth by the steps of the flocke, and feed thy kids by the rents of the shepherds.

8 I have compared thee, O my love, to the troops of horses in the chariots of Shabaoth.

9 Thy cheeks are comely with robes of stones, and thy necke with chaines.

10 All will make thee borders of golde with studs of silver.

11 As the King was at his repast, my spikenard gave the smell thereof.

12 My wellbeloved is as a bundle of myrrour unto me: he shall lie betweene my breasts.

13 My wellbeloved is as a cluster of Camphire unto me in the vines of Engad.

14 My love, beholde, thou art faire: bold, thou art faire: thine eyes are like the doves.

15 My wellbeloved, beholde, thou art faire and pleasant: also our bed is green.

16 The beams of our house are cedars, our fastners are of silver.

CHAP. II.

1 The Church desireth to rest under the shadow of Christ. 2 She heareth his voyce. 3 She is compared to the dove. 4 And she comes to the flocke.

I am the rose of the field, and the lillie of the valleys.

2 Like a lillie among the thornes, so is my love among the daughters.

3 Like the apple tree among the trees of the forest, so is my wellbeloved among the sonnes of men: under his shadow had I delight and safe down, and his fruit was sweet unto my mouth.

4 Hee brought mee into the wine cellar, and love was his banner over me.

5 Stay mee with flagons, and comfort mee with apples: for I am sick of love.

6 His left hand is under mine head, and his right hand doth embrace me.

7 I charge you, O daughters of Jerusalem, by the roses and by the bindes of the field, that ye stirre not up, nor waken my love, untill she please.

8 It is the voyce of my wellbeloved: beholde, he cometh leaping by the mountaines, and skipping by the hills.

9 My wellbeloved is like a roe, or a young hart: loe, he standeth behind our wall, looking forth of the windows, showing himselfe through the graties.

10 My wellbeloved spake and said unto mee, Arise, my love, my faire one, and come thy way.

11 For beholde, a winter is past: the raine is chased, and is gone away.

12 The flowers appeare in the earth: the time of the singing of birds is come, and the voyce of the turtle is heard in our land.

13 The figge tree hath brought forth her young figges: and the vines with their small grapes have cast a shadow: arise my love, my faire one, and come away.

14 My dove, that art in the holes of the rocks, in the secret places of the stairs, shew me thy sight, let me heare thy voyce: for thy voyce is sweet, and thy sight comely.

15 Take us the foxes, the little foxes, which destroy the vines: for our vines have small grapes.

16 My wellbeloved is mine, and I am his: he feedeth among the lillies.

17 Until the day breake, and the shadows flee away: secure me my wellbeloved, and bee like a roe, or a young hart upon the mountaines of Bether.

18 The Church desireth Christ to bee most ready to helpe her in all dangers.

2 I will rise therefore now, and goe about in the cite, by the streets and by the open places, and will seeke him that my soule loveth: I sought him, but I found him not.

3 The watchmen that went about the cite, found mee: to whom I said, Have you seene him whom my soule loveth?

4 When I had past a lillie from them, then I found him whom my soule loveth: Iooke holde on him and lett him not, till I have brought him unto my mothers house, into the chamber of her that conceived me.

5 I charge you, O daughters of Jerusalem, by the roses and by the bindes of the field, that ye stirre not up nor waken my love untill she please.

6 Who is she that cometh up out of the wilderness like pillars of smoke perfumed with myrrhe and incense, and with all the spices of the merchant?

7 Beholde his bed which is Salomons: wherefore strong men are round about it, of the valliant men of Israel.

8 They all handle the sword, and are expert in warre, every one hath his sword upon his thigh for the feare by night.

9 King Salomon made himselfe a palace of the trees of Libanon.

10 Hee made the pillars thereof of silver, and the pavement thereof of golde, the hangings thereof of purple, whole middes was paved with the loue of the daughters of Jerusalem.

11 Come forth ye daughters of Zion, and behold the King Salomon with the crowne wherewith his mother crowned him in the day of his marriage, and in the day of the gladnesse of his heart.

CHAP. V.

1 Christ calleth his Church to the participation of all his treasures. 2 She heareth his voice. 3 She confesseth her nakednesse. 10 She praiseth Christ her husband.

IAm come into my garden, my sister, my spouse: I gathered my myrre with my spice: I ate mine honycombe with mine hony: I dranke my wine with my milke: eat, O friends, drinke and make you merrye, O welbeloued.

2 I sleepe, but mine heart waketh, it is the voyce of my welbeloued that knocketh, saying, Open vnto me, my sister, my fount, my fount, my head: for mine head is full of dew, and my lockes with the drops of the night.

3 I haue put on my coats, how shall I put it on? I haue washed my feet, how shall I defile them?

4 My welbeloued put in his hand by the hole of the doore, and mine heart was affectioned toward him.

5 I rose vp to open to my welbeloued, and mine hands did drop downe myrre, and my fingers pure myrre vpon the handles of the barre.

6 I opened to my welbeloued: but my welbeloued was gone and past: mine heart was gone when he did speake: I sought him, but I could not finde him: I called him, but he answered me not.

7 The wicked watchmen that went about the cite, found me: they smote me and wounded mee, the watchmen of the wals took away my walle from me.

8 I charge you O daughters of Ierusalem, if ye finde my welbeloued, that you tell him that I am sicke of loue.

9 O the fairest among women, what is thy welbeloued more then other welbeloued? what is thy welbeloued more then another loue, that thou dost to charge vs?

10 My welbeloued is white and ruddie, the chiefe of ten thousand.

11 His head is as fine gold, his locks curled, and blacke as a rauen.

12 His eyes are like doves vpon the riuers of waters, which are washed with milke, and remaine by the full vessels.

13 His cheekes are as a bed of spices, and as sweet flowers, and his lips like lillies dropping downe pure myrre.

14 His hands are as rings of gold, set with the chrysolite, his belly like white yvorie couered with Sapphires.

15 His legges are as pillars of marble set vpon sockets of fine golde: his countenance as Lebanon, excellent as the cedars.

16 His mouth is as sweet things, and hee is wholly delectable: this is my welbeloued, and this is my loue, O daughters of Ierusalem.

17 O the fairest among women, whither is thy welbeloued gone? whither is thy welbeloued turned aside, that we may seeke him with thee?

c That declareth the exceeding loue of Christ toward his Church.

Chap. 6. 1.

a Meaning, that the gifts are infinite which Christ giveth to his Church: for that his faithfull are many in number. e He becometh the beginning of the Church was small, but that it grew up to a great multitude. f He went down into the Synagogue to see what fruits came of the Law and the Prophets. g I found nothing but rebellion. h I ran as swift as the nobles of my people in their chariots. i O ye people of Jerusalem: for Jerusalem was called Shalem, which signifies peace.

6. Thy temples are within thy locks as a piece of a pomegranate.

7. There are 4 chesecope Queenes and fourescore concubines, and of the damocles without number.

8. But my house is alone, and my undefiled, here is the only daughter of her mother, and she is deare to her that bare her: the daughters have seene her and conneth her blessed: even the Queenes and the concubines, and they have payed her.

9. What is she that looketh forth as the morning, faire as the moone, pure as the sunne, terrible as an army with banners?

10. I went downe to the garden of nuts, to see the fruits of the valley, to see if the vine budded, and if the pomegranates flourished.

11. I knew nothing, my soule let me as the chariots of my noble people.

12. Returne, returne, O Shulamite, returne: returne that way may beholde thee. What shall you see in the Shulamite, but as the company of an army?

CHAP. VII.

1. The beauty of the Church in all her members. 2. O She is assured of Christ's love toward her.

a How beautiful are thy goings with thy shoots, O princes daughter: the topes of thy thighs are like Jewels: is the work of the hand of a cunning workman.

2. Thy navel is as a round cup that wanteth not liquor: thy belly is as an heap of wheat compassed about with lillies.

3. Thy two breasts are as two young rons that are twins.

4. Thy necke is like a tower of Ivory: thine eyes are like the fish-pools in Asdon by the gate of Bath-rabbim: thy nose is as the tower of Libanon that looketh toward Damascus.

5. Thine head upon thee is as Scharlet, and the bush of thine head like purple: the King is sed in thy hairsters.

6. How faire art thou, and how pleasant art thou, O my loue in pleasures!

7. This thy stature is like a palm tree, and thy breasts like clusters.

8. I sayd, I will goe up into the palm tree, I will take holde of her boughes: thy breasts shall now be like the clusters of the vine: and the favour of thy nose like apples.

9. And the roofe of thy mouth like good wine, which goeth streight to my welbeloued, and causeth the lips of the ancient to speake.

10. I am thy welbeloued, and his desire is toward me.

11. Come, my welbeloued, let us go forth into the field: let us remaine in the villages.

12. Let us get up early to the vines, let us see if the vine flourish, whether it hath budded the small grape, or whether the pomegranates flourish there: tell I give thee thy love. 13. The mandrakes have given a smell, and in our gates are all sweet things, new and olde: my welbeloued, I have kept them for thee.

CHAP. VIII.

1. The Church will be taught by Christ. 2. She is upheld by him. 3. The sacrament last with Christ loveth her. 4. She is the vine that bringeth forth fruit to the spiritual Salomon, which is Jesus Christ.

O that thou werest as my brother that I might sucke thy breasts as my mother: I would kiss thee, then they should not despise thee.

2. I will lead thee, and bring thee into my mothers house: where thou shalt teach me, and I will cause thee to drinke spiced wine, and new wine of the pomegranate.

3. His left hand shall be under mine head and his right hand shall embrace me.

4. I charge you, O daughters of Jerusalem, that you stirre not up, nor waken my loue untill the please.

5. (What is this that cometh by out of the wilderness, leaning upon her welbeloued?) I raised thee up under an apple tree: there thy mother conceived thee: there she conceived that bare thee.

6. Set me as a scale on thine heart, and as a signet upon thine arme: for love is strong as death: jealousy is cruel as the grave: the coales thereof are fiery coales, and a vehement flame.

7. Much water cannot quench love, neither can the floods drowne it: If a man should give all the substance of his house for love, they would greatly contemne it.

8. I have a little sister, and she hath no breasts: what shall we doe for our sister when she shall be spoken for?

9. If she be a wall, we will build upon her a silver palace: and if she be a doore, we will keepe her in with boards of Cedar.

10. I am a wall, and my breasts are as towers: then was I in his eyes, as one that loveth peace.

11. Salomon had a vine in Baal-hamon, he gave the vineyard unto keepers: every one bringeth for the fruit thereof a thousand pieces of silver.

12. But my vineyard which is mine, is before me, to thee, O Salomon, sperraneth a thousand pieces of silver, and two hundred to them that keepe the fruit thereof.

13. O thou that dwellest in the gardens, the companions hearken unto thy voyce: causeth me to heare it.

14. O my welbeloued, slee away, and bee like unto the Roe, or to the young hart upon the mountaines of spices.

1. If the people did the small grape, or whether the pomegranates flourish there: tell I give thee thy love. 2. The Church called the Gentiles speake thus to the Church of Jerusalem. 3. O ye, 4. Isaiah.

THE ARGUMENT.

God according to his promise, Deut. 18. 15. that hee would never leave his Church destitute of a Prophet, hath from tyme to tyme accomplished the same: whose office was not onely to declare vnto the people the things to come, whereof they had a speciall revelation, but also to interpret and declare the Law, and to apply particularly the doctrine contained therein, to the sinners.

profit of those, to whom they thought it chiefly to appertaine, and as the time and state of things required. And principally in the declaration of the Lawe, they had respect to three things, which were the ground of their doctrine: First, to the doctrine contained briefly in the two tables: secondly, to the promises and threatnings of the Law: and thirdly, to the covenant of grace and reconciliation, grounded vpon our Saviour Iesus Christ, who is the end of the Lawe, Whereunto they neither added nor diminished, but faithfully expounded the sense and meaning thereof. And according as God gaue them vnderstanding of things, they applied the promises particularly for the comfort of the Church and the members thereof, and also denounced the menaces against the enemies of the same, nor for any care or regard to the enemies, but to assure the Church of their safeguard by the destruction of their enemies. And as touching the doctrine of reconciliation, they haue more clearly entreated it then Moses, and set forth more liuely, Iesus Christ, in whom this covenant of reconciliation was made. In all these things Isaiah did excell all the Prophets, and was most diligent to set out the same, with most vehement admonitions, reprehensions, and consolations: neuer applying the doctrine, as he saue that the disease of the people required. He declareth also many notable prophecies which he had receiued of God, as touching the promise of the Messiah, his office and his kingdomes. Also of the fauour of God toward his Church, the vocation of the Gentiles, & their vniou with the Iewes, Which are most principall points contained in this Booke, and a gathering of his Sermons which he preached. Which after certaine dayes that they had stood vpon the Temple doore (for the manner of the Prophets was to set vp the summe of their doctrine for certaine dayes that the people might the better marke it, as Isa. 8. 1. and Habac. 2. 2.) the Priests tooke it downe and referred it among their registers: and so by Gods prouidence these booke were preferred as a monument to the Church for euer. As touching his person and time, he was of the Kings stocke (for Amos his father was brother to Azariah King of Iudah, as the best Writers agree) and prophesied more then 64. yeeres, from the time of Vzziah vnto the reignes of Manasseh, whose father in law hee was (as the Iewes write) and of whom hee was put to death. And in reading of the Prophets this one thing among others is to be obserued, that they speake of things to come, as though they were now past, because of the certaintie thereof, and that they could not but come to passe, because God had ordeined them in his secret counsell, and so reuealed them to his Prophets.

CHAP. I.

a Isaiah reproveth the Iewes of their ingratitude and stubbornnesse, that neither for benefiter punishment would amend. b He sheweth why their sacrifices are reiected, and wherein Gods true seruice standeth. c Hee prophesieth of the destruction of Ierusalem, d And of the restitution thereof.

a That is, a reuelation, or prophesie, which was one of the two meanes, whereby God declared himselfe to his seruants in olde time, as Num. 12. 6. and therefore the Prophets were called Seers, 1. S. m. 9. 9.

b Isaiah was chiefly sent to Iudah & Ierusalem, but not only: for in this booke are prophecies concerning other nations also.

c Called also Azariah, 2. King. 1. 5. 1. of these Kings, read 2. King, from Chap. 14. vnto Chap. 21. and 2. Chro. from Chap. 25. vnto Chap. 33. d Because men were obstinate and insensible, hee colled them the dumbe creatures, which were more prompt to obey Gods word, as Deut. 32. 1. e Hee declareth his great mercy toward the Iewes, forasmuch as hee chose them aboute all other nations to be his people & children, as Deut. 10. 15. f The most brut and dull beasts do more acknowledge their duty toward their maisters then my people do toward me, of whom they haue receiued benefites without comparison. g They were not onely wicked, as were their fathers, but vtterly corrupt, and by their euill example infected others. h That is, him that sanctifieth Israel. i What auailith it to seeke to amend you by punishment, seeing the more I correct you, the more ye rebel?

a Vision of Isaiah, the soune of Amos, which hee saith, concerning Iudah and Ierusalem in the dayes of: Uzziah, Iotham, Ahaz, and Hezekiah, Kings of Iudah.

2 Heare, O heaunties, and hearken, O earth: for the Lord hath sayd, I haue nourished and brought vp children, but they haue rebelled against me.

3 The Lord knoweth his owne, and the asse his maisters cribbe, but Israel hath not knownen: my people hath not vnderstood.

4 Ah, fawfull nation, a people laden with iniquitie: as a feede of the wicked, corrupt children: they haue forsaken the Lord: they haue prouoked the Lord: they are gone backward.

5 Wherefore should hee be smitten any more? for yet fall away more and more: the whole head is sick, and the whole heart is deceitful.

6 From the sole of the foot vnto the head, there is nothing whole therein, but wounds and swelling, and bores full of corruption: they haue not bene wrapped, nor bound by no mollified with oyle.

7 Your land is waste: your cities are burnt with fire, strangers deuoure your land in your presence, and it is desolate like the wilderness of strangers.

8 And the daughter of Zion shall remaine like a cottage in a vineyard, like a lodge in a garden of cucumbers, and like a besieged citie.

9 Except the Lord of hostes had reserved vns, yea, euen a small remnant, wee should haue bene as Sodom, and should haue bene like vnto Gomorrah.

10 Heare the word of the Lord, O princes of Sodom: hearken vnto the Lawe of our God, O people of Gomorrah.

11 What haue I to doe with the multitude of your sacrifices, saith the Lord? I am full of the burnt offerings of rams, and of the fat of fed beastes: and I desire not the blood of bullocks, nor of lambs, nor of goats.

12 Whither ye come to appeare before mee, who required this of your hands to tread in my courts?

13 Bring no more oblations: in vain: incense is an abomination vnto mee: I cannot suffer your new moones, nor Sabbathes, nor solemne dayes (it is iniquitie) nor solemne assemblies.

r Yet that for your vices deserued all to be destroyed as they of Sodom, saue that God of his mercy reserved a little number. Lam. 1. 23. t Although God commaunded these sacrifices for a time, as youths and exercises of their faith: yet because the people had not faith nor repentance, God detested them, Psal. 50. 13. Iere. 6. 20. Amos 5. 11 Mich. 6. 7. e Without faith and repentance.

k By naming the chiefe parts of the body hee signifieth that there was no part of the whole body of the Iewes free from his rods. l Every part of the body, as well the least as the chiefeest was plagued.

m Their plagues were so grievous that they were incurable, & yet they would not repent.

n Meaning, of them that dwelt farre off, which because they looke for no advantage of that that remaineth, destroy all before them.

o That is, Ierusalem.

p Because that hee will euer haue a Church to call vpon his Name. q That is, all destroyed.

o Your sacrifices offered in the new moons and feasts: hee condemneth hereby hypocrites, which thinke to please God with ceremonies, and they themselves are royd of faith and mercy.
x Hee sheweth that where men be given to avarice, deceit, cruelty and extortion, which is meant by blond, there God will shew his anger, and not accept them, though they seeme newholly, as Chap. 19. 3.
y By this outward washing, he meaneth the spiritual: exhorting the Jewes to repent and amend their lives.
z This kinde of reasoning by the second table, the Scriptures vse in many places against the hypocrites, who pretend much holiness and religion in words, but when their charity and loweward their brethren should appear, they declare that they have neither faith nor religion: a To know if I doe accuse you without cause. b Left sinners should pretend any rigour on Gods part, he onely willeth them to be pure in heart, and hee will forgive all their finnes, were they neuer so many or great.
c Hee sheweth that whatsoever aduocatie man endureth, it ought to be attributed to his owne incredulity and disobedience. d That is Ierusalem, which had promised fidelitie vnto mee, as a wile to her husband.
e Given to countenances and extortion, which hee signifieth before by blond, verse 15.
f Whatsoever was pure in thee before is now corrupt, though thou haue an outward shew. g That is, they maintain the wicked and the extortioners, and not onely doe not punish them, but are themselves such. h When God will hee himselfe mercifull to his Church he calleth himselfe, The holy One of Israel: but when he hath to doe with his enemies, hee is called Mighty, as against whom no power is able to resist. i I will take vengeance of mine aduocaries the Jewes, and to satisfie my desire by punishing them: Which thing yet he doth with a grieffe, because of his covenante. k Left the faithfull among them should be overcome with this threatening, he addeeth this consolation. l It is onely the worke of God to purifie the heart of man, which thing he doeth: because of his promise, made concerning the saluation of his Church.
m By iustice is meant Gods faithfull promise, which is the cause of the deliuerance of his Church.

14 My soule hateth your new moons and your appointed feasts: they are a burden unto me, I am weary to beare them.
15 And when you shall stretch out your hands, I will hide mine eyes from you: and though yee make many prayers, I will not heare: for your hands are full of blood.
16 Woe is you, make you cleane: take away the cuill of your workes from before mine eyes: cease to doe euill.
17 I care not to be well: seeke iudgement, relieue the oppressed: iudge the fatherlesse, and defend the widow.
18 Come now, and let vs reason together, saith the Lord: though your sins were as crimson, they shall be made white as snow: though they were redde like scarlet, they shall be as wooll.
19 If ye consent and obey, yee shall eate the good things of the land.
20 But if ye refuse and be rebellious, yee shall be denoured with the sword: for the mouth of the Lord hath spoken it.
21 Woe is the faithfull citie become an harlot: It was full of iudgement, and iustice lodged therein, but now they are murderers.
22 Thy silver is become dross: thy wine is inter with water.
23 Thy princes are rebellious and companions of theues: euery one loneth gifts, and followeth after rewards, they iudge not the fatherlesse, neither doeth the widowes cause come before them.
24 Therefore saith the Lord God of hosts, the mighty one of Israel, Ah, I will eate me of mine aduocaries, and auenger me of mine enemies.
25 Then I will turne mine hand upon thee, and burne out thy dross, till it be pure, and take away all thy sinne.
26 And I will restore thy iudges as at the first: and thy counsellors as at the beginning: afterward shall thou be called a citie of righteousness, and a faithfull citie.
27 Zion shall be redeemed in iudgement, and they that returne in her, in iustice.

28 And the destruction of the transgressors and of the sinners, shall bee together: and they that forsake the Lord shall be consumed.
29 For they shall be confounded for the oakes, which yee haue desired; and yee shall be ashamed of the gardens, that yee haue chosin.
30 For yee shall be as an oke, whose fruite fadeth: and as a garden that hath no water.
31 And the strong shall be as a sparke, and the maker thereof as a sparke: and they shall both burne together, and none shall quench them.

your confidence, shall be consumed as easily as a piece of towne.
C H A P. I I.
1 The Church shall be restored by Christ, and the Gentiles called. 6 The punishment of the reuoluous and obstinate.

The word that I saiah the sonne of Amoz saw vpon Iudah and Ierusalem.
1 It shall be in the last dayes, that the mountaine of the house of the Lord shall be prepared in the top of the mountaines, and shall be exalted aboue the hills, and all nations shall flow vnto it.
2 And many people shall goe & say, Come and let vs goe vnto the mountaine of the Lord, to the house of the God of Iacob, and he will teach vs his wayes, and we will walke in his pathes: for they saw that go forth of Zion, and the word of the Lord from Ierusalem.
3 And hee shall iudge among the nations, and rebuke many people: they shall breake their swords also into mattockes, and their speares into shees: nation shall not lift vp a sword against nation, neither shall they learne to fight any more.
4 House of Iacob, come yee, and let vs walke in the sight of the Lord.
5 Surely thou hast forsaken thy people, the house of Iacob, because they are full of the East manners and are sacrificers as the Ishittims, and abound with strange children.
6 Their land also was full of silver and golde and there was none end of their treasures: and their land was full of hoyses, and their characts were infinite.
7 Their land also was full of idoles: they worshipped the worke of their owne hands, when the Gospell was first preached in Ierusalem, and from thence went through all the world.
8 The Lord, which is Christ, shall haue all power giuen him.
9 That they may acknowledge their sinne, and turne to him.
10 Hee sheweth the fruite of the peace, which the Gospell should bring, to wit, that men should doe good one to another, where as before they were enemies.
11 Hee speaketh not against the vse of weapons and lawfull warre, but sheweth how the hearts of the godly shall be affected one toward another: which peace and loue doeth beginne and growe in this life, but shall be perfected, when wee are ioyned with our head Christ Iesus.
12 Seeing the Gentiles will be so ready, make you hast and shew them the way to worship God.
13 The Prophet seeing the small hope that the Jewes would conuert, complaineth to God, as though he had wearily forsaken them for their finnes.
14 Full of the corruptions that reigned chiefly in the East parts.
15 They altogether giue themselves to the traditions of other nations.

1 For the same of the people God will take away the wise men, and giue them foolish princes.

14 The confusion first of the garrisoners.

16 The pride of the women.

For loe, the Lord God of hostes will take away from Jerusalem and from Iudah, the stay, and the strength: euen all the stay of bread, and all the stay of water.

2 The strong man, and the man of warre: the iudge, and the Prophet, the prudent and the aged,

3 The captain of fiftie, and the honourable, and the counsellor, and the cunning artificer, and the eloquent man.

4 And I will appoint children to be their princes, and babes shall rule ouer them.

5 The people shall bee oppressed one of another, and eury one by his neighbour: the children shall perfume against the ancient, and the vile against the honourable.

6 When eury one shall take hold of his brother of the house of his father, and say, Thou hast clothing: thou shalt bee our prince, and let this fall be vnder thine hand.

7 In that day bee shall sweare, saying, I cannot be an helper: for there is no bread in mine house, nor clothing: therefore make me no prince of the people.

8 Doubtlesse Jerusalem is fallen, & Iudah is fallen downe, because their tongue and workes are against the Lord, to provoke the eyes of his glory.

9 The trial of their countenance triseth against them, yea, they declare their sinners, as Sodom, they hide them not. Alce be unto their soules: for they haue rewarded euill vnto themselves.

10 Say ye, Surely it shall bee twell with the last: for they shall eate the fruite of their workes.

11 Alce be to the wicked, it shall be euill with him: for the reward of his handes shall bee giuen him.

12 Children are extortioners of my people, and women haue rule ouer them: O my people, they that leade thee, cause thee to erre, and destroy the way of thy paths.

14 The Lord shall enter into iudgement with the Ancients of the people and the princes thereof: for yee haue eaten up the vineyard: the holle of the poore is in your houses.

15 What haue yee to doe, that yee beate my people to pieces, and grinde the faces of the poore, saith the Lord, euen the Lord of hostes?

16 The Lord also saith, Because the daughters of Zion are haughty, and walke with stretched out neckes, and with wandering eyes, walking and mincing as they goe, and making a tinkling with their feete.

17 Therefore shall the Lord make the heads of the daughters of Zion balde, and the Lord shall discouer their secret parts.

f He sheweth that this plague shall be to horrible, that contrary to the common manner of men, which by nature are ambitious, none shall be found able or willing to be their gournour.

g Feare shall rather cause him to forswear himselfe then to take such a dangerous charge vpon him.

h When God shall examine their deedes, whereupon they now set an important face, hee shall finde the marks of their impietie in their forehead.

i Be ye that are godly assured that God will defend you in the middes of these troubles.

k Because the wicked people were more addicted to their princes, then to the commandments of God he sheweth that he would giue them such prices, by whom they should haue no helpe, but that should be manifest tokens of his wrath, because they should be fooles and estimate.

by euellie against them.

CHAP. IIII.

1 The small remnant of men after the destruction of Ierusalem. 2 The graces of God upon them that remain.

a When God shall execute this vengeance, there shall not bee one man found to be the head to many women, and they, contrary to womanly shame-fulness, shall speak vnto men,
and offer themselves to any condition.

b He thow our

d He comforteth
the Church
in this desolation, which shall bring vp like a bud, signifying that Gods graces
should bee as plentiful toward the faithfull, as though they sprang out of the earth, as Ch2. 45. 8. Some by the bud of the Lord, meane Christ. e Hee alludeth to the booke of life, whereof see Exod 32. 32. meaning Gods secret counsell, wherein his elect are predestinate to life euerslasting. f That is, the crueltie, extortion, auarice and all wickednesse. g When things shall bee
redressed that were amiss. h Hee alludeth to the pillar of the cloud, Exod. 13. 21. meaning, that Gods fauour and protection should ap-peare in every place. i The faithfull are called the glory of God, because his image and tokens of his grace shine in them. k God promiseth to bee the defence of his Church against all troubles and dangers.

5 And the Lord shall create upon every place of mount Zion, & upon the assemblies
thereof, a cloud and smoke by day, and the flaming of a flaming fire by night: for upon
all the glory shall bee a defence.

6 And a conering shall bee for a shadow in the day for the heat, & a place of refuge, and a couert for the storme, & for the raine.

7 And the Lord shall create upon every
place of mount Zion, & upon the assemblies
thereof, a cloud and smoke by day, and the
flaming of a flaming fire by night: for upon
all the glory shall bee a defence.

1 Vnder the similitude of the vine, hee describeth the state of the people. 2 Of their auarice. 3 Their drunkennesse. 4 Of their capitiuitie.

shall bee a vine, and in head of a girle, a reu-
ner, and in head of bearding of the baile, baldnes, and in head of a Romacher, a girning of backebord, and burning in head of bearty.

ment, and she being desolate shall sit vpon the plants, & and bee built a tower in the middes thereof, and made a bulwark therein: then bee looked that it should bring forth grapes:

but it brought forth wilde grapes.

5 Show therefore, O inhabitants of Ie-rusalem, and men of Iudah, iudge, I pray
you, her betwixt me and my vineyard.

6 What could I haue done any more to my vineyard, that I haue not done vnto
it? why haue I looked that it should bring forth grapes, and it bringeth forth wilde grapes?

7 And now I will tell you what I will doe to my vineyard: I will take away the hedge thereof, and it shall be eaten vp: I will brenke the wall thereof, and it shall be troden
downe.

8 And I will lay it wast: it shall not bee cut, nor digged, but byers, and thornes shall grow vp: I will also command the cloudes that they raine no raine vpon it.

9 Surely the vineyard of the Lord of hostes is the house of Israel, and the men of Iudah are his pleasant plant, and hee looked for iudgement, but beholde oppression: for righteousnesse, but beholde a crying.

10 Alas vnto them that sayne house to house, and lay fildes to fildes, till there bee no place, that ye may be placed by your selues
in the mids of the earth.

11 This is in mine eares sayeth the Lord of hostes, Surely many houses shall bee desolate, euen great, and faire without inhabitant.

12 For tere acres of vines shall yeelde one barb, and the seed of an homer shall yeelde an ephah.

13 And vnto them that rise vp carely to followe drunkennesse, and to them that continue vntill night, till the wine doe inflame them.

14 And the harpe, and vsole, timbrel, and pipe, and wine are in their feastes: but they regard not the worke of the Lord, neither consider the worke of his hands.

15 Therefore say people: is gone into captiuitie, because they had no knowledge,
and the glory thereof are men sanctified,
and the multitude thereof is dyed by with thirst.

16 Therefore hee hath enlarged it lesse,
and hath opened his mouth without measure, and their glory, and their multitude, and their pompe, and be that reioiceth among them, shall descend into it.

17 And man shall be brought downe, and man shall be humbled, euen the eyes of the proud shall bee humbled:

18 And the Lord of hostes shall be exalted
in iudgement, and the holy God shall bee
sanctified in iustice.

19 Therefore shall they that are drunken, and they that are in the mids of the earth, shall sayne, we were done already.

20 Because they would not obey the word of God.

21 Meaning, the grapes shall swallow vp them that shall die for hunger and thirst, and yet for all this great destruction shall neuer beare fruit.

22 And the Lord of hostes shall be exalted
in iudgement, and the holy God shall bee
sanctified in iustice.

x God comforteth the poore Lambs of his Church, which had bene strangers in other countries, promising that they should dwell in those places againe, whereof they had bene deprived by the fat and cruell tyrants.

y Which vsd all allurements, occasions, and excuses to harden their conscience in sinne.

z He sheweth what are y words of the wicked, when they are menaced with Gods iudgments.

a Which are not ashamd of sin, nor care for honesty, but are growen to a desperate impietie.

b Which are contentmrs of all doctrine and admonition.

c Which are neuer wary but shewe their strength, & brag in gluttony and drunkenness.

d Both they and their posterity, so that nothing shall be left.

e He sheweth that God had so sore punished this people, that the dummie creatures, if they had bene so plagued, would have bene more sensible, & therefore his plagues must continue till they begin to feele them.

f Hee will make the Babylonians to come against them at his becke, and to fight vnder his banner.

18 And hee vnto them that dwelt iniquitie with roades of vanitie, and sin, as with cart-ropes:

19 Which say, Let him make speede: let him hasten his worke that wee may see it: and let the counsell of the Woyle one of Israel dwale nere and come, that wee may knowe it.

20 And vnto them that speake good of euill, and euill of good, which put darknes for light: and light for darknes, but put bitter for sweet, and sweet for sowre.

21 And vnto them that are wise in their owne eyes, and prudent in their owne sight.

22 And vnto them that are mightie to drinke wine, and to them that are strong to powre in strong drinke:

23 Which iustifie the wicked for a reward, and take away the righteousness of the righteous from him.

24 Therefore as the flame of fire deuoureth the stubble, and as the chaffe is consumed of the flame, so their root shall be as reeknesse, and their hynd shall rise up like dust, because they haue cast of the Lawe of the Lord of hostes, and condemned the woys of the Woyle one of Israel.

25 Therefore is the wrath of the Lord kindled against his people, and he hath stretched out his hand vpon them and hath smitten them that the mountains did tremble: and their carkeless were toyned in the mids of the streets, and for al this his wrath was not turned away, but his hand was stretched out still.

26 And hee will lift up a signe vnto the nations a sace, and will hysse vnto them from the ende of the earth: and behold, they shall come hastily with speed.

27 None shall salte nor salt among them: none shall dumber nor sleepe, neither shall the girdle of his loynes be loosed, nor the latchet of his shoes be broken:

28 Whose arrows shall be sharpe, and all his bowes bent: his horse hooues shall be thought like flint, and his wheeles like a whelke wind.

29 His roaring shall be like a lion, and hee shall roare like lions whelpes: they shall roare and lay hold of the way: they shall take it away, and none shall deliuer it.

30 And in that day they shall roare vpon them as the roaring of the sea: and if they looke vnto the earth, behold darknesse, and sorrow: and the light shall be darkened in their sight.

CHAP. VI.

1 Isaiah sheweth his vocation by the vision of the diuine manifest. 2 Hee sheweth the absmacie of the people. 3 The destruction of the land. 4 The remembrance of sin.

Isaiah the verge of the death of King Asiah, 1 I saw also the Lord sitting vpon an high throne, and lifted vp, and the lower partes thereof filled the Temple.

2 Hee saw Seraphims stand vpon it: eury one had sixe wings: with twaine hee covered his face, and with twaine hee covered his feet, and with twaine hee did sit.

3 And one cried to another, & said, Holy, holy, holy is the Lord of hostes: the whole world is full of his glory.

4 And the funnels of the doore cheskes moved at the voyce of him that cried, and the house was filled with smoke.

5 Then I said, Woe is me: for I am vndone, because I am a man of polluted lips, and I dwell in the mids of a people of polluted lips: for mine eyes haue seene the King and Lord of hostes.

6 Then flew one of the Seraphims vnto mee with an hote coale in his hand which hee had taken from the Altar with the tongues.

7 And hee touched my mouth, and said, Lo, this hath touched thy lips, and thine iniquitie shall be taken away, and thy sinne shall be purged.

8 Also I heard the voyce of the Lord, saying, Whom shall I send: and who shall goe for vs? Then I said, Here am I, send me.

9 And he said, See, and say vnto this people, O pee shall heare indeed, but ye shall not vnderstand: yee shall plainly see, and not perceiue.

10 Make the heart of this people fatte, make their eares heauie, and shut their eyes lest they see with their eyes, and heare with their eares, & vnderstand with their hearts, and convert, and hee shall heale them.

11 Then said I, Lord, how longe? And hee answered, Till all the cities be wasted without inhabitance, and the houses without man, and the land be utterly desolate.

12 And the Lord haue remooued men farre away, and there be a great desolation in the mids of the land.

13 This oft repetition signifieth that the holy Angels cannot satisfie themselves in praising God, to teach vs, that in all our liues wee should giue our selues to the continuall praise of God.

14 His glory doth not onely appeare in the heauens, but through all the world, and therefore all creatures are bound to praise him.

15 Which things were to confirme the Prophet that it was not the voyce of man: and by the smoke was signified the blindness that should come vpon the Iewes.

16 Hee speaketh this for two causes: the one, because hee that was a mortall creature, and therefore had more neede to glorifie God then the Angels, did it not: and the other because the more neere that man approacheth to God, the more doth hee knowe his owne sinne and corruption.

when they cast their leaves: so the holy seede shall be the substance thereof.

CHAP. VII.

Jerusalem besieged. 1. Isaiah comforteth the Kings. 14. Christ promised.

And in the dayes of Ahaz, the sonne of Jotham, Rezin the king of Syria came up, and Pekah the sonne of Remaliah King of Israel, to Jerusalem to fight against it, but he could not overcome it.

2 And it was told the house of David, saying, Aram is topped with Ephraim:
therefore his heart was moved, and the heart of his people, as the trees of the forest are moved by the winde.

3 When said the Lord unto Isaiah, Go forth now to meet Ahaz (thou art Shemaiah the sonne) at the end of the conduit of the upper pool, in the path of the fullers strid.

4 And say unto him, Take heed, and be still, feare not, neither be faint hearted for the two ralles of bristling spearmen, for the furious wrath of Rezin and of Aram, and of Remaliahs sonne.

5 Because Aram hath taken wicked counsell against thee, and Ephraim, and Remaliahs sonne, saying,

6 Let vs goe up against Judah, and let vs weaken them, and make a breach therein for vs, and let a king in the midst thereof, even the sonne of Tabeal.

7 Thus said the Lord God, It shall not stand, neither shall it be:

8 For the head of Aram is Damascus, and the head of Damascus is Rezin: and within three and threescore yeere Ephraim shall be destroyed from being a people.

9 And the head of Ephraim is Samaria,
and the head of Samaria is Remaliahs son.
If ye beleeve not, surely ye shall not be established.

10 And the Lord spake againe unto Ahaz, saying,

11 Aske a signe for thee of the Lord thy God: aske it, either in the depth beneath,
or in the height above.

12 But Ahaz said, I will not aske, neither will I tempt the Lord.

13 Then hee said, Heare ye now, O house of David, is it a small thing for you to grieve men, that ye will also grieve my God?

Isaiah did this message. 1 For the confirmation of this thing, that thine enemies shall be destroyed, and thou preferred. 2 Not to believe Gods word without a signe, is to tempt God but to refuse a signe when God offereth it for the ayde and helpe of our infirmities, is to rebel against him. 3 You thinke you haue to doe with men, when ye contemne Gods messengers: but it is God against whom you bend your sinnes.

14 Therefore the Lord himselfe will give you a signe. Behold, the Virgin shall conceive and beare a sonne, and she shall call his name Immanuel.

25 Butter and honey shall be eate, till he have knowledge to refuse the enill, and to chuse the good.

16 For afore the child shall have knowledge to refuse the enill, and to chuse the good, the land shall be without inhabiters, forlaken of both her kings.

17 The Lord shall bring upon thee, and upon thy people, and upon thy fathers house (the dayes that haue not come from the day that Ephraim departed from Judah) even the king of Assyrie.

18 And in that day shall the Lord blisse for thee: for he shall be at the uttermost part of the floods of Egypt, and for the Bee which is in the land of Assyrie.

19 And they shall come and shall light all in the bestroite ballies, and in the holies of the rocks, and upon all thorny places, and upon all bushie places.

20 In that day shall the Lord haue with himselfe that is bled, even by them beyond the river, by the king of Assyrie, the head and the base of the fierre, and it shall consume the heard.

21 And in the same day shall a man be nourish a yong kowe, and two sheepe.

22 And for the abundance of milke that they shall giue, he shall eat butter: for butter and honey shall eury one eate, which is left within the land.

23 And at the same day every place wherein shall be a thoulnd vines, shall be at a thoul-nd pieces of silver: so it shall be for the hyers and for the thornes.

24 With arrows and with bows shall one come thither: because all the land shall be hyers and thornes.

25 But on all the mountaines which shall be digged with the mattocke, there shall not come thither the feare of hyers and thornes:
but they shall bee for the feeding out of bul-locks, and for the treading of sheepe.

f Signifying, that no place shall be free from them. 1 That is, that which is from the belly downward: meaning, that he would destroy both great and small. 2 He that before had a great number of cattell, shall be content with one kowe and two sheepe. 3 The number of men shall be so small, that a few beasts shall be able to nourish all abundantly. 4 As they that goe to seek wilde beasts among the bushes. 5 The mountaines contrary to their wont, shall be tilled by such as doe flee to them for succour.

CHAP. VIII.

1. The captivity of Issachar and Judah by the Affyrians. 6. The infidelity of the Iewes. 9. The destruction of the Affyrians. 14. Christ the stone of foundation to the church. 19. The word of God shall be confirmed.

Moreover, the Lord said unto mee, Take a great roll, and write in it with a mans pen, what hee shall see. 2 And hee said, What shall I see? 3 Hee shall see the destruction of the Affyrians, and the captivity of the Iewes, and the returne of the Affyrians, and the destruction of the Affyrians, and the captivity of the Iewes, and the returne of the Affyrians, and the destruction of the Affyrians.

mise sake will

ly God, but man
also, because he shall be nourished

ill the age of discretion.
o Not meaning

child: for before a child can come

try is hot, and

ria is full of bees.

a That thou

b Meaning, that the common saying, he came all men might read it.

c Because the thing was of great importance, he took these two witnesses, which were of credit with the people when he fesseth up upon the doors of the Temple, albeit Uriah was a flattering hypocrite, 2. King. 16. 11.

d Meaning, to his wife: and this was done in a vision.

e Or, make speed to the priests: haste to the pray.

f Before any child be able to speak.

g That is, the armie of Assyria.

h Which was a fountaine at the foot of mount Zion, out of the which ran a small river thorow the citie: meaning, that they of Iudah distrusting their owne power, which was small, desired such power and riches as they saw in Syria and Israel.

i That is, the Assyrians, which dwell beyond Euphrates.

j It shall be ready to drowne them.

k He speaketh this to Messiah or Christ, in whom the faithful were comforted, and who would not suffer his Church to be destroyed utterly.

l To wit, yeharath enemies to the Church, as the Assyrians, Egyptians, Syrians, &c.

m To encourage me that I should not shrink for the infidelity of this people, and so neglect mine office.

n Confess not ye that are godly, the league and friendship that this people seeketh with heathens and idolaters.

o Meaning, that they should not fear the thing that they feared, which have no hope in God.

p In putting your trust onely in him, in calling upon him in aduersitie patiently looking for his help, and fearing to do any thing contrary to his will.

q He will defend you which are his elect, and resist all the rest, which is meant of Christ, against whom the Iewes should stumble and fall, Luke 2. 34. Rom. 9. 33. Pet. 2. 7, 8.

r Though all forsake me, yet ye that are mine, keep my word sure sealed in your hearts.

2 Then Iooke into me: faithfull witnesses to record, Uriah the Priest, and Zephaniah the sonne of Becharias.

3 After, I came to the 4 Prophets, which concerned and bare a soune. Then said the Lordes me, Call his name, I Dauid: shall he be his.

4 For before the child that haue knowledgeto cry, My father and my mother, he shall take away the riches of Damascus, and the people of Samaria, before the King of Asshur.

5 And the Lord spake yet againe vnto me, saying,

6 Because this people hath refused the waters of a Shiloah that runne softly, and reioyce with Rym, and the sonne of Remalib.

7 Now therefore behold, the Lord bringeth vp vpon them the waters of the River mighty and great, even the King of Asshur with all his glory, and hee shall come vpon vpon all their riches, and goe ouer all their banks.

8 And shall breake into Iudah, and shall ouerflow, and passe through, and shall come vnto the neck, and the stretching out of the wings shall fill the breadth of the land, 2. Iannanuel.

9 Gather together on heapes, O ye people, and ye shall be broken in pieces, and hearken all ye of farre countreys: gird your selves, and you shall be broken in pieces: gird your selues, and you shall be broken in pieces.

10 Take counsell together, yet it shall be brought to nought: y promoune a decree, yet shall it not stand: for God is with vs.

11 For the Lord spake thus to me, in taking of mine hand, and taught mee, that I should not walke in the way of this people, saying,

12 May wee not, A confederacie to all them to whom this people hath a confederacie, neither feare you: their feare, nor be afraid of them.

13 Sanctifie the Lord of hostes, and let him be your feare, and let him be your dread.

14 And he shall be as a Sanctuary: but as a stumbling stone, and as a rocke to fall vpon, to both the houses of Israel, and as a snare, and as a net to the inhabitants of Ierusalem.

15 And many among them shall stumble, and shall fall, and shall be broken, and shall be snared, and shall be taken.

16 Bind up the testimony: seale vp the Law among my disciples.

17 Therefore I will wait vpon the Lord: that hath bid his face from the house of Ahab, and I will looke for him.

18 Behold, I and the children whom the Lord hath giuen mee, are as signes and as wonders in Israel, by the Lord of hosts, which dwelleth in mount Zion.

19 And when they shall say vnto you, Enquire at them that haue a spirit of divination, and at the soothsayers which to whisper and murmur, should not a people enquire at their God: from the living to the dead.

20 To the Law, and to the testimony, if they speake not according to this word: it is because there is no light in them.

21 Then hee that is afflicted and famished, shall goe to and feed in it: and when hee shall be hungry, hee shall euen feed himselfe, and curse his king and his gods, and shall looke upward.

22 And when hee shall looke to the earth, behold trouble, and darkness, vexation and anguish, and he is turned to darkness.

CHAP. IX.

1 The vocation of the Gentiles. 6 A prophesie of Christ. 14 The destruction of the ten tribes for their pride and contempt of God.

1 The darkness shall not be according to the affliction that it had when at the first hee touched lightly the land of Sebulum and the land of Naphtali, nor afterwards when he was more grievous by the way of the sea beyond Iordan in Galilee of the Gentiles.

2 The people that walked in darkness, haue seen a great light: they that dwelled in the land of the shadow of death, vpon them hath the light shined.

3 Thou shalt multiply the nation, and not increase their sorrows: they haue reioyced before thee according to the say in harueit, and as men reioyce when they diuide a spoile.

4 For the yoke of their burden, and the staffe of their shoulder, and the rod of their oppressour hast thou broken as in the day of Bethsan.

5 Surely curie battell of the warrior: sure

f Meaning them that were willing to heare & obey the word of God whom the world hated, although they were mockers, and not worthy to live. g This was a consolation in their troubles, knowing that nothing could come vnto them, but by the will of the Lord. h Answered the wicked thus, Should not Gods people seeke succour onely at him? i Thais, Will they refuse to be taught of the Prophet, who is the mouth of God, and seeke help at the dead, which is the illusion of Satan? y Seeke remedy in the word of God, where his will is declared. z They haue no knowledge, but are blind leaders of the blind. a That is, in Iudah, where they should haue had rest, if they had not thus grievously offended God. b In whom afore they put their trust. c They shall thinke that heauen and earth and all creatures are bent against them to trouble them.

a He comforted the Church, a gaine after shee had great troubles, promising to restore them to great glory in Messiah.

b Wherewith Israel was punished, first by Tiglath Pileser, which was a light scourge in respect of that which they suffered afterward by Shalmaneser, who caied the Israelites away captiues.

c Whereas the Iewes and Gentiles dwell together by reason of those twenty cities, which Salomon gaue to Hiram. d Which were captiue in Babylon: and the Prophet speaketh of that thing, which should come to passe threecore yeeres after, as though it were now done. e Meaning, the comfort of their deliverance. f This captiuitie and deliverance were figures of our captiuitie by sinne, and of our deliverance by Christ through the preaching of the Gospel, Math. 4. 15, 16. g Their number was greater when they went into captiuitie, then when they returned, but their ioy was greater at their rescue, Hag. 2. 10. h Thou gauest them perfect ioy, by deliuering them, and by destroying the tyrants that had kept them in cruell bondage, as thou didst deliuer them by Gideon from the Midianites, Iudg. 7. 25.

i He speaketh of the denurance of his Church, which he hath delivered miraculously from his enemies, but especially by commending of Christ,

of whom he prophesied in the next verse.

k The author of enmity, and by whom the Church and every member thereof shall be preserved for ever, and have immortal life.

l His singular love and care for his elect.

m This is another prophesy against them of Samaria, which were mockers, and contemners of Gods promises and menaces.

n We were but worms, when the enemy overcame us, but we will make our names to be long, that we will neither cease for our enemies, nor fear Gods threatenings.

o Akin King of Syria, who was in league with Israel, was slain by the Assyrians, whose whole kingdom, Aram, that is the Syrians, were against Israel, which was assailed by the Philistines.

p Wickedness, as a bellows kindleth the fire of Gods wrath, which consumeth all his obstinate enemies.

q Though there were no torments, yet they shall destroy one another.

r Their greediness shall be insatiable, so that one brother shall eat up another, as though he should eat his own flesh.

with noyle, and with tumbling of garments in blood: but this shall be: with burning and denouncing of fire.

6 For unto us a child is borne, and unto us a Sonne is given: and the government is upon his shoulder, and hee shall call his Name Wonderful, Counsellor, The mighty God, The everlasting Father, The prince of peace.

7 The increase of his government and peace shall have none end: hee shall sit upon the throne of David, & upon his kingdom, to order it, and to stablish it with indgement, and with justice from henceforth, even for ever: the state of the Lord of hosts will performe this.

8 ¶ The Lord hath sent a word into Jacob, and it hath lightened upon Israel.

9 And all the people shall know, even Ephraim, and the inhabitant of Samaria, that say in the pride and presumption of the heart,

10 Then bulches are fallen, but we will build it with between stones: the withe figges trees are cut downe, but we will change them into cedars.

11 Nevertheless, the Lord will raise up the adversaries of Akin against him, and loyne his enemies together.

12 Aram before, and the Philistines behinde, and they shall denounce Israel with open mouth: yet for all this his wrath is not turned away, but his hand is stretched out still.

13 For the people turneth not unto him that smiteth them, neither doe they feare the Lord of hostes.

14 Therefore will the Lord cut off from Israel head & tallie branch and rush in one day.

15 The ancient and the honourable man, he is the head: and the prophet that teacheth him he is the tallie.

16 For the leaders of the people cause them to erre: and they that are led by them are denounced.

17 Therefore shall the Lord have no pleasure in their young men, neither will hee have compassion of their fatherlesse and of their widowes: for every one is an hypocrite and wicked, and every mouth speaketh folly: yet for all this his wrath is not turned away, but his hand is stretched out still.

18 For wickednesse burneth as a fire: it denoureth the hyfers and the thornes, and will kinde in the thicke places of the forest: and they shall mourne up like the lifting up of smoke.

19 By the wrath of the Lord of hostes shall the land be darkened, and the people shall bee as the meate of the fire: no man shall spare his brother.

20 And he shall snatch at the right hand, and be hungry: and hee shall eate on the left hand, and shall not be satisfied: every one shall eate the flesh of his owne arme.

21 ¶ Against Ephraim: and Ephraim against Dan, and they both shall be against Judah.

22 ¶ Their greediness shall be insatiable, so that one brother shall eat up another, as though he should eat his own flesh.

23 ¶ Yet for all this his wrath is not turned away, but his hand is stretched out still.

CHAP. X.

1 Of wicked lawmakers. 5 God will punish his people by the Assyrians, and after destroy them. 21 The remnant of Israel shall be saved.

VVDe vnto them that decree wicked decrees, and write greivous things,

2 To keepe backe the poore from iudgement, and to take away the iudgement of the poore of my people, that widows may be their pray, and that they may spoyle the fatherlesse.

3 What will ye doe now in the day of visitation, and of destruction, which shall come from farre: to whom will ye flee for helpe: and where will ye leane your glory?

4 Without me every one shall fall among them that are bound, & they shall fall downe among the flame: yet for all this his wrath is not turned away, but his hand is stretched out still.

5 ¶ As for the rod of my wrath, and the staffe in their hands is mine indignation, 6 I will send him to a dissembling flatterer, and I will glue him a charge against the people of my wrath to take the spoyle and to take the pray, and to tread them under foote like the mire in the street.

7 But hee thinketh not so, neither doth his heart esteeme it so: but hee imagineth to destroy, and to cut off not a few nations.

8 For he saith, Are not my princes altogether kings?

9 Is not Calno as Carchemish? Is not Hamath like Arpad? Is not Samaria as Damascus?

10 Like as mine hand hath found the kingdomes of the idoles, being they idoles were aboute Jerusalem, and aboute Samaria, 11 Shall not I, as I have done to Samaria, and to the idoles thereof, so doe to Jerusalem, and to the idoles thereof?

12 ¶ But when the Lord hath accomplished all his worke upon mount Zion and Jerusalem, I will visite the fruits of the proud heart of the king of Assyria, and his glorious and proud lookes,

13 Because hee said, By the power of mine owne hand have I done it, and by my wisdom, because I am wise: therefore I have remoued the borders of the people, and have spoiled their treasures, and have pulled downe the inhabitants like a vallant man.

14 And mine hand hath found as a nett the riches of the people: and as one gathereth egges that are left, so have I gathered all the earth: and there was none to moue the wing, as to open the mouth, as to whisper.

15 Shall the axe boast it selfe against a Which write and pronounce a wicked sentence to oppress the poore: meaning that the wicked magistrates, which were the chiefe cause of mischiefes, should be first punished.

b To wit, from Assyria.

c Your riches and authorities, that they may be safe, and that ye may receive them againe.

d Because they have forsaken me, some shall go into captiuitie, and the rest shall be slaine.

e God calleth for the Assyrians to be the executioners of his vengeance.

f That is, the Assyrians against the Iewes, which are but hypocrites, and in this first and seventh verse is declared the difference of God, and of the wicked in one very thing and act: for Gods intention is to chastise them for their amendment, and the Assyrians purpose is to destroy them to enrich themselves: thus in respect of Gods iustice, it is Gods worke, but in respect of their owne malice, it is the worke of the deuil.

g Seeing that I have overcome as well one citie as another, so that none could resist.

h When hee hath sufficiently chastised his people (for hee beginneth at his owne house) then will he burne the reede.

i Meaning, of Samaria.

k Here we see that no creature is able to doe any thing but as God appointeth him, and that they are all but his instruments to doe his worke, though the intentions be diuers, as verbe.

him that beweth therewith : as shall the Law
craie it selfe against him that moueth it : as if the rod should lift vp it selfe against him that taketh it vp, or the staffe should craie it
it selfe, as it were no wood.

16 Therefore shall the Lord God of hosts send among his far men leannes, and vnder his glory hee shall kindle a burning, like the burning of fire.

17 And the sight of Israel shall bee as a fire, and the Holy one thereof as a flame,
and it shall burne and deuoure his thornes,
and his briers in one day :

18 And shall consume the glory of his forest, & of his fruitfull fields both some and steele : and hee shall bee as the fainting of a standard bearer.

19 And the rest of the trees of his forest shall be few, that a child may tell them.

20 And at that day shall the remnant of Israel, and such as are escaped of the house of Iakob, stay no more vpon him that smote them, but shall stay vpon the Lord, the Holy one of Israel in truth.

21 The remnant shall returne, euen the remnant of Iakob, vnto the mighty God.

22 For though thy people, O Israel, be as the sand of the Sea, yet shall the remnant of them returne. The consumption decreed shall ouerflow with righteousness.

23 For the Lord God of hosts shall make the consumption, euen decreed in the midst of all the land.

24 Therefore thus saith the Lord God of hosts, O my people that dwellest in Zion, be not afraid of Asinur : he shall smite thee with a rod, and shall lift vp his staffe against thee
after the manner of Egypt :

25 But per a very little time, & the wrath shall bee consumed, and mine anger in their destruction.

26 And the Lord of hosts shall raise vp a scourge for him, according to the plague of Midian in the rocke Oreb : and as his staffe was vpon the Sea, so he will lift it vp
after the manner of Egypt :

27 And at that day shall his burden bee taken away from off thy shoulder, and his yoke from off thy necke : and the yoke shall be destroyed because of the anointing.

28 He is come to Astar, he is passed into Elgon : at Bethmash shall hee lay vp his armour.

29 They haue gone ouer the flood : they lodged in the lodging at Seba : Ramah is a strait, Gibeah of Sam is strait way.

30 Lift vp thy voice, O daughter Gallim, cause Laish to heare, O ye daughter Aathob.

31 Madmenah is remooued : the inhabitants of Sebim haue gathered themselves together.

32 Yet there is a time that hee will stay at Astar : hee shall lift vp his hand toward the mount of the daughter Zion, the hill of Ierusalem.

33 Behold, the Lord God of hosts shall cut off the tough with fcare, and they of high stature shall be cut off, and the high shall be humbled.

34 And hee shall cut away the thicke places of the forest with you, and Araban shall haue a mighty fall.

1 Christ borne of the roote of Ihsai, 2 His virtues and kingdom, 6 The fruites of the Gospel, 10
The calling of the Gentiles.

1 At there shall come a rod forth of the stocke of Ihsai, and a grasse shall grow out of his rootes.

2 And the Spirit of the Lord shall rest
vpon him : the Spirit of wisdome and understanding, the Spirit of counsell and strength, the Spirit of knowledge, and of the feare of the Lord,

3 And shall make him pudent in the feare of the Lord : for hee shall not iudge after the sight of his eyes, neither reprove by the hearing of his eares.

4 But with righteousness shall hee iudge
the poore, and with equity shall hee reprove
for the meere of the earth : and he shall smite
the earth with the rod of his mouth, and with the breath of his lips shall hee slay the wicked.

5 And iustice shall bee the girdle of his loynes, and faithfullnesse the girdle of his riumes.

6 The Wolfe also shall dwell with the Lambe, and the Leopard shall lie with the Kidder, and the Calfie and the Lyon, and the fat beaust together, and a little child shall lead them.

7 And the Cow, and the Beare shall feed :
their young ones shall lie together : and the Lion shall eate straw like the bullocke.

8 And the sucking child shall play vpon
the hole of the Aspe, & the weaned child shall put his hand vpon the cockatrice hole.

9 Then shall none hurt nor destroy for all the mountaine of mine holinesse : for the earth shall be full of the knowledge of the Lord, as the waters that couer the sea.

10 And in that day the roote of Ihsai, which shall stand vp for a signe vnto the people, the nations shall seeke vnto it, and his rest shall be glorious.

11 And in the same day shall the Lord stretch out his hand againe the second time to possesse the remnant of his people (which shall be left) of Asinur, and of Egypt, and of Babylon, and of Ethiopia, and of Elam, and of Shinar, and of Hamath, and of the ples of the sea.

tions, and assemble the dispersed of Israel, and gather the scattered of Iudah from the four corners of the world.

uered his people out of Egypt, and now promisseth to deliver them out of their enemies hands, as from the Parrhians, Persian, Calde-ans, and them of Antiochia, among whom they were disperfed : and this is chiefly meant of Christ, who calleth his people, being dispersed through all the world.

a Because the

h Here he describeth the content that shall be in his Church, & their victory against their enemies.

i Meaning, a corner of the sea that encreth into the land, & hath the forme of a tongue.

k To wit, Nilus the great river of Egypt, which runneth into the sea with seven fountains.

13 The hated also of Ephraim shall be past, and the adversaries of Judah shall be cut off: Ephraim shall not exist: Judah, neither shall Judah be of Ephraim.

14 But they shall sit upon the shoulders of the Philistines toward the West: they shall spurn them of the East together: Edom and Moab shall be the stretching out of their hands, and the children of Ammon in their obedience.

15 The Lord also shall utterly destroy the tongue of the Egyptians sea, and with his mighty winds shall lift up his hand over the river, and shall smite him in his seven streames, and cause men to walke therein with shoes.

16 And there shall be a path to the remnant of his people, which are left of Assur, like as it was unto Israel in the day that he came by out of the land of Egypt.

CHAP. XII.

A thanksgiving of the faithful for the mercies of God.

And thou shalt say in that day, O Lord, I will praise thee: though I thou wast angry with mee, thy wrath is turned away, and thou comest to me.

2 Behold, God is my salvation: I will trust, and will not feare: for the Lord God is my strength and song: he shall become my salvation.

3 Therefore with joy shall ye draw waters out of the wells of salvation.

4 And ye shall say in that day, Praise the Lord: call upon his name: declare his workes among the people: make mention of them, for his name is exalted.

5 Sing unto the Lord, for hee hath done excellent things: this is known in all the world.

6 Cry out and shout, O inhabitant of Zion: for great is the Holy one of Israel in the midst of thee.

CHAP. XIII.

The Medes and Persians shall destroy Babylon.
The burden of Babylon, which shall say, I have sinned against the Lord my God, who hath said, I will build thee a tower, and shall call it Babel: that ye may be gathered together.

2 Lift up a standard upon the hill mountaine: lift up the voice unto them: wagge the banner, that they may go into the gates of the cities.

3 I have commanded them that I have sanctified: and I have called the mighty to my wrath, and them that rejoyce in my glory.

4 The noise of a multitude is in the mountaine like a great people: a tumultuous noise of the kingdoms of the nations would smite these strange nations (whom they knew) to declare that God chastised the Israelites as his children, and these others as his enemies: and also that God spare not those that be ignorant, that they must not thinke strange if hee punished them that have knowledge of his law, & keepe it not. b To wit, to the Medes and Persians. c That is, prepared and appointed to execute my judgements. d Which willingly goe about the worke wherunto I appoint them, but how the wicked doe this, see Chap. i. 6.

gathered together: the Lord of hostes shall smite the tower of the battell.

5 They come from a farre country, from the end of the heaven: even the Lord with the weapons of his wrath shall destroy the whole land.

6 Howle ye, for the day of the Lord is at hand: it shall come as a destroyer from the Almighty.

7 Therefore shall all hands be weakened, and all mens hearts shall melt:

8 And they shall be afraid: anguish and sorrow shall take them, & they shall have paine, as a woman that travaileth: every one shall be anguish at his neighbour, and their faces shall be like flames of fire.

9 Behold, the day of the Lord cometh, cruel, with wrath and fierce anger to lay the land waste: and hee shall destroy the sinners out of it.

10 For the starres of heaven, and the planets thereof shall not give their light: the Sunne shall be darkened in his going forth, and the Moone shall not cast his light to shine.

11 And I will visit the wickednesse upon the world, and their iniquities upon the wicked, and I will cause the arrogancie of the proud to cease, and will cast downe the pride of tyrants.

12 I will make a man more precious then fine gold, even a man above the watch of gold of Ophir.

13 Therefore I will shake the heaven, and the earth shall remove out of her place in the wrath of the Lord of hostes, and in the day of his fierce anger.

14 And it shall be as a chafed Doe, and as a sheepe that man hath kept by: every man shall turne to his own people, and flee each one to his stone land.

15 Every one that is found, shall be stricken throto: and whosoever is caught himself, shall fall by the sword.

16 Their children also shall be broken in pieces before their eyes: their houses shall be spoiled, and their wives ravished.

17 Behold, I will stirre up the Wordes against them, which shall not regard silver, nor be desirous of gold.

18 With stones also shall they destroy the children, and shall have no compassion upon the fruit of the wombe, and their eyes shall not spare the children.

19 And Babel the glory of kingdoms, the beauty and pride of the Chaldeans shall bee as the destruction of God in Sodom and Gomorrah.

20 It shall not be inhabited for ever, neither shall it be dwelled in from generation to generation: neither shall the Arabian pitch his tents there, neither shall the shepherds make their flocks there.

21 But I will lodge there, and their houses shall be full of O him: & Bitches shall dwell there, and the Scorpions shall pounce there:

1 WHEN the Lord will have compassion of Iakob, and will see chust Iteart, and cause them to rest in their owne lands: and the stranger shall loyne himselfe vnto them, and they shall cleane to the house of Iakob.

2 And the people shall receiue them, and bring them to their owne place, and the house of Iakob shall possesse them in the land of the Lord, for seruantes and bandmaydes: and they shall take these prisoners, whose captiues they were, and haue rule ouer their oppressours.

3 And in that day when the Lord shall cause their rest from the Lord, and from their feare, and from the laye bondage, wherein thou didst serue,

4 Then shalt thou take vp this grourbe against the king of Babel, and say, How hath the oppressour ceased: and the golde-christie Babel is left?

5 The Lord hath broken the rod of the wicked, and the scepter of the rulers:

6 Which liued the people in anger with a continual plague, and ruled the nations in wrath: if any were persecuted, yet did not let.

7 The whole world is at rest and is quiet: they sing for ioy.

8 Also the three trees reioyced of her, and the charas of Libanon, saying, Since thou art laid downe, no better came vp against vs.

9 Well beneath is mooued for thee to merite thee at thy counting, raising vp the dead for thee, even all the princes of the earth, and hath raised from their thrones all the kings of the nations.

10 They shall cry, and say vnto thee, Art thou become weak like also as we: art thou become like vnto vs?

11 Thy pompe is brought downe to the graue, and the sound of the viols: the woyme is spread vnder thee, and the woymes couer thee.

12 How art thou fallen from heauen, O Lucifer, some of the morning: and cut downe to the ground, which didst cast lots vpon the nations?

13 Yet thou saydest in thine heart, I will ascend into heauen, and exalt my throne a-boue beside the starres of God: I will sit also vpon the mount of the Congregation in the sides of the North.

g In stead of thy costly carpets and coverings. h Thou that thoughtest thyselfe most glorious, and as it were placed in the heauen: for the morning starre that goeth before the sunne is called Lucifer, to whom Nebuchad-nassar is compared. i Meaning Ierusalem, whereof the Temple was on the North side, as Psal. 134. s. whereby hee meaneth that tyrant fight against God, when they persecute his Church, and would be themselves in his place.

14 I will ascend above the height of the cloudes, and I will be like the most high.

15 But thou shalt bee brought downe to the graue, to the sides of the pit.

16 They that see thee shall looke vpon thee, and consider thee, saying, This is the man that made the earth to tremble, and that did shake the Kingdomes?

17 Yet made the world as a wilderness, and destroyed the cities thereof, and opened not the house of his prison.

18 All the Kings of the Nations, even they all sleepe in glory: every one in his owne house.

19 But thou art cast out of thy graue, like an abominable branch, like the rament of those that are staines, and shalt throw with a sword: which goe downe to the stones of the pit, as a cartelle troden vnder feet.

20 Thou shalt not be layed with them in the graue, because thou hast despoyled thine owne land, and slain thy people: the scene of the wicked shall not be remoued for euer.

21 Prepare a slaughter for his children, for the iniquity of their fathers: let them not rise vp nor possesse the land, nor fill the face of the world with enemies.

22 I for I will rise vp against them (saith the Lord of hosts) and will cut off from Iakob the name and the remnant, and the strong, and the strength, saith the Lord.

23 And I will make it a possession to the hedgehog, and poles of water, and I will sweepe it with the besom of destruction, saith the Lord of hosts.

24 The Lord of hosts hath twaine, saying, Surely like as I haue purposed, so shall it come to passe, and as I haue considered, it shall stand:

25 That I will breake to pieces Asshur in my land, and vpon my mountaines will I tread him vnder foote: so that his yoke shall depart from off them, and his burden shall bee taken from off their shoulder.

26 This is the counsell that is considered vpon the whole world, and this is the hand stretched out ouer all the nations,

27 Because the Lord of hosts hath determined it, and who shall dissuall it? and his hand is stretched out, and who shall turne it away?

28 In the yere that King Abaz died, was this burden:

29 Reioyce not (thou whole Palestina) because the rod of him that did hate thee, is broken: for out of serpentes roote shall come forth a scorpion, and the fruit thereof shall be a fiery flying serpent.

30 For the first borne of the poore shall be fed, and the needy shall lie downe in safety: and I will kill thy roote with famine, and I shall slay thy remnant.

31 Howle, O gate, cry, O city: thou whole land of Palestina art dissolved: for there shall come from the North a smoke, & none shall be left alone, u That is, from the Iewes or Assyrians: for they were both North from Palestina. x But they shall be all ready and ioyne together, k In maruelling at thee.

l To set them at libertie: noting his cruelty.

m Thou wast not buried in the sepulchre of thy fathers, thy tyranny was to be abhorred, n He called to the Medes and Persians, and all those that should execute Gods vengeance.

|| Or, ierusalem.

o As I haue begun to destroy the Assyrians in Sancherib, so will I continue & destroy them wholly, when I shall deliuer you from Babylon. p From the Iewes.

q Reade Chap. 13. 1.

r He will shew the Philistines reioyce because the Iewes are diminished in their power: for their strength shall be greater then it was.

s The Israelites which were brought to most extreme misery. t To wit, my people.

7 Which shall come to enquire of the fate of the Church.

8 They shall answer that the Lord doth defend his Church, and them that loyne themselves there unto.

32 What shall then one answer to the messengers of the Gentiles? That the Lord hath established Zion, and the poor of his people shall trust in it.

CHAP. XV.

A prophetic against Moab.

a Reade Chap.

13. 1. The chiefe citie, whereby the whole countrey was meant.

c The Moabites shall flee to their idoles for succour, but it shall be to no late.

d Which were cities of Moab.

e For as in the West parts the people vied to let their haire grow long when they mourned so in the East parts they cutt off.

f The Prophet speaketh this in the person of the Moabites, or so one that felt the great judgement of God that should come vpon them.

g Meaning, that it was a citie that was a citie that we lived in pleasure and not in paine.

h He describeth the miserable disposition and flight of the Moabites.

i To hide themselves and their goods there.

k Of them that are slain.

l So that by no means they should escape the hand of God: thus will God punish the enemies of his Church.

m That is, offer a sacrifice: wherby he describeth their long delay, which would not respect when the Lord called them, crying that they should be ready.

n There is no remedy but you must flee.

o He sheweth, what Moab should have done, when Israel their neighbor was in affliction, to whom because they would give no hand, nor effort, they are now left comfortlesse.

The burden of Moab. Surely he of Moab was destroyed, and brought to silence in a night: surely his of Moab was destroyed, and brought to silence in a night.

2 He shall goe up to the Temple, and to Dibon to the high places to weepe: for Aro and for Bethusa shall Moab howle: vpon all their heads shall baldnes, and euer heard shewen.

3 In their streets shall they be girded with sackcloth: on the tops of their houses, and in their streets euer one shall howle, and come downe with weeping.

4 And Weithon shall cry, and Elealeh: their voice shall be heard vnto Iazer: therefore the warriors of Moab shall howl: the soule of euerie one shall lament in himselfe.

5 Mine heart shall cry for Moab: his fugitives shall flee vnto Soar: an better of three yeere old: for they shall goe by with weeping by the mounting up of Labich: and by the way of Desolation they shall ralle up a cry of destruction.

6 For the waters of Dimon shall be dried up: therefore the graffe is withered, the herbe consumed, and there was no green herbe.

7 Therefore what euerie man hath left, and their substance shall beare to the spooke of the wilderness.

8 For the cry went round about the borders of Moab: and the howling thereof vnto Eglaim, and the seeking thereof vnto Beer Elim.

9 Because the waters of Dimon shall be full of blood: for I will bring most vpon Dimon, euen lions vpon him that shepeth of Moab, and to the remnant of the land.

CHAP. XVI.

The causes wherfore the Moabites are destroyed.

1 Can ye be a land to the water of the world? From the rocke of the wilderness vnto the mountaine of the daughter Zion.

2 For it shall be as a bird that flyeth, and a nest forsaken: the daughters of Moab shall be as the fowles of Armon.

3 Gather a counsell, execute iudgement: make thy shadow as the night in the midday: hide them that are chased out: bring up not him that is fled.

4 Let my banished dwell with thee, Moab: because they are come from the face of the destroyer: for the captiuitie shall end, the destroyer shall be consumed, and the oppressor shall cease out of the land.

5 And in mercie shall the chorne be prepared, and he shall sit vpon it in steadfastnes, in the Tabernacle of Dan, iudging, and seeking iudgement, and halting iustice.

6 Wee haue heard of the pride of Moab, (he is very proud) euen his pride and his arrogancy, and his indignation, but his eyes shall not be se.

7 Therefore shall Moab howle vnto Moab: euerie one shall howle: for the foundations of Kir-hareseth shall ye mourne, yet they shall be stricken.

8 For the vineyards of Weithon are cut downe, and the vine of Bethusa: the lords of the Varchen haue broken the principall vines thereof: they are come vnto Iazer: they wandred in the wilderness: her goodly branches stretched out themselves, and went out the Sea.

9 Therefore will I weep with the weeping of Iazer, and of the bane of Bethusa, and Weithon: and Elealeh, I will make thee drinke with my teares, because vpon thy summer fruites, and vpon thy harvest, in thourting is fallen.

10 And gladnes shall be taken away, and for out of the plentifull field: and in the vineyards shall be no singing nor shouting for joy: the treader shall not tread wine in the wine presses: I haue caused the rejoycing to cease.

11 Therefore, my bowels shall sound like an harpe for Moab, and mine inward parts for Beer-baal.

12 And when it shall appeare that Moab shall be weary of his high places, then shall he come to his temple to pray, but he shall not be heard.

13 This is the word that the Lord hath spoken against Moab since that time.

14 And now the Lord hath spoken, saying, In three yeeres, as the yeeres of an fleecing, and the glory of Moab shall be consumed in all the great multitude, and the remnant shall be very small and feeble.

15 They shall vse all meanes to seek help of their idoles, and all in vaine, for Chemoz their great god shall not be able to help them.

16 He appointed a certaine time to punish the enemies in it, who will obserue iustly the time, for the which he is hired, and serue no longer, but will cease long for it.

CHAP. XVII.

A prophetic of the destruction of Damascus, and Ephraim.

1 The burden of Damascus. Behold, Damascus is taken away from being a citie, for it shall be a ruinous heape.

2 The cities of Aroer shall be forsaken: they shall bee for the flocks: for they shall lie there, and none shall make them afraid.

3 The nation also shall cease from Ephyraim, and the kingdome from Damascus, and the remnant of Aram shall bee as the glory of the children of Israel, declaring the destruction of these two kingdome of Syria & Israel, whom as they had conspired the overthrow of Iudah, so they were gloried in their alliance with other nations, therefore he saith that they shall be brought downe, as the Syrians are.

e Meaning Christ.

f Their vaine confidence and proud brags shall deceive them, as Iere. 48. 3.

g For all your mourning, yet the citie shall be destroyed euen vnto the foundations.

h That is, the Assyrians, and other enemies.

i Meaning, that the countrey of Moab was now destroyed, and all precious things thereof were carried into the borders, yea into other countreys, and ouer the sea.

k He sheweth that their plague was so great, that it would haue moued any man to lament with them, as Psal. 141. 5.

l The enemies are come vpon them, and thence for joy, when they carry thy commodities from them, as Iere. 48. 31.

m For very sorrow and compassion.

n They shall vse all meanes to seek help of their idoles, and all in vaine, for Chemoz their great god shall not be able to help them.

o He appointed a certaine time to punish the enemies in it, who will obserue iustly the time, for the which he is hired, and serue no longer, but will cease long for it.

p Who will obserue iustly the time, for the which he is hired, and serue no longer, but will cease long for it.

q The cities of Aroer shall be forsaken: they shall bee for the flocks: for they shall lie there, and none shall make them afraid.

r The nation also shall cease from Ephyraim, and the kingdome from Damascus, and the remnant of Aram shall bee as the glory of the children of Israel, declaring the destruction of these two kingdome of Syria & Israel, whom as they had conspired the overthrow of Iudah, so they were gloried in their alliance with other nations, therefore he saith that they shall be brought downe, as the Syrians are.

s The enemies are come vpon them, and thence for joy, when they carry thy commodities from them, as Iere. 48. 31.

t For very sorrow and compassion.

^f Meaning, of the ten tribes, which boasted themselves of their nobility, prosperity, strength, and multitude. ^g As the abundance of corn doth not cause the harvest men that should cut it down: so no more shall the multitude of Israel make the enemies to shrink, whom God shall appoint to destroy them. ^h Which valley was plain, full and fertile. ⁱ Because God would have his covenant table, he promised to restore some of his people, and to bring them to repentance. ^k He sheweth that Gods corrections ever bring forth some fruit, and cause his to turne from their sinnes, and to humble themselves to him. ^l As the Canaanites left their cities when God did place the Israelites there: so the cities of Israel shall no more be able to defend their inhabitants, then bushes, when God shall send the enemy to plague them. ^m Which are excellent, and brought out of other countries. ⁿ As the Lord threateth the wicked in his Law, Leviticus 26. 16. ^o The Prophet lamenteth, considering the horrible plague that was prepared against Israel by the Assyrians, which were infinite in number, and gathered of many nations. ^p He addeth this for the consolation of the faithful which were in Israel. ^q He comprehendeth the enemies, the Assyrians, to a tempest, which riseth over night, and in the morning is gone.

saith the Lord of hosts.

4 And in that day the glory of Jacob shall be iniquified, and the sameness of his city shall be made lame.

5 And it shall be as when the harvest man gathereth the corn, and reaper the ears with his arm, and hee shall bee as hee that gathereth the ears in the valley of Ephraim.

6 Yet a gathering of grapes shall be left in it, as the shaking of an olive tree, two or three berries are in the toppe of the remotest boughes, and foure or five in the high branches of the fruit thereof, saith the Lord God of Israel.

7 At that day shall a man look to his maker, and his eyes shall look to the holpe one of Israel.

8 And he shall not look to the altars, the workes of his owne hands, neither shall hee look to those things which his owne fingers have made, as grones and images.

9 In that day shall the cities of their strength be as the forsaking of boughes and branches, which they did forsake, because of the children of Israel, and there shall be desolation.

10 Because thou hast forgotten the God of thy salvation, and hast not remembered the God of thy strength, therefore shalt thou sit pleasant places, shalt graffe strange vine branches.

11 In the day shalt thou make thy plant to grow, and in the morning shalt thou make thy seed to flourish: but the harvest shall bee gone in the day of possession, and there shall be desperate sorrow.

12 Ah, the multitude of many people, they shall make a sound like the noise of the sea: for the noise of the people shall make a sound like the noise of mighty waters.

13 The people shall make a sound like the noise of many waters, but God shall rebuke them, and they shall see farre off, and shall be chased as the chaffe of the mountaines before the wind, and as a rowling thing before the whirlwind.

14 And loe, in the evening there is trouble: but afore the morning it is gone. This is the portion of them that spoyle us, and the lot of them that rob us.

men in vessels of brass upon the waters, saying, Go ye swift messengers, to a nation that is scattered abroad, and spoyle, unto a terrible people from their beginning, even hitherto: a nation by little & little even trodden under foot, whole land the floods have spoiled.

3 All ye the inhabitants of the world, and dwellers in the earth, shall see when I set a signe by a sign in the mountains, and when he bloweth the trumpet, ye shall heare.

4 For so the Lord said unto me, I will send, and behold in my tabernacle, as the beaſt dying by the raine, and as a cloude of dew in the heat of harvest.

5 For afore the harvest, when the floure is finished, and the seare is riping in the floure, then hee shall cut downe the branches with hookes, and shall take away, and cut off the boughes.

6 They shall bee left together unto the foules of the mountaines, and to the beaſts of the earth: for the foule shall summer upon it, and every beaſt of the earth shall winter upon it.

7 At that time shall a present be brought unto the Lord of hosts, (a people that is scattered abroad, and spoyle), and of a terrible people from their beginning hitherto, a nation by little & little even trodden under foot, whole land the rivers have spoiled) to the place of the flame of the Lord of hosts, even the mount Sion.

^e Meaning, the Assyrians, as Chap. 8. 7. ^f When the Lord prepareth to fight against the Ethiopians, ^g I will stay a while from punishing the wicked. ^h Whiche two seasons are most profitable for the riping of fruits: whereby he meaneth, that hee will sometime favour them, and give them abundance for a time, but he will suddenly cut them off. ⁱ Not onely men shall contemne them, but the beaſts. ^k Meaning, that God will punish his Church, and reprove that little remnant, as offending unto himselfe.

CHAP. XX.

1 The destruction of the Egyptians by the Assyrians. 2 Of their conversion to the Lord.

The burden of Egypt. Behold, the Lord is clothed upon a swift cloud, and shall come into Egypt, and the idols of Egypt shall be moved at his presence, and the heart of Egypt shall melt in the midwes of her.

2 And I will set the Egyptians against the Egyptians: to every one shall I fight against his brother, and every one against his neighbour, cite against cite, and kingdom against kingdom.

3 And the spirit of Egypt shall faile in the midwes of her, and I will destroy their counsel, and they shall seeke at the idols, and at the soothsayers, and at them that have spirits of divination, and at the soothsayers.

4 And I will deliver the Egyptians into the hand of cruel lords, and a mighty king shall rule over them, saith the Lord God of hosts.

the Ammonites, Moabites, and Idumeans to kill one another, when they came to destroy the Church of God, 2. Chron. 20. 22. & Chap. 49. 26. ^d Meaning, their policies and wisdom.

5 Then

^b Which in those countries were great: inasmuch as they made ships of them for swiftnesse.

^c This may be taken thereby for other to comfort the Iewes, and to promise them help against their enemies, & to the Lord did threaten to take away their strength, that the Iewes should not trust therein: or rather they did looke the Egyptians, and promised them aid to goe against Iudah.

^d To wit, the Iewes, who because of Gods plagues made all other nations afraid of his name, as God threatened, Deut. 28. 37.

^e When the Lord prepareth to fight against the Ethiopians, ^g I will stay a while from punishing the wicked. ^h Whiche two seasons are most profitable for the riping of fruits: whereby he meaneth, that hee will sometime favour them, and give them abundance for a time, but he will suddenly cut them off. ⁱ Not onely men shall contemne them, but the beaſts. ^k Meaning, that God will punish his Church, and reprove that little remnant, as offending unto himselfe.

^a Reade Chap. 13. 1.

^b Because the Egyptians trusted in the defence of their country, in the multitude of their idols, and in the valiantes of their men, the Lord sheweth that he will come over all their munitions in a swift cloud, and that their idols shall tremble at his coming, and that mens hearts shall faile.

^c As hee doth over all their munitions in a swift cloud, and that their idols shall tremble at his coming, and that mens hearts shall faile.

CHAP. XXVII.

1 Of the enemies of the Church, 7 and of the vocation of the Gentiles.

O, the land shadowing with wings, which is beyond the rivers of Ethiopia,

2 Sending ambassadors by the Sea,

^a He meaneth that part of Ethiopia, which lieth toward the Sea, which was full of ships, that the sayles (which hee compareth so wings) seemed to shadow the Sea.

e He sheweth
that the sea and Nilus their great rivers, whereby they thought themselves most sure, should not be able to defend them from his anger, but that he would send the Assyrians
among them,
that should keep them under as slaves.

f For Nilus ran into the sea by fluvial streames,
although they were so many rivers.

g The Hebrew
word is mouth,
whereby they mean the spring
out of the which the water gush-eth as out of a

h The Scriptures
use to describe the destruction of a country by taking away by the commodities thereof, as
by vines, flesh,
fish, and such other things,
whereby countries are enriched.

i Called also Tanes, a famous city upon Nilus.

k He noteth the flatterers of Pharaoh: who persuaded the king
that he was wise
and noble, and that his house
was most anti-ent, and so hee

flattered himselfe, saying, I am wise. l Or, Memphis, others Alexandria, and now called the great Cairn. m The principall vp-holders thereof, are the chiefeest cause of their destruction. n For the spirit of wisdom, hee hath made them drunke and giddie with the spirit of error. o Neither the great nor the small, the strong nor the weak. p Considering that through their occasion the Jewes made not God their defence, but put their trust in them, and were therefore now punished, they shall feare lest the like light vp-on them. q Shall make one confession of faith with the people of God: by the speech of Canaan, meaning the language wherein God was then spaken. r Shall renounce their superstitions, and proceed to serve God aright. s Meaning, of six cities five should serve God, and the sixth remaine in their wickedness, and so of the six part, there should be but one lost,

5 When the waters of the sea shall faile,
and the river shall be dried up and wasted.

6 And the rivers shall goe farre away:
the rivers of defence shall bee emptied and dried up: the reedes and flagges shall be cut
downe.

7 The grasse in the river and at the head of the rivers, and all that groweth by the river, shall wither, and be dryen away, and be no more.

8 The fishers also shall mourne, and all they that cast angle into the river shall lament, and they that spread their net upon the waters, shall be weakened.

9 Moreover, they that worke in flares of divers loyes, shall be confounded, and they that weane nets.

10 For their nets shall bee broken, and all they that make ponds, shall be heapy in beare.

11 Surely the princes of Izoan are fooles:
the counsell of the wise counsellors of Pharaoh is become foolish: how say ye unto Pharaoh, I am the sonne of the wise? I am the sonne of the ancient Kings?

12 Where are now thy wise men, that they may tell thee, or may know what the Lord of hostes hath determined against Egypt?

13 The Princes of Izoan are become fooles: the Princes of Ioph are deceived, they have deceived Egypt, even the coun-
cyls of the tribes thereof.

14 The Lord hath mingled among them
the spirit of errors: and they have caused Egypt to erre in every worke thereof, as a drunken man erreth in his vomit.

15 Neither shall there bee any worke in Egypt, which the head may doe, nor the tail, the branch nor the rush.

16 In that day shall Egypt be like unto women: for it shall bee afraid and feare
because of the rousing of the hand of the Lord of hostes, which hee shaketh over it.

17 And the land of Iudah shall be a feare unto Egypt: every one that maketh mention of it, shall be afraid thereof, because of the counsell of the Lord of hostes, which hee hath determined upon it.

18 In that day shall five cities in the land of Egypt speake the language of Canaan,
and shall sweare by the Lord of hostes:
one shall bee called the citie of destruction.

19 In that day shall the altar of the Lord
bee in the middest of the land of Egypt, and a pillar by the border thereof unto the Lord.

20 And it shall bee for a signe and for a wit-nesse unto the Lord of hostes in the land of Egypt: for they shall cry unto the Lord, because of the oppressours, and hee shall send them a saviour and a great man, and shall deliver them.

21 And the Lord shall be knowne of the Egyptians, and the Egyptians shall know the Lord in that day, and doe sacrifice and oblation, and shall bow bowes unto the Lord, and performe them.

22 So the Lord shall smite Egypt, hee shall smite and heale it: for hee shall returne unto the Lord, and hee shall be entreated of them, and shall heale them.

23 In that day shall there be a path from Egypt to Asshur, and Asshur shall come into Egypt, and Egypt into Asshur: so the Egyptians shall worshipping with Asshur.

24 In that day shall Israel bee the third with Egypt and Asshur, even a blessing in the mids of the land.

25 For the Lord of hostes shall bless it, saying, Blessed bee my people Egypt, and Asshur, the worke of mine hands, and Israel mine inheritance.

were then chiefe enemies of the Church, he sheweth that the Gen-tities and the Jewes should be ioyned together in one faith and religion, and should be all one fold vnder Christ their shepheard.

CHAP. XX.

2. The three yeres captivity of Egypt and Ethiopia, described by the three yeres going naked of Isaiah.

In the yere that Tartan came to Ash-dood, when Sargon king of Asshur sent him) and had fought against Ashdood, and taken it.

2 At the same time spake the Lord by the hand of Isaiah the sonne of Amoz, saying,
Go, and loose the sackcloth from thy loines, and put off thy shoe from thy foot. And he did so, walking naked, and bare foot.

3 And the Lord said, Like as my servant
Isaiah hath walked naked, and barefoot three yeres, as a signe and wonder vpon Egypt and Ethiopia.

4 So shall the King of Asshur take away
the captivity of Egypt, and the captivitee of Ethiopia, both young men and old men, naked and barefoot, with their buttocks uncovered, to the shame of Egypt.

5 And they shall feare, and be ashamed of Ethiopia their expectation, and of Egypt
their glory.

6 Then shall the inhabitant of this isle say in that day, Behold, such is our expectation, whither we fled for help to be delivered from the King of Asshur, and how shall we be delivered?

2 A grievous vision was shewed unto me, The c transgressour against transgressour, and the destroyer against a destroyer. Go ye d Elam, besiege Media: I have caused all the mourning: thereof to cease.

3 Therefore are my Ioyes filled with sorrow: for I have taken mee as the forerunner of a woman that travaileth: I was tormented with paine when I heard it: and I was amazed when I saw it.

8 And hee cryed, A I Iyon: my Lord, I stand continually upon the watch tower, in the day time, and I am set in my watch every night:

2 Thou that art full of noise, a citie full of hubbub, a Ioyous citie: thy Iainne men shall not be shame: with sword, nor die in battell.

3 All thy princes shall flee together from the how: they shall be bound: all that shall be found in thee, shall bee bound together, which have fled from Iaire.

4 Therefore said I, Turne away from mee: I will weep bitterly: labour not to comfort me for the destruction of the daughter of my people.

5 For it is a day of trouble, and of ruine, and of perplexitie by the Lord God of hosts in the valley of vision, breaking downe the citie: and a crying unto the mountains.

6 And Elam bare the quiver in a mans chariot with horsemen, and Kir uncovered the shield.

7 And thy chiefe valleys were full of chariots, and the horsemen set themselves in aray against the gate.

8 And hee discovered the covering of Iudah: and thou didest looke in that day to the armour of the house of the forest.

9 And yet have I seen the breaches of the citie of David: for they were many, and ye gathered the waters of the lower pool.

10 And ye numbred the houses of Ierusalem, and the houses have ye broken downe to fortifie the wall.

11 And have also made a ditch betwene the two walles, for the waters of the old pool, and have not looked unto the maker thereof, neither had respect unto him that formed it of old.

12 And in that day did the Lord God of hostes call unto weeping and mourning, and to baldnesse, and girding with sackcloth.

13 And behold, Ioy and gladnesse, slaying oxen and killing sheepe, eating flesh, and

CHAP. XXIIII.

A prophesie of the curſe of God for the ſinners of the people. 13 A remnant reſerued ſhall praiſe the Lord.

a This Prophecy is as a conſolation of that which hath bene threatened to the Iewes and other nations, from the 13. Chapter, & therefore by the earth hee meaneth thoſe lands, which were before named.

b Beſauſe this was a name of dignitie, it was alſo applied to them which were not of Aarons familie, and ſo ſignifieth alſo a man of dignitie as 2.

Sam. 8. 18. & 20. 25. & ebron. 18. 17. and by theſe words, the Prophet ſignifieth an horrible conſuſion, where there ſhall be neither religion, order, nor policy.

c That is, rendereth not her fruit for the ſinne of the people whom the earth deſcended of their noutriture, becauſe they deſcended of God of his honour.

d Written in the Law as Leuit. 26. 14. deut. 28. 16.

e Thus the Prophet viſed to apply particularly the menaces and promiſes, which are general in the Law.

f Which as it was without order, ſo now ſhould it be brought to deſolation and conſuſion: and this was not onely meane of Ieruſalem, but of all the other wicked cities.

g Beſauſe they did not vſe Gods benefites aright, their pleaſures ſhould faile, and they fall to mourning.

h He comforteth the faithfull, declaring that in this great deſolation the Lord will aſſemble his Church, which ſhall praiſe his Name, as Chap. 10. 22.

Behold the Lord maketh the earth empty, and hee maketh it waſte: hee turneth it vppide downe, and ſcattereth abroad the inhabitants thereof.

2 And there ſhall be like people, like a priſt and like ſeruant, like maſter, like maide, like miſtreſſe, like buyer, like ſeller, like lender, like borrower, like giuer, like taker to viſit.

3 The earth ſhall be cleane emptied, and utterly ſpoiled: for the Lord hath ſpoken this word.

4 The earth lamenteth and ſadly bewaileth: the world is ſerbed and decaped: the proud people of the earth are weakened.

5 The earth alſo deceiweth, becauſe of the inhabitants thereof: for they tranſgreſſed the lawes: they changed the ordinances, and brake the euerlaſting covenant.

6 Therefore hath the curſe denoured the earth, and the inhabitants thereof are deſolate. Therefore the inhabitants of the land are burned up, and few men are left.

7 The wine faileth, the vine hath no might: alſo that tree of merry heart, doe mourne.

8 The miſch of tabrets ceaſeth: the noiſe of them that reioyce, endeth: the ioy of the harpe ceaſeth.

9 They ſhall not drinke wine with miſch: ſtrong drinke ſhall be bitter to the miſch drinke it.

10 The citie of vanity is broken downe: every houſe is ſhut vp, that no man may come in.

11 There is a crying for wine in the ſtreets: alſo ioy is darkened: the miſch of the world is gone away.

12 In the citie is left deſolation, and the gate is ſmitten with deſtruction.

13 Surely thus ſhall it be in the mid of the earth, among the people, as the ſhaking of an olive tree, and as the grapes when the vintage is ended.

14 They ſhall liſt vp their voyce: they ſhall ſhout for the magnificence of the Lord: they ſhall reioyce from the ſea.

15 Wherefore praiſe ye the Lord in the valleys, euen the ſame of the Lord God of Iſrael, in the vles of the ſea.

16 From the utmoſt part of the earth there haue heard praifes, euen glory to the Lord: Iuſt and I ſay, My Ieannette, my Ieannette, who is me: the tranſgreſſors haue offended: yea, the tranſgreſſors haue gotten onſhippened.

17 Feare, and the pit, and the ſnare are vpon thee, inhabitant of the earth.

18 And hee that fleeeth from the noiſe of the feare, ſhall fall into the pit, and hee that cometh by out of the pit, ſhall be taken in the ſnare: for the windowes from on high are open, and the foundations of the earth do ſhake.

19 The earth is utterly broken downe: the earth is cleane diſſolved: the earth is mouen exceedingly.

20 The earth ſhall reele to and fro like a drunken man, and ſhall be remoued like a tent, and the iniquitie thereof ſhall be heauy vpon it: ſo that it ſhall fall, and riſe no more.

21 And in that day ſhall the Lord viſit the hoſte about that is on fire, euen the kings of the world that are vpon the earth.

22 And they ſhall be gathered together as the priſoners in the pit: and they ſhall be ſhut vp in the piſon, and after many dayes ſhall they be viſited.

23 Then the Moone ſhall be abaſhed, and the Sunne abaſhed, when the Lord of hoſtes ſhall reigne in mount Zion and in Ieruſalem: and glory ſhall be beſore his ancient men.

will viſite him with his rods. o Not with his rods, as ver. 21. but ſhall be comforted. p When God ſhall reſtore his Church, the glory thereof ſhall ſhine, and his miniſters (which are called his ancient men) that the Sunne and the Moone ſhall be darke in compariſon thereof.

A song of the faithfull, wherein is declared, in what compasseth the saluation of the Church, and wherein they ought to trust.

a This song was made to comfort the faithfull when their captiuitie should come, assuring them all of their deliuerance, for the which they should sing this song.

b Gods protection and defence shall be sufficient for vs. c He assureth the godly to returne after the captiuitie to Ierusalem.

d Then hast decreed so, and thy purpose cannot be changed. e There is no power to high that can let God when he will deliuer his.

I that day shall this song bee sung in the land of Iudah, Wee haue a strong citie: saluation shall God set for walles and bulwarkes.

3 By an assured purpose wilt thou preserve perfect peace, because they trusted in thee.

4 Trust in the Lord for euer: for in the Lord God is strength for euermore.

5 For hee will bring downe them that dwell on high: the high citie hee will abase: euen vnto the ground will hee cast it downe, and bring it vnto dust.

6 The foote shall stand it downe, euen and men without religion were not deslorred. e Hee comforteth the faithfull in their afflictions, shewing them, that euen in death they shall haue life: and that they should most certainly rise to glory: the contrary should come to the wicked, as verse 14. a By herbs dead in winter, flourish againe by the raine in the spring time: so they that be in death, shall rise vnto life when they shall see the dew of Gods grace. b Hee comforteth the faithfull to be patient in their afflictions, and to trust vpon Gods works.

CHAP. XXVII.

A prophesie against the kingdom of Satan, 2 and of the 10 of the Church for their delinquent.

a At the time appointed,
b That is, by his mighty power, & by his word,
He prophesieth here of the destruction of Satan & his kingdom vnder the name of Leuiathan, As hur, and Egypt.

c Meaning, of the best wine which this vineyard, that is, the Church should bring forth as most agreeable to the Lord.

d Therefore he will destroy the kingdom of Satan, because he loveth his Church for his owne mercies sake, and cannot be angry with it but wisheth that he may powre his anger vpon the wicked infidels, whom he meaneth by briers and thornes

e He marvaileth that Israel will not come by gentleness except God make them to feele his rods, and subring them vnto him.

f Though I afflict and punish my people for a time yet shall the root spring againe and bring forth in great abundance.

g He sheweth that God punisheth his in mercie, and his enemies in iustice.

h That is, thou wilt not destroy the roote of thy Church, though the branches thereof seeme to perish by the sharpe winde of affliction.

i Hee sheweth that there is no true repentance, nor full reconciliation to God, till the heart be purged from all idolatry, and the monuments thereof destroyed.

k Notwithstanding his fauour that he will shew them after: yet Ierusalem shall be destroyed, and graue for cattell shall grow in it.

l God shall not haue neede of mighty enemies: for the very women shall doe it to their great shame.

m He shall destroy all from Euphrates to Nilus: for some fled toward Egypt, thinking to haue escaped.

12 That day the Lord with his sore and great and mighty sword shall visite Leuiathan, that pearcing serpent, euen Leuiathan that crooked serpent, and he shall slay the dragon that is in the sea.

2 In that day sing of the vineyard of red wine.

3 In the Lord doe keepe it: I will water it every moment: lest any assaile it, I will keepe it night and day.

4 Anger is not in mee: who would set the briers and the thornes against me in battell? I would goe thorow them, I would burne them together.

5 O will hee feele my strength, that hee may make peace with me, and be at one with mee.

6 Hereafter Iakob shall take roote: Israel shall flourish and grow, and the world shall be filled with fruit.

7 I hath hee smitten him as hee smote those that smote him: or is hee slaine according to the slaughter of them that were slaine by him?

8 In measure in the branches thereof wilt thou contend with it, when hee bloweth with his rough winde in the day of the East winde.

9 By this therefore shall the iniquitie of Iakob be purged, and this is all the fruit, the taking away of his sinne: when he shall make all the stones of the altars, as chalke stones broken in pieces, that the grouns and images may not stand vp.

10 Per the defended citie shall be desolate, and the habitation shall be forsaken and left like a wilderness. There shall the calfe feede, and there shall hee lie, and consume the branches thereof.

11 When the boughes of it are dry, they shall bee broken: the women come and set them on fire: for it is a people of none vnderstanding: therefore hee that made them, shall not haue compassion on them, and hee that formed them, shall haue no mercie on them.

12 And in that day shall the Lord thresh from the channell of the River vnto the riuer of Egypt, and yet shall bee gathered

CHAP. XXVIII.

Against the pride and drunkenness of Israel, 9 The unawariness of them that should learne the word of God, 24 God doth all things in time and place.

W De to the crowne of pride, the drunkenards of Ephraim: for his glorious beantie shall bee a fading flower, which is vpon the head of the valley of them that be fat, and are out come with wine.

2 Beholde, the Lord hath a mighty and strong holte, like a tempest of hail, and a whirlwinde that ouerthroweth, like a tempest of mighty waters that ouerflow, which rishow to the ground mightily.

3 They shall be troden vnder foote, euen the crowne and the pride of the drunkenards of Ephraim.

4 For his glorious beantie shall bee a fading flower, which is vpon the head of the valley of them that be fat, and as the balke fruit afoor summer, which when hee that looketh vpon it, seeth it, while it is in his hand hee catcheth it.

5 In that day shall the Lord of hostes be for a crowne of glory, and for a diademe of beantie vnto the residue of his people:

6 And for a spirit of iudgement to him that sitteth in iudgement, and for strength vnto them that turne away the battell to the gate.

7 But they haue erred because of wine, and are out of the way by strong drinke: the Priest and the Prophet haue erred by strong drinke, they are swallowed by strong wine: they haue gone astray through strong drinke: they faile in vision: they stumble in iudgement.

8 For all their tables are full of filthie vomiting: no place is cleane.

9 Whom shall hee teach knowledge? and whom shall hee make to vnderstand the things that hee heareth? them that are weaned from the milke, and drawn from the breasts.

10 For precept must be vpon precept, precept vpon precept, line vnto line, line vnto line, there a litle, and there a litle.

11 For with a hammering tongue, and with a strange language shall hee speake vnto this people.

12 Vnto whom he saith, This is the owne gates, g Meaning the hypocrites, which were among them, and were altogether corrupt in life & doctrine, which is here meant by drunkenness and vomiting.

h For there was none that was able to vnderstand any good doctrine, but were foolish, and vnmeet as young babes. i They must haue one thing ot times told, k Let one teach what he can, yet they shall no more vnderstand him, then if he spake in a strange language. l That is, the Prophet, whom God should send. m This is the doctrine which vpon ye ought to Bay and rest.

a Meaning, the proud kingdom of the Israelites which were drunken with worldly prosperitie.

b Because the Israelites for the most part dwelt in plentiful valleys, he meaneth hereby the valley of them that had abundance of worldly prosperitie, and were as it were crowned therewith, as with garlands.

c He seemeth to meane the Assyrians, by whom theen tribes were carried away.

d Which is not of long continuance, but is soon ripe, and soon eaten.

e Signifying, that the faithfull, which put not their trust in any worldly prosperitie, but made God their glory, shall be preferred.

f He will giue counsel to the gouernour, and strength to the captain, to driue the enemies in at their owne gates.

g Meaning the hypocrites, which were among them, and were altogether corrupt in life & doctrine, which is here meant by drunkenness and vomiting.

h For there was none that was able to vnderstand any good doctrine, but were foolish, and vnmeet as young babes.

l That is, the Prophet, whom God should send. m This is the doctrine which vpon ye ought to Bay and rest.

n Shew to them that are weary and have need of rest, what is the true rest.

o Because they will not receive the word of God when it is offered, it cometh of their owne malice, if after their hearts be so hardened, that they care not for it as before, Chap. 6. 9.

p They thought they had fitted to auoid Gods iudgements, and that they could escape though al other perished.

q Though the Prophets condemned their idoles and vaine trust of falsehood and vanities, yet the wicked thought in themselves that they would trust in these things.

rest : a guest rest to him that is weary : and this is the refreshing, but they would not hear.

13 Therefore shall the word of the Lord be vnto them precept vpon precept, precept vpon precept, line vnto line, line vnto line, there a little, and there a little, that they may goe and fall backward, and be broken and be shamed, and be taken.

14 Therefore heare the word of the Lord, ye scornfull men that rule his people, which is at Ierusalem,

15 Because ye haue said, We haue made a c^c covenant with death, and with hell are wee at agreement: though a scourge runne ouer, and passe thorough, it shall not come at vs: for wee haue made a falschoode our refuge, and vnder banities are wee hid,

16 Therefore thus sayeth the Lord God, Behold, I will lay in Zion a stone, a tried stone, a precious corner stone, a sure foundation. He that breketh, I shall not make haile.

17 Iudgement also will I lay to the rule, and a righteousnesse to the balance, and the halle shall swerpe away the vaine confidence, and the waters shall overflowe the fecer place.

18 And your conenant with death shall be disannulled, and your agreement with hell shall not stand: when a scourge shall runne ouer and passe thorough, then shall ye be trode downe by it.

19 When he passerth ouer, it shall take you away: for it shall passe through eueri morning in the day, and in the night, and there shall be onely f^r fear to make you to vnderstand the hearing.

20 For the bed is : strait that it cannot suffice, and the couering narrow that one cannot wrap himselfe.

21 For the Lord shall stand as in mount : Berazin : hee shall be woth as in the balley of Sion, that hee may doe his worke, his strange worke, and bring to passe his act, his strange act.

22 Now therefore bee no mockers, least your bonds increase : for I haue heard of the Lord of hostes a consumption, euen determined vpon the whole earth.

23 Hearken ye, and heare my voyce, hearken ye and heare my speech.

24 Doeth the plowman plow all the day, to sow? doth he open and breake the clots of the ground?

25 When hee hath made it plaine, will hee not then sow the s^ceds, and sow cummin, and cast in wheate by measure, and the appointed barley and rie in their place? 26 For his God doth instruct him to haue discretion and doth teach him.

27 For s^ceds shall not be threshed, with a threshing instrument, neither shall a cart wheele bee turned about vpon the cummin : but the s^ceds are beaten out with a flasse, and cummin with a rod.

28 Bread come when it is threshed, hee doeth not alway thresh it, neither doeth hee the wheele of his cart fill it make a noyse, neither will he breake it with the reeth thereof.

29 This also cometh from the Lord of hostes, which is wonderfull in counsaile, and excellent in doings.

C H A P. XXIX.

1 A prophesie against Ierusalem. 13 The vengeance of God on them that follow the traditions of Man.

A^h Altar, altar of the cite that Dauid dwelt in: adde yece vnto yece: b let them kill lambs.

2 But I will bring the altar into distress, and there shall be heauines, and sorrow, and it shall be vnto me like an Altar.

3 And I will bessege thee as a circle, and fight against thee on a mount, and will cast by ramparts against thee.

4 So shalt thou be humbled, and shalt speake out of the d^e ground, and thy speech shall be as out of the dust: thy voyce also shall be out of the ground like him that hath a spirit of diuination, and thy talking shall wipe out of the dust.

5 Moreover, the multitude of thy strangers shall bee like small dust: and the multitude of strong men shall be as chaffe that passeth away, and it shall be in a moment, euen suddenly.

6 Thou shalt bee visited of the Lord of hostes with thunder and shaking and a great noyse, a whirlwinde, and a tempest, and a flame of a deuouring fire.

7 And the multitude of all the nations that fight against y^e altar, shall be as a dreame or vision by night: euen all they that make the war against it, and strong holds against it, and lay siege vnto it.

8 And it shall bee like as an hungry man dreameth, and behold, he eateth: and when he awaketh his soule is empty: o like as a thirsty man dreameth, and so, he is drinking, and when he awaketh, behold, he is faint, and his soule longeth: so shall the multitude of all nations bee that fight against mount Zion.

9 Stay your selues and wonder: they are blinde, and make you blinde: they are drunken, but not with wine: they stagger but not by strong drinke.

10 For the Lord hath covered you with a b Your vaine confidence in your sacrifices shall not last long.

c Your city shall be full of blood as an Altar whereon they sacrifice.

d Thy speech shall be no more so lesly, but abased and low, as the very charmers, which are in low places, and whisper so that their voice can scarce be heard.

e Thine hired soldiers in whom thou trustest shall be destroyed as dust or chaffe in a whirlwinde.

people come neere vnto mee with their mouth, and honour mee with their lippes but haue remoued their heart farre from me, and their feare toward mee was taught by the precept of men,

14 Therefore behold, I will againe doe marvellous worke, and a wonder: for the wisdom of their wife men shall perish,

and the vnderstanding of their prudent men shall be hid.

halted to iniquitie shall be cut off:

21 Which made a man to sinne in the word, and tooke him in a snare: which re-proued them in the gate, and made the iust to fall without cause.

22 Therefore thus saith the Lord vnto
the house of Iacob, euen hee that redemed Abraham, Iacob shall not now bee confounded, neither now shall his face bee pale.

23 But when hee seeth his children, the worke of mine handes, in the mids of him
they shall sanctifie my name, and sanctifie
the holy one of Iacob, and shall feare the God of Israel.

24 Then they that erred in spirit, shall haue vnderstanding, and they that murmured shall learne doctrine.

W De to the rebellious children, sayth
the Lord, that take counsell, but not to strengthen themselves with the strength of Pharaoh, and trust in the shadow of E-they shall helpe in vaine. Therefore haue

I cryed vnto her, Their strength is to lie

15 For thus saith the Lord God, the holy One of Israel, In rest and quietnes shall ye be saved: in quietnes and confidence shall be your strength, but ye would not.

16 For ye have said, No, but wee will flee away upon horses. Therefore shall ye flee, and will ride upon the swiftest. Therefore shall your persecuters be swift.

17 A thousand as one shall flee at the rebuke of one: at the rebuke of five shall ye flee, till ye be left as a ship mast upon the top of a mountaine, and as a bracon upon an hill.

18 Yet therefore will the Lord waite; that hee may haue mercy vpon you, and therefore will he be exalted, that he may haue compassion vpon you: for the Lord is the God of iudgement. Blessed are all they that waite for him.

19 Surely a people shall dwell in Zion, and in Ierusalem: thou shalt weepe no more: hee will certainly haue mercy vpon thee at the voice of thy cry: when hee heareth thee, he will answer thee.

20 And when the Lord hath given you the bread of aduersitie, and the water of affliction, thy raine shall be no more kept backe, but thine eyes shall see thy raine.

21 And thine eares shall heare a word behind thee, saying, This is the way, walke ye in it, when thou turnest to the right hand, and when thou turnest to the left.

22 And ye shall pollute the coneruing of the images of silver, and the rich ornament of thine images of gold, and cast them away as a menstruous cloth, and thou shalt say vnto it, Get thee hence.

23 Then shall hee giue raine vnto thy seed, when thou shalt sow the ground, and bread of the increase of the earth, and it shall be fat, and as oyle: in that day shall thy cattell bee fed in large pastures.

24 The open also and the yong asses, that till the ground, shall eate cleane prowender, which is winnowed with the shouel, and with the fanne.

25 And vpon every high mountaine, and vpon every high hill shall there be rivers and streames of waters, in the day of the great slaughter, when the towres shall fall.

26 Moreover, the light of the Moone shall be as the light of the Sunne, and the light of the Sunne shall be seven fold, and like the light of seven dayes in the day that the Lord shall binde up the breach of his people, and heale the stroke of their wound.

27 Behold, the Name of the Lord cometh from farre, his face is burning, and the burden thereof is heauie, his lips are full of indignation, and his tongue is as a deuouring fire.

28 Behold, the Name of the Lord cometh from farre, his face is burning, and the burden thereof is heauie, his lips are full of indignation, and his tongue is as a deuouring fire.

28 And his Spirit is as a river that ouerfloweth vnto the necke: it shall deliuer a sinner, to fayne the nations with the fanne of vanity: and there shall be a hidde to cause them to erre in the lawes of the people.

29 But there shall bee a song vnto you as in the night, when a solemn feast is kept: and gladnesse of heart, as hee that commeth with a pipe to goe vnto the mount of the Lord, to the highry one of Israel.

30 And the Lord shall cause his glorious voyce to be heard, and shall declare the lighting downe of his arme, with the anger of his countenance, and flame of a deuouring fire, with scattering and tempest, and hailstones.

31 For with the voyce of the Lord shall Alhur bee destroyed, which vnite with the rod.

32 And in every place that the staffe shall passe, it shall cleaue fall, which the Lord shall lay vpon him with tabrets and harpe, and with battels, and lifting up of hands shall hee fight against it.

33 For Egypt is prepared of olde: it meaning the As is euen prepared for the King: hee hath bylonians and Babel made it deepe and large: the burning thereof is fire and much wood: the breath of the Lord, like a river of byrmstone, doth kinde it.

34 And in every place that the staffe shall passe, it shall cleaue fall, which the Lord shall lay vpon him with tabrets and harpe, and with battels, and lifting up of hands shall hee fight against it.

35 For Egypt is prepared of olde: it meaning the As is euen prepared for the King: hee hath bylonians and Babel made it deepe and large: the burning thereof is fire and much wood: the breath of the Lord, like a river of byrmstone, doth kinde it.

CHAP. XXXI.

1 Hee curseth them that forsake God, and seeks for the helpe of man.

WDe vnto them that goe downe into Egypt for helpe, and stay vpon horses, and trust in chariots, because they ate many, and in horsemen, because they bee very strong: but they looke not vnto the holy One of Israel, nor seeke vnto the Lord.

2 But hee yet is wisest: therefore hee will bring euill, and not turne backe his word, but he will arise against the house of the wicked, and against the helpe of them that worke vanity.

3 Now the Egyptians are men, and not God, and their horses flesh, and not spirit: and when the Lord shall stretch out his hand, the helper shall fall, and hee that is holpen shall fall, and they shall altogether faile.

4 For thus hath the Lord spoken vnto mee, As the lyon of byrons whelpes roareth vpon his pray, against whom is a multitude of shepherds hee called, hee will not bee afraide at their voyce, neither will hee humble himselfe at their voyce: so shall they forsake the Lord, that put their trust in worldly helpe: for they cannot trust in both, C And knoweth their enterprise, and will bring all to nought, D Meaning, both the Egyptians and the Israelites.

f Against Babel, g Here it is taken for hell, where the wicked are tormented.

h So that their estate or degree cannot exempt the wicked. i By these figuratiues (speeches) hee declareth the condition of the wicked after this life.

a There were two speciall causes, why the Israelites should not ioyne amitie with the Egyptians: first, because the Lord had commanded them neuer to returne thither, Deut. 17. 16. and 28. 68. lest they should forget the benefit of their redemption: and secondly lest they should be corrupted with the superstition and idolatry of the Egyptians, and so forsake God.

the Lord of hostes come: downe to fight for mount Zion, and for the hill thereof.

5 As birds shall sit, so shall the Lord of hostes defend Jerusalem by defending and securing, by passing through and preserving it.

6 O yee children of Israel, turne againe, in as much as yee are f lunkin deepe in rebellion.

7 For in that day, every man shall cast out his idoles of silver, and his idoles of gold, which your handes have made you, even a sinne.

8 Then shall Sathan fall by the sword, not of man, neither shall the sword of man devour him, and hee shall flee from the sword, and his young men shall faint.

9 And he shall goe for feare to his tower, and his princes shall bee afraine of the standard, sayeth the Lord, whose fire is in Zion, and his furnace in Jerusalem.

CHAP. XXXII:

The conditions of good rulers and officers described by the government of Hezekiah, who was the figure of Christ.

a This prophesie is of Hezekiah, who was a figure of Christ, and therefore it ought chiefly to be referred to him.

b By judgement and iustice is meant an upright government both in policy and religion.

c Where men are wearie with travelling for lacke of water.

d He promitteth to give the true light, which is the pure doctrine of Gods word, and understanding, and zeale of the same, contrary to f threatening against the wicked, Chap. 6. 9. and 29. 10.

e Vice shall no more be called vertue, nor vertue esteemed by power and riches.

f Hee prophesieth of such calamitie to come, that they will not spare the women and children, and therefore will let them to take heede and provide.

Behold, a King shall reigne in iustice, and the Princes shall rule in iudgement.

2 And that man shall bee as an hiding place from the winde, and as a refuge for the tempest: as rivers of water in a dry place, and as the shadow of a great rocke in a wearie land.

3 The eyes of the d seeing shall not bee shut, and the eares of them that heare, shall hearken.

4 And the heart of the foolish shall understand knowledge, and the tongue of the flatterers shall bee ready to speake distinctly.

5 A niggard shall no more be called libeall, nor the churle rich.

6 But the niggard will speake of niggardnesse, and his heart will worke iniquitie, and doe wickedly, and speake falsely against the Lord, to make emptie the hungry soule, and to cause the drinke of the churle to taste.

7 For the weapons of the churle are wicked: hee deviseth wicked counsels, to vnder the poore with lying wordes, and to speake against the poore in iudgement.

8 But the libeall man will devise of libeall things, and hee will continue his libeallitie.

9 Rise up yee women, that are at ease: heare my voyce, yee carelesse daughters:

hearken to my wordes.

10 Ye women, that are carelesse, shall bee in feare: about a yeere in dayes: h for the vintage shall faile, and the gathering shall come no more.

11 Ye women that are at ease, be astonished: feare, O yee carelesse women: put off the clothes: make bare, and gird sackcloth upon the loynes.

12 Men shall lament for the teares, even for the pleasaunt fields, and for the fruitfull vine.

13 Upon the land of my people shall grow thornes and briers: yea, upon all the houses of ioy in the cite of reioicing.

14 Because the palace shall bee forsaken, and the h myse of the cite shall bee left: the tower and fourreshall bee demnes for euer, and the delight of wilde asses, and a pasture for flockes.

15 Until the Spirit bee powred upon us from above, and the wilderness become a fruitfull field, and the plenteous field be counted as a forest.

16 And iudgement shall dwell in the desert, and iustice shall remaine in the fruitfull field.

17 And the worke of iustice shall be peace, even the worke of iustice and quietnesse, and assurance for euer.

18 And my people shall dwell in the tabernacle of peace, and in sure dwellings, and in safe resting places.

19 When it shall be, it shall fall on the forest, and the cite shall bee in the low place.

ked, yf to comfort the godly, lest they should faint. i The field which is now fruitfull, shall bee but as a barren forest in comparison of that it shall be then, as Chap. 29. 17. which shall be fulfilled in Christs time: for then they that were before as the barren wilderness, being regenerate, shall be fruitfull, and they that had some beginning of godlinesse, shall bring forth fruits in such abundance, that their former life shall seeme but as a wilderness where no fruits were. m They shall not need to build it in high places for feare of the enemy: for God will defend it, and turn away the stormes from hurting of their comodities. n That is, yf far ground and well watered, which bringeth forth in abundance or in places which before were covered with waters, and now made dry for your vies. o The fields shall bee so ranke, that they shall send out their cattell to eate vp the first crop, which abundance shall be signes of Gods fauour and loue towards them.

CHAP. XXXIII.

2 And Lord haue mercy vpon vs, we haue waited for thee: be thou, which waitest their arme in the morning, our helpe also in time of trouble.

3 At the noyse of the tumulte, the people fled: at thine exalting, the nations were scattered.

4 And your people shall be gathered like the gathering of caterpillers; and he shall goe against him like the leaping of grasshoppers.

5 The Lord is exalted: for he dwelleth on high: he hath filled Zion with iudgement and iustice.

6 And there shall be stabilitie of thy times, strength, saluation, wisdom and knowledge: for the feare of the Lord shall be his creatur.

7 Beholde, their messengers shall cry without, and the ambassadors of peace shall weepe bitterly.

8 The paths are walke: the wayfaring man ceaseth, hee hath broken the covenant: hee hath contemned the cities: hee regarded no man.

9 The earth mourneth and fainteth: Lebanon is ashamed, and betweene downe: Sharon is like a wilderness, and Bashan is shaken and Carmel.

10 Now will I be exalted, now will I lift up my selfe.

12 And the people shall bee as the burning of lime, and as the thornes cut vp, shall they be burnt in the fire.

13 Feare, yee that are farre off, what I haue done, and yee that are nere, know my power.

14 The sinners in Zion are afraid: a feare is come vpon the hypocrites: who among vs shall dwell with the deuouring fire? who among vs shall dwell with the consuming burnings?

15 Hee that walketh in iustice, and spea- keth righteous things, refusing game of oppression, shaking his hands from taking of gifts, stopping his eares from hearing of blood, and shutting his eyes from seeing euill.

16 Hee shall dwell on high: his defence shall bee the munitions of rockes: bread shall bee giuen him, and his waters shall bee sure.

17 Thine eyes shall see the King in his glorie: they shall beholde the land farre off.

18 Thine heart shall meditate feare, where is the scribe: where is the receiuer: where is hee that counted the towers?

19 Thou shalt not see a fierce people, a people of a backe speech, that thou shalt not perceiue, and of a stammering tongue, that thou shalt not vnderstand.

20 Looke vpon Zion the cite of our so- lomne feastes: thine eyes shall see Ierusalem a quiet habitation, a tabernacle that cannot be remooued, and the stakes thereof can neuer bee taken away, neither shall any of the cordes thereof be broken.

21 For surely there the mighty Lord will bee vnto vs, as a place of floods and broad rivers, whereby shall passe no shippe with oares, neither shall great shippes passe thereby.

22 For the Lord is our Iudge, the Lord is our Lawgiuer: the Lord is our King, he will saue vs.

23 Thy coards are loosed: they could not well strengthen their mass, neither could they spread the sail: then shall the praye be diuided for a great spoile: yea, the same shall take away the praye.

24 And none inhabitant shall say, I am sicke: the people that dwell therein, shall haue their iniquity forgotten.

from this feare. x Let vs bee content with this small riu- er of Shiloah, and not desire the great streames and rivers, whereby the enemies may bring in ships and destroy vs. a Hee derideth the Assyrians and enemies of the Church, declaring their destruction, as they that perish by shipwracke. b He comforteth the Church, and sheweth that they shall bee enriched with all benefits both of body and soule.

a He sheweth that God punisheth the wicked for the leues that he beareth toward his Church.

Come nere, ye nations and heare, and hearken, yee people: let the earth heare, and all that is therein, the world and all that proceedeth thereof.

2 For the indignation of the Lord is vpon all nations, and his wrath vpon all their armies: hee hath destroyed them and deli- uered them to the slaughter.

3 And their slake shall be cast out, and their stinke shall come vp out of their bodies, and the mountaines shall bee melted with their blood.

4 And all the host of heauen shall be dissolved, and the heuens shall bee folded like a booke: and all their hostes shall fall as the leafe falleth from the vine, and as it falleth from the figge tree.

5 For my sword shall be drunken in the thinketh that heauen and earth perisheth, and I haue determined in my secret counsell, and in the heauen to destroy them, till my sword be weary with shedding of blood.

6 Then shall the lame man leape as a hart, and the dumbe mans tongue shall sing: for in the wilderness shall waters break out, and riuers in the desert.

7 And the drie ground shall be as a pool, and the thiristie as springs of water: in the habitation of dragons where they lay, shall be a place for reedes and rushes.

1 Sanctheri fenderh Ralsbach to be sage Ierusalem. 15 His blasphemies against God.

Now in the fourteenth yere of King Hezekiah, Saneherib King of Assur came by against all the strong cities of Iudah, and tooke them.

2 And the King of Assur sent Rabshakeh from Lachish toward Ierusalem vnto King Hezekiah with a great host, and hee stood by the conduit of the upper pool, in the path of the fullers field.

3 Then came forth vnto him Eliakim the

1 The great joy of them that believe in Christ.

2 Their office which preach the Gospel, 3 The fruites that follow thereof.

For he was now restored to his office, as Iſaiah had prophesied, Chap. 52, 20. d This declareth that there were few godly to be found in kings house, when he was driven to send this wicked man in such a weighty matter. e Saneherib chief captain, i He speaketh this in the person of Hezekiah, falsely charging him, f he put his trust in his wit, & eloquence, whereas he only could, hence was in the Lord.

g Saran laboured to pull the godly king from one vaine confidence to another, i o wit, from trust in the Egyptians whose power was weak and would deceive them, to yield himselfe to the Assyrians, & to not to hope for any helpe of God.

j Or, youn backe, k He reprocheth to Hezekiah his small power, which is not able to resist one of Saneherib's least capitaines.

l Thus the wicked to deceive w will pretend the Name of the Lord, but wee must try the spirit, whether they be of God or no.

m They were afraid lest by his words he should have stirred the people against the king, and so pretended to grow to some appointment with him, n Ebr, the water of their feet. 1 The Hebrew word signifieth blessing: whereby this wicked captain would have persuaded the people, that their condition should be better vnder Saneherib, then vnder Hezekiah.

Some of Iſitiah the steward of the house, and Shebna the chancellor, and Ioaab the sonne of Iſaph the recorder.

4 And Rabſhakeb layde vnto them, Tell you Hezekiah, I pray you, Thus sayeth the great King, the King of Aſſur, what confidence is this wherein thou trustest?

5 I say, Surely I have eloquence, but counsell and strength are for the warre: on whom thou dost thou trust, that thou rebellest against mee?

6 Loe, thou trustest in this broken staffe of reeder, on Egypt, wherupon if a man lean, it will goe into his hand and pierce it: so is Saneherib king of Egypt vnto all that trust in him.

7 But if thou say vnto mee, Wee trust in the Lord our God: Is not that hee whose high places and whose altars Hezekiah tooke downe, and layd to Iudah and to Ierusalem, shall worship before this Altar.

8 Nowe therefore giue hostages to my lord the King of Aſſur, and I will giue thee two thousand horses, if thou bee able on thy part to set riders vpon them.

9 For how canst thou despise any captain of the least of my lords seruants? and put thy trust on Egypt for chariots and for horsemen?

10 And am I now come by without the Lord to this land to destroy it? The Lord said vnto mee, Goe vp against this land and destroy it.

11 Then said Eliakim, and Shebna, and Ioaab vnto Rabſhakeb, Speake, I pray thee, to thy seruants, in the Aramite language, (for wee understand it) and talke not with vs in the Jewes tongue, in the audience of the people that are on the wall.

12 Then said Rabſhakeb, Hath my master sent mee to thy master, and to thee, to speake these wordes, and not to the men that sit on the wall, that they may eate their owne dung, and drinke their owne piss with you?

13 So Rabſhakeb stood and cried with a loud voyce in the Jewes language, and said, Heare the wordes of the great King, of the King of Aſſur.

14 Thus saith the King, Let not Hezekiah deceive you: for he shall not be able to deliver you.

15 Neither let Hezekiah make you to trust in the Lord, saying, The Lord will surely deliver vs: this citie shall not be giuen over into the hand of the king of Aſſur.

16 Hearken not to Hezekiah: for thus saith the king of Aſſur, Make appointment with me, and come out to me, that every man may eate of his owne vine, and every man of his owne fig tree, and drinke every man the water of his owne well.

17 Till I come a bring you to a land like your owne land, even a land of wheate and wine, a land of bread and vineyards,

18 Let Hezekiah deceive you, saying, The Lord will deliver vs. Woe any of the gods of the nations delivered his land out of the hand of the king of Aſſur?

19 Where is the god of Hamath, and of Arpad? where is the god of Shepharaim: or how haue they delivered Samaria out of mine hand?

20 Where is he among all the gods of these lands that hath delivered their country out of mine hand, that the Lord should deliver Ierusalem out of mine hand?

21 Then they kept silence, and answered him not a word: for the kings commandement was, saying, Answer him not.

22 Then came Eliakim the sonne of Iſitiah the steward of the house, and Shebna the chancellor, and Ioaab the sonne of Iſaph the recorder, vnto Hezekiah with rent clothes, and tolde him the wordes of Rabſhakeb.

a Hezekiah after counsell of Iſaiah who promiſeth him the victorie, 10 The blasphemie of Saneherib, 16 Hezekiah's prayer, 36 The army of Saneherib is slain of the Angel, 38 and he himselfe of his owne sinnes.

AND when the king Hezekiah heard it, he rent his clothes, and put on sackcloth, and came into the house of the Lord.

2 And he sent Eliakim the steward of the house, and Shebna the chancellor, with the Elders of the Priestes clothed in sackcloth, vnto Iſaiah the Prophet, the sonne of Amoz.

3 And they said vnto him, Thus saith Hezekiah, This day is a day of tribulation and of rebuke and blasphemy: for the children are come to the birth, and there is no strength to bring forth.

4 If so be the Lord thy God hath heard the wordes of Rabſhakeb, whom the king of Aſſur his master hath sent to calle on the liuing God, and to reproach him with wordes which the Lord thy God hath heard, then lett thou by thy prayer for the remnant that are left.

5 So the seruants of the King Hezekiah came to Iſaiah.

6 And Iſaiah said vnto them, Thus say vnto your master, Thus saith the Lord, Be not afraid of y wordes that thou hast heard, wherewith the seruants of the king of Aſſur haue blasphemed me.

7 Whereof, I will send a blast vpon him, declare by effect that he hath heard it: For when God deſereth to punish, it seemeth to the flesh, that he knoweth not the sinne, or heareth not the cause. e Declaring that the ministers office doth not onely stand in comforting by the word, but also in praying for the people.

m That is, of Antiochia in Syria, of the which these two other cities also were wherby we see how every towne had his peculiar idole, and how the wicked make God an idole, because they doe not understand that God maketh them his scourge and punisher: Not that they did not shew by euident signes that they did deſert his blasphemie: for they had now rent their clothes, but they knew it was in vaine to vie long reasoning with this infidell, whose rage they should haue so much more prouoked.

ABout that time was Hezekiah sicke vnto the death, and the Prophet Isaiah sonne of Amos came vnto him, and said vnto him, Thus saith the Lord, Put thine house in an order, for thou shalt dye, and not liue.

2 Then Hezekiah turned his face to the wall, and prayed vnto the Lord,

3 And said, I beseech thee, Lord, remember now how I haue walked before thee in truth, and with a perfect heart, and haue done that which is good in thy sight: and Hezekiah wept sore.

4 Then came the word of the Lord to Isaiah, saying,

5 Goe, and say vnto Hezekiah, Thus saith the Lord God of Dauid thy father, I haue heard thy prayer, and seene thy teares: behold, I will add vnto thy dayes fifteene yeeres.

6 And I will deliuer thee out of the hand of the King of Assyria, and this city: for I will defend this city.

7 And this signe shalt thou haue of the Lord, that the Lord will doe this thing that he hath spoken,

8 Behold, I will bring againe the shadow of the degrees (whereby it is gone downe in the diall of Ahaz by the sunne) ten degrees backward: so the sunne returned by ten degrees: by the which degrees it was gone downe.

9 The writing of Hezekiah king of Iudah, when he had bene sicke, and was recovered of his sickness.

10 I said in the cutting off of my dayes, I shall go to the gates of the graue: I am depriued of the residue of my yeeres.

11 I said, I shall not see the Lord, euen the Lord in the land of the liuing: I shall see man no more among the inhabitants of the world.

12 Mine habitation is departed, and is removed from mee like a shepherd: rent: I haue cut off like a weauer my life: bee will cut mee off from the height: from day to night thou wilt make an end of me.

13 I reckoned to the morning: but bee brake all my bones like a lion: from day to night wilt thou make an end of me.

14 Like a crane or a swallowe, so did I chatter: I did mourne as a dove: mine eyes were lift vp on high, O Lord, it hath oppressed me, comfort me.

15 What shall I say? for hee hath sayd to me, and hee hath done it: I shall walke in nakedly all my yeeres in the bitterness of my soule.

16 O Lord, to them that surseue them, and to all that are in them, the life of my spirit shall bee knowne, that thou causest me to creep, and hast giuen life to me.

17 Beholde, for felicitie I had bitter griefe, but it was thy pleasure to deliuer my soule from the pit of corruption: for thou hast cast all my sinnes behind thy backe.

18 For the graue cannot praise thee: death cannot praise thee: they that goe downe into the pit, cannot hope for thy truth.

19 But the liuing, the liuing he shall confesse thee, as I doe this day: the father to the children shall declare thy truth.

20 The Lord was ready to slay me: therefore wee will sing my Song all the dayes of our life in the house of the Lord.

21 Then sayde Isaiah, Take a lump of dye like this, and lay it vpon the soyle, and bee shall recover.

22 Also Hezekiah had sayd, What is the signe that I shall goe by into the house of the Lord?

23 They that shall ouerline the men that are now alieue, and all they that are in these yeeres, shall acknowledge this benefit: That after that thou haddest condemned me to death, thou restoredst me to life.

24 Whereas I thought to haue liued in rest and ease, being deliuered from mine enemy, I had griefe vpon griefe.

25 Heesteemeth more the remission of his sinnes, and Gods fauour, then a thousand liues.

By my sinne I haue provoked God to take my life from me. k That is, in one day, or shortly. l Ouer night I thought that I should liue till morning, but my pangs in the night perswaded me the contrary: he sheweth the horror that the faithfull haue, when they apprehend Gods iudgement against their sinne.

m I was oppressed with sorrow that I was not able to venter my words, but only to groane and sigh.

n To grieue, sorrow and to write both of body and minde.

o God hath declared by his Prophets that I shall die, and therefore I will yeeld vnto him.

p I shall haue no release, but continuall sorrowes while I liue.

q They that shall ouerline the men that are now alieue, and all they that are in these yeeres, shall acknowledge this benefit: That after that thou haddest condemned me to death, thou restoredst me to life.

of Babel, sent letters and a present to Hezekiah: for he had heard that he had bene sick, and was recovered.

2 And Hezekiah was glad of them, and showed them the house of the treasures, the silver and the gold, and the spices, and the precious oylment, and all the house of his armour, and all that was found in his treasures: there was nothing in his house nor in all his kingdom that Hezekiah showed them not.

3 Then came Isaiah the Prophet vnto King Hezekiah, and said vnto him, What said these men? And from whence came they to thee? And Hezekiah said, They are come from a farre countrey vnto mee, from Babel.

4 Then said he, What haue they seen in thine house? And Hezekiah answered, All that is in mine house haue they seen: there is nothing among my treasures that I haue not shewed them.

5 And Isaiah said to Hezekiah, Heare the word of the Lord of hosts.

6 Behold, the dayes come, that all that is in thine house, and which thy fathers haue laid up in store vntill this day, shall be carried to Babel: nothing shall be left, saith the Lord.

7 And of thy sonnes, that shall procede out of thee, and which thou shalt beget, shall they take away, and they shall be eunuchs in the palace of the King of Babel.

8 Then said Hezekiah to Isaiah, The word of the Lord is good, which thou hast spoken: and he said, Yet let there be peace and truth in my daies.

CHAP. XI.

2 Remission of sinnes by Christ. 3 The coming of Iohn Baptist. 18 The Prophet reproveh the idolaters, and them that trust not in the Lord.

a This is a consolation for the Church assuring them that they shall be neuer destitute of Prophets, whereby he exhorted the true ministers of God that then were, and those also that should come after him, to comfort the poore afflicted, and to assure them of their deliuerance both of body and soule.

b The time of her affliction, c Meaning, sufficient, as Chap. 61. 7. and full correction, or double grace, whereas the deserued double punishment, d To wit, of the Prophets. e That is, in Babylon and other places where they were kept in captivity and miserie. f Meaning, Cyrus and Darius, which should deliuer Gods people out of captivity, and make them a ready way to Ierusalem: and this was fully accomplished, when Iohn the Baptist brought tidings of Iesus Christs coming, who was the true deliuerer of his Church from sinne and Satan, Math. 3. 3. g Whatsoeuer may let or hinder this deliuerance, shall be removed.

Comfort ye, comfort ye my people, saith your God say.

2 Speake comfortably to Ierusalem, and cry vnto her, that her warfare is accomplished, that her iniquitie is pardoned: for she hath receiued of the Lords hand double for all her sinnes.

3 A voyce cryeth in the wilderness: Prepare ye the way of the Lord: make straight in the desert a path for our God.

4 Every valley shall be exalted, and euery mountaine and hill shall be made low: and the crooked shall be straight, and the rough places plaine.

5 And the glory of the Lord shall be reuealed, and all flesh shall see it together: for the mouth of the Lord hath spoken it.

6 A voyce said, Cry. And he said, What shall I cry? All flesh is grasse, and all the grace thereof is as the flower of the field.

The grasse withereth, the flower fadeth: because the spirit of the Lord bloweth vpon it: surely the people is grasse.

8 The grasse withereth, the flower fadeth: but the word of our God shall stand for euer.

9 O Zion, that bringest good tidings, get thee vp into the high mountaine: O Ierusalem, that bringest good tidings, lift vp thy voyce with strength: lift it vp, be not afraid: say vnto the cities of Iudah, Behold your God.

10 Behold, the Lord God will come with power, and his arme shall rule for him: behold his reward is with him, and his worke before him.

11 Hee shall feede his flocke like a shepherd: hee shall gather the lambs with his arme, and cary them in his bosome, and shall guide them with a yong.

12 Who hath measured the waters in his fist: or counted heauen with the spanne, and comprehended the dust of the earth in a measure: or weighed the mountaines in a weight, and the hills in a balance?

13 Who hath instructed the Spirit of the Lord: or was his counsellor, or taught him?

14 Of whomooke hee counsellor, and who instructed him, and taught him in the way of iudgement: or taught him in knowledge, and shewed vnto him the way of vnderstanding?

15 Beholde, the nations are as a drop of a bucket, and are counted as the dust of the ballance: beholde he taketh away the yles as a little dust.

16 And Lebanon is not sufficient for fire: nor the beasts thereof sufficient for a burnt offering.

17 All nations before him are as nothing, and they are counted to him lesse then nothing and vanity.

18 To whom then will ye liken God? or what similitude will ye set vp vnto him?

19 The workman melteth an image, or the goldsmith beateth it out in golde, or the goldsmith maketh silver plates.

to passe, q He shall shew his care and sauaour ouer them that are weak and tender. r Declaring that as GOD only hath all power, so doeth he vse the same for the defence and maintenance of his Church. s He sheweth Gods infinite wisdome for the same end and purpose. t Hee speaketh all this to the intent that they should neither feare man, nor put their trust in any saue only in God. u Hereby hee armeth them against the idolatry wherewith they should be tempted in Babylon. x Hee sheweth the rage of the idolaters, seeing that the poore, that haue not to lose their owne necessities, will defraude themselves to serue their idoles.

h This miracle shall be to great, that it shall be knowne thorow all the world.

i The voice of God, which spake to the Prophet Isaiah.

k Meaning, all mans wisdoms and natural powers, Lam. 1. 10.

l The Spirit of God shall discover the vanity in all that seems to haue any excellencie of themselves.

m Though considering the frailty of mans nature, many of the Iewes should perish and lo not be partakes of this deliuerance, yet Gods promise should be fulfilled, and they that remained, should see the fruit thereof.

n To publish this benefit through all the world.

o He sheweth at one word the perfection of all mans felicitie, which is, to haue Gods preience.

p His power shall be sufficient without helpe of any other, and shall haue all meanes in himselfe to bring his will that will not eat, for an oblation? hee seeth also unto him a cunning workman, to prepare an image, that shall not be moved.

21 Know ye nothing? have ye not heard? it hath been told you from the beginning: have ye not understood it by the foundation of the earth?

22 He stretcheth upon the circle of the earth, and the inhabitants thereof are as grasshoppers, he stretcheth out the heavens as a curtain, and spreadeth them out, as a tent to dwell in.

23 He bringeth the Princes to nothing, and maketh the Judges of the earth as dunces.

24 As though they were not planted, as though they were not sown, as though their stocke took no root in the earth: for he bloweth upon them, and they withered, and the whirlwind will take them away as stubble.

25 To whom now will ye liken me, that I should be like him, saith the Lord?

26 Lift by your eyes on high, and behold who hath created these things, and bringeth out their armies by number, and calleth them all by names: by the greatness of his power and mightie strength nothing faileth.

27 Why sayest thou, O Iakob, and speakest, O Israel, My way is hid from the Lord, and my Judgement is passed out of my God?

28 Knowest thou not? or hast thou not heard that the everlasting God, the Lord hath created the ends of the earth: he neither fainteth nor is weary: there is no searching of his understanding.

29 But seee giue strength unto him that fainteth, and unto him that hath no strength he encreaseth power.

30 Even the young men shall faint, and be weary, and the young men shall stumble and fall.

31 But they that waite upon the Lord, shall renew their strength: they shall lift by the wings as the eagles: they shall runne, and not be weary, and they shall walke and not faint.

32 They that trust in their owne vertue, and doe not acknowledge the all cometh of God.

CHAP. XLII.

2 Gods mercie in chusing his people, 6 Their idolatry, 7 Deliuance promised to Zion.

1 Repentance before me, O Iand, & let the people & erue their strength: let them come neerer, and let them speak: let vs come together into iudgement.

2 Altho raised by iustice from the East, and called him to his foot: and gaue the nations before him, and subdued the Kingdome: he gaue them as dust to his sword, and as scattered stubble unto his bow.

3 He pursued them, & passed softly by the way that he had not gone with his feet.

4 He was the pattern of Gods iustice in deliuering his Church from the viceroy of the Caldeans to go to and fro at his commandement, and placed him in the land of Canaan.

5 Altho had wrought, and done it: & yet that called the generations from the beginning, I the Lord am the first, and with the last I am the same.

6 The yles saw it, and were afraid, and the ends of the earth were abashed, they were, and came.

7 Every man helpe his neighbour, and saith to his brother, Be strong.

8 As the workman comforted the founder, and he that fineth with the hammer, him that fineth by course, saying, It is ready for the hewing, and he fastened it with nayles that it should not be moued.

9 But thou, Israel, art my servant, and thou Iakob, whom I haue chosen, the seed of Abraham my friend.

10 For I haue taken thee from the endes of the earth and called thee before the chiefe thereof, and said unto thee, Thou art my servant: I haue chosen thee, and not cast thee away.

11 Fear thou not, for I am with thee: bee not afraid, for I am thy God: I will strengthen thee, and help thee, I will sustain thee with the right hand of my iustice.

12 Behold, all they that prouoke thee shall be ashamed and confounded: they shall be as nothing, and they that strue with thee shall perish.

13 Thou shalt seeke them, and shalt not find them: to wit, the men of thy strife, for they shall be as nothing, and the men that warre against thee as a thing of nought.

14 For I the Lord thy God will hold thy right hand, saying unto thee, Feare not, I will helpe thee.

15 Fear not thou: I will helpe thee, saith the Lord, and thy redeemer the holy one of Israel.

16 Behold, I will make thee a roller, and a new threshing instrument hauing reed: thou shalt thresh the mountains, and bring them to powder, and shalt make the hills as chaffe.

17 Thou shalt fenne them, and the wind shall carry them away, and the whirlwinde shall scatter them: and thou shalt reioyce in the Lord, and shalt glory in the holy one of Israel.

18 When the poore and the needy seeke water, and there is none, (their tongue faileth for thirst: I the Lord will heare them: I the God of Israel will not forsake them.)

19 I will open euers in the toppes of the hills, and fountains in the mids of the valleys: I will make the wilderness as a pool of water, and the waste land as springs of water.

20 I will set in the wilderness the cedar, the fir tree, and the myrtle tree, and the pine tree, and I will set in the wilderness the fir tree, the elme and the boxe tree together.

21 That shall be afflicted in the captiuitie of Babylon, rather change the order of nature, than they should waite any thing, that crye to him by true faith in their miserie: declaring to them hereby that they shall do nothing by the way, when they returne from Babylon.

22 Who hath created man and maintained his succession?

23 Though the world see vs as a fool, yet they diminish nothing of my glory: for I am all one, vnchangeable, which haue ever bene, and shall be for ever.

24 Considering mine excellent workes among my people, they are miled themselves, and conspired against me to maintain their idolatry.

25 He that is the obstinacy of the idolaters to maintain their superstitions.

26 And therefore oughtest not to pollute thy selfe with the superstition of the Gentiles,

27 That is, by the force of my promise, in the performance whereof I will shew myselfe faithfull and true.

28 Because they shall be destroyed, thus he calleth them because they were contemned of all the world, and that they considering their own poore estate, should seek unto him for helpe.

29 I will make them able to destroy all his enemies, be they neuer so mighty: and this chiefly is referred to the kingdome of Christ.

30 That is, they shall be able to destroy all his enemies, be they neuer so mighty: and this chiefly is referred to the kingdome of Christ.

q That is, hath appointed, and determined that it shall so come to passe.

r Hee iddeth the idolaters to proue their religion, and to bring forth their idoles, that they may be tried whether they know all things, and can doe all things: which if they cannot doe, hee concludeth that they are no gods, but vile idoles.

Israel.

6 Thus sayeth the Lord the King of Israel, and his redeemer the Lord of hostes, I am the first, and I am the last, and without me there is no God.

7 And who is like mee, that shall call, and shall declare it, and set it in order before mee, since I appointed the ancient people: and what is at hand, and what things are to come: let them shew vnto them.

8 Feare ye not, neither bee afraid: haue not I told thee of old, and haue declared it: you are euen my witnesses, whether there be a God beside me, and that there is no God that I know not.

9 All they that make an image, are banitis, ^m and their delectable things shall nothing prosper: and they are their own witnesses, that they see nor no; know; therefore they shall be confounded.

10 Who hath made a god, or molten an image, that is profitable for nothing?

I I Behold, all that are of the ⁹ fellowship thereof, shall be confounded: for the worke men themselves are men: let them all bee ga thered together, and stand by, yet they shall fear, and be confounded together.

12 The smith taketh an instrument, and worketh in the coales, and fashioneth it with hammers, and worketh it with the strength of his armus; yea, he is an hungry, and his strength faileth; he drinketh no water, and is faint.

13 The carpenter stretcheth out a line: b faithfulness it with a red thread, he plainerd it and he putteth it with the compasse, and maketh it after the figure of a man, and ac cording to the beaute of a man, that it may remaine in an house.

14 He will hew him down cedars, and take the pine tree and the oak, and tuckage among the trees of the forest: he planteth a fir tree, and the cypress both new and old.

15 And man burneth thereof: for hee will take therof and warme himselfe: hee also kindleth it, and baketh bread, yet hee maketh a god and worshippeth it: hee maketh it an idole, and boweth vnto it.

16 Wee burneth the halfe thereof euen in the fire, and vpon the halfe thereof he^r eateth flesh: wee roseth the rose and is satisfied; alto wee warmeth himselfe and saith, Ah, I am warme, I haue bene at the fire.

17 And the residue thereof hee maketh god, euen his sole: hee boweth vnto it, and worshippeth and prayeth vnto it, and sayeth Decline me: for thou art my God.

18 They haue not knowen, nor vnder stood: for God hath shut their eyes that they cannot see, and their hearts, that they cannot vnderstand.

19 And none considereth in his heart neither is there knowledge nor understanding to say, I haue burnt halfe of it, euen in the fire, and haue baked bread also vpon the coales thereof: I haue roasted flesh, and eaten it, and shall I make the residue thereof an abomination: shall I bow to the stocke of trees?

He fettereth forth the obstinacy and malice of idolaters though they see by daily experience that their gods are not then the rest of the matter whereof they are made the one part, and make a god of the other. They make their cake god, and the rest of their idols either maketh a table or trenchers. y The People of God give an answer to all them that wonder how it is that they should be blind to commit such abominations. They say that hath blinded their eyes, and hardened their hearts.

n That is, the idolaters seeing their idols
blind, must needs be witnesses of their owne blindness,
and feeling that they are not able to helpe them,
must confesse
that they haue
no power.

whatsoever is made by the hand of man, if it be esteemed
as God, is most despicable.

p Whereby appeareth their blasphemie, which call images the bookes of the laitie, seeing that they are no only here called vnprofitable, but Chap. 41. 24 abominable: and Ieremie calleth them the worke of errors, Ierem. 10. 15, Habakkuk, a lying teacher,

CHAP. XLV.

1 The deliverance of the people by Cyrus, 9 God is just in all his workes. 20 The calling of the Gentiles.

To assure the Iewes of their deliverance against the great tentation that they should abide, he nameth
the person and the meane.
b Because Cyrus should execute the office of a deliverer, God called him his anointed for a time, but after another sort then
he called David.
c To guide him
in his deliverance of my people d I will take away all impediments and lesse e Not that Cyrus did know God to worship him aright, but hee had a certaine particular knowledge as prophane men may have of his power, and so was compelled to deliver Gods people

f Not for anything that is in thee, or for thy worthinesse.

21 Remember these (O Iacob and Israel) for thou art my servant: I have formed thee: thou art my servant: O Israel forget me not.

22 I have put away thy transgressions like a cloud, and thy iniquities as a mist: turne unto me, for I have redeemed thee.

23 Rejoyce yee heavens: for the Lord hath done it: shoute, yee lower parts of the earth: bragge forth into prayles, yee moun-taines, O forest, and every tree therein: for the Lord hath redeemed Iacob, and will be glorified in Israel.

24 Thus saith the Lord thy redeemer, and he that formed thee from the wombe, I am y Lord that made all things, that spread out the heavens alone, and stretched out the earth by my selfe.

25 I destroy the tokens of the foolhardy-ners, and make them that contemne, foolish, and turne the wisemen backward, and make their knowledge foolishnesse.

26 I have confirmed the word of my servant, and performed the counsell of his messengers, saying to Ierusalem, Thou shalt bee inhabited: and to the cities of Iudah, Yee shall bee built up, and I will repaire the de-cayed places thereof.

27 He saith to the deepe, Be drye, and I will drye by thy floods.

28 He saith to Cyrus, Thou art my shep-heard: and hee shall performe all my desire:
saying also to Ierusalem, Thou shalt bee built: and to the Temple, Thy foundation shall bee surely laid.

5 I am the Lord, and there is none other:
there is no God beside me: I stirred thee
though thou hast not known me,

6 That they may know from the rising of the sunne and from the West, that there is none besides me, I am the Lord, and there is none other.

7 I forme the light and create dark-nesse: I make peace and create euill: I the Lord doe all these things.

8 Yee heavens sende the dewe from aboue, and let the cloudes droppe downe righteousnesse: let the earth open, and let saluation and iustice grow forth: let it bring them forth together: I the Lord have created him.

9 Goe be unto him that striueth with his maker, the porter with the porters of the earth: shall the clay say to him that fashioneth it, What makest thou: or thy work,
What hath mine hands?

10 Goe unto him that saith to his father,
What hast thou begotten: or to his mother,
What hast thou brought forth?

11 Thus saith the Lord, the Holy one of Israel, and his maker, Like mee of things to come concerning my sonnes, and concerning the workes of mine hands: command you me.

12 I have made the earth, and created man vpon it: I, whose handes haue spread out the heavens, I have euen commanded all their army.

13 I have rayled* him vpon in righteous-nesse, and I will direct all his wayes: hee shall build my citie, & hee shall let goe my captiues, not for price nor reward, saith the Lord of holies.

14 Thus saith the Lord, The labour of Egypt, and the merchandise of Ethiopia, and of the Sabeans, men of stature shall come vnto thee, and they shall be thine: they shall follow thee, and shall goe in chains:
they shall fall downe before thee, and make supplication vnto thee, saying, Surely God is in thee, and there is none other God besides.

15 Verily thou, O God, hast hid thy selfe,
O God the saviour of Israel.

16 All they shall be ashamed and also confounded: they shall goe to confusion together,
that are the makers of images.

17 But Israel shall be saved in the Lord, with an everlasting saluation: yee shall not bee ashamed nor confounded world without ende.

18 For thus saith the Lord (that created heauen, God himselfe, that formed the earth, and deament. Some reade it with an interrogation, and maketh the application of the similitude. o That is the starres. p To wit, Cyrus, that I may shew by him the faithfulness of my promise in delivering my people. q Meaning, freely, and without ransom, or any griuous condition. r These people were tributaries to the Persians, and so King Artaxerxes gaue this money toward the building of the Temple, Ezra 7. 21. f Whereas before they were their enemies, they shall now honour thee, and thou shalt rule them which was accomplished in the time of Christ. t Herby hee exhorteth the Iewes to patience, though their deliverance bee deferred for a time: shewing that they should not repent their long patience, but the wicked and idolaters shall be destroyed.

g I haue giuen
the strength,
power and au-
thoritie,
h I send peace
and warre, prosperitie and ad-uersitie, as Amos
3. 6.

i He comforteth
the Iewes as if he would say,
Though when ye looke to the heavens & earth
for succour, ye see nothing now but signes of Gods wrath, yet I will call them to bring forth most certain tokens
of your deliue-rance, and of the performance of
my promise,
which is meant
by righteousnesse.
k I haue appointed Cyrus to this
use and purpose.
l Herby hee brideleth their impatience, which
in aduersitie and trouble murmure against God, and will not take his pleasure: willing that man should match with his like, & not contend against God.
m That is, it is not perfectly made.

n In stead of murmuring,
humble your selves, and aske
what ye will for the consolation
of my children,
and you shall be sure of it, as ye are of these things which are at your commandment.

1 To wit, of man, but chiefly of his Church.
2 As do the false gods which give uncertain answers.

3 Al ye Idolaters
which though you ſeeme to haue neuer to much worldly dignity, yet in Gods ſight you are vile & abſci.

4 He calleth the idolaters to repentance, willing them to looke vnto him with
the eye of faith.
5 That is, that the thing which I haue promiſed
ſhall be faithfully
performed.

d He sheweth that they could not accuse him in anything, forasmuch as he had performed whatsoeuer he had promised.

e I haue done for thee more than I promised, that thy tribunes and impudencie might haue bene overcome.

f How thou shouldst bee deliuered out of Babylon. g Will ye not acknowledge this my benefit, and declare it vnto others?

Hear ye this, O house of Iacob, which are called by the name of Israel, and are come out of y^e waters of Iudah: which sweare by the name of the Lord, and make mention of the God of Israel; but in truth not in righteousness.

2 For they are called of the holy cite, and stay themselves vpon the God of Israel, whose name is the Lord of hostes.

3 I haue declared the former things of old, and they went out of my mouth, and I shewed them: I did them suddenly, and they came to passe.

4 Because I knew, that thou art obstinate, and thy neck is as yron sinew, and thy browe brass.

5 Therefore I haue declared it to thee of old: before it came to passe, I shewed it thee, lest thou shouldst say, Mine idle hand hath done them, and my carued image, and my molten image hath commanded them.

6 Thou hast heard, beholde all this, and wilt not see: declare it: I haue shewed thee new things, euen now, & hid things, which thou knowest not.

7 They are created now, and not of old, and euen before this thou heardest them not, least thou shouldst say, Beholde, I knowe them.

8 Yet thou heardest them not, neither diddest knowe them, neither yet was thine ear opened of old: for I knowe that thou wouldest gruously transgress: therefore haue I called thee a transgressor from thy wombe.

9 For my names sake will I deferre my wrath, and for my praise will I restraime it from thee, that I cut thee not off.

10 Beholde, I haue sined thee, but not as sinners: I haue chosen thee in the furnace, of affliction.

11 For mine owne sake, for mine owne sake will I doe it: for how should my Name bee polluted? Surely I will not giue my glory vnto another.

12 Heare mee, O Iacob, and Israel my called, I am, I am the first, and I am the last.

13 Surely mine hand hath laid the foundation of the earth, and my right hand hath spanned the heauens: when I call them, they stand by together.

14 Alway, assemble your selues, & heare: which among them hath declared these things? The Lord hath loued him: he will doe his will in Babel: and his arme shall be against the Caldeans.

15 I, euen I haue spoken it, and I haue called him, I haue brought him, and his way shall prosper.

16 Come neere vnto mee: heare ye this: I haue not spoken it in secret from the beginning: from the time that the thing was, I was there, and now the Lord God and his spirit hath sent me.

17 Thus saith the Lord thy Redeemer, the holy one of Israel, I am the Lord thy God, which teach thee to profite, and leade thee by the way, that thou shouldst goe.

18 Whither thou haddest bearkened to my commandements: then had thy profecie bene as the flood, and thy righteousness as the waues of the Sea.

19 Thy seede also had bene as the sand, & the fruit of thy body like the grauell thereof: his name should not haue bene cut off, nor destroyed before me.

20 Go ye out of Babel: flee ye from the Caldeans, with a voice of ioy: and declare this: shewe it forth to the ende of the earth: say ye, The Lord hath redeemed his seruant Iacob.

21 And they were not thither. he led them through the wilderness: he caused the waters to floure out of the rocke for them: for hee cleaued the rocke, and the water gushed out.

22 There is no peace, sayeth the Lord, vnto the wicked, himselfe, and to assure them of these things. u What things shall doe thee good. x That is, the prosperous state of Israel. y After that he had forwarned them of their caruities, and of the cause thereof, hee sheweth them the great ioy that shall come of their deliuerance. z He sheweth that it shall be as easie to deliuer them, as he did their fathers out of Egypt. a Thus he speaketh, that the wicked hypocrites should not abuse Gods promise, in whom was nei: their faith nor repentance, as Chap. 57. a.

h Shewing that mans arrogancie is the cause why God doeth not cleare all things at once, least they should attribute this knowledge to their owne wisdom.

i From the time that I brought thee out of Egypt, for that deliuerance was as the birth of the Church.

k As it was my free mercy that I did chuse thee: so is it my free mercy that must saue thee.

l For I had respect to thy weakness and infirmity: for in sinuer there is some purenesse, but in vs there is nothing but dross.

m Iooke thee out of the furnace where thou shouldst haue bene consumed.

n God iudgeth the saluation of his with his own honour: so that they cannot perill, but his glory should be diminished.

CHAP. XLIX.

1 The Lord exhorteth all nations to beleue his promises. 6 Christ is the saluation of all that beleue, and will deliuer them from the tyrannie of their enemies.

Hear ye me, O Iſſes, and hearken, ye people from farre. The Lord hath called me from the wombe, and made mention of my name from my mothers belly.

2 And hee hath made my wombe like a sharpe sword: I was in the shadowe of his hand hath he hid me, and made me a cholin shaft, and hid me in his quirt,

3 And laide vnto me, thou art my ſeruant Iſrael, for I will be glorious in thee.

4 And I ſaid, I haue laboured in vaine: I haue ſpent my ſtrength in vaine, and for nothing: but my iudgement is with the Lord, and my worke with my God.

5 And now ſaith the Lord that formed me from the wombe to be his ſeruant, that I may bring Iſaakob againe to him (though Iſrael be not gathered, yet ſhall I be glorious in the eyes of the Lord, and my God ſhall be my ſtrength.)

6 And he ſaide, It is a ſmall thing that thou ſhouldest be my ſeruant, to raiſe vp the tribes of Iſaakob, and to reſtore the deſolation of Iſrael: I will alſo giue thee for a light of the Gentiles, that thou mayeſt bee my ſaluation vnto the ends of the world.

7 Thus ſaith the Lord the redeemer of Iſrael, and his holy one, to him that is deſpiſed in ſoule, to a nation that is abhorred, to a ſeruant of rulers, Kings ſhall ſee, and ariſe and princes ſhall worſhip, becauſe of the Lord, that is faithfull: and the Holy one of Iſrael, which hath choſen thee.

8 Thus ſaith the Lord, In an acceptable time haue I heard thee, and in a day of ſaluation haue I helped thee: and I will preſerue thee, and will giue thee for a covenant of the people, that thou mayeſt raiſe vp the earth, and obtaine the inheritance of the deſolate heritages.

9 That thou mayeſt ſay to the captiues, Go forth: and to them that are in darkenes, Shew your ſiſters: they ſhall feede in the wayes, and their paſſures ſhall bee in all the tops of the hills.

10 They ſhall not be hungry, neither ſhall they be thirſty, neither ſhall they heate ſunne, nor the ſunne: for he hath compaſſion on them, ſhall leade them: euē to the ſprings of waters ſhall be diſtine them.

11 And I will make all my mountaines, as a way, and my paths ſhall be created.

12 Behold, theſe ſhall come from farre: and loe, theſe from the North, and from the Weſt, and theſe from the land of ſinim.

13 Reioyce, O heauens: and be toyfull, O earth: beuſt forth into praife, O mountaines: for God hath comforted his people, and will haue mercy vpon his afflicted.

14 But Zion ſaith, The Lord hath forſaken me, and my Lord hath forgotten me.

15 Can a woman forget her childre, & not haue compaſſion on the ſonne of her wombe: though they ſhould forget, yet will I not forget thee.

16 Beholde, I haue grauen thee vpon the palme of mine hands: thy walls are cur in my light.

17 Thy builders make haſte: thy deſtroyers and they that made thee waſte, are departed from thee.

18 Lift vp thine eyes round about, and behold: all theſe gather themſelues together and come to thee: as I ſaie, ſaith the Lord, thou ſhalt ſurely put them all vpon thee as a garment, and gird thee ſelfe with them like a beldre.

19 For thy deſolations, and thy waſte places, and thy land deſtroyed, ſhall ſurely be now narrowe for them that ſhall dwell in it, and they that did deuoure thee, ſhall be farre away.

20 The children of thy barrenneſſe ſhall ſay againe in thine eares, The place is ſtraite for me: giue place to mee that I may dwell.

21 Then ſhalt thou ſay in thine heart: Who hath begotten mee thee, ſeing I am barren and deſolate, a captiue and a wanderer: to and fro? and who hath nourished them? behold, I was left alone: whence are theſe?

22 Thus ſaith the Lord God, Behold, I will liſt vp mine hand to the Gentiles, and ſet vp my ſtandard to the people, and thy ſhall bring thy ſonnes in their armes, and thy daughters ſhall bee caried vpon their ſhoulders.

23 And kings ſhall bee thy nurſing fathers, and Queenes ſhall bee thy nurſes: they ſhall worſhip thee with their faces toward the earth, and ſicke vpon the duſt of thy feet: and thou ſhalt knowe that I am the Lord: for they ſhall not bee aſhamed that waite for me.

24 Shall the pray bee taken from the mighty: or the iuſt captiue deliuered?

25 But thus ſaith the Lord, Euen the captiuitie of the mighty ſhall bee taken away: and the pray of the tyrant ſhall bee deliuered: for I will contend with him that contended with thee, and I will ſaue thy children.

26 And will feede them that ſpoyle thee, with their owne fiſh, and they ſhall be drunken with their owne blood, as with head, and giue him all honour.

27 He maketh this as an obſecration, as though the Caldeans were ſtrong, and had them in iuſt poſſeſſion. This is the anſwere to this obſecration, that none is ſtronger than the Lord, neither hath a more iuſt title vnto them: I will cauſe them to deſtroy one another, as I haue ſaid 7. 22, 23. Chap. 19. 3.

r Meaning, the South country, ſo that Chriſt ſhall deliuer his from all the parts of the world. ſ Read Chap. 44. 23.

t He obiecteth what the ſai ſhall might ſay in their long affliction, and anwereth thereunto to comfort them, with a moſt proper ſimilitude and full conſolation.

u Becauſe I would not forget thee.

x Meaning, the good order of policie and diſcipline.

y I haue a continual care to build thee vp againe, and to deſtroy thine enemies.

z He ſheweth what are the ornaments of the Church: to haue many children, which are ſemble by the word of God, and gouerned by his Spirit.

a He ſheweth that Chriſt will not onely gaine this great number of the lewes, but alſo of the Gentiles.

b Meaning, that kings ſhall be converted to the Goſpel, and ſhow their power and authority for the preſeruation of the Church.

c Being ioynd with the Church, they ſhall humble themſelues to Chriſt their head, as though the Caldeans were ſtrong, and had them in iuſt poſſeſſion.

d This is the anſwere to this obſecration, that none is ſtronger than the Lord, neither hath a more iuſt title vnto them: I will cauſe them to deſtroy one another, as I haue ſaid 7. 22, 23. Chap. 19. 3.

a This is ſpoken in the perſon of Chriſt, to aſſure the ſaiſull that theſe promiſes ſhould come to paſſe: for they were all made in him, and in him ſhould be performed.

b This is meant of the time that Chriſt ſhould be maniſteſt to the world, as Pſa 2. 7.

c By the ſword and ſhaft, he ſignifieth the vertue and efficacy of Chriſts doctrine.

d God hath taken me to his protection and defence: this chiefly is meant of Chriſt, & may alſo be applied to the miniſters of his word.

e By Iſrael is meant Chriſt, and all the body of the ſaiſull, as the members and the head.

f Thus Chriſt in his members complaineth that his labour and preaching take none effect, yet he is contented that his doings are approved of God.

g Though the lewes reſuſe my doctrine, yet God will approve my miniſtery.

h To declare my Goſpell to the Gentiles, Chap. 42. 6. acts 13. 47. Luke 2. 32.

i Meaning the lewes whom tyrants kept in bondage. k The benefit of their diſſuerance ſhall be ſo great, that great and ſmal ſhall acknowledge it & reuerence God for it. l Thus he ſpeaketh of his Church, when he would ſhew his mercy toward it. m Meaning, Chriſt alone. n Signifying, that before Chriſt renew the earth by his word, there is nothing but conſuſion and diſorder. o To them that are in the priſon of ſinne and death.

p Being in Chriſts protection they ſhall be ſafe againſt all dangers, and free from the feare of the enemies. q Meaning, that there ſhould be nothing in their way from Babylon that ſhould hinder or burthen them: but this is accomplished ſpiritually.

Sweete wine : and all flesh shall know that I
the Lord am thy Saviour and thy redeemer,
the Righte one of Iacob.

1 The leaves for saken for a time. 2 Yet the power of God is not diminished. 5 Christ's obedience and victory.

Thus saith the Lord, Where is that ^a bill of your mothers divorcement, ^b whom I have cast off : or who is the creditor : to whom I sold you : Behold, for your iniquities are ye sold, and because of your transgressions is your mother for saken.

2 Wherefore ^c came I, and there was no man : I called, and none answered : is mine hand so ^d shortened, that it cannot helpe : or have I no power to deliuer : Behold, at my rebuke I dry vp the sea : I make the floods desert : their fish rotter for want of water, and die for thirst.

3 I clothe the heauens with darkenes,
and make ^e a lacke their covering.

4 The Lord God hath giuen ^f mee a tongue of the learned, that I should know to minister a word in time to him that is ^g weary:
he will raise me vp in the morning : in the morning hee will wake mine eare to heare ^h as the learned.

5 The Lord God hath opened mine eare, and I was not rebellious : neither turned I backe.

6 I gaue my backe vnto the ⁱ smiters, and my cheekes to the nippers : I hid not my face from shame and spitting.

7 For the Lord God will helpe mee, therefore shall I not bee confounded : therefore haue I set my face like a flint, and I know that I shall not be ashamed.

8 He is neere that iustifieth mee : who will contend with mee : Let vs stand together:
who is mine aduersary : let him come neere
to mee.

9 Behold, the Lord God will helpe mee:
who is hee that can condemne mee : for, they shall waite vnto mee as a garment : the mouth shall eate them vp.

10 ^k Who is among you that feareth the Lord : let him heare the voyce of his seruante:
he that walketh in darkenesse, and hath no light, let him trust in the name of the Lord, and stay vpon his God.

11 Behold, all you kindle ^l a fire, and are compassed about with sparkes : walke in the light of your fire, and in the sparkes that yee haue kindled. This shall yee haue of mine hand : ye shall lie downe in sorrow.

To him that is oppressed by affliction and misery.
i As they that are taught, and made mee by him. k I did not shrinketh from God for any persecution or calamitie. Whereby hee knoweth that the true ministers of God can looke for none other recompence of the wicked but after this sort. and also what is their comfort. l Shewing that it is a rare thing that any should obey right Gods true ministers : though they labour to bring them from hell to heauen. m You haue sought consolation by your owne deuotion, and haue refused the light and consolation, which God hath offred : therefore yee shall remaine in sorrow, and not be comforted.

C H A P. LI.

1 To trust in God alone by Abrahams example.

7 Not to feare men. 17 The great affliction of Israhel, 22 and her deliuerance.

Hear me, yee ^a that follow after righte-ousnes, and yee that seeke the Lord : looke vnto the ^b rocke whence yee are hewn, and to the hole of the pit whence yee are digged.

2 Consider Abraham your father, and Sarah that bare you : for I called him alone,
and blessed him, and increased him.

3 Surely the Lord shall comfort Zion : he shall comfort all her desolations, and he shall make her desert like Eden, and her wildernes like the garden of the Lord : for and gladnesse shall bee found therein : praise, and the voyce of singing.

4 Hearken yee vnto mee, my people, and giue care vnto mee, O my people : for a Law shall proceed from mee, and I will bring forth my iudgement for the light of the people.

5 My righteousnes is neere : my salu-ation goeth forth, and mine ^c armes shall iudge
the people : the piers shall wait for mee, and shall trust vnto mine arme.

6 Lift vp your eyes to the heauens, and looke vpon the earth beneath : for the hea-uens shall vanish away like smoke, and the earth shall waie olde like a garment, and they that dwell therein, shall perish in like manner : but my saluation shall bee for ever,
and my righteousnes shall not bee abandoned.

7 Hearken vnto mee, yee that know righte-ousnes, the people in whose heart is my Law. Feare yee not the reproch of men, neither be ye afraid of their rebukes.

8 For the moth shall eate them vp like a garment, and the woome shall eate them like woolle : but my righteousnes shall bee for ever, and my saluation from generation to generation.

9 Rise vp, rise vp, and put on strength.
Arise of the Lord : rise vp, as ^d in the olde time in the generations of the world. Arise thou the same, that hast cut ^e Rahab, and wounded the ^f dragon.

10 Art not thou the same which hath dyed
the sea, even the waters of the great deepe, making the depth of the sea a way for the redeemed to passe out :

11 Therefore the redeemed of the Lord shall returne, and come with toy vnto Zion,
and everlasting toy shall be vpon their head:
they shall obtaine toy and gladnesse : and for-row and mourning shall flee away.

12 I, even I am he, that comfort you. Who art thou, that thou shouldst feare a mortall man, and the sonne of man, which shall bee
made as grass :

13 And forgettest the Lord thy maker,
that hath spread out the heauens, and layed
the foundations of the earth : and hast feared continually all the day, because of the rage of the oppressour, which is ready to destroy : where is now the rage of the oppres-sour :

14 The captiue ^g is hastened to be loosed, and that he should nor die in the pit, nor that his head should faile.

whom shall I comfort thee?

20 Thy fowles have fainted, & lie at the

22 Thus saith thy Lord God, euen God that pleadeth the cause of his people, Behold, I have taken out of thine hand the cup of trembling, even the dregs of the cup of my wrath: thou shalt drinke it no more.

23 But I will put it into their hand that spoil thee: which have salde to thy soule, Bow downe, that we may go over, and thou street to them that went over.

CHAP. LII.

1 A consolation to the people of God. 7 Of the messengers thereof.

A Rise, arise, put on thy strength, O Zion:
Arise, arise, put on thy strength, O Zion:
Jerusalem, the holy Citie: for henceforth there shall no more come into thee the vincircumcised and the uncircumcised.

2 Shake thy selfe from the dust: arise and sit downe, O Jerusalem: loose the bands of thy necke, O thou captive daughter, Zion.

3 For thus saith the Lord, Dye were sold for nought: therefore shall wee be redeemed without money.

4 For thus saith the Lord God, My people went downe as yet into Egypt to solourne there, and Asshur: oppressed them without cause.

5 Now therefore what haue I here, saith the Lord, that my people is taken away for nought, and they that rule over them, make them to howle, saith the Lord:
and my Name all the day continually is blasphemed? 6 Therefore my people shall know my Name: therefore they shall know in that day,

that I am hee that doe speake: behold, it is I.

7 How beautiful upon the mountaines are the feet of him that declarerth and publisherth peace: that declarerth good tidings, and publisheth saluation, saying unto Zion, Thy God reigneth!

8 The voyce of the watchmen shall bee heard: they shall lift up their voyce, and shout together: for they shall see eye to eye, when the Lord shall bring againe Zion.

9 Wee desolate places of Jerusalem, bee glad and reioyce together: for the Lord hath comforted his people: hee hath redeemed Jerusalem.

10 The Lord hath made: I bare his holy Arme in the sight of all the Gentiles, and all the ends of the earth shall see the saluation of our God.

11 Depart, depart wee: goe out from thence, and touch no uncleane thing: goe out of the midst of her: bee ye cleane, that I bear the vessels of the Lord.

12 For ye shall not goe out with haste, nor depart by fleeing away: but the Lord will goe before you, and the God of Israel will gather you together.

13 Behold, my seruant shall prosper:
he shall bee exalted and extolled, and bee very high.

14 As many were astonished at thee (his vilage was so deformed of men and his forme of the fowles of men) so shall hee sprinkle many Nations: the Kings shall shut their mouthes at him: for that which had not bene tolde them, shall they see, and that which they had not heard, shall they vnder-stand.

1 For the time is at hand, that the Priests and Leuites chiefly (and so by them all the people which shall be as Leuites in this office) shall carry home the vessels of the Temple, which Nebuchad-nezzar had taken away. m As your fathers did out of Egypt. n Meaning Christ, by whom ther delivered him into the hands of the wicked, and to the powers of the world to doe him what they would. o Christ by offering vp himselfe shall p That is, the fruit and effect of his labour, which is the salvation of s After that he had declared the death of Christ,

he speaketh to
the church, because she should feele the fruit of the same, & calle her barren, because y

was as a widow without hope to have any children. b The Church
in this affliction & captivity shall bring forth more children then when she was at liberty: or this may be spoken by admiration, considering the great number y should come of her. Her deliuerance vn-
der Cyrus was as her childhood, & therefore her was accomplished,
when she came to her age, which was vnder the Gospel,

3 Hee is despised and reſected of men: he is a man full of sorowes, and hath experience of infirmities, wee hnd as it were our faces from him: he was despised, & wee este-med him not.

4 Surely hee hath borne our infirmities, and caried our sorowes: yet wee did iudge him as a plagued, and smitten of God, and humbled.

5 But hee was wounded for our transgressions, hee was broken for our iniquities:
the chastisement of our peace was vpon him,
and with his stripes wee are healed.

6 All wee like sheepe have gone astray, wee haue turned euerie one to his owne way, and the Lord hath layd vpon him the iniquities of vs all.

7 He was oppressed, and he was afflicted, yet did he not open his mouth: he is brought
as a sheepe to the slaughter, and as a sheepe before her shearers is dumme, so hee openeth not his mouth.

8 Hee was taken out from prison, and from iudgement: and who shall declare his age: for hee was cut out of the land of the living: for the transgression of my people was he plagued.

9 And he made him graue with the wicked, and with the rich in his death, though he had done no wickednesse, neither was any decree in his mouth.

10 Yet the Lord would breake him, & make him subiect to infirmities: when he shall make his soule an offering for sin, hee shall see his seed, and shall prolong his daies, & the will of the Lord shall prosper in his hand.

11 Hee shall see of the travail of his soule, and shall bee satisfied: by his knowledge shall my righteous seruant iustifie many: for he shall beare their iniquities.

12 Therefore will I giue him a portion with the great, and hee shall diuide the spoyle with the strong, because he hath powred out his soule vnto death, & he was counted with the transgressours, and hee beare the sinne of many, and prayed for the transgressours.

CHAP. LIIII.

1 Moe of the Gentiles shall beleue the Gospel thens of the Iewes, 7 God leaueh his for a time, to whom afterward he sheweth mercy.

Recoyce, O barren that didst not beare:
O breake forth into ioy and rancie, thou that didst not traualle with child: for the desolate hath more children then the married woman, & calle her barren, because y
was as a widow without hope to have any children. b The Church
in this affliction & captivity shall bring forth more children then when she was at liberty: or this may be spoken by admiration, considering the great number y should come of her. Her deliuerance vn-
der Cyrus was as her childhood, & therefore her was accomplished,
when she came to her age, which was vnder the Gospel,

ried wife, saith the Lord.

2 Enlarge the place of thy tents, and let them spread out the curtains of thine habitations: spare not, stretch out thy cordes,
and make fast thy stakes.

3 For thou shalt increase on the right hand and on the left, and thy seed shall possess the Gentiles and dwell in the desolate cities.

4 Feare not: for thou shalt not be ashamed, neither shalt thou be confounded: for thou shalt not be put to shame: yea, thou shalt forget the shame of thy youth, and shalt not remember the reproch of thy widowhood any more.

5 For he that made thee, is thine husband (whose name is the Lord of hostes) and thy redeemer the holy one of Israel, shall be called the God of the whole world.

6 For the Lord hath called thee being as a woman forsaken, and afflicted in spirit,
and as a lone wife when thou wast refused,
saith the God.

7 For a little while I haue forsaken thee, but with great compassion will I gather
thee.

8 For a moment in mine anger I hid my face from thee for a little season, but with mercy shall I have compassion on thee, saith the Lord thy Redeemer.

9 For this is vnto mee as the waters of Noah: for as I haue broome that the waters of Noah should no more see ouer the earth,
so haue I broome that I would not be angry
with thee, nor rebuke thee.

10 For the mountains shall remoue, and the hills shall fall downe: but my mercy shall not depart from thee, neither shall the con-nant of my peace fall away, saith the Lord,
that hath compassion on thee.

11 O thou afflicted and tossed with tempest, that hast no comfort, behold, I will lay thy stones with the carbuncle, and lay thy foundation with sapphires.

12 And I will make thy windows of saphi-res, and thy gates shining stones, and all thy borders of pleasant stones.

13 And all thy children shall bee taught of the Lord, and much peace shall bee to thy children.

14 In righteousness shalt thou be established, and be farre from oppression: for thou shalt not feare it: and from feare, for it shall not come nether thee.

15 Behold, the enemy shall gather himselfe, but without me: whosoever shall gather himselfe in thee, against thee, shall fall.

16 Behold, I haue created thee: I shall that bloweth the coales in the fire, and him that bringeth forth an instrument for his work, and I haue created the destroyer to destroy.

17 But all the weapons that are made against thee, shall not prosper: and curiudgement, thou shalt condemn. This Against Shepheards, that denoure their flocks.

Thus saith the Lord, ^a Keepe iudgement and doe iustice: for my saluation is at hand to come, and my^b righteousness to bee revealed.

2 Blessed is the man that doeth this, and the sonne of man which layeth holde on it :
he that keepeth the Sabbath and pollureth it not, and keepeth his hand from doing any guill.

3 And let not the sonne of the stranger which is ^d ioynd to the Lorde, speake and say, The Lord hath surely separated me from his people; neither let the Eunuch say, Behold, I am a dry tree.

4 For thus saith the Lord vnto the Eunuchs, that keepe my Sabbaths, and chuse the thing that pleaseth mee, and take hold of my Couenant.

5 Euen vnto them will I giue in mine House and within my walls, a place and a name better then of the foules and of the daughters: I will giue them an euerslaking
name, that shall not be put out.

6 All ye strangers that cleave vnto the Lord, to serue him, and to loue the Name of the Lord, and to be his seruants: euery one that keepeth the Sabbath, and polluteth it not, and embraceth my Couenant.

7 Then will I bring also to mine holy Mountaine, and make them toyfull in mine House of prayer: their burnt & offerings and their sacrifices shalbe accepted vpon mine Altar: for mine House shalbe called an House of prayer for^h all people.

8 The Lord God saith, which gathereth the scattered of Israel, Yet will I gather to them those that are to be gathered to them.

9 All ye i beastes of the field, come to de-voure, even all yee beastes of the forrest.

10 Their watchmen are all blind : they haue no knowledge : they are all dumbe dogs : they cannot barke : they lie and sleepe, and delight in sleeeping.

I I And these greedy dogs can neuer haue ynough: and these shepheards cannot vnderstand: for they all looke to their owne way, euery one for his aduantage, and for his owne purpose.

Babylonians, Assyrians, &c. Thus he speaketh of the enemies of the church, and of the persecutors, and to assure the faithful, that when this tribulation shall come through the fault of the governors, whose ignorance, negligence, avarice, and ambition shall be the cause thereof, they shall be able to bear it, and not to fear the plagues which were made them in the Name of God.

CHAP. LVII.

¹ God taketh away the good, that he should not see the horrible plagues to come. ³ Of the wicked idolaters. ⁹ And their vain confidence.

The righteous perseciter and no man considereth it in heart: and mercifull men are taken away, and no man understandeth that the righteous is taken away from the earth to come.

² Peace shall come: they shall rest in their beds, every one that walketh in his force him.

³ But you wretched children, come hither, the seede of the adulterers, and of the whores.

⁴ On whom have ye looked? upon whom have ye gaped and thrust out your tongue: are not ye rebellious children, & a false seede.

⁵ Inflamed with fools under every green tree, and sacrificing the children in the valleys under the tops of the rocks.

⁶ Thy portion is in the smooth stones: of the river: they, they are thy lot: even to them hast thou poured a drinke offering: thou hast offered a sacrifice, should I delight in these?

⁷ Thou hast made thy bed upon a very high mountain: thou wast by the river, and thither wentest without offering sacrifice.

⁹ Thou wentest to the kings with oyle and didst increase thine ornaments, and send thy messengers farre off, and didst humble thy selfe unto them.

¹⁰ Thou wentest thy selfe in thy manifold journeys, ye laydest thou not, there is no hope thou hast found life by thine hands, therefore thou wast not grieved.

¹¹ And whom diddest thou reuerence or feare, seeing thou hast layd unto mee, & hast not remembered mee, neither set thy minde thereon? is it not because I hold my peace, and that of long time: therefore thou fearest not mee.

¹² I will declare thy rightcoulnesse and thy workes, and they shall not profit thee,

¹³ When thou cryest, let them that thou hast gathered together, deliver thee: but the wind shall take them all away: banister shall pull them away: but he that trusteth in mee, shall inherit the land, and shall possesse mine holy mountaine.

¹⁴ And he shall say, Cast by, cast by: prepare the way: take up the stumbling blocks out of the way of my people.

¹⁵ For thus saith he, that is high and excellent, hee that inhabiteth the eternitie, whose name is the holy One, I dwell in the high and holy place: with him also that is of a contrite and humble spirit, to receive the spirit of the humble, and to give life to them that are of a contrite heart.

¹⁶ For I will not contend for ever, neither will I be alwayes wroth: for the spirit should faile before me: and I have made the breath.

¹⁷ For his wicked countenance I am angry with him, and have beaten him: I hid me and was angry, yet hee went away and turned after the way of his owne heart.

¹⁸ I have seene his wayes, and will hate him: I will lead him also and restore comfort unto him, and to those that lament him.

¹⁹ I create the fruit of their lippesto be peace, peace unto them that are yfaine off, and to them that are merre, sayeth the Lord: for I will heale him.

² For they seeke mee daily, and will know my waies, even as a nation that doeth righteously, and had not forsaken the statutes of their God: they alke mee the ordinances of iustice: they will daw neere unto God, saying,

³ Wherefore have wee fasted, and thou seest it not? we have punished our sinnes, and thou regardest it not. Wholo, in the day of your fault you will seeke our wils, and require all your debts.

⁶ Is not this the fasting that I have chosen, that ye should loose your yokes, and that ye should high places of the earth, and feed thee with the heritage of Iacob thy father: for the mouth of the Lord hath spoken it.

CHAP. LIX.

1 The wicked perish through their owne iniquities
12 The confession of sinnes. 16 God alone will preserve his Church though all men faile.

Behold, the Lords hand is not shortned that it cannot saue, neither is his care
heauy, that it cannot heare.

2 But your iniquities haue separated betwene you and your God, and your sinnes haue hid his face from you, that hee will not heare.

3 For your hands are defiled with blood and your fingers with iniquitie: your lips haue spoken lyes, and your tongue hath inmured in iniquitie.

4 As man calleth for iustice: no man
contemneth for truerie: they trust in vanity, and speake vaine things, they conceale mis-chiefe, and bring forth iniquitie.

5 They hatch cockatrice eggs, and to raise the spiders webbe: he that eateth of their eggs, dieth, and that which is trodde
vpon, breaketh out into a serpent.

6 Their webbes shall bee no garment neither shall they cover themselves with their labours: for their works are works of iniquitie, and the worke of cruelty is in their banes.

7 Their feet run to euill, and they make haste to shed innocent blood: their thoughts are wicked thoughts: destruction and destruction is in their paths.

8 The way of peace they know not, and there is none equitie in their goings: they haue made them crooked paths: whosoever goeth therein, shall not know peace.

9 Therefore is iudgement farre from us: neither doth iustice come neere vnto vs: we waite for light, but loe it is darknes:
for brightnesse, but we walke in darknesse.

10 We grope for the wall like the blinde,
and we grope as she without eyes: we stumble at the noone day as in the twilight: we are in solitarie places, as dead men.

11 Wee roare all like i beastes, and moune like dones: wee looke for equitie, but there is none: for health, but it is farre
from vs.

12 For our trespasses are many before thee, and our sinnes testifie against vs: for our trespasses are with vs, and wee know our iniquities.

13 In trespassing and lying against the Lord, and we haue departed away from our God, and haue spoken of cruelty and rebellion, concealing and uttering out of the heart false matters.

14 Therefore iudgement is turned backward, and iustice standeth farre off: for truerie is fallen in the street, and equitie cannot enter.

15 Peace, truth faileth, and he that restraineth from euill, maketh himselfe a pray: and when the Lord saw it, it displeased him, that there was no iudgement.

16 And when hee saw that there was no man, hee wondered that none would offer himselfe. Therefore his arme did not saue it, and his right couereth it selfe did sustaine it.

17 For hee put on righteousnesse as an habergon, and an helmet of saluation vpon his head, and hee put on the garments of vengeance for clothing, and was glad with zeale
as a cloke.

18 As to make recompense, as to requite
the fure of the aduersaries with a recompense to his enemies: hee will fully repay the Islands.

19 So shall they feare the Name of the Lord from the West, and his glory from the rising of the sunne: for the enemy that come like a flood: but the Spirit of the Lord shall chase him away.

20 And the Redeemer shall come vnto Sion, and vnto them that turne from iniquity
in Iacob, seith the Lord.

21 And I will make this my Covenant with them, seith the Lord, My Spirit shall be vpon thee, and my wordes, which I haue put in thy mouth, shall not de-

CHAP. LX.

3 The Gentiles shall come to the knowledge of the Gospel. 8 They shall come to the Church in abundance. 16 They shall have abundance, though they suffer for a time.

A Rise, O Jerusalem: see bright, for thy light is come, and the glory of the Lord is risen upon thee.

2 For he hath darkened the people: but the Lord shall arise upon thee, and his glory shall be seen upon thee.

3 And the Gentiles shall walk in thy light, and King shall be the brightness of thy rising up.

4 Lift up thine eyes round about, and behold: all that are gathered, and come to thee: thy sons shall come from farre, and thy daughters shall be nourished at thy side.

5 Then thou shalt see and thine: thine heart shall be astonished and enlarged, because the multitude of the sea shall be converted unto thee, and the riches of the Gentiles shall come unto thee.

6 The multitude of camels shall cover thee, and the dromedaries of Arabia and of Ephraim: all they of Sheba shall come: they shall bring gold and incense, and they shall praise the praises of the Lord.

7 All the shepe of Kedar shall be gathered unto thee: the rammes of Arabia shall serve thee: they shall come up to be accepted upon mine altar: and I will bring the house of my glory.

8 Who are these that flee like a cloude, and as the houses to their windowes?

9 Surely the yles shall wait for mee, and the ships of Tarshish, as at the beginning that they may bring thy sonnes from farre, and their silver and their golde with them, unto the Name of the Lord thy God, and to the Holy one of Israel, because he hath glorified thee.

10 And the sons of strangers shall build by thy walls, and their Kings shall minister unto thee: for in my wrath I smote thee, but in my mercy I had compassion on thee.

11 Therefore thy gates shall be open continually: neither day nor night shall they be shut: that men may bring unto thee the riches of the Gentiles, and that their kings may be brought.

12 For the nation and the kingdom, that will not serve thee, shall be utterly destroyed.

13 The glory of Lebanon shall come unto thee, the firre tree, the cline and the bore tree together: to beautifie the place of my Sanctuary: for I will glorifie the place of my sancte.

14 The sonnes also of them that afflicted thee, shall come and bow unto thee: and all they that despised thee, shall fall downe at the soles of thy feet: and they shall call thee, The city of the Lord, Zion of the Holy one of Israel.

15 Whereas thou hast bene forsaken and hated, so that no man went by thee, I will make thee an eternal glory, and a joy from generation to generation.

16 Thou shalt also sucke the milke of the Gentiles, and shalt sucke the breasts of kings: and thou shalt know, that I the Lord am thy Saviour, and thy Redeemer, the Mighty one of Jacob.

17 For brass will I bring gold, and for yron will I bring silver, and for wood brass, and for stones yron. I will also make thy government peace, and thine tractours righteousness.

18 Violence shall no more be heard of in thy land, neither desolation, nor destruction, with in thy borders: but thou shalt call saluacion thy walles, and praise thy gates.

19 Thou shalt have no more sunne to shine by day, neither shall the brightness of the moone shine unto thee: for the Lord shall be thine everlasting light, and thy God, thy glory.

20 Thy sunne shall neuer goe downe, neither shall thy moone be hid: for the Lord shall be thine everlasting light, and the dayes of thy sorrow shall be ended.

21 Thy people also shall be all righteous, they shall possesse the land for ever, the grace of my planting, shall bee the worke of mine hands, that I may be glorified.

22 A little one shall become as a strong land, and a small one as a strong nation: I the Lord will hasten it in due time.

CHAP. LXI.

1 He propheseth that Christ shall be anointed and sent to preach. 10 The joy of the faithful.

The Spirit of the Lord God is upon me, therefore hath the Lord anointed me: he hath sent me to preach good tidings unto the poore, to binde up the broken hearted, to preach liberitie to the captiues, and to them that are bound, the opening of the prison.

2 To preach the acceptable yeere of the Lord, and the day of vengeance of our God, to comfort all that mourne, a it pleases him to distribute. b To them that are lively conchued with the feeling of their sins. c Which are in the bondage of sinne. d The time when it pleased God to shew his good will to man, which S. Paul callen the fulnesse of time, Gal. 4. 4. e For when God did call his Church, he purifieth his enemies.

m He saith that God hath given all power and authority here in earth for the use of his Church: & that they which will not serve and professe the same, shall be destroyed.

n There is nothing to excellent, which shall not serve the necessity of the Church.

3 To appoint vnto them that mourne in Zion, & to giue vnto them beauty for ashes, the cyle of ioy for mourning, the garment of gladnes for the spirit of heauinesse, that they might be called a tree of righteousness, the planting of the Lord, that he might bee glorified.

4 And they shall builde the olde waste places, and raise vp the former desolations, and they shall repaire the cities that were desolate and waite thow many a generation.

5 And the strangers shall stand and feed your sheepe, and the sonnes of the strangers shall bee your plowmen and drellers of your vines.

6 But ye shall be named the Priests of the Lord, and men shall say vnto you, The ministers of our God: ye shall eate the riches of the Gentiles, and shall be praised with their glory.

7 For your shame you shall receive double, and for confusion they shall reioyce in their portion: for in their land they shall possesse the double: everlasting ioy shall be vnto them.

8 For if the Lord loue iudgement & hate a robber, for burnt offering, and I wil direct their worke in truth, and will make an everlasting covenant with them.

9 And their seed shall be known among the Gentiles, and their budnes among the people. All that see them shall know them, that they are the seed which the Lord hath blessed.

10 I will greatly reioyce in the Lord, and my soule shall bee ioyfull in my God: for hee hath clothed me with the garments of saluation, and covered me with the robe of righteousness: hee hath decked me like a bridegroom, and as a bride deckt her selfe with her iewels.

11 For as the earth bringeth forth her bud, and as the garden causeth to grow that which is sown in it: so the Lord God will cause righteousness to grow, and praise before all the heathen.

CHAP. XLII.

1 The great desire that the Prophets haue had for Christ coming. 6 The diligence of the Pastors to preach.

FOR Zions sake I will not holde my tongue, and for Ierusalem sake I will not rest, until the righteousness thereof breake forth as the light, and saluation thereof as a burning lampe.

2 And the Gentiles shall see thy righteousness: all kings thy glory: and thou shalt be called by a new name, which the mouth of the Lord shall name.

3 Thou shalt also be a crowne of glory in the hand of the Lord, and a royall diademe in the hand of thy God.

a The Prophet faith that he will neuer cease to declare vnto the people the good tidings of their deuiance.

b Till they haue full deuiance: and this the Prophet speaketh to encourage all other ministers to the setting forth of Gods mercies toward his Church.

c Thou shalt haue a more excellent fame then thou hast had hitherto.

d He shall esteeme thee as deare and precious, as a king doth his crowne.

4 He shall no more be said vnto thee, Forlaken, neither shall it be said any more to thy land, Desolate, but thou shalt bee called Ierusalem, and thy land shall be called the Lord delighteth in thee, and thy land shall haue an husband.

5 For as a young man married a virgin, so shall thy sonnes marrie thee: and as a bridegroom is glad of the bride, so shall thy God reioyce ouer thee.

6 I haue set watchmen vpon thy walls, O Ierusalem, which all the day and all the night continually shall not cease: yee that are in the midst of the Lord, keepe not silence.

7 And giue him no rest, till hee repaire, and vntill he be set vpon Ierusalem the praise of the world.

8 The Lord hath sworn by his right hand and by his strong arme, Surely I will no more giue thee to be a meate for thine enemies, and surely the sonnes of the strangers shall not drinke thy wine, for the which thou hast laboured.

9 But they that haue gathered it, shall eat it, and praise the Lord, and the gatherers thereof shall drinke it in the courts of my Sanctuary.

10 Go thow, goe thow the gates: prepare you the way for the people: call by, call by the way, and gather out the stones, and set vp a stand for the people.

11 Behold, the Lord hath proclaimed vnto the ends of the world, tell the daughter Zion, Behold, thy Saviour cometh, behold his wages is with him, & his worke is before him.

WE is this that cometh from Bozrah, he is glorious in his apparell, and walketh in his great strength. I speake in righteousness, and am mighty to save.

2 Therefore is thine apparell red, and thy garments like him that treadeth in the wine presse.

3 I haue troden the wine presse alone, and of all people there was none with mee: for die after that he hath destroyed them in Bozrah, the chiefe city of the Idumeans: for these were their greatest enemies, and vnder the title of circumcision, and the kind of Abraham, claimed to themselves the chiefe religion, and hated the worshippers, Psal. 137. b. God answered them that asked this question, Who is this? &c. and said Yee see now performed in deede the vengeance which my prophets threatened.

p There was no way, which thou didst not haue to seeke after the idoles, and to trot a pilgrimage, gaime vnto her: shall not this land be polluted: but thou hast played the harlot with many: louers: yet thou turne againe to me, saith the Lord.

2 Lette by thine ryces vnto the hie places, and behold, where thou hast not played the harlot: thou hast yet waiting for them in the wayes, as the Arabian in the wilderness: and thou hast polluted the land with thy whores, and with thy malice.

3 Therefore the whorers haue bene restrained, and the latter raine came not, and thou hadst a whores forehead: thou wouldest not be ashamed.

4 Didst thou not say vnto me, Thou art my father, and the guide of my youth?

5 I will be kepte his anger for euer: will he reuerse it to the end: thus hath thou spoken, but thou dost enill, euen more and more.

6 The Lord sayd also vnto me, in the dayes of Iosiah the King, wait thou Ierne what this rebell: I Israel hath done for thee hath gone vp vpon every high mountaine, and vnder every greene tree, and there played the harlot.

7 And I sayde, when she had done all this, Turne thou backe mee: but she returned not, as her rebellious sister Iudah saue.

8 When I saw, how that by all occasions rebellious Israel hath played the harlot. I said, be away, and gaue her a bill of diuorcement: yet her rebellious sister Iudah was not afraid, but she went also, and played the harlot.

9 So that for the lightnes of her whore dome shee hath euen defiled the land: for the hath committed fornication with stones and thockes.

10 Peruerteth she for all this, her rebellious sister Iudah hath not returned vnto mee with: yet her whole heart, but fainedly, saith the Lord.

11 And the Lord sayd vnto mee, The rebellious Israel hath iustified her selfe more then the rebellious Iudah.

12 Oe and cry these words toward the North, and say, Thou disobedient Israel, returne, saye the Lord, and I will not let my wrath fall vpon you: for I am merciful, saith the Lord, and I will not alway keepe mine anger.

13 But know thine iniquitie: for thou hast rebelled against the Lord thy God, and hast polluted thy wayes to the strange gods vnder every greene tree, but ye would not obey my voyce, saith the Lord.

14 I see disobedient children, turne againe, saye the Lord: for I am your Lord, and I will take you one of a citie, and two of a tribe, and will bring you to Zion.

15 And I will glue you pastores according to mine heart, which shall feede you with knowledge and vnderstanding.

16 Moreover, when ye be increased, and multiplied in the land, in those dayes, saye the Lord, they shall say no more, The Lord is the covenant of the Lord: for he shall come no more to minde, neither shall they remember it, neither shall they distill it, for that shall be no more done.

17 At that time they shall call Ierusalem, The throne of the Lord, and all the nations shall be gathered vnto it, euen to the shame of the Lord in Ierusalem: and thenceforth they shall follow no more the baronelle of their wicked heart.

18 In those dayes the house of Iudah shall walke with the house of Israel, and they shall come to gether out of the land of the North, into the land that I haue giuen for an inheritance vnto your fathers.

19 But I sayde, How did I take the for children, and giue thee a pleasant lande, euen the glorious heritage of the armies of the heathen, and sayde, Thou shalt call mee, saying, My father, and shalt not turne from mee?

20 But as a woman rebelled against her husband: so haue ye rebelled against me, O house of Israel, saith the Lord.

21 A voyce was heard vpon the high places, weeping and supplications of the children of Israel: for they haue peruerced their way, and forgotten the Lord their God.

22 O ye disobedient children, returne and I will heale your rebellions. Beholde, we come vnto thee, for thou art the Lord our God.

23 Truly, the hope of the hills is but vaine, nor the multitude of the mountaines: but in the Lord our God is the strength of Israel.

24 For confusion hath deuoured our fathers labour, from our youth, their sheepe and their bullockes, their sonnes and their daughters.

25 Wee lie downe in our confusion, and our shame couereth vs: for wee haue sinned against the Lord our God, wee and our fathers from our youth, euen vnto this day, and haue not obeyed the voyce of the Lord our God.

8 Wheretofore gird you with sackcloth: lament and howle: for the fierce wrath of the Lord is not turned backe from vs.

9 And in that day, saith the Lord, the heart of the king shall perish, and the heart of the princes, and the priests shall be astonished, and the prophets shall wonder.

10 Then saith I, O Lord God, surely thou hast decreed this people, and Jerusalem, saying, Yet shall haue peace, and the word pearceeth vnto the heart.

11 At that time shall it be sayd to this people, and to Jerusalem, A drie wind in the high places of the wilderness cometh toward the daughter of my people, but neither to fame, nor to cleane.

12 A mightie wind shall come vnto mee from those places, and now will I also giue sentence vpon them.

13 Behold, he shall come vp as the clouds, and his charers shall bee as a tempest: his hostes are lighter then eagles, and hee vnto vs, for we are destroyed.

14 O Jerusalem, wash thine heart from wickednesse, that thou mayest be saved: how long shall thy wicked thoughts remaine within thee?

15 For a voyce declareth from Dan, and publisheth affliction from mount Ephraim.

16 Make ye mention of the heathen, and publish in Jerusalem, Behold, the scouts come from a farre country, and cry out against the cities of Iudah.

17 Eyebare compassed her about as the watchman of the field, because it hath provoked me to wrath, saith the Lord.

18 Thy wayes and thine inventions haue procured thee these things, such is thy wickednesse: therefore it shall be bitter, therefore it shall pearce vnto thine heart.

19 O belly, my belly, I am pained with in the very heart: my heart is troubled within mee: I cannot bee still: for my soule hath heard the sound of the trumpet, & the alarme of the battell.

20 Destruction vpon destruction is cryed, for the whole land is wasted: suddenly are my tents destroyed, and my curtains in a moment.

21 How long shall I see the standard, and heare the sound of the trumpet?

22 For my people is foolish: they haue not knowne mee: they are foolish chyliden and haue none vnderstanding: they are wile to doe euill, but to doe well they haue no knowledge.

23 I haue looked vpon the earth, and loe, it was without forme, and void: and to the heauens, and they had no light.

24 I beheld the mountaines, and loe, they trembled, and all the hills shook.

25 I beheld, and loe, there was no man, and all the birds of the heauen were departed.

26 I beheld, and loe, the fruitful place was wilderness, and all the cities thereof were broken downe at the presence of the Lord, and by his fierce wrath.

27 For thus hath the Lord said, The whole land shall be desolate: yet will I not make a full end.

3 O Lord, are not thine eyes vpon the earth? thou hast stricken them, but they haue not sorrowed: thou hast consumed them, but they haue refused to receive correction: they haue made their faces harder then a stone, and haue refused to returne.

4 Therefore I sayde, Surely they are worse, they are foolish, for they know not the way of the Lord, nor the iudgement of their God.

5 I will get me vnto the great men, and will speake vnto them: for they haue knowen the way of the Lord, and the iudgement of their God, but these haue altogether broken the yoke, and burst the bonds.

6 Therefore a Lion out of the forest shall slay them, and a Wolfe of the wilderness shall destroy them: a Leopard shall watch ouer their cities: every one that goeth out thence shall be toyme in pieces, because their trespasses are many, and their rebellions are increased.

7 How should I spare thee for this? thy children haue forsaken me, and a woman by them hath said: there are no gods: though I fedde them to the full, yet they committed adultery, and assembled themselves by companies in the barres houses.

8 They rose vp in the morning like fedde horses: for euery man nryed after his neighbours wife.

9 Shall I not visit for these things, saith the Lord? Shall not my soule be aunged on such a nation as this?

10 I will climbe vpon their wals, and destroy them, but make not a full end: I will take away their battlements, for they are not the Lords.

11 For the house of Israel, and the house of Iudah hath grievously trespassed against me, saith the Lord.

12 They haue denied the Lord, and sayde, It is not he, neither shall the plague come vpon vs, neither shall we see sword nor famine.

13 And the Prophets shall be as windes, and the word is not in them: thus shall it come vpon them.

14 Therefore thus saith the Lord God of hosts, Because ye speake such wordes, behold, I will put my words into thy mouth, like a fire, and this people shall be as wood, and it shall burne them.

15 Lo, I will bring a nation vpon you from farre, O house of Israel, saith the Lord, which is a mighty nation, and an ancient nation, a nation whose language thou knowest not, neither understandest what they say.

16 Whose quiner is as an open sepulchre: they are all very strong.

17 And they shall eate thine harvest and thy bread: they shall deuoure thy sonnes and thy daughters: they shall eate vpon thy sheepe and thy bullockes: they shall eate thy vines and thy fig trees: they shall destroy with the sword thy fenced cities, wherein thou didst trust.

18 Jerusalemelle at those dayes, saith the Lord, I will not make a full end of you.

19 And when ye shall say, Our force doth the Lord our God doe these things vnto vs: then shall I say, I will not make a full end of you, like as ye haue forsaken me, and serued strange gods in your land, so shall ye serue strangers in a land that is not yours.

20 Declare this in the house of Iacob, and publish it in Iudah, saying,

21 Heare now this, O foolish people, and without vnderstanding, which haue eyes and see not, which haue eares and heare not.

22 Feare ye not me, saith the Lord: of will ye not bee afraid at my presence, which haue placed the land for the bounds of the sea by the perpetuall decree, that it cannot passe it, and though the waves thereof rage, yet can they not passe ouer it.

23 But this people hath an vnfaithfull and rebellious heart: they are departed and gone.

24 For they say not in their heart, Let vs now feare the Lord our God, that glorieth in his holines, and late in due season: he remembereth vnto vs the appointed weekes of the harvest.

25 Yet your iniquities haue turned away these things, and your finnes haue hindered good things from you.

26 For among my people are found wicked persons, that say waite as hee that receiveth snares: they haue made a pie to catch men.

27 As a cage is full of birds, so are their houses full of deceit: therefore they are become great, and wares rich.

28 They are wares fat and shining: they doe overpasse the deedes of the wicked: they execute no iudgement, no nor the iudgement of the fatherlesse, yet they prosper, though they execute no iudgement for the poore.

29 Shall I not visit for these things, saith the Lord? Shall not my soule be aunged on such a nation as this?

let vs goe vp toward the South: wee vnto vs: for the day declineth, and the shadowes
of the evening are stretched out.

5 Arise, and let vs goe by night, and destroy her palaces.

6 For thus hath the Lord of hostes saide, Behold downe wood, and cast a moult against Jerusalem: this city must be visited: all oppression is in the midst of it.

7 As the fountaine calteth out her waters, so she calteth out her malice: a cruelite and shee is continually heard in her before me with hard words and strokes.

8 Behon instructed, O Jerusalem, lest my soule depart from thee, lest I make thee desolate as a land that none inhabiteth.

9 Thus saith the Lord of hostes, They shall gather as a time the residue of Israel:
turne backe thyne hand as the grape gatherer into the baskets.

10 Vnto whom shall I speake, and admonish, that they may heare: Beholde, their eares are vneircumcised, and they cannot hearken, behold, the word of the Lord is vnto them as a reproch: they haue no delight in it.

11 Therefore I am full of the wrath of the Lord: I am weary with holding it: I will pounce out vpon the children in the streete, and likewise vpon the assembly of the young men: for the bul band shall euen be taken with the wife, and the aged with him that is full of dayes.

12 And their houses with their lands, and winies also shall bee turned vnto strangers: for I will stretch out mine hand vpon
the inhabitants of the land, saith the Lord.

13 For from the least of them euen vnto
the greatest of them, euery one is giuen vnto crueltie, and from the prophet euen vnto
the priest, they all deale falsely.

14 They haue healed al that is hurt of the daughter of my people with sweete wordes, saying, Peace, peace, when there is no peace.

15 Were they ashamed when they had committed abomination: nay, they were not ashamed, no, neither could they haue any shame: therefore they shall fall among the flaine: when I shall visit them they shall be cast downe, saith the Lord.

16 Thus saith the Lord, Stand in the wayes, and behold, and aske for the old way which is the good way, and walke therein, and ye shall find rest for your soules: but they saide, Wee will not walke therein.

17 Also I set watchmen ouer you, which saide, Take heed to the sound of the trumpet:

but they saide, Wee will not take heed.

18 Weare therefore, ye Gentiles, and thou congregation knowe, what is among them.

19 Heare, O earth, behold, I will cause a plague to come vpon this people, euen the fruit of their owne imaginations: because they haue not taken heed vnto my wordes, nor to my Law, but call it off.

20 To what purpose bringest thou mee incense from Sheba, and sweete calamus from a faire countrey: your burnt offerings are not pleasant, nor your sacrifices sweete vnto me.

21 Therefore thus saith the Lord, Behold, I will lay stumbling blockes before this people, and the fathers and the sonnes together shall fall vpon them: the neighbour and his friend shall perih.

22 Thus saith the Lord, Beholde, a people cometh from the North countrey, and a great nation shall arise from the sides of the earth.

23 With bowe and shielde shall they be weaponed: they are cruell, and will haue no compassion: their voice roareth like the sea,
and they ride vpon horses well appointed,
like men of warre against thee, O daughter Zion.

24 After haue heard their fame, and our hands were feeble: for now is come vpon vs
as the law of a woman in travail.

25 Goe not forth into the field, nor walke
by the way: for the word of the enemy, and feare is on euery side.

26 O daughter of my people, gird thee with sackcloth, and wallow thy selfe in the ashes: make lamentation and bitter mounting as for thine only sonne: for the destroyer shall suddenly come vpon vs.

27 I haue set thee for a defence and fortresse among my people, that thou mayest know and trie their wayes.

28 They are all rebellious strikers, walking craftily: they are braue, and yron: they all are destroyers.

a Beleeue not the false prophets, which say that for the Temple sake and the sacrifices there, the Lord will preserve you, and to nourish you in your sinne, and vaine confidence,

b God sheweth on what condition he made his promise to this Temple: that they should be an holy people vnto him, as he would be a faithful God to them.

c As theues hid in holes and dens, thinke themselves safe: so when you are in my Temple, you thinke to be covered with the holines thereof, that I cannot see your wickednes.

d Because they depended so much on the Temple which was for his promise, that he would be present and defend them where the Arke was: he sendeth them to Gods iudgements against Shilo, where the Arke had remained about 300. yeeres, and after was taken the Priests slaine, and the people miserably discomfited.

e That is, I neuer ceased to warne you, as Isa. 65. 2. Prou. 2. 23. f He sheweth what is the onely remedy to redresse our faultes: to suffer God to leade vs into the way, and to obey his calling, Isa. 66. 4. g I will send you into captiuitie: as I haue done Ephraim, that is, the ten tribes. h To assure them that God had determined with himselfe to punish their wickednesse, he sheweth that the prayer of the godly can nothing auaile them, while they remaine in their obstinacie against God, and will not vnderstand the means that he voucheth to call them to repentance, Chap. 11. 14. and 24. 17.

i That is, they sacrifice to the Sun, Moone, and Starres, which they called the Qyene of heauen, Chap. 44. 17. 2. King. 23. 5.

4 Trust not in lying wordes, saying, The Temple of the Lord, the Temple of the Lord: this is the Temple of the Lord.

5 For if you amend and redresse your wayes and your workes: if you execute iudgement betwene a man and his neighbour,

6 And oppresse not the stranger, the fatherlesse and the widow, and shed no innocent blood in this place, neither walke after other gods to your destruction,

7 Then will I let you dwell in this place in the land that I gaue vnto your fathers, for euer and euer.

8 Behold, you trust in lying wordes, that cannot profit.

9 Until you slea, murder, and commit adulterie, and I sweare falsely, and burne incense vnto Baal, and walke after other gods whom ye knowe not,

10 And come and stand before me in this house, whereupon my Name is called, and say, We are deliuered, though we haue done all these abominations:

11 As this house become a denne of theennes, whereupon my Name is called before your eyes: Behold, euen I see it, saith the Lord.

12 But goe ye now vnto my place which was in Shilo, where I set my Name at the beginning, and beholde what I did to it for the wickednesse of my people Israel.

13 Therefore now because yee haue done all these works, saith the Lord (and I) role vp early and spake vnto you: but when I spake, ye would not heare me, neither when I called, would ye and we.

14 Therefore will I doe vnto this house, whereupon my Name is called, wherein also ye trust, euen vnto the place that I gaue to you and to your fathers, as I haue done vnto Shilo.

15 And I will cast you out of my sight, as I haue cast out all your wickednesse, euen the whole seed of Ephraim.

16 Therefore thou shalt not pray for this people, neither lift vp crye or prayer for them, neither intreate me: for I will not heare thee.

17 Woe it thou not what they doe in the cities of Iudah and in the streets of Ierusalem:

18 The children gather wood, and the fathers kinde the fire, and the women kure the dough to make cakes to the Qyene of heauen, and to powre out drinke offerings vnto other gods, that they may prouoke me vnto anger.

19 Hope they prouoke mee to anger, saith

the Lord, and not themselves to the confusion of their owne faces?

20 Therefore thus saith the Lord God, Behold, mine anger and my wrath shall be powred vpon this place, vpon man and vpon beast, and vpon the tree of the field, and vpon the fruit of the ground, and it shall burne and not be quenched.

21 Thus saith the Lord of hosts the God of Israel, But your burnt offerings vnto your sacrifices, and eate the flesh.

22 For I spake not vnto your fathers, nor commanded them, when I brought them out of the land of Egypt, concerning burnt offerings and sacrifices.

23 But this thing commanded I them, saying, Obey my voyce, and I will be your God, and ye shall be my people: and walke ye in all the wayes which I haue commanded you, that it may be well vnto you.

24 But they would not obey, nor encline their eare, but went after the counsels and the stubbornnesse of their wicked heart, and went backward and not forward.

25 Since the day that your fathers came vp out of the land of Egypt, vnto this day, I haue euen sent vnto you all my seruants the Prophets, rising vp early euerie day, and sending them.

26 Yet would they not heare me, nor encline their eare, but hardened their neck, and did worse then their fathers.

27 Therefore shalt thou speake all these wordes vnto them, but they will not heare thee: thou shalt also crye vnto them, but they will not and wote thee.

28 But thou shalt say vnto them, This is a nation that hath not the voyce of the Lord their God, nor rectly discipline: truth is perished, and is cleane gone out of their mouth.

29 Cut off thine hair, O Ierusalem, and call it away, and take vp a complaint on the high places: for the Lord hath rejected and forsaken the generation of his wrath.

30 For the children of Iudah haue done euill in my sight, saith the Lord: they haue see their abominations in the house, whereupon my Name is called, to pollute it.

31 And they haue built the high place of Topheth, which is in the valley of Benbinnon to burne their sonnes, and their daughters in the fire, which I commanded them not, neither came it in mine heart.

32 Therefore beholde, the dayes come saith the Lord, that it shall no more be called Topheth, nor the valley of Benbinnon, but the valley of slaughter: for they shall bury in Topheth, till there be no place.

33 And the carkeles of this people shall be made for the foules of the heauen, and for the beasts of the earth, and none shall fray them away.

34 Then I will cause to cease from the cities of Iudah, and from the streets of Ierusalem, the voyce of mirth and the voyce of gladnesse, the voyce of the bride

k Shewing that it was not his chief purpose and intent that they should offer sacrifices, but that they should regard, wherefore they were ordeined: to wit, to be ioyned to the word, as seals & confirmations of remission of sinne in Christ: for without word they were vaine and vprofitable l Which was aboute fourscore hundred yeeres. m Reade verſe 31 n Whereby he sheweth that the Pastors ought not to leave their flockes in their obstinacie: for the Lord will vse the means of his seruants to make the wicked more sinfull, and so proue his. o In signe of mourning as Iob 1. 20, Micah 1. 16. p Against whom he had iust occasion to powre out his wrath, q Of Topheth, 2. 1 The destruction of the Levites. 4 The Lord mooveth the people to amendment. 10 He reproveheth the lying priests, and the covetousnesse of the Prophets and Priests.

At that time sayth the Lord, they shall dig out the bones of their king of Judah, the bones of their Princes, and the bones of the Priests, and the bones of the bydes, and the bones of the inhabitants of Jerusalem out of their graves.

2 And they shall spread them before the Sunne and the Moone, and all the hoste of heaven, whom they have loved, and whom they have feared, and whom they have followed, whom they have sought, and whom they have worshipped: they shall not be gathered nor be buried, but shall be as dung upon the earth.

3 And death shall be desired rather then life, of all the residue that remaineth of this wicked family, which remaine in all the places where I have scattered them, sayth the Lord of hostes.

4 When shall I say unto them also, Thus saith the Lord, O shall they fall and not arise? shall he turne away and not turne againe?

5 Wherefore is this people of Jerusalem turned backe by a prepetuall rebellion? they gaue themselves to deceit, and would not returne.

6 I bearkened and heard, but none spake aright: no man repented him of his wickednes, saying, What have I done? rather one turned to their race, as the doyle rusheth into the barrell.

10 Therefore will I give their wines unto others, and their riches to them that shall possesse them: for every one from the least euen to the greatest is giuen to covetousnes, and from the Prophet euen unto the Priest, eury one dealeth falsly.

11 For they have healed the hurt of the daughter of my people with sweet words, saying, Peace, peace, when there is no peace.

12 Where they ashamed when they had committed abomination? nay they were not ashamed, neither could they have any shame: therefore shall they fall among the heathen, when I shall visite them, they shall be cast downe, sayth the Lord.

13 I will surely consume them, sayth the Lord: there shall be no grapes on the vine, nor figs on the fig tree, and the trade shall fade, and the things that I have giuen them shall depart from them.

14 Why doe we stay? assemble your selves, and let vs enter into the strong cities, and let vs be quiet there: for the Lord our God hath put vs to silence, and giuen vs water with gall to drinke, because we have sinned against the Lord.

15 Wee looked for peace, but no good came, and for a time of health, and behold troubles.

16 The weying of his horses was heard from Dan, the whole land trembled at the noyse of the crying of his strong horses: for they are come, and have deuoured the land with all that is in it, the cite and those that dwell therein.

17 For behold, I will send serpents, and cockatrices among you, which will not be charmed: and they shall sting you, sayth the Lord.

18 I would haue comforted my selfe against sorrow, but mine heart is heauy in me.

19 Beholde, the voyce of the cry of the daughter of my people for feare of them of a farre country, Is not the Lord in Zion? is not her King in her? Why have they provoked mee to anger with their graven images, and with the vanities of a strange god?

20 The harvest is past, the summer is ended, and we are not holpen.

21 I am a lone bereft for the hurt of the daughter of my people: I am heauy, and astonishment hath taken me.

22 Is there no balsme? at Gilead? is there no Physician there? Why then is not the heale of the daughter of my people recovered?

in vaine. q The Prophet speaketh this Meaning, that no mans helpe or meanes could saue them: for in Gilead was precious balsme, Chap. 46. 11, or els diuiding the vaine confidence of the people, who looked for helpe at their Priests, who should haue bin the Physicians of their soules, and dwelt at Gilead, Hose. 6. 8.

CHAP. IX.

1 The complaint of the Prophet for the malice of the people. 24 In the knowledge of God ought we only to reioyce. 26 The vncircumcision of the hearts.

O that mine head were full of water, and mine eyes a fontaine of tears, that I might weepe day & night for the sinne of the daughter of my people.

2 Oh that I had in the wilderness a cottage of wayfaring men, that I might leaue my people and goe from them: for they be all adulterers and an assembly of rebels.

3 And they bend their tongues like their bowes for lies: but they have no courage for the truthy upon the earth: for they proceed from euill to worse, and they haue not knowne me, sayth the Lord.

4 Let eury one take herde of his neighbour, and trust you not in any brother: for eury brother will vs deceit, and eury friend will deale deceitfully.

that this were more quietnesse, and greater safetie for him to dwell among the wilde beasts, then among this wicked people. But that God hath enioyned him this charge, c Vicerly turned from God. d To belie and slander their neighbours. e Meaning, that all were corrupt, and none could find an honest man.

He speaketh in the person of the people, who when the enemy cometh will runne about to hide themselves, & acknowledge that it is Gods hand.

k That is, hath brought vs into extreme affliction, and thus they shall not attribute this plague to fortune, but to Gods iudgement, Chap. 9. 15 and 23. 15.

a The Prophet sheweth the great compassion that he had toward this people, seeing that he could neuer sufficiently lament the destruction that he saw to hang ouer them. Which is a speciall note to discern the t. pastors from the hirclings: Read Chap. 4. 19.

b He sheweth that he was not turned from God. d To belie and slander their neighbours. e Meaning, that all were corrupt, and none could find an honest man.

a The enemy for greedinesse of gaine shall rife your graves, and lay you before stoule idoles, which in your life you worshipped, to see if they can help you. b Because of the afflictions that they shall feele through Gods iudgements, c Is there no hope that they will returne?

d They are full of hypocrisie, and eury one followeth his owne fantastie without any consideration, e He accuseth them in that they are more ignorant of Gods iudgements, then these birds are of their appointed seasons, to discern the colde and heate, as Isa.

6. 3. f The Law doth not promise you, neither needeth it to haue in written for ought that you haue learned by ic. g They that seeme wise may be ashamed of their ignorance: for all wisdom consisteth in Gods word. Isa. 56. 11. chap. 5. 31. & 6. 13. h Reads chap. 6. 14.

ment; but when they think to be much sinned,
and not farre off,
then are they
punished again.

1. And every one will wrathe his hands, and will not spare the enemy: for they have caught their tongues to speak lies, and take great pains to be wise.

2. Their habitation is in the midst of vegetines: ^a because of their desire that refuse to know me, saith the Lord.

3. Therefore thus saith the Lord of hosts,
Behold, I will melt them, and try them:
for where should I find thee for the daughter of my people?

4. Their tongue is as an arrow shot out, and speaketh deceit: one speaketh peaceably to his neighbour with his mouth, but in his heart he saith woe to him.

5. Shall I not visit them for these things, saith the Lord: or shall not my soul be avenged on such a nation as this?

6. Upon the mountains will I take up a weeping and a lamentation, and upon the faire places of the wilderness will I mourning, because they have burnt up, so that none can pass through them: neither can men hear the voice of the flock: both the fowls of the air, and beasts are fled away, and gone.

7. And I will make Jerusalem an heap, and a den of dragons, and I will make the cities of Judah waste, without an inhabitant.

8. Who is wise to understand this? and to whom will I speak it? for they have spoken even be that declare it. Early do they rise in the morn, and is burnt up like a wilderness, that none passeth through.

9. And the Lord saith, Because they have forsoaken my Law, which I set before them,
and have not obeyed my voice, neither walked in my statutes.

10. But have walked after the stubbornness of their own heart, and after Baalims, which their fathers taught them.

11. Therefore thus saith the Lord of hosts the God of Israel, Behold, I will serve his people with women, and give them waters of gall to drink.

12. I will scatter them also among the heathen, whom neither they nor their fathers have known, and I will send a sword after them, till I have consumed them.

13. Thus saith the Lord of hosts, Take heede, and call for the mourning women,
that they may come, and send for all full women,
that they may come.

14. And let them make haste, and let them take up a lamentation for vs, that our eyes
may call our tears, and our eyelids gold with water.

15. For a lamentable noise is heard out of Zion, who are now destroyed, and utterly confounded, for we have forsaken the land,
and our dwellings have cast us out.

16. Therefore hence the word of the Lord, Dye women, and let your eyes regard the woes of his mouth, and teach your daughters to mourn, and every one her neighbour to lament.

17. For death is come up into our windows, and is entered into our palaces, to destroy the children without, and the young men in the streets.

18. Speak, thus saith the Lord, The carkasses of men shall lie even as the young

upon the field, and as the dead full offering wonder, and none shall gather them.

19. Thus saith the Lord, For now shall the man glory in his wisdom, nor the strong man glory in his strength: neither shall the rich man glory in his riches.

20. But let him that glorieth glory in this that he understandeth and knoweth me: for I am the Lord which desire mercy, in judgment, and righteousness in the earth: for in these things I delight, saith the Lord.

21. Behold, the days come, saith the Lord, that I will visit all them to which are circumcised, with the uncircumcised:

22. Egypt, and Judah, and Edom, the children of Ammon, and Moab, and all the himself covetous of them that dwell in the wilderness: for all these nations are uncircumcised, and all the house of Israel are uncircumcised in the heart.

23. I will visit them, and will be avenge
d on them, because they have forsaken my Law,
and have not obeyed my voice, neither walk-
ed in my statutes.

24. Therefore shall the wrath of the Lord be kindled against them, and he will stretch forth his hand against them, and smite them, and will bring them down, and will destroy them, and will make them an heap, and will make them waste, without an inhabitant.

ed in my statutes.

ed in my statutes.

30. Therefore shall the wrath of the Lord be kindled against them, and he will stretch forth his
hand against them, and smite them, and will
bring them down, and will destroy them, and

The word that came to Ieremiah from the Lord, saying, 2. Heare ye the words of this covenant, and speake unto the men of Iudah, and to the inhabitants of Ierusalem, 3. And say thou unto them, Thus saith the Lord God of Israel, A Cursed be the man that obeyeth not the words of this covenant, 4. Which I commanded unto your fathers, when I brought them out of the land of Egypt, from the yron furnace, saying, Obey my voyce, and doe according to all these things, which I command you: so shall ye be my people, and I will be your God. 5. But I may confirme the oath that I haue sworn unto your fathers, to geue them a land which floweth with milke and hony, as appeareth this day. Then answered I, and said, O Lord, 6. When the Lord said unto me, Cry all these words in the cities of Iudah, and in the streets of Ierusalem, saying, Heare ye the words of this covenant, and doe them. 7. For I haue protested unto your fathers, when I brought them vp out of the land of Egypt unto this day, saying early and pottedly saying, Obey my voyce. 8. Nevertheless they would not obey, nor encline their eare: but every one walked in the stubbornnes of his wicked heart: therefore I will bring upon them all the words of this covenant, which I commanded them to doe, but they did it not. 9. And the Lord said unto me, A conspiracie is found among the men of Iudah, and among the inhabitants of Ierusalem. 10. They are turned backe to the iniquities of their forefathers, which refused to heare my word: and they went after other gods to serue them: thus the house of Israel, and the house of Iudah haue broken my covenant which I made with their fathers.

11 Therefore thus saith the Lord, Behold, I will bring a plague upon them, which they shall not be able to escape, and though they cry unto me, I will not hear them.

12 Then shall the cities of Judah, and the inhabitants of Jerusalem goe, and cry unto the gods unto whom they offer incense, but they shall not be able to help them in time of their trouble.

13 For according to the number of thy cities were the gods, O Judah, according to the number of the streets of Jerusalem, have ye set up altars of confusion, even altars to burne incense unto Baal.

14 Therefore thou shalt not pray for this people, neither lift up a cry of prayer for them: for when they cry unto me in their trouble, I will not heare them.

15 What should my beloved say in mine house, seeing they have committed abomination with many? and the holy flesh goeth away from thee: yet when thou dost enquire, thou shalt rejoyce.

16 The Lord called thy name, A green olive tree, faire and of goodly fruit: but with noyse and great tumult he hath set fire upon it, and the branches of it are broken.

17 For the Lord of hostes that planted thee, hath pronounced a plague against thee for the wickedness of the house of Israel, and of the house of Judah, which they have done against themselves to provoke me to anger in offering incense unto Baal.

18 And the Lord hath taught me, and I know it, even then thou shouldest me: their practices.

19 But I was like a lamb, or bullocke, that is brought to the slaughter, and I knew not that they had devised thus against mee, saying, Let vs destroy the tree with the fruit thereof, and cut him out of the land of the living, that his name may be no more in mention.

20 But, O Lord of hostes, that judgest righteously, and triest the reins of the heart, let mee see thy vengeance on them: for unto thee have I opened my cause.

21 The Lord therefore spaketh thus of the men of Anathoth, (that seeke thy life, and say, I prophesie not in the name of the Lord, that thou die not by our hands.)

22 Thus therefore saith the Lord of hostes, Behold, I will visit them: the young men shall die by the sword: their wives and their daughters shall die by famine.

23 And none of them shall remaine: for I will bring a plague upon the men of Anathoth, even the years of their visitation.

24 And none of them shall remaine: for I will bring a plague upon the men of Anathoth, even the years of their visitation.

25 And none of them shall remaine: for I will bring a plague upon the men of Anathoth, even the years of their visitation.

26 And none of them shall remaine: for I will bring a plague upon the men of Anathoth, even the years of their visitation.

27 And none of them shall remaine: for I will bring a plague upon the men of Anathoth, even the years of their visitation.

28 And none of them shall remaine: for I will bring a plague upon the men of Anathoth, even the years of their visitation.

29 And none of them shall remaine: for I will bring a plague upon the men of Anathoth, even the years of their visitation.

30 And none of them shall remaine: for I will bring a plague upon the men of Anathoth, even the years of their visitation.

31 And none of them shall remaine: for I will bring a plague upon the men of Anathoth, even the years of their visitation.

¹ Of the dearth that should come. ⁷ The prayer of the people asking mercie of the Lord. ¹⁰ The vnsanctified people are not heard. ¹² Of prayer, fasting, and of false prophetes that seduce the people.

^a The word of the Lord that came vnto Jerusalem, concerning the death.

^b Judah hath mourned, and the gates thereof are desolate, that haue bin brought to heauenside vnto the ground, and the cry of Jerusalem goeth by.

^c And their nobles haue sent their inferiours to the water, who came to the wells, and found no water: they returned with their vessels empty: they were ashamed and confounded, and covered their heads.

^d For the ground was destroyed, because there was no raine in the earth: the plowmen were ashamed, and covered their heads.

^e Dea, the hind also calmed in the field, and forsooke it, because there was no grasse.

^f And the wilde asses did stand in the high places, and dew in their winde like dragons: their eyes did faile, because there was no grasse.

^g O Lord, though our iniquities testify against vs, deale with vs according to thy Name: for our rebellions are many, we are sinned against thee.

^h O the hope of Israel, the saviour thereof in the time of trouble, why art thou as a stranger in the land, as one that passeth by to tarie for a night?

ⁱ Altho' art thou as a man assailed, and as a strong man: thou canst not helpe: yet thou O Lord, art in the midst of vs, and thy name is called vpon vs: forsake vs not.

^j Thus saith the Lord vnto this people, Thus haue they delighted to wander: they haue not restrained their feete, therefore the Lord hath no delight in them: but hee will now remember their iniquity, and visit their sinnes.

^k Then said the Lord vnto mee, Thou shalt not pray to doe this people good.

^l When they shall say, I will not heare their cry, and when they offer burnt offering, and an oblation, I will not accept them: but I will consume them by the sword, and by the famine, and by the pestilence.

^m Then answered I, O Lord God, behold, the prophets say vnto them, Per shall not see the sword, neither shall famine come vpon you, but I will giue you assured peace in this place.

ⁿ Then the Lord said vnto me, The prophets prophesie lies in my Name: I haue not sent them, neither did I command them, neither spake I vnto them, but they prophesie vnto you a false vision, and diuination and vancie, and deceitfulness of their owne heart.

^o Therefore thus saith the Lord, Concerning the prophets that prophesie in my Name, whom I haue not sent, yet they say, Sword and famine shall not be in this land, by sword and famine shall those prophets be consumed.

^p And the people to whom these prophets doe prophesie, shall bee cast out in the streets of Jerusalem, because of the famine and the sword, and there shall be none to bury them, both they, and their wives, and their sonnes, and their daughters: for I will poure their wickednesse vpon them.

^q Therefore thou shalt say this word vnto them, Let mine eyes weep downe: teares night and day without ceasing: for the virgin daughter of my people is destroyed with a great destruction, and with a sore grievous plague.

^r For if I goe into the field, behold, the same with the sword: and if I enter into the cite, behold them that are sicke for hunger also: moreover, the prophet also of the people go a wandering into a land that they know not.

^s Wilt thou utterly rejecte Judah, or hath thy loue abhorred Zion: why hast thou forsaken vs, that we cannot bee healed: where looked for peace, and there is no good, and for the time of health, and behold trouble.

^t We acknowledge, O Lord, our wickednesse, and the iniquitie of our fathers, for we haue sinned against thee.

^u Doe not abhorre vs: for thy Name sake cast not downe the rhyme of thy glory: remember and breake not thy covenant with vs.

^v Are there any among the vnicities of the Gentiles, that can giue raine: or can the heauens giue showers? Is it not thou, O Lord our God: therefore we will wait vpon thee: for thou hast made all these things.

CHAP. XV.

¹ The Lord would heare no prayer for the Iewes, but threatneth to destroy them with foure plagues.

^a Then said the Lord vnto mee, Though Moses and Samuel stood before me, yet mine affection could not be toward this people: cast them out of my sight, and let them depart.

^b And if they say vnto thee, Whether shall we depart: then tell them, Thus saith the Lord, Such as are appointed to death, vnto death: and such as are for the sword, to the sword: and such as are for the famine, to the famine: and such as are for the captiuitie, to the captiuitie.

^c And I will appoint out their kindred, saith the Lord, the sword to slay, and the dogs to reare in pieces, and the foules of the heauen, and the beasts of the earth to deuoure, and to destroy.

^d I will scatter them also in all kingdoms.

^e Name, c The word significth to runne to and fro for feare and inquietnesse of conscience as did Cain.

ⁿ Though the Prophet knew that God had cast off the multitude which were hypocrites, and bad children, yet he was assured that for his promise sake, he would raise still a Church, for the which he prayeth.

^o He teacheth the Church a forme of prayer, to humble themselves to God by true repentance, which is the only meane to auoid this famine, which was the beginning of Gods plagues.

3 For thus saith the Lord concerning the sonnes, and concerning the daughters that are borne in this place, and concerning their mothers that beare them, & concerning their fathers that beget them in this land,

4 They shall die of deaths and diseases: they shall not be lamented, neither shall they be buried, but they shall be as dung vpon the earth, and they shall bee consumed by the sword & by famine, and their carcases shall be meate for the fowles of the heauen, and for the besties of the earth.

5 For thus saith the Lord, b Enter not into the house of mourning, neither goe to lament, nor bee moued for them: for I haue taken my peace from this people, saith the Lord, euen mercy and compassion.

6 Both the great and the small shall die in this land: they shall not be buried, neither shall men lament for them, nor cut themselves, nor make themselves bald for them.

7 They shall not stretch out the hands for them in the mourning to comfort them for the dead, neither shall they giue them the cup of consolation to drinke for their father or for their mother.

8 Thou shalt not also goe into the house of feasting to sit with them to eate and to drinke.

9 For thus saith the Lord of hosts, the God of Israel, Behold, I will cause to cease out of this place in your eyes, euen in your dayes, the voyce of mirth, and the voyce of gladnesse, the voyce of the hydgrome and the voyce of the pipe.

18 And first I will recompense their iniquitie and their sinne double, because they haue defiled my land, and haue filled mine inheritance with their filthy & carions, & their abominations.

19 O Lord, thou art my strength, and my refuge in the day of affliction: the Gentiles shall come vnto thee from the ends of the world, and shall say, Sincerely our fathers haue inberthed lies, and vanity, wherein there was no profit.

20 Shall a man make gods vnto himselfe, and they are no gods?

21 Behold, therefore I will this once teach them: I will shew them mine hand and my power, and they shall knowe that my Name is the Lord.

25 Then shall the Kings and the princes enter in at the gates of this cite, and shall sit vpon the thron of Dauid, and shall ride vpon chaires, and vpon horses, both they and their Princes, the men of Iudah, and the inhabitants of Ierusalem: and this cite shall remaine for ever.

26 And they shall come from the cities of Iudah, and from about Ierusalem, & from the land of Benjamin, and from the plaine, and from the mountains, and from the South, which shall bring burnt offerings and sacrifices, and meate offerings, and incense, & shall bring sacrifice of praise into the house of the Lord.

27 But if ye will not beare me to sanctifie the Sabbath day, and not to beare a burden, nor to goe through the gates of Ierusalem in the Sabbath day, then will I kindle a fire in the gates thereof, and it shall deuoure the palaces of Ierusalem, and it shall not be quenched.

2 God sheweth by the example of a potter, that it is in his power to destroy the desires of his word. 18 The conspirancie of the Levites against Jeremiah. 19 His prayer against his aduersaries.

The word which came to Jeremiah from the Lord, saying,

2 Arise and goe downe into the potters house, and there shall I shew thee my words.

3 Then I went downe to the potters house, and behold, hee wrought a worke on the wheelles.

4 And the vessell that hee made of clay, was broken in the hand of the potter: so hee returned and made it another vessell, as seemed good to the potter to make it.

5 Then hee the word of the Lord came vnto me, saying,

6 House of Israel, cannot I doe with you as this potter, saith the Lord: behold, as the clay is in the potters hands, so are you in mine hand, O house of Israel.

7 I will speake suddenly against a nation, or against a kingdome to plucke it by, and to roote it out, and to destroy it.

8 But if this nation against whom I haue pronounced, turne from their wickednesse, I will repent of the plague that I thought to bring vpon them.

9 And I will speake suddenly concerning a nation, and concerning a kingdome to build it and to plant it.

10 But if it doe euill in my sight, and heare not my voyce, I will repent of the good that I thought to doe for them.

11 Speake thou now therefore vnto the men of Iudah, and to the inhabitants of Ierusalem, saying, Thus saith the Lord, Behold, I prepare a plague for you, and purpose a thing against you: I returne you therefore euery one from his euill way, and make your wayes and your workes good.

12 But they said desperately, Surely, we will walke after our owne imaginations, and doe euery man after the stubbornnesse of his wicked heart.

13 Therefore thus saith the Lord, Aske now among the heathen, who hath heard such things: the virgine of Israel hath done very filthily.

14 Will a man forsake the snow of Lebanon, which cometh from the rocks of the field: or shall the cold flowing waters, that come from another place, be forsaken?

15 Because my people hath forgotten me, and haue burnt incense to vanity, & their prophets haue caused them to stumble in their wayes from the ancient wayes, to walke in the pathes and way that is not troden.

16 To make their land desolate and a perpetuall derision, so that euery one that passeth thereby, shall see and wagge his head.

17 I will scatter them with an East wind before the enemy: I will shew them the backe, and I will not the face in the day of their destruction.

18 Then said they, Come, and let vs imagine some deuise against Jeremiah: for the Lawe shall not perish from the Priest, nor counsell from the wise, nor the word from the Prophet: come, and let vs smite helpe and succour at strangers, and leaue God, which was present with them. e That is, the way of truth, which God had taught by his Law, read Chap. 6, 16. f I will shew mine anger, and not my fauour toward them. g This argument the wicked haue vsed against the seruants of God, the Church cannot erre: we are the Church, & therefore whosoever speaketh against vs, they ought to die, 1. King. 22, 24. chapter 7, 4. and 20, 1. malac. 1, 4. and thus the false Church persecuteth the true Church, which standeth not in outward pompe, and in multitude, but is known by the graces of the holy Ghost.

b When the Scripture attributeth repentance vnto God,

it is not that he doth contrary to that which he hath ordeined

in his secre counsell: but when he changeth,

it is in acording to repentance and when he giueth man grace to repent, the threatening, (which euer cometh in a condition in it)

repentance in God, because it so appeareth to mans iudgement,

c As men that had no remord, but were altogether bent to rebellion and to their owne will.

d As no man that hath thine, refuseth fresh conduit water which he hath at home, to goe

and seeke waters abroad to quench his thirst

so they ought not to seeke for helpe and succour at strangers, and leaue God, which was present with them. e That is, the way of truth, which God had taught by his Law, read Chap. 6, 16. f I will shew mine anger, and not him with the tongue, and let vs not give heed to any of his words.

19 Hearken vnto me, O Lord, and heare the voyce of them that contend with me.

20 Shall euill be recompensed for good? for they haue digged a pit for my soule: remember that I stood before thee, to speake good for them, and to turne away thy wrath from them.

21 Therefore: deliuer vs from their children to famine, and let them droppe away by the force of the sword, and let their wives be robbed of their children, and bee widowes: and let their husbands bee put to death, and let their young men bee slaine by the sword in the battell.

22 Let the crye bee heard from their houses, when thou shalt bring an hoste suddenly vpon them: for they haue digged a pit to take me, and hid snare for my feet.

23 Yet Lord thou knowest all their counsell against me: rendered to death: forgive not their iniquitie, neither put out their sinne from their sight, but let them bee ouerthrowne before thee: deale thus with them in the time of thine anger.

CHAP. XIX.

His prophesie the destruction of Ierusalem for the contempt and despising of the word of God.

Thus sayeth the Lord, God, and buy an earthen bottel of a potter, and take of the ancients of the people, and of the ancients of the Judges,

2 And goe forth vnto the valley of Ben-hinnom, which is by the entrie of the East-gate: and thou shalt preach there the wordes that I shall tell thee,

3 And shalt say, Heare ye the word of the Lord, O Kings of Iudah, inhabitants of Ierusalem, Thus sayeth the Lord of hostes, the God of Israel, Behoold, I will bring a plague vpon this place, the which whoso euer heareth, his eares shall ringe.

4 Because they haue forsaken mee, and prophaned this place, and haue burnt incense in it vnto other gods, whom neither they, nor their fathers haue knowne, nor the Kings of Iudah (they haue filled this place also with the blood of innocents,

5 And they haue built the high places of Baal, to burne their sonnes with fire for burnt offerings vnto Baal, which I commanded not, nor spake it, neither came it into my minde.)

6 Therefore behold, the daies come, saith the Lord, that this place shall no more bee called a Tophet, nor the valley of Ben-hinnom, but the valley of slaughter.

7 And I will bring the counsell of Iudah and Ierusalem to nought in this place, and I will cause them to fall by the sword before their enemies, and by the hand of them that seke their liues: and their karkettes will I geue to be meat for the fowles of the heauen, and to the beasts of the field.

8 And I will make this citie desolate, and an habitation, so that euery one that passeth thereby shall be astonished and hisse, because of all the plagues thereof.

9 And I will feede them with the flesh of their sonnes, and with the flesh of their daughters, and euery one shall eate the flesh of his friend in the siege and straitnesse, wherewith their enemies, that seke their liues, shall hold them strait.

10 Then shalt thou breake the bottell in the sight of the men that goe with thee,

11 And shalt say vnto them, Thus saith the Lord of hostes, Turne so will I breake this people and this citie, as one breaketh a potters vessell, and that cannot bee made whole againe, and they shall burie them by Tophet, till there be no place to burie.

12 Thus will I doe vnto this place, saith the Lord, and to the inhabitants thereof, and I will make this citie like Tophet.

13 For the houses of Ierusalem, and the houses of the Kings of Iudah shall bee desol'd as the places of Tophet, because of all the houses vpon whole & roofes they haue burnt incense vnto all the hoste of heauen, and haue powred our drinke offerings vnto other gods.

14 Then came Ieremiah from Tophet, where the Lord had sent him to prophesie, and he stood in the court of the Lords house, and said to all the people,

15 Thus saith the Lord of hostes, the God of Israel, behoold, I will bring vpon this citie, and vpon all the countie, all the plagues that I haue pronounced against it, because they haue hardened their neckes, and would not heare my words.

CHAP. XX.

2 Ieremiah is smitten and cast into prison for preaching of the word of God. 3 Hee prophesie the captiuitie of Babylon. 7 Hee complaineth that he is a mocking stocke for the words of his. 9 He is compelled by the spirit to preach the word.

When Balthur, the sonne of Immer, the Priest, which was appointed gouernour in the house of the Lord, heard that Ieremiah prophesied these things,

2 Then Balthur smote Ieremiah the Prophet, and put him in the stocks that were in the high gate of Benjamin which was by the house of the Lord.

3 And on the morning Balthur brought Ieremiah out of the stocks. Then said Ieremiah vnto him, The Lord hath not called thy name Balthur, but Wagabond-missab.

4 For thus sayeth the Lord, Behold, I will make thee to be a terror to thy selfe, and to all thy friends, and they shall fall by the sword of their enemies, and thine eyes shall beholde it, and I will giue all Iudah into the hand of the King of Babel, and he shall carie them captiue into Babel, and shall slay them with the sword.

5 Moreover, I will deliuer al the substance of this citie, and all the labours thereof, and all the precious things thereof, and all the treasures of the Kings of Iudah will I giue into the hand of their enemies, which shall spoyle them, and take them away and carie them to Babel.

6 And thou Balthur, and all that dwell in thine house, shall goe into captiuitie, and suffered them: thou shalt come to Babel, and there thou shalt die, and shalt be buried there: thou sed by the false and all thy friends, to whom thou hast prophesied.

CHAP. XXI.

His prophesies that Zedekiah shalbe taken, and the citie burned.

The word which came unto Ieremiah from the Lord, when king Zedekiah sent unto him Balthaz, the sonne of Balchiah, and Septhaniah, the sonne of Maaseiah the Biriti, saying,

2 Enquire, I pray thee, of the Lord for us (for) Nabuchad-nezzar king of Babel maketh warre against us) if so be that the Lord will deale with us according to all his wondrous workes, that wee may returne up from vs.

3 Then said Ieremiah, Thus shall you say to Zedekiah,

4 Thus saith the Lord God of Israel, Behold, I will turne backe the weapons of warre charare in your hands, wherewith ye fight against the king of Babel, and against the Caldeans, which bessege you without the walles, and I will assemble them into the mids of the citie.

5 And I my selfe will fight against you with an outstretched hand, and with a mighty arme, even in anger and in wrath, and in great indignation.

6 And I will smite the inhabitants of this citie, both man and beast: they shall die of a great pestilence.

7 And after this, saith the Lord, I will deliver Zedekiah the King of Iudah, and his servants, and the people, and such as are left in this citie, from the pestilence, from the sword, and from the famine, into the hand of Nabuchad-nezzar King of Babel, and into the hand of their enemies, and into the hand of those that seeke their lives, and hee shall smite them with the edge of the sword: he shall not spare them, neither have pittie nor compassion.

8 And unto this people thou shalt say, Thus saith the Lord, Behold, I set before you the way of life, and the way of death.

9 What abideth in this citie, shall die by the sword, and by the famine, and by the pestilence: but he that goeth out, and falleth to the Caldeans, that bessege you, he shall live, and his life shall be unto him for a pray.

10 For I have set my face against this citie, for evill, and not for good, saith the Lord: it shall be given into the hand of the King of Babel, and he shall burne it with fire.

11 And say unto the house of the king of Iudah, Heare ye the word of the Lord.

12 O house of David, thus saith the Lord, Execute judgement in the morning, and deliver the oppressed out of the hand of the oppressor, lest my wrath be kindled against you, and I will burne that none can quench it, because of the wickednesse of your workes.

13 Behold, I come against thee, O inhabitant of the valley, & rocke of the plaine, saith the Lord, which say, We shall come downe against vs: or who shall enter into our habitations?

14 But I will visite you according to the fruit of your workes, saith the Lord, and I will kindle a fire in the forest thereof, and it shall devour round about it.

That is, in the houses thereof, which stood as thick as trees in the forest.

D King of Iudah, that sitteth upon y^e throne of David, thou and thy servants, and the people that enter in by these gates.

3 Thus saith the Lord, Ereente ye judgement and a righteousnesse, and deliver the oppressed from the hand of the oppressor, and were not the stranger, the fatherless, nor the widow: doe no violence, nor shed innocent blood in this place.

4 For if ye doe this thing, then shall the kings sitting upon the throne of David enter in by the gates of this house, and ride upon chariots, and upon horses, both he and his servants and his people.

5 But if ye will not heare these words, I will wear by my selfe, saith the Lord, that this house shall be waste.

6 For thus hath the Lord spoken unto the Kings house of Iudah, Thou art Gilead unto me and the head of Lebanon, yet surely I will make thee a wilderness, and as cities not inhabited.

7 And I will prepare destroyers against thee, every one with his weapons, and they shall cut downe thy chiefes: cedar trees, and cast them in the fire.

8 And many nations shall passe by this cite, and they shall say curie man to his neighbour, wherfore hath the Lord done thus unto this great cite?

9 Then shall they answer, Because they have forsaken the covenant of the Lord their God, and worshipped other gods and served them.

10 Wherfore not for the dead, and bee not moved for them, but weep for him that hath gorth out: for he shall returne no more, nor for his native countrey.

11 For thus saith the Lord, as touching Solomon the sonne of Iosiah King of Iudah, which reigned for Iosiah his father, which went out of this place, he shall not returne thither.

12 But he shall die in the place, whither they have led him captive, and shall see this land no more.

13 When thus to him that buildeth his house by unrighteousnesse, and his chambers without equite: he shall see his neighbour without wages, and graue him not for his worke.

14 He saith, I will build me a wide house and large chambers: so he will make himselfe large windowes, and sitting with cedar, and paine them with vermillion.

15 Shalt thou reigne, because thou cloast thy selfe in cedar: did not thy father eate and drinke and prosper when he executed iudgement and iustice?

16 When hee judged the cause of the afflicted and the poore, he prospered: was not this because he knew me, saith the Lord?

17 But thou cyes and thine heart are but onely for thy covetousnesse, and for to shed innocent blood, and for oppression, and for destruction, even to doe this.

18 Therefore thus saith the Lord against Nebolachin, the sonne of Iosiah King of Judah, They shall not lament him, saying, Ah my hart, Ah, Ah, after: neither shall they mourne for him, saying, Ah, lord, Ah, his glory.

19 He shall be buried as an asse: to be buried, even in heaven and cast forth without the gates of Ierusalem.

20 Go by to Lebanon, and cry: shout in Bahian and cry by the passages: for all thy towers are destroyed.

21 I spake unto thee when thou wast in prosperitie: but thou saidst, I will not heare, this hath bene thy manner from thy youth, that thou wouldest not obey my voyce.

22 The wind shall sced all thy passages, and thy towers shall go into captivity: and then shalt thou bee ashamed and confounded of all thy wickednesse.

23 Thou that dwellest in Lebanon, and makest thy nest in the cedars, how beautiful shalt thou be when sorowes come upon thee, as the sorow of a woman in travail?

24 As I live, saith the Lord, though Coniah the sonne of Iehoiachin king of Iudah, were the signet of my right hand, yet would I plucke thee thence.

25 And I will give thee into the hand of them that seek thy life, and into the hand of them, whose face thou fearest, even into the hand of Serubbabab-ryzar King of Babel, and into the hand of the Caldeans.

26 And I will cause them to carry thee away: and thy mother that bare thee into an other countrey, where ye were not borne, and there shall ye die.

27 But to the land, wherunto they desire to returne, they shall not returne thither.

28 Is not this man Coniah as a defiled and broken indolence as a vessel, wherein is no pleasure? wherfore are they carried away, he and his seed, and cast out into a land that they know not?

29 D earth, earth, earth, heare the word of the Lord.

CHAP. XXIII.

1 The vision of the baskets of figs, 5 signifieth that part of the people should be brought againe from captivisme, 8 And that Zedekiah and the rest of the people should be carried away.

The Lord shewed mee, and behold, two baskets of figges were set before the Temple of the Lord, after that Nebuchadnezzar king of Babel had carried away captive Ieremias, the sonne of Iehoiakim king of Iudah, and the princes of Iudah with the workemen, and cunning men of Ierusalem, and had brought them to Babel.

2 One basket had very good figges, even like the figs that are first ripe: and the other basket had very naughty figs, which could not be eaten, they were so euill.

3 Then sayd the Lord unto mee, What seest thou Ieremias? And I said, Figs: the good figs very good, and the naughty very naughty, which cannot be eaten, they are so euill.

4 Against the word of the Lord came unto me, saying,

5 Thus saith the Lord, the God of Israel, like these good figges, so will I know them, that are carried away captives of Iudah to bee good, whom I have sent out of this place, into the land of the Caldeans.

6 For I will let mine eyes upon them for good, and I will bring them againe to this land, and I will build them, and not destroy them, and I will plant them, and not root them out.

7 And I will give them an heart to know me, that I am the Lord, and they shall be my people, and I will be their God: for they shall returne unto mee with their whole heart.

8 And as the naughty figges which cannot bee eaten, they are so euill (surely thus saith the Lord) so will I give Zedekiah the king of Iudah, and his princes, and the residue of Ierusalem, that remaine in this land, and them that dwell in the land of Egypt:

9 I will even give them for a terrible plague to all the kingdomes of the earth, and for a reproch, and for a prouerbe, for a common talke, and for a curse, in all places, where I shall cast them.

10 And I will send the sword, the famine, and the pestilence among them, till they bee consumed out of the land, that I gave unto them and to their fathers.

CHAP. XXV.

1 Hee prophesieth that they shall bee in captivisme sixty yeeres, 12 And that after their seventy yeeres the Babyloians should be destroyed, 15 The destruction of all nations is prophesied.

The word that came to Ieremias, concerning all the people of Iudah in the fourth yeere of Iehoiakim the sonne of Josiah king of Iudah, that was in the first yere of Nabuchadnezzar king of Babel:

2 The which Ieremias the Prophet spake unto all the people of Iudah, and to all the inhabitants of Ierusalem, saying,

3 From the thirteenth yere of Josiah the sonne of Amos king of Iudah, even unto this day (that is the thire and twentieth yere) the word of the Lord hath come unto me, & I have spoken unto you, rising early and speaking, but ye would not heare.

4 And the Lord hath sent unto you all his seruants the Prophets, rising early and sending them, but ye would not heare, nay incline your eares to obey.

5 They sayd, Turne againe now every one from his will way, and from the wickednes of your inventions, & ye shall dwell in the land that the Lord hath given unto you, and to your fathers for ever and ever.

6 And goe not after other gods to serve them and to worship them, and prouoke mee not to anger with the workes of your hands, and I will not punish you.

7 But ye beleeve ye would not heare me, saith the Lord, but have prouoked me to anger with the workes of your hands to your owne hurt.

8 Therefore thus saith the Lord of hostes, Because ye have not heard my words,

9 Behold, I will send and take to me all the families of the earth, saith the Lord, and Nabuchadnezzar the king of Babel my seruant, and will bring them against this land, and against the inhabitants thereof, and against all these nations round about, and will destroy them, and make them an astonishment and an hissing, and a continual desolation.

11 And this whole land shall be desolate, and an astonishment, and these nations shall serve the king of Babel seventy yeeres.

12 And when the seventy yeeres are accomplished, I will visite the king of Babel and that nation, saith the Lord, for their iniquities, turn the land of the Caldeans, and will make it a perpetuall desolation.

13 And I will bring upon that land all my wordes which I haue pronounced against it, even all that is written in this booke, which Ieremias hath prophesied against all nations.

14 For many nations and great Kings shall enen serve themselves of them: thus will I recompense them according to their deedes, and according to the workes of their owne hands.

15 For thus hath the Lord God of Israel spoken vnto me, Take the cup of wine of this mine indignation at mine hand, and cause all the nations to whom I send thee, to drinke it.

16 And they shall drinke, and be mowed, and be mad, because of the word, that I will send among them.

17 Then tooke I the cup at the Lordes hand, and made all people to drinke, vnto whom the Lord had sent me:

18 Euen Ierusalem, and the cities of Iudab, and the Kings thereof, and the princes thereof, to make them desolate, an astonishment, an hissing and a curse, as appeareth this day:

19 Pharaoh also king of Egypt, and his seruants, and his princes, and all his people:

20 And all sorts of people, as all the kings of the land of Uz; and all the kings of the land of the Philistines, and Ashkelon, and Gaza, and Ekron, and the remnant of Ashdod:

26 And all the Kings of the North, farre and nerrone to another, and all the kingdoms of the world, which are vpon the earth, and the king of Shephach shall drinke after them.

27 Therefore say thou vnto them, Thus saith the Lord of hostes, the God of Israel, Drinke and bee drunken, and get you and fall, and rise no more, because of the word, which I will send among you.

28 But if they refuse to take the cup at thine hand to drinke, then tell them, Thus saith the Lord of hostes, I will certainly drinke.

29 For loe, I begin to plague the cities, where my Name is called vpon, and should you goe free? I shall not goe quite for I will call for a sword vpon all the inhabitants of the earth, saith the Lord of hostes.

30 Therefore prophesie thou against them all these wordes, and say vnto them, The Lord shall roare from about, and shall out his voyce from his holy habitation: he shall roare vpon his habitation, and cry aloud, as they that presse the grapes, against all the inhabitants of the earth.

31 The sound shall come to the ends of the earth: for the Lord hath a controuersie with the nations, and will enter into iudgement with all flesh, and he will giue them that are wicked to the sword, saith the Lord.

32 Thus saith the Lord of hostes, Behold, a plague shall goe forth from nation to nation, and a great whirlewind shall be raised vpon the coasts of the earth.

33 And the flame of the Lord shall be at that day from one end of the earth, euen vnto the other end of the earth: they shall not be mourned, neither gathered nor buried, but shall be as the dung vpon the ground.

35 And the flight shall faile from the shepherds, and the escaping from the principall of the flocke.

36 A voyce of the cry of the shepherds, and an howling of the principall of the flocke shall be heard: for the Lord hath destroyed their pasture.

37 And the best pastures are destroyed because of the wrath and indignation of the Lord.

2 Jeremiah moueth the people to repentance. 7 Hee is taken of the false prophets and Priests, and brought to iudgement. 23 Vrijah the Prophet is killed of Iehoiakim contrarie to the will of God.

IN the beginning of the reigne of Iehoiakim the sonne of Josiah King of Iudab, came this word from the Lord, saying,

Thus saith the Lord, Stand in the court of the Lords house, and speake vnto all the cities of Iudab, which come to worshipping in the Lords house, all the wordes that I command thee to speake vnto them: keepe not a word backe, every man from his ruff way, that I may repent mee of the plague, which I have determined to bring upon them, because of the wickedness of their works.

4 And thou shalt say unto them, Thus saith the Lord, If ye will not heare mee to waite in my lawes, which I have set before
you,

5 And to heare the words of my servants
the Prophets, whom I sent unto you, both rising up early, and sending them, and will not obey them,

6 Then will I make this House like Shiloh, and will make this cite a curse to all the nations of the earth.

7 So the Priests and the Prophets, and all the people heard Jeremiah speaking these words in the house of the Lord.

8 Now when Jeremiah had made an ende of speaking all that the Lord had commanded him to speake unto all the people,
then the Priests and the Prophets, and all the people took him, and said, Thou shalt die the death.

9 Altho thou hast prophesied in the name of the Lord, saying, This House shall be like Shiloh, and this cite shall be desolate without an inhabitant; and all the people were gathered against Jeremiah in the house of the Lord.

10 And when the Princes of Judah heard of these things, they came by from the king's house into the House of the Lord, and sat down in the entrie of the new gate of the Lords House.

11 Then spake the Priests and the Prophets unto the princes, and to all the people, saying, This man is worthy to die: for he hath prophesied against this cite, as ye have heard with your eares.

12 Then spake Jeremiah unto all the princes, and to all the people, saying, The Lord hath sent me to prophesie against this House and against this cite all the things that ye have heard.

13 Therefore now amend your wayes and your works, and heare the voyce of the Lord your God, that the Lord may repent him of the plague, that hee hath pronounced against you.

14 As for me, behold, I am in your hands:
doe with me as ye thinke good and right.

15 But know ye for certaine, that if ye put mee to death, ye shall surely bring innocent blood upon your shires, and upon this cite, and upon the inhabitants thereof: for of a truth the Lord hath sent mee unto you to speake all these words in your eares.

16 Then said the princes and all the people unto the Priests, and to the Prophets,
This man is not worthy to die: for hee hath spoken to us in the name of the Lord our God.

17 Then arose by certaine of the Elders of the land, and spake to all the assembly of the people, saying,

18 Whilsh the Adonassir * prophesied
in the dayes of Dizekiab King of Judah, and spake to all the people of Judah, saying, Thus saith the Lord of hosts, Zion shall be plowed like a field, and Jerusalem shall be an heape, and the mountains of the House shall be as the high places of the forest.

19 Dizekiab king of Judah, and all Judah put him to death: did hee not feare
the Lord, and prayed before the Lord, and the Lord repented him of the plague, that hee had pronounced against them: thus might wee procure great evil against our soules.

20 And there was also a man that prophesied in the name of the Lord, one A-siah the sonne of Semeliah, of Kiriatla-rem, who prophesied against this cite, and against this land, according to all the words of Jeremiah.

21 Now when Jehoiakim the king with all his men of power, and all the Princes heard his words, the king sought to slay him. But when Asiah heard it, hee was astraid, and fled, and went into Egypt.

22 Then Jehoiakim the King sent men into Egypt, even Elnathan the sonne of Achbor, and certaine with him into Egypt.

23 And they set Asiah out of Egypt, and brought him unto Jehoiakim the king, who slew him with the sword, and cast his dead body into the graves of the children of the people.

6 But now I haue giuen all these lands into the hande of Nebuchad-nezzar the King of Babel my seruant, and the beasts of the fildes haue I also giuen him to serue him.

7 And all nations shall serue him, and his sonne, and his sonnes sonne, vntill the very tyme of his land come also: then many nations and great Kings shall serue themselves of him.

8 And the nation and kingdome which will not serue the same Nebuchad-nezzar King of Babel, and that will not put their necke vnder the yoke of the King of Babel, the same nation will I visite, saith the Lord, with the sword, and with the famine, and with the pestilence, vntill I haue wholly giuen them into his hands.

9 Therefore heare not your prophets nor your soothsayers, nor your dreamers, nor your enchanters, nor your sozcerers, which say vnto you thus, Ye shall not serue the king of Babel.

10 For they prophesse a lie vnto you to caule you to goe farre from your lands, and that I should call you out, and you should perish.

11 But the nation that put their neckes vnder the yoke of the King of Babel, and serue him, those will I let remaine still in their owne land, saith the Lord, and they shall occupie it, and dwell therein.

12 ¶ I spake also to Zedekiah king of Iudah according to all these wordes, saying, Put your neckes vnder the yoke of the King of Babel, and serue him and his people, that ye may liue.

13 Why will ye die, thou, and thy people by the sword, by the famine, and by the pestilence, as the Lord hath spoken against the nation, that will not serue the King of Babel?

14 Therefore heare not the wordes of the prophets, that speake vnto you, saying, Pee shall not serue the King of Babel: for they prophesse a lie vnto you.

15 For I haue not sent them, saith the Lord, yet they prophesse a lie in my name, that I might call you out, and that ye might perish, both you, and the Prophets that prophesse vnto you.

16 ¶ Also I spake to the Priests, and to all this people, saying, Thus saith the Lord, heare not the wordes of your Prophets that prophesse vnto you, saying, Behold, the vessels of the house of the Lord shall now shortly bee brought againe from Babel, for they prophesse a lie vnto you.

17 Heare them not, but serue the King of Babel, that ye may liue: wherefore should this citie be desolate?

18 But if they bee Prophets, and if the word of the Lord be with them, let them smite the Lord of hostes, that the vessels which are left in the house of the Lord, and in the house of the king of Iudah, and at Ierusalem, goe not to Babel.

19 For thus saith the Lord of hostes, concerning the pillars, and concerning the sea, and concerning the bales, and concerning the residue of the vessels that remaine in this citie.

20 Which Nebuchad-nezzar king of Babel tooke not, when hee caried away captive Ieconiah the sonne of Iehoiakim king of Iudah from Ierusalem to Babel, with all the nobles of Iudah and Ierusalem.

21 For thus saith the Lord of hostes the God of Israel, concerning the vessels that remaine in the house of the Lord, and in the house of the king of Iudah, and at Ierusalem,

2 They shall bee brought to Babel, and there they shall be vntill the day that I visite them, saith the Lord: then will I bring them vp, and restore them vnto this place.

1. The false prophesie of Hananiah. 12 Ieremiah reprooueth Hananiah, and prophesith.

AND that same yeeze, in the beginning of the reign of Zedekiah King of Iudah in the fourth yeeze, and in the fifth moneth, Hananiah the sonne of Azur the Prophet, which was of Gibeah, spake to me in the house of the Lord, in the presence of the priests, and of all the people, and said,

2 Thus speaketh the Lord of hostes, the God of Israel, saying, I haue broken the yoke of the king of Babel.

3 ¶ Within two yeezes space I will bring into this place all the vessels of the Lordes house, that Nebuchad-nezzar king of Babel tooke away from this place, and caried them into Babel.

5 Then the Prophet Ieremiah said vnto the Prophet Hananiah in the presence of the Priests, and in the presence of all the people that stood in the house of the Lord,

6 Euen the Prophet Ieremiah said, So bee it: the Lord so doe, the Lord confirme thy wordes which thou hast prophesied, to restore the vessels of the Lords house, and all that is caried captive from Babel, into this place.

12 ¶ Then the word of the Lord came unto Jeremiah the Prophet, (after that Hananiah the Prophet had broken the yoke from the necke of the Prophet Jeremiah) saying,

13 For, and tell Hananiah, saying, Thus saith the Lord, Thou hast broken the yokes of wood, but thou shalt make for them yokes of yron.

14 For thus saith the Lord of hostes, the God of Israel, I have put a yoke of yron upon the necke of all these Nations, that they may serve Nebuchad-nezzar King of Babel: for they shall serve him, and I have given him the beasts of the fildes also.

15 Then said the Prophet Jeremiah unto the prophet Hananiah, Heare now Hananiah, the Lord hath not sent thee, but thou makest this people to trust in a lie.

16 Therefore thus saith the Lord, Behold, I will cast thee from off the earth: this yeere thou shalt die, because thou hast spoken rebelliously against the Lord.

17 So Hananiah the prophet died the same yeere in the seventh moneth.

CHAP. XXIX.

1 Jeremiah writeth unto them that were in captivity in Babylon. 10 He prophesieth their returne after seventy yeeres. 16 He prophesieth the destruction of the King and of the people that remaine in Jerusalem. 21 He threateth the prophets that seduce the people. 32 The death of Semeiah is prophesied.

NOW these are the wordes of the booke that Jeremiah the Prophet sent from Jerusalem unto the residue of the Elders which were caried away captives, and to the Priestes and to the Prophets, and to all the people whom Nebuchad-nezzar had caried away captiue from Jerusalem to Babel.

2 (After that Jeronias the king, and the b Quene, and the Eunuches, the Princes of Judah, and of Jerusalem, and the workemen and cunning men were departed from Jerusalem)

3 By the hand of Elaiab the sonne of Shaphan, and Gemariah the sonne of Nethaniah (whom Zedekiah King of Judah sent unto Babel to Nebuchad-nezzar King of Babel) saying,

4 Thus hath the Lord of hostes the God of Israel spoken unto all that are caried away captives, whom I have c caused to be caried away captives from Jerusalem unto Babel:

5 Would you houses to dwell in, & plant you gardens, and eat the fruits of them.

6 Take you wines, and beget sonnes and daughters: and take wines for your comes, and give your daughters to husbandes, that they may beare sonnes and daughters, that ye may bee increased there, and not diminished.

7 And seeke the prosperitie of the Citie, whither I have caused you to be caried away captives, and pray unto the Lord for it: for in the peace thereof shall you have peace.

8 ¶ For thus saith the Lord of hostes, the God of Israel, Let not your prophets and your soothsayers that be among you, deceive you, neither give eare to your dreames, which you dreame.

9 For they prophesie you a lye in my Name: I have not sent them, sayeth the Lord.

10 But thus saith the Lord, That after seventy yeeres be accomplished at Babel, I will visite you, and performe my good promise toward you, and cause you to returne to this place.

11 For I know the thoughtes that I have thought towards you, saith the Lord, even the thoughtes of peace, and not of trouble, to give you an end, and your hope.

12 Then shall ye cry unto mee, and ye shall goe and pray unto me, and I will heare you.

13 And ye shall seeke mee and finde me, because ye shall seeke mee with all your heart.

14 And I will be found of you, saith the Lord, and I will turne away your captiuitie, and I will gather you from all the Nations, and from all the places, whither I have cast you, saith the Lord, and will bring you againe unto the place, whence I caused you to be caried away captiue.

15 ¶ Because ye have sayd, The Lord hath called vs by vnspeyres in Babel,

16 Therefore thus saith the Lord of the King, that sitteth upon the throne of David, and of all the people that dwell in this Citie, your brethren that are not gone forth with you into captiuitie:

17 Even thus saith the Lord of hostes, Behold, I will send upon them the sword, the famine, and the pestilence, and will make them like vile haggies, that cannot be eaten, they are lo naughty.

18 And I will persecute them with the sword, with the famine, and with the pestilence: and I will make them a terror to all kingdomes of the earth, and a curse, and astonishment and an hissing, and a reproach among all the Nations whither I have cast them.

19 Because they have not heard my wordes, saith the Lord, which I sent unto them by my servants the Prophets, rising up early, and sending them, but ye would not heare, saith the Lord.

20 ¶ Heare ye therefore the word of the Lord, all ye of the captiuitie, whom I have sent from Jerusalem to Babel.

e The Prophet speaketh not this for the affliction that he bare to the tyrant, but that they should pray for the common rest and quietnesse, that their troubles might not be increased, and that they might with more patience and lesse griefe wait for the time of their deliverance which God had appointed most certaine: for else not onely the Israelites, but all the world, yea, and the insensible creatures should reioyce when the tyrants should be destroyed, as I say 14. 4.

21 Thus saith the Lord of hosts, the God of Israel, of Ahab the sonne of Nimshi, and of Zedekiah the sonne of Maasiah, which prophesie lies unto you in my name, Behold, I will deliver them into the hand of Nebuchad-nazzar king of Babel, and he shall lay them before your eyes.

22 And all thy of the captivity of Judah that are in Babel, shall take by this curse against them, and say, The Lord make thee like Zedekiah and like Ahab, whom the king of Babel burnt in the fire.

23 Because they have committed villenie in Israel, and have committed adulterie with their neighbours wives, and have spoken lying words in my name, which I have not commanded them, even I know it, and will visit it, saith the Lord.

24 Thou shalt also speake to Shemaiah the Nehelamite, saying,

25 Thus speaketh the Lord of hosts, the God of Israel, saying, Because thou hast sent letters in thy name unto all the people that are at Jerusalem, and to Zephaniah the sonne of Maasiah the Priest, and to all the priests, saying,

26 The Lord hath made thee Priest, for Zedekiah the Priest, that yet should be Officers in the house of the Lord, for every man that saith, and maketh himselfe a prophet, to put him in prison and in the stocks.

27 Now therefore why hast not thou reproved Jeremiah of Anathoth, which prophesieth unto you?

28 For, for this cause hee sent unto vs in Babel, saying, This captivitie is long: build houses to dwell in, and plant gardens, and eate the fruites of them.

29 And Zephaniah the Priest read this letter in the eares of Jeremiah the Prophet.

30 Then came the word of the Lord unto Jeremiah, saying,

31 Send to all them of the captivity, saying, Thus saith the Lord of hosts, the God of Israel, saying, Because that Shemaiah the Nehelamite, because that Shemaiah hath prophesied unto you and I sent him not, and be caused you to trust in a lie, 32 Therefore thus saith the Lord, Behold, I will visit Shemaiah the Nehelamite, and his seed: hee shall not have a man to dwell among this people, neither shall he behold the good that I will doe for my people, saith the Lord, because he hath spoken rebelliously against the Lord.

CHAP. XXX.

1 The returne of the people from Babylon, 16 He menaceth the enemies, 18 and comforteth the Church.

The word that came to Jeremiah from the Lord, saying,

2 Thus speaketh the Lord God of Israel, saying, Write thee all the words that I have spoken unto thee, in a booke.

3 For loe, the dayes come, saith the Lord, that I will bring againe the captivitie of my people Israel and Judah, saith the Lord: for I will restore them unto the land that I gave to their fathers, and they shall possesse it.

4 Against these are the wordes that the Lord spake concerning Israel, and concerning Judah,

5 For thus sayeth the Lord, Alce have heard a terrible voyce of feare, and not of peace.

6 Demand now and behold, if man travaile with child: therefore doe I beholde every man with his handes on his loynes as a woman in travaile, and all faces are turned into a pale face.

7 Alas, for this day is great: none hath bene like it: it is even the time of Jacobs trouble, yet shall he be delivered from it.

8 For in that day, saith the Lord of hosts, I will breake his yoke from off thy necke, and breake thy bonds, and strangers shall no more serve themselves of him.

9 But they shall see the Lord their God, and David their king, whom I will raise by unto them.

10 Therefore feare not, O my servant Jacob, saith the Lord, neither bee afraid, O Israel: for loe, I will deliver thee from a farre countrey, and thy seed from the land of their captivitie, and Jacob shall come againe, and shall be in rest and prosperitie, and none shall make him afraid.

11 For I am with thee, saith the Lord, to save thee: though I utterly destroy all the Nations where I have scattered thee, yet will I not utterly destroy thee, but I will correct thee by iudgement, and not bitterly cut thee off.

12 For thus saith the Lord, thy building is incurable, and thy wound is dolorous.

13 There is none to iudge thy cause, or to lay a plaiter: there are no medicines, nor helpe for thee.

14 All thy lovers have forgotten thee: they seeke thee not: for I have stricken thee with the wound of an enemy, and with a sharpe chastisement for the multitude of thine iniquities, because thy sinnes were increased.

15 Why cryest thou for thine affliction? thy sorrow is incurable, for the multitude of thine iniquities: because thy sinnes were increased, I have done these things unto thee.

16 Therefore all they that denounce thee, shall denounce thee, and all thine enemies every one shall goe into captivitie: and they that spoile thee shall be spoiled, and all they that rob thee, will I give to be robbed.

17 For I will restore health unto thee, and I will heale thee of thy wounds, saith the Lord, because they called thee, The city that is forsaken, saying, This is Zion, whom no man seeketh after.

18 Thus saith the Lord, Behold, I will bring againe the captivity of Jacobs tents, and have compassion on his dwelling places: and the City shall be builded upon her owne heape, and the palace shall remaine after the manner thereof.

d Because their deliriance from Babylon was a figure of their deliriance from sinne, he sheweth how this should be procured, to wit, by Iesus Christ, whom a woman should conceive and beare in her wombe, Which is a strange thing in earth, because he should be borne of a virgin without man: or, he meaneth that Ierusalem which was like a barren woman in her captivity should be fruitful, as the chaste is joynt in marriage, and whom God blesteth with children. e Having understood this vision of the Messiah, come, in who the two houses of Israel and Iudah should be ioined, I rejoiced. f I will multiply and enrich them with people and cattell. g The wicked used this proverbe, when they did murmur against Gods iudgements pronounced by the Prophets, saying, that their fathers had committed the fault, and that the children were punished, Ezek. 18. 3 h Though the covenant of redemption made to the fathers, and this which was given after, freedmers, yet they are all one, and grounded on Iesus Christ, (save that this is called new, because of the manifestation of Christ, and the abundant graces of the holy Ghost given to his Church vnder the Gospel. i And so were the occasion of their owne divorcement through their infidelitie, Isa. 50. 1. || Or, make. k In the time of Christ, my Law shall in stead of tables of stone, be written in their hearts by mine holy Spirit, Heb. 8. 10. l Vnder the kingdom of Christ there shall be no obliuion by ignorance, but I will give them faith and knowledge of God for remission of their finnes, and daily increase the same, so that it shall not seeme to come so much by the preaching of my ministers, as by the infusion of my holy Spirit, Isa. 54. 13. but the full accomplishment hereof is referred to the kingdom of Christ, when we shall be ioined with our head.

see thine heart toward the path & way, that thou hast walked: turne againe, O virgine of Israel: turne againe to these thy cities. 22 How long wilt thou go astray, O thou rebellious daughter: for the Lord hath created a new thing in the earth: A WOMAN shall compass a man. 23 Thus saith the Lord of hosts, the God of Israel, Per shall they say this thing in the land of Iudah, and in the cities thereof, when I shall bring againe their captivity, The Lord blesse her, O habitation of iustice and holy mountaine. 24 And Iudah shall dwell in it, and all the cities thereof together, the husbandmen and they that goe forth with the flocke. 25 For I have satiate the weary soule, and I have replenished every sorrowfull soule. 26 Therefore I awaked, and beheld, and my sleepe was sweete vnto me. 27 Behold, the dayes come, sayeth the Lord, that I will sow the house of Israel, and the house of Iudah with the seede of man, and with the seede of beest. 28 And like as I have watched vpon them, to plucke vp, and to roote out, and to throw downe, and to destroy, and to plague them, so will I watch over them, to build and to plant them, saith the Lord. 29 In those dayes shall they say no more, The fathers have eaten a sowre grape, and the childrens teeth are set on edge. 30 But every one shall die for his owne iniquitie: every man that eateth the sowre grape, his teeth shall be set on edge. 31 O Behold, the dayes come, saith the Lord, that I will make a new covenant with the house of Israel, and with the house of Iudah. 32 Not according to the covenant that I made with their fathers, when I tooke them by the hand to bring them out of the land of Egypt, the which my covenant they brake although I was an husband vnto them, saith the Lord. 33 But this shall be the covenant that I will make with the house of Israel. After those dayes, sayeth the Lord, I will put my Law in their inward parts, and will write it in their hearts, and will be their God, and they shall be my people. 34 And they shall teach no more every man his neighbour, and every man his brother, saying, Know the Lord, for they shall all know mee from the least of them vnto the greatest of them, saith the Lord: for I will forgive their iniquitie, and will remember their finnes no more. 35 Thus saith the Lord, which giveth the Sunne for a light to the day, and the courses of the Moone and of the starres for a light to the night, which breaketh the sea, when the waves thereof roare: his Name is the Lord of hosts. 36 If these ordinances depart out of my sight, saith the Lord, then shall the seed of Israel cease from being a nation before me, for ever. 37 Thus saith the Lord, if the heavens can be measured, or the foundations of the earth be searched out beneath, then will I cast off all the seed of Israel, for all that they have done, saith the Lord. 38 Behold, the dayes come, sayeth the Lord, that the city shall be built to the Lord from the towne of Hamaneth, vnto the gate of the corner. 39 And the line of the measure shall goe forth in his presence vpon the hill Gareb, and shall compass about to South. 40 And the whole valley of the dead bodies, and of the ashes, and all the fields vnto the brooke of Kidron, and vnto the corner of the holme gate toward the East, shall be holy vnto the Lord, neither shall it bee plucked by nor destroyed any more for ever. beautiful as euer it was: but hee alludeth to the Spiritual Ierusalem, whose beautie should be incomparable.

and by thy ſtreched out arme, and there is nothing ſo hard vnto thee.

18 T thou ſhewſt mercy vnto thouſands,
and recompeneſt the iniquitie of the fathers
into the boſom of their children after them:
O God the great and mighty, whoſe Name
is the Lord of hoſts,

19 Great in counſell, & mighty in worke,
for thine eyes are open vpon all the wayes
of the ſonnes of men, to giue to euery one according to his wayes, and according to the fruit of his worke.)

20 Which haſt ſet ſignes and wonders in the land of Egypt vnto this day, and in Aſſyria, and among all men, and haſt made thee
a Name, as appeareth this day,

21 And haſt brought thy people Iſrael out of the land of Egypt with ſignes and wonders, and with a ſtrong hand, with a ſtreched out arme, and with great trecur.

22 And haſt giuen them this land, which thou diideſt ſwear to their fathers to giue them, euen a land that floweth with milke and honey.

23 And they came in, and poſſeſſed it,
but they obeyed not thy voyce, neither walked in thy Law: all that thou commandedſt them to doe, they haue not done: therefore thou haſt cauſed this whole plague to come vpon them.

24 Behold, the mountains, they are come into the citie to take it, and the citie is giuen into the hand of the Caldeans, that fight a-gainſt it, by means of the wood, and of the ſtarue, and of the peſtilence, and what thou haſt ſpoken, is come to paſſe, & behold, thou ſeeliſt it.

25 And thou haſt ſaid vnto mee, O Lord God, Buy vnto mee the field for ſiluer, and take witneſſes: for the citie ſhall bee giuen into the hand of the Caldeans.

26 Then came the word of the Lord
vnto Jeremiaſa, ſaying,

27 Behold, I am the Lord God of all flesh: is there any thing to hard for me?

28 Therefore thus ſaith the Lord, Behold, I will giue this citie into the hand of the Caldeans, and into the hand of Aſurbaſſur king of Babel, & he ſhall take it.

29 And the Caldeans ſhall come & ſight againſt this citie, and ſet fire on this citie,
and burne it, with the houſes, vpon whoſe
rooſes they haue offered incenſe vnto Baal,
and powred drinke offerings vnto their gods,
to provoke me vnto anger.

30 For the children of Iſrael, & the children of Iudah haue ſurely done euill before mee from their youth: for the children of Iſrael haue ſurely prouoked mee to anger with the worke of their hands, ſaith the Lord.

31 Therefore this citie hath bene vnto me as a prouocation of mine anger, and of my wrath, from the day that they built it, euen vnto this day, that I ſhould remooue it out of my ſight.

32 Becauſe of all the cuill of the children of Iſrael, & of the children of Iudah, which they haue done to prouoke mee to anger, euen they, their Kings, their Princes, their Priſtes, and their Prophets, and the men of Iudah, and the inhabitants of Aſſyria.

33 And they haue turned vnto me the backe and not the face: though I taught them riſing vp care y and inſtructing them, yet they were not obedient to rectifie doctrine,

34 But they ſet their abominations in the houſe (whereupon my Name was called) to deſile it.

35 And they built the hie places of Ba-al, which are in the valley of Beniamin, to cauſe their ſonnes, and their daughters to paſſe throug the fire vnto Moloch, which I commanded them not, neither came it into my minde, that they ſhould doe ſuch abomination to cauſe Iudah to ſinne.

36 And now therefore, thus ſaith the Lord God of Iſrael ſpoken concerning this citie whereof ye ſay, It ſhall be deliuered into the hand of the King of Babel by the word,
and by the ſtarue, and by the peſtilence.

37 Behold, I will gather them out of all countreies, wherein I haue ſcattered them in mine anger, and in my wrath, and in great indignation, and I will bring them againe vnto this place, and I will cauſe them to dwell ſafely.

40 And I will make an everlasting covenant with them, that I will neuer turne away from them to doe them good, but I will put my feare in their hearts, that they shall not depart from me.

41 Yea, I will delight in them to do them good, and I will plant them in this land assuredly with my whole heart, and with all my soule.

42 For thus saith the Lord, Like as I haue brought all this great plague vpon this people, so will I bring vpon them all the good that I haue promised them.

43 And the fields shall be possessed in this land, wherof ye say, It is desolate without man or beast, and shall be giuen into the hand of the Caldeans.

44 When shall buy fields for siluer, and make writings, and seale them, & take witnesses in the land of Benjamin, and round about Ierusalem, and in the cities of Iudah, and in the cities of the mountaines, and in the cities of the plaine, and in the cities of the South: for I will cause their captiuitie to returne, saith the Lord.

C H A P. XXXIII.

1 The Prophet is admonished of the Lord to pray for the deliuerance of the people, which the Lord promised. 8 God forgiveth sinnes for his owne glory. 15 Of the birth of Christ. 20 The Kingdom of Christ in the Church shall neuer be ended.

Moreouer, the word of the Lord came vnto Jeremiah the second time (while hee was yet shut vp in the court of the prison) saying,

2 Thus saith the Lord, the maker thereof, the Lord that formed it, and established it, the Lord is his Name.

3 Call vnto me, and I will answere thee, and shew thee great & mighty things, which thou knowest not.

4 For thus saith the Lord God of Israel, concerning the houses of this citie, and concerning the houses of the Kings of Iudah, which are destroyed by the Caldeans, and by the sword.

5 They come to fight with the Caldeans, but it is to fill themselves with the dead bodies of men, whom I haue slaine in mine anger and in my wrath: for I haue hid my face from this citie, because of all their wickednes.

6 Behold, I will giue it health and amendment: for I will cure them, and will reueale vnto them the abundance of peace, and truth.

7 And I will cause the captiuitie of Iudah, and the captiuitie of Israel to returne, and will build them as at the first.

8 And I will cleanse them from all their iniquitie, whereby they haue sinned against mee: yea, I will pardon all their iniquities, whereby they haue sinned against mee, and whereby they haue rebelled against mee,

9 And it shall bee to mee a name, a praise, and an honour before all the nations of the earth, which shall hear all the good that I doe vnto them: and they shall feare, and tremble for all the goodness, and for all the wealth that I shew vnto this citie.

10 Thus saith the Lord, Again there shall be heard in this place (which ye say shall bee desolate, without man, and without beast, even in the cities of Iudah, and in the streets of Ierusalem, that are desolate without man, and without inhabitant, and without beast)

11 The voice of joy and the voyce of gladnes, the voyce of the bridegroom, and the voyce of the bride, the voyce of them that shall say, Praise the Lord of hostes, because the Lord is good: for his mercy endureth for euer, and of them that offer the sacrifice of praise in the house of the Lord, for I will cause to returne the captiuitie of the land, as at the first, saith the Lord.

12 Thus saith the Lord of hostes, Again in this place, which is desolate without man, and without beast, and in all the cities thereof, there shall bee dwelling for shepherds to rest their flocks.

13 In the cities of the mountaines, in the cities in the plaine, & in the cities of the South, and in the land of Benjamin, and about Ierusalem, and in the cities of Iudah shall the sheepe passe againe, vnder the hand of him that releth them, saith the Lord.

14 Beholde, the dayes come, saith the Lord, that I will performe that good thing, which I haue promised vnto the house of Israel, and to the house of Iudah.

15 In those dayes, and at that time will I cause the Branch of righteousness to grow vnto David, and hee shall exercise iudgement, and righteousness in the land.

16 In those dayes shall Iudah bee saved, and Ierusalem shall dwell safely, and he that shall say, he is the Lord our righteousness.

17 For thus saith the Lord, David shall neuer want a man to sit vpon the throne of the house of Israel.

18 Priester shall the Priests and Leuites want a man before mee to offer burnt offerings, and to offer meate offerings, and to doe sacrifice continually.

19 And the word of the Lord came vnto Jeremiah, saying,

20 Thus saith the Lord, If you can breake my covenant of the day, and my covenant of the night, that there should not be day, and night in their season,

21 Then may my covenant bee broken with David my seruant, that hee should not haue a sonne to reigne ouer his throne, and with the Leuites, and Priests my ministers.

22 As the army of heauen cannot be numbered, neither the land of the Sea measured: so will I multiply the seed of David my seruant, and the Leuites that minister vnto mee.

23 Moreover, the word of the Lord came to Jeremiah, saying,

24 Considerest thou not what a this people haue spoken, saying, The two families,

h Whereby he shewed that the Church, wherein is remission of sinnes, is Gods honour & glory, so that whosoever is enemies to it, laboureth to dishonour God, which was a long appointed for the Leuites to praye God by 1. d The Iewes thinke to ouercome the Caldeans, but they seek their owne destruction.

e He sheweth that Gods fauour is cause of all prosperitie, as his anger is of all aduersitie.

f In the midst of his threatenings, God remembereth his & comforteth them.

g Declaring that there is no deliuerance nor joy, but whereas we see remission of sinnes.

less, which the Lord hath chosen, hee hath even cast them off: thus they haue despised my people, that they should be no more a nation before them.

25 Thus saith the Lord, If my covenant be not with day and night, and if I haue not appointed the order of heaven and earth,

26 Then will I cast away the seed of Iacob and I will not take of his seed to bee rulers over the seed of Abraham, Ishak, and Iacob: for I will cause their captiuitie to returne, and haue compassion on them.

CHAP. XXXIII.

1 Hee sheweth that the cite and the king Zedekiah shall be begin into the hands of the king of Babylon.

2 Hee rebuketh their crueltie toward their seruants.

The word which came unto Jeremiah from the Lord (when Nebuchad-nazzar king of Babel, and all his hoste, and all the kingdomes of the earth, that were vnder the power of his hand, and all people fought against Ierusalem, and against all the cities thereof saying,

2 Thus saith the Lord God of Israel, Go, and speake to Zedekiah king of Iudah, and tell him, Thus saith the Lord, Behold, I will give this cite into the hand of the king of Babel, and he shall burne it with fire.

3 And thou shalt not escape out of his hand, but shalt surely be taken, and delivered into his hand, and thine eyes shall beholde the face of the king of Babel, and he shall speake with thee mouth to mouth, and thou shalt goe into Babel.

4 Per heare the word of the Lord, O Zedekiah king of Iudah: Thus saith the Lord of thee, thou shalt not die by the sword:

5 But thou shalt die in peace: and according to the burning for thy fathers the former kings which were before thee, so shall they burne odours for thee, and they shall lament thee, saying, O he lord: for I haue pronounced the word, saith the Lord.

6 Then Jeremiah the Prophet spake all these wordes vnto Zedekiah King of Iudah in Ierusalem.

7 When the king of Babels host fought against Ierusalem, and against all the cities of Iudah that were left, even against Lachish, and against Azekah: for these strong cities remained of the cities of Iudah.)

8 This is the word that came vnto Jeremiah from the Lord, after that the King Zedekiah had made a covenant with all the people which were at Ierusalem, to proclaim libertie vnto them.

9 That every man should let his seruant goe free, and every man his handmaide, which was an Ebrew or an Ebrewesse, and that none should serue himselfe of them, to wit of a Iew his brother.

10 Now when all the princes, and all the people which hadde agreed to the covenant, heard that every one should let his seruant goe free, and every one his handmaide, and that none should serue themselves of them any more, they obeyed and let them goe.

11 But afterward they repented, and caused the seruants and the handmaidens, whom they had let goe free, to returne, and held them in subiection as seruants & handmaidens.

12 Therefore the word of the Lord came vnto Jeremiah from the Lord, saying,

13 Thus saith the Lord God of Israel, I made a covenant with your fathers, when I brought them out of the land of Egypt, out of the house of seruants, saying,

14 At the terme of seven yeres let ye goe every man his brother an Ebrew which hath bene sold vnto thee: and when he hath serued thee seue yeres, thou shalt let him goe free from thee: but your fathers obeyed mee not, neither inclined their eares.

15 And ye were now turned, and had done right in my sight, in proclaiming libertie every man to his neighbour, and ye had made a covenant before mee in the house, whereupon my Name is called.

16 But ye repented, and polluted my Name: for ye haue caused every man his seruant, and every man his handmaide, whom ye had set at libertie at their pleasure, to returne, and hold them in subiection to be bought to you as seruants and as handmaidens.

17 Therefore thus saith the Lord, Ye haue not obeyed me, in proclaiming freedom every man to his brother, and every man to his neighbour: behold, I proclaime a libertie for you, saith the Lord, to the sword, to the pestilence, and to the famine, and I will make you a terror to all the kingdomes of the earth.

18 And I will give those men that haue broken my covenant, and haue not kept the wordes of the covenant, which they had made before mee, when they cut the calf in twaine, and passed betwene the partes thereof,

19 The princes of Iudah and the princes of Ierusalem, the eunuchs, and the priests, and all the people of the land, which passed betwene the partes of the calf,

20 I will euery one give them into the hand of their enemies, and into the hands of them that seeke their life: and their dead bodies shall bee for meat vnto the fowles of the heauen, and to the beasts of the earth.

21 And Zedekiah king of Iudah, and his princes will I give into the hand of their enemies, and into the hands of them that seeke their life: and into the hand of the King of Babels hoste, which are come by from you.

22 Behold, I will command, saith the Lord, and cause them to returne to this cite, and they shall fight against it, and take it, and burne it with fire: and I will make the cities of Iudah desolate without an inhabitant.

CHAP. XXXV.

Hee prophecieth the obedience of the Rechabites, and thereby confoundeth the pride of the Iewes.

|| Or bondage, Dent. 15. 12, 13.

2 See unto the house of the Rechabites, and speake unto them, and bring them into the house of the Lord, into one of the chambers, and give them wine to drinke.

3 Then took I Azaniah, the sonne of Jeremiah the sonne of Habazziniah, and his brethren, and all his kinnes, and the whole house of the Rechabites,

4 And I brought them into the house of the Lord, into the chambers of the sonnes of Hanani, the sonne of Agdaliah a man of God, which was by the chamber of Sheafiah the sonne of Shallum, the keeper of the treasure.

5 And I set before the sonnes of the house of the Rechabites, pots full of wine, & cups,
and said unto them, Drinke wine.

6 But they saide, Wee will drinke no wine: for Jonadab the sonne of Rechab our father commanded vs, saying, Ye shall drinke no wine, neither you nor your sonnes for ever.

7 Neither shall you build house, nor sow seed, nor plant vineyard, nor have any, but all your dayes ye shall dwell in tents, that ye may live a long time in the land where ye be strangers.

8 Thus have we obeyed the boyce of Jonadab the sonne of Rechab our father in all that hee hath charged vs, and wee drinke no wine all our dayes, neither wee, our wives,
our sonnes, nor our daughters,

9 Neither build we houses for vs to dwell in, neither have we vineyard, nor field, nor seed:

10 But we have remained in tents, and have obeyed, and done according to all that Jonadab our father commanded vs.

11 But when Sennacherib king of Babel came up into the land, wee sayde, Come, and let vs goe to Jerusalem, from the house of the Caldeans, and from the house of Aram: so we dwell at Jerusalem.

12 Then came the word of the Lord unto Jeremiah, saying,

13 Thus saith the Lord of hosts, the God of Israel, See, I tell the men of Judah, and the inhabitants of Jerusalem, Will ye not receive doctrine to obey my wordes, saith the Lord:

14 The commandment of Jonadab the sonne of Rechab that hee commanded his sonnes, that they should drinke no wine, is surely kept: for unto this day they drinke
none, but obey their fathers commandment:
notwithstanding I have spoken unto you, rising early, and speaking, but ye would not obey me.

15 I have sent also unto you all my servants the Prophets, rising up early, and sending them, saying, Returne now every man
from his euill way, and amend your workes,
and goe not after other gods, to serue them,
and ye shall dwell in the land which I have given unto you, and to your fathers, but ye would not encline your eare, nor obey me.

16 Surely, the sonnes of Jonadab the sonne of Rechab, haue kept the commandement of their father, which hee gaue them,
but this people hath not obeyed me.

17 Therefore thus saith the Lord of hosts,
the God of Israel, Behold, I will bring upon Judah, and upon all the inhabitants of Jerusalem, all the euill that I have pronounced against them, because I have spoken unto them, but they would not heare, and I have called unto them, but they would not answer.

18 And Jeremiah said to the house of the Rechabites, Thus saith the Lord of hosts, the God of Israel, Because ye haue obeyed
the commandment of Jonadab your father, and kept all his precepts, and done according unto all that hee hath commanded
you,

19 Therefore thus saith the Lord of hosts,
the God of Israel, Jonadab the sonne of Re-chab shall not want a man to stand before me for ever.

CHAP. XXXVI.

1 Baruch writeth, as Jeremiah enditeth, the booke of the ewes against Iudah and Israel. 9 Hee is sent with the booke unto the people, and readeth it before them all. 14 Hee is called before the rulers, and readeth it before them also. 23 The king casteth it in the fire. 28 There is another written as the commandement of the Lord.

And in the fourth yeere of Jehoiakim
the sonne of Josiah king of Iudah, came this word unto Jeremiah from the Lord, saying,

2 Take thee a roll or booke, and write therein all the wordes that I haue spoken to thee against Israel, and against Iudah, and against all the nations, from the day that I spoke unto thee, even from the dayes of Josiah unto this day.

3 It may be that the house of Iudah will heare of all the euill, which I determined to doe unto them, that they may returne every man from his euill way, that I may forgive their iniquitie and their finnes.

4 Then Jeremiah called Baruch the son of Neriah, and Baruch wrote at the mouth of Jeremiah all the wordes of the Lord,
which hee had spoken unto him, upon a roll,
or booke.

5 And Jeremiah commanded Baruch, saying, I am a shut up, and cannot goe into the house of the Lord.

6 Therefore goe thou, and read the roll, wherein thou hast written at my mouth the wordes of the Lord in the audience of the people in the Lords house upon the falling day:
also thou shalt read them in the hearing of all Iudah, that come out of their cities.

7 It may be that they will pray before the Lord, and every one returne from his euill way, for great is the anger, and the wrath that the Lord hath declared against this
people.

8 So Baruch the sonne of Neriah did according unto all, that Jeremiah the Prophet commanded him, reading in the booke the wordes of the Lord in the

g The fast was then proclaimed and Baruch read this roule, which was a litle before that Ierusalem was first taken, and then Iehoiachim and Daniel and his companions were led away captives. h Which is the East gate of the Temple.

Loyds house.

9 ¶ And in the fift yere of Iehoiakim the sonne of Josiah King of Iudah, in the ninth moneth, they proclaimed a fast before the Lord to all the people in Ierusalem, and to all the people that came from the cities of Iudah unto Ierusalem.

10 ¶ Then read Baruch in the booke the wordes of Ieremiah in the house of the Lord, in the chamber of Gemariah the sonne of Shaphan the Secretarie in the higher Court at the entry of the new gate of the Loydes house, in the hearing of all the people.

11 ¶ When Michajah the sonne of Gemariah the sonne of Shaphan had heard out of the booke all the wordes of the Lord,

12 ¶ Then hee went downe to the Kings house into the Chancellours chamber, and loe, all the Princes sate there, even Elthamare Chancellour, and Delatah the sonne of Shematah, and Elznab the sonne of Achob, and Gemariah the sonne of Shaphan, and Zedekiah the sonne of Ihananiah, and all the princes.

13 ¶ Then Michajah declared unto them all the wordes that hee had heard when Baruch read in the booke in the audience of the people.

14 ¶ Therefore all the princes sent Iehudi the sonne of Achaniah, the sonne of Shellemtah, the sonne of Chushi, unto Baruch, saying, Take in thine hand the roule, where in thou hast read in the audience of the people, and come. So Baruch the sonne of Gemariahooke the roule in his hand, and came unto them.

15 ¶ And they sayed unto him, Sit downe now, and read it, that wee may heare. So Baruch read it in their audience.

16 ¶ Now when they had heard all the wordes, they were afraid, both one and other, and said unto Baruch, Allee will certifie the King of all these wordes.

17 ¶ And they examined Baruch, saying, Tell vs now, how diddest thou write all these wordes at his mouth?

18 ¶ Then Baruch answered them, Hee pronounced all these wordes unto mee with his mouth, and I wrote them with ink in the booke.

19 ¶ Then said the Princes unto Baruch, See, hide thee, thou and Ieremiah, and let no man know where ye be.

20 ¶ And they went in to the King to the Court, but they layed by the roule in the chamber of Elthamare the Chancellour, and told the King all the wordes, that hee might heare.

21 ¶ So the king sent Iehudi to fetch the roule, and heeooke it out of Elthamare the Chancellours chamber, and Iehudi read it in the audience of the king, and in the audience of all the Princes, which stood beside the king.

22 ¶ Now the king sate in the winter house the ninth moneth, and there was a fire burning before him.

23 ¶ And when Iehudi had read three or foure verses, hee cut it with the pen knife, and cast it into the fire that was on the hearth, untill all the roule was consumed in the fire, that was on the hearth.

24 ¶ Yet they were not afraid, nor rent their garments, neither the king, nor any of his servants that heard all these wordes.

25 ¶ Sherebellest, Elznab, and Delatah, and Gemariah had brought the king, that hee would not burne the roule, but hee would not heare them.

26 ¶ But the king commanded Ierahmeel the sonne of Hammelech, and Seratah the sonne of Azriel, and Shellemtah the sonne of Abdiel, to take Baruch the scribe, and Ieremiah the Prophet: but the Lord hid them.

27 ¶ Then the word of the Lord came to Ieremiah (after that the king had burnt the roule and the wordes which Baruch wrote at the mouth of Ieremiah) saying,

28 ¶ Take thee againe another roule, and write in it all the former wordes that were in the first roule which Iehoiakim the king of Iudah hath burnt.

29 ¶ And thou shalt say to Iehoiakim king of Iudah, Thus saith the Lord, Thou hast burnt this roule, saying, Why halt thou written therein, saying, that the king of Babel shal certainly come and destroy this land, and shall take thence both man and beast?

30 ¶ Therefore thus saith the Lord of Iehoiakim king of Iudah, He shal have none to sit upon the throne of David, & his dead body shal be cast out in the day to the heat, and in the night to the frost.

31 ¶ And I will visit him and his seed, and his servants for their iniquitie, and I will bring upon them, and upon the inhabitants of Ierusalem, and upon the men of Iudah all the evil that I have pronounced against them, but they would not heare.

32 ¶ Thenooke Ieremiah another roule, and gave it Baruch the scribe, the sonne of Seriah, which wrote therein at the mouth of Ieremiah all the wordes of the booke which Iehoiakim King of Iudah had burnt in the fire, and there were added besides them many like wordes.

CHAP. XXXVII.

Zedekiah succeeded Ieremiah. 3 He sendeth unto Ieremiah to pray for him. 11 Ieremiah going unto the land of Benjamin, is taken. 15 He is beaten, and put in prison.

And King Zedekiah the sonne of Josiah reigned for 11 Contah the sonne of Iehoiakim, whom Nebuchad-rezzar King of Babel made King in the land of Iudah.

2 But neither hee, nor his servants, nor the people of the land would obey the wordes of the Lord, which he spake by the ministry of the Prophet Ieremiah.

3 And Zedekiah the king sent Iehucal the sonne of Shelemiah, and Sephaniah the sonne of Maasiah the Dutie to the Prophet Ieremiah, saying, Stay now unto the Lord our God for vs.

4 ¶ Now Ieremiah went in and put among the people: for they had not put him into the prison.

in Shewing that the wicked in stead of repenting when they heare Gods judgments grow into further malice against him and his word.

n Thus we see the continuall care of God hath ever over his to preserve them from the rage of the wicked.

lieged Ierusalem, heard riotings of them,
they departed from Ierusalem.

6 Then came the word of the Lord vnto
the Prophet Jeremiah, saying,

7 Thus saith the Lord God of Israel, Thus shall ye say to the king of Iudah, that sent you vnto me, to inquire of mee, Beholds, Pharaohs holte, which is come fourth to helpe you, shall retorne to Egypt into their

8 And the Caldeans shall come againe, and fight against this cite, and take it, and burne it with fire.

9 Thus saith the Lord, ¶ Decree not

ly depart from vs: for they shall not depart.

10 For though ye had smitten the whole holte of the Caldeans that fight against you, and there remained but wounded men among them, yet should euery man rise vp in 11 ¶ When the holte of the Caldeans was broken vp from Ierusalem, because of Pharaohs armie,

12 Then Jeremiah went out of Ierusalem to goe into the land of Beniamin, separating himselfe thence from among the people.

13 And when hee was in the gate of Beniamin, there was a chiefe officer, whose name was Iriah, the sonne of Shelemiah, the sonne of Hananiah, and hee tooke Jeremiah the Prophet, saying, Thou shalt goe to the Caldeans.

14 Then said Jeremiah, That is false, I flee not to the Caldeans: but he would not heare him: so Iriah tooke Jeremiah, and brought him to the Princes.

15 Wherefore the Princes were angry with Jeremiah, and smote him, and laid him in prison in the house of Iehonathan the scribe: for they had made him the prison.

16 When Jeremiah was entered into the dungeon, and into the prisons, and had remained there a long time.

17 Then Zedekiah the king sent, & tooke him out, and the king asked him secretly in his house, and said, Is there any word from the Lord? And Jeremiah said, Vea: for, said hee, thou shalt bee deliuered into the hand of the king of Babel.

18 Moreover, Jeremiah said vnto king Zedekiah, What haue I offended against thee, or against thy seruants, or against this people, that ye haue put me in prison?

19 Where are now your prophets, which propheesied vnto you, saying, The king of Babel shall not come against you, nor against this land?

20 Therefore heare now, I pray thee, O
my lord the king: let my prayer be accepted before thee, that thou cause mee not to returne to the house of Iehonathan the scribe, lest I die there.

21 Then Zedekiah the king commanded that they should put Jeremiah in the corer
of the prison, and that they should giue him
dayly a peece of bread out of the Bakers streete, untill all the bread in the city were eaten vp. Thus Jeremiah remained in the court of the prison.

CHAP. XXXVIII.

1 By the motion of the ruler: Jeremiah is put into a dungeon. 10 At the request of Ebedmelech the king commandeth Jeremiah to be brought forth of the dungeon. 17 Jeremiah sheweth the King how hee might escape death.

Then Shephatiah the sonne of Mattan, and Gedaliah the sonne of Bahhur, and Iucal the sonne of Shelemiah, and Bah-hur the sonne of Balchiah, heard the words that Jeremiah had spoken vnto all the people, saying,

2 Thus saith the Lord, Vee that remaineth in this city, shall die by the sword, by the famine and by the pestilence: but he that goeth fourth to the Caldeans, shall liue: for hee shall haue his life for a pay, and shall liue.

3 Thus saith the Lord, This city shall surely bee giuen into the hand of the king of Babels armie which shall take it.

4 Therefore the Princes said vnto the king, Wee beseech you, let this man bee put to death: for thus he hath weakened the hands of the men of warre: that remaine in this cite, and the hands of all the people, in speaking such wordes vnto them: for this man seeketh not the wealth of this people, but the hurt.

5 Then Zedekiah the king said, Beholds,
he is in your hands, for the king can denie
you nothing.

6 Then tooke they Jeremiah, and cast him into the dungeon of Balchiah the sonne of Hammelch, that was in the court of the prison: and they let downe Jeremiah with coards: and in the dungeon there was no water but mire: so Jeremiah steeke fast in the mire.

7 Now when Ebed-melech the blacke Ebre, one of the Eunuches, which was in the Kings house, heard that they had put Je-reiah in the dungeon (then the king sate in the gate of Beniamin)

8 And Ebed-melech went out of the kings house, and spake to the king, saying,

9 My lord the king, these men haue done euill in all that they haue done to Je-reiah the Prophet, whom they haue cast into the dungeon, and hee dieth for hunger in the place where he is: for there is no more bread in the city.

10 Then the king commanded Ebedmelech the blacke Ebre, saying, Take from hence thirtie men with thee, and take Je-reiah the Prophet out of the dungeon before he die.

11 So Ebed-melech tooke the men with him, and went to the house of the king vnder
the tresurie, and tooke there old rotten ragges and old womes cloutes, and let them downe by coards into the dungeon to Jeremiah.

12 And Ebed-melech the blacke Ebre said vnto Jeremiah, But now these old rotten ragges and womes, vnder thinge armholes, betwene the coards. And Jeremiah did so.

13 So they drew vp Jeremiah with coards, and took him vp out of the dungeon,

and Jeremiah remained in the court of the prison.

14 Then Zedekiah the King sent, and took Jeremiah the Prophet unto him, into the third court that is in the house of the Lord, and the King said unto Jeremiah, I will aske thee a thing: hide nothing from mee.

15 Then Jeremiah sayd to Zedekiah, If I declare it unto thee, wilt not thou slay mee? and if I give thee counsell, thou wilt not heare me.

16 So the king sware secretly unto Jeremiah, saying, As the Lord lieth, that made vs these soules, I will not slay thee, nor give thee into the hands of those men that seek thy life.

17 Then said Jeremiah unto Zedekiah, Thus saith the Lord God of hostes, the God of Israel, If thou wilt goe forth unto the King of Babels princes, then thy soule shall live, and this citie shall not be burnt by with fire, and thou shalt live, and thine house.

18 But if thou wilt not goe forth to the king of Babels princes, then shall this citie be given into the hand of the Caldeans, and they shall burne it with fire, and thou shalt not escape out of their hands.

19 And Zedekiah the king sayd unto Jeremiah, I am careful for the Jewes that are fled unto the Caldeans, lest they deliver me into their hands, and they mocke me.

20 But Jeremiah sayd, They shall not deliuer thee: hearken unto the voyce of the Lord, I beseech thee, which I speake unto thee: so shall it be well unto thee, and thy soule shall live.

21 But if thou wilt refuse to goe forth, this is the word that the Lord hath shewed mee.

22 And behold, all the women that are left in the king of Iudahs house, shall be brought forth to the king of Babels princes: and those women shall say, Thy friends haue perswaded thee, and haue perswaded against thee: thy feete are fastened in the mire, and they are turned backe.

23 So they shall bring out all thy wiues, and thy children to the Caldeans, and thou shalt not escape out of their hands, but shalt bee taken by the hand of the king of Babel: and this citie shall thou cause to bee burnt with fire.

24 Then said Zedekiah unto Jeremiah, Let no man know of these wordes, and thou shalt not die.

25 But if the princes vnderstand that I haue talked with thee, and they come unto thee, and say unto thee, Declare unto vs now, what thou hast said unto the king, hide it not from vs, and wee will not slay thee: also what the king said unto thee.

26 Then shalt thou say unto them, I humbly besought the king that hee would not cause mee to returne to Jeconathans house to die there.

27 Then came all the Princes unto Jeremiah and asked him. And hee tolde them according to all these wordes that the King had commanded: so they left off speaking with him, for the matter was not percellued.

21 So Jeremiah abode still in the court of the prison, untill the day that Ierusalem was taken: and hee was there, when Ierusalem was taken.

C H A P. XXXIX.

1 Nebuchad-nexzar beseggeth Ierusalem. 4 Zedekiah streng taken of the Caldeans. 6 His sonnes are slayne. 7 His eyes are thrust out. 11 Jeremiah is pressed for. 15 Ebed-melech is delivered from captivity.

IN the ninth yere of Zedekiah king of Iudah, in the tenth moneth came Nebuchad-nexzar king of Babel and all his host against Ierusalem, and they besegged it.

2 And in the eleventh yere of Zedekiah, in the fourth moneth, the ninth day of the moneth, the citie was broken up.

3 And all the princes of the king of Babel came in, and late in the middle gate, euen Nerregal, Sharezzer, Samgar-nebo, Sarchim, Rab-saris, Nerregal, Sharezzer, Rabmag, with all the residue of the princes of the king of Babel.

4 And when Zedekiah the king of Iudah sawe them, and all the men of warre, then they fled, and went out of the citie by night, through the kings garden, and by the gate betwene the two walles, and hee went toward the wilderness.

5 But the Caldeans holle pursued after them, and overtooke Zedekiah in the desert of Iericho: and when they had taken him, they brought him to Nebuchad-nexzar king of Babel unto Riblah in the land of Hamath, where he gave iudgement vpon him.

6 Then the king of Babel slew the sonnes of Zedekiah in Riblah before his eyes: also the king of Babel slew all the nobles of Iudah.

7 Moreover hee put out Zedekiahs eyes, and bound him in chaines, to cary him to Babel.

8 And the Caldeans burnt the Kings house, and the houses of the people with fire, and brake downe the walles of Ierusalem.

9 Then Nebuzar-adan the chiefe steward caried away captiue into Babel the remnant of the people, that remained in the citie, and those that were fled and fallen vnto him with the rest of the people that remained.

10 But Nebuzar-adan the chiefe steward left the poore that had nothing in the land of Iudah, and gave them vineyards and fields at the same time.

11 Now Nebuchad-nexzar King of Babel gave charge concerning Jeremiah vnto Nebuzar-adan the chiefe steward, saying,

12 Take him, and looke well to him, and doe him no harme, but doe vnto him as he shall say vnto thee.

13 So Nebuzar-adan the chiefe steward sent, and Abinnishan, Rab-saris, and Nerregal, Sharezzer, Rabmag, and all the king of Babels princes:

f Ebr. set thine eyes vpon him.

e Thus God preserved his Prophet by his meanes whom he made the scourge to punish the king, and them that were his enemies.

h And yeeld thy selfe vnto them.

i Which declareth that hee more feared the reproch of men, than the threatenings of God, k When Jeconiah and his mother with others were caried away, these women of the kings house were left: which shalbe taken, sayeth the Prophet, and tell the king of Babel how Zedekiah hath bene seduced by his familiar friends and false Prophets, which haue left him in the mire. I Herein appeareth the infirmite of the Prophet, who did dissemble to save his life, albeit it was not to the deniall of his doctrine, or to the hurt of any.

f Whom the king of Babel had now appointed gouernour ouer the rest of the Iewes that he left behinde.

g Thus God recompensed his zeale and fauour, which he shewed to his Prophet in his troubles.

14 Then they sent, and tooke Jeremiah out of the court of the prison, and committed him vnto Gedaliah the sonne of Ahikam the sonne of Shaphan, that hee should cary him home: so he dwelt among the people.

15 Now the word of the Lord came vnto Jeremiah, while hee was shut up in the court of the prison, saying,

16 Goe and speake to Ebed-melech the blacke Ebre, saying, Thus sayeth the Lord of hostes the God of Israel, Behold, I will bring my words vpon this cite for euill, and not for good, and they shall be accomplished in that day before thee.

17 But I will deliuer thee in that day, sayeth the Lord, and thou shalt not be giuen into the hand of the men whom thou fearest.

18 For I will surely deliuer thee, and thou shalt not fall by the sword, but thy life shall be for a pray vnto thee, because thou hast put thy trust in me, saith the Lord.

CHAP. XL.

4 Jeremiah hath licence to goe whither he will:
5 Hee dwelleth with the people that remains with Gedaliah.

The word which came to Jeremiah from the Lord, after that Nebuzar-adan the chiefe steward had let him go from Ramath, when hee had taken him being bound in chains among all that were caried away captiue of Ierusalem and Iudah, which were caried away captiue vnto Babel.

2 And the chiefe steward tooke Jeremiah, and sayd vnto him, The Lord thy God hath pronounced this plague vpon this place.

3 Now the Lord hath brought it, and done according as hee hath sayd: because ye haue sinned against the Lord, and haue not obeyed his voyce, therefore this thing is come vpon you.

4 And now behold, I loose thee this day from the chains which were on thine hands: if it please thee to come with me into Babel, come, and I will looke well vnto thee: but if it please thee not to come with me into Babel, tary still: behold, all the land is before thee: whether it seemeth good, and convenient for thee to goe, whether goe.

5 For yet hee was not returned: therefore hee sayd, Returne to Gedaliah the sonne of Ahikam, the sonne of Shaphan, whom the King of Babel hath made gouernour ouer all the cities of Iudah, and dwell with him among the people, or goe whersoener it pleaseth thee to goe. So the chiefe steward gaue him victuals and a reward, and let him goe.

6 Then went Jeremiah vnto Gedaliah the sonne of Ahikam to Mizpah, and dwelt there with him among the people that were left in the land.

7 Now when all the captaiues of the hoste, which were in the fieldes, euen they and their men heard that the King of Babel had made Gedaliah the sonne of Ahikam gouernour in the land, and that hee had committed vnto him men, and women, and children, and of the poore of the land, that were not caried away captiue to Babel.

8 Then they came to Gedaliah to Mizpah, euen Iſhmael the sonne of Netanah, and Iohanan and Ionathan the sonnes of Kareah, and Gedaliah the sonne of Tanchemer, and the sonnes of Eſhai the Ezerophathite, and Ieremias the sonne of Shachaph, they and their men.

9 And Gedaliah the sonne of Ahikam, the sonne of Shaphan, sware vnto them, and to their men, saying, Feare not to serue the Caldeans: dwell in the land, and serue the king of Babel, and it shall be well with you.

10 As for me, beholde, I will dwell at Mizpah to serue the Caldeans, which will come vnto vs: but you, gather you wine, and summer fruites, and oyle, and put them in your vessels, and dwell in your cities that yet haue I taken.

11 Likewise when all the Iewes that were in Moab, and among the Ammonites, and in Edom, and that were in all the countreys, heard that the king of Babel had left a remnant of Iudah, and that hee had set ouer them Gedaliah the sonne of Ahikam the sonne of Shaphan,

12 Euen all the Iewes returned out of all places where they were dyuen, and came to the land of Iudah to Gedaliah vnto Mizpah, and gathered wine and summer fruites very much.

13 Moreover, Iohanan the sonne of Kareah, and all the captaiues of the hoste, that were in the fieldes, came to Gedaliah to Mizpah.

14 And said vnto him, Knowest thou not that Sais the King of the Ammonites hath sent Iſhmael the sonne of Netanias to slay thee: but Gedaliah the sonne of Ahikam beleued them not.

15 Then Iohanan the sonne of Kareah spake to Gedaliah in Mizpah secretly, saying, Let mee goe, I pray thee, and I will slay Iſhmael the sonne of Netanias, and no man shall knowe it. Wherefore should he kill thee, that all the Iewes which are gathered vnto thee, should be scattered, and the remnant in Iudah perish?

16 But Gedaliah the sonne of Ahikam sayd vnto Iohanan the sonne of Kareah, Thou shalt not doe this thing: for thou speakest falsely of Iſhmael.

CHAP. XLI.

1 Iſhmael killeth Gedaliah guilefully, and many other with him. 12 Iohanan followeth after Iſhmael.

At in the fourth month came Iſhmael the sonne of Netanias, the sonne of Elishama of the seed of Babel, and the princes of the King, and tenne men with him, vnto Gedaliah the sonne of Ahikam to Mizpah, and there they did eate bread together in Mizpah.

2 Then arose Iſhmael the sonne of Netanias with these tenne men that were Gedaliahs friends.

with him, and smote Gedaliah the sonne of Ahikam, the sonne of Shaphan with the sword: and slew him, whom the king of Babel had made governour ouer the land.

3 Iſmael also slew all the Iewes that were with Gedaliah at Mizpah, and all the Calddeans that were found there, and the men of warre.

4 Now the second day that he had slaine Gedaliah, and no man knew it.

5 There came men from Shechem, from Shiloh, and from Samaria, euen fourescore men, hauing their beards shaven, and their clothes rent and cut, with 4 offerings and incense in their hands to offer in the house of the Lord.

6 And Iſmael the sonne of Nerbaniah went forth from Mizpah to meete them, weeping as he went: and when he met them, hee said vnto them, Come to Gedaliah the sonne of Ahikam.

7 And when they came into the middes of the citie, Iſmael the sonne of Nerbaniah slew them, and cast them into the middell of the pit, hee and the men that were with him.

8 But ten men were found among them, that layd vnto Iſmael, Stay vs not: for we haue treasures in the field, of wheate, and of barley, and of oyle, and of hony: so hee slayed, and slew them not among their brethren.

9 Now the pit wherein Iſmael had cast the dead bodies of the men (whome hee had slaine because of Gedaliah) is it, which Asa the king had made, because of Baſha king of Israel, and Iſmael the sonne of Nerbaniah filled it with them that were slaine.

10 Then Iſmael caried away captiue all the residue of the people that were in Mizpah, euen the kings daughters, and all the people that remained in Mizpah, whom Arbuzaradan the chiefe steward had committed to Gedaliah the sonne of Ahikam, and Iſmael the sonne of Nerbaniah caried them away captiue, and departed to goe ouer to the Ammonites.

11 But when Iohanan the sonne of Kareah, and all the captiues of the hoste that were with him, heard of all the euill that Iſmael the sonne of Nerbaniah had done,

12 Then they all tooke their men, & went to fight with Iſmael the sonne of Nerbaniah, and found him by the great waters that are in Gibeon.

13 Now when all the people whom Iſmael caried away captiue, sawe Iohanan the sonne of Kareah, and all the captiues of the hoste that were with him, they were glad.

14 So all the people that Iſmael had caried away captiue from Mizpah, returned, and came againe, and went vnto Iohanan the sonne of Kareah.

15 But Iſmael the sonne of Nerbaniah escaped from Iohanan with eight men, and went to the Ammonites.

16 Then tooke Iohanan the sonne of Kareah, and all the captiues of the hoste that were with him, all the remnant of the people, whom Iſmael the sonne of Nerbaniah had caried away captiue from Mizpah, (after that he had slaine Gedaliah the sonne of Ahikam) euen the strong men of warre, and the women and the children, and the eunuchs whom hee had brought againe from Shechem:

17 And they departed and dwelt in Geruth Chimham, which is by Beth-lehem, to goe and to enter into Egypt.

18 Because of the Calddeans for they feared them, because Iſmael the sonne of Nerbaniah had slaine Gedaliah the sonne of Ahikam, whom the king of Babel made governour in the land.

CHAP. XLII.

1 The captiues ask counsell of Ieremias, what they ought to doe. 7 Hee admonisheth the remnant of the people not to goe into Egypt.

Then all the captiues of the hoste, and Iohanan the sonne of Kareah, and Nerbaniah the sonne of Nerbaniah, and all the people from the least vnto the most came,

2 And said vnto Ieremias the Prophet, Hear our prayer, we beseech thee, and pray for vs vnto the Lord thy God, euen for all this remnant (for we are left but a few of many, as thine eyes doe behold.)

3 That the Lord thy God may shew vs the way wherein wee may walke, and the thing that wee may doe.

4 Then Ieremias the Prophet sayd vnto them, I haue heard you: behold, I will pray vnto the Lord your God, according to your words, and whatsoever thing the Lord shall answer you, I will declare it vnto you: I will keepe nothing backe from you.

5 Then they sayd vnto Ieremias, The Lord bee a witness of truth, and faith betweene vs, if we doe not, euen according to all things, for the which the Lord thy God shall lend thee to vs.

6 Whether it be good or euill, we will obey the voyce of the Lord God, to whom we send thee, that it may bee will with vs, when we obey the voyce of the Lord our God.

7 And so after tenne dayes came the word of the Lord vnto Ieremias.

8 Then hee called Iohanan the sonne of Kareah, and all the captiues of the hoste, which were with him, and all the people from the least to the most.

9 And sayd vnto them, Thus sayeth the Lord God of Israel, vnto whom yee sent mee to present your prayers before him,

10 If yee will dwell in this land, then I will build you, and not destroy you, and I will plant you, and not roote you out: for I repent me of the euill that I haue done vnto you.

11 Feare not for the king of Babel, of whom yee are afraid: hee nor afraid of him, sayeth the Lord: for I am with you to saue you, and to deliver you from his hand.

12 And I will grant you meete, that hee may haue compassion vpon you, and hee shall cause you to dwell in your owne land.

15 (And now therefore heare the word of the Lord, ye remnant of Judah: thus saith the Lord of hostes, the God of Israel, If ye see your faces to enter into Egypt, and goe to dwell there.)

16 Then the word that ye feared, shall take you there in the land of Egypt, and the famine, for the which ye care, shall there hang upon you in Egypt, and there shall ye die.

17 And all the men that set their faces to enter into Egypt, to dwell there, shall die by the sword, by the famine, and by the pestilence, and none of them shall remaine or escape from the plague, that I will bring upon them.

18 For thus saith the Lord of hostes, the God of Israel, As mine anger and my wrath hath bene powered forth upon the inhabitants of Jerusalem: so shall my wrath be powered forth upon you, when ye shall enter into Egypt: and ye shall bee a derision, and an astonishment, and a curse, and a reproch, and ye shall see this place no more.

19 O ye remnant of Judah, the Lord hath said concerning you, Goe not into Egypt: know certainly that I have admonished you this day.

22 Surely ye have dissembled in your hearts when ye sent mee unto the Lord your God, saying, Pray for vs unto the Lord our God, and declare vnto vs euen according vnto all that the Lord our God shall say, and we will doe it.

21 Therefore I haue this day declared it you, but you haue not obeyed the voyce of the Lord your God, nor any thing for the which he hath sent me vnto you.

22 Now therefore know certainly that ye shall die by the sword, by the famine, and by the pestilence, in the place whither ye desire to goe and dwell.

CHAP. XLIII.

Iohanan carrieth the remnant of the people into Egypt contrary to the minde of Jeremiah. 8 Jeremiah prophesieeth the destruction of Egypt.

Now when Jeremiah had made an ende of speaking vnto the whole people all the words of the Lord their God, for the which the Lord their God had sent him to them, euen all these words,

2 Then spake Azariah the sonne of Buzabab, and Iohanan the sonne of Kareab, and all the proud men, saying vnto Jeremiah, Thou speakest falsely: the Lord our God hath not sent thee to say, Goe not into Egypt to dwell there, for they can abide nothing but flatteries, reade Isa. 30. 10. d He sheweth what is the name of hypocrites: to wit, so false that they would obey God, and embrace his word, if they were assured that his messengers spake the truth: though indeed they be most farre from all obedience.

3 But Baruch the sonne of Neriah prophesied the contrary, for to bring vs into the hand of the Chaldeans, that they might slay vs, and carie vs away captiues into Babel.

4 So Iohanan the sonne of Kareab, and all the captiues of the hoste, and all the people obeyed not the voyce of the Lord, to dwell in the land of Judah.

5 But Iohanan the sonne of Kareab, and all the captiues of the hoste, tooke all the remnant of Judah, that were returned from all nations, whither they had bene deliuered, to dwell in the land of Judah:

6 Euen men and women and children, and the kinges daughters, and euery person that Nebuzaradan the chiefe steward had left with Sedaiiah the sonne of Abiham the sonne of Shaphan, and Jeremiah the Prophet, and Baruch the sonne of Neriah.

7 So they came into the land of Egypt: for they obeyed not the voyce of the Lord: thus came they to Tabanbes.

8 Then came the word of the Lord vnto Jeremiah in Tabanbes, saying,

9 Take great stones in thine hand, and hide them in the clay in the brick-kil which is at the entrie of Pharaohs house in Tabanbes in the sight of the men of Judah.

10 And say vnto them, Thus saith the Lord of hostes, the God of Israel: Behold, I will send and bring Nebuchadrezzar the king of Babel my servant, and will set his throne vpon these stones that I haue bid, and he shall spread his pillow ouer them.

11 And when he shall come, hee shall smite the land of Egypt: such as are appointed for death, to death, and such as are for captiuitie, to captiuitie, and such as are for the sword, to the sword.

12 And I will kindle a fire in the houses of the gods of Egypt, and hee shall burne them, and carie them away captiues, and hee shall aray himselfe with the land of Egypt, as a shepherd putteth on his garment, and shall depart from thence in peace.

13 Hee shall breake also the images of Beth-chem, that is in the land of Egypt, and the houses of the gods of the Egyptians shall be burne with fire.

CHAP. XLIIII.

Hee reproacheth the people for their idolatry. 15 They that sit light by the threatening of the Lord, are chastened. 26 The destruction of Egypt and of the Iewes therein is prophesied.

The word that came to Jeremiah concerning all the Iewes which dwell in the land of Egypt, and remained at Migdol and at Tabanbes, and at Noph, and in the country of Pathnos, saying,

2 Thus saith the Lord of hostes, the God of Israel, I haue sene all the euill that I haue brought vpon Jerusalem, and vpon all the cities of Judah: and behold, this day they are desolate, and no man dwelleth therein, there is no hold so strong, that can preserue them from Gods vengeance.

e Thus the wicked doe not onely contemne and hurt the messengers of God, but slander & speake wickedly of all them that support or fauour the godly.

a Who was also called Ieremias, Chap. 41. 1.

b This declareth that pride is the cause of rebellion, and contempt of Gods ministers.

c When the hypocrite of the wicked is discovered, they burst forth in an open rage: for they can abide nothing but flatteries, reade Isa. 30. 10. d He sheweth what is the name of hypocrites: to wit, so false that they would obey God, and embrace his word, if they were assured that his messengers spake the truth: though indeed they be most farre from all obedience.

a These were all famous and strong cities in Egypt, where the Iewes that were fled, dwelt for their safety: but the Prophet declared that

3 Because of their wickedness which they have committed, to provoke me to anger, in that they went to burne incense, and to lette other gods, whom they knew not, neither they, nor you, nor your fathers.

4 Howbeit I sent unto you all my servants the Prophets ruling early, and sending them, saying, Why doe not this abominable thing that I hate.

5 But they would not heare nor incline their care to turne from their wickedness, and to burne no more incense unto other gods.

6 Wherefore my wrath, and mine anger was powred forth, and was kindled in the cities of Judah, and in the streets of Jerusalem, and they are desolate, and wasted, as appeareth this day.

7 Therefore now thus saith the Lord of hostes the God of Israel, Wherefore commit ye this great euill against your soules, to cut off from you man and woman, child and sucking out of Judah, and leaue you none to remaine?

8 In that yee provoke mee unto wrath, with the workes of your hands, burning incense unto other gods in the land of Egypt whither ye be gone to dwell: that yee might bring destruction unto your selves, and that yee might be a curse and a reproch among all nations of the earth.

9 Vaine ye forgotten the wickedness of your fathers, and the wickedness of the Kings of Judah, and the wickednes of their wives, and your own wickedness, and the wickedness of your wives, which they have committed in the land of Judah and in the streets of Jerusalem?

10 They are not humbled unto this day, neither haue they feared nor walked in my Law nor in my Statutes, that I set before you, and before your fathers.

11 Therefore thus saith the Lord of hostes the God of Israel, Behold, I will set my face against you* to euill, and to destroy all Judah,

12 And I will take the remnant of Judah, that haue set their faces to goe into the land of Egypt there to dwell, and they shall all be consumed and fall in the lande of Egypt: they shall cum bee consumed by the sword, and by the famine: they shall die from the least vnto the most, by the sword, and by the famine, and they shall be a detestation, and an astonishment, and a curse and a reproch.

13 For I will visit them that dwell in the land of Egypt, as I haue visited Jerusalem, by the sword, by the famine, and by the pestilence.

14 So that none of the remnant of Judah which are gone into the land of Egypt to dwell there, shall escape or remaine, that they should returne into the land of Judah, to the which they haue a desire to returne to dwell there: for none shall retorne, but such as shall escape.

15 Then all the men which knew that their wives had burnt incense unto other gods, & all the women that stood by, a great multitude, euen all the people that dwelt in the land of Egypt in Pathos, answered Jeremiah, saying,

16 The word that thou hast spoken vnto vs in the name of the Lord, we will not heare it of tye,

17 But we will doe whatsoeuer thing goeth out of our owne mouth, as to burne incense vnto the Queene of heauen, and to powre out drinke offerings vnto her, as we haue done, both we and our fathers, our Kings and our Princes in the cities of Judah, and in the streets of Jerusalem: for then I had we plenty of victuals, and were well, and I felt none euill.

18 But since we left off to burne incense to the Queene of heauen, and to powre out drinke offerings vnto her, wee haue had scarcens of all things, and haue ben consumed by the sword and by the famine.

19 And when we burnt incense vnto the Queene of heauen, and powred out drinke offerings vnto her, did we make her cakes to make her glad, and powre out drinke offerings vnto her without our husbands?

20 Then said Jeremiah vnto all the people, to the men, and to the women, and to all the people which had giuen him that answer, saying,

21 Did not the Lord remember the incense that yee burnt in the cities of Judah, and in the streets of Jerusalem, both you, and your fathers, your kings, and your princes, and the people of the land, and I hath he not considered it?

22 So that the Lord could no longer forbear, because of the wickedness of your inventions, and because of the abominations, which ye haue committed: therefore is your land desolate and an astonishment, and a curse, and without inhabitant, as appeareth this day.

23 Because ye haue burnt incense, and because ye haue sinned against the Lord, & haue not obeyed the voyce of the Lord, nor walked in his lawe, nor in his statutes, nor in his testimonies, therefore this plague is come vpon you, as appeareth this day.

24 Wherefore Jeremiah said vnto all the people, and to all the women, Heare the word of the Lord, all Judah that are in the land of Egypt.

25 Thus speaketh the Lord of hostes, the God of Israel, saying, See and your wives haue ben spoken with your mouths, and fulfilled with your hands, saying, Wee will performe our vowes that wee haue vowed, to burne incense to the Queene of heauen, and to powre out drinke offerings to her: yet will performe our vowes, and doe the things that yee haue vowed.

26 Therefore heare the word of the Lord, all Judah that dwell in the land of Egypt. Behold, I haue sware by my great name, sayth the Lord, that my name

o We see therefore that God hath a perpetual care over his, wherefore they are scattered: for though they be but two or three, yet he will deliver them when he destroyeth his enemies.

p He sheweth the means whereby they should be destroyed, to assure them of the certainty of the plague, and yet they remain still in their obstinacy till they perish: for Iosephus lib. 10. de Ant. cap. 11. writeth, that six years after the taking of Jerusalem, Nebuchadnezzar the younger, having overcome the Moabites & the Ammonites, went against Egypt, and slew the king, and brought thence Jews, and other into Babylon.

* Shall no more be called upon by the mouth of any man of Judah, in all the land of Egypt, saying, the Lord God liveth.

27 Behold, I will wash out them for evil and not for good, and all men of Judah that are in the land of Egypt, shall be consumed by the sword, and by the famine, until they be utterly destroyed.

28 Yet a small number that escape the sword, shall returne out of the land of Egypt into the land of Judah: and all the remnant of Judah that are gone into the land of Egypt to dwell there, shall know whose words shall stand, mine or theirs.

29 And this shall be a signe unto you, saith the Lord, when I visit you in this place, that ye may know that my words shall surely stand against you for evil.

30 Thus saith the Lord, Behold, I will give Pharaoh his king of Egypt into the hand of his enemies, and into the hand of them that seek his life: as I gave Zedekiah king of Judah into the hand of Nabuchadnezzar king of Babel his enemy, who also sought his life.

31 And yet they remaine still in their obstinacy till they perish: for Iosephus lib. 10. de Ant. cap. 11. writeth, that six years after the taking of Jerusalem, Nebuchadnezzar the younger, having overcome the Moabites & the Ammonites, went against Egypt, and slew the king, and brought thence Jews, and other into Babylon.

9 Come up, ye horses, and rage ye chariots, and let the balliant men come forth: the blacke horses, and the Libians that beare the shield, and the Lydians that handle and bend the bow.

10 For this is the day of the Lord God of hostes, and a day of vengeance, that he may avenge him of his enemies: for the sword shall devour, and it shall satiate, and make drunk with their blood: for the Lord God of hostes hath a sacrifice in the North country by the river Berach.

24 The daughter of Egypt shall be confounded: she shall be delivered into the hands of the people of the North.

25 Behold, I will visit the Lord of hosts, the God of Israel, Behold, I will visit the common people of Mo, and Pharaoh, a Egypt, with their gods, and their kings, even Pharaoh, and all them that trust in him.

26 And I will deliver them into the hands of those that seek their lives, and into the hand of Nebuchadnezzar King of Babel: and into the hands of his servants, and afterward they shall dwell as in the old time, saith the Lord.

27 But feare not thou, O my servant Jacob, and be not thou afraid, O Israel: for behold, I will deliver thee from a farre country, and thy seed from the land of their captivity, and Jacob shall returne and be in rest and prosperity, and none shall make him afraid.

28 Feare thou not, O Jacob my servant, saith the Lord: for I am with thee, and I will utterly destroy all the Nations, whither I have driven thee: but I will not utterly destroy thee, but correct thee by judgement, and not utterly cut thee off.

CHAP. XLVIII.

The word of the Lord against the Moabites, as because of their pride and cruelty.

Concerning Moab, thus saith the Lord God of hosts, the God of Israel, Moab unto Moab: for it is wasted: Kiriatbaim is confounded and taken Heshbon is confounded and afraid.

2 Moab shall boast no more of Heribon: for they have devised evil against it. Come, and let us destroy it, that it be no more a Nation: also, thou shalt be destroyed, O Moab, and the sword shall pursue thee.

3 A voyce of crying shall bee from Heshbon with desolation, and great destruction.

4 Moab is destroyed: her little ones have caused their cry to be heard.

5 For at the going up of Lubith, the mourner shall goe up with weeping: for in the going downe of Heshbon, the enemies have heard a cry of destruction.

6 Fle and save your lives, and bee like vnto the heath in the wilderness.

7 For because thou hast trusted in thy works, and in thy treasures, thou shalt also be taken, and Chemosh shall goe forth into captivity with his priests and his princes together.

8 And the destroyer shall come upon all Cities, and no city shall escape: the valley also shall perish, and the plaine shall be destroyed as the Lord hath spoken.

9 Nine wings unto Moab, that it may flee and get away: for the cities thereof shall be desolate, without any to dwell therein.

10 I Curled be hee that doeth the worke of the Lord negligently, and curled be hee that keepeth backe his sword from blood.

11 Moab hath bin at rest from his youth, and hee hath rested on his lees, and hath not bene powered from distress to distress, neither hath hee gone into captivity: therefore his castle remained in him, and his sent is not changed.

12 Therefore behold, the dayes come, saith the Lord, that I will send vnto him such as shall carry him away, and shall empty his vessels, and breake their bottles.

13 Hee sheweth that God would punish the Caldeans, if they did not destroy the Egyptians, and that with a courage, and calleth his executing of his vengeance against his enemies, his worke: though the Caldeans fought another end, Isa. 10. 12.

13 And Moab shall be ashamed of Che-

14 How thinke you thus, We are mighty and strong men of warre?

15 Moab is destroyed and his Cities burnt up, and his chosen yong men are gone downe to slaughter, sayeth the King, whose name is, The Lord of hostes.

16 The destruction of Moab is ready to come, and his plague hasteth fast.

17 All ye that are about him, mourne for him, and all ye that know his name, say, How is the strong staffe broken, and the beautiful rod!

18 Thou daughter that dost inhabite Dibon, come downe from thy glory, and sit in thirst: for the destroyer of Moab shall come by upon thee, and hee shall destroy thy strong holds.

19 Thou that dwellest in Aroer, stand by the way, and behold: as he him that fleeth
and that escapeth, and say, What is done?

20 Moab is confounded: for it is destroyed: howle, and cry, till ye be in Arnon, that Moab is made waste.

21 And iudgement is come vpon the plaine country, vpon Idolom, and vpon Jabozab, and vpon Sephaath.

22 And vpon Dibon, and vpon Arbo,
and vpon the house of Diblat-haim.

23 And vpon Kir-hathaim, and vpon Bethgamul, and vpon Beth-moan,

24 And vpon Kerioth, and vpon Bozrah, and vpon all the Cities of the land of Moab farre off were.

25 The house of Moab is cut off, and his arme is broken, saith the Lord.

26 Make ye him drunken: for he magnified himselfe against the Lord: Moab shall wallow in his vomite, and he also shall be in derision.

27 For diddest not thou deride Israel, as though hee had bene found among theeues?
for when thou speakest of him, thou art? moued.

28 O ye that dwell in Moab, leave the Cities, and dwell in the rockes, and be like the doue that maketh her nest in the sides of the holes mouth.

29 We haue heard the pride of Moab (hee is exceeding proud) his stoutnesse, and his arrogance and his pride, and the hauntinesse of his heart.

30 I know his wrath, saith the Lord, but it shall not be so: and his dissimulations, for they do not right.

31 Therefore will I howle for Moab, and I will cry out for all Moab: mine heart
shall mourne for the men of Kir-heres.

32 A Crier of Sodom, I will weepe for thee as I wept for Tazer: thy plantes are gone ouer the Sea, thy are come to the Sea of Tazer: the destroyer is fallen vpon thy Summer fruits, and vpon thy Citieage.

33 And joy and gladnesse is taken from the plentiful field, and from the land of Moab: and I haue caused wine to fall from the wine-press: none shall tread with shouting:
their shouting shall be no shouting.

34 From the cry of Dibon vnto Beth and vnto Tazer haue they made their noise:

from Zoar vnto Horonaim, the cheifer of
there were olde shall goe lowing: for the waters also of Amonim shall be waiked.

35 Moreover, I will cause to crie in Moab, sayeth the Lord, him that offereth in the high places, and him that burneth incense to his gods.

36 Therefore mine heart shall sound for Moab like a "haume, and mine heart shall sound like a "haume for the men of Kirheres, because the riches that he hath gotten, is perished.

37 For every head shall be // balde, and every beard plucked: vpon all the hands shall be cuttings, and vpon the lynes sackcloth.

38 And mourning shall bee vpon all the house tops of Moab, and in all the streets thereof: for I haue broken Moab like a vessell wherein is no pleasure, saith the Lord.

39 They shall howle, saying, How is he destroyed: how hath Moab turned the back with shame: so shall Moab be a derision, and a feare to all them about him.

40 For thus saith the Lord, Behold, he shall flee as an Eagle, and shall spread his wings ouer Moab.

41 The Cities are taken, and the strong holds are won, and the mighty mens hearts in Moab at that day, shall be as the heart of a woman in transeile.

42 And Moab shall be destroyed from being a people, because hee hath set vp himselfe against the Lord.

43 I feare, and pit and snare shall be vpon thee, O inhabitant of Moab, saith the Lord.

44 He that escapeth from the feare, shall fall in the pit, and hee that getteth by out of the pit, shall be taken in the snare: for I will bring vpon it, euen vpon Moab, the perre of their visitation, saith the Lord.

45 They that fled, stood vnder the shadow of Heshbon, because of the force: for the fire came out of Heshbon, and a flame from Sithon, and deuoured the corner of Moab, and the top of the seditious children.

46 What be vnto thee, O Moab: the people of Chemosh perisheth: for thy finnes are taken captiues, and thy daughters ledde into captiuitie.

47 Yet will I bring againe the captiuitie
of Moab in the latter dayes, saith the Lord.
Thus saith the Lord of iudgement of Moab.

warre to bee heard in Rabboth of the Ammonites, and it shall be a desolate heape, and her daughter shall be burnt with fire: then shall Israel possess those that possessed him, saith the Lord.

3 Behold, O Hebron, for Ai is wasted: cry ye daughters of Rabboth: give you with sackcloth: mourne and runne to and fro by the hedges, for their king shall goe into captivity and his Daughters and his Princes likewise.

4 Therefore gloriest thou in the battels: thy valley flowereth away, O rebellious daughter: she trusted in her treasures, saying, My bullock shall come unto me.

5 Behold, I will bring a feare vpon thee, saith the Lord God of hosts, of all those that be about thee, and yee shall be scattered every man a right forth, and none shall gather him that flesh.

6 And afterward I will bring againe the captiuitie of the children of Ammon.

7 O Edom thus saith the Lord of hosts, Is wisdom no more in Teman? Is counsell perished from their children? Is their wisdom vanished?

8 Flee, yee inhabitants of Dedan (k they are turned backe, and haue consulted to dwell) for I haue brought the destruction of Elam vpon him, and the time of his visitation.

9 If the grape gatherers come to thee would they not leave some grapes: if they come by night, they will destroy till they haue enough.

10 For I haue discovered Elam: I haue vncovered his secrets, and hee shall not be able to hide himselfe, his seedes is wasted, and his brethren and his neighbours, and there shall be none to say,

11 Leave thy fatherlesse children, and I will preserve them alive, and let the widows trust in me.

12 For thus saith the Lord, Behold, they whose iudgement was not to drinke of the cup, haue assuredly drunk, and are thou hee that shall escape free? thou shalt not go free, but thou shalt surely drinke of it.

13 For I haue twome by my selfe, sayeth the Lord, that Bozrah shall be waste, and for a trippach, and a desolation, and a curse, and all the cities thereof shall bee perpetual desolations.

14 I haue heard a rumour from the Lord, and an ambassage: he sent vnto the heathen, saying, Gather you together, and come against me: for, and rise vp to the battell.

15 For loe, I will make thee but small among the heathen, and despised among men.

16 Thy feare, & the pride of thine heart hath deceived thee, thou that dwellest in the clefts of the rock, and keepst the height of the hill: though thou shouldst make thyselfe as high as the Eagle, I will bring thee downe from thence, saith the Lord.

17 O Edom thou shalt be desolate: every one that goeth by it, shall bee astonished, and shall hiss at all the plagues thereof.

18 As in the overthrow of Sodom, and of Gomorrah, and the places thereof were about, sayeth the Lord: no man shall dwell there, neither shall the sonnes of men remaine in it.

19 Behold, I see shall come by like a lyon from the swelling of Jordan vnto the strong dwelling place: for I will make Israel to rest, when I will make him to haste away from her, and who is a chosen man that I may appoint against her: for who is like me? and who will appoint mee the time? and who is the shepherde that will stand before mee?

20 Therefore heare the counsell of the Lord that hee hath devised against Edom, and his purpose that hee hath conceived against the inhabitants of Teman: surely the least of the flocke shall draw them out: surely hee shall make their habitations desolate with them.

21 The earth is mooued at the noyse of their fall: the crie of their voyce is heard in the red sea.

22 Behold, hee shall come by, and see as the eagle, & spread his wings sur Bozrah, and at that day shall the heart of the strong men of Edom be as the heart of a woman in travail.

23 Unto Damascus he saith, Hamath is confounded, & Arpad, for they haue heard euill tidings, and they are faint heared, as one on the fearefull sea that cannot rest.

24 Damascus is discouraged, and turneth her selfe to flight, & feare hath seized her: anguish and lawrows haue taken her as a woman in travail.

25 How is the glorious City not reuerend, the City of my ioi!

26 Therefore her yong men shall fall in her streets, and all her men of warre shall be cut off in that day, saith the Lord of hosts.

27 And I will kindle a fire in the wall of Damascus, which shall consume the palaces of Benhadad.

28 Unto Kedar and to the kingdoms of Vazar, which Nebuchad-nezzar King of Babel shall smite, thus saith the Lord, Arise, and goe by vnto Kedar, and destroy the men of the East.

29 Their tents and their flocks shall they take away: yea, they shall take to themselves their curtains, and all their vessels, and their camels, and they shall cry vnto them, Feare is on every side.

30 Flee, get you farre off (they haue consulted to dwell) O yee inhabitants of Vazar, sayeth the Lord: for Nebuchad-nezzar King of Babel hath taken counsell against you, and hath devised a purpose against you.

31 Arise, and get you vp vnto the wealthy Nation, that dwelleth without care, saith the Lord, which haue neither gars nor barres, nor dwell alone.

24 I haue snared thee, and thou art taken, O Babel, and thou wast not aware: thou art found, and also caught, because thou hast stricken against the Lord.

25 The Lord hath opened his treasure, and hath brought forth the weapons of his wrath: for this is the work of the Lord God of hosts in the land of the Caldeans.

26 Come against her from the utmost border: open her store houses: tread on her as on sheaves, and destroy her utterly: let nothing of her be left.

27 Destroy all her bullockes: let them goe downe to the slaughter. Come vnto them, for their day is come, and the time of their visitation.

28 The voyce of them that flee, and escape out of the land of Babel to declare in Zion the vengeance of the Lord our God, and the vengeance of his Temple.

29 Call vp the Archers against Babel: all ye that bend the bow, besiege it round about: let none thereof escape: recompense her according to her work, and according to all that she hath done, doe vnto her: for she hath bene proud against the Lord, even against the holy one of Israel.

30 Therefore shall her young men fall in the streets, and all her men of warre shall be destroyed in that day, sayth the Lord.

31 Beholde, I come vnto thee, O proud man, sayth the Lord God of hosts: for thy day is come, even the time that I will visite thee.

32 And the proud shall stumble and fall, and none shall raise him vp: and I will kindle a fire in his cities, and it shall deuoure all round about him.

33 Thus sayeth the Lord of hosts, The children of Israel, and the children of Iudah were oppressed together: and all that tooketh captiues, held them, and would not let them goe.

34 But their strong Redemer, whose name is the Lord of hosts, hee shall mainteine their cause, that hee may giue rest to the land, and dilquite the inhabitants of Babel.

35 A sword is vpon the Caldeans, sayth the Lord, and vpon the inhabitants of Babel, and vpon her princes, and vpon her wise men.

36 A sword is vpon the footslayers, and they shall vote: a sword is vpon her strong men, and they shall be afraid.

37 A sword is vpon their horses, and vpon their chaires, and vpon all the multitude that are in the midde of her, and they shall be like women: a sword is vpon her treasures, and they shall be spoiled.

38 A drought is vpon her waters, and they shall be dried vp: for it is the land of grauen images, and they doe vpon their idols.

39 Therefore the Kings with the Kings, shall dwell there, and the ostriches shall dwell therein: for it shall be no more inhabited, neither shall it be inhabited from generation vnto generation.

40 As God destroyed Sodom and Gomorrah with the places thereof neere about, sayth the Lord: so shall no man dwell there, neither shall the sonne of man remain therein.

41 Behold, a people shall come from the North, and a great nation, and many kings shall bee raised vp from the coastes of the earth.

42 They shall holde the bowe and the buckler: they are cruell and vmercifull: their voyce shall roare like the sea, and they shall ride vpon horses, and bee put in aray like men to the battell against thee, O daughter of Babel.

43 The king of Babel hath heard the report of them, and his handes waxed feeble: sorrow came vpon him, even sorrow as of a woman in trauaile.

44 Behold, hee shall come vp like a Lyon from the swelling of Jordan vnto the strong habitation: for I will make Israel to rest, and I will make them to haile away from her: and who is a cholen man that I may appoint against her? for who is like me, and who will appoint me the time? who is the shephard that will stand before me?

45 Therefore heare the counsell of the Lord that hee hath deuised against Babel, and his purpose that hee hath conceived against the land of the Caldeans: surely the least of the flocke shall draw them out: surely hee shall make their habitation desolate with them.

46 At the noyse of the winning of Babel the earth is moued, and the cry is heard among the nations.

CHAP. II.

6 Why Babylon is destroyed. 41 The vaine confidence of the Babylonians. 43 The vaine of idolaters. 59 Jeremiah speaketh his booke to Sennacherib.

Thus sayth the Lord, Behold, I will raise vp against Babel, and against the inhabitants thereof, their heart against me, a destroying winde,

2 And will send vnto Babel fanners that shall fanne her, and shall empty her land: for in the day of trouble they shall bee against her on every side.

3 Also to the brender that brendeth his house, and to him that lieth him selfe vp in his brigandine, will I say, Spare not her young men, but destroy all her host.

4 Thus the flaine shall fall in the land of the Caldeans, and they that are thrust through in her streets.

5 For Israel hath bene no widow, nor Iudah from his God, from the Lord of hosts, though their land was filled with sinne against the holy one of Israel.

6 Therefore out of the midst of Babel, and deliuer euery man his soule: hee need not destroy in her iniquitie: for this is the time of the Lords vengeance: hee will render vnto her a recompense.

7 Babel hath bene as a golden cup in the Lords hand, that made all the earth drunken: the nations haue drunken of her wine, therefore doe the nations rage.

8 Babel is suddenly fallen, and destroyed: howle for her, bying balme for her sore, if the may be healed.

9 Where would haue cured Babel, but shee could could not bee healed: forsake her, and let her goe every one vnto his owne countrey: for her iudgement is come vnto heauen, and is lifted vp to the cloudes.

10 The Lord hath brought forth our righteousnesse: come and let vs declare in Zion the worke of the Lord our God.

11 Make bright the arrowes: || gather the shields: the Lord hath called by the spirit of the king of the Medes: for his purpose is against Babel to destroy it, because it is the vengeance of the Lord, and the vengeance of his Temple.

12 Set vp the standard vpon the walles of Babel, make the watch strong: let vp the watchmen: prepare the skourers: for the Lord hath both deuised, and done that which hee spake against the inhabitants of Babel.

13 O thou that dwellest vpon many waters, abundant in treasures, thine ende is counted, even the || ende of thy countenell.

14 The Lord of hostes hath twome by him selfe, saying, Surely I will fill thee with men, as with caterpillers, and they shall cry and shout against thee.

15 I see hath made the earth by his power, and established the world by his wisdom, and hath stretched out the heauen by his discretion.

16 I see giueth by his voyce the multitude of waues in the heauen, and hee causeth the cloudes to ascende from the endes of the earth: hee turneth lightnings to raine, and bringeth forth the winde out of his treasures.

17 Every man is a beast by his owne knowledge: every founder is confounded by the grauin image: for his melting is but falsehood, and there is no breath therein.

18 They are vanitie, and the worke of errors: in the time of their visitation they shall perish.

19 The portion of Iacob is not like them: for he is the maker of all things, and Israel is the rod of his inheritance: the Lord of hostes is his Name.

20 Thou art mine hammer, and weapons of warre: for with thee will I breake the nations, & with thee will I destroy kingdoms.

21 And by thee will I breake horse and horseman, and by thee will I breake the chariot and him that rideth therein.

22 By thee also will I breake man and woman, and by thee will I breake olde and yong, and by thee will I breake the yong man and the matre.

23 I will also breake by thee the shepheard and his flocke, and by thee will I breake the husbandman and his yoke of oxe, and by thee will I breake the dukes and princes.

24 And I will render vnto Babel, and to all the inhabitants of the Caldeans all their euill, that they haue done in Zion, euen in your sight, saith the Lord.

25 Behold, I come vnto thee, O destroying mountaine, saith the Lord, which destroyest all the earth: and I will stretch out mine hand vpon thee, and rolle thee downe from the rockes, and will make thee a burnt mountaine.

26 They shall not take of thee a stone for a corner, nor a stone for foundations, but thou shalt bee destroyed for ever, saith the Lord.

27 Set vp a standard in the lande: blow the trumpets among the nations: prepare the nations against her: call vp the kingdoms of Astarac, Minni, and Acheben against her: appoint the prince against her: cause hostes to come vp as the rough caterpillers.

28 Prepare against her the nations with the kings of the Medes, the dukes thereof, and the princes thereof, and all the land of his dominion.

29 And the land shall tremble and sorrow: for the deuice of the Lord shall bee performed against Babel, to make the land of Babel waste without an inhabitant.

30 The strong men of Babel haue ceased to fight, they haue remained in their holdes: their strength hath failed, and they were like women: they haue burnt her dwelling places, and her barres are broken.

31 A post shall runne to meete the post, a messenger to meete the messenger, to shew the king of Babel, that his citie is taken on a side thereof.

32 And that the passages are stopped, and the reedes burnt with fire, and the chime of warre troubled.

33 For thus saith the Lord of hostes the God of Israel, The daughter of Babel is like a threshing flooe: the time of her threshing is come: yet a litle while, and the time of her haruest || shall come.

34 Arubach-nazzar the king of Babel hath deuoured me, and destroyed mee: hee hath made me an empty vessel: hee swallowed me up like a dragon, and filled his belly with my delicates, and hath cast me out.

35 The people of mee, and that which was left of mee, is brought vnto Babel, shall the inhabitant of Zion say: and my blood vnto the inhabitants of Caldea, shall Ierusalem say.

36 Therefore thus saith the Lord, Behold, I will maintaine thy cause, and take vengeance for thee, and I will bite by the sea, and bite by her sayings.

37 And Babel shall bee as heapes, a dwelling place for Dragons, an alms-house, and an hissing, without an inhabitant.

38 They shall coare together like ypones, and yell as the yons whelpes.

39 In their heate I will make them feastes, and I will make them drunken, that they may reioyce, and sleepe a perpetual sleepe, and not wake, saith the Lord.

40 I will bring them downe like lambs to the slaughter, and like rammes and goats.

41 How is || Shebath taken! and how is the glory of the whole earth taken! how is Babel become an alms-house among the nations!

42 The sea is come by vpon Babel: shee is covered with the multitude of the waues thereof.

p From thy strong holdes and fortresses.

q By these three nations hee meaneth Armenia the higher, & Armenia the lower, and Scythia: for Cyrus had gathered an armie of diuers nations.

43 Her cities are desolate: the land is dry and a wilderness, a land wherein no man dwelleth, neither doeth the sonne of man passe thereby.

44 I will also visite Bel in Babel, and I will bring out of his mouth, that which he hath swallowed up, and the nations shall run no more vnto him, and the wall of Babel shall fall.

45 My people, goe out of the mids of her and deliuer yee every man his soule from the fierce wrath of the Lord,

46 Lest your heart euen faint, & ye feare the rumoz, that shall be heard in the land: the rumoz shall come this yeece, and after that in the other yere shall come a rumoz, and crueltie in the land, and ruler against ruler.

47 Therefore beholde, the dayes come, that I will visite the images of Babel, and the whole land shall be confounded, and all her statue shall fall in the mids of her.

48 Then the heauen and the earth, and all that is therein, shall reioyce for Babel: for the destroyers shall come vnto her from the North, saith the Lord.

49 As Babel caused the name of Israel to fall, so by Babel the shame of all the earth did fall.

50 Pee that haue escaped the sword, goe away, stand not still: remember the Lord a farre off, and let Ierusalem come into your mind.

51 We are confounded because we haue heard reproch: shame hath couered our faces, for strangers are come into the Sanctuaries of the Lords house.

52 Wherefore beholde, the dayes come, saith the Lord, that I will visite her grauen images, and through all her land the wounded shall groane.

53 Though Babel should mount vp to a heauen, and though she should defend her strength on high, yet from mee shall her destroyers come, saith the Lord.

54 A sound of a cry cometh from Babel, and great destruction from the lande of the Calddeans,

55 Because the Lord hath layd Babel waste, & destroyed from her the great voyce, and her wailes shall roare like great waters, and a sound was made by their noise:

56 Because the destroyer is come vpon her, euen vpon Babel, and her strong men are taken, their bowes are broken: for the Lord God that recompenseth, shall surely recompense.

57 And I will make drinke her princes, and her wise men, her dukes and her nobles and her strong men: and they shall sleepe a perpetuall sleepe, and not wake, saith the king, whose name is the Lord of hostes.

58 Thus saith the Lord of hostes, The chicke wall of Babel shall be broken, and her high gates shall be burnt with fire, and the people shall labour in vaine, and the folke in the fire: for they shall be weary.

59 The word which Ieremiah the Prophet commaunded Sheraiah the son of Ne-ritiah, the sonne of Baasiah, when he tomt with Sedekiah the king of Iudah into Babel, in the fourth yeece of his reigne: and this Sberatah was a peaceable prince.

60 So Ieremiah wrote in a booke all the euill that should come vpon Babel: euen all these things that are written against Babel.

61 And Ieremiah saide to Sberatah, When thou comest vnto Babel, and shalt see, and shalt reade all these words,

62 Then shalt thou say, O Lord, thou hast spoken against this place, to destroy it, that none should remaine in it, neither man nor beast, but that it should be desolate for euer.

63 And when thou shalt made an ende of readding this booke, thou shalt bind a stone to it, and cast it in the midst of Euphrates.

64 And shalt say, Thus shall Babel bee drowned, and shall not rise from the euill, that I will bring vpon her, and they shall be waxes. Thus saith are the words of Ieremiah.

21. m They shall not be able to resist but shall labour in vaine.

CHAP. LII.

4 Ierusalem is taken, 10 Zedekiahs sonnes are killed before his face, and his eyes put out. 13 The citie is burned. 31 Iehoiachin is brought forth of prison, and sed like a king:

Zedekiah was one and twentie yeece old when he began to reigne, and he reigned eleven yeece in Ierusalem, and his mothers name was Hamutal, the daughter of Ieremiah of Libnah.

2 And he did euill in the sight of the Lord, according to all that Iehoiakim had done.

3 Doubtlesse because the wrath of the Lord was against Ierusalem and Iudah, till hee had call them out from his presence, therefore Zedekiah rebelled against the king of Babel.

4 But in the ninth yeece of his reigne, in the tenth moneth, the tenth day of the moneth came Nabuchad-nezzar king of Babel, he and all his hoste against Ierusalem, and pitched against it, and built forts against it round about.

5 So the citie was besieged vnto the eleventh yeece of the king Zedekiah.

6 Now in the fourth moneth, the ninth day of the moneth, the famine was sore in the citie, so that there was no more bread for the people of the land.

7 Then the citie was broken by and all the men of warre fled, & went out of the citie by night, by the way of the gate betwene the two walls, which was by the kings garden: (nowe the Calddeans were by the citie round about) and they went by the way of the wilderness.

8 But the army of the Calddeans pursued after the king, and tooke Zedekiah in the desert of Iericho, and all his host was scattered from him.

9 Then they tooke the king and caried him by vnto the king of Babel to Riblah in the land of Hamath, where he gaue iudgement vpon him.

10 And the king of Babel slew the sonnes of Zedekiah, before his eyes: hee slew also all the princes of Iudah in Riblah.

11 Then he put out the eyes of Zedekiah,

12 Now in the fifth moneth in the 4 tenth day of the moneth (which was the nineteenth yeere of the king Nebuchad-nezzar king of Babel) came Zebn-zadab chiefe steward, which stood before the king of Babel in Jerusalem,

13 And burnt the house of the Lord, & the kings house, and all the houses of Jerusalem and all the great houses burnt he with fire.

14 And all the armie of the Caldians that were with the chiefe steward, brake downe
all the walles of Jerusalem round about.

15 Then Nebuzar-adan the chiefe steward caried away captiue certaine of the poore of the people, & the residue of the people that remained in the cite, and those that were fled, and fallen to the king of Babel, with the rest of the multitude.

16 But Nebuzar-adan the chiefe steward left certaine of the poore of the land, to dress
the vines, and to till the land.

17 Also the 4 pillars of brasse that were in the house of the Lord, and the bales, & the brasse sea that was in the house of the Lord,
the Caldians brake, and caried all the brasse
of them to Babel.

18 The pots also and the besoms, and the instruments of musicks, & the balins, and the incense dishes, and all the vessels of brasse
where with they ministered, tooke they away.

19 And the bowles, and the asporns, and the balins, and the pots, & the candlesticks, and the incense dishes, and the cups, and all that was of gold, & that was of silver, tooke
the chiefe steward away.

20 Also the two pillars, one Sea, and twelve brasse buls, that were under the bases, which king Salomon had made in the house of the Lord: the brasse of all these vessels was without weight.

21 And concerning the pillars, the height of one pillar was eighterne cubits, and a threed of twelve cubits did compass it, and the thickness thereof was foure fingers: it was hollo.

22 And a chapter of brasse was vpon it, and the height of one chapter was fwe cub-ites with networke, and pomegranates vpon
the chapters round about, all of brasse:
the second pillar also, and the pomegranates

were like vnto these.

23 And there were ninetie and sixe pomegranates on a side: and all the pomegranates
vpon the net worke were an hundred round about.

24 And 3 chiefe steward tooke Sheralah
the chiefe Buter, and Sephaniah the second Buter, and the three keepers of the doore.

25 He tooke also out of the cite an Eunuch which had the ouersight of the men of warre and 100 men which were in the kings presence which were found in the cite, and So-pher captaine of the hoste who mustered the people of the land, and therfore men of the people of the land, that were found in the mids of the cite.

26 Nebuzar-adan the chiefe steward tooke them, and brought them to the king of Babel to Riblah.

27 And the King of Babel smote them, and slew them in Riblah, in the land of Pa-mach: thus Judah was caried away captiue out of his owne land.

28 This is the people, whom Nebuchad-nezzar caried away captiue, in the 7 seuenth yeere, euen three thousand Iewes and three and twentie.

29 In the 18 eighteenth yeere of Nebuchadnezzar he caried away captiue from Jerusalem eight hundred chitie & two 3 persons.

30 In the three and twentieth yeere of Nebuchad-nezzar, Nebuzar-adan the chiefe steward caried away captiue of the Iewes seuen hundred sottie and fwe persons: all the persons were foure thousand and sixe hun-

Lamentations.

CHAP. I.

1 The Prophet bewaileth the miserable estate of Jerusalem, 5 And sheweth that they are plagued because of their finnes. The first and the second chapter begin eury verse according to the letters of the E-brew Alphabet. The third hath three verses for eu-ery letter, and the fourth in the first.

mong all her 4 louers, she hath none to comfort her: all her friendes haue delt basely fully with her, and are her enemies.

of affliction, and because of great seruitude:
she dwelleth among the heathen, and findeth no rest: all her persecuters tooke her in the streets.

no man commeth to the solemne feastes: all her gates are desolate: her Virgins sigh: her virgins are discomfited, and she is in hauineste.

5 Her aduersaries are the chief, and her enemies prosper: for the Lord hath afflicted her for the multitude of her transgressions, and her children are gone into captivity before the enemy.

6 And from the daughter of Zion all her beautie is departed: her Princes are become like Harts that finde no pasture: and they are gone without strength before the pursuer.

7 Ierusalem remembered the dayes of her affliction, and of her rebellion, and all her pleasant things that shee had in times past, when her people fell into the hand of the enemy, and none did helpe her: the aduersaries saw her, and did mocke at her. Sabbath.

8 Ierusalem hath grievously sinned, therefore she is in derision: all that honour her, despise her, because they haue seene her stridings: yea, shee sigbeth and turneth backward.

9 Her stridings is in her skirts: shee remembered not her last end, therefore shee came downe wondrously: shee had no comforter: O Lord, behold mine affliction: for the enemy is proud.

10 The enemy hath stretched out his hand vpon all her pleasant things: for shee hath seene the heathen enter into her Sanctuary, whom thou diddest command, that they should not enter into thy Church.

11 All her people sigh and seke their head: they haue giuen their pleasant things for meate to refresh the soule: see, O Lord, and consider: for I am become vile.

12 I haue no regard, all ye that passe by this way: behold, and see, if there be any sorrow like vnto my sorrow, which is done vnto me, wherewith the Lord hath afflicted me in the day of his fierce wrath.

13 From aboute hath he sent fire into my bones, which preuailed against them: hee hath spread a net for my feet, and turned me backe: hee hath made me desolate, and daily in heauinesse.

14 The yoke of my transgressions is bound vpon his hand: they are wappes, and come vpon my necke, hee hath made my strength to fall: the Lord hath deliuered me into their hands, neither am I able to rise vp.

15 The Lord hath troden vnder foote all my valliant men in the midst of mee: hee hath called an assembly against mee to destroy my young men: the Lord hath troden the wine presse vpon the virgin the daughter of Iudah.

16 For these things I wepe: mine eye, mine eye casteth out water, because the Comforter that should refresh my soule, is farre from me: my children are desolate, because the enemy preuailed.

17 Zion stretcheth out her hands, and there is none to comfort her: the Lord hath appointed the enemies of Iacob round about him, Ierusalem is as a menstruous woman in the midst of them.

18 The Lord is righteous: for I haue rebelled against his commandment: heare, I pray you all people, and behold my sorrow: my virgins and my young men are gone into captivity.

19 I called for my lovers, but they deceived me: my Virgins and mine Elders searched in the dust, while they sought their meate to refresh their souls.

20 Behold, O Lord, how I am troubled: my bowels swell: mine heart is turned within mee: for I am full of heauinesse: the sword spoiled abroad, as death doth at home.

21 They haue heard that I mourne, but there is none to comfort mee: all mine enemies haue heard of my trouble, and are glad that thou hast done it: thou wilt bring the day that thou hast pronounced, and they shall be like vnto me.

22 Let all their wickednesse come before thee: as thou hast done vnto me, for all my transgressions: for my sighs are many, and mine heart is deauil.

CHAP. II.

How hath the Lord darkened the daughter of Zion in his wrath! and hath cast downe from heauen vnto the earth the beautie of Israel, and remembered not his footstool in the day of his wrath!

2 The Lord hath destroyed all the habitations of Iacob, and not spared: hee hath thrown downe in his wrath the strong holds of the daughter of Iudah: hee hath call them downe to the ground: hee hath polluted the kingdome and the princes thereof.

3 Hee hath cut off in his fierce wrath all the house of Israel: hee hath broken backe his right hand from before the enemy, and there was kindled in Iacob like a flame of fire, which deuoured round about.

4 Hee hath bent his bowe like an enemy: his right hand was stretched vp as an aduersarie, and slew all that was pleasant to the eye in the Tabernacle of the daughter of Zion: hee poured out his wrath like fire.

5 The Lord was an enemy: hee hath deuoured Israel, and consumed all his palaces: hee hath destroyed his strong holds, and hath increased in the daughter of Iudah lamentation and mourning.

6 For hee hath destroyed his Tabernacle, as a garden hee hath destroyed his congregation: the Lord hath caused the feasts and Sabbaths to be forgotten in Zion, and hath despised in the indignation of his wrath the King and the Priest.

7 The Lord hath forsaken his altar: hee hath abhorred his Sanctuary: hee hath giuen into the hand of the enemy the wall of his palaces: they haue made a noise in the house of the Lord, as in the day of solemnity.

8 The Lord hath determined to destroy the wall of the daughter of Zion: hee stretched out a line: hee hath not withdrawn his hand from destroying: therefore hee made the rampart & on the wall to lament: they were destroyed together.

9 Her gates are sunk to the ground: her battlements are broken her towers: her King and her Princes are among the Gentiles: & the Law is no more, neither can her Prophets || receive any vision from the Lord.

10 The Elders of the daughter of Zion sit upon the ground, and keep silence: they have cast by dust upon their heads: they have girded themselves with sackcloth: the virgins of Jerusalem hang downe their heads to the ground.

11 Mine eyes doe faile with teares: my bowels swell: my liver is powred upon the earth, for the destruction of the daughter of my people, because the children & sucklings || swoone in the streets of the city.

12 They have layde to their mothers, where is || bread and wine? when they swooned, as the wounded in the streets of the city, and when they gave up the ghost in their mothers bosome.

13 What thing shall I take to witnesse for thee? What thing shall I compare to thee, O daughter Jerusalem: what shall I liken to thee, that I may comfort thee, O virgin daughter Zion: for thy breach is great like the sea: who can heale thee?

14 Thy prophets have || looked out vaine and foolish for things for thee, and they have not discouraged thine iniquitie, to turne away thy captivitie, but have looked out for thee false || prophecies, and causes of banishment.

15 All that passe by the way, clappe their hands at thee: they hisse and wagge their head upon the daughter Jerusalem, saying, Is this the cite that men call, The perfection of beautie, and the joy of the whole earth?

16 All thine enemies have opened their mouth against thee: they hisse and gnash their teeth, saying, Let vs deuoure it: certainly this is the day that we looked for: we haue found and seene it.

17 The Lord hath done that which hee hath purposed: hee hath fulfilled his word that hee hath determined of old time: he hath thowen downe, and not spared: hee hath caused thine enemies to reioyce ouer thee, and set vp the home of thine aduersaries.

18 Their heart cryed vnto the Lord, O wall of the daughter Zion, let teares runne downe like a riuer day and night: take thee no rest, neither let the apple of thine eye cease.

19 Arise, cry in the night: in the beginning of the watches poure out thine heart like water before the face of the Lord: lift vp thine hands toward him for the life of thy young children, that saint for hunger in the corners of all the streets.

20 Behold, O Lord, & consider to whom thou hast done thus: shall the women eate their fruit, and children of a || Spanne long: shall the Priest and the Prophet be slaine in the Sanctuary of the Lord?

21 The young & the old sit on the ground in the streets: my virgins and my young men are fallen by the sword: thou hast slaine them in the day of thy wrath: thou hast killed and not spared.

22 Thou hast called as in a solemn day my || terrours round about, so that in the day of the Lords wrath none escaped nor remained: those that I haue nourished & brought up, hath mine enemy consumed.

CHAP. III.

I Am the man that hath seene affliction in the rod of his indignation.

2 We hath led me, and brought me into darkness, but not to light.

3 Surely hee is turned against mee: hee turneth his hand against me all the day.

4 My flesh and my skine hath he caused to waste, and he hath broken my bones.

5 He hath || builded against me, and compassed me with gall and labour.

6 He hath set me in dark places, as they that be dead for euer.

7 Hee hath hedged about mee, that I cannot get out: hee hath made my thames heauie.

8 Also when I cry and shout, he shutteth out my prayer.

9 Hee hath || stopped up my wayes with stonewall, and turned away my paths.

10 He was vnto me as a beare lying in wait, and as a lion in the secret places.

11 Hee hath stopped my wayes, and pulled me in places: hee hath made me desolate.

12 Hee hath bent his bow, and made mee a mark for the arrow.

13 Hee caused || the arrowes of his quiver to enter into my reins.

14 I was a desolation to all my people, and their song all the day.

15 Hee hath filled me with bitterness, and made me drunken with || wormewood.

16 Hee hath also broken my teeth with stones, and hath covered my teeth with ashes.

17 Thus my soule was farre off from peace: I forgaat prosperitie.

18 And I saide, || my strength and my hope is perished from the Lord,

19 Remembering mine affliction, and my mourning, the wormewood and the gall.

20 My soule hath them in remembrance, and is humbled || in me.

21 I consider this in mine heart: therefore haue I hope.

22 It is the Lords mercies that wee are not consumed, because his compassions faile not.

23 They are renewed || every morning: great is thy faithfulness.

24 The Lord is my || portion, saith my soule: therefore will I hope in him.

25 The Lord is good vnto them that a The Prophet complaineth of the punishments and afflictions that he endured by the false prophets and hypocrites, when hee declared the destruction of Ierusalem, as Ier. 30. 3.

b Hee speaketh this as one that felt Gods heauie judgments, which hee greatly feared, and therefore seeth them out with this & vnto of words.

c This is a great temptation to the godly, when they see not the fruit of their prayer, and cauleth them so to thinke that they are not heard, which thing God vseth to doe, that they might pray more earnestly, and the offerer.

d And keepeth mee in hold as a prisoner.

e Hee hath no pittie on me.

f With great anguish and sorrow hee hath made me to lose my sense.

g Thus with paine hee was driuen to & betweene hope and despair, as the godly oftentimes are yet in the end the spirit

getteth the victory. h He sheweth that God thus vseth to exercise his, to the intent that hereby they may know themselves, & feele his mercies, i Considering the wickednes of man, it is maruelous that any remaneth alive: but onely that God for his owne mercies sake and for his promise will euer haue his Church to remaine, though they be neuer so few in number, Ier. 1. 9. k Wee feele thy benefits daily. l The godly put their whole confidence in God, and therefore looke for none other inheritance, as Psal. 1. 6. 5.

trust in him, & to the soule that seeketh him.

26 It is good both to trust and to waite for the saluation of the Lord.

27 It is good for a man that he beare the yoke in his youth.

28 He steech alone, & keepeth silence, because he hath borne it vpon him.

29 He putteth his mouth in the dust, if there may be hope.

30 Hee giueth his cheek to him that smiteth him: he is filled full with reproches.

31 For the Lord will not forsake for euer.

32 But though he send affliction, yet will hee haue compassion according to the multitude of his mercies.

33 For he doth not punish willingly, nor afflict the children of men.

34 In stamping vnder his feete all the prisoners of the earth.

35 In ouerthrowing the right of a man before the face of the most High.

36 In inuerting a man in his cause: the Lord iudgeth it not.

37 Who is he then that sayth, and it cometh to passe, and the Lord commandeth it not?

38 Out of the mouth of the most High proceededeth nor rull and good?

39 Therefore when is the liuing man sorrowfull? man suffereth for his sinne.

40 Let vs search and try our wayes, and turne againe to the Lord.

41 Let vs lift vp our hearts with our hands vnto God in the heauens.

42 Wee haue sinned, and haue rebelled, therefore thou hast not spared.

43 Thou hast couered vs with wrath, and persecuted vs: thou hast slain, and not spared.

44 Thou hast couered thy selfe with a cloude, that our prayer should not passe through.

45 Thou hast made vs as the offscouring and refuse in the midst of the people.

46 All our enemies haue opened their mouth against vs.

47 Feare and a snare is come vpon vs with desolation and destruction.

48 Mine eye casteth out riuers of water, for the destruction of the daughter of my people.

49 Mine eye weepeth without stay and ceaseth not.

50 Till the Lord looke downe, and behold from heauen.

51 Mine eye breaketh mine heart because of all the daughters of my cite.

52 Mine enemies chafed mee soe like a bird without cause.

53 They haue shut vp my life in the dungeon, and cast a stone vpon me.

54 Withers flowers ouer mine head, then thought I, I am destroyed.

55 I called vnto thy Name, O Lord, out of the low dungeon.

56 Thou hast heard my voyce: stop not thine eare from my sigh, and from my cry.

57 Thou hast well nere in the day that I called vpon thee: thou saydest, Feare not.

58 O Lord, thou hast maintained the cause of my soule, & hast redeemed my life.

59 O Lord, thou hast heard my voyce, Iudgeth thou my cause.

60 Thou hast seene all their vengeance, and all their deuises against me.

61 Thou hast heard their reproach, O Lord, and all their imaginations against me:

62 The lips also of those that rose against me, and their whispering against me, continually.

63 Behold their sitting downe, and their rising vp, how I am their song.

64 Give them a recompence, O Lord, according to the worke of their hands.

65 Give them sorrow of heart, even thy curse to them.

66 Persecute with wrath and destroy them from vnder the heauens, O Lord.

CHAP. IIII.

How is the golde become so? Dimme is the most fine golde is changed, and the stones of the Sanctuary are scattered in the corner of every street.

2 The Noble men of Zion comparable to fine golde, how are they esteemed as earthen pitchers, the worke of the hands of the potter!

3 Euen the dragons & yate out the beasts, and giue sucke to their yong, but the daughter of my people is become cruell like the ostriches in the wilderness.

4 The tongue of the sucking child cleaueth to the roofof his mouth for thirst: the yong children of the head, but no man heareth it vnto them.

5 They that did feede delicately, perishe in the streets: they that were brought vp in scarlet, embrace the dung.

6 For the iniquity of the daughter of my people is become greater then the sinne of Sodome, that was destroyed as in a moment, and none pitched campe against her.

7 Her Bezarcites were purer then the snowe, and whiter then the milke: they were more ruddy in body, then the red precious stones: they were like polished sapphir.

8 Now their village is blacker then a cole: they cannot knowe them in the streets: their skinne cleaueth to their bones: it is withered like a stork.

9 They that bee slain with the sword are better then they that are killed with hunger: for they fade away as they were flacken through for the fruites of the field.

10 The hands of the pittifull women haue sodden their own children, which were their meate in the destruction of the daughter of my people.

11 The Lord hath accomplished his indignation: hee hath powred out his fierce wrath, hee hath kindled a fire in Zion, which hath deuoured the foundations thereof.

12 The kings of the earth, and all the inhabitants of the world would not haue believed that the abudriall of the enemy should haue entred into the gates of Ierusalem.

13 For the finnes of her prophets, and the iniquities of her priests, that haue shed the blood of the iust in the midst of her.

14 They

g He meaneth that these things are comen to passe therefore contrary to all mans expectation.

as He sheweth that we can neuer begin too early to be exercised vnder the crosse, that when the afflictions grow greater, our patience also by experience may be stronger, as the murmureth against God, but is patient. o He humbled himselfe, as they that fall downe with their face to the ground, and so with patience waiteth his succour, he taketh no pleasure in it, but doeth it of necessity for our amendment when he suffreth the wicked to oppress the poore, e He, with his heart, q he doeth not delight therein, r He sheweth that nothing is done without Gods providence. s That is, aduersitie and prosperitie, Amos 7. 6. t When God afflicteth him. u That is, both hands & hands: w He doeth lift vp the hands in his supplicie. x Cor. 4. 13. y I am ouercome with sore weeping for all my people. y Reade Ierem. 37. 6 how hee was in the myrie dungeon. z Meaning, the ciuitie, wherefore his life was in danger.

h Some referre this to the blind men, which as they went, stumbled on the blood, whereof the city was full.

i Meaning, the heathen which came to destroy them, could not abide them.

|| Or, face,

k That is, the enemies,

l He sheweth two principal causes of their destruction, their cruelty, and their vaine confidence in man: for they trusted in the help of the Egyptians, m Our king Ioshiah, in whom stood our hope of Gods fauour, and on whom depended our state & life, was slaine, whom he called anointed, because he was a figure of Christ.

This is spoken by derision.

|| Or, beuail thy nakednesse. o He comforteth the Church by that after seventy yeeres their sorrow shall haue an end, whereas the wicked should be tormented for euer.

14 They haue bounde a blind man in the streets, and they were polluted with blood, so that they would not touch their garments.

15 Now they cryed vnto them. Depart yee polluted, depart, depart, thence not: therefore they fledde away, and wandred: they haue said among the heathen, They shall no more dwell there.

16 The anger of the Lord hath scattered them, he will no more regard them: they reuerenced not the face of the Priests, nor had compassion of the Elders.

17 Whiles we waited for our vaine help, our eyes failed: for in our waiting wee looked for a nation that could not saue vs.

18 They hunt our steps: that we cannot goe in our streets: our ende is nere, our dayes are fulfilled, for our end is come.

19 Our persecuters are swifter then the eagles of the heauen: they pursued vs vpon the mountaines, and said wait for vs in the wilderness.

20 The breath of our nostrils, the Anointed of the Lord was taken in their nets, of whom we were sayde, Under the shadowe wee shall bee preserued aluie among the heathen.

21 Reioyce, and be glad, O daughter Edom, that dwellest in the land of Uz, the cup also shall passe through vnto thee: thou shalt be drunken, and doinke.

22 Thy punishment is accomplished, O daughter Zion: hee will no more carry thee away into captiuitie, but he will visite thine iniquity, O daughter Edom, he will discover thy sinnes.

|| Or, beuail thy nakednesse. o He comforteth the Church by that after seventy yeeres their sorrow shall haue an end, whereas the wicked should be tormented for euer.

CHAP. V.

The prayer of Ieremiah,

a This prayer as is thought, was made when some of the people were caried away captiue, others, as the poorest, remained, & some went into Egypt and other places for succour: albeit it seemeth that the Prophet foreseeing their miseries to come, thus prayed.

Remember, O Lord, what is come vpon vs: consider and behold our reproch.

2 Our inheritance is turned to the strangers, our houses to the aliens.

3 We are fatherlesse, as without father, and our mothers are as widowes.

4 We haue drunken our water for money, and our wood is sold vnto vs.

5 Our neckes are vnder periculation: we are weary and haue no rest.

6 We haue giuen our hands to the Egyptians, and to Assur, to bee satisfied with bread.

7 Our fathers haue sinned and are not, and we haue borne their iniquities.

8 Seruants haue ruled our vs, none would deliuer vs out of their hands.

9 We gate our bread with the perill of our liues, because of the sword of the wilderness.

10 Our skin was blacke like as an owen, because of the terrible famine.

11 They defiled the woman in Zion, and the maidens in the cities of Iudah.

12 The princes are hangd vp by their hand: the faces of the Elders were not had in honour.

13 They tooke the yong men to grind, and the children fell vnder the wood.

14 The Elders haue ceased from the gate, and the yong men from their songs.

15 The top of our heart is gone, our dance is turned into mourning.

16 The crowne of our head is fallen: wee now vnto vs that we haue sinned.

17 Therefore our heart is heavy for these things, our eyes are dimme,

18 Because of the mountaine of Zion which is desolate: the fores runne vpon it.

19 See thou, O Lord, remanent for euer: thy throne is from generation to generation.

Ezekiel.

THE ARGUMENT.

AFTER that Iehoiachin by the counsell of Ieremiah and Ezekiel had yielded himselfe to Nebuchad-nezzar, and he went into captiuitie with his mother and diuers of his Princes, and of the people, certaine began to repent, and murmure that they had not obeyed the Prophets counsell, as though the thing which they had prophesied should not come to passe, and therefore their estate should be still miserable vnder the Caldeans. By reason whereof hee confirmeth his former prophesies, declaring by new visions and reuelations shewed vnto him, that the cite should most certainly bee destroyed, and the people grievously tormented by Gods plagues, inasmuch that they that remained should bee brought into cruell bondage. And lest the godly should dispaire in these great troubles, hee assured them that God will deliuer his Church at his time appointed, and also destroy their enemies which either afflicted them, or reioyced in their miseries. The effect of the one and the other should chiefly bee performed vnder Christ, of whom in this booke are many notable promises, and in whom the glory of the new Temple should perfectly bee restored. Hee prophesied these things in Caldea at the same time that Ieremiah prophesied in Iudah, and there began in the fift yeere of Iehoiachins captiuitie.

C H A P. I.

¹ The time wherein Ezekiel prophesied, and in what place. ² He is named. ³ The vision of the four beasts.

¹⁶ The vision of the throne.

E Came to passe in the thirtieth yeere, in the fourth moneth, and in the first day of the moneth (as I was among the captives by the river Chebar) that the heavens were opened, and I saw visions of God.

² In the first day of the moneth (which was the first yeere of king Zolachins captivity.)

³ The word of the Lord came unto Ezekiel the Priest, the sonne of Buzie, in the land of the Chaldeans, by the river Chebar, where the hand of the Lord was upon him.

⁴ And I looked, and behold, a whirlwinde came out of the South, a great cloud and a fire wrapped about it, and a brightness was about it, and in the mids thereof, to wit, in the mids of the fire came out as the likeness of amber.

⁵ And out of the mids thereof came the likeness of four beasts, and this was their forme: they had the appearance of a man.

⁶ And every one had four faces, and every one had four wings.

⁷ And their feet were straight feet, and the sole of their feet was like the sole of a calves foot, and they sparkled like the appearance of bright brasse.

⁸ And the hands of a man came out from under their wings in the foreparts of them, and the four had their faces, and their wings.

⁹ They were soioyned by their wings one to another, and when they went forth, they returned not, but every one went straight forward.

¹⁰ And the similitude of their faces was as the face of man: and they four had the face of a lion on the right side, and they four had the face of a bullocke on the left side: they four also had the face of an eagle.

¹¹ Thus were their faces: but their wings were spread out above: two wings of every one were soioyned one to another, and two covered their bodies.

¹² And every one went straight forward: they went whither their spirit led them, and they returned not when they went forth.

¹³ The similitude also of the beasts, and their appearance was like burning coales of fire, and like the appearance of lamps: for the fire ranne among the beasts, and the fire gaue a glister, and out of the fire their went lightning.

¹⁴ And the beasts ranne, and returned like unto lightning.

¹⁵ Now as I beheld the beasts, behold, a whele appeared upon the earth by the beasts, having four faces.

¹⁶ The fashion of the wheeles and their wheles was like unto a chelyoller: and their four had one foume, and their fashion, and their wheles was as one whele in another whele.

¹⁷ When they went, they went upon their four sides, and they returned not when they went.

¹⁸ They had also || rings, and height, and were fearful to behold, and their eyes were full of eyes round about their four.

¹⁹ And when the beasts went, the wheeles went with them: and when the beasts were lift up from the earth, the wheeles were lift up.

²⁰ Whither their spirit led them, they went, and thither did the spirit of the wheeles leade them, and the wheeles were lifted up besides them: for the spirit of the beasts was in the wheeles.

²¹ When the beasts went, they went, and when they stood, they stood, and when they were lifted up from the earth, the wheeles were lifted up besides them: for the spirit of the beasts was in the wheeles.

²² And the similitude of the firmament upon the heads of the beasts was wonderfull, like unto crystall, spread out their heads above.

²³ And under the firmament were their wings straight, the one toward the other: every one had two, which covered them, and every one had two which covered their bodies.

²⁴ And when they went forth, I heard the noise of their wings, like the noise of great waters, and as the boice of the Almighty, even the boice of speech, as the noise of an holle: and when they stood, they were as the noise of their wings.

²⁵ And there was a boice from the firmament that was over their heads, when they stood, and had let down their wings.

²⁶ And about the firmament that was over their heads, was the fashion of a throne like unto a Lappir stone, and upon the similitude of the throne was by appearance, as the similitude of a man above upon it.

²⁷ And I saw as the appearance of amber, and as the similitude of fire round about within it to looke to, even from his soynes byward: and to looke to, turn from his soynes downward, I saw as a likeness of fire, and brightness round about it.

²⁸ As the likeness of the bow, that is in the cloud in the day of rain, so was the appearance of the light round about.

²⁹ This was the appearance of the similitude of the glory of the Lord: and when I saw it, I fell upon my face, and I heard a boice of one that spake.

2 And the spirit entered into me, when he had spoken vnto me, and set me vpon my fette, so that I heard him that spake vnto me.

3 And he said vnto me, Sonne of man, I send thee to the children of Israel, to a rebellious nation, that hath rebelled against me: for they & their fathers haue rebelled against me, euen to this day.

4 For they are stiffhearted children, and stiffhearted: I do send thee vnto them, and thou shalt say vnto them, Thus saith the Lord God.

5 But surely they will not heare, neither indeed will they cease: for they are a rebellious house: yet shall they know that I have bene a Prophet among them.

6 And thou sonne of man, I feare them not, neither be afraid of their wordes, although rebels, and rhogues be with thee, and thou remainest with scorpions: feare not their wordes, nor be afraid at their lookes, for they are a rebellious house.

7 Therefore thou shalt speake my wordes vnto them: but surely they will not heare, neither will they indeede cease: for they are rebellious.

8 But thou sonne of man, heare what I say vnto thee: bee not thou rebellious, like this rebellious house: open thy mouth, and I will give thee.

9 And when I looked by, beholde, an hand was sent vnto me, and loe, a roule of a booke was therein.

10 And he spread it before me, and it was written within and without, and there was written therein, Lamentations, and mourning, and weep.

CHAP. III.

1 The Prophet being sed with the word of God, and with the constant boldnesse of the Spirit, I sent vnto the people that were in captiuitie. 17 The office of true ministers.

Mosesour her said vnto mee, Sonne of man, eate that thou findest: I eate this roule, and goe, and speake vnto the house of Israel.

2 So he opened my mouth, and bee gaue me this roule to eate.

3 And he said vnto me, Sonne of man, cause thy belly to eate, and fill thy bowels with this roule that I giue thee. Then did I eate it, and it was in my mouth as sweete as honey.

4 And he said vnto mee, Sonne of man, goe, and enter into the house of Israel, and declare them my wordes.

5 For thou art not sent to a people of an vknown tongue, of an hard language, but to the house of Israel:

6 For many people of an vknown tongue, as of an hard language, whose words thou canst not vnderstand: yet if I should send thee to them, they would obey thee.

7 But the house of Israel will not obey thee: for they will not obey mee: yea, all the house of Israel are impudent and stiffhearted.

8 Behold, I haue made thy face strong against their face, and thy forehead hard against their foreheades.

9 I haue made thy forehead as the adamant, and harder then the flint: feare them not therefore: neither bee afraid at their lookes: for they are a rebellious house.

10 We said moreover vnto me, Sonne of man, receive in thine heart all my wordes that I speake vnto thee, and heare them with thine eares.

11 And goe and enter to them that are led away captiues, vnto the children of thy people, and speake vnto them, & tell them, Thus saith the Lord God: but surely they will not heare, neither will they indeede cease.

12 Then the spirit tooke me vp, and I heard behind mee a noyle of a great rushing, saying, Blessed be the glory of the Lord out of his place.

13 I heard also the noyle of the wings of the beasts that touched one another, and the rattling of the wheeles that were by them, euen a noyle of a great rushing.

14 So the spirit lift me vp, and tooke me away, and I went in bitterness, and indignation of my spirit, but the hand of the Lord was strong vpon me.

15 Then I came to them that were led away captiues to Tel-abib, that dwell by the river Chebar, and I sate where they sate, and remained there astonished among them seven dayes.

16 And at the ende of seven dayes, the word of the Lord came againe vnto me, saying,

17 Sonne of man, I haue made thee a watchman vnto the house of Israel: therefore heare the word at my mouth, and giue them warning from me.

18 When I shall say vnto the wicked, Thou shalt surely die, and thou giuest not him warning, nor speakest to admonish the wicked of his wicked way, that he may liue: the same wicked man shall die in his iniquitie: but his blood will I require at thine hand.

19 Yet if thou warne the wicked, and he turne not from his wickednes, nor from his wicked way, he shall die in his iniquitie, but thou shalt deliuered thy soule.

20 Likewise if a righteous man turne from his righteousness, and commit iniquitie, I will lay a stumbling blocke before him, and hee shall fall, because thou hast not giuen him warning: he shall die in his sinne, and his righteous deedes, which hee hath done shall not be remembered: but his blood will I require at thine hand.

21 Therefore, if thou admonish that righteous man, that the righteous sinne not, and that he doeth not sinne, he shall liue, because hee is admonished: also thou shalt deliuered thy soule.

10 For in the midsts of thee, the fathers shall eate their sonnes, and the sonnes shall eate their fathers, and I will execute iudgement in thee, and the whole remnant of thee will I scatter into all the windes.

11 Wherefore as I live, saith the Lord God, Surely, because thou hast defiled my Sanctuary with all thy filthinesse, and with all thine abominations, therefore will I also destroy thee, neither shall mine eye spare thee, neither will I haue any pitty.

12 Therefore part of thee shall die with the pestilence, and with famine shall they bee consumed in the midst of thee: and another third part shall fall by the sword round about thee: and I will scatter the last third part into all windes, and I will draw out a sword after them.

13 Thus shall mine anger bee accomplished, and I will cause my wrath to cease in them, and I will bee comforted: and they shall know, that I the Lord haue spoken it in my zeale, when I haue accomplished my wrath in them.

14 Moreover, I will make thee waste and abhorred among the nations that are round about thee, and in the sight of all that passe by.

15 So thou shalt bee a reproch and shame, a chastisement and an astonishment unto the nations that are round about thee, when I shall execute iudgements in thee, in anger and in wrath, and in sharpe rebukes: I the Lord haue spoken it.

3 And say, Ye mountaynes of Israel, heare the word of the Lord God: thus saith the Lord God to the mountaynes & to the hills, to the rivers, and to the valleys, Behold, I, even I will bring a sword upon you, and I will destroy your high places:

4 And your altars shall bee desolate, and your images of the sunne shall bee broken: and I will cast downe your staine men before your idoles.

5 And I will lay the dead carkeises of the children of Israel before their idoles, and I will scatter your bones round about your altars,

6 In all your dwelling places the cities shall bee desolate, and the high places shall bee laid waste, so that your altars shall bee made waste and desolate, and your idoles shall bee broken and crase, and your images of the sunne shall bee cut in peeces, and your workes shall bee abolished.

7 And the staine shall fall in the midst of you, and ye shall know that I am the Lord.

8 Per will I leaue a remnant, that you may haue some that shall escape the sword among the nations, when you shall be scattered thowow the countreys.

9 And they that escape of you shall remember me among the nations, where they shall bee in captiuitie, because I am grieved for their whoylth hearts, which haue departed from me, and for their eyes, which haue gone a whoying after their idoles, and they shall bee displeased in themselves for the euils which they haue committed in all their abominations.

10 And they shall know that I am the Lord, and that I haue not laid in vain, that I would doe this euill unto them.

11 Thus saith the Lord God, I smite with thine hand, and stretch forth with thy foot, and say, Alas, for all the wicked abominations of the house of Israel: for they shall fall by the sword, by the famine, and by the pestilence.

12 He that is farre off, shall die of the pestilence, and he that is nere, shall fall by the sword, and hee that remaineth and is besieged, shall die by the famine, thus will I accomplish my wrath upon them.

13 Then shall ye know that I am the Lord, when their staine men shall bee among their idoles round about their altars, upon euery high hill in all the tops of the mountaynes, and vnder euery greene tree, and vnder euery thicke oaks, which is the place wher they doe offer sweet saoure to all their idoles.

2 Also thou sonne of man, thus sayeth the Lord God, An end is come vnto the land of Israel: the ende is come vnto the foure corners of the land.

3 Now is the end come vpon thee, and I will send my wrath vpon thee, and will iudge thee according to thy wayes, and will lay vpon thee all thine abominations.

4 Neither shall mine eye spare thee, neither will I haue pittie: but I will lay thy wayes vpon thee: and thine abomination shall be in the midst of thee, and ye shall know that I am the Lord.

5 Thus sayeth the Lord God, Behold, one euill, even one euill is come.

6 An end is come, the end is come, it is watched for thee: behold, it is come.

7 The mourning is come vnto thee, that dwellest in the land: the time is come, the day of trouble is nere, & not the founding againe of the mountaines.

8 Now I will shortly powre out my wrath vpon thee, and will fulfill mine anger vpon thee: I will iudge thee according to thy wayes, and will lay vpon thee all thine abominations.

9 Neither shall mine eye spare thee, neither will I haue pittie, but I will lay vpon thee according to thy wayes, and thine abominations shall be in the midst of thee, and ye shall know that I am the Lord that smiteth.

10 Behold, the day, behold, it is come: the mourning is gone forth, the rod flourisheth: pitie hath dwindled.

11 Cruelty is risen vnto a rod of wickednesse: none of them shall remaine, nor of their riches, nor of any of theirs, neither shall there be lamentation for them.

12 The time is come, the day draweth nere: let not the buyer reioyce, nor let him that selleth, mourne: for the wrath is vpon all the multitude thereof.

13 For he that selleth, shall not returne to that which is sold, although they were yet alive: for the vision was vnto all the multitude thereof, and they returned not, neither doth any encourage himselfe in the punishment of his life.

14 They haue blowne the Trumpet, and prepared all, but none goeth to the battell: for my wrath is vpon all the multitude thereof.

15 The sword is without, and the pestilence and the famine within: hee that is in the field, shall die with the sword, and he that is in the Citie, famine and pestilence shall deuoure him.

16 But they that flee away from them, shall escape, and shall be in the mountaines, like the doves of the valleys: all they shall mourne, every one for his iniquitie.

17 All hands shall be weak, and all knees shall fall away as water.

18 They shall also giue themselves with sackcloth, and feare shall couer them, and shame shall be vpon all faces, and baldnesse vpon their heads.

19 They shall cast their filure in the streets, and their gold shall be cast farre off: their filure and their gold cannot deliuer them in the day of the wrath of the Lord: they shall not satiate their souls, neither fill their bowels: for this ruine is for their iniquitie.

20 They shall also see the beauty of his ornament in wastell: but they made images of their abominations, and of their idoles therein: therefore haue I set it farre from them.

21 And I will giue it into the hands of the strangers to be spoiled, and to the wicked of the earth to be robbed, and they shall pollute it.

22 My face will I turne also from them, and they shall pollute my secret place: for the despoilers shall enter into it, & defile it.

23 I make a chaine: for the land is full of the iudgement of blood, and the City is full of cruellty.

24 Therefore I will bring the most wicked of the heathen, & they shall possesse their houses: I will also make the pompe of the mighty to cease, and their holy places shall be defiled.

25 When destruction cometh, they shall seeke peace, and shall not haue it.

26 Calamitie shall come vpon calamitie, and rumour shall be vpon rumour: then shall they seeke a vision of the Prophet: but the Law shall perish from the Priest, and counsel from the ancient.

27 The king shall mourne, and the prince shall be clothed with desolation, & the hands of the people in the land shall be troubled: I will doe vnto them according to their wayes, and according to their iudgements will I iudge them, and they shall know that I am the Lord.

3 An appearance of the similitude of God. 3 Ezekiel brought to Jerusalem in the Spirit. 6 The Lord sheweth the idolatries of the house of Israel.

And in the first yeere, in the first moneth, and in the first day of the moneth, as I sate in mine house, and the Elders of Iudah sate before me, the hand of the Lord God fell there vpon me.

2 Then I beheld, and so, there was a likeness, as the appearance of fire to look to, from his loynes downward, and from his loynes upward, as the appearance of brightness, and like vnto amber.

3 And he stretched out the likeness of an hand, and tooke me by an haire locke of mine head, and the Spirit lift mee up betwene the earth, and the heauen, and brought mee to a Diuine vision to Jerusalem, into the entrie of the inner gate that leith toward the North, where remained the hole of indignation: which provoked indignation.

4 And beholde, the glory of the God of Israel was there according to the vision, that I saw in the flid.

5 Then said he vnto me, Sonne of man, lift vp thine eyes now toward the North. So I lift up mine eyes toward the North, and beholde, Northward at the gate of the altar, this sholl of indignation was in the entrie.

6 He sayd furthermore vnto me, Sonne of man, seest thou not what they do? euen the great abominations that the house of Israel committeth here to cause me to depart from my Sanctuary: but yet turne thee and thou shalt see greater abominations.

7 And he caused me to enter at the gate of the court: and when I looked, behold an hole was in the wall.

8 Then said he vnto me, Sonne of man, dig now in the wall. And when I had digged in the wall, behold, there was a doore.

9 And he sayd vnto me, See in, and behold the wicked abominations that they doe here.

10 So I went in, and saw, and beholde, there was every similitude of creeping things and^k abominable brasties, and all the idoles of the house of Israel painted vpon the wall round about.

11 And there stood before them sententie men of the Ancients of the house of Israel, and in the mids of them stood Jaazaniah, the sonne of Shaphan, with every man his censur in his hand, and the vapour of the incense went by like^m a cloud.

12 Then said he vnto me, Sonne of man, hast thou seene what the Ancients of the house of Israelⁿ doe in the darke, euerie one in the chamber of his inagrie: for they say, The Lord seeth vs not, the Lord hath forsaken the earth.

13 Again he sayd also vnto mee, Turne thee againe, and thou shalt see greater abominations that they doe.

14 And he caused me to enter into the entrie of the gate of the Lords house, which was toward the North: and beholde, there sate women mourning for^o Tammuz.

15 Then said he vnto me, Hast thou seene this, O sonne of man? Turne thee againe, and thou shalt see greater abominations then these.

16 And he caused me to enter into the inner court of the Lords house, & beholde, at the doore of the Temple of the Lord, betwene the porch and the altar were about fise and twentie men with their backs toward the Temple of the Lord, and their faces toward the East, and they worshipped the sunne toward the East.

17 Then he said vnto me, Hast thou seene this, O sonne of man? Is it a small thing to the house of Iudah to commit these abominations which they doe here: for they haue filled the land with cruelty, and haue returned to prouoke me: and lo, they haue cast out^p stinke before my noses.

18 Therefore will I also execute my wrath: mine eye shall not spare them, neither will I haue pittie, and though they cry in mine eares with a loud voyce, yet will I not heare them.

1 The destruction of the city. 4 They that shall be saved, are marked. 8 A complaint of the Prophet for the destruction of the people.

He cryed also with a loud voyce in mine eares, saying, The visitations of the citie draw nere, and euerie man hath a weapon in his hand to destroy it.

2 And beholde, like^a men came by the way of the bre gate, which lieth toward the North, and euerie man a weapon in his hand to destroy it: and one man among them was clothed with linnen, with a writers^b inkeborne by his side, and they went in and stood beside the brazen altar.

3 And the glory of the God of Israel was gone vpon the Cherub, whereupon he was, and stood on the^c doore of the house, and he called to the man clothed with linnen, which had the writers inkeborne by his side.

4 And the Lord said vnto him, See through the mids of the citie, euen through the mids of Ierusalem: and set a marke vpon the foreheads of them that^d mourne, and crye for all the abominations that be done in the mids thereof.

5 And to the other he said, that I might heare, So ye after him through the citie, and saite: let your eye spare none, neither haue pittie.

6 Destroy utterly the olde, and the yong, and the maids, and the children, and the women, but touch no man vpon whom is the^e marke, and begin at my Sanctuary. Then they began at the^f Ancient man, which were before the house.

7 And he said vnto them, Defile the house and fill the courts with the flaine, then goe forth: and they went out, and slew them in the citie.

8 Now when they had slaine them, and I had wept, I fell downe vpon my face, and cryed, saying, Ah Lord God, wilt thou destroy all the residue of Israel, in pouring out thy wrath vpon Ierusalem?

9 Then said he vnto me, The iniquitie of the house of Israel, and Iudah is exceeding great, so that the land is full^g of blood, and the citie full of couage iudgement: for they say, The Lord hath forsaken the earth, and the Lord seeth vs not.

10 As touching me also, mine eye shall not spare them, neither will I haue pittie, but will recompense their wayes vpon their heads.

As as I looked, beholde, in the firmament that was aboue the head of the Cherubims, there appeared vpon them like vnto the limitture of a throne, as it were a Sapphir stone.

2 And hee spake vnto the man clothed with linnen, and sayd, Goe in betwene the wheeles, euen vnder the Cherub, & fill thine hands with coales of fire from betwene the Cherubims, and scatter them ouer the citie. And he went in in my sight.

3 Now the Cherubims stood vpon the right side of the house, when the man went in, and the cloude filled the inner Court.

4 Then the glory of the Lord went by from the Cherub, and roode ouer the doore of the house, and the house was filled with the cloude, and the court was filled with the brightnesse of the Lords glory.

5 And the sound of Cherubims wings was heard into the vnter Court, as the voyce of the Almighty God, when he speaketh.

6 And when hee had commaunded the man clothed with linnen, saying, Take fire from betwene the wheeles, and from betwene the Cherubims, then hee went in and stood beside the wheele.

7 And one Cherub stretcheth forth his hand from betwene the Cherubims vnto the fire, that was betwene the Cherubims, and tooke thereof, and put it into the hands of him that was clothed with linnen: who tooke it and went out.

8 And there appeared in the Cherubims, the likenesse of a mans hand vnder their wings.

9 And when I looked by, behold, foure wheeles were beside the Cherubims, one wheele by one Cherub, and another wheele by another Cherub, and the appearance of the wheeles was as the colour of a Chrysolite stone.

10 And their appearance (for they were all foure of one fashion) was as if one wheele had bene in another wheele.

11 When they went forth, they went vpon their foure sides, and they returned not as they went: but to the place whither the first went, they went after it, and they turned not as they went.

12 And their whole body, and their rings, and their handes and their wings, and the wheeles were full of eyes round about, euen in the same foure wheeles.

13 And the Cherub cried to their wheeles in mine hearing, saying, O wheele.

14 And euery beast had foure faces: the first face was the face of a Cherub, and the second face was the face of a man, and the third the face of a Lyon, and the fourth the face of an Eagle.

15 And the Cherubims were lifted by: this is the beast that I sawe at the riuer Chebar.

16 And when the Cherubims went, the wheeles went by them: and when the Cherubims lift vpon their wings to mount by from the earth, the same wheeles also turned not from beside them.

17 When the Cherubims stood, they stood: and when they were lifted by, they lifted themselves by also: for the spirit of the draft was in them.

18 Then the glory of the Lord departed from aboue the doore of the house, and stood vpon the Cherubims.

19 And the Cherubims lift by their wings, and mounted vpon the earth in my sight: when they went out, the wheeles also were beside them: and euery one stood at the entrie of the gate of the Lords house, at the East side, and the glory of the God of Israel was vpon them on high.

20 This is the beast that I sawe vnder the God of Israel by the riuer Chebar, and I knewe that they were the Cherubims.

21 Euery one had foure faces, and euery one foure wings, and the likenesse of mans hands was vnder their wings.

22 And the likenesse of their faces was the lesse same faces, which I saw by the riuer Chebar, and the appearance of the Cherubims was the lesse same, and they went euery one straight forward.

CHAP. XI.

Who they were that seduced the people of Israel, 5 Against theis in prophesie, shewing them how they shall be dispersed abroad, 19 The removing of the heart compass of God, 21 Hee sheweth them that came vnto their owne counsils

Moreover, the Spirit lift mee vp, and brought mee to the East gate of the Lords house, which lieth Eastward, and behold, at the entrie of the gate were fire and twenty men: among whom I saw Iasaniah the sonne of Azur, and Belasiah the sonne of Benaiab, the princes of the people.

2 Then said he vnto me, Sonne of man, these are the men that imagine mischief, and deuise wicked counsell in this Citie.

3 For they say, It is not neere, let vs build houses: this Citie is the Caldron, and we be the flesh.

4 Therefore prophesie against them, sonne of man, prophesie.

5 And the Spirit of the Lord fell vpon me, and said vnto me, Speake, Thus saith the Lord, O ye house of Israel, this haue ye said, and I know that which I will say of your minds.

6 Many haue ye murdered in this Citie, and ye haue filled the streets therof with the slain.

7 Therefore thus saith the Lord God, They that ye haue slain, and haue layed in the middes of it, they are the flesh, and this Citie is the Caldron, but I will bring you forth of the mids of it.

8 Ye haue feared the sword, and I will bring a sword vpon you, saith the Lord God.

9 And I will bring you out of the mids thereof, and deliuer you into the hands of strangers, and will execute iudgements among you.

10 Ye shall fall by the sword, and I will iudge you in the border of Israel, and ye shall know that I am the Lord.

12 And ye shall know that I am the Lord: for ye have not walked in my statutes, neither executed my judgements, but have done after the manners of the heathen, that are round about you.

13 ¶ And when I prophesied, Belshazzar the sonne of Bznabab died: then tell I downe upon my face, and cryed with a loud voyce, and sayde. O Lord God, wilt thou then utterly destroy all the remnant of Israel?

14 Again the word of the Lord came vnto me, saying,

15 Sonne of man, thy brethren, even thy brethren, the men of thy kindred, and all the house of Israel, wholy are they vnto whom the inhabitants of Ierusalem haue sayde, Depart yee farre from the Lord: for the land is giuen vs in possession.

16 Therefore say, Thus saith the Lord God, Although I haue cast them farre off among the heathen, and although I haue scattered them among the countreys, yet will I bee to them as a little Sanctuary in the countreys where they shall come.

17 Therefore say, Thus sayth the Lord God, I will gather you againe from the people, and assemble you out of the countreys where ye haue bene scattered, and I will giue you the land of Israel.

18 And they shall come thither, and they shall take away all the idoles thereof, and all the abomination therof from thence.

19 ¶ And I will giue them one heart, and I will put a new spirit within their bowels: and I will take the stonie heart out of their bowels, and will giue them an heart of flesh,

20 That they may walke in my statutes, and keepe my judgements, & execute them: and they shall bee my people, and I will bee their God.

21 But vpon them, whose heart is toward their idoles, and whose affection goeth after their abominations, I will lay their way vpon their owne heads, sayth the Lord God.

22 ¶ Then did the Cherubims lift vp their wings, and the wheeles besides them, and the glory of the God of Israel was vpon them on his.

23 And the glory of the Lord went vp from the mids of the citie, and stood vpon the mountaine which is toward the East side of the citie.

24 Afterward the Spirit tooke mee vp, and brought mee in a vision by the Spirit of God into Caldea to them that were led away captiues: so the vision that I had scene, went vp from me.

25 Then I declared vnto them that were led away captiues, all the things that the Lord had shewed me.

CHAP. XII.

1 The parable of the captiuitie. 2 Another parable whereby the distress of hunger and thirst is signified.

The word of the Lord also came vnto me, saying,

2 Son of man, thou dwellest in the mids of rebellious house, which haue eyes to see,

and see: not: they haue eares to heare, and heare not: for they are a rebellious house.

3 Therefore thou sonne of man, prepare thy stuffe to goe into captiuitie, and goe forth by day in their sight: and thou shalt passe from thy place to another place in their sight, if it be possible that they may consider it: for they are a rebellious house.

4 Then shalt thou bing forth thy stuffe by day in their sight as the stuffe of him that goeth into captiuitie: and thou shalt go forth at euen in their sight, as they that goe forth into captiuitie.

5 Digge thou through the wall in their sight, and carrie out thereby.

6 In their sight shalt thou beare it vpon thy shoulders, and carie it forth in the darke: thou shalt couer thy face that thou see not the earth: for I haue set thee as a signe vnto the house of Israel.

7 And as I was commanded, so I brought forth my stuffe by day, as the stuffe of one that goeth into captiuitie: and by night I digged through the wall with mine hand, and brought it forth in the darke, and I bare it vpon my shoulder in their sight.

8 And in the morning came the word of the Lord vnto me, saying,

9 Sonne of man, hath not the house of Israel, the rebellious house, said vnto thee, What doest thou?

10 But lay thou vnto them, Thus sayth the Lord God, His burden concerneth the chiefe in Ierusalem, and all the house of Israel, that are among them.

11 Say, I am your signe: like as I haue done, so shall it be done vnto them, they shall goe into bondage and captiuitie.

12 And the chiefe that is among them, shall beare vpon his shoulder in the darke, and shall goe forth: they shall dig through the wall, to carie out thereby: he shall couer his face, that he see not the ground with his eyes.

13 Yet net also will I spread vpon a him, and he shall be taken in my net, and I will bing him to Babel, to the land of the Caldeans, yet shall hee not see it, though he shall die there.

14 And I will scatter toward every wind all that are about him to helpe him, and all his garrisons, and I will draw out the sword after them.

15 And they shall know that I am the Lord, when I shall scatter them among the nations, and disperse them in the countreys.

16 But I will leaue a little number of them from the sword, from the famine, and from the pestilence, that they may declare all these abominations among the heathen, where they come, and they shall know that I am the Lord.

17 Moreover, the word of the Lord came vnto me, saying,

18 Sonne of man, eat thy bread with trembling, and drinke thy water with tremble, and with carefulnesse.

14 And say vnto the people of the land, Thus sayeth the Lord God of the inhabitants of Ierusalem, and of the lands of Israel. They shall eat their bread with care

20 And the cities that are inhabited, shall be left voyd, and the land shall bee desolate, and yee shall know that I am the Lord.

21 ¶ And the word of the Lord came vnto me, saying,

22 Sonne of man, what is that prouerbe that you haue in the land of Israel, saying, The dayes are prolonged, and all visions faille?

23 Tell them therefore, Thus saith the Lord God, I will make this prouerbe to cease, and they shall no more vse it as a prouerbe in Israel: but say vnto them, The dayes are at hand, and the effect of every vision.

24 For no vision shall bee any more in vaine, neither shall there bee any flattering diuination within the house of Israel.

25 For I am the Lord: I will speake, and that thing that I shall speake, shall come to passe: it shall bee no more prolonged: for in your dayes, O rebellious house, will I say the thing, and will performe it, saith the Lord God.

26 Again the word of the Lord came vnto me, saying,

27 Sonne of man, behold, they of the house of Israel say, The vision that hee seeth is for so many dayes: to come, and hee prophesieth of the times that are farre off.

28 Therefore say vnto them, Thus saith the Lord God, All my words shall no longer be delayed, but that thing which I haue spoken, shall be done, saith the Lord God.

a The word of the Lord against false Prophets, which teach the people the counsels of their owne hearts.

And the word of the Lord came vnto me, saying,

2 Sonne of man prophesie against the prophets of Israel, that prophesie, and say vnto them, that prophesie out of their owne hearts, heare the word of the Lord.

3 Thus saith the Lord God, ¶ Come vnto the foolish prophets that follow their owne spirit, and haue seene nothing.

4 O Israel, thy prophets are like the foxes in the waste places.

5 ¶ They haue not risen by in the gaps, neither made by the hedge for the house of Israel, to stand in the battell in the day of the Lord.

6 They haue seene vanity, and lying diuination, saying, The Lord saith it, and the Lord hath not sent them: & they haue made others to hope that they would confirme the word of their prophesie.

7 Haue yee not seene a vaine vision? and haue yee not spoken a lying diuination? ¶ yee say, The Lord saith it, albeit I haue not spoken.

8 Therefore thus saith the Lord God, Because yee haue spoken vanity, and haue seene lies, therefore behold, I am against you, saith the Lord God,

9 And mine hand shall be vpon the Prophets that haue vanitie, and diuine lies: they shall not bee in the assembly of my people, neither shall they bee written in the booke of the house of Israel, neither shall they enter into the land of Israel: and yee shall knowe that I am the Lord God.

10 And therefore, because they haue decried my people, saying, ¶ Peace, and there was no peace: and one built vp a wall, and behold, the others daubed it with vntempered mortar,

11 Say vnto them which daube it with vntempered mortar, that it shall fall: for there shall come a great shewre: and I will send hailstones, which shall cause it to fall, and a stormie winde shall breake it.

12 Lo, when the wall is fallen, shall it not bee said vnto you, Where is the daubing wherewith ye haue daubed it?

13 Therefore thus saith the Lord God, I will cause a stormie winde to breake forth in my wrath, and a great shewre shall bee in mine anger, and hailstones in mine indignation to consume it.

14 ¶ I will destroy the wall that ye haue daubed with vntempered mortar, and bring it downe to the ground, so that the foundation thereof shall be discovered, and it shall fall, and ye shall be consumed in the midst thereof, and ye shall know that I am the Lord.

15 Thus will I accomplish my wrath vpon the wall, and vpon them that haue daubed it with vntempered mortar, and will say vnto you, The wall is no more, neither the daubers thereof.

16 To wit, the prophets of Israel, which prophesie vpon Ierusalem, and see visions of peace for it, and there is no peace, saith the Lord God.

17 Likewise thou Sonne of man, set thy face against the daughters of thy people, which prophesie out of their owne heart: and prophesie thou against them, and say,

18 Thus saith the Lord God, ¶ Come vnto the women that sowe pillows vnder all arme-holes, and make vasses vpon the head of euery one that standeth by, to hunt soules: will ye hunt the soules of my people, and will ye giue life to the soules that come vnto you?

19 And will ye pollute mine name among my people for handfulls of barley, and for pieces of bread to slay the soules of them that should not die, and to giue life to the soules that should not liue, in lying to my people, that haue your lies?

20 ¶ Therefore thus saith the Lord God, Beholde, I will haue to doe with your pillows, wherewith yee hunt the soules to make them to liue, and I will tear them from your armes, and will let the soules goe, euen the soules that yee hunt to make them to liue.

21 Pour vassels also will I tear, and deuiel my people out of your hand, and they shall bee no more in your hands to be hunted: and ye shall know that I am the Lord.

22 Because with your lies yee haue made the heart of the righteous sad, whome I they should depart from the body. N By threatening them that were godly, and vpholding the wicked.

That is, in the booke of life, wherein the true Israelites are written.

Reads Ierem, 6. 14.

Whereas the true Prophets prophesied the destruction of the citie to bring the people to repentance, the false prophets spake the contrary, and flattered them in their vanities, so that what one false prophet sayd, (which is here called the building of the wall) another false prophet would asseure though he had neither occasion nor good ground to asseure him, h Whereby is meant whatsoever man of himselfe seeth forth vnder the authority of Gods word,

i These superstitious women for lucre would prophesie and tell euery man his fortune, giuing them pillows to leane vpon, and kerchiefs to couer their heads, to the intent they might the more allure them and bewitch them.

k Will you make my word to serue your bellies?

l These forcerers made the people beleue that they could preserve life, or destroy it, & that it should come to euery one according as they prophesied.

m That is, to cause them to perish, and that they should depart from the body. N By threatening them that were godly, and vpholding the wicked.

f Because they did not immediately see the prophecies accomplished, they concerned themselves though they should never be fulfilled.

g That is, it shall not come to pass in our daies and therefore we care not for it: thus the wicked are about Gods patience and benignitie.

CHAP. XIII.

4 The Lord sendeth false prophets for the ingratitude of the people, 22 Hee reproveth a small portion for his Church.

Then came certaine of the Elders of Israel unto me, and sat before me.

2 And the word of the Lord came unto me, saying,

3 Sonne of man, these men have set up their idoles in their heart, and put the stumbling blocke of their iniquitie before their faces: should I, being required, answer them?

4 Therefore speake unto them, and say unto them, Thus saith the Lord God: Every man of the house of Israel that setteth up his idoles in his heart, and putteth the stumbling blocke of his iniquitie before his face, and commeth to the Prophet, for the Lord will answer him that commeth according to the multitude of his idoles:

5 That I may take the house of Israel, in their owne heart, because they are all departed from me through their idoles.

6 Therefore say unto the house of Israel, Thus saith the Lord God, Returne, and withdraw your selves, and turne your faces from your idoles, and turne your faces from all your abominations.

7 For every one of the house of Israel, or of the stranger that sojourneth in Israel, which departed from me, and setteth up his idoles in his heart, and putteth the stumbling blocke of his iniquitie before his face, and commeth to a Prophet, for to enquire of him for mee, I the Lord will answer him for my selfe.

8 And I will set my face against that man, and will make him an example and proverbe, and I will cut him off from the midst of my people, and yee shall know that I am the Lord.

9 And if the prophet be deceived, when he hath spoken a thing, I the Lord have deceived that prophet, and I will stretch out mine hand upon him, and will destroy him from the midst of my people of Israel.

10 And they shall beare their punishment: the punishment of the prophet shall be even as the punishment of him that asketh.

11 That the house of Israel may get no more aid from me, neither be polluted any more with all their transgressions, but that they may be my people, and I may be their God, saith the Lord God.

12 The word of the Lord came againe unto me, saying, 13 The Lord sendeth false prophets for the ingratitude of the people, 22 Hee reproveth a small portion for his Church.

unto me, saying,

13 Sonne of man, when the land sinneth against mee, by committing a trespass, then will I stretch out mine hand upon it, and will breake the staffe of the bread thereof, and will send famine upon it, and I will destroy man and beast forth of it.

14 Though these three men, Noah, Daniel, and Job were among them, they should deliver but their owne selves by their righteousness, saith the Lord God.

15 If I bring noylome heales into the land, and they spoile it, so that it bee desolate, that no man may passe throught, because of brasts:

16 Though these three men were in the midst thereof, as I live, saith the Lord God, they shall save neither sonnes nor daughters: they only shall be delivered, but the land shall be waste.

17 If I bring a sword upon this land, and I swoord, so throught the land, so that I destroy man and beast out of it,

18 Though these three men were in the midst thereof, as I live, saith the Lord God, they shall deliver neither sonnes nor daughters, but they only shall be delivered themselves.

19 If I send a pestilence into this land, and pour out my wrath upon it in blood, to destroy out of it man and beast:

20 And though Noah, Daniel and Job were in the middes of it, as I live, saith the Lord God, they shall deliver neither sonne nor daughter: they shall be delivered by their ownnesoules by their righteousness.

21 For thus saith the Lord God, How much more when I send my foure last judgements upon Jerusalem, even the sword, and famine, and the noylome beast, and pestilence, to destroy man and beast out of it?

22 Yet behold, therein shall be left a remnant of them that shall be carried away both sonnes & daughters: behold, they shall come forth unto you, and yee shall see their way, and their enterprises: and yee shall be comforted, concerning the rull that I have brought upon Jerusalem, even concerning all that I have brought upon it.

23 And they shall comfort you, when yee see their way and their enterprises, and yee shall know that I have not done without cause all that I have done in it, saith the Lord God.

CHAP. XV.

As the unprofitable wood of the vine tree is cast into the fire, so Jerusalem shall be burnt.

And the word of the Lord came unto me, saying,

2 Sonne of man, what commeth of the Vine tree above all other trees? and of the vine branch which is among the trees of the forest?

3 Shall wood be taken thereof to doe a my worke? or will men take a plinne of it to hang any vessell thereon?

4 Behold, it is cast in the fire to bee consumed: the fire consumeth both the ends of it, and the middes of it is burnt. Is it meet for any worke?

5 Behold when it was whole, it was destroyed,
